Hudgins pleaded guilty when arraigned, but said that he did not intend to steal the suitcase. He took it out in the country under the impression that it was his property, and would have brought it back sooner if he had not lived so far out. However, the evdence showed that a suit of underwear in the suitcase was missing, and that instead of bringing the suitcase back to the King George Hotel, he took it to the Grand, where the police recovered it. Hudgins said he did not take the suit of underwear, but was wearing the same suit he had worn all winter.

"Who is this man?" asked the Magistrate.

"He is a bushman, I think, your Worship," replied Chief Thompson.

"How long have you lived in the city?" His Worship queried.

"About six years. I boarded with Mrs. Fred Buntin."

Chief Thompson—"I understand that this man was nearly responsible for separating Mrs. Buntin from her husband."

Magistrate—"I'd better not ask him any more questions then."

the Belgian army of 330,000, 55,000 that were left were holding the Yser canal, and they would never yield their side of the canal.

Mr. Dancey speaks rapidly and with much vigor. He speaks distinctly and uses his hands to emphasize his points. He has a pleasing appearance, and illustrates his subject by a number of fine lantern views, some of which he took himself. He speaks with first-hand knowledge of the subject. He thinks Canada has not done its full duty in aiding the Motherland. Tonight he will speak on Belgium and illustrate his address with lantern views. He will consider the Belgian atrocities and the work of the Belgian army, all of which will be worth hearing.

Local News in General

Rite of Confirmation.

The rite of confirmation will be administered on Sunday evening at All Saints' Church by the Right Rev. Bishop Reeve of Toronto. His Lordship will also preach at the morning service.

Donations Acknowledged.

A list of donations for the Belgian Relief Fund, acknowledged by the consul-general at Ottawa, includes $50 from the Women's War Fund Committee of Peterborough and Centreville Presbyterian Church, per W. Moncrief, Bailieboro, $58.70.

Notice.

Mr. Albert Lewis who conducted a barber shop on Simcoe St. opposite Montgomery House is now in charge of the Tonsorial Parlors at the Empress Hotel where he will be pleased to meet his many friends and patrons.

Notice.

A meeting of Court Stanley A.O.F. will be held this evening in the S. O. E. Hall, at eight o'clock, to arrange for the funeral of the late W. J. Whitnell.

Chas. Joyes,
Chief Ranger.

Tomorrow at St. John's.

Rev. J. G. Lewis, D.D., of Toronto, will be the preacher at St. John's morning and evening tomorrow, and will officiate at all services. Dr. Lewis was formerly a well-known clergyman in Toronto, who was called to the Rectorate of a New York City parish from which he returned on the invitation of the Bishop to accept Diocesan work in Toronto, where he has been also acting as special preacher in several of the city churches.

COMING MUSICAL EVENT.

Annual choir concert, St. Andrews Church, Friday, April the 23rd, at 8.15 p.m. The choir will be assisted by Mr. Albert Downing of Toronto who recently appeared before a local audience as tenor soloist in Judas Maccabaeus. Admission 25 cents.

BEE-KEEPERS WILL MEET.

The annual convention of the Peterborough County Bee-Keepers' Association will be held in the Public Library next Saturday, April 17, at 2 p.m. A feature of the occasion will be an illustrated lantern address on the care and management of bees which will be given by Prof. Morley Pettit, of Guelph, the Provincial Apiculturist, and the secretary of the Ontario Bee-Keepers' Association.

The annual election of officers will also take place.

PERSONALS

Mr. Arthur Kidd of Lakefield, is visiting his mother at Indian River.

The Foresters of Bridgenorth will hold a social evening next Friday in their hall.

Mrs. J. Pope, of Bridgenorth, arrived home last night after spending the winter with her brother, Mr. J. A. Scott, in Providence, R.I. She also visited friends in New York.

Miss Jean Jackson, of the local public school staff, is spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Jackson, Cobourg.

Mrs. M. K. Douglas, Misses Frances M. Smith and Eva P. Roberts, of this city, will leave for England in the near future, having been attached to Queen's University stationary hospital corps.

Military promotions recently announced include the appointment of Rev. E. W. Pickford as chaplain of the 40th Northumberland Regiment.

Many local friends of Mr. Wm McIlroy are pleased to learn that his services with the C.P.R. are appreciated to the extent that while he is in line for the appointment as assistant to M. G. Murphy, district passenger agent at Toronto, he may be retained at Hamilton, so successful has he been since leaving Peterborough to take his present position at the Ambitious City.

The sock shower held by the Canadian Kitchener League at the home of Mrs. Thos. Barrie Friday afternoon and evening was very successful and the league wishes to thank all those who attended. Nearly fifteen dollars was realized as well as a donation of ten dollars from a friend and thirty pairs of home-knitted socks. Mrs. Barrie's home was most beautifully arranged for the occasion, the reception hall being a mass of Union Jacks and palms, while the tea room was very attractive with red carnations.

DIED.

WARAM—In Peterborough, on Saturday, April 10th, 1915, Grace Jory, beloved wife of Mr. Richard Waram, in her 57th year. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son, W. H. Waram, 522 Charlotte Street, on Monday, April 12th, 1915, at 3 o'clock, to Little Lake Cemetery.

Beautiful Building Lots

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald is offering for sale some beautiful building lots on Benson, Geraldine and O'Carroll avenues. This property lies within two minutes' walk of the street railway and ten minutes' walk of the heart of the city. The city water, gas, light and sewer services are installed; the property being already completely surrounded by beautiful homes. The site is an ideal one, with a gentle southeasterly slope, and being considerably elevated above the city and not in the immediate vicinity of any manufacturing industries, the air is always pure, healthy and invigorating. Nearly all the lots are already beautifully wooded with foreign and domestic shade trees. Two handsome residences are already under construction on this property, and several more will be erected this season, and for anyone contemplating the erection of a home there are certainly not lots in the city that offer equal advantages.

Copies of registered plan No. 149, which covers this property, may be seen, and all other information may be had, at the offices of Mr. R. J. Kidd, J. T. O'Connell & Co., C. J. Carroll & Co., also at the office of the owner, Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, Ontario Land Surveyor, 435 George street. 'Phone 885.

Electors No. 4 (North) Ward

Ladies and Gentlemen.—Having been nominated to fill the vacancy in the Board of Aldermen for the North Ward, and after solicitation from a number of electors, I have decided to allow my name to be placed on the ballot paper for election, and I solicit the votes and influence of the electors of the ward.

Having had 35 years' experience in public and commercial business, thirteen of which have been spent in Peterborough, and being a resident and ratepayer of the north ward. With this experience I think should be able to meet the requirements of the people, nad am willing to give the people the benefit of my experience. My first duty will be to the interests of the north ward, at the same time paying due attention to the wider interest of the city at large. I am making this announcement from the fact that it will be impossible to see all the electors personally in the time allotted, and solicit in this manner the votes and influence of all who are of the opinion that I can acceptably fill the position.

Yours respectfully,
W. S. DODD.

FORESTERS HAD AN ENJOYABLE TIME

The meeting of Court Chemong 530 I.O.F., held in the W.O.W. hall, George Street, on Thursday evening, was well attended, and proved to be an enjoyable one. Bro. W. Grabill of Toronto delivered an excellent address in the interests of the Order, which was well received and greatly appreciated. Brief addresses were also given by a number of the members. The court decided that a combined social, concert and progressive euchre party be held at the next meeting on Thursday evening the 29th inst., which will be free to the members and their friends. The ladies undertook to provide refreshments, and prizes will be awarded in connection with the euchre party. All members and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

HEAVY FIRING HEARD OFF SCARBOROUGH

London, April 12, (C.P.)---Reports are current here that heavy firing is taking place at the sea of Scarborough, indicating that some kind of naval engagement is in progress.

Britain Building New Battleship 800 Feet Long With Speed of Forty Knots

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

NEW YORK, April 12. — A Tribune report from London says Britain has laid down a battleship which will mark a change in naval construction, surpassing that marked by the first dreadnought.

The monster will have a length of eight hundred feet, speed forty knots, and will carry fifteen-inch guns.

LITTLE BIRDS BRIGHTEN LIFE OF CANADIANS

They Too Have Real Mission in the War Writes Lt. Col. Rogers

The following letter was received from Lt.-Col. Rogers now in the trenches:

France, March 20, 1915.

Since February 11th we have been having a taste of real war although not as hard as perhaps you are imagining.

First our tryout at Armentieres, then our move down here where we have our own line. In all, our losses have not been heavy although greater than other battalions. Eleven killed, twenty-five wounded. Since coming in this time our friends across have been very quiet and seldom reply to our fire. This morning one of their aeroplanes a taube, appeared out of some clouds almost above us, when five of our shells burst in the clouds right around him and he retired obscured by the cloud. It was very pretty work and shows the constant watch that is being kept all along the line. Lt. Doxsee, Campbellford, is back again and Abell was only slightly wounded n the foot and should return in a couple of weeks. I have been out all morning looking at the ridge ahead, which is fairly well populated like all this part of France. Some very fine houses and farms all of which will have to be levelled before we get ahead. The weather is improving day by day and the little crocuses look very pretty in the deserted gardens. Sometimes when there is a lull or a shortage of powder you forget that war exists and the little birds sing away in the bushes. Often when I waken in the morning they do sound very pretty around my dugout and cheer us up and this makes one believe that they too have a real mission in this war.

TO CONSIDER CHANGES IN HYMN BOOK

Peterborough Presbytery to Meet in Special Session

The Presbytery of Peterborough will meet in special session tomorrow at St. Andrew's Church to consider changes in the Presbyterian Book of Praise.

Rev. Alexander McMillan of Toonto, who is recognized as an authority on church praise, will be present to address Presbytery.

There will be a meeting Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in St. Andrew's Church, to which the public is invited. Mr. McMillan will give an address on Worship Songs. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

MATCH DROPPED ON GASOLINE

Blaze Which Started Was Soon Extinguished

The fire which occurred Sunday afternoon started just outside the office door of Jones Bros.' livery, where some gasoline had been spilled. It is presumed that a lighted match was accidentally dropped upon this and the flames shot up the side of the wall and ignited the door which is so badly burned that a new one will be required.

Alderman Duffus and his brother who were in their garage at the time sent in an alarm to the fire department, but through the use of "Pyrene" chemical tanks they had extinguished the blaze by the time the department arrived.

SENATE DID WRONG SAYS SIR WILFRID

Made Amendment to Government Bill "For Reasons Which Were Quite Obvious"

OTTAWA, April 12. — In the discussion in the House over the Senate amendment, Sir Wilfrid Laurier admitted that the Senate had done wrong in "turning down the Government bill.

The Globe report has Sir Wilfrid as saying that he took exception to the statement of the Premier that the Senate had again made the amendment "for reasons which were quite obvious."

For reasons of their own the Senate had seen fit to make the amendment. He did not intend to express an opinion on the attitude of the Senate at the present time, but although the views of the Upper Chamber in this matter differed from his own, he believed that they had elements of respectability. To speak frankly, both sides of the House recognized that the issue raised by the Minister of Public Works was not one of principle but of expediency. It had been charged that the Senate was the slave of the leader of the Opposition. But in this case the Upper Chamber had differed from him. He had no quarrel with the Senate on that score.

NEUVE CHAPELLE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 12. — Six hundred and eighty-three names, including 23 killed, has been added to previous casualty lists of losses in the fighting at Neuve Chapelle. This brings the total casualties in this engagement to 7,244. Of this number 2.074 were killed.

ATTACKS REPELLED AT FOREST OF LE PRETRE

French Have Been Re-organizing Positions Won Between the Meuse and Moselle

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 12. — The afternoon official statement says: "There is little to add to the communication given out last night. During April 11th, engagements continued the whole day in Belgium, in the region of Albert, also in France between the Oise and the Aisne, and in the Champagne district.

"As no engagements took place between the Meuse and Moselle after our success of April 8th, we have devoted ourselves to organizing the positions won by us during the course of that fighting.

"On the western fringe of the forest of Le Pretre, we repelled two violent German counter-attacks, which failed completely under the fire of our infantry and artillery."

BERLIN, April 12. — The war office announces that Sunday was quiet on the western front. French attacks in the rAgonne, in Ailly forest and the forest of Le Pretre were all repulsed.

STRUCK BY A TORPEDO

Steamer is Being Towed Into Port

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 12.—The Harrison Line steamer Wayfarer of six thousand tons, has been torpedoed by German submarines according to a message received by a London news agency. Details are lacking. One report says she sank. Another says she was torpedoed off Sicily Islands buot did not sink and is being towed into Queenstown. The owners of the Wayfarer confirm the statement that she had been struck by a torpedo and is being towed into Queenstown. They are not aware of any casualties.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT, AND BACK AS GUESTS OF THIS NEWSPAPER

Four Women of Peterborough and Vicinity to be Sent to the Great Panama-Pacific Exposition on a Special Train De Luxe — Opportunitiv for Every Woman Here

Everything At Expense of Peterborough Review; Even Pullman Porter's Tips

And Side Visits to the Most Famous Scenic Spots in All the United States — The Chance of a Lifetime to See America and All Its Wonders — And it Costs the Travelers not a Single Cent — A Journey to Wonderland

Every women has, some time in her life, dreamed of taking a transcontinental tour. Perhaps she has not been able to save enough money for the trip. Maybe she did not want to go alone. Then, again, maybe she "never found the time." But without doubt she has often dreamed of such a trip and wished fortune might arrange it for her. Well, fortune has arrived; its other name is The Peterborough Review.

Here It Is.

Next summer, about June 12, when the sun is beating down upon Peterborough, when the bricks in the buildings are scorching, when the roads are clouds of dust and the breeze is a heated breath? The Review is going to send four women of Peterborough and vicinity, by special train, on a personally conducted trans-continental tour, taking in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, and the principal places of the Canadian West, combining pleasure with education. Now just let this sink in — trans-continental tour.

Four women from Peterborough and vicinity, will be on a special train speeding through the most beautiful sections of America, taking in the American Rockies, the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona, the Garden of the Gods, the Royal Gorge in Colorado, the Big Trees in California, the Old Missions, the Orange groves, Salt Lake City, Denver, San Francisco, and the Panama-Pacific Exposition—the greatest the world has ever seen and which has cost about $50,000,000, Vancouver, Calgary, Banff, Winnipeg, and many other points of interest, while the Review workers are sweltering at home, making a paper which justifies this enterprise, And all at the expense of the Peterborough Review.

Hard to believe, isn't it? Maybe we are going too fast for you to fully realize just what we have said. Read over the foregoing and dwell for an Even the tips will be paid by the Peterborough Review.

The Offer.

That is one of the best things about the whole affair, and you must read the full page announcement in this issue to learn how nicely The Review has this arranged.

Do you know how long this trip will last? Nearly twenty-one days! And all cost of travel, carriages, automobiles, even "tips," that bugbear of the tourists, will be paid by The Review.

No woman need fear embarrassment of any sort on this trip, even though she be alone. The conductor of the tour, an experienced individual with broad shoulders, will bear all the trouble burdens; all the tourist will do is to absorb the pleasures.

It reads like a fairy tale, doesn't it? Like putting on a wishing ring or rubbing Aladdin's Lamp or sitting on the Enchanted Rug.

But it isn't a fairy tale. It's an actual fact, as you will soon discover for yourself if you are one of the fortunate six next summer.

Now, turn to the page announcement and read every word there printed. Digest the whole. Then decide that you will be one of the four guests next summer.

Where Man Figures.

One hears the male readers of The Review exclaim, "Oh, pshaw! Men aren't eligible to enter this contest; it's a woman's affair."

Now, don't be grouchy, Mr. Man. True, you can't enter the contest yourself, but you can NOMINATE YOUR FAVORITE and put HER in the way of taking this trip of a lifetime. Oh, yes, Mr. Man, you will figure in the thing all right. Just read the page announcement and find out how you can vote.

The great contest is now open and subscribers are asked to give their subscriptions and votes to their favorites. The names of the contestants will appear in an early issue of the paper—but in the meantime—if you have a friend who wants to enjoy this great trip send in her name today. Don't delay—Do it now.

TO STAY WITH PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD

Proposed Organization for Norwood Has Been Dropped

The proposed step to organize a cheese board at Norwood which would embrace the majority of the factories of the Peterborough board which are in the vicinity of that village, has been abandoned. At first the proposition met with distinct favor, but the possibility of having but a small amount of cheese to board and thus attracting only one or two buyers, led the representatives of several factories to drop out of the new movement. What was supposed to be the organization meeting of the Norwood board was held on Saturday in the office of the department of agriculture at Norwood. The factories represented were Norwood, Daisy D, Killarney, Oakdale, Rush Point and Star. It was the unanimous feeling that with so few factories it would be impossible to form a board, consequently the proposition was dropped, and all the factories will stay with the Peterborough board.

Chemong Bridge Failed to Hold

Residents of Bridgenorth and Chemong are being inconvenienced by the ice playing havoc with the floating bridge. As was announced Saturday the ice had rammed the structure but nothing gave way. last night the ice jammed again and broke the bridge about the middle. The fact that the divisions of the bridge moved but little, permits pedestrians to cross but the stage found it necessary to go by way of the head of the lake. Had the weather been warm today the ice might have been overcome but on account of the drop in temperature the residents of that vicinity fear for the worst.

VETERAN BARRISTER DEAD.

CHATHAM, April 12. — Michael Houston, who in February of this year celebrated the completion of 50 years as a member of the Kent bar, died here yesterday morning aged 78. He was a Toronto University graduate of 1870. For 30 years, ended in 1912, he was police magistrate, and for the next two years was a member of the city council. He was a native of Harwish township.

IS THERE TO BE AN ELECTION

May Come Soon With the Senate as the Issue

PEOPLE MUST RULE

The Review inquired of Mr. Burnham, M. P., today what he thought of the likelihood of a general election. The member replied: "The Minister of Public Works, in the presence of the Prime Minister, made that pretty clear on Saturday, I think. The Senate is to be the issue." The Globe of Monday, reporting Sir Wilfrid Laurier's remarks, said that he did not agree with the Senate in its last turn-down of the bill of the Commons re Senate representation increase for Alberta, etc., but that he thought that it had some rights in matters concerning itself. "You see," continued Mr. Burnham, "the Senate must be pretty bad when the Globe and Sir Wilfrid do not agree with it and its Liberal majority. The Senate is and always was a partizan body not elected or responsible to the people. There is no excuse for its existence, at any rate in its present form. It is much more absolute than the House of Lords in Britain. The people must rule, not the Senate. It might as well come now as any other time."

DETENTION HOSPITAL AT BELLEVILLE

Soldiers Are Sent There for Observation and Treatment

(Belleville Intelligencer.)

Interviewed by an Intelligencer representative this morning, the authorities of the new Detention Hospital on Church street explained that there was absolutely no need of fear on the part of the public as to contagion of disease. The men are merely sent there for observation and treatment. Patients will be examined by capable physicians, and if found to be seriously ill will be sent to the General Hospital; but ordinary cases, such as colds and minor complaints will be attended to in the Detention Hospital and subjected to examination by experts for any disease. In the meantime no intercourse with outside life will be permitted.

The building is conveniently arranged, steam heated, lighted by electricity, and has 25 or 30 beds, about 15 of which are in the general ward, 11 in the convalescent ward, and one or two for the more serious cases.

There are two nurses, one physician and several orderlies in attendance, Besides two cooks, also a housekeeping staff.

Carbolized water and other disinfectants are used liberally, while the cooking and eating utensils are sterilized constantly. No baker, butcher, or milkman visits the place, all supplies, including medicines, supplied by the army service corps.

It is purely a military hospital under the most scrupulous santary rules and the people of the neighorhood can dismiss the slightest fear of contagion.

BOARD OF TRADE AIMS AT LARGE MEMBERSHIP

Realizing that more members means power, the Board of Trade have practically decided to go ahead with a big campaign to swell the membership of the organization. The modest membership at which they aim is two thousand, and with that many members they feel confident they could accomplish a great deal more for the city.

The matter has been freely and exhaustively discussed at several executive meetings which have taken place in the secretary's office and plans for the accomplishment of it practically decided upon. The members would be organized into teams with captains and a systematic canvass of prospective members undertaken. The membership fee in the Board of Trade is $2.00. The figure on May being a suitable month in which to put on the campaign.

PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, APRIL 12, 1915

"A TIME FOR PLAIN SPEECH."

THIS is the heading of an editorial in the Toronto Star, which complains that Conservative newspapers are not expressing themselves on the war supply scandals and are giving Sir Robert Borden little support in his efforts to bring the guilty to justice.

Just why the Toronto Star writes this way is not clear. It does not appear like a sincere editorial comment. What the press of Canada wants is to maintain its independence, to combat the tendency to get tied up to local and extra-local interests, to avoid mergers that make some of them merely the mouthpiece of some interest or clique of millionaires. Such newspapers are not sincere in what they publish as the convictions of their editors. Some of them can't have convictions or independent opinions, and the Star's editorial does not appear to be sincere or its honest conviction. It writes as though Sir Robert Borden ought to be supported, but is knifing the Conservatives because their party newspapers are not, so it alleges, expressing themselves plainly. In other words, it is supporting the Liberal party under cover of pseudo-support to Premier Borden, and of blame to Conservative newspapers. Such a policy is not only insincere, but is tricky and misleading and at variance with facts. Conservative newspapers are not all following a waiting policy. We know of several which have expressed themselves plainly, but doubtless not along the same train of thought that the Star and other Liberal newspapers follow. It seems hardly possible that the Star is unaware of the position taken by several Conservative newspapers.

Some journals have written as though the Government were to blame, but the evidence has not shown a single tittle of wrongdoing attaching to any member of the Government. If a man steals a package of money from an express company, there is no outcry against the heads of the express company. The guilty is pitied and brought to justice and punished. In supplying war equipment, some tried to swindle the Government, tried to get illicit gains and palm off bad goods for high prices. The Government cannot make men act honestly, but it can refuse their goods and punish them for fraud. That is the position the Review has taken. The guilty should be punished and made to restore what they took dishonestly. The same thing has been said perhaps in a different way by other Conservative newspapers, yet the Star tries to mislead a section of the public by saying Conservative newspapers are saying nothing and following a waiting policy.

OBJECT OF THE CAMPAIGN.

IT IS NOT to be supposed that Patriotism and Production means increased production alone; it means also improved production. Neither does the phrase or term mean that anybody assumes to teach anybody else how to conduct his own affairs. It is merely founded on the plain and acknowledged fact that nobody is so wise that nobody else can give him a hint or suggestion of value in some department of his business. It is always possible to be too rigidly self-contained.

THE MATTER OF INVESTIGATIONS.

THE EXAMINER says editorially in Saturday's issue: "Of course, the Review has had some recent experience in connection with what constitutes libel." Is the Examiner in league with those that make a travesty of morality and public duty? It looks like it. There has been no writ of libel served on the Review for some years. There have been threats, but these are not the fact. There has been no authoritative news of such except from interested parties. Yet the Examiner is so well informed of business that concerns the Review that it can speak boldly of a libel suit BEFORE that suit has materialized. The public may judge easily to what degree the Examiner is "interested."

Further, the Examiner says editorially, referring to the Review: "Its attitude in regard to a recent sad case had no other effect than to keep the tongues of the gossips busy, and in other matters there has been the same failure to produce beneficial results." This statement is absolutely false. The Review's attitude certainly had the result of driving the lesson home, it caused at least two responsible and important organizations to send protests to the Attorney-General, and, during all this case, not once did the Examiner express an opinion that the guilty should be brought to justice. WHY?

There are other prevaricating and misleading statements in the Examiner's editorial, but, as they are on a par with the above false statement, it is needless to go into them. It might, however, be of some passing interest for the Examiner to recount the occasions when it took a decided stand, if ever it did, in the public interest of Peterborough, or of this country. It was owing to the Examiner's intellectual efforts that an inquiry was begun into Trent Canal affairs that led to the dismissal of a number of competent officials. Forthwith a carnival of graft began which has only recently come to light, and in which a large number of citizens of this locality figured either guiltily or innocently in pay-sheets and other disreputable transactions. Far from calling for justice in the matter, the Examiner defended the administration!! WHY?

When a certain house was raided in this city a few years ago, did the Examiner say anything that would be in the nature of a warning? If not, WHY?

AN INCIDENT RELATED TO THE DARDANELLES.

THE FORCING of the Dardanelles has elicited many references to Byron's famous swim from the European shore to the Asiatic. This was the route taken not only by his own Don Juan, but by all others known up to the first decade of the nineteenth century to have performed the feat. Chief among these in Byron's day was a Neapolitan and a young Jew. Each of these, like Byron himself, with his companion, Ekenhead, were watched the whole time by hundreds of spectators, whose interest in the matter had been stimulated by a controversy about the strength and the exact direction of the tides. As it was, the force of the stream made straightforward progress impossible, and extended a passage of one mile to something between three and four.

SOME LIBERAL CRITICISM.

A GREAT MANY Liberal newspapers have lately been quoting the Ottawa Citizen as a Conservative newspaper, which the Citizen has itself denied. Here is a quotation from a real Liberal newspaper that hasn't denied that it is a Liberal newspaper. It is the Huntingdon Gleaner that says:

> "Laurier's monumental blunder in building the Grand Trunk Pacific is going to entail more deplorable consequences than his opponents supposed. The contract with the Grand Trunk was that it would lease the eastern section of the line on the Government's completing it. This it will not now do, unless the terms are changed. The company declares that the road is not built up to the standard agreed on, and it will not pay rent based on its cost. Two bills are before the House of Commons, providing for the Government's operating the road and for securing running privileges over the branch to Fort William. As there is not the remotest prospect of the road securing enough traffic to pay expenses, the taxpayers will have to shoulder another Intercolonial."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE AMERICAN Jack Johnson that put Chicago on the map, has failed. We take that as a sign that the German Jack Johnsons will fail, too.

A GENTLEMAN of our acquaintance was bold enough to ask us this perplexing question: What state in the Union has the largest number of big cities? No man outside of a public school geography match or an insane asylum ought to ask another such a question.

THE THOUGHTLESSNESS of employees and their willingness to "take a chance," even when the possibility of accident is well understood, are two of the greatest obstacles in the way of efforts to secure safety to workmen. Employees should be made to understand that, even under compensation acts, the employers pay for accidents with dollars, while the workers pay for them with eyes and hands, and even with life itself.

Bismarck's Puny Successors.

(New York Evening Sun.)

The edifice which Bismarck built up largely out of the high, immaterial elements of life, has become the plaything of smaller beings. The means, the methods, of the great man are mistaken for his ideals, and his aims and the future of golden progress and prosperity which he saw is clouded with the smoke and stained with the blood through which he did not fear to pass but from which he conceived emergence had been won into a brighter phase of civilization.

The Big Gun Ship.

(London Times.)

It was Lord Fisher who gave this country the big ship, armed with big guns of one calibre, and coupled with high speed. In the great day of trial, should it ever come, we shall have reason to be thankful that this policy was so boldly adopted by the board of admiralty. Our big guns have survived all the doubts cast upon them, and it is satisfactory to learn that the ships armed with the new 15-inch gun, the most powerful naval weapon the world has ever seen, are gradually coming into line.

Italy and Austria.

(London News and Leader.)

It is in the last degree improbable that Austria would make over the whole of the unredeemed Italy, and even if she did so, there are reasons why that of itself might not suffice to decide Italy for peace. An Italy that had inflicted this loss and humiliation on Austria would have a powerful interest in the defeat of the central European powers; their victory would be perilous to her.

King George and Prohibition.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

It seems easier to lead a free people than to coerce them. More than one English ministry has fallen on the "beer tax" issue. One that issue felled was Mr. Gladstone. Your Englishman hates to have the habits of a lifetime interfered with. But if the King sets the fashion, and a national crisis justifies that sort of heroic self-sacrifice, Englishmen may tolerate the stopping of the use of alcoholic liquors while the war lasts.

A Pregnant Saying.

(Toronto Star.)

A saying by Professor Delbruck, the successor of Treitschke in the chair of Berlin University, as late as 1914, is quoted: "Any one who has any familiarity at all with our officers and generals knows that it will take another Sedan, inflicted on us instead of by us, before they will acquiesce in the control of the army by the German Parliament.

Food for Soldiers.

(Westminster Gazette.)

The principal cause of the high price of bacon is the new, definite and considerable demand of the Government on behalf of the troops. Since the war broke out, bacon has been made part of each soldier's daily rations.

WEATHER FORECASTS.

Strong west to north winds, local snow flurries but mostly fair and colder. Tuesday, fair and cool.

THE BIG PROBLEM.

Editor Review,

Sir,—The bi-lingual question is the big problem in Canada today. That is the real secret of the government's anxiety to get to the country before the condition of things gets worse. Some firms and contractors want a member at Ottawa not to represent the people but themselves. That is why the country is so full of crooks and grafters. Many people don't want things done honest. They pretend they do but it is only a joke. They want some one who will steal other people's rights and the public's rights and give them to them.

SURE.

DEMOCRACY IMPOSSIBLE.

Until Senate Is Reformed Says Hon. Robert Rogers.

OTTAWA, April 12.—In the House of Commons Saturday, Hon. Robert Rogers declared that Canada could not have democratic government until after the dissolution of the present Parliament, and amid loud applause from the Government benches went on to say that all over the country the demand was heard for an immediate appeal to the people.

Hon. Mr. Rogers' declaration was accepted on both sides of the chamber as outlining the chief issue of the Conservative platform at the next election.

The speech followed the return from the Senate of the petition of Parliament to the British Government asking an amendment to the B. N. A. Act to create nine new western senatorships. As last year the Senate added a rider to the effect that the additions should not be made until after a general election, Sir Robert Borden stated that the Government had reluctantly decided to accept the amendment. He said the motive which had actuated the Senate were so obvious that they need not be further discussed.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier demurred. He thought much could be said for the position of the Senate that increased representation in the Senate and House should go hand in hand. After the next general election the four western provinces would have many more members in the House of Commons, and at the same time they would gain additional members in the Senate.

Hon. Mr. Rogers followed condemning the action of the Senate.

Hon. Frank Oliver said the Senate was a co-ordinate branch of the national legislature and had a right to express its views, although they might not agree with the views of Mr. Rogers. If it was so important that Senators should be appointed, why did not the Prime Minister fill the nine vacancies which already existed.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Bennett (Calgary), Macdonald (Pictou), Maclean (Queens, P.E.I.), Dr. Pugsley and Hon. J. D. Hazen.

HERAIL WAS UNBALANCED.

Court-martial Acquits French Captain Who Slew His Wife.

PARIS, April 12.—Keen public interest was shown in the court-martial on Saturday of Capt. Herail, an officer in the French cavalry, charged with killing his wife at Compeigne because she insisted upon remaining at the front that she might be near him.

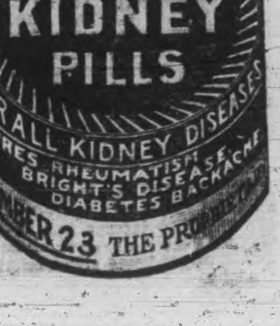
Capt. Herail was acquitted on the ground that he was mentally unbalanced.

Seldom has a more pathetic scene been witnessed in a Paris court than that of Saturday when Captain Herail took the stand in his own defence. The soldier wept as he told of the great love which he bore for his wife, and of how, when she steadfastly refused to return home and he believed that he would be cashiered, he became "absolutely mad and was driven to the last extremity" of killing his loved one.

The court room was crowded with women and officers, and as Capt. Herail sobbed out his story, many of them shed tears of sympathy.

Strassburg Cathedral's Clock.

The clock in Strassburg cathedral is twelve or fifteen feet high and about nine feet wide. Its front is adorned with rather dim decorations and cut up into various nooks, crannies, pigeonholes and galleries for the different automatons whose performances have given the clock its worldwide fame.



MOVING TROOPS

Bombardment Now is to Prevent Depairing of Forts

LONDON, April 12. — The allied fleet has, according to unofficial reports, been bombarding the Dardanelles forts from the Gulf of Saros. This doubtless is being done to prevent the Turks from repairing the forts, for it is not believed here that the big attack will be resumed until the land forces arrive.

Four batleships and four cruisers convoying several transports were seen Saturday from Dedeagatch steaming toward Enos, on the Gulf of Saros, according to a despatch to The Times from Sofia. The warships opened fire on Turkish positions at a distance of what appeared to be three miles. After the bombardment had continued for about two hours the squadron withdrew in the direction of the Dardanelles.

Unofficial reports also continue to come in regarding the gun firing off the Norwegian coast on Wednesday night last, concerning which the Admiralty as yet has made nothing public. The Scandinavian papers are convinced that a sea battle has occurred although they variously describe it as a battle between British and German cruisers and a chase by British or German submarines.

Inquiry Next Week.

OTTAWA, April 12.—Contrary to expectation, A. D. Foster, M.P., and Dr. Chipman, who was associated with him in the purchase of horses for the Government in the County of King's, N.S., did not give evidence before the public accounts committee of the Commons Saturday, but they will appear to-day. Hon. Dr. Reid made this announcement to the committee Saturday afternoon, and an adjournment was made.

The cost of material in "Housewives" was again taken up and representatives of J. L. Garland & Son and the Two Macs were questioned. Mr. Carvell seemed to think there was a "nigger in the fence" somewhere and said so.

Hon. Dr. Reid: "If there's a niggar in the fence for Heaven's sake bring him out. We'll make a white man of him before we get through."

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Evidence that offerings of spot and May deliveries were passing into strong hands forced sellers of wheat today to be extremely cautious about acting on bear news. In consequence the market closed unsettled, ¼c off to ⅛c up, compared with last night. Corn finished ⅛c to ½c down, oats varying from ⅜c decline to ⅛c advance and provisions at an advance of 2½c to 20c.

Cornmeal—Yellow, 98-lb. sacks, in car lots, $2.20; small lots, $2.30 to $2.40.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 10.—Wheat opened ⅝c to 1⅛c lower, oats ¼c lower for May, and flax ⅜c to 1¼c lower. Prices strengthened gradually on reports of export sales being carried thru in the south. The war news had little or no effect on today's market. Local export enquiry was fair, while prices were out of line.

Cash offerings were light for spot wheat. Opening of navigation offerings were numerous, but buyers were scarce.

Wheat futures closed ¼c to ⅝c lower after a fluctuation of 1c to 1⅜c, cash ⅛c lower for contract grades, oats ⅛c to ¼c lower, and flax ⅝c to 1¼c lower.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 10.—There was no improvement in Manitoba spring wheat today, and business continues dull. Business in coarse grains for domestic account is also quiet and the undertone of the market for some lines is easy, but there is no actual change in prices to note. The local and foreign demand for flour is easy, little new business being done. Demand for millfeed continues fair. The feeling in butter is strong owing to the small supplies available on spot, and the continued light receipts, for which there is a fairly good demand. Receipts for the week were 1817 packages as compared with 2862 for the same week a year ago.

The local demand for cheese is good and the tone of the market is strong. Receipts for the week were 873 boxes against 430 a year ago. Eggs active, but easy owing to liberal supplies coming forward. Receipts for week 13,313 cases, as compared with 11,903 a year ago. Refined sugar declined 15c per cwt., making standard granulated $6.60.

Stocks: Wheat, 327,698; corn, 113,052; oats, 764,323; barley, 182,639; rye, 14,720; buckwheat, 13,113; flour, 64,130 sacks.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 10.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.53¼; No. 1 northern, $1.49¼ to $1.52¾; No. 2 do., $1.43¾ to $1.49¾; May, $1.47¾.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 69c to 69½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 54¾c to 55¼c.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 10.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.53¼; No. 1 northern, $1.52¼; No. 2 do., $1.45¼ to $1.48¼. May, $1.51¼.

CATTLE MARKETS

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Cattle—Receipts 100. Market steady. Beeves, $6.10 to $8.90; western steers, $5.65 to $7.50; cows and heifers, $3 to $7.90; calves, $6 to $8.75.

Hogs—Receipts 8000. Market higher. Light, $6.95 to $7.27½; mixed, $6.95 to $7.25; heavy, $6.70 to $7.22½; rough, $6.70 to $6.85; pigs, $5.75 to $6.80; bulk of sales $7.15 to $7.20.

Sheep—Receipts 5000. Market steady. Native, $7.40 to $8.50; lambs, native, $7.80 to $10.50.

Horn's Writ Contested.

BOSTON, April 12. — Werner Horn's petition for a writ of habeas corpus was attacked by Government attorneys in a demurrer filed in the federal court Saturday. Horn, who is under indictment for illegal interstate transportation of explosives with which he tried to destroy the international bridge at Vanceboro Maine, claimed that he had been denied his legal rights. The demurrer contests this claim and declares that Horn was not denied due process of law by the refusal of Federal Judges Putnam and Hale to hear a habeas corpus petition presented in the Maine jurisdiction.

He Recognized Them.

A British army brigadier, noted for his biting tongue, took up a position near the outposts of a big training centre near London to discover whether Lord Kitchener's new army seriously recognized the importance of sentries.

In the darkness he shouted the customary sentry's challenge to returning regiments. From the Scots' Greys, the Grenadier Guards, and other regiments came the proper reply, and they were passed.

"Halt, who goes there?" he shouted as another infantry column advanced.

"None of your —— business," was the unexpected reply.

"Pass, Canadians," snapped the brigadier.

THE WOMAN'S WORLD

Spider Web Embroidery.

The new spider web embroidery is charming. The webs are used for backgrounds of floral designs, bright colored dragon flies and the like and sometimes stand out alone with only the residing spider upon them. The embroidered webs are alarmingly and delightfully natural, being usually of pale gray. They may be made in any color that you prefer, however, and a beautiful effect can be obtained by such a design in different shades of delft blue, the lightest shade being used for the webs. Spider web embroidery is being used upon luncheon sets, bureau sets and occasionally upon sofa pillows.

A safe, reliable regulating medicine. Sold in three degrees of strength—No. 1, $1; No. 2, $3; No. 3, $5 per box. Sold by all druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of price. Free pamphlet. Address: THE COOK MEDICINE CO., TORONTO, ONT. (Formerly Windsor.)

SHABBY WASTEBASKETS.

Fancy Covers Make Them Look Prettier Than Ever.

When the old wicker wastebasket has become shabby it can be easily renewed by incasing in a tight covering of colored silk and then adding a second and top covering of crocheted lace. The square, octagonal or paneled wastebasket can be readily fitted up with crochet lace.

Crochet panels of lace the width and length of each side of the basket. First baste each separate panel thus crocheted to the basket through the wicker, and then proceed to whip the panels together with white thread and an ordinary sewing needle.

Bind the top and bottom of the basket with ribbon to match the first layer of material used upon the basket and place bow at the side. The color used in making the basket should, of course, match the color scheme of the boudoir or bedroom for which the basket is intended.

RIBBONS FOR TRIMMINGS.

Placed on Millinery and Gowns Are Popular Decorations.

Ribbons will have large use for millinery decoration and for girdles on dresses, says the Dry Goods Economist. Narrow grosgrains will prevail for the former and wide, plain ribbons for the latter purpose. Striped and check effects will be dominant in the fancy novelties.

Veilings worn in loose, draped fashion will be in great vogue. Bordered ones will be popular. Hand run designs, velvet spots and fillet meshes will be features.

Millinery features are ultra small sailor, poke, toque and tricorn shapes, lisere straw in combination with other braids; small, flat, floral trimmings; narrow grosgrain and georgette satin ribbons, fancy button and straw novelties and compact feather effects.

Spring Cleaning Hint.

To clean ecru or cream curtains without washing tack a sheet to the floor, stretch curtain on this and cover with coarse salt and cornmeal. Rub briskly with a whisk broom fifteen minutes and you will have clean curtains and color as bright as new.

BEAUTY SNAPSHOTS.

It is claimed that tea boiled with water and strained is a mild astringent lotion for lessening hair falling.

A cold shower bath every morning will do much toward hardening the skin to winds.

An excellent practice to insure bright eyes and a clear skin is to take the juice of a lemon in a glass of water, with a dash of salt added. This acts directly on the liver, which has more to do with good looks than many imagine.

Pale, sparse eyebrows and lashes make a face expressionless. They can be coaxed into a better growth by rubbing the eyebrows nightly with vaseline.

German Officers Act Like Savages

Russian Scout Refused Information to the Foe

London, April 12.—The Petrograd correspondent of the London Morning Post says: A Russian scout named Porphry Panasjuk was caught on March 29 on German territory north of Myszines and taken to German headquarters. Here ten German officers spent a whole hour torturing the man to extract information about Russian troops. Panasjuk resolutely declined to betray his country, and apparently scorned to invent. When the officers tired of torturing him he was placed under guard as a prisoner of war, but contrived to get away under cover of darkness and returned to his own lines, when he was was rewarded with the Cross of the Order of St. George of the first-class and a gift of money for loyalty to his soldier's oath.

Torturing means more or less, according to preconceived ideas. To judge, then, by details: an officer in the presence of nine others ordered Panasjuk to give information, threatening if he refused, to cus his ears and nose in pieces and put out his eyes, but if he would betray his comrades and spy for Germany he would be richly rewarded. As the man continued obstinate, the officer called for a pair of wire-cutting shears.

He first cut off the lobe of the scout's right ear with this brutal instrument. Panasjuk continued obstinate, and the gallant German officer in the course of an hour, cutting four times, a bit at a time, worked all around the ear, finally severing it. A little bit of gristle round the orifice of hearing is all that remains of the right ear. Another officer took his turn, first hitting the man in the mouth as a little introduction. He then proceeded to work upon the nose; getting his fingers well into the nostrils he tore Panasjuk's nose out, not the nostrils merely, but bringing the cartilage bodily away from the bone. This ended the examination of the prisoner by ten German officers.

Panasjuk is now in the hospital in Warsaw, and a medical report and photographs are to be supplied to the press.

YOUNG POLE REPRIEVED

Younger of Toronto Murderers Gets Twenty Years Instead

TORONTO, April 12.—Tomas Cekoski will not pay the death penalty for his part in the murder of Bongero Trendo. The petition which was sent to Ottawa in his behalf has been successful and as a result sentence has been commuted to twenty years' imprisonment.

When the good news was told him by Rev. Jos. Hinsman, his spiritual advisor Saturday, Cekoski was overcome. He fell upon his knees, and reaching his hand to his informant, cried bitterly and uttered a prayer.

A telegram from Under Secretary of State, Thomas Mulvey, contained the brief message which meant so much. It was with John Ziolko that he was implicated in the murder, and both were found guilty. Ziolko, the elder of the two, shouldered all the blame and has expressed the hope on many occasions that his friend would be spared. He was willing to pay the penalty for both.

The younger man says he will be a model prisoner, and that when he is liberated he will spend the balance of his life working for the wife and family of his companion.

Bulgarians Were Raiders.

LONDON, April 12. — Bulgarians were responsible for raids on Serbian and Greek soil a week ago, despite the denials of the Bulgarian Government. This is the gist of an official despatch from Nish to the Serbian legation, given out here Saturday. It states that Bulgarian passports were found upon the bodies of some of the dead. The raiders were Comitadjis (Bulgarian irregulars), led by Bulgarian and Turkish officers.

High German Officers Killed.

LONDON, April 12. — A semi-official statement issued at Petrograd, says a Reuter's despatch, announces that several German officers of high rank were killed and several others injured when a train carrying the staff of an army corps was derailed in the section of Poland occupied by the Germans.

AT CALL OF KITCHENER

Second Canadian Contingent Will Sail on Date Fixed

OTTAWA, April 12.—In the House of Commons Saturday night, Sir Robert Borden spoke at length on what has been accomplished since the outbreak of the war in recruiting, mobilizing and equipping the volunteers and sending them to the front. Canada now has over 100,000 men under arms. The force, according to the Prime Minister, quadruples the number of British troops under Wellington at Waterloo and largely exceeds the entire force on either side possessed by the allied forces at at that world-famed battle. In this connection, he called attention to the fact that the first contingent had taken more guns from Canada than were possessed by the allied forces at Waterloo.

The Prime Minister said he desired to lay at rest comments and speculation respecting the delay in forwarding the second contingent. The contingent was ready to sail last December, but the British War Office requested that they be not sent to England until a date not yet arrived, which of course he was not at liberty to give to the House. The reasons for this decision were given by the War Office and acquiesced in by the Dominion Government. For one thing the War Offive was already greatly overtaxed in providing for the huge military force already in training in the British Isles. It was also desired that the second contingent should not be exposed to some of the unavoidable hardships endured by the first contingent during the past winter at Salisbury Plains.

Sir Robert spoke in eloquent praise of the generous and patriotic response to the call for enlistment. The young men under training in Canada as well as those already sent oversea were a credit to the Dominion and our troops already at the front had behaved with the greatest of gallantry. The general program already announced has been carried out to date and should the war last for another year, Canada would have at least 100,000 on the plains of Europe, and 50,000 more in training in Canada.

The total number of officers and men now enlisted amounts to 101,560, which includes units of the active militia on active service in Canada of 9,777; units recruited and organized for overseas service but not mobilized, 3,500, and permanent force in Canada, 2,340.

The remainder, classified as the overseas forces, number 85,753.

The troops are distributed as follows: In Bermuda, 982 officers and men; at St. Lucia, 100 men; in England and at the front, 35,420, and in training for overseas service in Canada, 65,000.

The Canadian Expeditionary Force is made up as follows: The first contingent, consisting of the first division army troops and surplus units and line of communication units; the second continegnt comprising the second division and line of communication units, a force of Canadian mounted rifles, an infantry reserve and depots.

The cavalry and horse artillery have been posted to a mounted brigade commanded by Brigadier-Gen the Rt. Hon. J. E. B. Seely, S.D.S.O., and are still in England. One composed of detachments from mounted corps provides cavalry reinforcements; three furnish reinforcements for the infantry, and the fifth forms a general reserve,

Speaking of the force of Canadian Mounted Rifles, Col. Gwatkin says in a memorandum read by the Premier, that when the Army Council decided on the form the assistance from Canada should take, disappointment was felt, particularly in the West, at the exclusion of cavalry and mounted rifles. So long as trench fighting continued mounted troops were not required in the western theatre of operations. But they were required in Egypt which was threatened with invasion and, moreover, it was not unreasonable to suppose that the situation in Belgium and in France would undergo a change. Therefore, it was decided to proceed with the mobilization of 13 regiments of mounted rifles. In addition to the 12 "fire line" battalions of the second division there are in Canada 24 "reserved" battalions in the various stages of development. These will be utilized as circumstances require; in Canada for draft giving purposes, or in England as training depots, or as complete units at the seat of war.

BROKE RULES TO SAVE A GERMAN

Heir to the British Throne is Court-martialled

LONDON, April 12. — The Daily Telegraph publishes a story to the effect that the Prince of Wales recently saved a German prisoner taken at St. Eloi from being shot as a spy under circumstances that led to a court-martial inquiry to investigate the charge made by Major Deane against the prince of "committing an act gravely violating military discipline." The prince saw a German being led off to be shot as a spy. Asking the reason, the prince was told that the man had been found in the British lines wearing a British officer's overcoat and that he was trying to make his way back to the German lines when captured.

The prince spoke to the German in his own language, and learned that the man had become detached from a German patrol, and was simply endeavoring to rejoin his own lines when he was taken prisoner. Believing the story, the prince, despite the protests of the lieutenant, took the man in his auto to Major Deane and as a result the prince was severely reprimanded and suspended for three days. The prisoner's story proved to be correct and he was sent to England.

THE WAR TAX

The much-talked-of-war tax levied by the Government becomes effective on Thursday, April 15th, and there is no getting away from it. The post office, local banks, express offices all received circulars today setting forth the modus operandi of the new tax and how it shall be collected. It is very simple, and, while the extra charge seems small when viewed individually, it cannot help but be an immense revenue when taken in the aggregate.

On Thursday all persons sending letters to their friends in any place in Canada, the United States, Mexico or any place in the United Kingdom or the British possessions must see that they have a one-cent war tax stamp upon them in addition to the regular stamp. Wherever possible, the special war-stamp is to be used, but if ordinary postage stamps are used for the purpose, they will be accepted.

With regard to express money orders, travellers' cheques and foreign cheques, a war tax of two cents will be levied upon every order purchased on and after Thursday. The penalty to which an office issuing a money order is liable that does not place this war tax upon it and collect the tax, is $100. Circulars to this effect have been received by both Canadian and Dominion Express Companies. The stamp must be placed upon the express order before the purchaser is given the order.

The railway companies also have received their instructions from head offices. Tickets for transportation to any place in Canada, Newfoundland, West Indies, Bermuda, British Honduras, British Guiana or the United States in excess of one dollar are assessable for the war tax. Any ticket costing one dollar or under is not chargeable, that is, a party purchasing transportaton to a point the fare to which costs a dollar or under, will not be charged a war tax. All tickets over $1 and up to any amount will be charged at the rate of five cents for every five dollars. That is, a ticket costing from $1 to $5 will cost 5 cents. A ticket costing from $5 to $10 will cost 10 cents, and so on. For every five dollars or fraction thereof the war tax will therefore be five cents additional. For example, the regular fare to Toronto and return is $3.85. With the war tax it will now be $3.90. The tax applies to either one way or return.

No refund of a war tax once collected will be made in the event of refund on unused tickets being granted. The government directs that under no circumstances shall war taxes be refunded. The parlor and sleeping car berths are also affected by the tax to the extent that all parlor car seats regardless of distance will now be 30 cents instead of 25 cents previously.

Ten cents extra will be charged for lower or upper berths, twenty cents for sections or upper berths, twenty cents for sections and compartments, and thirty cents for drawing rooms.

The rates apply to steamship tickets also. To any other place save those mentioned the sum of one dollar will be charged on tickets from $10 to $40 inclusive. From $40 to $65 the tax will be $3, and over $65 it will be $5 which is the limit. For example, a ticket from Peterborough to Halifax is $9.55. With the war tax it would be $9.65 and from Halifax to England it would be $50, and $3 war tax or $53 altogether.

The banks will also be affected. All persons making cheques or bills of exchange on bank paper will also have to put the two cent stamp on them. It is possible that this will mean a number of cheques issued.

LIEUT. CAMPBELL WAS BEST MAN AT MILITARY WEDDING

A cable to the Mail and Empire from Beresford Topp states that a very interesting Canadian military wedding took place at St. Thomas' Church, Portman Square, on Saturday, when Capt. "Bob" Cory, of the Toronto Highlanders, a noted rugby player, was married to Miss Beatrice Telfer, of Collingwood, Ontario. Lieut. Peter Campbell, the 'Varsity football captain, was best man, and Lieut. Norman MacAulay, for two years captain of the Royal Military College team, was an usher. Mrs. Herbert Porter was matron of honor. The guests included Capt. and Mrs. Marshall, Mesdames Osborne, Darling and Maclaren, and a number of young officers. The wedding was arranged on two days' notice. Capt. Cory arrived in London from the front Friday night, and returns in three days. Lieut. Norman McEachren gave a dinner party for the couple at the Savoy in the evening.

Galt Has Lost Oldest Citizen.

GALT, April 12.—Galt's oldest resident, Nicholas Grenfell Kinsman passed away Saturday evening at his home on Macadamized road. He was in his 98th year, and was born in St Day, Cornwall, England. He went to Mexico in 1844 as a mining engineer became wealthy, and in 1850 married the eldest daughter of Capt. Joe Whitburn. In 1858, with his wife and two children, he came to Canada

French Ship Torpedoed.

LONDON, April 12. — A despatch from Le Treport, France, 16 miles northeast of Dieppe, says the French three-masted ship Chateoubriand from London for New York with a cargo of chalk, was sunk by a German submarine off the Isle of Wight at 11 a.m. Thursday. The crew of 25 was saved.

Hydro Lineman Badly Injured.

BROCKVILLE, April 12. — Lloyd Gladstone, lineman in the employ of the Hydro Electric Commission, fell from a 40-foot pole at Iroquois after coming in contact with a wire charged with 25,000 volts. The force of the contact threw him from the pole, but in falling he struck a guy wire thus saving him from what would have been instant death. He was brought to the General Hospital here in a precarious condition, with more than fifty burns on his hands and arms. So it is thought his right arm and left hand will require amputation.

LAST RAIDER IS IN PORT

Kronprinz Wilhelm Seeks Refuge in Newport News

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 12.—The German converted cruiser, Kronprinz Wilhelm, the elusive raider of commerce in the South Atlantic, slipped into this port yesterday and asked for fuel and provisions. Many times reported destroyed, the former North German Lloyd liner had evaded hostile warships for eight months, while she sent 14 merchant vessels to the bottom. Her officers said she was forced to steal her way past four allied cruisers off the Virginia Capes to reach this refuge.

"We got in without being seen by the enemy, and we can get out the same way," declared her commander, Lieut.-Capt. Paul Thierfeldt, formerly navigating officer of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, in a statement last night. When she dropped anchor the Kronprinz Wilhelm had less than 25 tons of coal and scarcely any food for her men and 61 prisoners from the British merchant ships sunk in the South Atlantic.

Of the 14 ships that the cruiser sank, nine were British, four French and one Norwegian. The value of these ships and their cargoes, officers of the Wilhelm last night estimated at $7,000,000.

The Kronprinz Wilhelm followed in the wake of the interned Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which arrived here a month ago Saturday, after thrilling and effective operations for the German arms. In her raid of the seas, since she slipped out of New York harbor, Aug. 3 last, as a German merchant and passenger steamer, the Kronprinz Wilhelm never touched land and took 960 prisoners from various vessels destroyed.

The Kronprinz Wilhelm also took 20,000 tons of coal from various ships captured, and from the British ship La Correntina, sunk on Oct. 7, the Germans took two four-inch guns.

SCOUT NEWS.

All members of the Boy Scouts are asked to meet next Friday night at 7.30 sharp in full uniform and with staves. All sergeants and corporals are asked to meet on Monday, April 12th, at 8 o'clock sharp. This is an important meeting so all are asked to attend.

AN APSLEY WEDDING

Apsley, April 12. — The home of Mr. and Mrs. McColl was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, April 7th, when their daughter, Hester Ann, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Johnson of Chandos. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Gardiner of St. George's Church.

The bride looked charming in a dress of white satin and wore the customary veil and orange blossoms. Her sister, Miss Myrtle McColl, acted as bridesmaid and wore a dress of white silk. Mr. John Coones of Apsley assisted the groom. Miss Ella Brown played the wedding march.

After the ceremony about three hundred and fifty invited guests partook of a most sumptuous wedding dinner, the tables being beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Music was furnished and dancing was indulged in until the early hours of the morning.

The presents were both numerous and costly showing the esteem in which the young couple were held. Their many friends wish them a long and happy married life.

CANADIAN BAYONET AND COMPARISONS

The following memorandum was issued by the militia department, apparently in reply to comments from the front, written by Col. Currie, M.P., of the 48th Highlanders:

Articles have appeared in the press recently attempting to point out the disadvantages of the Ross bayonet, with which the Canadians are armed at the front, in comparison with other makes particularly on account of length. The following information will, no doubt, be of general interest:

Length of rifles and bayonets used by the principal nations as war are:

Germany—Rifle 4 ft. 1.4 in. with bayonet 5 ft. 9.75 in.

Austria—Rifle 4 ft. 2 in. with bayonet 4 ft. 11.5 in.

Turkey—Rifle 4 ft. 0.6 in. with bayonet 5 ft. 6.6 in.

Belgium—Rifle 4 ft. 2.25 in. with bayonet 4 ft. 11.75 in.

France—Rifle 4 ft. 3.12 in. with bayonet 5 ft. 11.84 in.

Russia—Rifle 4 ft. 3.875 in. with bayonet 5 ft. 9 in.

Great Britain. (Short Lee-Enfield). —Rifle 3 ft. 8.5 in. with bayonet 5 ft. 1.7 in.

Canadian (Ross rifle)—Rifle 4 ft. 2.5 in. with bayonet 5 ft. 1 in.

It is interesting to note that the American rifle is 3 ft. 7.2 inches long and with the bayonet 4 ft. 11 in.

WESTERN TILLERS BUSY ON THE LAND

Calgary, Alta., April 12.—Practically all farmers in the country immediately south of Calgary are busy on the land. Providing conditions remain as they have been for the past week, they expect to conclude operations on a largely increased acreage by about April 21. Towards the north conditions are not so far advanced.

Moose Jaw—Quite a considerable area in this district has already been seeded to wheat. It can hardly be said, however, that seeding is general yet, but by the middle of this week every farmer in the surrounding country will be busy at this work, if the fine weather holds.

There will be from 10 to 15 per cent. more land put to seed this season than last.

Saskatoon—Seeding has got a good start in the Saskatoon district, reports from many widely separated points indicating that it is pretty general in northern and central Saskatchewan.

The weather has been warm and soil conditions are good.

Mr. Herbert Steen, of Berlin, while on his way home from a concert collapsed and died without regaining consciousness.

MAKE TESTS FOR ACTIVE MILITIA MORE SEVERE

OTTAWA, April 12.—More care will be exercised in receiving recruits for the active militia in the future than has been the practice heretofore. It is understood that the militia officials are far from satisfied with the showing made by members of the active militia when they were examined for the overseas contingent because a great number could not pass the medical test.

It is claimed that the test for the active militia should be almost as severe as the test for overseas, and there is no use the government paying for drilling men who, when war comes, are medically unfit. Of course, there can be a little latitude because the primary object of the militia of this country is not to go to Europe to fight, but to defend Canada. Accordingly, while great care may be taken to send only the men of the very best physique overseas, if it came to defending this country, the line would not be drawn nearly so close, and as a result it is not considered necessary to make the examination quite so severe as that for overseas. However, it is thought that the examinations for the active militia in the past have been much too lax, and great numbers of men who are not medicaly fit for even the defence of Canada have been for years in the [illegible].

The stricter medical examination is causing some dissatisfaction because it is argued by some that when a man is anxious to drill even with the government allowing no pay, the examination should not be strict, as nearly all would be called upon if Canada were in danger, whether they had perfect physique or not.

INDIAN RIVER ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.)

Indian River, April 12. — Every farmer in this vicinity is wearing a "John Bunny" smile because of the healthy condition of the fall wheat. It looks as though this district will do its part in answering the call of Patriotism and Production.

A number of Indian River residents are attending the meeting of the telephone company in Keene today.

Friends of Rev. Mr. Roberts, pastor of the Baptist Church, will be pleased to learn that he is convalescent. Dr. Baker of Peterborough is the attending physician.

Miss Lizzie Conroy of Peterborough visited here over the week end.

Mr. A. J. Kidd of Lakefield visited in Indian River yesterday.

Mr. S. Armstrong of Bethel will address the young people of this village in the Baptist Church on Friday evening.

Mr. James Hall is improving his home by inserting a hardwood floor in his kitchen.

Dame Rumor whispers there is a wedding in the air. The sound of the bells are not audible as yet.

MASCOT OF 21ST BATTALION.

The billy goat mascot of the 21st Battalion had a fine new harness on this morning. His horns have been tipped with silver, and from a chain across both horns hangs his badge of the 21st Battalion. Billy has been taken on the battalion's strength, and seems proud of his position.—Kingston Standard.

SALVATION ARMY WORK PROGRESSES

Encouraging Reports Are Read When Thirtieth Year is Celebrated

Saturday night and Sunday witnessed enthusiastic meetings at the Salvation Army Temple, when the thirtieth anniversary was observed.

The visiting officers were Brigadier McMillan and his son, Band-Sergt. McMillan, Major and Mrs. Walton, all of Montreal.

The junior band and members of the Sunday School had a marchout in the afternoon.

Mr. Mark Spencely, who has been confined to his home with illness, attended the services yesterday, although in doing so he took a considerable risk.

General Activities.

Reports on the Peterborough corps were read, as follows:

In taking a general view of the work for the last year we find that we had a very remarkable year from many standponts.

First and foremost, from the ladies' standpoint, we find that Mrs. McElhiney was appointed as police matron, with its multifarious duties, which have been carried out to the satisfaction of all officials and citizens, as her first report clearly demonstrated.

The League of Mercy has also in the past year, as before, carried out their errands of mercy as true servants of their Master, and many are the hearts and homes that have been gladdened both in temporal and spiritual needs by them.

Then we have the trip of the senior band to represent Canada at the great International Congress, and I think that this in itself is something that stands out pre-eminently as the greatest undertaking of any corps band in all the world-wide Army, both for the distance travelled, recognition, and the fact that no financial assistance was received from any source outside their own townsfolk.

Then we go on to the prison work with its varying congregation. Under the able guidance of our esteemed officer and Band Sergt. Brown, instead of having meetings there once or twice a month, we have now entire charge of the religious services every week.

Then we have had the honor of having our officer promoted to the position of chaplain of our fire-fighting forces. I am very sure that he is proud of the boys that form that brigade.

Also, our citizens, knowing well of our adjutant's ability as a money-getter, appointed him as captain of a team to raise money for the Patriotic Fund, wherein he was very successful, being, I believe, third from the top; but, not satisfied to let him rest on his well-earned laurels, they also appointed him to serve on the executive board of that society.

Then, with the coming of winter, the adjutant, seeing the need of the men and women who were destitute in this city, rented two homes, one for needy men and the other for women, not knowing at the same time where the money was coming from to finance the scheme, but we are glad to say that two hundred men and women besides children have been fed, some clothed, and all comfortably housed during a long, hard and trying winter, and we are glad to say also that he will finish up the winter clear of debt.

Then, turning to things that concern you and I more closely, I will mention some things in connection with our own corps. To people who think that the Army is dying out, I would like to state that since our adjutant has taken charge of the Peterborough corps, the number of soldiers has almost doubled. The number added during the past year has been 67.

Coming down to our week-night meetings, the attendance has increased one hundred per cent., and also in the Sunday meetings there has been a very apparent increase. I am pleased to say that our series of meetings at Keene and Lakefield, although carried out under very disagreeable weather conditions, were productive of much good which Eternity alone will reveal.

Last, but not least, I will not trouble you with a lot of figures in regard to our financial work, but will just quote the difference between two quarterly balance reports, one from a quarter in 1914, and also from the first in 1915: Total income for quarter in 1914, $749.01, and for 1915, $1705.43.

All of which is respecfully submitted.

FRED SANDY,
Corps Secretary.

Sunday School Report.

We have great reason to be thankful to Almighty God for His showers of blessing. Under the leadership of Adjutant and Mrs. McElhiney we can report victory upon victory. These faithful and beloved officers came to us in the summer of 1913. The adjutant has attended the Sunday school except when away with the band in England.

On the occasion of their first Sunday with us the attendance was 174, and in reviewing the past we offer the following report to the soldiers and friends of the Peterborough corps:

Attendance during 1913, 11,490
average per Sunday 221
Attendance during 1914, 18,106
average per Sunday 348
Increase, 6,616, average per Sunday 127
Average since January, 1915 .. 436

We now have 41 classes with a staff of workers numbering 57, who have been faithful from every standpoint.

We have added 15 fighting soldiers to the senior corps during 1914, and have 12 more ready for enrollment. On our junior roll there are 139 converted children, and 500 names now compose our roll of membership. Our growing cradle roll also numbers 35. A kindergarten has also been added during the past year and has a membership of 62. During the past year 48 children have confessed conversion.

Our fine boys' band, under the able leadership of Y.-P. Bandmaster Blunt is forging ahead with some 18 instrumentalists, and 29 others are learning. God bless the junior and.

The year 1914 so filled our Sunday school, that Adjutant McElhiney had to get us more room, and with the kindness of the Orangemen of Brownton, we opened a branch Sunday school in their hall. Yet another extension has been made through the energy of the good people of Brayley district, and Sunday after Sunday the public school is turned into a Sunday school, where the children of the surrounding country are taught the love of God.

Why Not Telephone?

If you telephone him first you may not have to go at all!

If you would just remember to observe this rule of first using the Long Distance Telephone, you would save yourself and your staff many tiresome trips, unnecessary disappointments and much expense.

Many progressive business houses have found that by a systematic and persistent use of the Long Distance Telephone travelling expense can be reduced anywhere from 20 to 80 per cent.

Why not adopt this principle in your business? Telephone first! Try to figure out where the Long Distance Telephone can save you precious time!

I DIDN'T RAISE MY BOY, ETC.

(As applied to a busher)
A mother kissed her stalwart son, and saw through tear-dimmed eyes
The gallant lad step bravely forth to win a glorious prize.
The winter day was cold and gray— but throbbing strong and warm—
The hero's heart was pulsing in a champion's uniform!
"A manly game, with well-won fame —the call has come," he cried —
"Another kiss, my mother dear"— and forth he strode in pride!
The springtime came—the buds in flame—birds warbled in the wood,
Before her eyes, a broken man, her hapless darling stood!
He bore a spike-cut on his shin, and underneath his eye
A large green mouse that certified the umpire's quick reply—
His uniform was worn and torn, and it was not the same
As that in which, six weeks before, he started in the game —
No champion letterings were sewed across his heaving chest,
But an extremely bush league name, a league S. E. by West!
"I have come home to die," he cried —"You've just come home to eat,"
That noble mother answered him, then wailed with soulful bleat:

"I did not raise my boy to be a busher—
I hoped to see him be another Cobb;
I did not feed this hulk to be a bonehead—
Nor Can I stand him in a Class D job!
I did not raise my boy to be a busher—
A Mathewson I dreamed that he should be—
And now I find he is a Class D flivver—
The big leagues wish this lobster back on me!"

—By W. A. PHELON.

Here is how many balls the pitcher had to deliver to the batter in order for the latter to get a base and the years the rule was changed: Up to 1880, nine; 1880, it was changed to eight; 1881, 1882 and 1883, it was seven; 1884 and 1885, six; in 1886 it went back to seven; in 1887 and 1888, five; and from 1889 to the present time, four.

COMMENT As You Like it

WIDDIFIELD will do the receiving for some of the City League teams other than the Classics. The fact that this catcher belongs to the legal class does not worry "Vic" Fowler, who says that when playing against Widdifield his team will line up as follows:

Habeas Corpus, ss.
Mandamus, c.f.
Replevin, 3b.
Injunction, r.f.
Capias, l.f.
Quo Warranto, 1b.

MAYOR BULLER is to manage the Empire Athletic Club's team. Everyone knows that His Worship is acquainted with municipal matters from A to Z, but we are a little doubtful of his knowledge of Connie Mack's profession. The "people's candidate" is ambitions enough, as was shown the other day when he answered an advertisement reading: "Send us $1, and we will guarantee to tell anyone who doesn't know much about baseball how to successfully manage a team."

Mayor Buller's dollar brought the following reply: "Keep away from the ball park when the team is playing."

DON'T ATTEMPT to ad anything funny to the following little verse from the Ottawa Free Press:

"Little attention is paid in baseball records to the number of flies caught in the outfield, greatest stress being laid on the scarcity of slip-ups in the outer pastures. Last year Curly Blount, the little centrefielder of the Peterborough team, was the boss fly-catcher of the season, with 249. Curly slipped up on but eight, and while he ranks second to Cy Reidy of London as the best fielding outfielder in the league, Reidy nabbed only 137. Dawson of Erie was only one behind Blount in the number of flies caught, but he blew on twenty of them.

JOSH CRAIG says he is going to play with the Thistles. Yes, Marie, he's the same fellow who played for the Printers in the Mercantile League. Ever hear about his endeavor to "come back"? He knew that his batting was bad, so he thought he found salvation when he noticed an ad in the Omemee Mirror which read, "For the small sum of one dollar we will send directions which, if carried out, will prevent any ballplayer from striking out." The answer to Josh was, "Don't go to bat."

THE TIP in Saturday's Review that the South End organization which proposed entering a team in the City Baseball League would amalgamate with the Classics, was the correct dope. Pat. Gorman, who represented the South Enders at the meeting on Friday evening informed us last night that he would be present at the meeting tonight and withdraw his aplication.

SOME of the intermediate hockey players who made aplication for reinstatement to the O. H. A. have received replies from Secretary Hewitt, from which we are led to believe the executive will take the players' side of the case up before the opening of the baseball season. The O. H. A. has nothing on the players, so to take up the case will practically mean to reinstate them.

BASEBALL is here. The first scores came ticking across the wires Saturday evening from Federal League centres. It doesn't seem long since we were waiting for the scores of the world series games.

GLOOM thought for today — May 24th, 1912.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will be held some evening this week. The exact date and time will be announced later. According to some of the members the prospects are good for a successful season.

INDOOR BASEBALL

A great deal of interest is being taken in the Indoor Baseball League at the Armouries. Quite a crowd of people witnessed the games last week. The different teams are working hard to win the trophies put up for competition by the officers. Eeach man on the winning team will get a watch fob or locket and the winning team will get a pennant for their company room. Games are played on Wednesday and Friday nights, two games each nght.

No. 8 Company will practise to-night, Monday, April 12, at 7 o'clock.

On Friday night two very exciting games were played at the Armouries. In the first game No. 5 Company defaulted to No. 6, so an exhibition game was played between No. 6 and a picked team. The line-up:

Picked Team — Meyers p; Dunn rf; Carpenter cf; Rumey lf; Cumming ss; Morphet 1b; Drysdale 3b; Lebar c; Lebar 2b.

No. 6 Company — McIntosh ss; Preston rf; Browett 3b; Devins p; Sharpe c; Thackeray lf; White 2b; Chambers 1b; P. Echobichon cf.

The picked team won by the score of 7-4.

In the second game No. 8 Company defeated No. 7 Company by a score of 12-8. This was one of the best games pulled off this season.

No. 8 Company sure look like winners, unless some of the other companies can buck up and do something.

The line-up:

No. 7 Company — Holt c; Freeman ss; Ecobichon 1b; Barrell 2b; Logan p; Preston lf; Munro 3rd; Freeman rf; Frost cf.

No. 8 Company—Heaslip c; McDonald ss; Clancy 1b; Stewart 2b; Hardill p; Pidgeon lf; Jackson 3b; Crowe rf; Nickel cf.

Umpires — Balls and strikes, D. McCabe; bases, B. Cranfield.

No Speaker In Senate.

OTTAWA, April 12.—The continued absence of the Speaker was the subject of still further inquiry in the Senate Saturday afternoon. Senator Cloran said he would call attention to the fact that that body was doing business without a head. Concluding Senator Cloran defied the leader of the Government in the House, who had resented the former's language.

"His policeman and sergeant-at-arms don't frighten me a bit," said Senator Cloran. "I want to know from the Government, the leader of the Tory minority in this House, if they are prepared to stand by the actions of their own nominee, Speaker Landry, or not."

RELIEF SHIP TORPEDOED

Carried Gifts for Belgians From New York State

ROTTERDAM, April 12.—The Belgian relief ship Harpalyce of London, the bearer of New York State's first cargo of gifts, which was sunk north of the Hinder Lightship, Saturday, by a German submarine, was flying the flag of the American Commission when she was torpedoed, according to the testimony of Capt. Matroos, of the Dutch steamer Elizabeth, which brought to this port 22 of the 27 rescued members of the crew of 53.

The Constance Catherine, also a Dutch steamer, picked up five of the men. It is feared that all of the remaining members of the crew have been lost. The Harpalyce sank within five minutes of receiving the torpedo. Capt. Matroos said he was in an excellent position to see the whole affair, and that the American Relief Commission's flag flying from the jib stay of the Harpalyce was plainly visible to him as he stood on the bridge of his vessel which was then one mile astern of the Harpalyce.

"While I was watching the Harpalyce," said the captain, "suddenly I saw a cloud of smoke and heard a tremendous explosion. I put on full steam for the ship. Then I saw the periscope of a submarine about a hundred yards from the Harpalyce going away from the sinking vessel. The wash of the periscope was quite plain. I got a lifeboat launched and picked up 13 men who were swimming about or clinging to the wreckage. Then I turned my attention to those in the boats. The second officer was unconscious when I recovered him, but I got him into a warm bunk with warm bottles and he recovered after two hours, just as the ship was disappearing. There were three or four distinct and heavy explosions as four boilers burst. Everyone was covered with wreckage. Three Chinamen were badly injured. The Constance picked up five and I believe the Ruby, an American ship, picked up one or perhaps two; but no more."

Campaign for Men

Recruiting Crusade is Inaugurated in London

LONDON, April 12.—A great patriotic campaign to secure recruits for Field Marshal Earl Kitchener's new army was opened in London yesterday. The campaign is to be carried on for a fortnight.

Meetings addressed by Liberal, Unionist, Labor and Irish members of Parliament were held in Hyde Park, Trafalgar Squire, and other centres of the capital, while recruiting sergeants distributed pamphlets showing the pay, separation allowances and other advantages given to soldiers of the King. As a result of the Trafalgar Square meeting 200 recruits registered at the chief recruiting office nearby.

During the fortnight's campaign 1,500 meetings will be held, while troops will engage in street marching.

Belleville Business Man Dead.

BELLEVILLE, April 12. — S. R. Gorman, who had been conducting a boot and shoe business in this city for some time, died Saturday evening, aged 68 years. He was at one time a commercial traveler, and was a prominent member of St. Thomas' Anglican Church. A wife, two sons and one daughter survive.

Dead, Aged 107 Years.

UXBRIDGE, Ont., April 12.—Michael O'Neil, a native of Ireland, and a resident of Uxbridge for seventy years, died here yesterday at the unusual age of 107. He had been a wonderfully vigorous man, never sick, a simple liver, and retained his mental faculties to the last. He was honest and God-fearing, and raised a large family, many of whom he outlived. The citizens of the town celebrated his 106th birthday last June.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Perhaps the worst failing that the gossip has is a burning desire to see an idle rumor get busy.

No woman's vanity is dead until she refuses to wear a picture hat.

An ounce of luck is a wonderful help to any amount of pluck anyway.

When you have nothing else to do ask the handy man to do a bit of repair work, and spend the ensuing time waiting for him to do it.

Bill Sweeney did not last long after being released by the Cubs. He has been given the hook by the Boston Americans already.

CLASS OF FIFTY-EIGHT CONFIRMED BY BISHOP

Twenty-nine children and twenty-nine adults, making a class of fifty-eight candidates were canfirmed at All Saints' Church, Sunday evening, by Bishop Reeve of Toronto.

Despite the inclement weather, a very large congregation of members and friends was present to take part in the service.

Bishop Reeve's address while directed more particularly to the candidates, contained much wise counsel and advice, which if acted upon by his auditors would strengthen and help each one in his or her daily life.

"Christ is Risen," was sung by the choir as an offertory anthem.

WEDDING BELLS

SANDS—QUINN.

A wedding of local interest took place very quietly in St. Thomas on Wednesday, April 7, when Miss Ethel Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Quinn, East City, was united in marriage to Mr. Daniel Sands, of Strathroy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Elliott of the Baptist Church, St. Thomas. The happy young couple will visit in Peterborough before leaving for the west where they will in future reside.

KELBRICK—GOSLIN.

The wedding was solemnized this morning at six o'clock at the Church of the Sacred Heart of John Robert Kelbrick and Mary Goslin, both of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. V. McAuley. The attendants were Miss Anna Goslin and Mr. Leo Goslin. Mr. and Mrs. Kelbrick will reside in the city.

COONS—McILVENA.

This afternoon, in St. Andrews' manse, Rev. Jas. Rollins united in marriage Mr. Percy Coons and Annie McIlvena, both of Peterborough. There were no attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Coons will reside at Sudbury.

"HOW CISSY MADE GOOD" AT THE ROYAL

All those appearing in the comedy film "How Cissy Made Good," which is being shown at the Royal Theatre today and tomorrow, are stars who have been the principal figure in hundreds of other productions. The leading role is taken by Miss Cissy Fitzgerald and her supporters include the immortal John Bunny, the much admired Kate Price and Flora Finch as well as Earl Williams, Wallie Van and Maurice Costello. The latter it will be remembered played the part of the reporter in the film entitled "The Plot" which was shown at the Royal a few weeks ago. "How Cissy Made Good" is a Vitagraph production in three parts and is rated as one of the best presentations this season.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the celebrated blind pianist, Mr. Clarence Grogan, will entertain the audience with music. Mr. Grogan is a born musician and although deprived of his sight he is a musician of the highest order. He is ably assisted by Miss Clerise, harpist.

PERSONALS

Mr. E. R. Wood of Toronto, was in the city yesterday, visiting Mr. W. G. Morrow, Weller Street.

Mr. M. J. Maher left this afternoon for Hamilton to attend the sixth annual meeting of the Oak Hall stores.

Earl Barrie, Westcott St., has returned home having spent the Easter vacation in Toronto with his grandmother, Mrs. Faint, and aunt, Mrs. Stanford.

Hon. Senator Rufus Pope, formerly of the Alberta Legislature, but now of Cookshire, Que., was in the city over Sunday, the guest of Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P.

Mrs. W. J. Middleton, 247 Park Street, and daughter Viva, have returned from a two weeks' visit with friends at Warsaw and Stoney Lake.

The etchings of Miss Dorothy Stevens of Toronto, will be on exhibition in the studio, in the public library building, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Several paintings by Mrs. Beatrice Haggarty Robertson will also be shown. The exhibition is under the auspices of the Peterborough branch of the Women's Art Association. Mrs. Aylmer will be in charge of the tea table on Wednesday afternoon.

All who are interested in art are invited to view the pictures.

There will be no charge for admission.

THEATRICAL.

"September Morn" has come and gone, and nobody lushed. The musical comedy carrying the name of the picture which made such a hit that it is used to decorate watch fobs, played to two audiences at the Grand on Saturday. To get down to fact, it was a little above average.

The chorus was not strong, but the costumes were very pretty. The settings and novelties also took well. Dancing is ever popular, and Clarence Nordstrom and Miss Maude Potter gratified every wish along that line. The comedians, William Cameron and Frank Minor, both contributed humorous lines, but produced just a trifle too much. Less comedy when "Beautiful Dreams I'm Dreaming" was sung wauld have made the ing" was sung would have made the Kelso made a very favorable impression singing "Where Is the Pleasure in Wine and Song—If the Woman Is Not There." The other song bit was When a Little Boy Loves a Little Girl," by Miss Kathryn Bowen and Clarence Nordstorm.

The tableau of September Morn, with Miss Blanche Hall as the poseuse, was well staged.

LITTLE BIRDS

The same as other creatures of higher or lower degree. Another extraordinary feature is the presence of many families including little children within gun fire even in some of the shelled villages you see litttle children playing in the street, without any fear. The one danger in permitting the civilian population so near is the prevalence of spies (mostly Belgian) yesterday we caught one tapping a wire Needless to say his trial only lasted twenty minutes. We get out Sunday night for four days go back about three miles.

March 23.—We came out of the trenches on the evening of the 21st and don't think we are going in again here as there will likely be something further down the line. We move tomorrow I think about six miles south. Lately the weather has been fine and everything drying up and everytime the men get a chance they play football. Yesterday it was our turn at the divisional baths (an old distillery) and the men got clean underwear, hair cut, fresh coffee, etc. They appreciate this immensely and it does a lot of good after one sleeps in his clothes for a week. Yesterday the aeroplanes had lots of fun. They were over us nearly all day, dodging one another and also the shells that were fired at them. Lane and I were riding down the road when some shrapnel fell near us. The burst was perhaps four thousand feet in the air and this was going on for a couple of hours, yet no one was hit. And this is the way, everybody enjoys the experience until he has the misfortune to get a bullet himself.

HERMAN ROGERS.

OBITUARY

CHRISTOPHER SIGSWORTH.

Christopher Sigsworth who was well known to many of the older residents of Peterborough, passed away at Detroit, on Thursday, April 8. The remains have been brought to this city and the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. David Law, 240 Munro Ave., to Little Lake Cemetery. Service at the house at 2.30 o'clock. Deceased was born in the township of Kingston, Frontenac County, and he was 75 years old. He is survived by his widow, four daughters and four sons.

Comparative Food Values

1 pound of rib roast beef

1 pound of Grape-Nuts food

Comparative Cost per Pound

1 pound of rib roast beef

1 pound of Grape-Nuts food

It would be difficult to find a food that affords the same abundance of true nourishment, at so low a cost, as does the famous wheat and malted barley food—

Grape-Nuts

At less cost, a package of Grape-Nuts supplies nearly one-third more nourishment than a pound of rib roast beef. And besides, in buying a roast you pay for about 20% refuse, and there's a shrinkage in cooking.

Grape-Nuts food comes ready cooked and every particle in the FRESH-SEALED package is good to eat. Its rich nutriment includes the vital salts that are necessary for brain, bone and sturdy muscle. Grape-Nuts is delicious—easily digested—economical.

Thinking people everywhere are more and more adopting Grape-Nuts—

Our books have been audited regularly and have been found correct. Vouchers for all the payments have been kept in the voucher books and have been examined by the auditors.

We further report on the Brayley and Brownton Sunday school that we found great need for improved quarters, and after careful consideration of the board and provincial headquarters, we proceeded to erect buildings at each place. The Brayley Sunday school is in the following state: Land for this buildings has been leased to the Army for forty years. A collection has been made among the people of the district, and between four and five hundred dollars donated. The contract for this building is let, and it will probably be completed before June 1st.

Brownton stands as follows: Land valued at $400 has been bought and the balance left unpaid on this lot is $125, and taxes $3.35. We propose to build a Salvation Army temple on this land, and we have now in hand for the purpose—cash,$219.07, promises amounting to $205. Some have also promised work, and others have not specified their manner of helping. This last we believe will be worth about $150 to $200. We still need some kind friend to donate $500 to complete Brownton.

All of which is respecfully submitted.

To the Electors of the North Ward

I am a candidate for Alderman in the North Ward, caused by the resignation of ex-Alderman William J. Johnston. If elected, I will give my time and careful attention to the Ward and the city's business and interest. My platform is briefly as follows:

1. Day work in preference to contract work.
3. Municipal ownership of the street railway in conjunction with the Hydro Electric System.
4. Municipal ownership of the Otonabee Power Company.
5. An aggressive campaign for the getting of new industries.
6. An equal and equitable assessment in properties.

I have had considerable experience in business affairs, and will give my best efforts, if elected, to the city's business.

Yours truly,
W. T. HOLLOWAY.

I would insist on all corporation work to be done by local labor.

Electors No. 4 (North) Ward

Ladies and Gentlemen,—It having come to my notice that reports in circulation state that I have withdrawn from the field as aldermanic candidate in the North Ward, I wish to say that nothing is further from the truth and with the sanction of the ratepayers I hope to be elected as their representative.

Also, it has been stated that I, as an official of the C.P.R. would have my hands tied, and would not be able to serve in the best interest of the people. In answer to this let me say that, if elected, and the C.P.R. ask for any privileges, I pledge myself to remain strictly neutral.

Your humble servant believes he can be of use to the ratepayers if elected to the council board and for this reason only, asks your support and influence.

Yours respectfully,
W. S. DODD.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine for several months without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, years since your watch was cleaned or oiled. Though it cannot even squeak its protest, it is slowly but nevertheless surely, wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders, as well as add years to its usefulness. Bring it in.

MOVE UP TO FOE'S ENTANGLEMENTS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 13. — The official statement given out this afternoon says: "Between the sea and the Aisne there is nothing to report except a few artillery duels.

"To the east of Berry-au-Bac we gained possession of a German trench.

"In the Argonne there were mining operations and engagements of bomb and grenade throwing between our own and the enemy's trenches.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, our forces succeeded at several points in coming in contact with wire entanglements of the enemy's defence."

RECRUITS FOR REMOUNT DEPOT

Applications Can be Made at the Armouries Tonight

RIFLES RECEIVED

Seven recruits were received last night for the remount depot for service in England, which is being mobilized at Kingston from this section of the province. Applications can be made again tonight to Lt.-Col. Walker at the Armouries. In conversation with the Review today, Col. Walker stated that as seventy-three men were being raised from this section, Peterborough's quota would consist of some twelve or thirteen men. They will be sent to Kingston toward the latter part of the week.

A number of rifles have been received by the 57th Regiment from Kingston, and they will be used for drill purposes. The regular parade will be held tonight, and in the recreation room Major Hounsell will give a lecture on musketry.

Mrs. Gilbert Denike, Belleville, has received the following letter from the officer commanding No. 1 Company, 2nd Batt., to which company her son belonged:

March 22, 1915.

My Dear Mrs. Denike,—It is my sad duty to inform you of the death of Pte. A. C. Denike, who was killed in the trenches on the morning of the 18th instant. Pte. Denike was a member of No. 1 Co., 2nd Batt., Canadians, and since my association with him as company commander I had learned to look upon him as one of my most trusted soldiers — he was courageous and enthusiastic in his loyalty to an exceptional degree, and his many comrades will miss him very much.

He is buried along with several other Canadians in a retired spot, and his grave is marked with a cross in the military manner. The grave is recorded, and can be located, if necessary, at any future time.

I am sending to your address the small things of interest which were on his person, and have reported his pay balance to the paymaster, who will deal with the matter.

I am yours very sincerely,
G. W. Bennett, Major.
O. C. No. 1 Company, 2nd Battalion.

DEVASTATION IN LILLE AFTER BIG BATTLE

Since October 8, when the Germans entered Lille for the first time and a desperate battle ensued in the streets of the city, the place has come under repeated bombardment of a most disastrous character. The city has suffered very severely from the allies' shells since the German occupation. The picture shows horses in the street killed by shells.

PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

City Engineering Department Back to Full Strength

The city engineering department is back to its original strength again. Both T. A. S. Hay and T. Q. Quartermaine are well enough to resume duties. City Engineer Parsons is just completing his plans and drawings for the outfall sewer and sewage disposal plant. In all probability these plans will come before a future Board of Works meeting and it will be decided whether the huge work will be done by day labor or let by contract. In the event of it being done by contract the city engineer will supervise all the work.

MRS. PARKER THE NEW PRESIDENT

Mission Circle of Charlotte Street Church Had Good Meeting

DONATIONS MADE

Election of officers took place last night at the annual meeting of the Mission Circle of Charlotte Street Methodist Church. Mrs. F. C. Neal who has been a faithful and energetic president for the past three years steps out of that office this year to be followed by Mrs. Parker. Mrs. Neal was unanimously elected to the position of honorary president.

The meeting was a good one and was fairly well attended. The officers elected were:

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. F. C. Neal.
President—Mrs. Parker.
Vice-Pres.—Miss Janet Wilson.
Recording Secretary—Miss Edith Avery.
Corresponding Sec. — Miss Ruby Clegg.
Treasurer—Miss Ethel Rehill.

Mrs. James Kendry gave a talk on the Girls of Japan telling of the missionary efforts that were being carried on and the wonderful success with which the workers were meeting.

The very handsome sum of $152 was reported on hand clear of all expenses, being the profits of the organization for the year. It was decided to donate $50 to the Chentu hospital and $5 to the Rest Fund, while the balance will be turned over to the general fund of the Women's Missionary Society of which the Mission Circle is a subsidiary organization.

LIVES OF CONVALESCENT PATIENTS ENDANGERED

Frame Annex of Hospital for Insane Was Destroyed by Fire

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

CHICAGO, April 13. — The lives of two hundred convalescent patients at Chicago State Hospital for the Insane at Dunning were endangered today when fire destroyed the frame annex in which they were lodged.

Fire drill, however, worked without a hitch and no panic prevailed in the building or among twenty-eight hundred patients in the main building nearby.

SHUNTING ENGINE KILLS ENGINEER

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

STRATFORD, April 13. — While climbing into the cab of his engine at the Grand Trunk roundhouse this morning Engineer Edward Ronan was instantly killed by a shunting engine, which side-swiped the cab, crushing his skull.

FOR THIS EVENING

Address at St. Andrews by Rev. Dr. McMillan

Rev. Dr. McMillan of Toronto, will deliver an address this evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on the subject of "Praise Song." The members of the various Presbyterian choirs of the city are asked to meet in the lecture hall of St. Andrew's Church at five minutes to eight and lead in the praise numbers for the lecture.

HANGED

John Ziolko Pays Penalty for Murder

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Toronto, April 13.—John Ziolko, a Russian Pole, was hanged at eight o'clock this morning for the murder last October of a countryman named Bogiro Thendo. Thomas Cekoski, a third compatriot is under sentence of twenty years for complicity in the same crime.

Ziolko murdered his fellow-countryman, Bogiro Trendo, in Moore Park, last October. Thomas Cekoski, who was also convicted of the murder and sentenced to hang along with Ziolko, was granted a reprieve and his sentence commuted to 20 years' imprisonment. Although a strenuous effort was made to have Ziolko's sentence commuted, the Department of Justice at Ottawa refused to interfere with the sentence.

SUDDEN DEATH AT BROCKVILLE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Brockville, April 13.—John Culbert, former town councillor, mayor and member of parliament and for many years established as a merchant in this town, died suddenly this morning.

Death is Announced of Maj. Gen. Marsh

Was Nephew of Mrs. G. A. Smith, Water Street

Mrs. G. A. Smith, 734 Water St., received news today of the death of her nephew, Maj.-Gen. Henry Herbert Stanley Marsh, of the London Engineers, in Bethune Hospital, France. Major Marsh married a niece of the eminent surgeon, Sir Frederick Treves, who is now giving valuable aid at the front.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION.

Lieut.-Col. Fee has obtained the necessary authority from the Militia Department for the establishment in Lindsay of a Military School of Instruction. It will be opened on April 19th.

NO CHANGE ALONG BRITISH LINES

Foe Has no Success in Exploding Mines

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 13. — The situation on the British lines in France remained unchanged throughout the past week, says the semi-weekly report received from British army headquarters and given out today by the official press bureau.

The report continues: "On the morning of the ninth we successfully exploded a mine in the neighborhood of Armentières. As a result, loop-holed walls of a house held by the enemy were destroyed. Twenty-nine dead Germans were counted.

"The enemy replied by bombarding our positions, but without inflicting damage.

"Early on the morning of April 7 the Germans exploded two mines on our right, but failed to damage our trenches. A similarly harmless explosion took place opposite our left."

PETERBOROUGH REVIEW TOURS TO PANAMA EXPOSITION APPEAL WIDELY

Get in Touch With the Contest Manager Today, 'Phoning 189 and Learn All the Details—Scenic Beauties of "Golden West" Make Tour Delightful

An invitation to a single evening's amusement is appreciated by every woman. A day or two in the country as an invited guest is something of an event for those who are compelled to stay in town the year 'round, and those who live in the country naturally relish the idea of spending a short time in the city with friends.

Now, should an acquaintance of yours make a tour of America and Canada and visit the World's Fair at San Francisco which would last 21 days out of the heated spell of the summer, take a trip over the wonderful scenic regions of the continent, stop off at the splendid cities of which you have heard so much in the United States, the Royal gorge, and Canada, the big trees, some of which are more than a thousand years old and over a hundred feet tall—if you were to wish this friend "bon voyage" on the journey, you would naturally turn away with a sigh of regret at being compelled to stay at home.

Just Supposing.

Supposing, however, that friend were to ask you to be her guest on the trip and guarantee to provide every accommodation, relieve you of scampering around trying to find your baggage, look out for all your travelling expenses, be well enough acquainted with every point to explain it thoroughly—in short, if that friend were to say, "Come with me and leave your purse at home," that would be an offer for which you never would be able to show your appreciation.

But still you would be under a certain obligation to that friend, unless she presented the opportunity to you of earning the trip by a little effort, of taking it independently, without obligation to anyone, and at the same time have all your wants cared for. That would be almost too good to be true.

While you are supposing, just suppose that you were given that opportunity of going, a merry party of women, without a care, and a tour conductor, who knows every step of the way of the whole itinerary. You would say that it was the greatest thing imaginable.

Well, that is just what the Peterborough Review intends to do; and more, it will provide this 21 days' tour of the continent for four women who will be on a special train, hire automobiles for sight-seeing, secure accommodations at some of the famous hotels, and it pays every item of expense.

The Review will do all these things in return for some little dignified effort that will make your friends proud of you. Of course, you're interested. What woman would not be? Your good judgment tells you that this is the opportunity of a lifetime.

Will you take advantage of it?

If you want this trip absolutely free, write to, call on, or call up the Contest Manager, and you will receive full information, a prospectus explaining the plan, rules, itinerary of the trip, etc. Phone 189.

Decide to do it Right Now.

An Exceptional Offer.

The management of the Review has made this the most attractive offer. Every candidate will be rewarded according to merit.

Cut out the application on the full page advertisement and send it today to the Contest Manager.

The telephones at the Review have been ringing merrily, and a storm of questions have rained in upon the Trans-Continental and Panama-Pacific International Exposition Tour Department from brothers, husbands, fathers and others of the male sex; some of the later, well—just interested in seeing someone win.

ENCAMPMENT OF TURKS IS BOMBARDED

Battleship and French Seaplanes Join in Attack Near Gaza

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 13. — The marine ministry issued the following statement today: "Yesterday a battleship in conjunction with French seaplanes bombarded an important Turkish encampment in the neighborhood of Gaza.

Gaza is in Southern Palestine, near the Egyptian frontier. A Turkish encampment near the city may have been established in connection with the advance of Turkish troops across Sinai peninsula to the Suez canal.

More Supplies for Cliveden Hospital

On Monday, April 12th, the Peterborough Progressive Club sent to the Duchess of Connaught Hospital at Cliveden, a bale containing the following: 24 night shirts, 22 operating-room towels, 415 bandage rolls, 12 nightingales, 5 day shirts, 4 neck scarfs, 2 face cloths, 6 pairs of socks, 2 bundles of old linen, 2 scrap books. On the same date they sent to Capt. Garnet Greer, M. O., 2nd Batt., for his men, 37 pairs of socks and 2 pairs of knee caps.

The T. S. S. Club hemmed towels and donated 2 face cloths and 2 neck scarfs.

PROVISION IS MADE FOR LODGING GENERAL STAFF

Italian Newspaper Makes Statement That There is no Alternative to War

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 13.—The Daily Mail correspondent at Milan telegraphs that former Premier Giolitti, who has been against war, told some friends at Turin that "war is inevitable." The newspaper Corriere Della Sera says there is no alternative to war. Provision already has been made for lodging the general staff in a certain town at the commencement of the war.

LONDON, April 13. — A despatch from Rome says that a long audience between King Victor Emmanuel and his foreign minister yesterday, followed by a session of council ministers, gave rise to two sets of wild rumors, one that Italy had decided to invade Austria, and the other that Austria had been induced to cede territory to Italy.

An order has been printed in a military journal at Rome directing all army officers to use dull metal on uniforms and scabbards, a measure usually adopted on the eve of war, and notice has been given municipalities that in case of mobilization, school houses will be taken for the accommodation of troops.

TORPEDOES AS FLOATING MINES

Another Case Where Germans Violate Hague Convention

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 13. — The French ministry of marine declares that the Germans have again violated The Hague convention in their sea warfare. Article 1 of the eighth Hague convention provides that torpedoes must carry an automatic attachment which will cause them to sink if they do not explode, and thus cease to be a menace to navigation.

German torpedoes recently discovered in the English channel, the announcement declares, were still floating, and an examination of them showed that the appliance had been tightly caulked to enable them to float. This made them into floating mines.

Social Problems.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, Editor of "Farm and Dairy," will deliver an address to the C.L.A. Society of Charlotte St. Methodist Church this evening. The subject will be "Social Problems in Canada." Everybody is welcome.

WIFE WISHES TO LOCATE HUSBAND

In Letter to Police She Says He Left Her

A particularly sad letter has been received by Chief of Police Thompson from a woman who asks him to locate her husband if at all possible. The letter comes from Mrs. S. Whittle, who lives now in London, England, but who was married in Canada near Simcoe. Shortly after they were married he left her and her little child, and she has not heard from him since. She says she is almost distracted. She heard that he was living with another woman who was aware that he already had a wife and child.

She writes that she and her husband were married at Simcoe but after he left her she went back to England. The only address she was able to obtain was that of Peterborough. She wrote to the Chief of Police at Toronto who said it was out of his jurisdiction, and who referred her to Chief Thompson here.

Crop reports from Western Canada are favorable.

AUSTRIAN HELD BY THE POLICE

Failed to Give Satisfactory Account of Himself

PEDDLER IS FINED

Said He Did not Have Money to Take Out License

An Austrian vagrant who drifted here from Toronto was remanded this morning when brought before the magistrate. He was unable to give a satisfactory account of himself when questioned. He claimed to have been working on a farm near Saskatoon before coming east and was now en route to Ottawa. He stated that he had not reported to the registrar in Toronto when there, because no one had told him to. He gave his name as G. Mahlvaick.

Peddled Without a License.

After a remand David Henry came up this morning charged with hawking and peddling fifteen cent spectacles without a license. He put up a hard luck story to the effect that he had a wife and family in Belleville to whom all his money had been sent, and he therefore had not the wherewithal to take out a fifty dollar license. He was therefore fined $10 to be paid in ten days on his promise to cease peddling.

HAS ENLISTED.

George Carter, another employe of the Peterborough mail carrier staff, has enlisted for active service. He makes the fifth employe of the post office to take up arms.

STRIKE SETTLED.

Auburn, N.Y., April 13. — The strike of Street Car Employees in Auburn and on inter-urban lines radiating from this city was called off yesterday morning.

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 1915

GOOD CAUSE FOR AN ELECTION.

THE TORONTO STAR starts off a tirade against the Conservatives in the following manner:

> "Apart from partizan considerations, there is absolutely no excuse for the holding of a general election in Canada this year. The Government has a working majority, and it can obtain all the money and all the power it needs for taking its part in the war and carrying on the business of the country."

This is a marvellous beginning—remarkable, very remarkable, as Sherlock Holmes might say. It has, apparently, never occurred to the Toronto Star to administer a reproof to those Liberal members of the House of Commons who have been persistently egging-on the Government and calling for an election. Now, when an election is imminent, the Star and others of its ilk forget all about the challenges of Liberals to bring on an election, and attack the Conservatives for doing so.

There is scarcely a word of truth in the state of affairs pictured so rosily in the Toronto journal's article. While the Borden Government has a working majority, it is hampered at every turn by the Opposition and its powerful ally, the Senate. Bill after bill has received the time and attention of the Commons, only to be thrown out by the Senate, and thereby the will of the majority of the people as expressed in their Parliament has been rendered abortive. The tactics of the Liberals, together with the connivance of the Senate, has rendered the present state of political affairs intolerable.

Moreover, it will be four years next September since the last general election, so that an appeal would have to be made to the people shortly after that or after another sitting, at the longest. It means an election this year, if the usual precedent is followed, not as our Toronto contemporary says, a year and a half yet to run. This being so, it does not matter whether the election is in June or next autumn. The question is: Is the will of the people in Parliament assembled to be thwarted by a minority controlling the Upper Chamber? But for this unwarranted manipulation of the Senate, Canada would now have three Canadian super-dreadnoughts battling down her enemies and those of the Empire in this great war. With over a hundred thousand men enlisted for overseas service that must be equipped and paid, together with a fourth and fifth contingent in prospect, the war credit already voted will soon be exhausted, and another credit will then have to be considered. The people on this, also, should be consulted, while Sir Wilfrid seems determined to launch a Canadian navy during the war. Reviewing all the big questions that have taken shape in Dominion politics, the most important of which is probably the one concerning the Senate, there is every proper reason for a general election. The questions are important in the highest degree, an election at an early date cannot be avoided if the usual precedent is adhered to, and so it is only right that a public mandate should be sought.

TROUBLE IN THE UPPER HOUSE.

SPEAKER LANDRY of the Senate has his dander up. The bone of contention is the infernal economy committee. For two years there has been a fight over this committee. It involves the question of appointments to the Senate staff. The Speaker claims that he has absolute power to appoint, not only new members to the staff, but also has the right to promote or change the existing members when necessary. The Senate concedes the right to apoint new members, but declines to agree with him as to promotion and change.

The whole matter came to a head when the Speaker ruled out of order a report of the infernal or internal economy committee recommending a number of changes. On appeal from this ruling to a vote, the Senate turned down poor old Senator Landry's ultimatum, and the Speaker went up in the air. He was doubly incensed because two of his old stand-bys, Senators Lougheed and Bostock, went against him, and he became so hot that the safety valve didn't work properly and he was in danger of being inwardly consumed. He didn't show up at the next meeting, having sent in a despatch that he was indisposed (we presume, to come in). At another meeting of the patriarchs he was still indisposed (to come back), but was able to carry on secret negotiations over the matter. A hot debate behind closed doors followed. The reason reporters were excluded seems to be that the Senators think it doesn't look dignified to see in print the honest truth of what some of them think of their colleagues. At any rate, the air was so blue and shot up that the smoke had not cleared away at adjournment, and fiery words were exchanged in the corridors between several octogenarians who almost came to blows.

It may be the flush of Spring has got into the Senate chamber and rejuvenated several of the old warriors of former days. At any rate, if the Senate is able to stage a piece so vigorously as this one was, there is still some fight left in the old body. There is no telling when it will flare up into a very cantankerous and inconvenient body, and Hon. Robert Rogers is right in championing the rights of the people against the dictation of the Patrician Fathers. As long as it slumbered along it was not bothered, but the Senate has, during the last two or three years, been riding such a high horse that a jolt and fall are due.

JITNEY.

THE JITNEY is the name of the street car's new competitor, the five-cent auto 'bus. It has come into great vogue in many Canadian and American cities, and with it has come a verbal war as to the origin of the word. Each section of the country which has been invaded by the jitneys, says an exchange, has laid claim to the origin of the word. In California the college professors have indulged in many verbal battles, and the word has received as many origins as there are combatants. To California was awarded the verdict on the claim that jitney is Mexican for a five-cent piece. In Kansas, the home of the circus, the claim is made that P. T. Barnum's saying, "One born every minute," was used in reference to separating the public from its small change, or jitneys. When the fad reached Louisville, however, the Kentucky Colonels embalmed both the California and Kansas claim and said the word belonged in the "nigger" language, being used by the darkies in their game of craps, the phrase being "shoot a jit," meaning five cents.

Public utility companies are not so much interested in the origin of the word as they are in exterminating the fad. As one official tersely put it, to him jitney meant "hell."

GROSS MISCALCULATION.

A MONTREAL newspaper says that the latest estimate is that the National Transcontinental Railway, when it is completed, without taking account of certain interest items, will have cost $179,586,000, and that the Quebec bridge, which is to connect the two sections, will cost $27,000,000 more. The whole will be quite $206,000,000, and when the lawsuits are settled may be $210,000,000. Laurier ministers predicted that $30,000,000 and $1,000,000 as subsidy for the bridge would be all the outlay the scheme would involve. Amateurs directing a big business enterprise have rarely made such gross miscalculation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

ANOTHER large volume of documents relative to the war has been received from the Secretary of State of Canada. We have added this to our permanent library. Incidentally we have an idea of what a painful time the future student of history will have when turned loose on "Documents relating to the European War."

MANY PEOPLE say advertising pays, but in any event it sometimes travels far. We read yesterday of an American restaurant-keeper who advertised millenium pies thiswise: Eat one of our pies and you'll eat no other.

THE FACT that the majority of people receive small salaries may account for the number of pessimists, but the wonder is that there are not more.

O NAMELESS DEAD!

(Westminster Gazette.)

The Polish plains are white with snow,
But redder yet with blood below;
Upon the far Carpathian hills
Death watches, while his garner fills;

Half-buried 'neath her blackened stones,
The land that once was Belgium groans;
From Belfort to the Channel waves
The earth is filled with nameless graves.

O gallant hearts untimely dead,
What word shall o'er your graves be said?
What fair memorial lines shall keep
Your memory living while you sleep?

Not less your due than theirs who won
At Salamis and Marathon,
Ah, would some hand might strike for these
The lyre of old Simonides,

And tell to peoples yet unborn
The terrors of that crimson morn
When the wild war-lord flung his brands
Across the peaceful, smiling lands,

And keep for you the loftiest strain,
Who paid the price and bore the pain,
Whose blood was freely, nobly shed,
O nameless, unforgotten dead!

Lieut.-Col. Lacey R. Johnson

IN view of the benefits derived from certain voluntary agencies, such as the St. John Ambulance Association, the Safety First movement, the Railroad Y. M. C. A. and Athletic Associations, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has decided to appoint an officer to co-operate in the development of such organizations amongst the employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway with the title of General Welfare Agent. Lieut.-Colonel Lacey R. Johnson, heretofore General Superintendent of Angus Shops District, who since he joined the service in 1882 has been actively identified with the general uplift of ideals and service among the railroad employees, has been appointed to that office.

Lieutenant-Colonel Lacey R. Johnson was born on June 22nd, 1855, at Abingdon, Berkshire, England. He entered the railway service in 1870 and served his time as a premium apprentice to the Great Western Railway of England at Swindon Works for five years. Later on he went to India and for three years was draftsman and foreman of the machine and erecting shops of the Scinde Punjaub & Delhi Railway. In the year 1882 Lieut.-Colonel Lacey Johnson came to Canada and very soon he became General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway shops at Carleton Junction, Ont., which position he occupied for three years. He was then appointed Assistant Master Mechanic of the Eastern Division and in May, 1886, to Sept., 1901, he was Master Mechanic of the Pacific Division and Supervising Engineer of the Pacific fleet steamships. He was then appointed Assistant Superintendent of Motive Power at Montreal, a position he occupied for 11 years, and on July 1, 1912, he became General Superintendent of the Angus Shops at Montreal.

THE RESULT OF DESIRE TO "GET THINGS."

Editor, Review:

Sir,—The boots inquiry at Ottawa shows how bad it is to have members who are only trying to "get things" for people, instead of doing business in the way they were elected, namely, for the public benefit only.

Some people want a member who will be their member and not the people's member. Canada is getting to be pretty rotten and many people babies or worse.

Yours,

PEACE TALK GERMAN.

Agitation For End of War Is Purely a Teutonic Product.

LONDON, April 13.—At the Foreign Office and elsewhere it is stated that nothing is known concerning the reports of peace. It is stated definitely that nothing has occurred which indicates that anyone is making genuine for peace. Germany is held responsible for the "peace talk." It is deduced from this that Germany is beginning to realize what the inevitable end will be, and that she is endeavoring to place upon the allies the responsibility for the continuation of the war. The Tribune made an effort yesterday to obtain some definite official statement from the Government, but the reply was given that it was not considered wise to engage in arguments concerning peace.

It was stated on good authority, however, that what Premier Asquith said in Parliament concerning peace still holds good. Mr. Asquith said in his speech of March 1 that the time to talk peace was when the great tasks which Britain and her allies have undertaken are accomplished.

Several mild cases of smallpox are reported in Elgin county, in St. Thomas, Aylmer and vicinity, and in Dorchester township.

Romance Versus Matter of Fact

By OSCAR COX.

There is a little Indian girl up on Hudson bay who has never been out of her native woods. She speaks poetically, as all aborigines do. Her vocabulary is small, but she makes up for the deficiency of words in imagery. One summer Miss Susan Jones, a matter-of fact young woman as ever trod the soil, took it into her head to spend her vacation in upper Canada. These two met in the Indian girl's home on the banks of the Little Whale river. Miss Jones said she had heard much of Indian legends and asked—I didn't get the girl's name; Miss Jones said it was Minne-Something-or-Other—to tell her one. Thereupon the Indian told the following story:

"Abasca was the daughter of a great chief, who lived long, long ago when the first white man came to this country. She had never seen any man except a"—

"Indian," suggested Miss Jones.

"She had only seen the dusky men of the forest like herself. The first man to come was tall as the young pine, straight as the arrow and his eye was that of the eagle. Abasca saw him, and her heart flew to him like the bird."

"A case of love at first sight, you mean?"

"Abasca was loved by Stormwind, the son of a chief. Stormwind was brave as the water that leaps from the rock, and his arrow could pierce the leaf that trembles at the top of the tree"—

"A regular William Tell," Miss Jones interrupted.

"He had not the heart to give way to another. He was not born to know that to love Abasca truly he should give her to the man she loved. The white man might do that, not the Indian. Stormwind learned that she had given her heart to the white man, and he resolved that the white man should die.

"Stormwind made this vow at the season when in this country the lamp never goes out at night."

"Did they use kerosene or oil?"

"For the winter had passed when the sun at midday is small and cold in the south. The white man was in the wood where he hunted the fox and the mink and the otter. Stormwind followed the trail and came to his enemy when the sun stood high above their heads.

"'Trapper,' said Stormwind."

"What a funny name! I like Stormwind much better."

"'The white man may come; the white man may hunt the fox and the mink and the otter; he may ride in his boat over the waves of the great bay, but he shall not take the maiden from the Indian.'

"When he said this Stormwind fitted an arrow to his bow. It may be he had never seen the white man's rifle; it may be he had never seen the white man raise the rifle quickly to his shoulder and the deer far away drop dead. Before he had fitted his arrow to his bow and pointed it at his enemy the white man's eye ran along the barrel of his weapon."

"Trapper had the drop on him, hadn't he? How thrilling! Go on!"

"'Stormwind,' he said, 'put back your arrow into your quiver before I send the lead into your heart. Abasca is yours. I do not wed here in the forest. The white man loves the white woman, not the Indian squaw.'

"From the woods came a piercing shriek. The white man lowered his rifle and the red man his bow. It was a woman's voice they heard. From a cliff near by it came again, fainter, but more despairing than before. It was the echo."

"For heaven's sake, what was it? A spook?"

"It was the wail of Abasca. She had seen Stormwind go away with the look of an angry Manitou on his brow, and she knew that he was going to fight the man she loved. Seizing a rifle from the tepee, she followed her dusky lover and saw him when he spoke to"—

"Trapper."

"She held her rifle to her shoulder ready when Stormwind was about to send his arrow to his rival's heart or when the white man raised his rifle to kill the man she did not love."

"She must have been awfully rattled."

"When she heard the white man say he did not love her she dropped her rifle, giving a cry that caused the white cloud sailing in the heavens above to tremble."

"I wonder she hadn't shot the brute."

"Then the white man and the Indian went in the direction from whence the sound came and saw on a high rock the form of Abasca. She was on the edge of a deep gulf beneath her, swaying here and there as the branch is moved by the wind. Then slowly her head bowed over the chasm, and as the bird folds its wings and drops her beautiful form descended to death."

"You wouldn't catch me doing that for the handsomest man that ever lived. What did the men do then?"

"The white man went back to the white man's country; the Indian went out on the bay, and the storm wind, for which he was named, arose and claimed him."

"I'll bet that man Trapper was paying alimony to some woman in the states. He was just mean enough to fool that poor Indian girl."

"MUTT AND JEFF IN MEXICO"

Our old friends "Mutt and Jeff" have a brand new vehicle for their peculiar brand of antics, the current season called "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico." It may well be termed a conglomeration of effervescent humor. It certainly was never designed for educational or serious purposes, but it surely has proven for the last four years to be the champion laugh promoter of the theatrical world. It's sure fire and no mistake. In order that Bud Fisher's clever character creations may remain ever new, Gus Hill has decided that he will offer a new book each successive season, which includes, of course, new scenery, costumes, music, etc. The Mexican situation, which so much resembles a farce of the ancient "Comic Opera" days, has been selected as the subject of "Our Hero's" next adventure, "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico." Unlimited scope is offered for hilariously funny situations which, you may depend upon it, have been taken advantage of to their fullest extent, to say nothing of the wonderful opportunities for scenic grandeur, offered in that beautiful tropical climate. The most successful season of its long career is predicted for Gus Hill's big musical offering of Bud Fisher's eccentric character creation. The New York American's daily cartoon series of "Mutt & Jeff" is now both nationally and internationally famous. It will live as long as Bud Fisher can "dip up new dope" and Gus Hill can furnish an acceptable play every year.

The offering consists of a sixty foot baggage car load of new and magnificent scenic and electrical effects, costumes, etc., also a Pullman car load of "other scenery," in the parlance of our heroes. "Some Chickens," is also a very important feature of this organization. A company of fifty clever performers, singers and dancers, help "Mutt & Jeff" make a noise like "Mexico." It will come to the Grand next Saturday, April 17. Don't lost sight of the fact you're paying increased prices for everything you buy except amusement. Gus Hill's attractions are always shown at the same popular prices. Seats secured in advance save disappointment.

Kingston Standard: — Twenty-three members of D Company from Queens' College left on the 1 o'clock train on Saturday for Montreal, where they will join the McGill boys who will make up the Universities Company of the 38th Battalion, 3rd Contingent, C. E. F. Mayor Sutherland spoke to the boys at the station and his words were well received by the student soldiers. Principal Gordon and most of the members of the staff of the university were at the station, together with a crowd of students who made the vicinity of the station ring with their college yell and cheers. Among the twenty-three volunteers was Harold F. Hill, of Peterborough.

A number of the Peterborough boys with the 8th C. M. R. at Ottawa are home on a week's furlough. The report is "Everything lovely" at the Capital. Twelve men will be home every week from now till the unit is moved.

THE ONLY CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

Is "Fruit-a-tives"—That Wonderful Remedy Made From Fruit Juices.

AVON, ONT., MAY 14th. 1913.

"I have used "Fruit-a-tives" for Indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. When I first started about six years ago to use them, I took four at a dose but gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night. Before taking "Fruit-a-tives", I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the illness as from these treatments. Finally, I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised with a letter in which some one recommended them very highly, so I tried them, and I have no hesitation in recommending them." ANNIE E. CORBETT.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Bulls had the advantage today in wheat. Exporters were buying new crop futures, and it was apparent that cargoes of the old crop would soon be moving freely over the Great Lakes. The market closed unsettled, but ⅞c to 2¼c above Saturday night's level. Corn finished ⅛c off to ¼c up, oats down ¼c to ⅝c, and provisions varying from 10c decline to a shade advance.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 12—Firmer Liverpool cables caused a higher opening on the local wheat market and a further advance occurred later. Trading was quiet, only a slight volume of business being worked, but sentiment was bullish and congestion in May on all markets assisted the strength. Nearing the close there was a slight reaction from high points. The cash demand for both wheat and oats was quiet and offerings were fair; very little business, however, was forthcoming.

Cash wheat closed 1⅛c higher on contract grades; oats, ¼c to ⅝c up, and flax 1⅜c higher.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 12.—Close: Wheat—No. 1 wheat, $1.54⅛; No. 1 northern, $1.50⅝ to $1.54⅛; No. 2 do., $1.48⅝ to $1.51⅛; May, $1.49⅛.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 12.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 2160 cattle, 1652 hogs, 173 sheep and lambs and 236 calves.

Butchers' Cattle.

Good to choice butchers' steers and heifers sold at $7.30 to $7.60; good steers and heifers, $7 to $7.25; medium steers and heifers, $6.60 to $6.90; common at $6.25 to $6.50; choice cows, $6.25 to $6.50; good cows at $6 to $6.25; medium cows at $5.50 to $5.75; common cows at $5 to $5.50; canners and cutters at $3.75 to $4.75; bulls at $5.50 to $6.75.

Stockers and Feeders.

Feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., sold at $6.25 to $6.60; feeders, 600 to 800 lbs., sold at $6 to $6.25; stockers, 500 to 600 lbs., at $5.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Choice fresh milkers and forward springers sold at $70 to $85 each, and medium to good at $50 to $65; common at $40 to $50.

Veal Calves.

The market for veal calves was still weak. Choice calves, $8.50 to $9.50; good calves, $7 to $8; medium calves, $5 to $6; common calves, $4 to $5.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, light ewes, $7.50 to $8.50; heavy sheep ewes, $[illegible] to $6.50; rams, $6 to $7; spring lambs, $5 to $9; yearling lambs, 90 lbs., at $12; heavyweight yearlings, $9 to $11.

Hogs.

Receipts of hogs were light and prices reported lower. Hogs weighed off cars were reported at $9.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, April 12.—At the Montreal stock yards, west end market, the supply of cattle was not large, but it was ample to fill all requirements, as the demand from both butchers and packers is still somewhat limited owing to the falling off in the consumption and the much warmer weather prevailing for the season, consequently trade on the whole was rather slow with sales of full loads of choice steers at $7.75; good at $7.25, while small lots of picked stock sold 25c per cwt. higher.

A feature of the small meat trade was the weaker feeling in the market for yearling lambs and prices declined 25c per cwt., notwithstanding the continued limited supplies coming forward and sales of small lots of Ontario stock were made at $9 to $9.25, and Quebec lambs at $8.25 to $8.50 per cwt. There was no change in sheep, for which the demand was quiet, with sales of small lots of choice ewes at $6. A few spring lambs were sold at prices ranging from $2.50 to $6 each as to quality. Demand for calves was good, and some extra choice ones sold as high as $12 each.

Hogs strong under a good demand and small offerings and sales of selected lots were made at $9.50 to $9.60; sows at $7.50 to $7.60, and stags at $4.70 to $4.80, weighed off cars.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Cattle—Receipts 19,000. Market weak. Beeves, $6 to $8.70; cows and heifers, $2.80 to $8; calves, $6 to $8.50.

Hogs—Receipts 26,000. Market weak. Light, $7.05 to $7.40; mixed, $7.05 to $7.40; heavy, $6.80 to $7.37½; rough, $6.80 to $6.95; pigs, $5.90 to $6.90; bulk of sales, $7.25 to $7.35.

Sheep—Receipts 12,000. Market firm. Native, $7.50 to $8.50; lambs, native, $8 to $10.60.

TWO WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.—"I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor claimed I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it and feel fine. A lady said one day, 'Oh, I feel so tired all the time and have headache.' I said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' and she did and feels fine now."—Mrs. M. R. KARSCHNICK, 1438 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case.

Dayton, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my side that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. It has certainly saved me from an operation. I will be glad to assist you by a personal letter to any woman in the same condition."—Mrs. J. W. SHERER, 126 Cass St., Dayton, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medidine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

SIMPLE DESIGN FOR A SMALL GARDEN

GUIDE FOR THE BEGINNER

The accompanying plan for a small garden is intended as a guide to those desiring to make a beginning but who do not know quite how to go about it. It is not expected that the plan will be followed absolutely, as some may not wish to grow everything mentioned here, while others may desire to add some vegetables which are not included in this plan. The endeavor has been to make the design simple and with few paths. This plan is made for a lot 33 feet wide and of sufficient depth back of the house to allow about 40 feet of land for garden purposes. Larger lots can be arranged according to the space available and size of garden required.

The crops should be arranged to have the slope, as pertains to height of crop, towards the south. That is, the tall vegetables, as corn, should be at the north, while the low-growing plants should be at the south, to allow as much sunlight as possible to enter.

Seeds—It always pays to get the best seed. Buy from a reliable firm.

Soil Preparation—Put the soil into the best physical condition possible, that is, have it finely pulverized before planting the seeds. Free the soil from rocks, sticks, large clods, strawy matter, etc. If the soil is heavy clay it will be improved by adding a little sand and some well rotted manure. It is better that the soil be ploughed or spaded in the fall. If, however, it has not been previously worked up, apply rotten manure if available and turn the soil well over in the spring, and, if in sod, turn the sod well under and pack down. Then prepare a fine seed bed on the surface.

Sowing—The hardier seeds such as peas, spinach, radishes, lettuce, carrots and onions may be sown as early as the ground is ready. The tender seeds such as corn, cucumbers and beans should not be planted until the ground is warm and the danger from frost is past. When planting, cover seeds uniformly and then firm the soil over them. This hastens germination. Lettuce, spinach, radishes, carrots and onions may be covered one-half inch in depth, beets one inch, while corn, beans, peas and cucumbers may be sown from one and one-half to two inches deep. Sow plenty of seed and thin out after the plants are up.

Thinning—Spinach need not be thinned. Beets may be thinned to about three inches apart, and those thinned out used as greens. Carrots may be thinned to two or three inches apart, beans to four inches and peas to one inch apart.

Corn may be planted in hills about three feet apart and thinned to three or four good plants to a hill. Cucumbers may be planted in the south row of corn between the hills and thinned to two or three plants in each space.

The crops here mentioned are likely to be successful with the amateur gardener, and as he gains experience he will be able to plan and manage a garden which will more fully suit his location and the requirements of his table.

A border of flowers will add much to the attractiveness of the backyard and may be arranged according to individual taste. A garden the size of the one here shown, if on good soil and properly cared for, will yield an abundant supply of fresh vegetables for the table of an average family during the entire growing season.

Responsibility

The most important point in selecting an automobile is to know the reputation of the Company—"Who is Behind It?"

New makes of automobiles come and go year after year.

Do not buy an "orphan" car, for which you may have difficulty in securing repair parts and service, after purchasing.

The question of service should be considered carefully.

Buy from a well-established company.

The McLaughlin Carriage Co., Limited, of Oshawa, is one of the oldest vehicle industries in Canada—built upon Canadian capital—in business for over forty-five years building high-grade carriages, and in the eighth year of automobile manufacturing.

This company has such an extensive organization that an owner can secure dependable service at any of the twelve branches conveniently located throughout Canada.

Every McLaughlin-Buick has the famous VALVE-IN-HEAD MOTOR, that is guaranteed to produce and deliver more power than any other motor of equal size of any make, and on a lower consumption of gasoline.

Six models ranging from $1,150.00 for a Runabout to $2,250.00 for the famous McLaughlin "Six."

A Whole Trainload of McLaughlin Vehicles

On January 30th, 1915, we shipped from our factory a trainload consisting of 45 carloads of vehicles, to Winnipeg and points West.

This is the largest single shipment ever made from a Canadian Vehicle factory.

Literature gladly sent on request.

NO GENERAL MOVE YET

Joffre's Next Offensive is Awaited With Interest

FOE IS RE-INFORCED

Heaviest Guns of French Are Now in Place

LONDON, April 13. — The first phase of the battle of the Woevre also apparently has come to an end, and interest now centres on the next move of Gen. Joffre, the French commander, in his effort to compel the Germans to release their hold on St. Mihiel, and that part of the plain of the Woevre included in their wedge. The capture of Les Eparges was, in the opinion of British military critics, a long step in the direction desired by the allies, but they place even more importance on the advance from Regnieville toward Thiaucourt in the south, as the latter town is a railway centre from which the force at St. Mihiel draws its supplies.

This battle has not as yet proved the prelude to a general offensive in the west, as was expected. This is probably due to the fact that instead of moving troops from other points along the line to assist the army of the Woevre, the Germans have brought their reinforcements from the interior of Germany, or perhaps right from the eastern front, and consequently the situation remains comparatively quiet on the western front.

The Official Press Bureau last night issued a narrative furnished by the British officer who is acting as an eye-witness observer with the French forces. He describes a trip along the front from Thann to St. Mihiel, touching the French positions in the southern Vosges. The narrative follows:

"By means of human, mule and ox draught, even the heaviest guns have been dragged up the mountains and cunningly established. It was in a great measure due to the accurate and overwhelming artillery fire against the German trenches at Hartmanns-Weiler Kopf that this position was captured with such trifling loss to the attackers.

"The capture of this hill was of the first importance to the French. From it and the neighboring heights, which they already held, southern Alsace lies open to the view.

"Now the French can shell the railways, factories and cantonments used by the Germans in the valley.

"Throughout the winter the fighting in this area has been most severe, the attacks often taking place through snow up to the men's waists.

"The trenches are from 40 to 300 yards apart, but nearly always now the French trenches are on higher ground and overlook the German ones.

"The morale of the French troops is splendid. They are full of confidence, as they know that they have the upper hand."

GERMANS ADMIT THEIR WEAKNESS

They Know They Will be Swamped by Kitchener

LONDON, April 13.—"It is a significant fact that although a month has passed since the action at Neuve Chapelle, the enemy has made no attempt to retaliate in any quarter, but has remained inactive, while we have established ourselves securely on the ground won," is a declaration made by the Eye-Witness attached to the British army headquarters on the continent, in a communication dated April 9.

Referring to the condition bordering on panic which prevailed at Lille during the fighting at Neuve Chapelle, this writer goes on to say:

"Both officers and men have openly expressed their uneasiness, apparently a marked change has began to occur in the general demeanor of the German troops soon after Christmas. Till then they had been absolutely confident and extremely cheerful, but latterly this feeling has been steadily decreasing. German soldiers have told French civilians they recognize they would be overpowered by the masses of men England was going to place in the field."

Gen. Pau Returns.

PARIS, April 13. — Gen. Gerald Pau, who recently has been traveling in Russia, the Balkan States and Italy on a political mission, arrived at the Lyons railroad station at half-past eight o'clock yesterday morning.

An immense crowd of people inside and outside the station gave the general a warm welcome.

Dockers In Khaki.

LIVERPOOL, April 13.—The First Dockers' Battalion, 850 men strong, paraded in khaki uniforms before Lord Derby, their commander, yesterday, and then marched between lines of cheering crowds to the docks to begin work.

HOUSE ADOPTS THE REPORT

Boots Were Honestly Made According to Specifications

OTTAWA, April 13.—The House of Commons last night, by a large majority, adopted the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the boots furnished the Canadian volunteers, which finds that the boots were suitable and efficient, that the Government was guilty of no negligence and the manufacturers honestly lived up to all the specifications. The Opposition did not ask for a division, and the minority report from the special committee condemning the boots was voted down.

The debate, which lasted during the entire sitting, was opened on behalf of the Government by W. S. Middlebro (North Grey), chairman of the committee, who said public opinion had been aroused unjustly. Of 86,000 pairs issued 81,446 were still in use; only 1,028 were beyond repair.

Hon. Charles Murphy, who moved the adoption of the minority report, spoke in defence of his position. The boots, he said, used for samples were inferior to the sealed sample in the Militia Department. Out of 86,000 pairs of boots, 7,000 had been condemned.

E. M. Macdonald (Pictou, N.S.) vigorously denounced the Government, declaring that the Government should have altered its type of boot when it proved unsatisfactory.

Mr. Nesbitt (Lib., N. Oxford) also a member of the committee, was the only other Liberal to take part in the debate.

Sir Robert Borden, in his speech at the evening session, congratulated the country upon the splendid work done during the war. He said the attitude of the Opposition in respect to the Canadian boots was partisan and unpatriotic, and that it had resulted in diverting a great deal of business from Canada.

Gen. Hughes said that the soldiers at the front were discarding the British boots and insisting upon the Canadian boot.

FOSTER ON THE STAND

Gives His Story of the Purchase of Horses

OTTAWA, April 13.—Arthur de Witt Foster, M.P. for King's, N.S., was the chief witness before the public accounts committee yesterday. He gave evidence regarding the purchase of horses in his constituency for the Government, but was in possession neither of vouchers nor receipts for the purchases. These are in the possession of an Americanized Canadian named Keever. Ten days ago Mr. Foster saw both Keever and Woodsworth, another Americanized Canadian, who were associated with him in the purchase of the horses, but he did not ask them for the receipts.

Another feature of the day was the opposition taken by Mr. Carvell to questions asked a horse dealer witness. Chairman Morphy sustained the objections on technical grounds, but said that no objections had been raised by the Conservative members to questions asked by him and Mr. Carvell, and declared there had been a thousand worse than were asked last night.

Mr. Foster was then sworn and presented a memorandum which he had prepared for Col. Neale of the Militia Department. This showed that he had bought 428 horses, 218 cavalry, 120 artillery and 90 general purpose. The average price was $173. They were bought between Aug. 13 and Sept. 4. He had appointed as his representative Mr. Oakes and had taken with him Messrs. Keever and Woodsworth, who were willing to pay their own expenses. Questioned by Mr. Carvell, Mr. Foster said he did not know that Keever and Woodsworth now have the receipts, but he believed that they have. He had seen them both in Boston, Keever at a distance, but did not secure the receipts. Asked if he thought Keever and Woodsworth had made money out of the affair, Mr. Foster said emphatically:

"Not one cent; and you know it."

"No, I don't know it," declared Mr. Carvell. "I believe this to be the most contemptible steal in Canada, and you know all about it. If you don't know all about it you are an idiot."

"You call 'em an idiot?" asked Mr. Foster with heat and rising in his chair.

"Yes, I repeat, 'if you don't know all about it, you are an idiot'," said Mr. Carvell.

The chairman finally restored order, and Mr. Carvell proceeded.

To the chairman, Mr. Foster said he had handled no money throughout the transaction. He had used drafts. The farmers cashed the checks themselves.

Revolution? Oh, No!

NEW YORK, April 12.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, the exiled ex-President of Mexico, arrived here late yesterday from Spain on board the steamer Antonio Lopez.

Gen. Huerta was permitted to land after he had taken oath before the immigration inspectors that he was not going to either Mexico or Cuba and had stated that his stay in this country would be divided between business and pleasure.

VICTORY IS WITH RUSSIA

Eighty-Day Battle of Carpathians Nears Its End

LONDON, April 13.—With the capture by the Russians of almost all the main chain of mountains, the battle of the Carpathians, which has lasted upwards of eighty days, is apparently reaching a termination over one extensive front, and the Russians are said to be moving at various points by railways and roads and along the rivers and streams down the southern slopes towards the plains of Hungary.

This movement, if it continues successfully, will, in the view of the Russian military authorities, compel the retirement with little or no fighting, of the Austrians and Germans who are still north of the Carpathians, to the east of Uszok Pass, and in eastern Galicia and Bukowina.

The battle which has been thus successfully conducted by the Russians, was, from all accounts, one of the fiercest of the war, and the manner in which the Russians overcame the difficulties of mountain fighting in mid-winter has been the subject of praise by those who witnessed the operations, or are acquainted with the country traversed.

Frederick Rennet says in a despatch to The Daily News from Petrograd:

"It is clear now the crisis in Hungary's campaign will burst before any of the great decisive battles of the spring campaign elsewhere in Europe have time to develop. This calamity for Austro-German strategy is immediately due to the astonishing energy and tactical ability of the Russian brigade leaders under Brousiloff.

"The Russians have now crossed the entire crest of the enemy's position in the Carpathians from Ondava to Uszok. Separate small armies, moving below on a 40-mile ride westward to Uszok, have overcome what has hitherto been believed to be an absolutely insuperable obstacle so early in the year. They are moving very slowly, and when not fighting have to dig their way through narrow glens blocked by heavy wet masses of snow, which has fallen from the precipitous hillsides and are often ten feet deep. They frequently find mountain guns and machine guns intact, hidden or abandoned by Austrians."

PEACE TALK

Meetings at The Hague Deal With Preservation of Amity

THE HAGUE, April 13—For three days there has been a private discussion of peace here by a conference consisting of about thirty delegates from Holland, Sweden, Norway, England, Germany, United States, Belgium and Switzerland. The conference came to an end yesterday with the drafting of a program for actions in the various countries. Only a short record of the work of the conference has been issued as follows:

"The object of the meeting was not to suggest steps to bring the war to an end, but to consider by what principles the future peace of the world would best be guaranteed. After a full discussion of the minimum program was unanimously adopted.

"The action to be initiated in the different countries will ultimately be supplemented as indicated by an international propaganda."

EAST INDIANS ELATED AT NEUVE CHAPELLE SUCCESS

Brighton.—The Indians are coming in from Neuve Chapelle. Nearly a thousand have arrived here in the last few days who have taken part in this great fight, and the convoys still pour in. It would be difficult to piece together from their narratives a connected account of the action. The sepoy is not as a rule expansive. For all I could learn from Man Singh or Ram Lal Neuve Chapelle might have been an affair of outposts or a scrum in the ward. The most inarticulate north country pitmen would have been more communicative. "We fought and I was wounded. We slew many. They ran before us," is the usual story. Nevertheless they are quietly elated.

Then one comes across a man who wants to talk and is glad of an audience; with such imagination often runs riot. A man told me of a sepoy in his regiment who carried a British officer on his back all the way from the spot where he had fallen in front of the German trenches to headquarters, and was made a subadar on the spot.

"Did you kill many yourself?" I asked, knowing my man.

"As many times as I drew the trigger, so many of the Germans fell."

"Did you bayonet many?"

"Sahib, I went on bayoneting them until my officer told me to stop.

This roused the man by my side, who gave me a more connected account of Neuve Chapelle than any of the others. He was a Punjabi Mussulman.

"We bombarded them from six in the morning until two," he told me. "Then we advanced at a double. There was a line of support and a third line behind that; in the advance the first two lines became mingled. Great numbers of the enemy were already slain. They lay everywhere like stones."

Simile from the Plains.

"Like stones," is a favorite simile. The picture in the sepoy's mind is the boulder-strewn ravine of the Indian plains in the dry season.

"By six o'clock we were in their trenches. As we approached they threw down their rifles and clasped their hands, crying 'Ram! Ram!' whereupon the skirted soldiers (Highlanders) took them off to headquarters. In a few days the Indian sepoys will have taken all the other trenches and the war will be at an end.'

Many of the Indian wounded who fell during the last week regard Neuve Chapelle as the beginning of the end, and think of the "German-log" as still running, pursued to their furthest frontiers by all the chivalry of the East.

"Why did they cry 'Ram! Ram!'" I asked, "to you, a Mussulman?"

Ram, Ram (Rama, an incarnation of Vishnu) is a salutation which Hindus use among themselves. It has become a formula of propitiation employed by beggars on the roadside; a convict will mutter it on the way to the gallows. The Teutons, it seems, with their usual thoroughness, had memorized the phrase as part of their stock-in-trade—an alternate for the "prisoner of war" with which the yielding Boche appeases Jock, Pat or Tommy.

"Sahib. They do not know," the sepoy said. "They employ the word to Mussulman and Hindu alike. With them it signifies 'Do not kill.'"

To the Indian mind, in many cases it is the Indian brigades alone that are waging this war. The French, Belgian, and the other details of the British expeditionary force are no doubt playing their part; but it is the Indian contingent—British regiments, of course, included—which has held the gate so far against the Hun, and which is to be the veritable hammer of the enemy when the wedge is driven in.

Trophies of victory are not wanting. On the table of a little Gurkha, a Gurung from Eastern Nepal, there is a bottle of aspirin picked up in the German trenches, a shoulder strap of the 15th regiment, and an excellent warm pair of fur-lined gloves. And there is another trophy—a shrapnel splinter the size of a pea which has completely shattered his elbow. "Two men standing by my side were blown to pieces," he said.

In another cot a sepoy, wounded in the buttocks, is anxious to explain that he was hit by a shell bursting over and behind him and that he was not running away. He is a typical Dogra—a keen, intelligent face, bright eyes, clean-cut features, thick gold ear-rings, and short cropped hair with the little tuft or bodi, which all Hindus wear, hanging from his crown. His home is in Jammu, and the great banqueting hall where he lives in the pavilion, with the massive chandeliers suspended from the ceiling, must have reminded him of his maharajah's Durbar hall on the banks of the Tawi, where the road passes through the foothills into Kashmir.

The poor fellow will need a large loin-cloth to cover the track of the shrapnel if he is to escape chaff when next he performs the prescribed ablutions in his village tank. "My regiment took 300 prisoners," the Dorga said, "and the boom-golies destroyed thousands."

Present Weather is Not the Best for Fall Wheat

Residents of rural sections are not any too well pleased with the calibre of the weather we are having these days. The fall wheat is in great danger of being seriously affected. A week ago prospects for a good crop were very bright but the frost of the past few nights has hurt the optimistic hopes. One farmer told the Review this morning that if the weather remained a trifle cool it would not occasion such bad results as the warm sun in the middle of the day does. Farmers are paying more attention to the crop in its early stages than ever before, as all realize taht a good crop would greatly benefit the country.

The Man With Experience In Civic Affairs

PETERBOROUGH REVIEW TOURS

A prominent business man, anxious that no mistage be made in having his candidate properly enrolled, who, by the way, is a faithful stenographer, sent one of the boys from his office to secure full data on the plan of nomination.

Some of the Questions.

Here are some of the questions asked over the phone, and the answers:

"Will you have someone call and see me about the contest?" "We will."

"When will the first list of names of candidates be published?" "Next Saturday."

"When will the first vote exhibit appear?" "Monday, April 20."

"How soon can I bring in subscriptions?" "At once so that the delivery of The Review can be started without delay."

"When can my friends begin working for me?" "The sooner, the better."

These, and a few more dozen questions and answers, kept the tour department busy, and aside from this applications from every direction.

May Secure Votes Anywhere.

There is one point which the prospective entrants do not seem to understand—that is, the unlimited territory in which votes may be secured. Candidates are not restricted to their own districts to get votes. The votes may be secured anywhere. By this method every candidate's chances are equalized.

This trip means 21 days of travel with all expenses paid by The Review. And why should it not create interest? Never before in the history of newspaperdom has a newspaper made a more liberal offer, whereby so many trips were given away.

A Tour of Pleasure.

If the eligible women who are hesitating had a full realization of the pleasures which have been arranged for them on this trip of trips, their hesitancy would be dispelled. Every comfort that money and care can secure will be accorded the fortunate winners. It will not be an ordinary tour, but a trip including a large number of prominent cities of the continent, attendance at the World's Fair at San Francisco, and sight-seeing at the most famous scenic sections in America, guided by a pilot of experience and with a fund of information about the places visited. You can never learn the interesting history and traditions attached to these places on an ordinary trip, but by the tour conductor they will be so well explained that they will forever remain with you as an invaluable educational asset. WHY NOT BE ONE OF THE PARTY?

See full page announcement. Cut out the Application Blank and send to Contest Manager, of The Review TODAY.

WRONG MAN AT LIBERTY

Murderer of Bartender Free at Expense of Another Man of Same Name

Ottawa, April 13.—There is something, after all, in a name. Tom Riley, late of the Kingston Penitentiary, and now of Everett, Mo., is strongly of that opinion.

So is Tom Riley, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., now of the Kingston Penitentiary.

Two years ago Tom Riley, of Hamilton, killed his wife, was convicted of manslaughter, and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. Last year Tom Riley, of London, killed a bartender named Blackburn and was sent down for fifteen years.

Extenuating circumstances were found in the case of Riley, of Hamilton. There was evidence of infidelity on the part of the wife, and evidence that she had sought to bring her own daughter into her own way of living. It was shown also that Riley had come from the United States and could be deported, and as his health was bad, it was decided some days ago to take this course.

Tom Riley was released from the penitentiary, but it was the other Riley. He was deported, much to his own satisfaction, and from Missouri he wrote to the jailer at London, thanking him for his kindness and telling of his release. The London jailer was surprised. An investigation was made, and the mistake discovered.

It is probable that the parole will be extended to the man for whom it was intended, and an effort will be made to bring back the other. But he is in Missouri, and must be shown.

POSTAGE STAMPS MAY BE USED TO PAY "WAR TAX"

The Post Office Department having given notice a week or two ago in connection with the War Revenue Act, that all letters and postcards mailed in Canada for delivery in Canada, the United States or Mexico, and letters mailed in Canada for delivery in the United Kingdom and British possessions generally, or wherever the two-cent rate applied, should in addition to ordinary postage carry a one-cent stamp as a war tax, and also having notified the public that such war tax, while it should be paid preferably by the postage stamp marked "war tax," could, if such stamp were not available, be paid by an ordinary one-cent postage stamp, is now issuing further notice to the effect that postage stamps may be used for the prepayment of war duties on bank cheques, bills of exchange, promissory notes, express money orders, proprietary or patent medicines, perfumery, wines, or champagne, as well as upon letters and postcards, postal notes and post office money orders, the intention being to provide facilities in those portions of the country where excise stamps are not readily available. This, in view of the fact that postage stamps may be obtained at all points over the whole country. In many places where there is no collector of inland revenue and no inland revenue stamps could be obtained, is a distinct convenience to the public, and no doubt will be largely taken advantage of.

OSHKIGMONG

Oshkigmong, April 13.—On Good Friday a church service was held in the evening conducted by Kezhegabetang of Chemong, and on Easter Sunday the morning service was coducted by Mr. S. A. Northey and evening service by Mr. H. C. Buffant. The church was tastefully decorated with Easter lilies wreath and mottos.

Miss Maggie Whetung is laid up with inflammatory rheumatism.

The Ladies' Aid Society has been re-organized in Chemong and the Society will start to do good work again.

Mrs. Ben Taylor invited some of the young people to the maple woods and treated them to the delicious product of the trees. The young people say they have never tasted anything more exquisitely tasteful than the maple taffy while it lasts. "Ka gat me no pe quot."

Mrs. Peter McCue is very sick with rheumatism.

School Children to Grow Potatoes

Fifty Thousand Bushels Expected to be Harvested

The school children of Ontario, under the direction of the Department of Agriculture, are preparing a unique contribution to the patriotic funds of the Empire.

It is really a development of the production campaign which has been suggested by the federal authorities. It consists in the growing of a bumper crop of potatoes in connection with the different schools and the disposition of those direct to provincial consumers for the best figure to be obtained.

There are now 245 school fairs held annually and this year 45,000 children have been organized by the Department of Agriculture to carry on this special work. It has been estimated that at least 50,000 bushels of potatoes will be grown and a handsome sum will be realized. Appeals sent out already have met with a gratifying response and the work will be fairly well distributed.

No definite plan as to the disposal of the vegetables has yet been worked out, but it is likely that the crop will be stored in city warehouses in large centers like Toronto, Hamilton, London, Ottawa, Berlin, Peterborough and other representative places.

It has been suggested that the sale be accompanied by patriotic demonstrations and that huge motor busses flying banners and flags parade through the streets advertising the potatoes to the consumers. This idea has been favorably received and may be acted upon in the fall. The gift will be applied to whatever patriotic cause is thought to need it most, and all credit will go to the children who tilled the ground.

Lindsay Soldier Invalided Home

Sergt. John Murphy Met With Accident in the Trenches

LINDSAY, April 13.—Sergt. John Murphy, of the 45th Regiment, who enlisted in the first contingent, Canadian Expeditionary Force, has arrived home from France, having been finally discharged. He met with an accident while fighting in the trenches, and after being removed to the military hospital at Rouen was transferred to Manchester hospital, and when he was convalescent he sailed on the SS. Megantic for Halifax, along with sixty other invalided soldiers.

Sergt.-Major Murphy was warmly welcomed by his many acquaintances and was given the glad hand at the armouries by Lt.-Col. Fee, with whom he served in the local regiment.

The sergeant, who was master cook of the second battalion, states that they left Bustard Camp, Salisbury Plain, on Jan. 9, and were glad to get away. The first brigade, to which he was attached, sailed from Avonmouth and landed at Le Havre. Sergt. Murphy was on the first transport, the Blackwell, the other transports following in this order: Atlantic, London, Argonna, Pelaronian, Antarctic, Anxiety Commerce, Megantic, Britannia, Franceie, Ardania, Bermuda, Array, Glory, Monarch, Ferolia, Laura, Ruthenia. On landing on French soil the troops were taken to Le Rond and afterwards moved to Rouen, the base of operations. No time was lost in giving the Canadians a taste of fighting in the trenches, where they acquitted themselves creditably. They remained in the trenches for forty-eight hours at a stretch and twenty-four hours down.

Sergt. Murphy states that conditions in the trenches were, on the whole, favorable. The food supplied the men was good and they were in excellent spirits. There were nine Lindsay men in his battalion, including Signallers Mitchell, Sandford and Privates Warner, Underwood, and Vaughan.

Lt. Kirkconnell, Sergt. Murphy states, was on construction work, but he believed he had gone to the front.

The casualties were few among the men of his attalion, and the health of the men was excellent.

Sergt. Murphy brought home with him an interesting souvenir, a pipe which was taken from a German sniper by a member of the Princess Pats. He gave it to Lt.-Col. Fee, who prizes it highly.

Sergt. Murphy, in the course of his interview, was very guarded in the information given out. He is an ex-member of the Dublin Fusiliers—a regiment that has lived up to its glorious traditions in the present war. He was employed by the John Carew Lumber Co. in the bush when the call came for the first contingent, and walked thirty miles to Lindsay in order to enlist. He is able to get about with the help of a cane, but expects to be as well as ever in a short time.

Many Lives Lost In Explosion.

ABERDEEN, Scotland, April 13.—The Free Press publishes the following telegram from Lerwick: "A terrible explosion has occurred. Harbor street was wrecked and many lives were lost." No details are obtainable as yet.

Lerwick is situated on the east coast of mainland Shetland Islands. It is defended by an old fort, dating from the time of Cromwell, and is one of the chief stations in Scotland for the Royal Naval Reserve. Lerwick is the capital of the Shetland archipelago.

AN IDEAL VACATION TRIP FOR YOU!

How to Enter the Contest

Nominate yourself or a friend today—THIS MINUTE. Call up on the telephone No. 189 or drop a card to the contest manager, and you will be supplied with the necessary information and stationery. Get your friends and acquaintances who are not taking The Review to subscribe. If they are already subscribers, get them to pay all past due accounts and then subscribe for a year or two in advance. See everybody—it makes no difference where they live. You will receive votes for all the money turned in for or by you. Write to your friends—all of them. Early energy spells success. A few short weeks of hustling will make you the winner of one of the greatest trips ever offered by a newspaper. Your friends will subscribe for The Review and will be pleased to help you. Give them the opportunity. Clip out the nomination blank and send or bring it to the contest office. Everything will be made plain to you. Do it now.

Twenty-One Days Touring America

Four Women will take a Trans-Continental Tour and see the Wonderful Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. The Review will pay the bills.

Who May Enter

Any woman, single or married, over sixteen years of age, of good moral character, is eligible. Candidates may enter their own applications, or they may be nominated by friends. It costs nothing to enroll, it costs nothing to win. There are no strings attached to the offer. It is not necessary that candidates be subscribers to The Review. The only restrictions are as to age and character.

How Votes Will Be Issued

Each copy of The Review will contain a coupon, which, when properly filled out, will entitle the holder to 25 votes. Votes will also be issued on paid-in-advance subscriptions to The Review in proportion to the length of time such subscriptions are paid in accordance with the schedule.

RULES

RULE NO. 1.—The contest opened on April 12th, and closes on June 5th.

RULE No. 2.—Any woman over sixteen years of age, married or single, of good moral character and reputation, residing in any of the contest districts, may enter the contest by making out one of the Application Blanks (ask for blank) and sending or bringing in her application to the Contest Manager, The Review.

Candidates must enter from the district in which they reside.

The Contest Manager is to decide any question regarding proper districting of candidates.

Candidates moving from one district to another, after having been nominated, will be retained in the district from which they first nominated.

Nominations of candidates may be made by anyone at any time during the contest without cost.

The management of The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination or application at its discretion.

Any contestant wishing to have her name withdrawn from the list of candidates, must write or call personally, as positively no telephone withdrawals will be considered. No candidate's name can be substituted for another.

The first publication of the names of candidates will appear this week.

DISTRICTS

RULE No. 3.—There are four separated istricts from which to enter, as described elsewhere. Contestants will compete only against candidates in their respective districts, but may secure subscriptions anywhere they choose.

FOUR TEAMS TO CONSTITUTE THE CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE

Thistles, East City, Empire A. C. and Classics Admitted at Last Night's Meeting — To be Amateer Organization

Four teams, namely the Thistles, East City, Empire Athletic Club and Classics will constitute the City Baseball League this season. This was decided upon last evening at the meeting in the Empress Hotel at which applications were received. At last Friday night's meeting the South End Club made application but last night withdrew. Knute Belting and Louis Yeotes were present to enter a team under the name of Marathon Club. The meeting first decided that the league should be made up of four teams and then a vote was taken on which team should be admitted. It resulted in the Marathon Club being dropped.

Very little other business was executed. A resolution that the league be an amateur organization carried unanimously. President C. G. Graham was apointed to interview the owner of Riverside Park and F. D. Craig and J. S. Milloy were appointed to draft a constitution and submit it to the various teams for their approval. The league will meet again next week to go over the constitution and make plans preparatory the opening of the season.

UMPIRES FOR THE INTERNATIONAL

New York, April 13. — Edward Barrow, president of the International League, has announced the make-up of his umpiring staff for this season. Four new men have been signed. Wm. C. Carpenter, Robert Hart, John Mullen and Peter Harrison have been retained, while the new umpires are A. J. Cleary and Edward Eckman, who officiated in the New State League last year; Frank Brown, from the Three-I. league, and Buck Freeman, from the defunct Tri-State League. Nallin, who umpired in the International last season, has graduated into the American League, while Finneran signed with the Federal League, Rorty resigned to go into business, and Cauliflower was not offered a contract for this year. Mr. Barrow has completed the league schedule, which is expected to be adopted at a meeting in this city on Monday, and will be made public the latter part of the week.

LAWN BOWLING

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in J. P. Cunningham's music store, 404 George street. The annual meeting of this club is not usually favored by a large attendance, but it is hoped that a goodly number will be on hand Friday evening.

A novel record in professional baseball was made at Columbus, Ohio, on April 11, 1912, in an American Association game between Kansas City and Columbus. The ball originally put into play by the umpire was used during the entire game, not another pellet being used at any time.

RAIDER MADE THRILLING RUN

Kronprinz Wilhelm Narrowly Escaped Capture

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 13.—The German merchant raider Kronprinz Wilhelm will not be permitted to go into drydock at the shipyards here until Lieut.-Capt. Thierfelder, her comamnder, makes a formal request for time to complete such repairs as he deems necessary to make his vessel seaworthy. Capt. Thierfelder told Collector Hamilton last night he could not do so before to-day.

The German captain, however, is insistent that he must hasten to repair his ship and return upon his work as a merchant raider.

That the escape of the Wilhelm from the allied warships off the Capes was a miraculous one, was attested to last night by Capt. Thierfelder, in describing his experiences after destroying the Coleby March 27 last. "We started north from the equator short of coal and provisions," he said. "As we came up the coast we continually heard the British warships talking to each other by wireless. It seemed on some days and nights that there was as many as eight warships within a radius of a few hundred miles. But we kept on due north, running as rapidly as we could with our ship darkened at night.

"One night on our way up we were to have met a German collier and made for her. There were low overhanging clouds about us, but in the distance a brilliant moonlight showed us our ship, and there were two British warships after her. The clouds protected us and we escaped. We never heard of the collier again."

Berlin Orchestra To Tour Belgium.

BERLIN, April 13.—(By wireless to Sayville.) — The famous Philharmonic Orchestra of Berlin is preparing to make a concert tour of Belgium early in May, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Overseas News Agency. Felix Weingarten will conduct and the musicians will play twice in Brussels.

The rivers Rhine, Moselle and Neckar and their tributaries are rising rapidly. The Mayence region is threatened with inundations.

Sutherland Has New Scheme for O.H.A.

Ottawa, April 13. — An Eastern group will likely be added next season to the senior series of the Ontario Amateur Hockey Association. Vice-President Jim Sutherland of the O. H. A., who was in the capital yesterday on business, conferred with some of the local amateur hockey men and made a suggestion that will be acted upon in the near future. He proposes to take the Kingston Frontenacs, Brockville, Smith's Falls and an Ottawa team in a series group, the winners to saw off with the Toronto survivors. Reg. Sims, of the Aberdeens, favors the scheme, while Brockville and Smith's Falls have already signified their intention to join. Mr. Sutherland's suggestion is, of course, subject to the approval of the Ontario Hockey Association governors, but he believes that it would be sanctioned, providing the teams adhered strictly to the amateur definition as recognized by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Quite up to date and appreciative of British heroism is the latest instance of King George's racing nomenclature. It is announced that the name Neuve Chapelle has been given to his Majesty's yearling filly, by Sunstar—Prim Nun.

AIRCRAFT WAS DRIVEN AWAY

Captain With Rifle Routed German Aviators

LONDON, April 13.—Armed with a rifle, Capt. Sharp of the British steamer Serula, which has arrived here, successfully repulsed an attack made upon his steamer by a large German hydroplane and a small aeroplane off the Noordhinder lightship, says Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent.

"The aeroplane first approached the ship, dropping bombs, which fell into the sea. As it returned to the attack Capt. Sharp fired upon it with a rifle, hitting the machine several times and damaging one of its wings. Then the hydroplane took up the attack, but it also was driven off. Capt. Sharp says he is convinced the aeroplane was so badly damaged that it was unable to reach Zeebrugge."

BRITAIN BUILDING HUGE SHIP.

New Superdreadnought Will Be 800 Feet Long and Make 40 Knots.

NEW YORK, April 13.—According to a report from London received by The Tribune, Britain has laid down a new battleship of amazing proportions, which will be by far the most powerful craft afloat. It will mark a change in battleship construction, exceeding that which came when the first dreadnought was built. It will necessitate the adoption of new methods in battleship construction by all nations, and will halt the construction program of the United States.

It is stated that this great new ship will be 800 feet in length, will carry six 15-inch guns and have the wonderful speed of forty knots.

At present the Queen Elizabeth, now at the Dardanelles, stands as the most powerful engine of war. She is, however, only 650 feet in length, but carried eight 15-inch guns. She is oil-driven, as the new ship will be. In the craft now planned armament is sacrificed for increased speed. The increased length gives the great boiler and engine-room capacity needed to produce much speed.

A gift of $500 has been received from Hon. Mr. Justice Maclennan of Toronto for the Queen's Stationary Hospital, which is going to the front under Lt.-Col. Frederick Etherington, a Kingston surgeon.

LOCAL LACROSSE TEAMS GROUPED

Intermediates Play With Millbrook Lakefield and Lindsay

The District Committee of the O. A. L. A. met last night in Toronto to make the initial draft of the groups for the coming season, with President Ed. Hinds in the chair, and the following in attendance: Secretary Doyle, W. Tegart, Gene Dopp, Pete Hocking, W. McArthur and Jimmy Dundas.

Secretary Doyle stated that prospects for the coming season were unusually bright, especially down in the Trent Valley League. Joe Lally is doing missionary work there this week, and next week will start North, beginning at Orillia.

The groups in which Peterborough is placed are as follows:—

Intermediate Group No. 22—Peterborough, Millbrook, Lakefield and Lindsay.

Juvenile Group No. 17—Millbrook, Lakefield, Lindsay, Peterborough.

Other groups in this vicinity are:

Intermediate.

No. 16 Group—Picton, Trenton, Belleville.

No. 17 Group—Whitby, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope.

No. 20 Group—Tweed, Marmora, Madoc, Stirling.

No. 21 Group — Campbellford, Hastings, Norwood, Havelock.

No. 15 Group — Tweed, Stirling, Madoc, Marmora.

No. 16 Group — Campbellford, Hastings, Norwood, Havelock.

Inventor Killed.

WASHINGTON, April 13. — Cecil Malcolm Peoli, an aviator, was killed at College Park, Md., near here, yesterday while making a test flight in an aeroplane of his own invention and in which he had planned flights from Washington to New York and from New York to St. Louis. The machine fell 300 feet and Peoli's skull was fractured.

Peoli was the first man to fly across the Andes Mountains in South America. The machine is said to have been the largest in this country.

The dead aviator was 22 years of age and came here from Los Angeles, where his mother lives.

Are Continuing Attacks.

LONDON, April 13. — Bulgarian forces are continuing their attacks on the Serbian frontier, according to a Nish despatch received at the Serb legation yesterday afternoon.

It states they assailed the block house at Zanoka and forced the Serbian troops to retire at Malechè. Another attack was made near Mouchkovo, but the Bulgarians were repulsed there.

"The general impression," the despatch concludes, "is that these bands were sent to provoke a conflict along the whole frontier at the moment when the attack on the station at Stromnitza occurred."

Mail Orders Suffer.

LONDON, April 13.—The mail order businesses in the United Kingdom propose entering a protest to the Canadian Postmaster-General against what they consider is the present unfair imposition of duty paid in advance upon small consignments. The practice of charging a minimum of five shillings duty, no matter how small may be the value of the consignment, hinders, it is stated, development of the mail order business in Canada. Many well-known houses here have ceased seeking business in the Dominion.

Len Million, last year with the Moose Jaw Millers, has retired from the game, and will devote his time to his business. Failure to improve in hitting is the reason given for retirement.

EFFECT WHEN A SHELL STRIKES

Fearful Havoc of the Fire From a Big Howitzer

A young officer of the Yorkshire Light infantry has written to his parents a description of the effects of German artillery fire. He says in part:

"I don't believe there is a man living who when first interviewing an eleven inch howitzer shell is not pink with fright. After the first ten one gets quite used to them, but really they are terrible.

"They hit a house. You can see the great shell—a black streak—just before it strikes; then, before you hear the explosion, the whole house simply lifts up into the air, apparently quite silently; then you hear the roar, and the whole earth shakes.

"In the place where the house was tere is a huge fountain spout of what looks like pink fluff. It is the pulverized bricks. Then a monstrous shoot of black smoke towering up a hundred feet or more, and finally there is a curious willow-like formation, and then—you duck as huge pieces of shell and house and earth and haystacks tumble over your head. The broken pieces of shell are horribly jagged, sharp edged missiles—whatever they hit they tear, cut, lacerate and destroy.

"Yet, do you know, it is really remarkable how little damage they do against earth trenches. They seem much less destructive in soft sand or soil than when striking against a building or a masonry wall."—London Mail.

CASUALTIES

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 13. — The casualty list issued today of further losses in the fighting last month at Neuve Chapelle totals 395 men, of whom 119 were killed. This is the seventh list of losses given out by a British authority on the Neuve Chapelle battle, and it brings the total killed and wounded up to 7,835 men, of whom 2,422 were killed.

The only casualty announced from Ottawa this afternoon is:

Seventh Battalion. — Wounded— Pte. Allan Wm. Anderson, Sutton West, Ont., severe wound in arm.

Council of Women

A few hours in the open air, a few hours of self abandon in innocent fun, a chance to be a normal boy or girl, will do more to reinforce moral lessons than many days of mere teaching. The playground is without any direct effort one of the regenerating and uplifting forces of the community.

We want to save the health of our children, so that we may mature a strong community. That is the surest way to stamp out disease. We should therefore make it one of our first objects to secure playgrounds for the children, and keep them off the dusty, over-crowded streets.

Why should Peterborough be behind other cities, and even many towns in recognizing the value of healthful happy play in the life of the child as evidenced by the establishment of supervised playgrounds. Belleville has them, Stratford has three, Brockville, with a population of ten thousand, was not satisfied with one, but opened another last year.

How War Tax Stamps Must be Affixed; Penalties of Neglect

The Peterborough Bank Clearing House has prepared the following synopsis of the stamps that must hereafter be used under the "Special War Revenue Act of 1915," which comes into effect Thursday, April 15th:

All cheques issued must have affixed to them by the drawer, a stamp of the value of two cents.—Sec. 12, Clause 2.

Receipts for money withdrawn from the Bank, including the Savings Department, must have affixed to them by the signer, a two cent stamp.—Sec. 12, Clause 4.

All bills of exchange and promissory notes delivered to a Bank must have affixed to them, previous to such delivery, a stamp of the value of two cents.—Sec. 12, Clause 3.

Stamps as above shall be cancelled only by the Bank.

Penalties.

Every person
Who issues a cheque on a Bank, or
Who signs a Receipt for money withdrawn from a Bank or
Who delivers to a Bank a bill of exchange or promissory note, Without affixing a two cent stamp for any such document.
Is liable to a penalty of $50.

The special stamps required may be purchased at the Post Office.

APPEAL ENTERED

Against Judgment in County Court Case

An appeal was entered today by Gordon & Widdfield against the judgment given out by His Honor Judge Huycke in the case of William Edwards vs. Mrs. Hannah Dickson. It will be remembered Edwards sued for $123.50 as the amount alleged to be due him for digging a well on Mrs. Dickson's farm in Otonabee. Evidence went to show that Edwards was to receive $2 per foot for drilling and the bargain was "no water, no pay." According to witnesses in court when the case came up, the well is not producing water. Edwards claimed he was ordered to cease drilling by James Edwards, who operates the farm. Judge Huycke the trial judge, found that James Edwards had no authority to order William Edwards to stop drilling as the agreement was made with Mrs. Dickson. He therefore dismissed the action. The appeal will come up at Osgoode Hall, Toronto.

Dr. Corrigal Dies at Weyburn Sask.

His Widow Was Miss Ida Kirke of This City

News of the death of Dr. J. W. Corrigal, who married Miss Ida Kirke, formerly of Peterborough, was received last night by telegram. It gave no particulars other than that he had passed away. He resided at Limerick, Sask., and was in the hospital at Weyburn when death occurred. The wire was received yesterday by Miss Elsie Kirke, a sister of the wife of the deceased. Dr. Corrigal's home was in Belleville. Interment will take place at Moosejaw. His father and sister live in Loverna.

The sympathy of her many friends in Peterborough will be extended to Mrs. Corrigal, who before her marriage three years ago was with Merrell and Meredith on George street.

Local News in General

Important Meeting.

The Daughters of England are all requested to attend the meeting Thursday night as it is of a very important character.

Orpheus Society.

All members are requested to meet at Greene's music store tonight at 8 o'clock, as "The Drum Major" is to be repeated on Monday, the 19th, at the Conservatory of Music.

First Steamer Trip.

The first trip of the season up the river from Rice Lake will be made on Thursday morning when Captain Harris will bring up the "Geneva" with a cargo of hogs. All the ice is out of Rice Lake.

Choral Society.

The Peterborough Choral Society will meet for rehearsal of Elgar's "Banner of St. George" tonight in the Collegiate Hall at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Council Meeting.

A meeting of the City Council will be held Thursday evening to consider the plans of the sewage disposal plant, a by-law to issue water works debentures and other general business.

Rev. Dr. Henderson.

On Sunday Rev. Dr. Henderson, of St. Catharines, told his Welland Avenue congregation that in the past year, in their giving to the different funds of the church they had outdone previous years in all but one fund. Seeing the year just closing has covered the whole of the war so far, this is something of a record.

Kitchener League Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Canadian Kitchener League will be held this evening at 8 p.m. in the Y. M. C. A. The ladies knitting for the league are requested to turn in all completed work early this week as the league is sending a box to the boys in the trenches

Mothers' Club.

The regular monthly meeting of the Mothers' Club of the Y. M. C. A. will be held on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock in the parlors of the Y.M.C.A. Reports will be received from the different communities, also the annual report from the Mothers' Circle of South Central school. After the business meeting a social hour will be spent. A good musical program has been provided. A special invitation is given to all members of the different Mothers' Circles of the schools in the city and all others interested in the work.

NOTICE.

Members of L.O.L. No. 457 are requested to be present and attend the funeral of the late Bro. Percy Robson on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 to the Little Lake Cemetery from his late home, 511 Cross St. Members of Peterborough lodges are also invited to attend.

By order.
B. LOCKINGTON,
Secretary.

With the Movies

Every one has heard of Gaby Deslys, the noted French beauty and actress. Those who have never been able to see her in real life, or on the stage may get in even more intimate touch with her by going to the Empire Theatre where Gaby may be seen behind the scenes and on the stage and amid home surroundings. She is the central and shining figure in a moving picture production called "Her Triumph," that depicts her sudden rise from an unknown chorus girl in a Paris theatre to leading lady in the company. She scores a decided triumph in the part and is able to add further to her laurels by marrying the leading man who is impersonated by Harry Pilcer, Gaby's dancing partner. This screen production is a remarkable revelation of Gaby's versatility and patrons of the Empire will miss something if they let the opportunity to see her go by.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS

Water consumers are reminded that all water rates for the current quarter are now due, and must be paid on or before April 15th, in order to secure discount. Positively no discount will be allowed after that date.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN H. CLYSDALE.

The many friends of Eliza Jane Finlay, beloved wife of the late John H. Clysdale, who predeceased her six years, were deeply grieved to learn of her demise, which occurred on March 30 at the home of her youngest daughter, Mrs. W. Bell, on the homestead where she was born 75 years 10 months and 13 days ago, and lived for a great part of her life. The late Mrs. Clysdale was a kind and loving wife and mother. She was loved and respected by all. Her beautiful Christian life will ever be remembered by her now sorrowing family — four daughters and seven sons: Mrs. Mary Ellen Cardwell, Chicago; Mrs. A. D. Payne, Lakefield; Mrs. G. J. Edwards, Dummer; Mrs. W. H. Bell, Dummer; Samuel, Lakefield; John, Caledonia; William, of Lakefield; Edward, Minnesota; Albert, Lakefield; Arthur, Peterborough, and Merd, of Dummer, with whom she resided for several years. Two daughters, Annie and Estella, predeceased her. There are also surviving four sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Robt. Harrison, Peterborough, Mrs. Geo. Elliott, Norwood, Mrs. Malcolm Kidd, of Saskatchewan, Mrs. James Bell, of Smith, William, Simcoe, and Thomas Edward, of Lucknow.

The funeral, which was held on Thursday, April 1st, to the family lot at Lakefield cemetery, was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Irwin, of Norwood, and was largely attended by the friends and neighbors of the deceased, showing the high esteem in which she was held in the community.

GEORGE PERCY ROBSON.

A very sad death occurred last evening about six o'clock, when George Percy Robson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Robson, 511 Cross St., passed away at the early age of 20 years and 8 months. The deceased young man was well known and highly respected, and his many friends will be grieved to learn of his demise. He was a member of Nassau Orange Lodge. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery, service at the house at 2:30, Rev. James Rollins officiating. The funeral will be under the auspices of the Orange Lodge.

FIRE IN BARN.

A chimney in a stable owned by Mr. J. T. O'Connell, corner of Water and Dublin streets, took fire last night about ten-thirty. It was caused by an over-heated stove which Mr. O'Connell uses for boiling feed for the horses. The fire was quickly extinguished, with little damage.

To the Electors of the North Ward

I am a candidate for Alderman in the North Ward, caused by the resignation of ex-Alderman William J. Johnston. If elected, I will give my time and careful attention to the Ward and the city's business and interest. My platform is briefly as follows:

1. Day work in preference to contract work.
2. Municipal ownership of the street railway in conjunction with the Hydro Electric System.
4. Municipal ownership of the Otonabee Power Company.
5. An aggressive campaign for the getting of new industries.
6. An equal and equitable assessment in properties.

I have had considerable experience in business affairs, and will give my best efforts, if elected, to the city's business.

Yours truly,
W. T. HOLLOWAY.

I would insist on all corporation work to be done by local labor.

Electors No. 4 (North) Ward

Ladies and Gentlemen,—It having come to my notice that reports in circulation state that I have withdrawn from the field as aldermanic candidate in the North Ward, I wish to say that nothing is further from the truth and with the sanction of the ratepayers I hope to be elected as their representative.

Also, it has been stated that I, as an official of the C.P.R. would have my hands tied, and would not be able to serve in the best interest of the people. In answer to this let me say that, if elected, and the C.P.R. ask for any privileges, I pledge myself to remain strictly neutral.

Your humble servant believes he can be of use to the ratepayers if elected to the council board and for this reason only, asks your support and influence.

Yours respectfully,
W. S. DODD.

AUSTRIANS IN PRECIPITATE RETREAT

RUSSIANS TAKE POSITIONS --- WERE CONSIDERED IMPREGNABLE

FIND OUT TRUTH OF GERMAN REPRISALS

British Dominions Will be Consulted in Regard to Peace Terms

WILL NOT STOP SALE OF BEER

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 14. — Announcing in the House of Commons that the British Foreign Office had requested the American ambassador in London to telegraph the American ambassador in Berlin to find out what truth there was in the reported German reprisals, Neil Primroz, parliamentary under-secretary for foreign affairs, added: "If this report be true, we can only hope that these prisoners are being treated as well as the crews captured in submarines in this country."

Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, promised that the dominions would be consulted fully in regard to terms of peace.

Harold J. Tenant, under secretary of war, gave what was regarded as a possible clue to the intentions of the Government concerning the drink question. He said that beer was the only intoxicant that was permitted in canteens, and that it was not the intention of the authorities to prohibit its sale.

PETERBOROUGH'S FIRST PUBLIC BUILDING

GOVERNMENT BUILDING IN 1832.

Here is a reproduction from the drawing of the Government House in Peterborough as it appeared in 1832. Readers will remember an article by His Honor Judge Huycke, which accompanied the presentation of a photograph of the original made by Mary Sanford, a young girl, who lived in Peterborough at the time. It was built by Peter Robinson, the founder of Peterborough. In his article Judge Huycke wrote:

It apparently stood on what is now the residence of Mr. Roland Denne and partly on the Peterborough Club property. As the settlement increased the rude little log "Government House" became unused and decayed, and was burned in the early forties. I am credibly informed it met destruction on a certain Hallowe'en, probably the victim of boyish pranks, or wicked mischief-makers, or both. There is a well-defined legend, which I am, however, unable to verify, that Peterborougn was named and duly christened in this very old log house at a dinner given by or for Hon. Peter Robinson, our city and county being named after him in honor of their chief founder.

EARLY START ADVANTAGE IN REVIEW'S GREAT CONTEST

An Early Start Backed up by Ambition and Hustle Chiet Essentials for Success — Free Tour of the West and of Panama - Pacific Exposition — Greatest Exposition of All Time

MANY ENTRIES SENT TO-DAY — SEND YOURS AMONG FIRST

Cut Out the Application Blank Which Appears on Full Page Ad and Send It to Office—If Yon Can't Go, Send Nomination for a Friend and Help Her to Win

Far surpassing any offer that has been made by any paper in this vicinity, the Peterborougn Review came out on Thursday with the astounding announcement that it will send four representative women of Peterborough and vicinity on a twenty-one days trans-continental and Panama-acific International Exposition tour, visiting en route Chicago, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, American Rockies, Colorado Springs, Denver, Omaha, Ogden, Portland, Victoria, Vancouver, Banff, Glacier, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, Regina, Brandon, Winnipeg and the San Francisco Exposition and pay every item of expense from the time of starting until they return home. The tour will be a vacation tour and start next June. A big undertaking but it is following the principle that the Review has laid down and always lived up to that nothing is too good for its readers.

The offer holds boundless opportunities for the alert, energetic, wide awake women of this section. Just think, you can spend your vacation touring America at absolutely no cost to yourself. School teachers especially should grasp the opportunity, but any woman, single or married, is eligible for entry. You have the same chance as any one else to win a tour.

It costs nothing to enter or nominate a friend and it is not necessary to be a subscriber to start in the contest or win one of the tours

The fact that the tour campaign is just getting under way and that the very best time to enter is right now, seems to be generally understood. The Review wants all its friends to manifest their interest in the big undertaking by nominating some member of their immediate family or some friend to make the race for one of the delightful educational tours. You can nominate as many people as you like. Just clip out the nomination blank and send it to the Review office.

Be sure and read over very carefully the full page announcement which appears in this issue, and do not hesitate to ask questions of the Contest Manager. Phone No. 189.

A COUPON GOOD FOR 35 VOTES APPEARS TODAY. Clip it neatly along the border and send it in at once so it will be counted in your favor Friends of candidates may save these coupons and send or bring them in to the contest department at the Review office.

NO NEW CASES OF MENINGITIS.

Belleville, Aril 14. — Capt. (Dr.) Carron, medical officer of the 39th battalion, stated that the health of that unit was good. There are no more cases of meningitis, although one case is under suspicion.

The carriers at the fair ground have attention paid to their throats and noses daily. These men are not expected to develop the disease of meningitis. Examinations are made daily and when three negatives plates are secured, the carriers are discharged as "cleared,"

The examinations of the men of the regiment are made in the Board of Health room in the police station building.

HEALTH BOARD REFUSE TO GAG NOISY ROOSTERS

They Say It's the Duties of the Police to Act in the Matter

The Board of Health yesterday afternoon declined to make a resident discontinue keeping a hen coop. Dr. Amys reported that the complaint was made that the coop was right under a neighbor's window and the hens crowing in the morning were a disturbance. The chairman corrected himself and said it was just the roosters that produced the noise which broke the stillness of morning. Sanitary Inspector Spence reported that the coop was perfectly sanitary and well kept. The owner had several prize birds.

It was decided that the complaint should go to the police department and Dr. McPherson remarked, "We have been doing police work too much."

SOME DISMOUNTS NOT INTENTIONAL

Horses for Mounted Rifles Not Used to Being Ridden

HEALTH OF MEN GOOD

Ottawa, April 14.—Although they are still coming slowly officers of the 8th C.M.R. say that a very good class of horses is being bought for them. So far they have only 116 animals, but mounted drill is now in progress.

Troops from each squadron practised mounting and riding bare-backed. There was considerable involuntary dismounting as many of the beasts are not used to being ridden. No one was injured.

The health of the troops in Howick Hall is still good. The spread of measles has been stopped, it is believed, as no new cases have developed in the past week and the men who were ill are nearly all back at work.

A ZEPPELIN THREW BOMBS

Aviation Ground the Objective Was not Hit

FOE'S AEROPLANES FORCED TO DESCEND

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Paris, April 14.—(This afternoon's official statement) — Calm generally was maintained along our front throughout yesterday. A Zeppelin threw bombs on Bailleul near the Belgian frontier. It's objective was our aviation ground but this was not hit. Three civilians were killed.

Two German aeroplanes were forced to come down within our lines, one near Braine, the other near Luneville. In both cases the aviators were taken prisoners. A third German flying machine winged by the fire of our advance posts fell near Ornes to the north of Verdun, 600 yards from our lines. One of the aviators was hit by a bullet.

COTTON NOT ON CONTRABAND LIST

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 14. — The British Government has decided against placing cotton on the contraband list.

Judge Hughes Passes

Ottawa, April 14.—Pte. Matthew Halliday of the First Battalion, Winnipeg, seriously ill, and Driver Joseph Marquis, ammunition column, Quebec, wounded, are the casualties reported today.

MILL IN OPERATION.

The Peterborough Lumber Co. commenced operations at their saw mill this week. Some eighty men were given employment and the labor market greatly assisted.

MUST BEAT ENEMY INTO THE DUST

High Authority Says War Will not be Over This Time Next Year

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

New York, April 14.—The Tribune this morning prints an interview with a "high authority," cabled from London who says "War will not be over this time next year even if Italy comes in. You must think of the terms of peace. Germans are brave any of us. It will be hard for them to accept humiliation. We will have to beat them into the dust. They will have to give up Alsace Lorraine, give back Belgium with a big indemnity to the Belgians and probably give back Schleswig to Denmark. Austrian Poland has already gone and Germany will have to give up German Poland which will be hard. Bukowina and Transylvania will go and Austria will also lose Bosnia Herzegovina, Dalmatia and Croatia besides Italian provinces and there must be a limitation of armaments.

Germany will not accept such terms easily. Again I say she must be beaten into dust and England will fight ten years for victory if necessary."

The correspondent adds that these terms represent what the allies have in mind and they feel absolute confidence in being able to impose them. The "high authority" also suggested war would result in big social changes in England. Families who received between six and seven dollars a week will not be contented after war with agricultural laborers' wages, and the upper classes will have to cut out their extravagance and return to a simple scale of living.

Capt. McPherson Appointed for Overseas Service

Capt. A. W. Macpherson has been appointed for overseas service and will leave for the front shortly. Captain Macpherson is a member of the A. M. C., and, while he has not been given an appointment with one of the units soon to leave for the seat of war, he will no doubt be detailed in England.

AGED COUPLE PERISHED

Neighbors Powerless to Save Them From Burning Home

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Belleville, April 14—Mr. and Mrs. George Kilbank, an aged couple, living at Stockdale, Murray township, were burned to death this morning in a fire which destroyed their house and shop.

At two o'clock an explosion was heard.

Neighbors found the place in flames and efforts to rescue the old people were unavailing.

NEUVE CHAPELLE GREATEST LOCAL SUCCESS OF WAR

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

General headquarters of British army in France, April 14. —In trenches along the British front, officers and men alike are still talking of the battle last month at Neuve Chapelle. Officers characterize this British victory as likely to be recorded as the greatest local success of the war. Misgivings in England with regard to British losses at Neuve Chapelle are hardly justified in view of the advantage gained in the opinion of staff officers at the front.

One officer explaining today the strategic importance of this dent in the German line said that the Germans in six weeks more, had they continued to hold Neuve Chapelle thus flanking the British on the north and south, would have inflicted losses equal to those sustained by the attackers on that memorable March morning. Thus the British would in a short time have lost just as many men the speaker declared without the physical and moral advantage scored by the spurt forward.

BIG RUSS. VICTORY

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LEMBERG, April 14. — In a desperate attack by Russians on the right flank of the Austrian position at Mezolaborcz, on the Hungarian side of East Deskid Mountains and about fifty miles south of Permysl, the Austrians were forced, after a twelve-hour battle, to make a precipitate retreat.

The whole main crest in this district, which the Austrians considered impregnable, is now in Russian hands.

MILL IS BURNED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Windsor, April 14. — Fire early this morning destroyed the mill of John Piggott and Sons, a large lumber firm with plants here and at Chatham. Lumber in the yard as well as nearby buildings including St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, which were threatened, were saved by the firemen's efforts. The loss is forty thousand.

Drug Stores and the New War Tax

On and after April 15th, every person who purchases a proprietary or patent medicine or perfumery, including all tooth and toilet preparations, will be called upon to pay a special war tax amounting to four per cent. of the retail price of the article. That is to say, all preparations or medicines selling at one dollar will have an additional charge of four cents to cover war tax, fifty cent preparations a charge of two cents, and one cent on all preparations selling at twenty-five cents or under.

The druggist or dealer is compelled by law to affix and cancel stamp before any proprietary medicine or toilet article shall leave his store.

The Government may fix and determine the retail price of a patent medicine or perfumery, and impose a fine of $50 for any violation of this Act.

A PICTURE OF COL. KENNEDY

Is Presented to 57th Regiment by Mrs. Aaron Cox

MILITARY NOTES

A large portrait of the late Lieutenant Colonel the Honorable William Nassau Kennedy was last night presented to the 57th Regiment by Mr. Alf. H. Cox on behalf of his mother, Mrs. Aaron Cox. The picture was accompanied by the following letter: Commanding Officer of the 57th Battalion,

Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—On behalf of my mother, Mrs. Aaron Cox, I beg to present herewith to the officers and men of the 57th Battalion at Peterborough a portrait of her cousin, the late Lt.-Col. The Honorable William Nassau Kennedy. The late Colonel Kennedy was an old Peterborough boy and attached to the 57th Battalion. He was among the first volunteers to go from Peterborough to take part against the Reil Rebellion. After the rebellion he settled in the west and was one of the founders of Winnipeg. He became colonel of the 90th Winnipeg Rifles.

He was in command of Canadian voyageurs with the Nile expedition under Lord Wolseley when an effort was made to reach Gordon of Khartoum. On his way back to Canada via England one of his men was stricken with smallpox. He nursed the sick man back to health but contracted the disease himself and died. He was burried with high military honors, Queen Victoria sending her representative, in Highgate Cemetery, England, where his grave is marked by a monument bearing the laurel crest of his battalion, the 90th, also the Maple Leaf and Beaver.

In view of these facts my mother believes this portrait would be acceptable to your battalion.

Yours respectfully,
ALF. H. COX,
Toronto.

On receiving the portrait which will be added to the mural decorations in the Officers' Mess, a vote of thanks was passed and the officer commanding instructed to reply.

The following orders were issued:

Headquarters,
Peterborough, April 13, 1915.

Orders by O. C. 57th Regt. P. R.

1. Detail of duty for week ending April 20th, 1915. Captain for week, Capt. Watt, next for duty Capt. McPherson. Subaltern for the week, Lieut. Gemmell.

2. A class for recruits will be held on Thursday, April 15th, at 8 p.m.,

Building Wrecked by an Explosion

Men Running From House Hurried off in Auto

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Vancouver, B.C., April 14. — An explosion at number 1700 Third Avenue west late last night wrecked the building, causing death to at least one inmate and injury to several others.

At the moment of the explosion, two men were seen running from the house and jumping into an automobile, quickly drove off.

Rev. T. J. Robinson and Family Were Very Popular

Every available foot of space was occupied and numbers were turned away, when Rev. T. J. Robinson preached his farewell sermon to the congregation of Burns Presbyterian Church, Milverton. During the past few days Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have been the recipients of a number of gifts from various organizations of the church. Their three children have also been given articles to remind them of their stay in Milverton.

Mr. Robinson is the new minister for Lakefield Presbyterian Church. He will be inducted tonight.

THE GLOBE ON THE BOOT SCANDAL.

IN ANOTHER column we reprint a leading editorial from the Toronto Globe on the Boot Scandal, which we would advise all our readers to read. It completely exonerates the Government from corruption, dishonest practices, or anything of that sort. It says mistakes have been made, and no one denies that. No doubt there have been some mole-eyed officials incompetent for their jobs, and some of these were appointees of the late Laurier administration.

The Globe does not spare the Minister of Militia, whom it charges with responsibility for the issuing from his Department of unsuitable shoes after repeated warnings had been given. Until the Minister is heard on this point, judgment should be reserved, but, in any case, while a minister is technically responsible for his department, the minister can hardly be blamed for mistakes that required an extraordinary state of affairs to bring into being. Prefacing all criticism of the Minister of Militia, there must be, to be fair, a consideration of a state of war, for which no part of the Goernment or the country was prepared. There must also be considered the speed with which the first contingent was equipped, and that thousands of pairs of shoes were ordered during the equipping of the first contingent that were intended for future contingents. These supplies would be on hand, and would have to be issued until the better boots could be delivered. Nothing of this condition appears in the Globe's article, nor have we read it in the newspapers. Moreover, a great number of details are of necessity left to under officials, so that, as we have said, the responsibility of the Minister himself, under the great pressure of the time, is very much limited. Those who were guilty of wrongdoing are to be punished. The importance of the Globe's article is that it frees the Government from any shady connection with the affairs, and blames it on the incompetence of those in charge of the various offices concerned.

JITNEY 'BUSSES IN MONTREAL.

A JITNEY 'BUS service started in Montreal on Monday. It began with a parade and a display of pennants. Clean practices, good services and no crowding is the motto of the new association. The opening days saw crowded cars, and it is evident the jitney in Montreal has rolled into public favour at once, as it has done in other cities. They sell six tickets for a quarter and give a delightful ride in the open air.

Just here it seems that a fortune is in store for the man in Peterborough who inaugurates a jitney service. There is East City, with a large number of people, who nearly all have to cross the river to work or to buy or to go to the post office, and there is no public conveyance for them. They cannot take a street car across the river. They have to provide their own automobile or walk. An efficient jitney service would, we think, be a profitable and beneficial innovation in Peterborough, especially in view of the coming season, when a larger number of tourists than usual is expected to be seeking Canadian summer resorts.

THOSE CHICAGO ELECTIONS.

THERE SEEMS to be some difference of opinion over the Review's article on the Chicago elections. There seems to be an idea that it was merely a racial issue between Sweitzer and Thompson, and this is not the case. Sweitzer was a Catholic, and sixty per cent. of the vote in Chicago is Catholic. It is also true that there is a large population of German Catholics there, but the appeal to religious prejudices was patently made to swing the Catholic vote. Of course, it is obvious that there would also be an appeal to racial prejudices, and that the German race would be pitted against the Americans of British descent. The New York Sun, a very carefully and well-edited American newspaper, was authority for pointing out how much emphasis the Democratic party placed on the religious aspect of the campaign. That such an appeal received so little support speaks well, as we have said, for the good sense of the electorate.

VIEWING IT MILDLY.

IT IS interesting to note how mildly some of Germany's depredations are viewed in the United States. Germany's claim that foodstuffs not destined for armies in the field must not be treated as contraband of war by the Allies is weakened if not totally destroyed by the seizure and sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, by the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, says an American newspaper. This American ship was carrying a cargo of wheat from an American to a British port in the course of ordinary trade. Its destruction was contrary to the recognized rules of international law and the Declaration of London, which Germany has been asking the United States to make the Allies observe. It was, therefore, an act of war, but the tension will be relieved by the presence of the offending cruiser in an American port, where she can be libelled and seized if the German Government does not pay damages promptly.

This cruiser presumably had instructions to seize and destroy neutral ships in this way, otherwise no captain would have taken such a chance of involving his government in another war. Great Britain now has the excuse she needed for seizing cargoes of cotton, food, or anything else destined for Germany, and the position of the latter will be weakened should these disputes be referred to arbitration after the war is over.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

WE OBSERVE that the Toronto News puts its weddings beside a thriller entitled "The Destroyer." Possibly for contrast, but does it not strike you as singularly appropriate?

CANADIAN officer shot through the heart with an arrow, says one of our special cables. Later—He was wedded in London. We presume his German foe was in this case a little cupid.

WE DO NOT often draw attention to poetry, but we reprint below a few verses distinctly of a high order. You have heard of Tipperary, but it is doubtful is any song or poem sings its praises better than the lines of Denis A. McCarthy, that have been before the public now for some years.

AH, SWEET IS TIPPERARY.

(Denis A. McCarthy.)

Ah, sweet is Tipperary in the springtime of the year,
When the hawthorn's whiter than the snow,
When the feathered folk assemble and the air is all a-tremble
With their singing, and their winging to and fro;
When queenly Slieve-na-mon puts her verdant vesture on,
And smiles to hear the news the breezes bring;
When the sun begins to glance on the rivulets that dance—
Ah, sweet is Tipperary in the spring!

Ah, sweet is Tipperary in the springtime of the year,
When the mists are rising from the lea,
When the Golden Vale is smiling with a beauty all beguiling
And the Suir goes crooning to the sea;
When the shadows and the showers only multiply the flowers,
That the lavish hand of May will fling;
When, in unfrequented ways, fair music softly plays—
Ah, sweet is Tipperary in the spring!

Opinions From Other Newspapers

A Remarkable Birthday.

(St. John Globe.)

Never has monarch celebrated his birthday under more remarkable circumstances than does King Albert. Practically without a kingdom, his people starving and fugitives, and the remnant of his army struggling to repel the invaders, King Albert will find little cause for rejoicing on this occasion. From the day that he ascended the throne, the noble qualities of the ruler commanded the respect and admiration of the world, while the determined resistance with which he led the Belgians against the German invaders enhanced this favourable impression.

Worse Than the Alabama.

(Toronto Telegram.)

The case of the Prince Friderich Eitel may be differentiated from the case of the Alabama by the technicalities of international law. But the facilities given by the United States authorities to the Prince Friedrich Eitel in its course of preparation for a raid on British shipping were even more generous than those given by the British authorities to the Confederate cruiser Alabama.

Bad Bargains.

Boots, bicycles, binoculars and bandages—quite an alliterative line up, isn't it? And every one of these b's stung the country!

Book Reviews And Literary News

"THE VALLEY OF FEAR."

(By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.)

THIS is the title of the latest novel of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and it is published by Messrs. Hodder and Stoughton in a well-bound, well-printed and handsomely-illustrated volume.

The main character is, as usual, Sherlock Holmes, and this latest setting of the famous detective has lost none of the old charm and thrill which first made the author famous. In this book, however, is introduced another detective, an American, causing an intense interest to the very last page.

A terrible murder has taken place in the Birlstone Manor House, Sussex, England. Holmes has been mysteriously forewarned of trouble when he is informed by Scotland Yard that Mr. Douglas, master of Birlstone, has been killed in his own manor house. Holmes starts to investigate, and a couple of small matters, like the time when the murder took place and a missing dumbbell, both overlooked by the police, starts him clearing up the mystery and producing Mr. Douglas.

But the dead body, you ask, that had all the identification marks of Mr. Douglas of Birlstone? Ah! That is another story, occupying about half the book, the scene of which is laid in America, in the coal fields of Pennsylvania. It describes the doings of a secret society that was quite beneficial save in the Vermissa Valley, where it was controlled by a gang of blackmailers and murderers who terrorized the whole district. How this gang was broken up is told in a clear, interesting and very dramatic way. One of them sought revenge on the Pinkerton man who did it, and who afterwards settled in Sussex as Mr. Douglas of Birlstone. But his revenge was turned on his own head.

There is a thread of romance through the book, but romance is not the motive behind the big events described. It is secondary here as in most of the Sherlock Holmes novels. There is little description. Even to such a fine subject for description as the old Manor House, the author has devoted only one or two short paragraphs, but at the same time they are sufficient to stimulate the imagination and call up a picture of this historic building. The real description is in the events, particularly the details of the events taking place in the Vermissa Valley—called the Valley of Fear. It is up to the mark of Conan Doyle's best work, but is different from his usual story of Sherlock Holmes' adventures. It is a very readable book, with a good purpose through it, and a tribute to the value of history.

THE GLOBE ON THE BOOT SCANDLE

(Editorial from The Globe.)

There are two sides to the boot scandal. Some contractors undoubtedly failed to give value for the money received from the country, and scamped the manufacture of the boots entrusted to them. It is recorded in the evidence that a very considerable proportion of the shoes which failed to pass inspection came from the factory of a particular manufacturer, and it is reasonable to assume that in the case of that consignment at all events no endeavor had been made to live up to the requirements of the contract. The boot scandal, however, has a more serious side than that revealed by evidence as to the delinquencies of contractors. Admitting the general accuracy of the statement of the Conservative members of the Army Boot Committee that the boots turned in by contractors 'substantially complied with the samples provided or approved by the Department, according to which the boots were to be made," the Militia Department must shoulder the blame for the notorious and deplorable failure of the boots served out to our soldiers since August last for service at the front and in the training camps in Canada. If the contractors, generally speaking, produced the boot the Government desired, then the officials of the Militia Department and the Minister himself must assume the blame for the conditions known to exist.

There was ample warning as to what would happen if our soldiers were sent upon active service with the light-brown leather boot used by the Canadian permanent force for barracks wear. Alfred Minister, a practical shoe manufacturer, in the month of September, upon being called down to Ottawa by request of the Department to make a bid for the manufacture of army shoes, looked over the sample boot shown him by an official, and declined to supply boots of a like sort because he "did not want to make money out of men's lives." This incident is recorded in the sworn testimony taken by the committee. In the same month another manufacturer condemned the "last" specified by the Department, and announced that "shoes made upon it would not fit anybody." Still another manufacturer said the boot never was intended for active service conditions.

It was not long before these predictions were fulfilled. The men of the first contingent were sent to England wearing the light boot. The uppers were of brown leather, in the manufacture of which no dubbing had been used. Naturally when the leather was subjected to moisture it absorbed water like a sponge. In Canada the fall rains and early snow played havoc with the "parade" boots, but on Salisbury Plain, where it rained almost every day, the result was deplorable. The troops reached England about mid-October. By November 19 General Alderson, the Imperial officer in command of the Canadian contingent, felt it to be his duty to cable to the Militia Department at Ottawa saying that "the boots now being issued to the contingent are not suitable for rough wear in wet weather." He asked for authority to purchase boots in England. The Department cabled in reply that it was sending on 48,000 pairs of overshoes. On December 5 General Alderson decided that it was necessary to speak plainly about the boots that were endangering the health and efficiency of the men under his command. He cabled: "It has been found that overshoes do not compensate for faulty construction of boots; some pairs are useless after ten days' wear."

Sir George Perley, the Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, had also tried to awaken the Government to a sense of its duty. On November 24 he had sent a cable to the Prime Minister direct, notifying Sir Robert that "the authorities consider Canadian boots too light altogether. Say only heavy boots adapted to camping. Find general complaint on this account regarding boots given our Canadian contingent. Stated they will not stand mud and water and heavy work. Consider overshoes impracticable, as they are heavy to walk in and will last only a short time on heavy roads. In my opinion next contingent should be provided with boots made on regulation army pattern."

The core of the boot scandal is to be found in the rejection of these urgent appeals to cease issuing a boot that had been tried and found wanting. Regimental Boards in Canada were saying the very same thing as General Alderson and Sir George Perley, but because the country had an obstinate and self-willed Minister of Militia and a group of mole-eyed officials at Headquarters no change was made. In March contractors were still delivering for the use of Canada's soldiers a type of boot condemned so long ago as November by the men most competent to judge of its value under service conditions. That is the real bootscandal. If we accept the report of the majority of the Boot Committee and concede that the contractors generally made the boots they were asked to make, the responsibility of the Government for the conditions shown to exist becomes clear and inescapable. The "shoddy" boots lie on the doorstep of Sir Robert Borden. That he took no action between the date of Sir George Perley's cable and the assembling of Parliament is almost unbelievable. Yet the records show that four months after its receipt the Department was still accepting and serving out the boots so emphatically condemned by the High Commissioner, who is himself a member of Sir Robert Borden's Government.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Editor Review,

Dear Sir,—There was a letter in your paper on bi-lingualism, that is right. The whole French-Canadian race in Canada, clergy, laity and politicians and even the women and children are all gone crazy on the wish to have French equal in every respect and place with English. It means that all public documents from an act of parliament to a tax-paper or local by-law in a village or on a side-line will all have to be printed in French as well as English. It will be the same in the churches. Now no one objects to any man speaking what language he likes but why make it compulsory to have it printed everywhere just the same as the old language of the people who won this country. The Conservatives want to go to the country to side-step it as well as to punish the Senate which is nothing but a body not responsible in any way to the people and it can make and unmake laws when it likes. We used to laugh at the House of Lords but this is fifty times worse. Make the Senate elective or let it have only one chance to vote a bill. But letting a lot of old political hacks and haters wreak vengeance on the country is too much.

Yours,

READER.

WOMEN WANT TO HELP.

Thirty-Three Thousand Have Volunteered For Special War Service.

LONDON, April 14.—Thirty-three thousand women had registered themselves for special war service up to the end of March. This statement was made last night by Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, to a deputation representing the various women's societies in London.

Six thousand of the women, Mr. Runciman said, had declared themselves willing to work in armament factories, 1,700 in dairy work, 500 as gardeners, 2,000 in various branches of agricultural work, 1,100 as shop assistants, 500 as leather workers and 5,000 in clerical work. Six hundred women had been given employment at the Board of Trade, Mr. Runciman added.

FAN BROUGHT $1,650.

Sale and Resale of Queen Mary's Gift Causes Excitement.

LONDON, April 14.—The crowning incident of yesterday's auction sale at Christie's, in aid of the Red Cross Funds, was the sale and resale of a fan presented by Queen Mary. The production of the fan by the auctioneer was the signal for applause from the crowded room, and this increased in volume as the bidding rose rapidly from $50 to $950. At this figure it was knocked down, but the purchaser, amid applause, at once offered it for further auction, expressing the hope that it would fetch more than she had given for it. Somebody began the second bidding for the Queen's gift at $500, and amid enthusiasm unusual in an auction room it went up to $700, at which price the hammer fell.

The much-coveted treasure was a tortoise-shell fan set with her Majesty's monogram in diamonds surmounted by a gold crown. Thus the Queen's fan realized $1,650 for the fund.

FIVE LIVES LOST.

Two Explosions and Fire Caused Heavy Loss at Lerwick.

LONDON, April 14.—At least five persons were killed and more than forty hurt, many of them fatally, in the terrible explosion at Lerwick yesterday. A press agency despatch from there says:

"An explosion occurred in a store near the fish market. Fire followed, causing a tremendous explosion of gun cotton in the naval station. Many houses were destroyed and the fish market gutted by fire. Four men and a boy were blown to pieces and more than forty hurt.

"A military investigation is under way."

British Slain By Own Guns.

LONDON, April 14.—Rumors ascribing heavy British loss at Neuve Chapelle to some extent to British artillery are finding their way into print.

It is said the artillery was directed to fire at certain points, but owing to a deranged field telephone service and a land fog the angle of fire was not raised when the impetuous troops took the German lines.

Life Insurance in a Crisis

Every time a great Crisis occurs LIFE INSURANCE has an opportunity to show what a giant of strength it is. Tremendous burdens are placed upon its shoulders, but it never shirks, never hesitates or groans.

When the Titanic took its awful plunge, carrying 1,500 human souls into the deep, thousands of widows and orphans were left throughout the world. LIFE INSURANCE accepted the burden without the quiver of a muscle, and spread its protection around the Globe.

When seven years ago the financial world was laboring under an attack of indigestion due to undigested securities, and people could not get even their own money out of the Savings Banks, LIFE INSURANCE furnished spot cash to its policy-holders upon application.

Today, when a gigantic struggle wages across the Seas, and it is difficult to get loans from banks or money lenders, they find the solution again in LIFE INSURANCE.

It is today saving thousands of men all over the world, not only embarrassment, but actual failure.

LIFE INSURANCE protects your wife and family.
" " will meet their needs when you are gone.
" " is always a resource.
" " contributes to your estate.
" " increases your savings.
" " increases the savings habit.

Money invested in LIFE INSURANCE is sure to come back to you or your family.

Your credit is made better by the amount of LIFE INSURANCE you carry.

The need of LIFE INSURANCE to every man with a family is as fixed as the daily need for bread, and that need is well met by a policy in

TWO KINDS OF SOVEREIGNS

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN.

Aaron Skinner, an American, traveling abroad, found himself one day at a little inn in the dukedom of Hesse-Meiningen. It was the fall of the year, and Skinner was a Nimrod.

"Any shooting about here?" he asked of the landlord.

"A little, herr—that is, the preserves of the grand duke are near here, and sometimes the birds fly out into the woods near by. One can occasionally pick off a brace that have strayed."

"Can you lend me a fowling piece?"

"Certainly, herr."

The landlord got the gun and appurtenances and handed them to the American, saying:

"Be careful, herr, not to trespass on the grand duke's grounds, for if caught there you would be arrested for poaching, and it might go hard with you."

Skinner went forth to pick up "a few crumbs from the rich man's table." One may stray a long way after game without knowing it, and he had been wandering an hour without realizing how far he had gone or how many walls or fences he had passed over when suddenly, having crawled under a rusty wire netting, he found himself amid a plentiful supply of pheasants. He had brought one down and was picking it up when, hearing a footstep, he looked around and saw a man with a gun in his hand looking at him.

"A good shot," remarked the other.

"Oh, that's nothing. I learned to shoot in America, where we still have some wild game left. That's shooting. This is merely execution."

"Indeed! How do you happen to be executing birds here?"

"I am a tourist, stopping at the inn. The landlord told me I might happen to get a few birds in this wood that have flown out of the grand duke's preserve. The duke seems to be losing a good many hereabout."

"He can spare them; he has more than he could shoot in a lifetime. So you are an American?"

"I am."

"And every American is a sovereign I hear."

"He thinks he is."

"What do you mean by that?"

"Didn't you know that we have kings and queens in America?"

"No; how do you make that out?"

"An American king is the political boss controlling the region in which he lives."

"And the queen?"

"Our queens are our wives and sweethearts. The boss makes a man believe he has a lot to say about the government, and the wives and sweethearts make us think we are ruling them with undisputed sway."

"And you think that the sovereignty of the boss is preferable to that of a king?"

"Decidedly. He doesn't have a royal family to support."

"But he bleeds you through jobs."

"Certainly, but he can't plunge us into a war whenever he likes, which is far more expensive."

The man smiled. "You have a pungent way of putting things, my friend. I confess you entertain me. I have a shack near here. I would be pleased to have you take luncheon with me."

"With pleasure."

Stuffing the bird he had shot into his game bag he went with the man through the wood till he came to a sumptuous lodge, about which persons in gorgeous livery were moving. When the huntsmen came up to them they saluted respectfully, and the man told one of them to take the guest to a room for a toilet. When the visitor was ready the two sat down to luncheon. The principal dish served was a brace of pheasants.

"I presume these birds originally belonged to the grand duke," remarked Skinner.

"They did."

"What kind of a chap is he?"

"He's not a bad fellow. Suppose I were to go to America. Do you suppose I could become one of your boss kings?"

"I don't think it would pay you to be one of our princes of the blood. They usually originate, like the oyster, on a muddy bottom and work up to a surface of slime."

"But don't you object to being governed by such persons?"

"Oh, no. At least nobody does except the reformers."

"Who are the reformers?"

"They are the persons who are trying to get into the bosses' places."

"But haven't you any real reformers in America?"

"Not ordinarily. The people haven't time for reform; we're too busy. Occasionally on a big job, like breaking up swindling places, races, for instance, we all butt against it together. But we don't follow it up. We're rich. We can afford to stand to be robbed."

"Then you don't think it would pay me to give up my job here and go to America as one of the rulers there?"

"What is your job?"

"Grand Duke of Hesse-Meiningen."

Skinner was raising a glass of wine to his lips when this announcement was made. He paused and looked at his entertainer.

"And I was shooting in your preserves?"

"Yes. You had doubtless got into them unintentionally, but you were quite welcome."

"No," said Skinner after some thought, "it wouldn't pay you, and it wouldn't pay us."

SMART COAT.

High Waisted and With a Flaring Skirt Is Girl's Garment.

ATTRACTIVE COAT FOR YOUNG GIRL.

The twelve-year-old girl will find this coat very much to her liking. It is high waisted, with a wide belt of the same material and a covered buckle of blue moire silk. The collar and cuffs are also of moire silk.

White shoes and stockings are worn with this pretty spring creation, which shows also, as does the companion illustration, the liking this season for black and white.

Worn with this coat is a blue silk and straw hat trimmed with cherries.

HOME DECORATION.

Lace Is Important In House Adornment, So 'Tis Said.

Lace assumes more and more an important place in the domain of home furnishings. It is so important that upholsterers have to employ lacemakers and are obliged to make lace purchases on a considerable scale.

Among other things, pianos and windows are draped with lace.

The renaissance combines with lace of quite modern origin. And combining with all and second to none in fashion or effect is the old fashioned crochet. The present taste for crochet denotes a remarkable revival in this kind of thing.

Another revival besides it and making common cause with house and especially drawing room decorations is the equally old fashioned netting. For long years past this species of handwork has been left almost exclusively to fishermen and their industrious wives.

It served for fishing nets, and that was about all. But now it is coming back as fast as it can to the place it occupied, let us say, a hundred years ago, in the repertoire of fancy work for women.

Then was the time when dainty slipper cased feet were put forward and used in the service of the kind of fancy work known as knitting. Now machinery does a great deal of the work which human fingers, aided by the foot, used to do.

But whether wrought by fingers or machinery, it remains a fact that old fashioned netting is a distinct revival and that its presence in drawing rooms throws an air of fashion around them. The effects of embroidery upon it are now more artistic than of yore, nature as well as pictures often serving as models.

FADS AND FANCIES.

Boudoir caps have large bows made of wide ribbon.

Organdie will be a great favorite in cotton materials.

Simplicity is the keynote of the new shirt waist styles.

Dainty muslin collars, berthas and ruffles, recalling the mid-Victorian days, are among novel neckwear for spring.

New crocheted scarfs are being done with irregular patterns which suggest the art nouveau designs that come from Vienna.

Lay up a little for a rainy day. The banker needs it in his business.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Signs that pointed to a falling off in cash demand more than wiped out today an early advance in the price of wheat. Quotations at the close were weak, ¼c to ⅜c under last night. Other leading staples, too, showed a net decline—corn ½c to to ⅝c, oats ⅛c to ⅜c and provisions 5c to 20c.

Speculators were not slow to draw the inference that sales of wheat to go into store here implied an absence of cash demand. Whether or not the conclusion was correct, the fact remained that the impression created was bearish, regardless also of whether the sales to go to store were merely for effect or not. There could be no doubt either that a number of active houses were well supplied with selling orders in both May and July options, after the market at the start had taken a somewhat decided upward swing, owing to Liverpool advices of a threatened decrease in stocks.

Increased offerings from the country pulled down corn. At first the market evinced a disposition to advance with wheat, but it did not take much of a bulge to invite selling pressure.

Favorable weather for seeding and growth brought about an easy feeling in regard to oats. Shipping inquiry was not of an urgent kind.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

TORONTO, April 13.—Quotations on the Board of Trade are as follows:

Manitoba wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.61½, lake ports; No. 2, $1.60¾; No. 3, $1.58.

Ontario oats—White, outside, 57c to 60c.

Ontario wheat—No. 2, per car lot, $1.35 to $1.40.

American corn—No. 3 yellow, all-rail shipments, Toronto freights, 82c.

Peas—No. 2, $1.75 to $1.80, car lots, outside, nominal.

Rye—No. 2, outside, $1 to $1.10.

Barley—Good malting barley outside, 73c to 75c.

Rolled oats—Car lots, per bag of 90 lbs., $3.40; in smaller lots, $3.50 to $3.55, Windsor to Montreal.

Millfeed—Car lots, per ton: Bran, $26 to $27; shorts, $28 to $29; middlings, $33 to $34; good feed flour, $38 to $39.

Buckwheat—80c to 82c, car lots, outside.

Manitoba flour—First patents, $7.70 in jute bags; second patents $7.20 in jute bags; strong bakers' $7; in cotton bags, 10c more.

Ontario flour—Winter, 90 per cent. patents, $5.80; seaboard, $5.90, Toronto freights, in bags.

Cornmeal—Yellow, 98-lb. sacks, in car lots, $2.20; small lots, $2.30 to $2.40.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 13.—Wheat futures opened ½c to ⅝c up, oats ¼c higher, and flax ⅝c to ⅝c up. Trading was quiet and of light dimensions, the attitude taken by the members being one of waiting.

There was an excellent demand for spot wheat on all grades, but little enquiry for opening of navigation. Spot No. C.W. was in demand. Offerings of wheat and oats for the opening were fairly heavy. Buyers of spot wheat and oats were principally exporting houses. While there was an enquiry for export, there were no sales reported.

Total inspections Monday, 606 cars, and in sight today 260 cars.

Wheat futures closed ¼c higher, cash ¼c to ½c up, oats ⅜c up and flax unchanged.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 13.—There was considerable enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat for both May-June and July-August shipment, but owing to the scarcity of ocean grain room and the fact that most of the bids were 1c to 1c per bushel below cost, no business resulted. The local trade in coarse grains continues quiet, and prices are unchanged. The foreign demand for spring wheat flour was better, and a little more business was done for May-June shipment, but the local market is still very quiet. Demand for millfeed continues good.

There is an easier undertone to the butter market, owing to the larger arrivals from the United States, which have relieved the temporary scarcity.

Demand for cheese is fair.

An active trade continues to be done in eggs at steady prices.

CATTLE MARKETS

Cookery Points

Dainty School Sandwiches.

Following are a few delicious sandwiches that will doubtless prove a welcome addition to the school lunch box of any boy or girl:

Olive Sandwiches.—Slightly butter thin slices of whole wheat bread; moisten chopped olives with mayonnaise dressing and spread upon the buttered slices; spread other slices with cream cheese and press together in pairs.

Peanut Sandwiches.—Chop freshly roasted peanuts; pound them in a mortar until smooth and season with salt. Serve on lettuce leaf between buttered white bread.

Fruit Sandwiches.—Cut bread white, brown and graham, as thin as possible. Use four or five pieces in each sandwich, putting them together so that the colors will contrast. Apple butter, peanut butter, honey or jam, spread thin, may be used as filling.

Fig Sandwiches.—Chop one fourth of a pound of figs fine, add one fourth of a cup of water, cook to a smooth paste. Add a few almonds, chopped fine. When cold spread the mixture upon whole wheat bread. Raisins, dates or marmalade may be used in place of the figs. The marmalade, of course, requires no cooking.

Fancy Cheese Sandwich.—Spread fresh bread with butter, over this spread a layer of Brie or other cream cheese, and over the cheese spread a layer of honey. Press two similarly shaped pieces together and serve at once.

Facts About Soup.

Soups cannot be made in a hurry.

All remnants of meat, bones, bacon rind, and left over bits of meat of every description may be used to make stock, which is the foundation of all soups.

Stock must be frequently skimmed during the early stage of the proceedings.

Never allow stock or soup to cool in the saucepan. The liquid should be poured off and strained into an earthenware bowl.

The bones should be boiled for two or three hours and all the scum removed before the vegetables are added, which should be simmered until tender.

Do not overboil soup, as this spoils the flavor.

Conundrums.

Why should a shoemaker be prosperous? Because he always has "awl" he wants.

Why should a shoemaker be rich? Because his works are soled before they are finished.

Using Stale Bread.

Brown in oven every scrap of stale bread that is left, but don't scorch. Roll while hot and crisp, and sift. Use the fine crumbs for croquettes, etc.; the coarser for puddings, etc. Keep dry in glass jars or tin cans.

OLDEST RATCATCHER DIES.

London papers find space for extended notice of the death of John Dalton, the oldest rat atcher in the country. He died at Southwark in his 91st year. Dalton came of a family which for over 200 years has carried on a rat-catching business in Southwark. They discarded the use of poison and had a secret method of enticing the rats from their retreats and killing them. The secret was handed down from father to son, and jealously guarded. Thirty years ago the elder Dalton retired and left his business and his family secret to his son, John.

The Daltons held contracts with the leading railway, steamship and dock companies, and their captures often ran into thousands. The elder Dalton travelled to his work in an aristocratic landau, and was often seen in London emerging from the big London hotels in his fine clothse, but with a bag of rats in his hands, which he turned over to the coachman.

He was a prominent follower of sports a generation ago, and often hobnobbed with kings and princes in the sporting rendezvous which they visited on their trips to London. The funeral of Dalton was "attended by all the chief rat-catchers in London."

Donald Kerr, aged 79 years, a farmer, while suffering intense pain from a prolonged illness, drowned himself in a cistern at his home at Kincardine.

A time bomb was placed in the seven-storey plant of the Cudahy Packing Co. at Kansas City, and wrecked it, with a damage of $750,000. It was at first believed the terrific explosion was caused by ammonia in the cooling pipes.

INTERVENTION IS NOW CERTAIN

Italian Cabinet Has Decided Important War Measures

LONDON, April 14.—An order is printed in The Military Journal of Rome directing all Italian army officers to dull the metal on their uniforms and the scabbards of their swords. This is a measure which usually is adopted on the eve of war.

After receiving a warning from the Minister of War that in case of mobilization the public schools could be used to house troops, the municipal council met Monday night to discuss what measures would be taken in such an emergency. It was decided to have school sessions continued in hired buildings, substituting women for male teachers who would be called to the colors. It also was decided that so far as possible street cars and other public utilities would be operated by women, provided mobilization resulted in a shortage of male employes.

The Daily News publishes the following from its correspondent in Rome:

The Cabinet Council yesterday decided several important military measures, the nature of which is withheld, but they are undoubtedly connected with Italian intervention in the war, which any Austro-German effort now is absolutely powerless to avert.

I am informed from an authoritative source that negotiations have been successfully initiated between the allies and Italy as a prelude to the settlement of various questions, which it is necessary to decide before the intervention comes.

The most important of these questions is that of a Serbian port on the Adriatic. This has been practically solved and Italy's rights fully recognized, aspirations guaranteed and the protection of her interests assured.

The time when Italy will join the allies is not far distant, but it is not likely to be prolonged beyond the beginning of May.

It is possible that intervention may be announced when Parliament reopens on May 12, although, according to the Constitution, the King is entitled to declare war, the Parliament's opproval not being necessary.

The Paris Temps says the Italian Government has removed all the art treasures from the museums and churches in Venice to Florence, in the belief that an Austrian fleet would bombard Venice if war is declared. The newspaper says the transfer took place at night in order that the population might not be alarmed.

It is thought that a body found in the Thames river ten miles below Chatham is that of Fred Rice, a farm hand.

VOTES' BILL IS HELD UP

Liberals Responsible for Slow Progress

OTTAWA, April 14.—The House in committe of the whole spent the entire day and evening upon the soldiers' vote bill. The measure will no doubt get through committee stages and come up for third reading to-day. Judge Doherty, the Minister of Justice, has been slowly piloting the bill through committee representing the Government in the many debates of the day, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Hon. Frank Oliver and other leading Liberals participated.

The discussion was desultory throughout. The strong point insistently urged by the Opposition was the necessity of votes in the field being taken under the direct supervision of a Government commission. Mr. Pugsley suggested a commission of three, one to be selected by the Prime Minister, another by the leader of the Opposition, and the third by these two, or in case of their disagreement, by the Chief Justice of Canada. He said that Parliament could not impose any duties upon officers of the British army. In this connection, he also suggested that the whole bill be referred to a small committee.

Judge Doherty, on behalf of the Government, rejected the commission idea, but declared his willingness to incorporate almost any amendment that might be suggested, which would not destroy the principle of the proposed legislation. It was of no use, however, he said, to propose a smaller committee unless the Opposition would give up their contention that a commission must be appointed. In this connection the Minister stated that the section in the reprinted bill providing for the sending of scrutineers abroad would be withdrawn.

Mr. Verville (Maisonneuve) pressed for an amendment to the bill which would permit railway men to appear before the deputy returning officer and cast their votes either on election day or on the day previous to the election.

After some discussion the amendment was declared out of order.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier made the point that the oath to be administered to the soldier by his commanding officer would have no legal effect. If it was a false oath, he could not be prosecuted for perjury. This was conceded by Judge Doherty, who insisted that administering the oath would bind the conscience of the volunteer even though no penal sanction attached thereto.

Mr. Turgeon (Gloucester, N. B.) thought the bill should go over until the next session. If the measure were pushed through at this time it would give notice to the country that Canada was on the eve of a general election.

Many minor amendments were suggested and accepted by the Government and Judge Doherty amended section 2 of the bill, which relates to the vote in the field in several respects. Indeed so many changes were made although nearly all of them were of little importance, that Mr. Pugsley described the bill as "kaleidoscopic."

Mr. Pugsley offered an amendment providing that the bill should not become operative so far as voting at the front was concerned unless and until it was approved by the British Secretary of State for War. This the Government refused to accept after a prolonged discussion. Notice was given that the same amendment would be moved on third reading.

J. G. Turriff said the bill would be waste paper unless it did meet with the approval of Lord Kitchener. He suggested that the election be deferred until after the war, even though an amendment to the B. N. A. Act be required.

Section two containing nine clauses and dealing with the voting outside of Canada was then adopted.

Wrong Idea of Deity.

TOKIO, April 14.—Addressing a well-attended meeting of Japanese and foreign Christians held in Tokio yesterday, to inaugurate an evangelistic movement preparatory to the International Sunday School Convention of 1916, the Premier made reference to the situation in Europe when he said: "There must be a wrong conception of the Deity in Germany; otherwise this war could not have come."

"One of You Must Come Home."

LONDON, April 14.—The following story is told by The Sheffield Daily Telegraph: "K. of K." heard that a distinguished and recently married officer was being visited by his wife at his headquarters in the field. "One of you must come home," was Lord Kitchener's wire.

Medical Health Officer for North Monaghan Asks for Increase

TOWNSHIP MATTERS

Bring About Late Session of Reeve and Councillors

The North Monaghan Council met at the court house on Monday, April 12. It was nearing the midnight hour when Council finally adjourned.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. Several deputations appeared before Council. Dr. Greer explained his duties as medical health officer and told of the sanitary conditions of the township. He said the sum fixed by township of $50 for his services was entirely inadequate for the work he had to do.

Reeve McIntosh said that complete harmony and co-operation should exist and said the council would deal with the matter.

Joseph Hopkins asked Council to do some road work on a hill near his place as he had been there 17 years and there never had been any work done in that time. He also complained of a neighbor's fence being on the road twenty feet. Moved by Messrs. Forster and Rye that road commissioner for R.R. No. 1 be authorized to repair the road complained of and also to look into the matter of the fence being out on the road and if this is found to be the case to notify the owner to move in to the proper line.

Arthur Reid asked Council for permission to put earth out of the cellar that he intends digging, into a ditch in front of his place on the road. He also asked Council to finish filling the ditch after he had placed what dirt he had into the same. Moved by Messrs Forster and Robson, that the reeve, Mr. Bell, and Mr. Rye be a committee to visit Mr. Reid's place and see the ditch in question and decide what is best to do.

Mr. Mumford of Sawyer-Massey Co., Hamilton, said he was informed that the township intended buying an engine to operate the stone crusher. Reeve McIntosh said township was not in a position to talk business this season.

Moved by Messrs. Rye and Bell that the clerk notify J. T. O'Connell to remove his fence back of St. Mary's street forthwith. Mr. Delide appeared personally in regard to this matter and Council had previously received a petition with the request.

Moved by Messrs. Rye and Robson that the clerk notify the City of Peterborough to stop immediately drawing sand or earth from North Monaghan from the new outfall sewer on King George Street. Also that the city be asked to give a statement as to who is going to fill King George street up to a level with the man hole on King George Street near Lock Street.

Offer of Settlement.

VICTORY FOR RUSSIANS NEAR USZOK

The Russians Capture Heights Along Ondawa River

PETROGRAD, April 14. — Extremely desperate fighting in the direction of Uszok Pass resulted in an important victory for Russian arms, the War Office announced last night. The fighting developed with great intensity from the direction of Bartfeld to the direction of Styr and Russian corps advanced along both banks of the Ondawa river, south of Stropko. Northwest of Telepotch, several heights were captured by a brilliant attack and nearer Uszok, the success won brought with it the possession of the heights in the regions of the villages of Bukovitz, Beneff and Vysokonizy. Twenty-seven hundred prisoners were captured by the Russians in this section, including 53 officers. The Russians also captured one piece of artillery and 20 machine guns.

The Austrians and Germans who have been hurried to the succor of their hard-pressed countrymen delivered a series of costly and impetuous attacks in great strength in attempt to harass the Russian communications on the heights south of Volosaate, especially in the region of Kosiouwka, and suffered enormous losses, and every huge onset ended in defeat.

Fighting has again been started in Bukowina, where the Russians have so far been content to stand on the defensive. The Austrians delivered furious attacks on an extended front in the direction of Zale Szezyky, north of Czernowitz, under cover of impenetrable darkness and in the midst of a torrential rainstorm. The Russians met these rushes with the bayonet and maintained their ground with success.

Germans continue to attack the Russians on the front west of the Niemen, but these are being repulsed as soon as delivered.

Great masses of German reinforcements are still attempting to save the desperate situation of the Austrian main army. The Bavarians, who were too late to prevent the Russians from occupying the entire ridge of the middle Carpathians from Mezrolbercz to Uszok Pass, have joined Gen. Litzinger's army, which is now composed of seven German corps, supported by Austrians from Transylvania. They have begun a formidable attack on the left wing of the Russian army which is invading Hungary. There has been terrific fighting since the end of last week for the possession of the mountain section of the Stryjmunkacz road.

It is believed that the Kaiser personally assured the Hungarian leaders that he would treat their cause as his own. He ordered his troops to yield nowhere. The personal impatience of the Kaiser in the face of the great strength of the Russian spring campaign now developing is seen in his insistance that Von Hindenburg should attempt another general attack from East Prussia.

The following official statement concerning the campaign on the western front was issued by the French War Office last night:

"The day was calm along the whole front. We maintained and consolidated our positions at the different points where we had made progress during the last eight days.

"Our aviators successfully bombarded military hangars at Vigneulles, in the Woevre, and dispersed, not far from Vigneulles, a battalion on the march."

BIG RAID BY ZEPPELINS

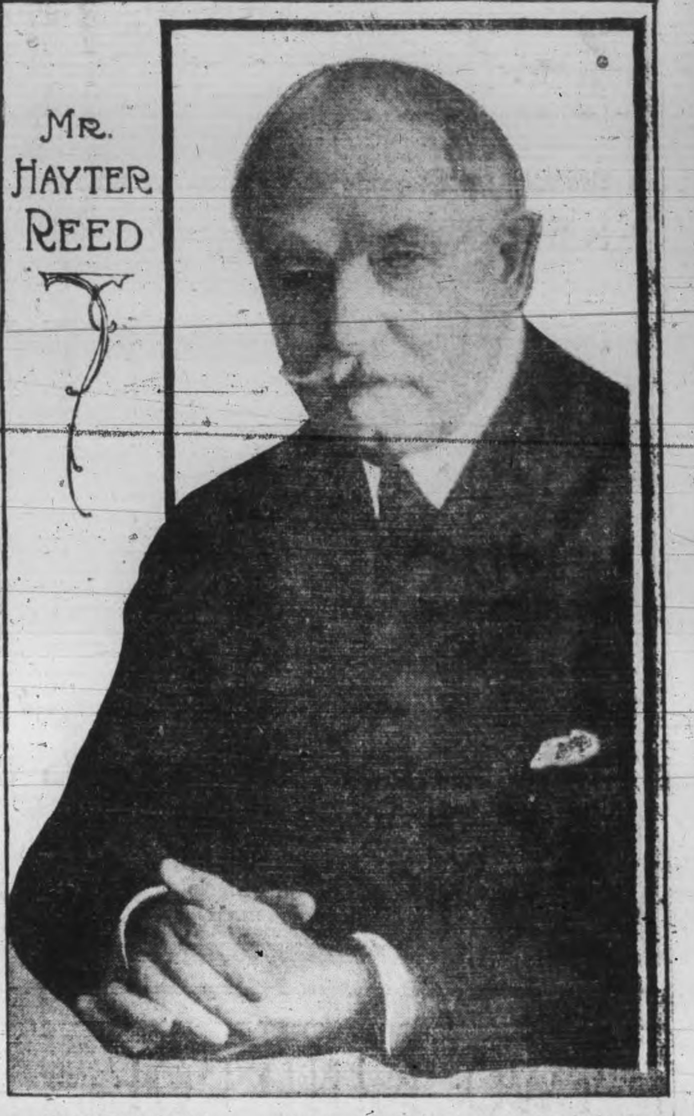
Scheduled for August Says Count

PARIS, April 14. — Count Zeppelin's secretary has made the following statement to a representative of the Constance Nachrichten: "Our air fleet now comprises 1,366 units, of which 36 are dirigibles. We have had far heavier losses than anticipated, but July 15 we are to deliver 15 airships of greatly-perfected type, each being armored and capable of carrying two tons of explosive. With these we shall be able to undertake safely London expeditions in the thickest fogs and on the blackest nights.

"We contemplate an excursion to London, not simply a reconnaissance like our recent Paris success, but a veritable war edition. We shall attack London with two squadrons of five dirigibles, regardless of possible losses. But we don't expect to undertake this great aerial attack until all new units are ready. That will be about August when the great offensive ordered by the Kaiser takes place. We shall employ a new process causing atmospheric perturbations which will make it impossible for the enemy machines to cross German lines without dropping like flies."

Russian Princes Escape.

GENEVA, April 14.—Two Russian princes and a Russian count have escaped from the Austrian detention camp at Milowitz. They are Prince Vladimir Jaswill, Prince Michel Wukotic, and Count Tolstoi, son of the writer. They were not on parole, and it is believed they have been successful in reaching the Russian lines. Count Tolstoi is 23 years of are.



MR. HAYTER REED, manager of the C. P. R. hotel system, has had a more varied and picturesque experience than falls to the lot of most. On the 1st of April he retires from active service. Mr. Reed was in the Northwest when that vast region was given over to wild Indians who were in a state of nature except for a breech clout; when the buffalo were in millions; when Fort Garry (now Winnipeg) was a trading post and held a few people; when there was neither town nor city but vast wilderness. Mr. Reed was acting brigade-major of the 6th military district in 1870; he was transferred to the Northwest force and stationed at Fort Garry, and he acted as its adjutant until its disbandment. Transferred to Indian Department, he rose, successively, to be Indian agent, assistant manager, commissioner, and deputy superintendent of Indian affairs for the Dominion, and retired in 1897. He was a member of the Northwest Council, and, for a time, acted as lieutenant-governor for the Territories. Fifteen years ago he entered the service of the Canadian Pacific, as manager of the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec, and became, in time, manager of the entire hotel system of the company.

In the course of some fugitive talk about his early days Mr. Reed said, "They could not keep the Indians on the reservation so long as the buffalo were on the plains. They used to set fire to the prairies, and then the buffalo would come north. I have seen them in millions on the plains. The Indians would stalk the buffalo on horseback, and then shoot what they wanted—throwing a knife or blanket beside the carcass to indicate ownership. Then the squaw, or squaws, for a good hunter always had more than one—would come in carts, which held their lares and penates—and skin the buffalo and bring to their encampment the best pieces of meat. That was their sole food, for the wild Indians grew nothing. They might eat wild parsnips, some of the varieties of which are very poisonous. That was their life until the buffalo disappeared; and the buffalo disappeared a little more quickly, at least on the American side, on account of the bounty offered for killing them."

Mr. Reed was a volunteer in 1870 under Lord Wolseley in connection with the Fenian Raids. He was on duty at Cornwall and the west in that connection; but his early experiences in the West, when that territory was a sort of No Man's Land, were full of vivid moments, which he promises to recall when he has time to spare for recollections of the past. Mr. Reed had the unique experience of taking part in the Riel Rebellions, and during the first he was captured by the Indians and held hostage for three days.

TEN MILES ON SCOUTING TRIP

British Destroyer Goes Into Enemy's Section of Dardanelles

LONDON, April 14. —Reuter's Tenedos correspondent, telegraphing Tuesday, says:

The British torpedo-boat destroyer Renard entered the Dardanelles Monday on a scouting mission, and ran up the straits at high speed for over ten miles, penetrating the waterway probably farther than any of the British ships have yet done. A heavy fire was directed at her, but the destroyer was not hit.

The British battleship London, which followed the Renard into the straits, drew most of the enemy's fire. The batteries on the Asiatic side, especially the howitzers behind Erenkeui, were active, but those on the European side were quiet. Possibly the Turks have withdrawn part of their artillery on the European side in order to be able to mass it quickly at any spot the allied armies may choose for a landing.

The battery bombarded by the Triumph Saturday apparently is permanently out of action.

The weather is rainy and murky, hindering aerial reconnaissances.

The Daily News has the following from Athens: At Adrianople 20,000 Turkish Bashi Bazouks are repairing and putting up fortifications under the direction of Gen. von Sander. These repairs are intended, it is supposed, to offer resistance to the advance on the part of the Russians.

Deals in Lands

Revelations Are Tabled in House of Commons

OTTAWA, April 14.—The remaining reports of Commissioner T. R. Ferguson were tabled yesterday, and they contain a mass of evidence concerning the alienation of the natural resources of western Canada under the late administration. One report deals with the trafficking in Indian lands by three Government officials, Frank Pedley, James A. Smart and W. J. White, in which they made $84,000 profit out of Moose Mountain Indian Reserve lands.

The commissioner states that hundreds of blank tenders were sent from Ottawa to Toronto to be filled in, and then returned to the department, where nearly all were accepted. It is stated that Pedley, then deputy superintendent-general of Indian affairs; White, immigration inspector, and Smart, deputy minister of the interior, had formed a partnership for acquiring and re-selling Indian lands, which were offered for sale by the Government by tender. A. C. Bedford Jones, a Toronto lawyer, tendered for them and held the lands for them. A deed of trust, providing for this said that it was inexpedient that they should tender in their own names.

Harpalyce Had Safe Conduct.

LONDON, April 14. — The Daily News correspondent telegraphs from Rotterdam: "Further facts which I have gleaned to-day regarding the torpedoing of the relief ship Harpalyce render the whole affair more serious than was a first supposed.

"I am officially informed that the Harpalyce, which was returning to America to report to the American Commission for Relief in Belgium, was actually carrying papers issued by the German Minister at The Hague, taking the form of a safe conduct and intended to protect her against attack by the German's submarines while on the voyage to the United States."

SHEEP HUSBANDRY.

Under the title of "The Great Neglect in Sheep Husbandry," which constitutes Pamphlet No. 9 of the Sheep and Goat Division of the Dominion Department of [illegible] Messrs. T. Reg. Arkell and Norman Stansfield, two well-recognized authorities, explain the necessity for the early castration of ram lambs intended for slaughter and the value of docking in the maintenance of health. They consider that both these operations are beneficial and cannot see that, while they are practised in other animals, there should be any hesitancy in performing them on sheep. Ram lambs treated develop in flesh and command a better price in the market, while female lambs being docked escape disease and insect pests by reason of increased cleanliness. Illustrations are given of the methods employed and advice furnished of the desirable age and the advantages that accrue. Farmers would be serving their own interest by sending to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for the pamphlet.

SUSTAIN CALLS TO MINISTERS

Waterloo Pastor for Millbrook and Garden Hill

At yesterday afternoon's session of Peterborough Presbytery, Rev. Dr. McMillan presented an account of his work in revising the book of praise. The draft of proposed changes in the worship songs will be submitted at the general meeting of the Presbytery of Ontario which takes place in Kingston in June.

Calls to three ministers were sustained. Rev. Mr. Bennie, a graduate of Knox College has received a call from Grafton and Vernonville. Mr. Bennie is prepared and accepted and arrangements for his induction and ordination will take place at Grafton on Tuesday, April 27th, at one oclock.

Rev. Mr. Ross, Rev. Mr. McCullough, Rev. Mr. Horne, Rev. E. A. Thompson, will take part in the induction.

A call to Rev. Mr. Lee, late of Waterloo, from Millbrook, and Gardan Hill, was sustained. Arrangements will be made for his induction of Millbrook on Thursday, April 29th at two o'clock.

Rev. Geo. Craw, Rev. Mr. McConnachie, Rev. Mr. McDonald, and Rev. Mr. Bennie will conduct the induction service.

A call from Pontypool, Ballyduff, and Janetville to Rev. W. S. Maybon, graduate of Knox College, was sustained. His induction and ordination will take place at Ballyduff on Friday, April 30th, at two o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Craw, Rev. Mr. Robinson and Rev. Jas. Rollins will conduct ordination and induction services.

Tonight Rev. Mr. Robinson will be inducted as pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Lakefield. Rev. Mr. Brown, Rev. George Brown of Campbellford, Rev. Mr. McDonald and Rev. J. A. MacKenzie will conduct the induction service.

A deputation from St. Paul's Sunday School, consisting of Mr. S. J. Keyes, Miss Bennet, and Miss Munro waited upon the Presbytery presenting the needs of special hymns for the beginners' department of the Sunday School in the revised book of Praise. Mr. Keyes was spokesman.

$10 To Be Withheld.

OTTAWA, April 14. — According to militia orders, the sum of $10 is to be withheld for a period of six months from the pay of every man enlisted on or after the 1st of March, 1915, for overseas service. This amount is to provide for the cost of civilian clothing to men discharged within six months of their enlistment and also to partly compensate the Government for military issues made to men who subsequently desert.

After six months' service or on termination of engagement, the amount may be repaid and civilian clothing issued free on discharge.

As the quota for remount service in England is now over strength, the recruiting in Peterborough has been discontinued. The number taken from this city is not known as yet, but it is expected that it will be small.

Some 270 were present at the parade, of these between 30 and 40 were recruits.

Major Hocusell's lecture on Musketry in the recreation room was well attended and much appreciated.

Thirty-second Battalion Fears Draft Into Other Forces

LONDON, April 14.—Officers and men of the 43nd Canadian Battalion, which since its arrival in England has been stationed at Shorncliffe, are considerable uneasy concerning their future. Briefly the fear is that the battalion is in danger of being virtually disbanded in order that its present personel shall be used as reinforcing drafts for battalions already on active service on the continent. The prospect arouses little less than dismay among both officers and men. The 32nd battalion was raised in Saskatchewan and Manitoba from the cavalry regiments.

The great proportion of the men enlisted at the personal invitation of individual officers, or at any rate were attracted to service in the battalion by the prospect of serving under officers whose leadership they valued for special reasons. It is felt if members are used merely for filling gaps in other battalions the feeling of esprit de corps created within the last five months will be destroyed at a stroke while the future will hold out the rather cheerless prospect of men serving under strange officers and officers commanding a strange set of men.

SUBMARINES ARE IMPROVED

Edison's Invention Will Revolutionize Under Water Craft.

NEW YORK, April 14.—It was announced yesterday, on behalf of Thomas A. Edison, that a new form of storage battery is being made for the United States submarine L-8, under construction at the Portsmouth, N.H., navy yard, which will do away entirely with the chief danger now existing in the operation of submarines—the danger of the crew of chlorine poisoning. Other improvements are claimed for the new battery, among them being the lengthening of the vessels under sea cruising radius to 150 miles.

It is claimed that in addition to eliminating the peril of chlorine poisoning the submarine could remain submerged for 100 days without danger, of asphyxiation to the crew.

Miller Reese Hutchison, chief engineer at the Edison plant in Orange, N.J., who made the announcement, said that the danger of chlorine poisoning was eleminated by the substitution of a potash solution for sulphuric acid, which is used at present in the batteries. The potash, he said, would purify the air in the submerged vessel, absorbing the carbonic acid gas exhaled from the lungs. The lead lining of the hard rubber battery jars, Mr. Hutchison said, also will be dispensed with. The only metals in the new batteries will be nickel and steel. The batteries have been tested for two years, it was said.

APSLEY

Apsley, April 14.—Mr. Jos. Carroll, teacher of No. 1 Anstruther, has returned to resume his duties after spending his holidays at his home in Omemee.

Misses Maud and Edith Lean are spending a few days at their home here.

Miss Waterman, one of our former teachers, attended the wedding here last week.

Miss Shirly Windsor, Mr. Reginald Windsor, Mr. J. McColl and Mr. W. Windsor of Peterborough attended the wedding here on Wednesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Tucker, were in Lakefield last week, attending the wedding of their niece, Miss Ella Knox.

We are sorry to hear that Charles, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephriam Bronson is seriously ill.

One of the prettiest weddings in this part of the country took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McColl on Wednesday afternoon, April 7, when their third daughter, Hester Ann, was married to Mr. William George Johnson, son of Mr. W. Johnson of Anstruther. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Gardner, Anglican clergyman at 3.30 p.m. in the presence of a very large number of friends and relatives. The wedding march was played by Miss Ella Brown. After the ceremony all joined in singing the hymn "Oh Love Divine." The bride wore a gown of white satin with bridal veil and a wreath of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Myrtle McColl and Mr. John Coones was best man. A grand wedding dejeauner was served and the evening was spent in dancing. The young couple will reside in the village and have our best wsihes for many prosperous and happy years of wedded life.

STANDING FIELD CROP COMPETITIONS AND FAIRS

The Ontario Government has given a grant of $24,500 for the Standing Field Crop Competitions and Seed Fairs to be conducted under the auspices of the Boards of Directors of Agricultural Societies.

Competitions will be limited to those who are paid-up members of an Agricultural Society for the current year, and fields entered must be not more than fifteen miles from its headquarters. Competitors will be allowed to make entry in one society only, for one, two or three varieties of crop and only one entry can be made by each kind of crop.

The Government Grant to a society will be $50 for each crop, making a total grant of $150, if the society holds a competition in three kinds of crops. This amount must be supplemented by the society to the extent of $25 for each crop competition, making a total of $75 prize money for each crop, but Directors must decide whether they desire to take up one, two or three crops. The total expenditure by a society would be $75, if three crops are selected.

Seven prizes must be offered as follows for each crop: First, $20; Second, $16; Third, $12; Fourth, $10; Fifth, $8; Sixth, $6; Seventh, $4. These must be paid in full winners without any deduction.

OBITUARY

MISS MAY BUTLER.

The death occurred recently at Los Angeles, Cal., of Miss May Butler, a young lady who had many friends in Lindsay and district. The deceased, who was a relative of the late Michael Guiry, was born in Peterborough, and was a daughter of the late Charles Butler, a former well-known merchant of that city. During her residence in Lindsay she attended St. Joseph's Academy. — Lindsay Post.

MRS. ALEXANDER BEAN.

At the residence of her son-in-law, there died last night Johanna Bean, wife of Alexander Bean, in her 77th year.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons, James, of Alameda, Sask., and William, of Fraserville, and four daughters, Mrs. James McMartin, of Otonabee, Mrs. Albert Thorndyke, city, Mrs. F. Anders, Alberta, and Mrs. George Bradley, of Toronto.

The funeral will take place from her son-in-law's residence, 459 Stewart street, on Thursday afternoon at two-thirty, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. James Rollins will officiate. The family request that no flowers be sent.

LOCAL LADY BEREAVED.

Friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Jas. Downing, 217 Brock St., will be grieved to learn of the death of her mother, Mrs. Wm. H. Harvest at Concord Junction, Mass., on April 12th inst.

Mrs. Downing left Peterborough for her old home to spend Easter and found her mother suddenly taken seriously ill from which she failed to rally. Deceased had been ailing for three years with anaema trouble which was the cause of her demise.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Downing of Peterborough, she leaves a husband and two sons who reside in Concord Junction.

Interment will be in Bridgeport, Conn.

MRS. J. B. PENTLAND.

The grim hand of death once again invaded the ranks of Peterborough's almost lifelong residents this morning, cutting short the life of Mrs. J. B. Pentland, 16 Benson avenue, who passed peacefully to her reward at 5 o'clock after an illness of some five weeks' duration. Those who had the pleasure of her hospitality and friendship will deeply deplore her untimely loss. During her life here she unconsciously won for herself a circle of warm, sincere friends, who unite in extending to the sorrowing family and relatives their most heartfelt sympathy.

The late Mrs. Pentland was stricken with a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia, and this coupled with a weak heart militated against her recovery and slowly brought about the end. She came to this city when but three years of age, and had been a resident of it for an uninterrupted period of fifty-seven years. She was one of the active members of George Street Methodist Church, and displayed a keen interest in the various women's organizations affiliated with it, and for fourteen years was recording secretary of the Women's Missionary Society. Thirty-four years ago she was married to Dr. J. B. Pentland, dental practitioner, George street.

She leaves a family of three daughters, all at home; Olive, Hazel and Gladys. Five brothers also survive, viz.: Charles and Samuel Clegg, of Peterorough, Richard, of Wingham, Abraham, of Batavia, N. Y., and Col. E. B. Clegg, of Peterborough, now with the first Canadian contingent.

Arrangements have been made for the funeral on Friday afternoon at three o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery, service at the house at two-thirty, Rev. R. G. Peever, of George Street Church, officiating.

A few short weeks of hustling will make you the winner of one of the greatest trips ever offered by a newspaper. Your friends will subscribe for The Review and will be pleased to help you. Give them the opportunity. Clip out the nomination blank and send or bring it to the contest office. Everything will be made plain to you. Do it now.

Twenty-One Days Touring America

Four Women will take a Trans-Continental Tour and see the Wonderful Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. The Review will pay the bills.

Who May Enter

Any woman, single or married, over sixteen years of age, of good moral character, is eligible. Candidates may enter their own applications, or they may be nominated by friends. It costs nothing to enroll, it costs nothing to win. There are no strings attached to the offer. It is not necessary that candidates be subscribers to The Review. The only restrictions are as to age and character.

How Votes Will Be Issued

Each copy of The Review will contain a coupon, which, when properly filled out, will entitle the holder to 25 votes. Votes will also be issued on paid-in-advance subscriptions to The Review in proportion to the length of time such subscriptions are paid in accordance with the schedule.

RULES

RULE NO. 1.—The contest opened on April 12th, and closes on June 5th.

RULE No. 2.—Any woman over sixteen years of age, married or single, of good moral character and reputation, residing in any of the contest districts, may enter the contest by making out one of the Application Blanks (ask for blank) and sending or bringing in her application to the Contest Manager, The Review.

Candidates must enter from the district in which they reside.

The Contest Manager is to decide any question regarding proper districting of candidates.

Candidates moving from one district to another, after having been nominated, will be retained in the district from which they first nominated.

Nominations of candidates may be made by anyone at any time during the contest without cost.

The management of The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination or application at its discretion.

Any contestant wishing to have her name withdrawn from the list of candidates, must write or call personally, as positively no telephone withdrawals will be considered. No candidate's name can be substituted for another.

The first publication of the names of candidates will appear this week.

DISTRICTS

RULE No. 3.—There are four separated istricts from which to enter, as described elsewhere.

Contestants will compete only against candidates in their respective districts, but may secure subscriptions anywhere they choose.

SPORTING NEWS

TOM FLANGAN ON JACK JOHNSON

By Tom Flanagan in the Toronto Telegram.

I have been asked many questions by the sporting fraternity since my return from Havana about the great contest between Jess Willard and Jack Johnson. The most frequent question that I have fired at me is this: Why did such a feeling against Jack Johnson exist the whole world over?

I have never been able to answer that question to my own satisfaction, for I have never quite understood why the sporting world took such a view of his case.

In the past fifteen years I have been playing and battling with this sporting world, and I have looked at it from every angle. At its best, it is fickle, and the champion of one day is lost and forgotten the next. In my dealings with sporting characters I have tried to be fair with them all. A man's color or his creed made no difference with me. If the man could be the best in his class, I looked on him as a genuine champion.

Jack Johnson has always been to me a great big, good-hearted, smiling fellow, who in my opinion should have had a bunch of friends. Of his ring ability I never had any doubts. I still think that in his day he was the most scientific heavyweight boxer in the history of the ring.

But to get back to all this feeling against him as a champion. It did exist, and up to the moment that he lost the championship it was evident at all times.

I have heard at times how famous athletes have shown great sporting spirit, but it reminded for Jack Johnson to show me the grandest piece of sportsmanship I have ever heard of in my career as a sporting man.

When the colored man went into the ring at Havana to meet this giant white man, sentiment was overwhelmingly against him the world over. He had been guilty of offences unhesitatingly condoned in the case of white men in similar circumstances.

Only a few who witnessed the contest hoped for a victory for the negro. All through the fight he was subjected to insulting remarks from the spectators, and badgered by the friends of his opponent.

And when, from sheer exhaustion he fell, and could not rise within the given time, was assisted to his corner and revived, he remarked with a feeble smile, "The best man won."

Can you beat that, from an uneducated negro, who had very little reason to cherish much love for anyone belonging to the white race?

When I saw that smile and heard the remark from a beaten man, I said to myself: Public opinion will never change me—Jack Johnson was a champion indeed.

The real victor in a big contest is the man who can accept his defeat cheerfully and can give full credit to his opponent for superior skill or endurance. I claim that Jack Johnson had a better appreciation of the real spirit of sport than the thousands who jeered at him when he fell, and the many hundreds of thousands everywhere who desired his downfall merely because his skin was of a different color than theirs.

I have known many white fighters who would not have accepted defeat as did this hated negro pugilist, who, in spite of his environment and the so-called brutality of his profession, discerned the real factor of real worth in the whole business when he smilingly conceded that he had been defeated by a better man.

This should mean a great deal to the sporting fraternity when I tell you that Johnson's pride in ranking as the heavyweight champion was almost beyond understanding. It meant more to his vanity than a great many thousand dollars would ever be able to buy.

And in the moment of his defeat, when all was lost and he could almost see his remaining few friends slipping away from him, this terribly disliked champion was a big enough man to give full credit to his conqueror.

COSY DOLAN.

Through a typographical error in the record books, says the Ottawa Citizen, Cosy Dolan of Ottawa, is beaten out of one thousand accepted chances at first base last year. The baseball guides credit Cosy with 334 put outs instead of 1334.

Out of 1464 chances at first base last season, Dolan slipped up only seventeen times. He has 113 assists which is rather unusual for an initial sacker. Dolan asked that he be traded to another club this season, as he figured he had been three years with Ottawa and the fans were tired of him. The Ottawa Club can't see it at all. In the first place it would be the hardest thing in the world to replace the Wilmington boy. He is a sure hitter and a consistent hitter. When on his stride Cosy is a 340 walloper of the clean-up variety The big fellow will be back again at the right hand station and the fans will be glad to see him.

LAWN TENNIS

The Peterborough Tennis Club has lost several of last year's members and before definite plans can be made for the coming year it will be necessary to launch a campaign for new members. It is understood that the Lawn Bowling Club does not anticipate renting the tennis courts this year and if the tennis club rents their division of the grounds, it will have to have a larger membership. The exact steps to be taken by the officers of the club will be made known after Friday night's meeting of the Bowling Club.

Insurance on Evelyn Paid.

WASHINGTON, April 14. — The Government war risk insurance bureau paid its first claim yesterday during the European war. Its warrant for $401,000 was drawn in favor of Harris & Vose, of New York, owners of the American steamer Evelyn, sunk off the coast of Holland, supposedly by a mine, Feb. 20.

The Evelyn was the first American boat lost during the war. Of the amount paid $301,000 was for her cargo of cotton and $100,000 for her hull. Necessary proof of loss reached the Treasury Department April 1.

Alderman Charged With Forgery.

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—August H. Frederick, who last Thursday was elected president of the St. Louis board of aldermen — a position in which he would share with the mayor and the city controllers the responsibility of drafting the annual city budget — yesterday was indicted for forgery in the first degree.

The minimum penalty for forgery in the first degree is 15 years' imprisonment.

Blow To Christian Scientists.

ALBANY, April 14. — Party lines were cast aside yesterday when the assembly defeated the Thorn bill, intended to exempt Christian Science practitioners from the state law requiring physicians to be examined and licensed. The vote was 46 ayes to 79 nays.

COMMENT

As You Like it

TROUT will likely be sent back to the Canadian League again this season. With Kelly and Konnick going strong for Clymer the former Peterborough favorite will hardly be carried all season. In all probability Knotty Lee will secure him for Guelph.

HAROLD HILL'S enlisting made another hole in the Thistles. With he and Mossy Huycke gone the much feared battery of last year will be missing this summer. Huycke was easily among the best hurlers and Hill had few equals in the receiving department.

NOTHING is being said by the East City outfit but they will bear watching when the season opens. Manager McCabe claims to have a nifty quota of players signed up.

THE CLASSICS are working out at the Exhibition grounds. Scully and Picard are making a great run for jobs in the outfield while a host are trying for infield berths.

BENNY TAYLOR expects to be receiving for one of the City League teams but admits that he is a trifle over weight. He is endeavoring to take off a few pounds by playing pool.

PAT GORMAN will likely be trying out with the Classics since the South End Club did not materialize. "Mordecai" Brown should have a few games left in him yet.

ACCORDING to reports there will be an Inter-Catholic Juvenile League formed and teams entered from the three parishes. The step should help considerably in developing young players.

JACK McCANN thinks all the games this summer should be played at the Exhibition Grounds. R. J. Fleming thinks all jitneys should be done away with.

PETE SPRATT will not be able to play in the City League this summer which is a good thing for the City League and baseball in general. Pete is a hockey player.

ALREADY the ball fans are asking if there will be a parade the day the City League opens. Sure there will. It will be an opening that will make Curly Blount's reception look like a funeral.

CHIEF BENDER made his debut as a Federal League hurler yesterday and lost to Baltimore. George Mullin, another former American Leaguer, opposed him.

It looks as though Knotty Lee will have a strong club at Guelph. Bill Clymer will have a big squad to turn over to him.

WHAT WILL BRITAIN DO?

Present Parliament Will Decide Solution of Drink Problem.

LONDON, April 14.—Probably no session of the British Parliament since the opening of the war has been awaited with keener interest than the sitting which will begin to-day. A "dry" Britain, unknown except for a period of two years 150 years ago, is not beyond the possibilities, but the Government has given not the slightest official hint as to what action may be expected in its undoubted determination to attack the problem of restricting the consumption of alcoholic liquors. Several days ago an Opposition paper published a forecast of the Government plan, which, it asserted, contemplated the prohibition of all liquors except light beer, which would be manufactured by the Government.

This prediction received some confirmation last night from a Government organ, The Evening Chronicle, which declared that the entire business of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors is to become a Government monopoly.

Germany Refuses Bulgarian Loan.

PARIS, April 14.—Germany has failed to pay Bulgaria the portion of the loan she agreed to remit April 1, according to a Sofia special to The Petit Parisien, which says it is believed Germany distrusts the Bulgarian attitude and suspects she already has decided to join the allies.

When it was announced in February that negotiations had been completed for a loan of $30,000,000 to Bulgaria by German and Austrian bankers, it was stated that no political conditions were attached to the arrangement, but it was regarded as significant that Bulgaria had refused the proffer of a similar loan made several months before by the powers of the triple entente.

Kaiser In Belgium.

LONDON, April 14. — Emperor William and Crown Prince Frederick William visited Brussels last Saturday and later went to Antwerp and inspected the German submarine works at Hoboken, says The Daily Telegraph's Boulogne correspondent.

Has Canadian Legacy.

LONDON, April 14. — Martha Elizabeth Wade, mill furnisher, Huddersfield, examined for bankruptcy, said her only asset was an interest in the will of Sam Brighouse, formerly of Vancouver, a deceased uncle who left a quarter of a million sterling. Her share she estimated at ten thousand pounds. She had been offered $3,500 as a compromise, but declined.

POWERS—McAULIFFE.

The wedding was solemnized this morning at nine o'clock in St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Mr. Neil Powers of Otonabee, to Miss Ettie McAuliffe, daughter of Mr. Peter McAuliffe, Ennismore. The attendants were Miss Annie Crough and Mr. Frank Maloney.

The mass was attended by a host of friends of the young couple bespeaking their popularity. After a wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Powers will reside in Otonabee.

SLATTERY—SULLIVAN.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday morning by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick in St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, when Miss Lizzie Sullivan, daughter of Mr. M. C. Sullivan, of Ennismore, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Thomas Slattery, of Otonabee. The attendants were Miss M. Sullivan, sister of the bride, and Mr. Jas. Slattery, brother of the groom.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Slattery will reside in Peterborough.

Mr. J. Wilson of the A. E. Ames Co., Toronto, is in the city on business.

Miss Gladys Seward left the city on this morning's G.T.R. for Port Hope. A short visit to friends will be made before proceeding to Toronto.

On their return to Strathroy, the home of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sands, whose marriage was recently announced, were serenaded by a large number of their friends who were assisted by a brass band.

The meeting of the Daughters of the Empire, called for tomorrow at 3:30, has been postponed till a week from tomorrow (Thursday), the regular date.

The etchings of Miss Dorothy Stevens of Toronto will be on exhibition in the studio in the public library building on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Several paintings by Mrs. Beatrice Haggarty Robertson will also be shown. The exhibition is under the auspices of the Peterborough branch of the Women's Art Association.

All who are interested in art are invited to view the pictures. There will be no charge for admission.

At the monthly meeting of the St. John's branch of the W. A., Mrs. J. C. Davidson, president, spoke with touching earnestness on the loss during the past week of two valuable members. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"That St. John's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary record their grief at their loss sustained through the unexpected death of Miss Mencke, a painstaking and faithful secretary and member for many years. Miss Mencke will be much missed by all our members."

"That St. John's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary hereby offers to the friends of their late beloved member, Mrs. Best, their sense of the great loss to them by her departure to higher service. Mrs. Best was for many years an officer of the Branch, and also a life member of the auxiliary. By her unique personality she held a special place in the affection of past and present members."

A life member of many years' standing, formerly of Toronto, Mrs. Melbourne, presented purple tokens to be worn in memory of the late members.

HOME GUARDS

A general meeting of the Civilian Rifle Association and the Home Guards will be held at the Ranges, Murray street, Thursday evening, April 15th. Every member is requested to be present.

By order,
F. D. KERR.

NEW UNION CARDS.

All the barber shops of the city have been decorated with the new union card which was adopted by the thirteenth annual convention of the Journeymen Barbers' International Union of America, held in Indianapolis. The new cards contain a picture of the American eagle in the centre and two maple leaves on each side of the bird. Above, in large red letters are the words "Union Shop." They arrived in the city yesterday.

Local News in General

Poultry Association.

The Poultry Association will meet tonight in the Labor Hall. J. T. C. Lang is to give a paper. Wyandottes and Leghorns will be exhibited.

Important Meeting.

The Daughters of England are all requested to attend the meeting Thursday night as it is of a very important character.

Twilight Musicale.

The last of the series of Twilight Musicales, under the auspices of the Women's Art Association, will be given Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The soloists will be Mr. Weller, baritone; Mr. Maurice Park, tenor; Mr. Geo. Lynch, reader.

All lovers of good music are invited. Silver collection.

I. O. D. E. Musicale.

On Friday evening of this week, a musicale will be held at the home of Mr. W. G. Morrow, 484 Weller St., under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire. As the usual military euchre is withdrawn for this spring, the many friends who enjoyed these in former years, are asked to attend the musicale instead, this year. An excellent program is being prepared, and a charming musical evening is promised. Tickets may be secured from members of the I. O. D. E. or at Kent's or McDermid's Drug Stores. Refreshments served.

FIRE ESCAPES FOR HOSPITAL

Members do not Take Kindly to "Shoot" Idea

When the matter of providing the Isolation Hospital with fire escapes came before the Board of Health yesterday afternoon Dr. Amys, the chairman, had something new. He reported that he had considered the matter carefully and decided that the best plan would be to erect a four foot wooden stairway from the balcony to the ground and to "keep within the law" to place a shoot two feet and a half in diameter beside the stairs. The shoot would be of galvanized [illegible] the patients could slide down. The rest of the members did not take kindly to the idea of the shoot.

Another plan whereby the building would be equipped with a two foot iron stairway was left in the hands of the chairman to execute.

ADDRESS TO C.L.A.

A very interesting and instructive address was given to the C. L. A. Society of Charlotte St. Methodist Church last night by Mr. Cowan of Farm and Dairy. Mr. Cowan spoke on Social Problems in Canada and dealt with the liquor question and prohibition, while slavery, poverty, rural depopulation, unearned increment, and land. He emphasized the importance of land holdings and illustrated his address with blackboard designs. A number of questions were asked and a vote of thanks tendered him. Mr. Newton Staples sang a solo and was accompanied by Miss Ada Richardson. Miss Jackson rendered a violin solo accompanied by Miss Elliot and to these the thanks of the society were expressed. A good audience attended.

AN ADDRESS ON PRAISE HYMNS

Songs the Most Beautiful and Precious Gifts

An address somewhat off the beaten track was delivered last night in St Andrew's Church at the rather sparsley attended concluding meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough. The speaker for the evening was Rev. Dr. McMillan of Toronto, a polished and fluent authority on church hymns and songs of praise who dealt with his subject at considerable length and held the interested attention of all his audience for the space of one hour. He discoursed upon the four orders of praise hymns, dividing them as follows, hymns of praise, prayer, instruction and personal experience. Taking each by itself he treated of the many elements which were peculiar to them.

He considered that the most beautiful and precious gifts that God ever gave to his kingdom were his songs. Song had its foundation in thought and then expressed itself in music. When people entered this world they did so to music; the sound of a mother's lullaby. Song always has and always would exercise a deep influence over people. But in the whole world of song and music there was nothing that brought people closer to God than the praise song. In order to understand the far-reaching benefits of songs one must understand the clear-cut, distant orders into which songs were divided.

Taking songs of praise first he said they probably occupied first place. For either little children or adults they were worthy of the utmost consideration. Songs of praise were the outward tokens of adoration with the element of thanksgiving included. They seemed to dominate all the rest. They lifted people out of gloomy morbid thoughts of themselves.

The songs of prayer were next in importance because they contained the deep religious solemnity of the spoken prayer and afforded an opportunity for people unused or unable to prayer, to sing their prayers.

He then discussed the hymns of instruction and personal experience in similar manner and the address was one of unusual interest owing to the many interesting and unsuspected aspects with which he surrounded it.

A sprinkling of members from the Presbyterian choirs of the city were present and materially assisted in the service.

Owner Must Provide Sewer Connection

Another complaint was received by the Board of Health yesterday afternoon about the unsanitary condition of the house at 137 London Street. In accordance with a resolution of a former meeting the Board visited the premises after the meeting and Dr. Amys informed the Review today that the Board has ordered the owner, Mr. Howden, to make sewer connections immediately or the house will be closed.

V. W. Lancaster waited on the Board of Health yesterday and asked for a sewer on Monaghan Road from Charlotte to King Streets. On motion of Mr. Duncan and Dr. McPherson, the Board recomended the Council to construct the sewer asked for.

It was decided that the following accounts be paid:—

USE WELL WATER FOR STOCK ONLY

Health Guardians Take Action Against Wells in Hotel Yards

The wells in the yards of Hotel Montgomery on Simcoe Street and Palace Hotel on Hunter Street will henceforth be adorned with a sign, "For Stock Only," the Sanitary Inspector will take immediate steps to warn the public that the wells must not be used, the proprietors of the two hotels will be urged to install a water service and in the meantime they will purify the water pumped for stock by the use of lime. Such was decided upon yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Board of Health.

Mr. Fred Blastorah, proprietor of the Palace Hotel waited upon the Board and urged that the well not be closed. He remarked that the water was used for watering stock and it would greatly inconvenience him to have it closed up. A family residing beside him have used the well for 35 years and no illness resulted. It is 150 feet from the stable and over 200 feet from the creek. To insert a water service would call for laying a main 200 feet. The water of the well is never used in the hotel and as far as he knew the Y. W. C. A. never went there for water.

Dr. McPherson, M.H.O., expressed himself as of the opinion that all the wells in that neighborhood should be closed as they are easily contaminated.

Mr. Blastorah pointed out how it would be possible to keep the public from using the well for drinking purposes by locking the handle. He wished the Board to permit the use of the well for watering stock as the public drinking trough on Hunter Street near his hotel is dry.

Dr. Amys thought the placing of a card would help matters. He remarked that owing to the formation of the land in that vicinity all the surface water gets to the wells.

Dr. McPherson again stated that in his opinion all the wells should be closed. The Y.W.C.A. had secured water from all the wells in the vicinity of the institution. People become immune through using the water from one well. Persons using the water continually would suffer no ill effects but a stranger using it might mean serious consequences.

The above course was then decided upon.

To the Electors of the North Ward

I am a candidate for Alderman in the North Ward, caused by the resignation of ex-Alderman William J. Johnston. If elected, I will give my time and careful attention to the Ward and the city's business and interest. My platform is briefly as follows:

1. Day work in preference to contract work.
3. Municipal ownership of the street railway in conjunction with the Hydro Electric System.
4. Municipal ownership of the Otonabee Power Company.
5. An aggressive campaign for the getting of new industries.
6. An equal and equitable assessment in properties.

I have had considerable experience in business affairs, and will give my best efforts, if elected, to the city's business.

Yours truly,
W. T. HOLLOWAY.

I would insist on all corporation work to be done by local labor.

Electors No 4. (North) Ward

Ladies and Gentlemen,—It having come to my notice that reports in circulation state that I have withdrawn from the field as aldermanic candidate in the North Ward, I wish to say that nothing is further from the truth and with the sanction of the ratepayers I hope to be elected as their representative.

Also, it has been stated that I, as an official of the C.P.R. would have my hands tied, and would not be able to serve in the best interest of the people. In answer to this let me say that, if elected, and the C.P.R. ask for any privileges, I pledge myself to remain strictly neutral.

Your humble servant believes he can be of use to the ratepayers if elected to the council board and for this reason only, asks your support and influence.

Yours respectfully,
W. S. DODD.

DISCUSS PLANS OF SEWER AND DISPOSAL PLANT

City Engineer is Congratulated on Their Final Completion

BOARD OF WORKS

The plans for the outfall sewer and disposal plant have finally been completed after months of hard work by City Engineer Parsons. Tonight the City Council meets to discuss them. Last night after the Board of Works adjourned the aldermen accompanied Mr. Parsons to his office and looked over the numerous blue prints. The extensiveness of the proposed construction is hard to realize until a glance is taken at the plans, and the work explained. At the Board of Works meeting the chairman, Ald. Green, congratulated City Engineer Parsons on the completion of the big task and remarked that because of his giving so much time to the work the ordinary work of the city has not been dealt with as quickly as it usually is, but from now on the engineering department will be in a position to execute the ordinary city work with the usual rapidity.

Protest from Ware St.

A petition was received from various property owners on Ware Street protesting against the sewer being constructed on that street. Of twenty-two residents eleven names appeared on this petition.

Ald. Green expressed himself as feeling that it would be too bad to deprive persons who want the sewer for sanitary conditions. This sewer has been recommended by the Board

ADVANTAGE WITH FRENCH COUNTER ATTACKS REPELLED

Extension of Front at Ailly Wood is Maintained

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 15. — (Afternoon Official Statement.)—"Near Laboiselle our heavy artillery completely wrecked German shelters and trenches.

"In the Argonne, near Fontaine-aux-Charles, a local engagement took place from trench to trench, in which we gained an advantage. Our ascendancy over the Germans at this point is becoming more and more prominent.

"The extension of our front at Ailly wood, already reported, was maintained against counter-attacks.

"Our progress rendered us masters of a portion of a German trench, and to the north of this trench a section of ground 400 yards long and 100 yards deep.

"A new trench gained by us near the Essey Fliery high road remains in our possession.

"Near Fey-en-Haye a bombardment was followed up by infantry attacks.

"In the forest of Le Pretre, after having won in the course of April 13th part of the German lines, we maintained our gains yesterday and stoped a counter-attack by machine guns..

"In Alsace, to the north of La Lauche, we made progress amounting to fifteen hundred yards in the direction of Schnepfen-Riethkopf."

DIED AS HE SAT ON BED

John Eakins of Lindsay Expired Very Suddenly

Death came with great suddenness yesterday morning to John Eakins, a well-known resident of Lindsay, and who had boarded for a number of years at the Butler House.

Deceased, who had been in poor health for a number of years, was up and around as usual yesterday morning, and visited the market, where he was usually seen every day in company with friends. About 9.00 o'clock he returned to his room at the hotel, and while sitting on the bed with his watch in his hand, he passed away.

One of the employes of the hotel found him a few minutes afterwards, and Dr. Wood was immediately summoned, but the deceased was beyond human aid.

Revelstoke, April 15.—Investigation has established that the recent half million dollar fire at Somaplix was incendiary.

INDUCTED AT LAKEFIELD

Rev. T. J. Robinson Takes Charge of Presbyterian Church

Lakefield, April 14. — Rev. T. J. Robinson, was inducted as minister of the Presbyterian church tonight, in the presence of a large congregation. Rev. Mr. McDonald of Warkworth presided. The sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. MacKenzie, of Knox Presbyterian Church, Peterborough, and Rev. Mr. Brown of Warsaw narrated the steps taken in connection with the call. Rev. Mr. Brown of Campbellford addressed the minister and Rev. Mr. McConnachie the people.

Greetings were extended on behalf of sister churches by Rev. Wm. Johnston, Methodists; Rev. Mr. Slimon, Baptists, and Rev. Mr. Ben Oliel, Anglicans.

After the induction service, the members of the congregation were introduced to Rev. Mr. Robinson and refreshments were served by the ladies.

A new ice-breaking train ferry for the Strait of Canso service, between the Nova Scotia mainland and Cape Breton, was launched in the Tyne. Lady Drummond, of Montreal, christened the vessel Scotia II.

INSPECTOR OF DAMS IS APPOINTED

Alex. Simpson of Rockcroft is Well Qualified for the Position

STOP WATER WASTE

In order to remedy the difficulties that have been experienced in the past in the waste of water by means of the careless use of it and consequent uneven flow in the north country, the Government has decided to have an inspector of dams. Alex. Simpson, of Rockcroft, was recommended by Mr. Burnham, M. P., and has been apointed. The appointment is generally approved. Mr. Simpson is very popular in Harvey and the north country and is thoroughly conversant with his duties. It is not only important, but it is absolutely necessary to the whole Trent district, that the flow of water should be regulated carefully and uniformly.

LITTLE ONE'S BODY FOUND IN SPRING

MADOC, April 15. — The body of the little two and a half years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diprouse near Madoc village was found in a spring a short distance from the house. The sad discovery was made by the mother of the little girl who had been missed only about fifteen minutes. The family live about four miles from Madoc village, near Hazzard's Corners.

TRAPPER IS FINED.

Harry Peters, a trapper, came before the Police Magistrate this morning to face a drunk charge. He was assessed two dollars, to be paid in ten days. Peters said his means of livelihood was derived from trapping muskrats from Hale's Bridge to Nassau.

FIREMEN GET UP EARLY TO FLUSH STREETS

The Result of Their Efforts Meets With Approval at Kingston

KINGSTON, April 15.—The members of the fire department yesterday morning commenced work on the flushing of Princess street, following out the suggestion of Ald. O'Connor, chairman of the fire and light committee. The street was flushed with the hose from Barrie to King streets, and this morning on coming down town the citizens were greeted by a thoroughly clean street which was void of any kind of refuse.

The comments on the streets were very favorable to the scheme which was tried out. The hose that was used sent the accumulations on the streets into the gutters at a fast rate and the gutters were completely cleaned out by the pressure of water. The system has been approved by many places, and does away with the old system of watering carts, which at best but lays the dust for a few hours.

At the meeting of the local Board of Works last evening, the chairman, Ald. Green, was asked if he had taken up the matter having the firemen flush the streets with Ald. Duffus, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. The chairman said that owing to his absence from the city he had not, but he did not feel like urging the point very strongly. He did not take kindly to the idea of "having our firemen, street cleaners."

Ald. Edgar thought they might as well be out early in the morning as in bed. He suggested that the hose wagon accompany the firemen, and in event of an alarm no time would be lost in answering.

Ald. Stratton asked if it is usual in other cities to have the firemen flush the streets. No one could provide an answer.

OPERATION ON MRS. ROOSEVELT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

New York, April 15.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt was taken to Roosevelt Hospital last night by her husband and an important operation was performed this morning. The operation was successful.

STOLE SILK

Ten Armed Men Held up Train

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

BUFFALO, April 15. — Ten masked armed men held up a New York Central fast freight near Sanborn, 15 miles from here, early this morning, uncoupled an engine, intimidated the train crew and removed on ten big auto trucks silk valued at $50,000.

Engineer Goss escaped from his guard, amid a rain of bullets, started his engine, steamed to the Suspension Bridge and was back in half an hour with a posse of detectives. Hundreds of armed men are now scouring the country, but no arrests have been made nor any trace of the trucks found.

MT. JULIAN LICENSE.

PTE NICHOLLS SUCCUMBS TO MENINGITIS

Peterborough Soldier Dies at the General Hospital Belleville

Pte. Harry Nicholls of Peterborough with the 39th Battalion of the Third Overseas Contingent, encamped at Belleville, passed away at four o'clock this morning in the General Hospital, Belleville, a victim of spinal meningitis.

Pte. Nicholls had been ill about a week but his illness was not thought to be of a serious nature. Yesterday morning he grew worse and his parents, who reside at No. 2 Anson Street, were notified. They left last night at nine o'clock and arrived in Belleville at 12.30. They were with him when the end came at four o'clock.

The death of Pte. Nicholls is the first death, either through illness or wounds, among the large number of men who have left Peterborough since the war broke, to fight for the cause. The fact that he was but twenty years of age and the only boy causes the circumstances surrounding his death to be exceedingly sad. He is survived by his parents and five sisters, all at home.

The body is being brought to Peterborough via G.T.R. at 3.50 this evening but arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been made.

When informed of Pte. Nicholls' death, Lt.-Col. Walker stated that it was quite likely deceased would be given a military funeral as had been in the case of the late Pte. Lightfoot.

AUSTRIAN TO BE INTERNED

The Austrian who was arrested in this city as a suspicious looking character by the police will be interned. After his arrest and remand, the Chief got into communication with Col. Sherwood, commissioner of police, who has replied that he thinks it advisable that Mahurnish be interned, as he has no means of support and is out of work. An officer will be sent here to escort him to Kingston.

18,000,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT IN ELEVATORS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Fort William, April 15.—Wheat of superior grades has been arriving during the past week at the rate of almost four hundred thousand bushels a day and there is now in store at the elevators, eighteen millions of bushels. Four steamers loaded are roady to clear today.

SUSPECT PLACED UNDER ARREST

North Monaghan House Was Burglarized

A charge of housebreaking has been laid against Alexander Lillico who lives near Brownton, it being alleged that he did burglariously enter the house of Frederick Collett of North Monaghan.

Constable Archie Moore effected the arrest and Lillico now is locked up at the police station. He will be charged before Magistrate Langley in county court tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

PARTY OF FIVE FOR ENGLAND

Young Men Accepted for Remount Department

Five more popular local young men have enlisted and been accepted for active service. They are attached to the remount department. They are Harold Morrow, Claude Bartlett, Wm. Grady, Wm. Hickey and Leo. Holland. They leave here at 1.30 tomorrow for Kingston but will sail very shortly for England to take up the duties as riders. None of the boys have any definite information concerning the character of their duties upon their arrival in England but one of the party stated he understood they would have to wear "kilts." That was what they had been told at any rate. They will travel together in civilian attire from here to their destination.

All the party are well known here and have figured prominently in sporting activities and athletics. Morrow played with the Peterborough junior hockey team last winter. Bartlett was a sergeant in the 57th Regiment and took an active part in Y.M.C.A. work. Morrow and Bartlett expect to remain in England after the war, for a number of years at least.

A CANADIAN'S IMPRESSION OF ENGLAND DURING THE WAR

The following very interesting letter has been received from a friend in London, England, who is a retired Sergeant-Major in the British Army and who saw active service in various parts of the world. He writes of several occurrences that are not allowed to be published in England but which it is harmless to publish here:—

England at war? Impossible. Everywhere one goes there are racing, football, boxing, and theatres, it seems incredible to us Canadians, that the people who take every day life so seriously can treat this great life and death struggle with so much levity.

The writer was one of a few who witnessed the air raid on the Thames on Christmas Day and even when the guns were booming out death to at least one of the enemy's airmen, the rural population were sipping their Christmas ale in the adjoining public-houses. I mentioned to one of the bystanders that it looked serious when enemy aeroplanes come over on our holiday. The reply I got was typical: "Garn—Them be not Germans. They be from Eastchurch. No Germans will ever reach our shores, whilst our navy rules the waves," and this is the opinion of the majority of what I call the labouring class. I do not mean the artisan as we know him in Canada, but the usual labourer.

I will give you an incident for which I can vouch. There is where I am staying a young man about 25 years of age whom I asked if he would not like to be at the front, his reply was: "When I am fetched I will go, as I do not wish to lose my job or my girl, there are enough without me." But I am glad to say I have found this particular case the exception to the rule for the manhood of Great Britain and Ireland have responded in a most wondrous manner.

PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1915

WHAT SHOULD CANADA DO NOW?

SIR WILFRID LAURIER advocates a Canadian navy at the present time, but, like other grand schemes of his, he does not consider their cost or feasibility. A Canadian navy at the present time is an absurd and impossible proposition.

Look at the present condition of Canada, and it must appear so to any right-thinking citizen. We are engaged in the great world war to the limit of our resources, if that should be necessary. Canada has borrowed already one hundred and fifty millions for war purposes. She has nearly 40,000 men in Europe, and is training 60,000 more. These men have to be paid and equipped, and if the war lasts much longer another war vote will be necessary. Then, something not yet provided for is a pension scheme for disabled Canadian soldiers and their dependents. Besides all this, Canada was obliged to raise special taxes, due to the war, for current needs. She has been saddled by Sir Wilfrid with an enormous debt due to the G. T. P. and the C. N. R. In addition, there is unemployment all over Canada. Due to speculation in real estate, oil and mine ventures, inability to borrow in the London market, the falling off in immigration, the shrinkage in national and international business, trade conditions are bad in Canada—in fact, we are struggling with one of the worst periods of hard times that we have ever witnessed. There has been very little improvement in trade conditions, save in those industries making war munitions or army equipment.

Now, that being the condition of Canada, where is the money coming from with which to build a Canadian navy? Canada has not the money, and it will take all Britain can lend her to finance Canada through the war, yet this is the time Sir Wilfrid Laurier says Canada should build a Canadian navy! When Canada could have built an effective naval unit, Sir Wilfrid strained every power at his command to frustrate Canada's efforts, and succeeded in rendering them of no avail, and now, when we are loaded with his railway debts, worried by a period of severe depression, and burdened with the great responsibilities of a world war, he says, "Go to, let us build a Canadian navy." Could any proposition, coming from a man who had once been the first minister of Canada, be more foolish and absurd?

IF A GERMAN BURGOMASTER CAME TO PETERBOROUGH.

PROFESSOR E. F. SCOTT, of Queen's University, has an able and interesting article in the current number of the Queen's Quarterly. The subject of this article is, "Germany's Contribution to Modern Culture." He says the war has compelled people to learn more about Germany. The hazy, general knowledge of that country possessed by the majority of people has been displaced by something more definite. The war has also allowed Britishers to speak plainly of the two empires — permitted them to get something off their chest, so to speak, which will doubtless cause some relief.

Professor Scott points out the intellectual aspect of German "Kultur" and how they have attained a great degree of efficiency by conscientiously investigating to the smallest detail, a limited field. The great want in all this German "kultur," Profesor Scott points out, is a lack of spirit, and culture involves this, in its broader sense of being something more than positive knowledge. Art and literature in Germany today and in recent years have been common place, flat and futile. The one or two names that stand out as a little better than mediocre only throw in greater contrast the barrenness of the present time. The cry, "Back to Kant," seems to emphasize this barrenness. The reason for this is the substitution of "a mechanical regularity for the free movement of the spirit." This Prussian system was favourable to science, but fatal to the labour of thought and imagination. To take advantage of the German proficiency in scientific fields without sacrificing the finer sensibilities as expressed in literature and art and the free exercise of one's talents, is one of the things to be gained from this war and one of the problems of Canada.

So, if a German burgomaster came to Peterborough, it would be interesting to speculate on what he would likely do; for assuredly, if Germany had triumphed in this war, she would have confiscated some of the vacant lands of the British Empire, such as exist in Canada. Orders would probably come from headquarters, maybe Berlin, that the City Council was not good enough, so a Boss would be sent here in the shape of a German burgomaster. He would see that no slip-shod methods were in vogue, and would fire every official who refused to buck up and 'tend to his business. He would not tolerate a one-horse method of collecting garbage, and would inaugurate an efficient method of cleaning and maintaining the streets. He would undoubtedly put a mine under the police department, not necessarily to blow it up, but merely to keep it on edge and to remind it of what might happen if there was any neglect of duty. He would take charge of the parks and make some use of the Otonabee River to beautify this city. He would censor the newspapers here and forbid them—although this would be quite unnecessary—to publish anything that was untrue, even to advertisements. He might bounce some of the School Board. He would start building a bridge to East City and extending the car service to that neglected part of Peterborough. He might put some persons in jail. It is difficult to say all that he might do. He might find too much to do. But, at any rate, a study of the manner in which German cities have been administered would be productive of a great many improvements in Canadian cities if some of the ideas were put in practice.

PADEREWSKI'S PATRIOTISM.

PADEREWSKI, who has shut up his piano and come to England to plead the cause of war-stricken Poland, is not more proud of Poland than Poland is of him. His talent, time and money have always been at the service of his country, and four years ago he presented to Cracow, on which the Russians are now advancing, a magnificent equestrian statue commemorative of King Jagello's victory over the Teutonic Knights at Grunwald in 1410. He has more than once come into conflict with the German authorities on account of his activities on behalf of Polish nationality. Pederewski refuses to live under Prussian rule, and lives in Switzerland, where he has a farm, and discusses agriculture with his neighbours; but he cannot be induced to talk music.

DEVELOPMENT IN SASKATCHEWAN.

AN INTERESTING statement just prepared by the government shows that the area of occupied land in Saskatchewan has increased from 2,833,434 acres in 1901 to 26,642,985 acres in 1911. In 1901, Saskatchewan was sixth among the provinces from point of occupied land, whereas in 1911 it had attained first place with over 6,000,000 acres more than any other province in the Dominion. From the standpoint of the value of the occupied land, Saskatchewan held sixth place in 1901, but had reached second place in 1911. The average value of occupied land in 1901 is given as $7.32 per acre, whereas in 1911 it was shown to be $23.10. These figures go to show the remarkable development which has taken place in Saskatchewan during the past ten years.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

For the Sake of Example.
(Ottawa Journal.)

Many people in Britain follow the traditional British way in announcing total abstinence for themselves. But it is the people who do that who have the self-control not to need to do it.

Competition for the Meanest Man.
(Toronto Globe.)

There seems to be an interesting competition going on for the title of the meanest man in Canada. A Toronto competitor stole a newspaper from a blind news agent, while a Nova Scotia horse dealer worked off a thirty-year-old horse at a good price as a war charger.

Armament Profiteering.
(Lord Kitchener.)

Labour may very rightly ask that their patriotic work should not be used to inflate the profits of the directors and shareholders of the various great industrial and armament firms, and we are therefore arranging a system under which important armament firms will come under government control, and we hope that workmen who work regularly by keeping good time shall reap some of the benefits which the war automatically confers on these great companies.

The Grits Sold Horses Four Times Over.
(Hansard Report.)

Mr. McCoig—Since the hon. gentleman has been kind enough to inform us of that, would he also inform us why, if two of the gentlemen purchasing horses were graduates of the Ontario Veterinary College, he thought it necessary to accompany them through the riding?

Mr. A. De Witt Foster—That is a question of policy which will probably appeal to the hon. gentleman when I tell him that when horses were purchased in King's County during the South African war it is generally believed that the same horse was sold four times over.

By Way of South America.
(Montreal Mail.)

It is notorious that certain South American republics are altogether too friendly to Germany, who is their large creditor. In these countries trade is largely in German hands. Lately — and this comes from a particularly well-informed private source — large shipments of nickel have been made from New Jersey to these South American countries. These republics do not manufacture their own big guns. They buy them in England, France, or Germany.

Where is this nickel going?

Britain's command of the seas is unimpaired; but it is quite possible that the commodity is destined, so to speak to go round the block and to be delivered at the back door.

That door should be watched.

Why We Are at War.
(London Times.)

Germany boasts that it is her appointed mission to conquer a great world-empire, through which she may impose her ideals upon mankind. Our empire and our ideals are the chief obstacles in her path. This consideration is the key to all her world-policy. That is why she has been intriguing for years in Egypt, in India and in South Africa. That is why she has watched our domestic controversies and the supposed symptoms of our decadence with malignant vigilance. That is why she has sought, again and agin, to sow mistrust between us and our partners, and why at the last she tried to bribe us into treachery. Her object in this war is to shatter the entente in order to destroy the free empire of England and to rear upon its ruins a German world-empire of militarism and bureaucracy. She hates us, she proclaims, with a hatred more vindictive than she bears the Belgians or the French. She hates us because she envies us, and because our honour and our plain sense have broken through the flimsy toils of her diplomacy. It is to save ourselves from the deadly consequences of her considered malignity that we stand in arms. To shield our homes from the murder and the rape, from the organized loot and the systematic arson we have seen across the seas; to protect the empire our race has reared at so dear a cost; to secure for our children and for mankind the spiritual heritage of which it is the embodiment and the guardian — these are the ends for which we are launching upon the battlefields of France the greatest and the most powerful armies our history has ever known; the ends for which England has pledged her last shilling and her last man.

A STATEMENT BY R. J. TODD.

Editor Review,

Sir,—Many are wanting to know why I have given up the church work and what I am going to do. Evidently they think there is trouble in the church; this is not so. The church is in good condition financially, and in perfect harmony. With your permission, for the sake of righteousness I will briefly explain.

When called to take up the work here, I found with those claiming to be Christian Scientists, as well as others outside a very erroneous conception, and practice of this Science. They believed in the power of mind over matter, but it was the action of the human mind or will, instead of the Mind of Christ, as found alll through the teachings of Mrs. Eddy. As the natural result of this human will in the ranks of those believing thus, there had been murder, suicide, breaking up of homes, separation of man and wife in more than one case. This I knew to be the opposite results of Christian Science. There were two small factions vieing with each other, for who should be greatest, neither of them organized in accordance with the rules of Christian Science.

It was not a bright outlook for me, but with the help of God, I undertook to patch up the old garment, by getting all together in one organization. To my disappointment I later found the Master's words "The rent made worse" at least for me. At that time, by my own request, I was not an officer in the church, just a humble demonstrator of Truth, as revealed through Mary B. G. Eddy. Having discovered more error than I at first had seen, I insisted on obedience to a written request, through the secretary of Mrs. Eddy, prohibiting the method of healing by will power or mental suggestion. Those who would not obey this request went out from us, leaving us, as they thought under a financial burden we could not bear. Owing to the separation, and threat to close up the church I had to again take the chair as president.

Then the foe, although outside, went to work systematically and diligently, to starve me and my then helpless family out of the city. This had been the fate of three others who had preceded us, and had worked for, and with those who seemed determined to have their own way of doing things. Although the treatment at times appeared unjust and cruel, perhaps it was what I needed. I have tried to be true to God, and have stuck to my post in the face of falsehood, persecution, and deceit as long as I could do so, and be loyal to the law and order of our society.

The church is in good condition, with a true foundation laid, and there are three fields of labor open for me where I believe I could do better for myself and family. Therefore I consider it an opportune time to throw this field open to any one who has enough of the mind of Christ, love enough for God and suffering humanity to take up the work, and build on the foundation laid, Christ being the chief corner stone. If there is not, and it becomes my duty to remain and continue the work I shall start with a clean, new sheet, and continue to develop true Christianity, with signs following even though it be in a humble way.

I shall take this opportunity of extending my gratified thanks to the press of Peterborough for their very fair, and kind treatment towards myself, and help in our work, which I appreciate very much, knowing that God rewards fair play and righteousness, I can add nothing more thereto.

Again thanking you for your valuable space,

Sincerely yours,
R. J. TODD.

LAKE OF BAYS

One hundred and forty-six miles north of Toronto, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railway, nestles Huntsville, and the Lake of Bays district. The region is replete with natural beauty and loveliness, and comprises some of the most beautiful water stretches and picturesque landscapes for which that vast portion of northern Ontario is becoming so famous.

Here are lakes and winding rivers and islands innumerable; water absolutely soft and without any admixture of minerals. The scenic grandeur of hills and mountain, the placid beauty of the lakes, the rivers with their pellucid waters flowing through banks of delightfully variegated foliage, are not surpassed in any country.

Good hotel accommodation at reasonable rates. The Wawa at Norway Point, accommodates 300 people. It is modern in every respect. Hot and cold water in every room. In addition to the numerous bathrooms on each floor, there are forty private bathrooms in connection with suites.

For copy of free literature telling you all about it, write to C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont.

CONFERENCE OFF

Premiers of Dominions Decide not to Meet in War Year

LONDON, April 15.—The Colonial Secretary was asked in the Commons yesterday whether he would be able to give any information over the postponement of the Imperial Conference, and replied, in part:

"Early in December last I was made aware privately that Mr. Fisher, Prime Minister of Australia, was in favor of a meeting of the Imperial Conference during and in spite of the war. 'I communicated this fact also privately by telegraph to the Prime Ministers of all the other dominions, and they unanimously agreed with us that the holding of the normal conference this year during the hostilities would be difficult, if not impossible. In two cases at least it was said the attendance of Ministers was impracticable. I then informed the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth that in view of the practical unanimity of opinion we hoped he would recognize its force. He replied that he had no wish to press the matter further."

Turks In Persia.

TEHERAN, April 15.—(Via Petrograd.)—Turkish troops are invading Persia in force. They have occupied Kasrishrin, surrounding the Government House there and are advancing toward Kirmanshah. Small detachments of Persians opposing them are falling back toward Hamadan.

Yeggmen Get $2,000.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15—Yeggmen yesterday robbed the store of Samuel H. French & Co., dealers in paints and cement, of $2,000 in cash and silverware.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred by the Presbyterian College of Montreal upon Rev. John McPherson Scott, pastor of St. John's Church, Toronto.

TENNIS FOR PUPILS

(Special Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, April 14. — The concert under the auspices of the Women's Red Cross Association, which is to be held on April 28th, promises to be one of extra fine features. The concert will be given by local talent who are responding very generously to the demands of the committee. The program will be of a new turn, consisting of no play or lengthy dramatic attempts, but of shorter and more brisk and varied numbers, such as choruses by our well-known local singers, who need no recommendation, since they never fail to entertain, recitations, drills, tableaux, vivants, readings, solos, instrumentals. It is to be hoped a splendid crowd of people will turn out and help boost such a worthy cause. Don't forget the date, April 28.

There was general sorrow felt in the village at the news of the death of one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens, Mr. Rowland, who passed away on Monday night at 12 o'clock. He had been ailing for many weeks past and his death was not unexpected. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the residence on King street. Rev. T. W. Down took charge of the service.

Our school is once more in full swing after the holiday season. The scholars are all back and look ready for the last sprint to the final examinations. A meeting was held on Tuesday night and plans were made for the building of a first-class tennis court on the school premises. This will much improve the general appearance of the school grounds and will be a splendid place of recreation for the scholars at recess and noon, a thing which has been woefully neglected during past years.

Mr. T. J. Parsons gave the town a very interesting topic for thought, discussion and conversation when he bought the house which stood on the lot east of Coronation Hall and endeavored to move it across the street to his premises. After sundry mishaps and the moving of telephone poles and wires, the house was firmly planted on its new foundation. The civic authorities are now occupied in the colossal enterprise of clearing off the lot where the building was, and we expect in the near future to see a municipal park of unequalled beauty adorning a once dilapidated corner.

Mr. Errol Woodruff, who spent the Easter holidays at his home in Kearney, has returned to resume his studies in the Omemee high school.

STORM KING PAYS HASTINGS A VISIT

Electrical Display Accompanied by Heavy Downpour

(Special Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, April 14. — A patriotic "at home" was held in the town hall on Friday night, when a large number of citizens took advantage of the evening's entertainment. Music was supplied by the Belleville orchestra. During the course of the evening delicious refreshments were served, which were supplied by the ladies. Proceeds to buy material to make comfortable clothing for the soldiers.

Quite a severe electrical storm passed over this section on Sunday evening, accompanied by a heavy downfall of rain.

The W. M. S. in connection with the Methodist church held their regular annual meeting on Thursday last in the church parlor, when the officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, Mrs. N. Beavis; 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. J. Hoar; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. A. Fleming; Rec. Sec., Miss M. McConnel; Cor. Sec., Mrs. B. F. Doxsee; Treasurer, Mrs. G. Hornnel; Organist, Mrs. Wm. Tate; Mission Band Pres., Mrs. C. Jones; Assistant, Miss Carrie Doxsee; 2nd Asst., Mrs. M. Baker.

The farmers have begun seeding operations, and the evenings are being enlivened by the croaking of the frogs.

The adult Bible class met for a social evening on Friday night last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Warner, when a very enjoyable time was spent. During the evening Mrs. B. F. Doxsee gave a most interesting report of the adult Bible class convention recently held in Toronto, to which she was appointed a delegate by the class.

The Epworth League meeting on Monday night was under the direction of the missionary vice-president, and a good program was rendered, consisting of readings, vocal and instrumental music, and some most interesting letters from old members of the league who have moved to other parts

An aged resident of Percy was carried to the tomb on Thursday last in the person of Mr. William Hill, who was well known here and had reached the ripe old age of 82 years. Deceased was father of Mr. Wm. Hill, Jr., well known in Hastings.

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. BONIFACE DE SHAWINIGAN, QUE. Feb. 3rd. 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2½ years, I have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives". While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take "Fruit-a-tives" and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take "Fruit-a-tives" for they are the medicine that cures".

MAGLOIRE PAQUIN

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 14.—In one of the most excited markets since the beginning of the war wheat today shot upward nearly 10 cents a bushel, and finished wild 3 3-4c to 6c above last night. The trade was stampeded by fear that virtually exhausted reserves thruout the world would have to be faced before the first of the new crop in the U.S. could be gathered. Other staples hardened with wheat but the gains were comparatively small—corn 3-4 to 1 1-4c, oats 1-2 to 5-8c and provisions 2 1-2 to 7 1-2c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 14.—Futures opened firmer, being ¼c to ½c up for wheat, unchanged for oats and ⅛c, to ⅝c higher for flax. Exporters bought freely. Crop conditions are reported favorable.

In cash circles there was little trade, buyers and sellers being too far apart at the moment.

Inspections on Tuesday were 240 cars, as against 890 last year, and in sight today were 269 cars.

Wheat futures closed 3⅛c to 3¼ higher, oats ⅝c to ¾c advance and flax ⅞c to 1⅝c advance.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 14.—The enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat today was again good, but owing to the sharp advance in prices in the Winnipeg market and continued scarcity of ocean grain room from this port for May-June shipment no business resulted. There was no improvement in the local market for coarse grains, prices being unchanged. Spring wheat flour was more active, May-June shipment being dealt in. Millfeed is fairly active. Butter steady. Eggs firm. Cheese firm.

TRADITIONS UPHELD BY CANADIANS

Sir John French's Despatch Has Praise For Men From Canada

LONDON, April 15.—The following appears in Sir John French's despatch, issued yesterday:

"On Feb. 15 the Canadian division began to arrive in this country. I inspected the division, which was under the command of Lt.-Gen. Alderson, on Feb. 20. They presented a splendid and most soldier-like appearance on parade. The men were of good physique, hard and fit. I judged by what I saw of them that they were well trained and quite able to take their places in the line of battle. Since then the division has thoroughly justified the good opinion I formed of it. The troops of the Canadian division were first attached for a few days by brigades for training in the 3rd Corps' trenches, under Lt.-Gen. Sir William Pulteney, who gave me such an excellent report of their efficiency that I was able to employ them in the trenches early in March.

"During the battle of Neuve Chapelle they held part of the line allotted to the first army, and although they were not actually engaged in the main attack they rendered valuable help by keeping the enemy actively employed in front of their trenches. All the soldiers of Canada serving in the army under my command have so far splendidly upheld the traditions of the Empire, and will, I feel sure, prove to be a great source of additional strength to the forces in this country."

The Bryan Co.'s planing mills at Collingwood, were burned, the loss being $100,000, and the insurance about half that sum. The company had just secured a large order from Brandon.

Veal Calves.

The market for veal calves was still weak. Choice calves, $8.50 to $9.50; good calves, $7 to $8; medium calves, $5 to $6; common calves at $4 to $5; bob calves, $2 to $2.50 each.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, light ewes, $7 to $7.50; heavy sheep, ewes, $5.50 to $6.50; rams, $6 to $7. Spring lambs, $5 to $9; yearling lambs, 90 lbs., at $11; heavyweight yearlings, $5 to $10.

Hogs.

Selects weighed off cars sold at $9.25 to $9.35 weighed off cars.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine for several months without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, years since your watch was cleaned or oiled. Though it cannot even squeak its protest, it is slowly but nevertheless surely, wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders, as well as add years to its usefulness. Bring it in.

WOMAN SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Other Women to Know How She was Finally Restored to Health.

Hammond, Ont. — "I am passing through the Change of Life and for two years had hot flushes very bad, headaches, soreness in the back of head, was constipated, and had weak, nervous feelings. The doctor who attended me for a number of years did not help me, but I have been entirely relieved of the above symptoms by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills, and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LOUIS BEAUCAGE, Sr., Hammond, Ont., Canada.

New Brunswick, Canada. — "I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me." — Mrs. DEVERE BARBOUR, Harvey Bank, New Brunswick, Canada.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

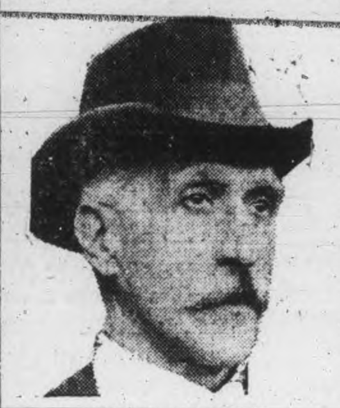
IS THE SOLE SURVIVOR OF HIS MESS

Lieut. C. Wake Attended the Burial of Col. Farquhar

"I have just returned from a most solemn and impressive duty. Our chief, Col. Farquhar, was killed last night, and this evening we laid him to rest in a little plot of ground within easy reach of our trenches," writes Lieut. C. Wake, of the Princess Patricias, from Belgium, in a letter dated Sunday, March 21st, to Mrs. Wake, at 190 Jones avenue, Toronto. "Yesterday there were four of the original officers who had not left the battalion since its formation. Today, three of these followed the bier of the fourth. The three remaining are Major Keenan, Capt. Builer and myself. Poor Lady Evelyn, what a blow for her! We wired to Major Gault today, and also to Mrs. L., who was formerly lady-in-waiting to Princess Patricia, and they wil endeavor to console Lady Farquhar.



LIEUT. C. WAKE

"After the funeral Gen. Fortescue asked us to gather around him, and in a voice broken from emotion he said: 'Officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Princess Patricia Light Infantry: Speaking for the taff, the death of your colonel is most deeply felt by us. A truer gentleman and more splendid soldier I have never known. Your work under him has been excellent. We sympathize with you in your loss, which is also ours. I can say no more.'

"Murmurs of thanks arose, and we quietly filed back to our billets as we are not in the trenches tonight. The battalion has lost its light. I saw him in the coffin and touched his hand. I should say he did not appear to have suffered much. He wore the same happy expression even in death — no distorted features — just a peaceful sleep. Our little graveyard is filling up. Side by side lay Captains Newton, Fitzgerald, Price, Cameron, and Col. Farquhar. Poor little Eardley Wilmott was buried in the trenches.

"Major Ward died of wounds somewhere down country and Colquhoun is missing. This is a big percentage of officers. Thank God, I am fairly well. In a few days we shall move back six miles to rest for six or eight days. I am the only one left in my mess. The transport officer was hit two days ago and has been sent to England. He will probably be away a month."

OBITUARY

MRS. EDWARD WILKINS.

Mrs. Edward Wilkins, widow of the late Edward Wilkins, passed peacefully away at Bowmanville on Easter Sunday, April 4th, after five days illness from la grippe. Deceased, whose maiden name was Margaret Tylor Nelson, was born in Otonabee, Peterborough county, 66 years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss six sons, Alex., Blake and Albert, Bowmanville; Milford, Edward and Morley, Oshawa; and four daughters, Mrs. H. Vickery, Bowmanville; Mrs. John Munday, Mrs. Russell Worden, and Mrs. Ernest Foley, Maple Grove, all of whom were present at the funeral. Among other relatives present were Mr. Thos. Nelson, of Keene, Mrs. Wm. Nelson, of Otonabee, Mrs. John G. Plankett, of Peterborough, Mr. W. H. Nelson and Miss B. Nelson, Toronto.

JOSEPH DOWNING.

Joseph E. Downing, aged 55 years, passed away yesterday afternoon at his home, 909 Water street. Deceased was born in England, but had lived in Peterborough thirty-two years. He was for years an employe of the Auburn Woolen Mills. Of late he had been gardener at the Protestant Home.

He is survived by a wife, one daughter, Miss Harrjett Downing, at home, and one son, Mr. James Downing, 217 Brock street. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 to Little Lake Cemetery under the auspices of the Sons of England.

"Leprosy is curable, and there is little danger of contracting the disease, as I have shown by having none but leprous servants in my house for years," said Dr. Adolph H. Boehmer, of Siam.

Lt. Charles E. Sutcliffe, of the 45th Regiment, this morning received orders from the military authorities to report at once to the 39th Regiment at Belleville, to which he will be attached for service abroad with the third contingent.—Lindsay Post.

DISCUSS PLANS

of Health and some day, this year or in the next few years, this sewer will have to be constructed.

On motion of Ald. Edgar and Ald. Saunders, the sewer as already considered will be gone on with.

At the conclusion of this matter Ald. Edgar suggested that Lafeyette Ave. be provided with a sewer. In connection with this he remarked that Jackson Ave. has a sewer but no residents are connected. He thought the Board of Health should take the matter up.

It was decided that the attention of the Board of Health be brought to the unsanitary condition of Jackson Ave. and that the Board of Health take the necessary step to have the residences connected and also that the Board recommend to the council the constructing of a sewer on Lafayette Ave.

The Bell Telephone Co. was given permission to insert a number of poles to keep pace with increase in business.

A Small "Kick."

A letter from Bruce Johnston, clerk of North Monaghan, ordered the the city to discontinue taking away sand from King George St. and also asked whether or not the city would leave King George St. at its proper level.

Mr. Parsons remarked that it was a mighty small kick as only a few loads of sand were taken out. As for the road it will be left in better condition than it was previous to the beginning of operations on the outfall sewer.

fall sewer. The city clerk was authorized to forward an explanation to this effect to North Monaghan Council.

Mr. Geo. Curtis, who is contemplating the manufacture of sewer pipe waited on the Board re sale of pipes and was referred to the City Engineer.

A representative of a paving company waited on the Board re paving. Ald. Green informed him that the Board did not intend to discuss the paving question that evening. Ald. Green also informed the representative that last year the council awarded over 9,000 yards to his company but the company would not take it up.

The visitor understood the amount was less than 7000 yards. He assured the Board that the company he represents has a new manager and the new pilot is one of those to "get the business."

Ald. Green told him nothing definite will be done along that line for a month. Mr. Keith then withdrew.

Sewer on Boundary Road.

The question of providing sewer connections to residents on Boundary streets was the next item. A recommendation was received from the Board of Health recommending that a sewer be built on Boundary Road from Charlotte to King Street.

Ald. Green thought that as the street railway company intend doing work on the Boundary Road south of Charlotte St. the matter should be dealt with at once. He favored going ahead with the work, the residents of the city side being called upon to pay only the usual rates and the remainder of the cost be borne by the city but before the district outside the city could be annexed the expenditure by the city for it should be paid to the city.

Ald. Green did not favor permitting non-residents enjoying sewer facilities unless they were willing to come into the city.

On motion of Ald. Duffus and Dobbin a recommendation will be made to the council that notice be given that the sewer on Boundary Road between Charlotte and King St. will be constructed and the City Engineer be given authority to commence the work immediately.

Oil for Streets.

The matter of purchasing oil for the city streets was discussed. Ald. Green reported that after consideration they have decided that forty per cent. asphaltic oil be used. Brantford, Hamilton, Stratford, London, St. Catharines, St. Thomas and Windsor now use the forty per cent. oil. The use of a higher grade of oil would require a heating plant and such expenditure this year would not be deemed advisable.

It was resolved that the City Engineer write the various oil companies, sending specifications, and a report be presented to the next meeting.

Flushing Pavements.

After the oil matter was disposed of Ald. Stratton brought up the question of flushing the paved streets. City Engineer Parsons stated that the cold nights did not warrant the flushing of the streets at the present time but as soon as the weather was suitable the streets will be flushed. Ald. Stratton asked if the streets would be cleaned better this year. To this Mr. Parsons stated that Peterborough streets are being kept as clean as streets in other cities.

Ald. Green remarked that the rain was slow in coming and it was only the past few days the streets have been scraped and cleaned.

Mr. Parsons was given a tip on two or three sections of city streets which require attention. He will look into them immediately.

Ald. Dobbin was successful in having the city engineer make a memorandum of the flush of mud and filthy water in time of rain which runs out on the sidewalk at the George St. entrance to the Windsor Hotel. The north end representative has been agitating the taking of steps to alleviate this great inconvenience to the numerous pedestrians on George St. north, for a number of years.

Ald. Green was authorized to secure a horse and cart for keeping streets in repair.

Ald. Stratton suggested that the "chestnut from the fire hall be used."

Bridge May Escape Serious Damage

The residents of Bridgenorth are feeling quite happy this past day or so on account of the manner in which the ice is breaking away from the bridge. It was thought a few days ago that the damage to the structure would be heavy, but information secured today from the vicinity states that it is quite possible that no further damage will e done. At present pedestrians can cross, but vehicles have to go around the head of the lake.

St. Thomas used 35,000 gallons of asphaltic oil in treating their unpaved streets last year, and the engineer reports that the ratepayers were entirely satisfied.

A CANADIAN'S IMPRESSION

Politics are dead and Bonar Law with John Redmond has set an example to the world that economic politics are like quarrels betwixt husband and wife, the "butter in" gets the thick ear. Another phase of this great war is the revolution which is taking place without the populace being aware of it, is that organized trade unionism is dead as far as agitators are concerned for the British public for I am speaking from experience that they will not forget the attempt of the Clyde engineers to hold up war munitions or will the Birkenhead dockers get any sympathy when the time comes to adjust matters.

Women are Splendid.

And the women they are simply splendid, offering their services to all and sundry, from carrying messages to driving motor lorries and organizing all kinds of charitable institutions, even now we have got women police and right well do they perform their work.

There is one jar in all the patriotic feeling and I am sorry to say it emanates from the people who should be the most patriotic and enjoys the greatest privilege by our navy, I refer to the "coal hogs" and bunco steerers who are trying to bleed the poorer class, not trying, but doing so by boosting the price of coal and refusing to carry cargoes under a boost of 155 per cent. per ton increase on freight which is uncalled for and exhorbitant. There are others who try to make hay while the war lasts and they are the bucket shops who found their vocations gone when the war broke out, now they have blossomed out as manufacturers' agents, etc. The writer has had numerous examples of this. Knowing that I was connected with some manufacturing and supply firms in Canada, they approached me to place an order for boots, 100,000 pairs, also 50,000 blankets. I cabled and got a price and submitted it for their consideration, not content with a 10 per cent. profit they put 25 cents on each pair and 75 per cent. on each blanket. Of course I got to know of this and called the deal off and placed the order direct. There are all sorts of new firms springing up and in my opinion now is the time for Canada to look around for any of the numerous German trades we in our great country are capable of handling and making a success of and again millions of people, both Belgians, French and other nationalities, will not desire to go back to their unfortunate countries, and will look for fresh fields and pastures new to forget this horrible war. I will give your readers another aspect of the war next mail.

When Your Fiftieth Birthday Comes will you have the sound heart, steady nerves and good digestion of your younger days?

Many men and women reach the prime of life, burdened with stomach trouble, headaches, constipation, nervousness, heart flutter, etc., and frequently the cause is the drug, caffeine, in the tea and coffee they drink.

You can quickly tell if tea or coffee is injuring your health by stopping it ten days and using

INSTANT POSTUM

This delicious, pure-food drink contains no caffeine nor any other harmful ingredient. It is wholesome and invigorating, with a snappy, delicious flavour.

And Instant Postum is so easy to make. Put a level teaspoonful in a cup and add hot water—that's all.

The convenience of Instant Postum is seen at a glance. Sold in 30c and 50c tins. Some prefer Postum Cereal—the original form, which must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Grocers sell both kinds, the flavour is equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

INTEREST IN TOUR TO GOLDEN WEST GROWS DAILY

Unique Review Contest Talk of City and Surroundings--Have You Entered Yet? or Nominated Name of a Friend? If Not, Get Busy To-day

CALIFORNIA CALLS YOU! ARE YOU ANSWERING?

Four Peterborough Girls Are off to the Golden West in June — Why Not Join the Party? — It's up to You!

Possibly no vacation offers more real enjoyment than the tour to the Golden West, including days spent at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, which is now offered free to Peterborough Review readers, Colorado Springs, the American and Canadian Rockies, Vancouver, Winnipeg, suggests interests so varied and sights so splendid that one only reads of others going to want to go.

Life holds no greater regret than the remembrance of wasted opportunities. How few there are who have not at some time or other neglected to take advantage of a shining opportunity, later to bewail their short-sightedness or negligence. It has been truly said:

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these—it might have been."

You have shrugged your shoulders at some chance which others, more far-seeing or appreciative than yourself, have snapped up, to have the mortification later of seeing how much that same chance meant to you; one more wasted opportunity neglected because of lack of thought and appreciation.

The World of Travel.

The World of Travel — have you ever stopped to think what these words mean? "The World of Travel!"

Have you thought of this with dreams and visions which have surged through other people's minds in contemplation of being able to penetrate just a little way and into this great and wonderful world.

There is nothing more fascinating than travel. In these days of comfort there are many hundreds who long for a chance to view new scenes and faces, but are so situated that the gratification of their desire is entirely out of the question. How different it is for those who are fortunate enough to live in any of the districts outlined by The Peterborough Review in the great Trans-Continental and Panama-Pacific International Exposition tour.

The ability to see the world, to know its beauties, its history, its peoples, and the comedy and tragedy behind their lives is within the realms of possibility for four women of Peterborough and vicinity.

The Review makes you an offer by which you can do all this—broaden your view of life and acquire a splendid education, for "travel" is an education in itself.

The fact that the date of the tour is in June, when vacations are in order, enables all to go, so when The Review tourists are leaving their homes next June, waving adieu to their admiring friends and well-wishers, and the warning: "All aboard" rings out and the train carrying the "Merry Four" in their Pullman car starts for the West, then a full realization will come to you, and if you are not one of the select party you will understand that it was caused entirely by your own timidity or hesitation. But will you neglect the opportunity?

Things to Remember.

Remember, the Review will send one woman from every district. Why should you not be one of the party?

Remember that you can secure subscriptions or votes anywhere in Peterborough, outside of Peterborough, anywhere in Canada, or anywhere else. The only restriction is that you must reside in the district from which you enter the contest.

All candidates should make it a point to call at the contest department at their earliest convenience, as there may be many things which they wish to know.

We shall have several forms of printed matter to aid candidates in their work; will send them on in a day or [illegible]

About Votes.

The vote coupons, which appear on page 2 each day and which are to be clipped from the paper by the candidates and their friends, must be sent or brought in and received before the date printed on each. The vote ballots, which are issued on subscription, can be voted any time during the entire contest. All candidates are requested to turn in subscriptions as soon as possible, so there may be no delay in starting the delivery of The Review. This means saving of much time and confusion to subscribers, and avoids the subscriber wondering why the paper has not started, in case of delay.

Cut out the application blank from the full page advertisement and send it in today to Manager Contest Department. Phone 189.

HOLLWEG IN OPPOSITION TO WAR OF PIRACY

LONDON, April 15.—A correspondent cabling from Rotterdam says:

"From one who is in close touch with diplomatic circles in Berlin I learn there is a serious difference of opinion regarding the submarine warfare against mercantile shipping.

"At one time there was a definite split in the Government. The scheme originated by Admiral von Tirpitz met with strong opposition from Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg, who held the view that the advantages gained would be quite incommensurate with the detrimental effect upon neutral countries. Admiral von Tirpitz pressed the scheme on the ground that the only people whose feelings should be taken into consideration were the Germans themselves, and in view of the German failure on the high seas and the resulting annihilation of Germany's mercantile marine interests, something must be done to show the people that they still possessed some sort of sea power."

DR. VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG.

GAINS BY FRENCH

Extend Their Positions in Ailley and Montmarie Woods

PARIS, April 15. — Extension of the French in the Ailly and Montmarie woods in the course of stubborn fighting yesterday is reported officially by the War Office last night. Progress in wooded sections of the country is regarded as necessarily slow and it is expected that a considerable time will be occupied in clearing out the Germans, who have strongly fortified themselves with wire entanglements and concealed positions. Two German counter-attacks were repulsed in the wood of Montmarie, and some prisoners and a large stock of rifles and ammunition fell into French hands.

A German trench which was captured near Berry au Bac Tuesday night was recaptured by the Germans, but the French troops, under cover of darkness, were able to establish themselves in a new trench in the immediate neighborhood.

French artillery stopped at the point of debouchment a counter-attack of the Germans on Les Eparges from Combres. The dense columns of the enemy melted away under the tremendous shell fire.

A detachment of German infantry was caught in an attempt to come out of its trenches near Perthes, in the Champagne region, and was stopped short by the terrific artillery and rifle fire of the French troops.

Four Million Men Engaged.

PETROGRAD, April 15.—Competent authorities here believe that 4,000,000 men are now engaged on both sides along the Carpathians. Topographically, conditions have a certain resemblance to the struggle in the Vosges, though on an extended scale. But the Russians have great advantages which the French army must yet win. The Hungarian civil authorities have evacuated Ungvar, the immediate objective of the Russian column, which has crossed the ridge westward of the Uszok Pass. Both German and Austrian forces are making desperate efforts to prevent the Russians sending still more troops into the southern campaign for the great turning movement to the westward. This is doubtless the meaning of the disastrous night attack at Zalesczyki, above Czernowitz, in which a substantial Austro-German force, which was waiting in Bukowina during the futile raid on Bessarabia, failed to cross the Dneister, or to disturb the extreme left wing of the Russians in Galicia. The Austro-German position in Hungary, in the rear of their army, is being steadily worsted by the disaffection of the rural population, which is openly hostile to the German soldiers.

ACCUSATIONS ARE MADE

Expulsion of Hon. Frank Oliver is Demanded

PROROGATION TODAY

OTTAWA, April 15.—Parliament will prorogue this afternoon at four o'clock. At last night's sitting of the Senate a communication was read from the secretary of the Governor-General, announcing that the Duke of Connaught would attend at the Senate Chamber at that hour for the purpose of proroguing Parliament.

Before prorogation, however, it is understood that the Prime Minister will make an important announcement respecting the evidence taken before the public accounts committee and the Conservative members of Parliament involved therein.

The Soldiers' Votes Bill has passed the Commons. It went to the Senate last night. Just before the noon adjournment the last Opposition amendment was refused by the Government, and the measure given a third reading with certain additional amendments drafted by the Minister of Justice. One of these provides for scrutineers to be named by commanding officers who will pass along the Canadian line while the vote is being taken.

Considerable opposition is being manifested in the Upper Chamber to the Bill.

The chamber of the House resounded for hours last evening with charges brought against Hon. Frank Oliver, ex-Minister of the Interior. They included not only those made public by the Ferguson Commission but two others brought to the attention of the House by Hon. W. J. Roche, Minister of the Interior.

Hon. Dr. Roche made two direct and definite charges against Hon. Frank Oliver. He accused the ex-Minister of collecting from a tenant named Willis a royalty for coal mined upon property, the surface rights of which the ex-Minister held, but the mineral rights of which still rested in the crown. He read the House receipts and letters to Willis from the ex-Minister during the months of 1908, and demanded on behalf of the crown restitution from Mr. Oliver of the moneys so collected.

The second charge made by the Minister involved several parties. According to Dr. Roche, a man named Christopher Fahrni purchased twenty-three sections of the Michel Indian Reserve from the late Government for the sum of $25,000, to be paid in five annual installments of $5,000 each. Fahrni made an initial payment of approximately $5,000, but failed to meet additional payments as they fell due, and was threatened with cancellation of the sale and forfeiture of his payment. The Minister read a letter dated June 2, 1910, from the Department over which Mr. Oliver then presided, notifying Fahrni of cancellation.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, R. H. Bennett and others followed up the charges against the ex-Minister, coupling with him J. C. Turriff (Assiniboia), Robert Cruise (Dauphin) and other Liberals. Mr. Bennett called upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier to repudiate his former Minister and to read him out of the Liberal party.

LITTLE INTEREST IN TODAY'S POLL

Voting for aldermen in April does not take very well with the average elector. The conflict in the north ward today between William Langford, W. S. Dodd and Dr. Holloway to fill the vacancy in the Horseshoe caused by Ald. Johnston's resignation, is a rather tame affair. The interest is not very great and the number of votes being polled is exceedingly small. In one polling subdivision where the number on the list is 210 only 50 had placed the necessary mark on the slip of paper up to two-thirty.

WILLIARD GETS ADVICE FROM A CHICAGO PASTOR

Punch the Devil as You Did Jack Johnson, He Urges

CHICAGO, April 15. — Jess Willard, the world's fistic champion, has been offered advice by the Rev. A. D. Thibodeau, pastor of the Sheridan Road Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Thibodeau announced these ten rules for Jess to observe to retain the heavyweight title:

Punch the devil every day as effectively as you did Jack Johnson.

Shun the white lights of Broadway. They are the guide-posts to hell.

Don't let the pretty, powdered parasites, who are bound to be on your trail, make a fool out of you.

Always introduce yourself as Jess Willard, of Kansas. Kansas water beats Broadway booze a mile.

Stick close to your wife and four babies. They will prevent your taking the toboggan slide to hell.

Invest your money in a western ranch; get an automobile and take into your pulse lots of ozone.

Clean living is your capital on deposit. Don't overdraw the account.

Steer clear of the green table or the sharks will get you.

Hit the Billy Sunday sawdust trail.

Come to Chicago next year and help make the town dry.

"Jess Willard," Dr. Thibodeau said, "rendered society a magnificent service when he retired to private life, and incidentally to obscurity, the notorious degenerate, Jack Johnson.

"I am not a believer in prizefighting and do not advocate it as a sport, but I admit that I was tremendously interested in the outcome of that fight in Havana.

"I also am interested in the outcome of the champion, Jess Willard. He came from prohibition Kansas, and grew up with good habits.

"He is, I understand, to get $5000 a week in New York. He will be put to the most terrible test. The women will be after him. The gambling sharks will try to entrap him. I thought a little advice might help him."

Tim Jordan is going great guns in the Toronto training camp this year. The veteran has cinched the first base job again.

Mike Mullen, the star third baseman of last year's London Canadian League team, has been signed up by Manager Deneau for Brantford.

Manager Lee Magee of the Brooklyn Federals, has been fined $5 and suspended for two days on charges of rowdyism in the opening game at Brooklyn on Saturday.

Dam Blown Up.

KINGSTON, April 15. — For the third time in succession, parties unknown have with the used of dynamite totally destroyed the dam at Jackson's Mills, at the village of Millburn, near this city. It is regarded as a case of spite by Mr. Jackson, the owner. The dam was blown up late Tuesday night. The people in the district heard the noise, but the offenders made good their escape.

A COSTLY MISTAKE

British Army Robbed of Some of the Fruits of Victory

LONDON, April 15.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British Expeditionary Forces on the continent, reports the British losses in the three days fighting at Neuve Chapelle as follows:

Killed, 190 officers, 2,337 men; total 2,527. Wounded, 359 officers, 8,174 other ranks; total, 8,533. Missing, 23 officers, 1,728 men; total, 1,751. Total casualties, 12,811.

"The enemy left several thousand dead on the field, and we have positive information that upwards of 12,800 wounded were removed by train. Thirty officers and 1,657 of other ranks were captured."

The British comamnder's despatch concerning the battle of Neuve Chapelle, which began early in March, is lengthy, and says among other things:

"Considerable delay occurred after the capture of Neuve Chapelle, and the infantry was greatly disorganized. I am of the opinion that this delay would not have occurred had the clearly expressed order of the general officer commanding the first army been more carefully observed."

Referring to Neuve Chapelle and the considerations leading up to this, the field marshal says:

"About the end of February many vital considerations induced me to believe that a vigorous offensive movement by the troops under my command should be planned and carried out at the earliest possible moment. Among the more important reasons which convinced me of this necessity were: The general aspect of the allied situation throughout Europe, and particularly the marked success of the Russian army in repelling the violent onslaughts of Marshal von Hindenburg; the apparent weakening of the enemy on my front and the necessity for assisting our Russian allies to the utmost by holding as many hostile troops as possible in the western theatre, the efforts to this end which were being made by the French forces at Arras, and in Champagne, and — perhaps the most weighty consideration of all — the need of fostering the offensive spirit in the troops under my command after the trying and possible enervating experiences which they had gone through of a severe winter in the trenches."

Sir John describes the action in detail, and referring to the hitch in operations says the orders of the commander of the first army to reorganize his forces were executed too slowly. He continues:

"The difficulties above enumerated would have been overcome earlier in the day if the general officer commanding the fourth corps had been [illegible] more speedily into action. As it was, a further advance did not commence before 3.30 p.m. The 21st brigade was able to form up in the open on the left without a shot being fired at it, thus showing that at the time, the enemy's resistance had been paralyzed."

Referring to what he terms the "remarkable promptitude" in the arrival of reinforcements from England, the field marshal calls attention to the fact that, "in spite of the heavy casualties in the fighting between the 10th and 15th of March, all deficiencies, both in officers and in the rank and file, were made good within a few days after the conclusion of the battle. The drafts of the Indian contingents are much improved of late, and are now quite satisfactory."

Field Marshal French fails to reveal the name of the officer whom he so sharply blames for the delay which robbed the British of the full fruits of their victory at Neuve Chapelle.

FORTIFYING THE RHINE

Germans Repairing Long Disused Fortresses

BASEL, Switzerland, April 15.—The German military authorities, according to advices reaching this city, are reconstructing the formidable fortress Istein, five miles from here on the Rhine.

The barracks inside the fortress have been completely pulled down and extensive underground barracks to take their places have been dug and quarried out of the earth. Furthermore, the River Rhine is being dammed so that when certain sluice gates are closed, wide stretches of the surrounding country can be flooded.

Observers in Basel are expressing the opinion that these preparations are in anticipation of a French offensive being successful.

ZEPPELIN RAIDS TYNE DISTRICT

Bombs Are Dropped on Several Villages

NO LOSS OF LIFE

NEWCASTLE, April 15.—A Zeppelin raid was made in the Tyne district of Northumberland County last night. It appears that the Zeppelin reached Blyth from across the North Sea at about 8.10 o'clock, passing over Blyth and Cramlington nad proceeded to the neighborhood of Seatonburn.

Bombs were dropped on several of the villages passed by the airship—five at Choppington, three at Wallsend, two at Seatonburn and one at Bedlington.

The airship passed near North Shields and Newcastle. While neither city was visited, both took precautions against attack by extinguishing the electric light.

Full enquiry shows that no loss of life or serious personal injury resulted from the Zeppelin raid and that although several small houses were damaged, the material loss was not very heavy.

In addition to Choppington, Wallsend, Seatonburn and Bedlington, bombs were dropped on other villages. The Zeppelin followed the track of the railway. When last seen it passed seaward from the mouth of the Tyne. By 11 o'clock the district over which the Zeppelin flew had resumed its normal aspect.

Capt. Mulvea Badly Wounded.

MONTREAL, April 15.—Suffering a terribly lacerated side where a German bayonet was thrust into it, Capt. Mulvea, of Calgary, arrived in Montreal yesterday morning.

Capt. Mulvea went down in the fierce charges of the Canadians at [illegible]. For sixteen hours he lay on the battlefield before it was possible to get him back to the hospital.

TRAIN HITS CAR

Four Persons Killed in Rail Disaster

DETROIT, April 15. — At least fourteen persons were killed and 30 were injured late yesterday in a collision between a Detroit street car and a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad train. The accident occurred at the western city limits.

The dead include: Miss Gail; Gladys George, school teacher, aged 26, Portland avenue, Detroit; Mrs. Zepak Wagoras, aged 30, Pulaski avenue, Detroit; Louis Kornich, aged 14; eight unidentified women and two unidentified men.

Most of the dead are foreigners. Four of them are women.

The street car, one of the largest in service, was heavily loaded with passengers homeward bound from their day's work.

Several were crushed in the splintered mass of steel and wood, and it was several hours before they could be extricated and their exact number known.

Attack on British Repulsed.

LONDON, April 15. — The Turks, according to an official report issued by the India Office, who had collected 11,000 regulars, with 28 guns and some 12,000 Kurds and Arabs, attacked the British positions at Kurna, Ahwaz and Shaiba in Mesopotamia on March 12. They were driven off, however, leaving 300 prisoners and two guns in the hands of the British. The British casualties, according to the report, were 92 men wounded.

The Alberta Government loan of $2,000,000 to the Central Canada Railway for the McLellan-Peace River crossing line was passed in the Legislature.

GRAHAM—HAVERY.
DAVIS—HAVERY.

A quiet but pretty double wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. A. Havery, 471 Albert Street, at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, April 14, when her two daughters, Jessie and Christina, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Wilbert Graham of Lindsay and George W. Davis of this city. Rev. J. A. MacKenzie of Knox Presbyterian Church officiated. Owing to recent bereavement in the brides' family the wedding was of a quiet nature.

The brides were beautifully attired in ivory Duchess satin with shadow lace trimmings and entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Lottie Chiles of this city.

The presents including a cheque from Matthews-Blackwell Co., and a handsome Morris chair from the staff and drivers of the Matthews-Blackwell, George Street store, with whom Miss Jessie had been employed for a number of years, also a costly present from A. E. Micks, with whom Miss Christina had been employed and a beautiful silver sugar and cream set to Mr. Davis from the Letter Carriers' Association and numerous other presents not only costly but very useful, bore testimony to their popularity among their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Graham left amid showers of best wishes for Toronto, Galt and points west and on their return will reside on King St., Lindsay, and Mr. and Mrs. Davis at 585 Sherbrooke Street of this city.

GRAY—GRAHAM.

At the George Street Church parsonage on Wednesday afternoon Rev. R. G. Peever, B.D., united in marriage Miss Ella Mildred Graham, daughter of Mr. Silas Graham, to Mr. George Wilson Gray, son of Mr. Wm. Gray, both of this city.

A few friends were present for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray wil reside in the city.

The Daughters of the Empire in Norwood will celebrate Victoria Day in that village.

Lieut. Harold Wilkins of Norwood, who was wounded in the chest, at the front about a month ago, is much improved and is out of danger.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Holyman were in Guelph for a few days. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Holyman.

Rev. Mr. Brown, the new pastor for Park Street Baptist Church, will arrive in the city in time to occupy the pulpit Sunday next.

There will be a meeting of the Business Girls' Club in the Y. W. C. A. on Friday, April 16th, at 7:30 p.m. All members are requested to attend.

An event which is being looked forward to with great pleasure, is the I.O.D.E. musicale on Friday evening of this week, at the home of Mr. W. G. Morrow, 484 Weller St. A delightful program has been prepared and the members of the chapter extend a hearty invitation to all their friends to be present.

The regular literary, to be held tomorrow night in St. Alphonsus Lyceum, under the auspices of St. Peter's Ladies' Literary Society, will be featured by a debate with four young ladies as speakers. Debates have become quite popular at the meetings of this society, and unusual interest is being taken in the one tomorrow night. A musical program will also be given.

The Peterborough Council No. 798 of the Knights of Columbus have issued invitations for an "at home" to be held in their club rooms on Simcoe street on Wednesday evening, April 21st. The committee in charge consists of F. F. Garden, chairman, and W. A. Haslam, secretary. The patronesses of the function are Mrs. P. J. Scollard, Mrs. J. Blackburn, Mrs. H. Buchanan, Mrs. John Flood, Mrs. T. Lane, Mrs. F. Fairen, Mrs. J. Corkery and Mrs. Thos. Grant.

The Conservatory orchestra through Mr. Rupert Gliddon, desire to sincerely thank the Morning Musicale Society for the gift of a copy of "Scenes Alsaliennes," a very high class composition. The two organizations are on the most friendly terms and have co-operaed and assisted each other at various times. At the last meeting of the Morning Musicale it was unanimously decided to recognize the Conservatory in some suitable manner wit hthe result that the presentation of the music was made.

Suitable acknowledgment of the gift was made last night at the Conservatory orchestra practice when Mrs. Warren Dean and Miss Pearl McKee moved a motion of appreciation to the society that was unanimously carried.

NURSES BANQUETED.

The Nicholls Hospital Alumni gave a banquet yesterday afternoon at Hooper's Palm parlors for Mrs. M. K. Douglas, Miss F. Smith, and Miss P. Roberts, the three local nurses, who leave soon for the front. All three are graduates of Nicholls Hospital and their intimate friends took this occasion to show them the high esteem and admiration in which they are held. Each was presented with a diary.

Those present were Mrs. Mann, Mrs. (Dr.) Moir, Mrs. (Dr.) Carmichael, Mrs. (Dr.) McCullough, Miss Ferguson, Miss Dixon, Mrs. W. Lech, Miss Mann, Miss Telford, Miss Walsh, Miss Burges and Miss B. M. Mowry.

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

The matter published in this column will be supplied by the local Council of Women and in the interest of their work.

What are the boys and girls to do? There are many complaints in our city about the depredation of the children. They are accused of throwing stones, of breaking windows, of bathing where they should not bathe, of playing baseball and other games on the streets and a variety of such misdemeanors.

But what are these boys and girls to do? They are not allowed, by law, to play games in our parks, and the school yards are closed during the holidays.

The Local Council of Women propose to solve the problem, by providing a model play ground for the children during the holiday season. Here there will be swings, planes, beds of sand for building splendid castles and forts and houses, the necessary apparatus for games of various sorts, such as basket ball, foot-ball, etc., and a genial man and woman to see that the play is fair and no one gets hurt.

Mothers, would you have your children safe and happy during the summer holidays? Then help forward with your sympathetic interest, the supervised playground movement.

ADDRESS BY DR. SHEARER

Tells of Work Carried on by Social Service Department

"A Russian's idea of an election in this country is a day when he can get free whiskey and free money," declared Rev. Dr. Shearer last night when addressing a small gathering in St. Paul's Sunday School room. Dr. Shearer who is head of social and moral reform work for the Presbyterian Church supplied some staggering and almost unbelievable information concerning the degradation and deplorable conditions which were being fought by social workers in the slums of large Canadian cities. He illustrated his talk with slides showing conditions as they existed and which the department of which he is head is successfully combating. Perhaps one of the saddest things he showed was the picture of an infant with its body horribly emaciated and shrunken as the result of poor nourishment. It was conditions like these which the nurses and deaconesses were finding out and eradicating.

Part of his remarks explained the work being carried on to save girls and fallen women. This was done in rescue homes built and maintained by the Presbyterian Church with the assistance sometimes of philanthropic indivduals.

Foreign Problems.

In discussing the problem of foreign immigration, Dr. Shearer stated that foreigners had been discovered to be peculiarly susceptible to kindly service and they constituted a great and golden opportunity for Canadians to fulfil the teachings of salvation. They had poured into Canada during the last two years at the rate of eleven thousand a day, all nationalities and all with their peculiar habits and customs and religion. The task of welding them into good Canadian citizens was a mighty one. The Dutch immigrant was splendid material to operate upon. The Hebrew came, clever, resourceful, and practical, sixty thousand of them in Montreal and thirty thousand in the city of Toronto. Then there were the Ruthenians, two hundred thousand all told in the Dominion of Canada, prone to make beasts of themselves with liquor, following up their carousals with murders and crime of various descriptions.

Overcrowded Living Rooms.

Dr. Shearer showed a picture of a dingy, dirty looking lodging six room house which was occupied when discovered, by a family of foreigners and sixteen male boarders. In Winnipeg and Montreal he declared there were hundreds of blocks where even worse conditions existed and where the Anglo-Saxon tongue was rarely heard. The greatest challenge confronting Canadians today was the challenge of these downtown sections, the homes of unemployment and tuberculosis and poorly nourished families.

Rev. Dr. Shearer asserted that the social service department had wiped out of existence one million obscene prints and pictures of the vilest kind, pictures which if he had not seen them himself he would scarcely have believed conceivable.

The department had moreover saved thousands of girls from the clutches of white slavery, through its aggressive and energetic campaigns. In the city of Toronto alone in four years, eight hundred girls had been cared for and saved and started out anew and seventy-five per cent. were standing firm and making good.

He also showed the grand work the social service department were doing in making good citizens out of the boys among whom they labored and the avidity and eagerness with which the boys welcomed their attentions and efforts.

At the close of the meeting Rev. Dr. Shearer attended a meeting of women which took place behind closed doors and it is understood it was in connection with certain matters which have been in the limelight of late. They refused to divulge any information of what took place.

Meeting Tomorrow.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Women's Council will be held in the public library tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

At Brantford, oy Kitchen, charged with passing checks when he had no funds in the bank, was allowed out on suspended sentence. He was charged with having bought hay and grain from farmers.

VETERANS WON BY TWO POINTS

Richardson Brought Victory for Team in Overtime

An aggregation of old time basket ball players known as the Veterans came back strong last night and in a nip and tuck tussle trimmed Cressmans' outfit 34-32. "Bill" Richardson got the winning basket and although Bill's weakness is his shooting he did the trick and saved his team all right, last night. The half time score was 14-14 and full time 32-32. In two minutes of overtime Bill dropped the ball in the required spot and modestly accepted the applause.

The "Vets" showed all of their old time ginger, and went to it with a will. It was apparent they could have piled up a bigger score if they had desired. Captain Ross Dobbin, a consistent player, netted most of the baskets as usual. Dobbin has a sort of deadly aeroplane ascension shot that usually notches a basket. The ball goes up to the ceiling first, and on its downward flight drops safely in the net. Fred Cressman's aggregation played a great game trying hard to ward off defeat. Fred Cressman's deadly shooting figured as prominently as usual, but his forts is close in shooting. When in a pinch he had to try from past centre line and the ball hit the right spot Fred was more surprised than anybody else. The game was exciting all the way and the fastest of the season.

Referee—G. A. Carson.
Scorer—Jones.
Timer—Granby.

EXCELSIORS CHAMPS.

The second game was staged by the Excelsiors and Collegiates, victory going to the former 39-13. This was for the championship of the league and the victors got it without trouble. In the first half the Collegiates put up a strong defence, but the Excelsior defence kept them busy and soon piled up a big score which at half time read 18-6.

Knapman and Lang for the Excelsiors starred. Canniff got most of the baskets for his team. Jobbitt who is usually one of the mainstays for his team was too closely checked to be effective.

Referee—Dobbin.
Timers—Carson.
Scorer—Smyth.

The Veterans and Excelsiors go for the champions of the city next Wednesday should be a hummer.

NOTICE.

LANSDOWNE LODGE S.O.E.

A meeting of the members of Lansdowne Lodge S.O.E. will be held in their hall this evening at eight o'clock to arrange for the funeral of the late Bro. J. Downing.

SOUGHT HELP OF THE POLICE

Young Woman Pummelled by Her Mother-in-Law

A call for help floated over the telephone wires into the police station this morning, the person in distress being a young married woman who had been pummelled by her mother-in-law. The two families reside at the corner of Stewart and Dalhousie streets.

Neighbors asserted that the young woman was roughly handled and bore marks on her face as a result of the melee.

They could not say who started the row. The mother caught her victim and after forcing her to the floor of the verandah, struck a number of blows.

Finally, the young woman escaped and, hurrying to a corner grocery, told her tale of woe to the police.

SOME MEN GET WORK.

The paving contractors made a start at noon today on the section of Charlotte street west of Bethune. The work for the first few days will be preparing the street for the concrete. Superintendent Davis, who is in charge, took on a number of men, but could not employ all who were looking for work. As a bystander remarked, there were enough around "to eat the rails from Bethune to Park street."

BOMBS ARE DROPPED ON ENGLISH TOWNS

FRENCH BATTLESHIP DESTROYED RAILWAY BRIDGE

GERMAN AVIATOR AT FOUR POINTS

Damage to House His Only Success --- Marksmen Missed Him

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 16. —It is reported that a German aeroplane at mid-day today dropped bombs near Hern Bay in Kent, six miles from Canterbury.

An aeroplane which dropped bombs on Faversham was shot at by territorial marksmen, but their aim was poor.

Flying over Sittingborne, the airman dropped another bomb, but the only result was the damaging of a house in an orchard.

Still another bomb was droped into Chalk Quarry. The German machine then started for the sea by way of Deal, from which direction it had appeared over Kent.

Fitting Funeral for Pte. Nichols

Military Honors Will be Accorded Deceased Tomorrow Afternoon

With full military honors the funeral of the late Private Harry Nichols, who succumbed to spinal meningitis in Belleville, will be held here tomorrow afternoon. After a very short service at his late home, the body will be brought to the armouries at two o'clock, where the service will be conducted by Adjutant McElhiney. The members of the firing party who will come up from Belleville, twenty-five strong; No. 4 Company of which deceased had been a member, the 57th Regimental Band and as many members of the 57th Regiment as find it possible to attend will be on hand sharp at two oclock. After the service the cortege will leave the Armouries preceded by the firing party, and followed by the band playing the funeral march, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery.

The firing party will arrive here in the morning from Belleville.

Concerning the death of Private Nicholls, the Belleville Ontario says: Harry Nicholls, of the 57th Peterborough detachment, "D" Company, 39th Battalion, passed away in Belleville hospital at an early hour this morning of cerebro-spinal meningitis. He had fallen a victim of the dread disease less than three days ago. Nicholls had, however, during the past week or so not been feeling in the best of condition.

The death of Pte. Harry Nicholls makes the third in Belleville camp so far, all of the one disease.

RETURNS TO CITY COUNCIL

Ex-ald. Langford Was the Favorite in North Ward Election

W. S. DODD NEXT

By a majority of 138 over W. S. Dodd and a majority of 154 over Dr. Holloway, ex-Alderman William Langford was yesterday elected aldermanic representative for the north ward. The rsignation of Ald. William Johnston necessitated the election, and the newly elected councillor will now complete Ald. Johnston's term, which terminates Dec. 31st of this year. Ald. Langford has had considerable experience in the Council, in which he held a seat till last January, when he was defeated by Ald. A. A. McIntyre. He entered the Council chamber just as the motion to adjourn was being carried last night, and immediately his fellow city fathers gathered around to congratulate him. There were no speeches. The following was the vote:

	Dodd	Holloway	Langford
P. S. D. 15, Lee's	21	15	71
P. S. D. 16, Cox'.....	19	14	51
P. S. D. 17, Doody's	26	29	41
P. S. D. 18, Hooper's	17	13	30
P. S. D. 19, Braund's	22	18	50

The bylaw submitted to the people of Lindsay to guarantee the bonds of Boving Co., Limited, was defeated.

ADJOURNMENT MADE IN CHARGE AGAINST REVIEW

Chief of Police Thompson Is the Complainant in the Case

Chief Thompson is the complainant in a case against Thos. W. Whalley, manager of the Review, in which the Chief was criticized last week by an anonymous writer in reference to allowing the roller rink to operate without first procuring a license. The accused appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning with his lawyer, Robt. M. Ruddy, K. C., but the Chief and his lawyer, Mr. G. W. Hatton, asked for an adjournment as they were not ready to go on. The magistrate adjourned the case for a week.

JUVENILE DIDN'T HEAR THE CURFEW

A wayward child of thirteen was brought before Police Magistrate Dumble today for being out on the streets after nine o'clock, unaccompanied by an adult. The girl's father said she was amenable to discipline but forgot quickly and liked to stay out playing on the streets. Mrs. McElhiney said the trouble to her looked as if the child was afraid to go home after staying out. The father promised to accept the magistrate's advice and take a more active interest in the conduct of the little girl and the case was allowed to stand over.

SOME PERSONS ARE IN DEBT TO THE GOVERNMENT

Correspondents Forgot to Place War Stamp on Letters

INLAND REVENUE STAMPS WON'T DO

Business of Past Two Days Shows Big Increase

Because of oversight and forgetfulness, seventy-five parties mailed letters yesterday without affixing war stamps. When a scribe entered Postmaster Edgar's private sanctum this morning he found a clerk in the act of sorting these letters and preparing to notify the senders that they had forgotten something.

However the postmaster didn't consider it such a terribly bad start. What he did object to was the action of the Inland Revenue office in dispensing inland revenue stamps to the banks and drug stores in place of post office war stamps. While such stamps may be accepted by banks and drug stores they will not be accepted by the post office and the postmaster wished the fact to be distinctly understood. He claimed that a large number of citizens had purchased inland revenue stamps instead of post office war stamps, and he was turning back about seventy-five that had been caught.

Big Sale of Stamps.

Business was rushing—as far as stamp sales were concerned. The amount of sales usually averages $100 to $150 in two days, but the war stamps increased proceeds to about $1200 on Wednesday and Thursday, which the postmaster intimated was a fine two days' business. The stamp vendor's commission consequently went soaring on those two days and will be considerably more substantial henceforth, as her commission is obtained from the war tax stamps as well as from the regular stamp sales.

"People will quickly accustom themselves to the habit of purchasing the new stamps," said Postmaster Edgar, "and I anticipate no trouble or returned letters after a day or two when the thing gets running smoothly.

BY-LAW IS PASSED

When the Council undertook to pass the by-law, authorizing the borrowing of $18,000 for waterworks extensions, last night, there were present, Mayor Buller, Ald. Edgar, Ald. Stratton, Ald. Duffus, Ald. Green, Ald. Weir and Ald. Evans. When the first reading was completed Ald. Saunders entered and during the second reading proceedings were held up when City Clerk Armstrong came to the clause re three-fourths of the council being in favor. Only eight aldermen were present and it required one more. Luckily Ald. Dobbin was in the Relief Office and was secured. The by-law then carried.

Ald. Green introduced a request from Adjutant McElhiney that $50 be granted to the Salvation Army to enable them to keep the S. A. Lodging House open during the month of April. It was made known to the council that the home will be discontinued after April 30th.

WAR STAMP REGULATIONS.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Ottawa, April 16.—It is announced that a change has been made in the war stamp regulations applying to letters. Post office stamps bearing the words "War Tax" may now be used for preparation postage but in no case will inland revenue stamps be accepted for postage.

NO. 4 COMPANY.

Col. Sergt. Dawes asks all members of No. 4 Company to be present at the Armouries tonight at eight o'clock to be fitted out for the funeral of Pte. Nichols, tomorrow afternoon. No. 4 Company will act as an escort.

Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and canals, has notified the township of Grantham that the government will grant no compensation to the township for loss of taxes owing to the construction of the Welland ship canal.

GOOD WORK IS ACCOMPLISHED BY HOME GUARD

Complete Company to be Raised for 57th Regiment

WILL ARRANGE FOR OUTDOOR SHOOTING

At a general meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association and Home Guard held at the ranges last night, it was decided to discontinue the weekly drills now that the 57th Regiment annual drill has started. It was noted with pleasure by the officers and members that a large number of the Home Guard had already joined the 57th, and on the invitation from the officer commanding that corps, it was decided that in addition to those who have already joined the 57th, that a complete company be raised and enlisted in the 57th. This company will be enlisted by the following committee: Messrs. Lancaster, Hicks, Sisson, Pilling, Spence and Picard.

It was further decided to discontinue the indoor ranges on Murray street, and the executive of the Rifle Association will make arrangements for shooting during the summer in both the indoor ranges at the Armouries and the regimental ranges.

Official statement was presented, which shows the liabilities of the organization amount to about $70.00; there is some $110.00 pledged against this amount; in addition to this, some $400.00 is due for annual membership dues. The assets consist of $200.00 worth of rfles and a supply of targets which will be sufficient for the summer practice. It is especially requested that all those that are indebted to the organization will immediately send their accounts to the secretary, Mr. J. F. Linton, care of Peterborough Lumber Co., Hunter street, as it is asolutely necessary that all accounts be closed off at once.

LILLICO REMANDED.

A remand till Wednesday was allowed this afternoon in the case of Alexander Lillico who was charged with unlawfully and burglariously entering the house of Frederick Collett in North Monaghan. It is alleged that the motive behind the act was to commit an assault upon the wife of the occupant. As material witnesses have to be secured the case was laid over. Messrs. Gordon and Widdifield are acting for the defendant.

AUTO TO THE RESCUE.

To do away with the long walk on Charlotte Street between street cars, since the work of tearing up the rails has been started, the Peterborough Railway Co. has arranged with C. R. Banks to put an auto bus into commission tomorrow morning, which will quickly convey passengers to and from the waiting cars.

LOCAL LABOR MUST GET PREFERENCE

Outsiders Apply and Get Work on Paving Operations

CARTERS WANT A PERMANENT STAND

At the various municipal elections the various candidates invariably tell the workingman how well he will be cared for during the ensuing year. Once the elections are over the cause of the workingman is usually forgotten but this is not true so far as Peterborough is concerned. To be sure there are the pre-election promises but it is exceedingly pleasing to note that the men in the Council fight for the workingmen from one January to another. This year the labor question is before the public as never before. Depression has robbed the workingman of many rights and every opportunity is sought to alleviate his condition. Extensive civic work is urged and gone on with so as to enable the men to have "work not charity." The construction of asphaltic pavement in Peterborough is being gone on with simply to help the workingman.

It is quite usual for paving companies to have many employes who figure permanently on their pay roll and despite what city a company is working in, the company men get the preference. Peterborough sought to have citizens get the preference and in accordance with a clause in the contract the Foley and Gleason Co. at present working on our streets, is carrying but a limited number of permanent employes and using as much local labor as is required. Another difficulty has been encountered, however. The scarcity of work is prevalent all over the province and when the news spread that paving operations were to be commenced in Peterborough unemployed from many centres migrated from their "home town" and are paying Peterborough an informal visit. They drop down to where the foreman of the paving company is hiring help and apply for a job. He, thinking they are Peterborough men, puts them to work and the ratepayer is left as a spectator.

Last night at the council meeting Ald. Duffus opened the discussion of the labor question and before the oratory ceased Mayor Buller revealed the fact that the unemployed of other cities had come to Peterborough and to be employed by Superintendent Davis of the Foley and Gleason Co. Mr. Davis told His Worship that the company men numbered only some ten or eleven. While on the matter Mayor Buller also said that Mr. Davis had told him that only a few Canadians had applied for the work. He could place more men if they applied to him.

It was the unanimous opinion of the aldermen that the city ratepayers must get the preference and must not be "beaten to it" by outsiders. To get over the difficulty Ald. G. W. Green and Street Commisioner Harry Evans will go over the list of those employed and acquaint Superintendent Davis with the imports. Ald. Green told the Council that they will get after the matter at once.

Stand for Carters.

The question of providing a stand for the carters came up. Ald. Edgar stated that the carters have been standing on Simcoe St. east of George Street, but the policemen have commenced to sing "move along" to them. He suggested that they be permitted to stand in the market square. It was pointed out that the cartrs could not stand there unless it was satisfactory to the market clerk. On motion of Ald. Duffus and Green the matter was referred to the Property Committee with power to act. In the meantime Ald. Edgar will request the Chief to permit the men to stand their vehicles somewhere.

The matter of having the by-law calling for a $5 license for selling ice cream more consistently carried out was referred to the Finance Committee.

NELSON ALLRICK DIES SUDDENLY

NEW YORK, April 16. — Nelson W. Allrich, former U. S. senator from Rhode Island and for years prominent in Republican political circles, died at his home here today of heart failure.

LOOK FORWARD TO JOB OF THEIR OWN

"I want to say to Parliament and to the country that if there is a man, whether he be Conservative or Liberal, who has committed fraud on this country let him remember that there are courts of justice and the doors of the penitentiary are yawning wide open.

"We want to take all means and provide every safeguard to see that not one dollar shall be wasted so that at another session of Parliament we can give an account of our stewardship that will be satisfactory, not only to Parliament, but to the whole country. If restitution can be enforced, it will be forced; if wrong-doers can be sent to the penitentiary, they will be sent there."—Sir Robert Borden in the House of Commons.

ASK RECIPIENTS TO PAY WAR TAX

To Save Letters Going Through Dead Letter Office

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Calgary, April 16.—Two thousand letters were mailed in Calgary without the war tax stamps and the Board of Trade has wired the Postmaster General requesting that the letters be forwarded and the stamps collected from the recipients, instead of sending them to the dead letter office.

DRY-SWEEPING DRAWS $2 FINE

Police Chief Believes it Pays to Advertise

"Chiefly to advertise the bylaw," to quote Chief Thompson, two young men employed in George street stores were assessed $2 each this morning for a violation of the dry-sweeping civic edict, which prohibits the sweeping of sidewalks in prescribed areas unless they have first been sprinkled with water to allay dust. Only one of the boys appeared.

The city placed this bylaw on its books to protect merchants and pedestrians from the annoyance created by raising clouds of dust upon the streets. There have been no previous prosecutions under it, but the magistrate assessed the offenders "to impress it on their minds, so they wouldn't forget next time."

NO GERMANS ON LEFT BANK OF THE YSER

Belgians Cross Canal Taking Prisoners and Machine Guns

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

MONTREAL, April 16.—A cable to the Gazette from Boulogne says it is learned from reliable sources that the Belgians succeeded yesterday morning in clearing the left bank of the Yser of the last German. Belgians crossed the canal, capturing a number of prisoners and machine guns. Many German wounded are arriving at Dixmude and Roulers.

Lieut. Ackerman is Sure Canadians Will be Equal to the Task

"We have been out of the trenches now for nearly a week," writes Lieut. Chas. Ackerman in a letter just received by his father, Mr. B. F. Ackerman. "On Monday," he continues, "we start in for a week's hard training, preparatory for something or other (?). Our billets this time are about the usual standard available in this particular part of the line. We came out of the trenches last Sunday night and remained in Division Reservé (billets) until Thursday night. These billets were about two miles from the trenches. Then we moved back some little distance further to what is called a rest camp. I do not know, in fact no person knows, how long we shall remain here, but I hope we get back again before long to the trenches for a real 'go-in' with the Germans, who do not seem particularly keen on fighting. You no doubt have heard that we took part in the Neuve Chapelle scrap the other day. We didn't know at the time what was going on, but I think we were all sure that we were at last going to get a chance to climb out of our trenches to do a hot 200 yards across to the barbed were opposite, but before we got orders to move, things slackened up a bit and it was three days after that we were congratulated by our corps commander, Sir David D. Haig, upon the part we took in the Neuve Chapelle battle. I expect that before long we will be given a job of our own to do, and we will do it. We are all in the very best shape physically, as I found when I had my platoon out the other morning for a run. We ran for a mile at a pretty steady clip, and not one man dropepd out or lagged behind the least bit. I have fifty-nine men in my platoon now, and not one man on the sick list, so you see that for war conditions the men must be all physically fit. I was laid up for a couple of days at Salisbury with a cold, but that is the only time I have been off duty on sick leave since I left home last August.

"Arthur was in to see me today. He is looking fine and filling out in good shape, and I think will look quite a different boy when he returns home.

"Palm Sunday. — Today is a beautiful, clear spring day, ony very cool. We had a battalion church parade and quite a nice service by Major Beatty, who started out as our battalion chaplain, but who is now brigade chaplain. His home is in Cobourg.

"Arthur was in to see me again tonight and had a good tea with us. Since he was promoted sergeant he is given many more privileges.

"Aeroplanes are very numerous around here, and every day we are favored with aeroplane fights. They are not really fights, as the German planes will not come up after our machines, but they shoot hundreds of shells up after them. I heard some shells bursting the other morning, and found that it was two bombs dropped on a town close at hand, but the German dropped back in his own lines soon after.

"It is now getting late and we have physical culture at 7:15; tomorrow morning a mile route march at 9 o'clock, with some doubling, and at 2 o'clock practising an attack, so you see we will be kept quite busy."

PRISON FARM VACATION PLACE FOR JAS. WILSON

Trying hard to squeeze forth a few sham tears, "Jim" Wilson pleaded hard for another chance today when told the prison farm at Toronto was to be his summering resort for the next six months.

He introduced an argument which one would scarcely credit him with, when he pleaded that he wanted a chance to be outside this summer with the birds.

Jim was found in a somnolent position yesterday in a Hunter Street shed, by Constable Deannard. He figured that he was doped or poisoned. Somebody had given him a severe trouncing, a big black eye testifying that this was perhaps true.

At the Liberal convention of Nipissing at Sturgeon Falls, Mr. A. J. Young was chosen as the party candidate in the Federal field.

PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1915

UNION LABEL

THE COST OF AN OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT.

THE BATTLE of Neuve Chapelle is considered one of the most important engagements of the British in this war. Certainly, in loss of men it ranks as a great battle. But when one looks at the battle line and sees the small dent the ground gained makes in it, one can get an idea of the terrible cost an offensive movement in this war involves. Twelve thousand men were spent for a gain of four thousand yards. It is claimed that in the battle the Germans lost about eighteen thousand men and that the gain is of much strategic value. This latter point will have to be proved, but it is quite clear what it costs for a strip of ground a couple of miles long or more and four thousand yards wide, with trench defences.

ARBOUR DAY.

WHY NOT inaugurate a general citizens arbour day, when everybody made an effort to do some special cleaning-up or improving? It may be said that it is not necessary; that the majority of citizens have already started to make their residences spic and span. This is probably true, but the idea is to do something more than usual and do it not only to private property but to streets as well. By making a special effort, great things were done for the Patriotic Fund, and so, much can be done for the improvement of Peterborough. There is also a special reason this year. More tourists than usual ought to be coming to this locality, and so the city should be as clean and attractive as possible.

PLAY GROUNDS.

THE MOVEMENT for the establishment of play grounds in this or in any other Canadian city is part of the programme for the building of better cities. In Montreal a few days ago three children were killed as a result of accidents on streets; they lost their lives and brought suffering to their families. Play grounds, however, would not solve this problem, but they would help to prevent accidents. With play grounds properly supervised, there is a place where children can play. There should be also a bylaw preventing them from playing on the streets, and which would make parents responsible for their children. The principal reason for play grounds is found perhaps in the lack of adequate play grounds around a large number of homes, hence the children play in the streets, and accidents are caused. A number of Canadian cities have started play grounds, and much benefit has been derived.

A PROFESSORIAL PROTEST.

PROFESSOR WRONG, of Toronto University, has written a letter to the Toronto newspapers complaining of an election in the near future as an outrage and as contrary to established constitutional practice. One would suppose that a professor of history in a Canadian university would know what constitutional practice is, but it appears that Professor Wrong is not only mistaken, but rather late in the day in making his protest. There has been talk of an election for a considerable time, but it is only now, at the close of the session, that he makes his views known. If an election is fought out in the near future, it will not be a "snap election," as Professor Wrong says, nor a khaki election, as some others affirm, but one in which a very big question will be the main issue — that is the question of the Senate. It is interesting to know the comment of the Toronto News on Professor Wrong's views. The News says:

> "Prof. Geo. M. Wrong declares that 'both on the ground of sound constitutional practice and of national interests, an election at the present time would involve an outrage.' He quotes the contention of Hon. Edward Blake that 'Parliament should endure for its proper term unless some vital national issue calls for a dissolution.' This has not been the practice either in Great Britain or in Canada. Indeed, 'constitutional practice' for a third of a century denies Mr. Wrong's argument. All the precedents furnished by Sir John Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier favour dissolution at least twelve months before the parliamentary term expires. This was also the practice of Disraeli, of Gladstone, of Lord Salisbury, and would undoubtedly be the practice of Mr. Asquith under normal conditions. As to whether or not 'it is quite clear that with a Parliament still a year and a half from its natural end, the Crown has both the right and the duty to refuse a dissolution,' there may be differences of opinion. The whole history of Confederation is against doubtful assumption of authority by a Governor-General. The Governor-General is not likely to claim authority in Canada that the King has relinquished in Great Britain."

THE BOARD OF WORKS ON THE JOB.

THE LAST MEETING of the Board of Works appears to have been a very business-like proceeding, and dealt with a number of matters important to the citizens. It appears that some people do not want sewer connections made on some streets, while others do. The extension of sewers is very important to the health of this city, and eventually will have to be laid so that they will serve all residents. The Board should pay no attention to those who object to extensions. They are either ignorant, behind the times, or miserly over the expense. There is no use running a city or living in a city if it is not run as such, and sewers are very necessary.

The Board of Health was given some pointers to look after. It is our opinion that the Board of Works did not express itself emphatically enough, not that the Board of Health is neglecting its duty, but that it requires strong support to do oftentimes what is in the best interests of Peterborough. On any street served by a sewer it should be compulsory that houses be connected with it within a specified time. If for any proper reason an extension of time is needed, it should be granted, but the Board of Health should see that sewer connections are made on every street served by a sewer.

Engineer Parsons made a wild statement when he said Peterborough's streets were kept as clean as those in any other city. It is to be hoped they will be. They certainly were not so last year, and they will not be this year unless proper flushing waggons are provided. However, the streets are more suitable this year to cleaning, and it is hoped that there will be an improvement. The use of oil should also facilitate cleanliness. Clean streets and careful attention to matters affecting public health are a first concern of any progressive city.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

REMEMBER, it costs three cents to write a letter now.

AFTER ALL, it is only a cent extra. Who cares a cent?

WE HAVEN'T heard any blowing lately on Werner Horn.

A STACK of Liberal campaign literature has been distributed around Peterborough lately, and a large proportion of it is without the union label.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Aristocracies in War.

(Chicago Tribune.)

The Prussian family of Von Buelow has announced the death of ten of its members in war. It is a striking sacrifice, but it probably can be matched in Great Britain Austria, France, or Russia. Among the most impressive records of the war are the pages of portraits published by the British weeklies of officers who have died on the field.

Whatever sinister part kings and castes have had in making wars, when wars are waging they have paid their full share, at least in modern times. In the present war the rate of mortality among officers is very high, and if hostilities continue a long while, as many experts have prophesied, the aristocracy of all belligerent countries will be bled to exhaustion.

A Respectable Contribution.

(Montreal La Presse.)

It is officially announced that Canada has contributed one hundred thousand soldiers to the armed forces for war. Considering our population is about seven and a half millions, it can be justly said this contribution is very respectable.

A Good Point Gained.

(Le Temps.)

The inquiry concerning the boots supplied to the Canadian contingent for overseas service has had the effect of re-establishing the reputation of boots made in Canada. This is something accomplished, something done; but it was not the object aimed at by the Liberal agitators.

Book Reviews And Literary News

WHEN BLOOD IS THEIR ARGUMENT.

MR. FORD MADOX HUEFFER has prepared, and Messrs. Hodder and Stoughton are publishing, a new work which, under the title of "When Blood Is Their Argument: An Analysis of Prussian Culture," deals elaborately and exhaustively with the subject of Prussian civilizaton. Part I. gives a resume of the history of Germany and of the gradual rise of the Prussian hegemony. Part II. deals with the change in the psychology of the German peoples which has gradually converted them from a race of thinkers into a nation purely materialistic and militarist. Part III. deals with the influences, imperial, official and educational, which have brought about this change. The main thesis of the book, which in every case is supported by official, professional or State documents, is to the effect that, whilst gradually crushing out the kindly idealism which distinguished at least the South German nations until 1848, the Prussian State has, since 1870, not only coerced every German professor and every German school-teacher into preaching doctrines of militarism and the supreme glories of the Hohenzollern dynasty, but has so fostered an artificial and financially dishonest commercial expansion that the German peoples, wearied out in the struggle against under-capitalization and the increased cost of living, have at last consented to ascertain, by way of the sword, whether or no Prussian militarism can confer upon them boundless and permanent wealth. This proposition is supported by a careful analysis of trade returns, consular reports, and the statistics of joint stock banks, but Mr. Hueffer has nevertheless continually kept in mind the necessity for rendering the book as readable as possible, and many of the anecdotes and pictures of German life which it contains, and which are drawn from within, will be found not only instructive but entertaining. The title has been taken from "Henry V," Act IV, Sc. 1:

> "For how can they charitably dispose of anything, when blood is their argument."

A RAILWAY LESSON FROM GERMANY.

Editor Review,

Sir,—We hear a great deal about the wonderful scientific organization of the Germans, but the Germans themselves appear to have their doubts whether in the case of their railways the organization was as perfect as it might have been. Otherwise, why should the Kaiser have gone over the heads of all his regular railway officials and put a steamship director, Herr Ballin, in charge of all railway transport during the war? Among the railway systems of Germany, all of which are operated by Government officials, the Prussian State Railways are the chief and most successful. One might have thought that for the emergency of war some official might have been found in the ranks of the Prussian State Railways themselves for the supreme direction of transport. But apparently the State Railway System does not produce men capable of meeting emergencies and as there are no private railways in Germany from which a capable man could be drawn, resource had to be made to another form of private enterprise, namely, the steamship business, for a leader. Herr Ballin, who got this responsible position, knew very little about railways, but he had strong initiative, a characteristic which is a sine qua non in private enterprise.

In these days when politicians are taking up the cry for nationalization of railways, it is well to draw attention to such a notable instance of the weakness of the State Railway System. However well intentioned the State official may be, he lives in an atmosphere which annihilates individual initiative.

Lesson III.—Second Quarter, For April 18, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ps. xxiii—Memory Verses, Ps. xxiii—Golden Text, Ps. xxiii, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This most familiar of all the psalms to many people is as farreaching as any and will have its complete fulfillment only in the kingdom when Isa. xi, 10, 11; Jer. xxiii, 5, 6; Ezek. xxxvii, 21-28, shall be fulfilled in the eyes of all nations, with every other prediction concerning Israel's future glory. All the true shepherds and shepherdesses of the Bible are suggestive of Christ and Israel, with some reference also to Christ and His church. He is primarily the Shepherd of Israel, leading Joseph like a flock, dwelling between the cherubim (Ps. lxxx, 1). He is also the Good Shepherd giving His life for the sheep and giving eternal life to His sheep, the sheep of His pasture (John x, 11, 27, 28; Ps. c, 3). He is the Great Shepherd risen from the dead, by whom God works in His people that which is well pleasing in His sight (Heb. xiii, 20, 21). He is also the chief Shepherd, who, at the resurrection of the just, will give the crowns to those who have won them and among others the crown of glory to those who have faithfully fed the flock (I Pet. v, 1-4).

All the shepherds, such as Abel, Jacob, Joseph, Moses and David, were wondrously typical of the Good Shepherd, and the women also, such as Rachel and Zipporah, who kept sheep, give us much to meditate upon, but all centers upon Him who is altogether lovely and of whom our souls say, "My meditation of Him shall be sweet; I will be glad in the Lord" (Song v, 16; Ps. civ, 34). The sequences of Scripture are most interesting and helpful studies, and in Psalm xxii, xxiii, xxiv, we have one of the most wonderful. Ps. xxii tells very fully of His sufferings, as if written by an eyewitness; speaks of His hands and feet pierced, His garments divided and lots cast upon His vesture, and quotes some of the very words flung at Him as He hung upon the cross, but it also tells of the resurrection and the kingdom. Ps. xxiii suggests Israel's glory in the millennial kingdom, and Ps. xxiv tells of the King of glory ruling the whole world in righteousness.

No one can truly say "The Lord is my Shepherd" who has not seen Him dying in their stead, bearing their sins in His own body and received Him as their own Saviour (Gal. ii, 20; I Pet. ii, 24; John i, 12; Eph. i, 6, 7). Then only can we be sure that we shall never want any good thing, for He who spared not His own Son will with Him also freely give us all things (Ps. xxxiv, 9, 10; lxxxiv, 11; Rom. viii, 32). It is impossible that such a Shepherd could withhold from any of His sheep anything really good for them.

Pastures of tender grass and waters of quietness (Ps. ii, margin), such would He have us enjoy always if we would only keep close to Him and not stray away like a lost sheep, choosing our own pasture and causing Him to grieve over us, saying, "Oh, that my people had hearkened unto me and Israel had walked in my ways" (Ps. lxxxi, 11-16). Although none of His sheep can ever perish, they may wander and need restoration, as when David said, "I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek thy servant," or, again, "Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation" (Ps. cxix, 176; li, 12). He will be glad to lead us in the paths of righteousness if we are only willing to be thus led. Thus only can we foretaste the kingdom and know something of its peace and quietness and assurance.

The expression "the shadow of death" is just one word and is found ten times in Job, four times in the Psalms and four times in the prophets. It may refer to the whole time of our sojourn here for we may be said to be always in the shadow of death, but the believer can always say, "I will fear no evil," for to the child of God death is always gain and very far better (Phil. i, 21, 23). Death is never spoken of as the coming of Christ, for, although death brings gain to the believer, it is always an enemy, the last enemy to be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26). In life or death, if we are His, He is always with us to guide, comfort, sustain, protect us and assures us that He will never leave us or fail us. (Deut. xxxi, 8; Isa. xli, 10, 13; Heb. xiii, 5).

The table in the presence of enemies will have a great fulfillment at the beginning of the next age, when He will come in glory for Israel's deliverance. It will then be a feast of fat things, when He will take away the rebuke of His people from off all the earth (Isa. xxv, 6-9). For the believer there is always a feast, and we may be day by day satisfied with the fatness of His house and drink of the river of His pleasures (Ps. xxxvi, 8). It is a reproach to the Lord when His people are seen seeking satisfaction at the world's table. When truly anointed with the Holy Spirit we shall so enjoy the Lord and His fullness that there shall be an overflow for others, but how few seem to overflow! Some one has said that with the Lord going before (John x, 4) and with goodness and mercy following (verse 6) we are cared for as only heaven can care for us. Then to think of our forever home, from which we shall go no more out (John xiv, 1-3); only unbelief can make us sad. May our hearts ever respond to "Let us be glad and rejoice and give honor to Him" (Rev. xix, 7).

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Acute scarcity of wheat reserves predicted for the near future had a bullish effect today on the wheat market here, but rural holders were said to be selling a little more freely, and some of the gain in price disappeared. There was an unsettled close at 5-8c to 1 1-4c above last night. Corn finished a shade to 3-8c higher, oats off 3-8c to 1/2c to 1-2c up and provisions down 5c to 10c.

Corn was helped upward by wheat strength and by continued reports of crop damage in Argentina. Country offerings, tho, as was the case with wheat, increased somewhat on the advance. Two steamers were announced to leave Chicago tonight with 700,000 bushels of corn for Buffalo, the first vessels of the season.

In the oats trade free buying of July and selling of May by houses that generally act for the seaboard caused a decided narrowing of the spread between the two deliveries. There was also a good deal of speculative buying of July.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 15.—There was less enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat today, but the tone of cables was stronger and the prices bid showed an advance of 6d to 1s per quarter and sales of a few odd loads were made for May-June shipment. In sympathy with the strength in the Winnipeg option market for oats of late, a stronger feeling developed in the local market today and prices advanced 1-2c to 1c per bushel, but there was no improvement in the local or outside demand and business was generally quiet. Argentine corn is also stronger and 1c per bushel higher at 81 1-2c. Ontario malting barley is easier. Flour is stronger and prices for spring wheat grades are likely to be advanced soon. There is a fairly good enquiry from foreign buyers for flour and further sales were made today at an advance of 6d per sack, but the local trade is still quiet. Demand for millfeed is rather quiet for domestic account, but some sales of fair sized lots were made for export. A stronger feeling has prevailed in the butter market and prices are 1c per pound higher under an improved demand for small lots. Cheese quiet, but firm. Eggs fairly active. Potatoes stronger at an advance of 2 1-2c per bag.

TOWNS BOMBED BY ZEPPELINS

Dirigibles Visit East Coast of England

LONDON, April 16.—Two Zeppelin airships visited the east coast of England shortly after midnight, dropping bombs on several towns, doing considerable damage to property. As far as has been ascertained, only one person, a woman, was injured. It is said she was only slightly hurt.

The airship dropped four bombs on Malden, in Essex County, 30 miles northeast of London, but no damage resulted. Bombs were also dropped in the Hey Bridge basin, two miles across the river. These set fire to farm buildings. The airships came up the Black Water river and over the marshes and circled around.

At Lowestoft, on the North Sea, in Suffolk County, three bombs were dropped, considerable damage to house property in the centre of the town resulting. A lumber yard also was set on fire. The window-panes in many houses were shattered. Three horses belonging to the railway company were killed.

Previously the aircraft had visited Southwold, 12 miles south of Lowestoft, and, having missed striking that town with its missiles, went on to Halesworth, eight miles inland. It then returned again to Southwold and dropped six bombs.

According to the latest accounts after leaving Lowestoft the aircraft passed over Harwich in the direction of Felixstowe. It is said now that a dozen bombs were dropped in Maldon, but that only one building, a workshop in the London road, was struck.

Anti-aircraft guns were heard during the night at Gravesend and Sheerness.

No accounts of the actual damage done by the bombs of the aircraft is obtainable as yet, the raid having occurred at such a late hour of the night.

The Sunken Submarine.

HONOLULU, April 16. — Chief Gunner's Mate, George D. Stillson, the second diver to make the descent to the ocean's floor and examine the submarine F-4 yesterday reported that the superstructure of the wrecked vessel is caved in and the hull filled with water. Admiral Moore, however, yesterday notified the Navy Department that the submarine, which lies 288 feet beneath the waters of the harbor, may be raised before night. He said a line had been placed under the stern of the boat and another would be placed under the bow.

Was Newest Zeppelin.

LONDON, April 16.—The skippers of the British trawlers who sighted the Zeppelin airship which Wednesday night raided the northeast coast of England, describe her as the Z-9, one of the very latest type of German airships. The trawlers sighted the craft 100 miles from land. They believe she came from Heligoland. If she returned to this island, the calculation is made that she must have covered on her trip something like 800 miles.

The trawlers came at full speed for port immediately after they recognized the Zeppelin with the object of giving warning, but, of course, they were easily outdistanced by the airship.

HOLLANDERS ARE ANGRY

Torpedoing of Steamer Arouses Deep Resentment

LONDON, April 16.—Tremendous excitement has been aroused in Holland, according to despatches received here last night, by the destruction of the Dutch Government steamer Katwijk by a German submarine. The Kalwijk was torpedoed and sent down while riding at anchor off Noordhinder lightship, off the coast of Holland. She was a vessel of 2,046 tons, registered in Rotterdam, and bound for that port from Baltimore with an American cargo of corn and cotton. She had been chartered by the Government of the Netherlands, and her cargo was Government-owned.

The sinking of the Katwijk, coming as it did on the heels of the seizure of four Dutch trawlers, the St. Nicholas, Eentwee, Rynland and another as yet unidentified, by a German torpedo boat, which took them to Cuxhaven, has aroused the Dutch Government to take hasty steps to demand immediate and complete reparation.

This feeling has not been modified by later despatches, saying that the captured vessels were released.

The British steamer Ptarmigan was torpedoed by a German submarine in the North Sea, according to a despatch received here yesterday.

Eleven other members of the crew of the Ptarmigan were rescued. The steamer was torpedoed a few miles off the coast of Holland, between Hinter light and the Hook of Holland.

There is a sucker born every minute to garner the crop.

PREACHED AT NORWOOD.

The shower Sunday evening interfered greatly with the attendance at all the churches. However, the county benefitted by the rain, though the people missed some good thoughts by not being in their regular places in church. At the Methodist Church, the Rev. R. G. Peever of George Street, Peterborough, spoke in the interests of Education and gave his hearers some splendid thoughts on this line that could not fail to impress. His address on this subject at the morning service, when there was a large congregation present, was also of a most thoughtful character.—Norwood Register.

WIFE IS ARRESTED

PORT ARTHUR, April 16. — Mrs. William Leithinen has been arrested on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the murder of her husband at Kaministiqua last fall, for which Amelia Palma on Wednesday was sentenced to death. Palma confessed that he had been intimate with the woman for years and it was mutual desire to get rid of Leithinen that caused him to kill the man. He said the woman first suggested it and that she bought the revolver.

MOVEMENT COMPLETED

French Have Been Successful Near Arras

PARIS, April 16.—What is ascribed by the French general staff as a "brilliant success," was gained by French troops over the Germans holding strong positions north of Arras yesterday, the result of which completes a movement begun with a prosperous stroke as far back as in March.

The net result of the action was the capture of the whole spur southeast of Notre Dame de Lorette, in a dashing bayonet attack, which delivered the enemy into French hands. This victory gives Gen. Joffre control of the strong position of all the southeastern slopes as far as the outer woodland fringe of Albain St. Nazaire. One hundred and sixty prisoners were taken in the engagment, including several officers, three trench motors and two machine guns also fell into the hands of the conquerors.

Further success in the Ailly wood, Woevre district, includes the capture of a German trench and a section of ground 400 by 100 yards.

Repulse of attacks by German infantry at Thiepval, Boiselle and the Pretre wood were reported.

No less than three attacks on the eastern salient of the French position at Eparges were delivered by the enemy yesterday, and as many times repulsed. At Bagatelle, in the Argonne, one of the principal German trenches was destroyed by artillery fire. A counter attack made on the newly-won French position in the Montmarie wood was defeated. The French captured at this point two quick-firers, two trench mortars, a machine gun, several hundred rifles and much ammunition and hand grenades.

Austrians Defeated.

LONDON, April 16.—The reports from Petrograd announce a great victory over the Germans in the Carpathians, the bayonet again being the weapon relied upon by the Russians to meet the desperate attacks of the Germans on the left wing.

The Austrians attempted a similar offensive on the extreme east and met with a crushing defeat. Big battles are now raging and the Russians are pushing the enemy back to the plains of Hungary.

In a special despatch from Petrograd to The London Daily News, Frederick Rennet says:

Gen. Litzinger's army delivered tremendous counter-attacks against the Russians' left wing in the Carpathians yesterday. A large force of picked Bavarian infantry, attempted to storm the Russian hill positions south of Koziouwka, dominating the Munacks road. The Russians advanced from their trenches and met the attack half-way. A fierce bayonet battle continued until after dark on the slippery hills. The Germans were driven southeast with terrible losses and the Russians moved forward their general position here. A similar attempt made by the Austrians on the extreme east was immediately crushed. Continuous heavy battles are now raging from Uszok westward and Russian columns are beating the enemy back from the southern fringe of the Carpathians to the plateau where cultivation begins.

Other Petrograd despatches claim that the Russians are making steady progress, despite the efforts of the Austro-Germans to outflank them, but the Austrians insist that the recent fighting has been in their favor, and that they have captured another important height northwest of Uszok Pass.

VOTES FOR SOLDIERS

Measure is Accepted After Senate Amendments

OTTAWA, April 16.—The Senate and the House played battledore and shuttlecock with the soldiers vote bill yesterday, but in the end the measure was passed, and the royal assent was given nearly three hours after the time appointed for prorogation. It was the delay over the bill which kept His Royal Highness waiting. At one o'clock yesterday afternoon a motion was made in the Senate to give the bill the six months' hoist, but when this was voted down, the third reading followed immediately. The Senate, however, made two amendments. One of these provided for the appointment of six scrutineers, three by the Prime Minister and three by the leader of the Opposition with authority to go overseas and appoint deputy scrutineers at the front. The second amendment provided that the measure should not come into effect so far as voting outside of Canada is concerned except upon the certificate of Lord Kitchener that the law would not interfere with military efficiency.

The Governor-General attended at the Senate Chamber, granted assent to bills passed by the two Houses and prorogued Parliament.

Dutch Trawlers Seized

AMSTERDAM, April 16. — Four Dutch steam trawlers were seized by a German torpedo boat Wednesday and taken to an unknown destination according to a Ymuiden despatch to the Telegraaf.

STORIES WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Ambassador at Berlin to Find Out About Officers

LONDON, April 16.—Walter Hines Page, the American Ambassador, called upon Foreign Secretary Grey at the Foreign Office yesterday and discussed the reprisals the Germans are reported to be making because of the special treatment being accorded by Great Britain to the officers and men captured on board German submarines.

No official advices have been received in London as yet concerning the actual steps Germany is taking to punish the 39 British officers who are reported to have been committed to special detention because of the steps taken by Britain against the German prisoners.

AMBASSADOR GERARD.

Ambassador Page yesterday received a message from Washington saying that James W. Gerard, the American Ambassador at Berlin, had only newspaper reports of the reprisals said to have been put into effect by Germany, but that replies were expected immediately to enquiries asking for specific information as to what Germany is doing.

HONOR FOR CANADIANS

Three Officers of Patricias Decorated for Gallantry

LONDON, April 16. — The King has approved the appointment of Maj. A. Hamilton Gault of the Princess Patricias as a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of gallantry and devotion to duty. The official records reads:

"For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi on Feb. 27 in reconnoitering quite close to enemy's position, and obtaining information of great value for the attack carried out next day. On Feb. 28 Maj. Gault assisted in the rescue of wounded under the most difficult circumstances whilst exposed to heavy fire.

"The King has also conferred the military cross on Lieut. W. G. Colquhoun of the Princess Patricias for conspicuous gallantry and resource on numerous occasions, especially at St. Eloi on Jan. 26, when he rescued with assistance of one man a mortally wounded officer after three others had failed in the attempt, being under very heavy close range fire the whole time.

"Again on Feb. 27 at St. Eloi he rendered valuable assistance on reconnaissance duty under very difficult and dangerous circumstances, and also upon Lieut. T. M. Papineau, Princess Patricias, for conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi on Feb. 28, when in the act of leading a bomb-throwing party he shot down two Germans and ran alongside and hurled bombs into an enemy sap."

Lieut. Colquhoun enlisted at Hamilton, Ont. He was reported killed in action, but later advices are that he is a prisoner.

IMPERIAL STAFF BOMBED.

Daring Aviators Discover and Damage German Headquarters.

PARIS, April 16.—The headquarters of the German Imperial Staff were discovered and bombarded by a daring French airman yesterday. They were hit by five bombs, with presumably satisfactory results. The official statement issued last night by the French War Office is as follows:

"By way of a reprisal for the bombardment of Nancy by a Zeppelin, one of our aeroplanes dropped five bombs on the German headquarters. All the projectiles fell on the buildings in which the Imperial Staff were installed at Mezieres and Charleville.

"We also bombarded the station at Freiburg in Breisgau.

"A flying squadron of fifteen machines dropped bombs with complete success on the German military buildings at Ostend. Our aeroplanes were violently cannonaded but all returned unscathed.

"A German aviator dropped bombs on the hospital a. Mourmelon."

James Winger, of Chippawa, aged 25, wsa killed in the Michigan Central yards at Montrose by a train. Winger had been mployed as a sectionman.

TO PUNISH OFFENDERS

Sir Robert Borden Promises Prosecution in Graft Cases

OTTAWA, April 16. — While the Prime Minister stated in the House of Commons yesterday morning that the Government had not decided whether the commission, which it will appoint to control the purchase of all war supplies, would be a one-man or three-men commission, it is understood now that the probability is that only one man will be appointed.

It will not be a high-salaried position, if, indeed, any salary is paid at all. He will have charge of the purchase and inspection of the war supplies, for which the $100,000,000 has just been voted, and also of war supplies in large quantities for Great Britain and the allies. It is understood that some very large new contracts from overseas are to be placed in Canada in the immediate future.

The Cabinet held a two-hour session last night, as several Ministers are about to leave town for a few days. Hon. Dr. Reid and Hon. A. E. Kemp went to Toronto last night. Hon. Robert Rogers is out of town, but will be back Monday or Tuesday.

Practically all of yesterday's sitting in the House was occupied by the speeches of Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The Prime Minister dealt impressively with the cases of Mr. Garland, Conservative member for Carleton, Ont., and Mr. Foster, Conservative member for Kings, N.S. He said it was his painful duty to say to the House and country that their conduct merited and met with his grave disapproval. He reviewed the two cases in which these members were interested, and said that their statements and explanations were not satisfactory.

Sir Robert, in the course of a long and carefully-prepared address, announced the determination of his Government to follow up the work of the public accounts committee, to demand restitution in the civil courts for all money of which the Dominion Government had been defrauded, and prosecute criminally all persons who had defrauded the Government. He also announced a radical reform in the purchase of war supplies, which will be under a small committee, consisting of the strongest business men of the country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier noted that the Prime Minister was very severe in meting out future punishments to obscure horse traders in Nova Scotia who had put the Government in a hole by telling the truth to the public accounts committee, but he was far more guarded when he came to discuss offences by people higher up and associated with him politically. However, Sir Wilfrid hoped for good results. He suggested that if the Justice Department was as slow in prosecuting those who defrauded the Government as it was in settling with the people whose lands were taken for the Valcartier camp no serious alarm need be felt by the offenders.

Sir Wilfrid closed with a protest against a premature election. He made no reference to the charges against Hon. Frank Oliver, nor did the latter take any part in yesterday's debate. However, in order to expedite prorogation it had been agreed that only the two leaders would speak yesterday.

BRIBE BELGIUM

Germany Asks Neutrality in Exchange for Evacuation

AMSTERDAM, April 16. — (Via London.)—The Rome correspondent of The Tijd says the German embassy in Rome has asked the Belgian Government, through the Belgian legation to Italy, whether, in the event of the German armies evacuating Belgian territory, Belgium would remain neutral during the remainder of the war. The correspondent adds that Belgium's answer is unknown.

Obregon In a Trap.

EL PASO, Texas, April 16.—Gen. Obregon's Carranzista army at Celaya is in a desperate situation, being hemmed in on three sides by Villa forces, according to private advices received here yesterday. Gen. Felipe Angeles, with 1,800 men and forty cannon was reported to have reached a point 12 miles east of Obregon's position, while Gen. Juan Banderas of the Zapata forces is within striking distance of Quarareto, Gen. Obregon's base. Travelers arriving yesterday from Mexica City said the capital was quiet when they left. They brought news of the murder of an unnamed German subject by followers of Zapata.

Section Man Killed.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 16. —James Winger, aged 25, Chippawa, was killed at Montrose, in the Michigan Central yards Wednesday night, being run over by some passing train. His body was found by Bedard, a switchman, about one o'clock. Winger had been employed as a section man.

Asher Guilty; Remanded for Inquiry.

TORONTO, April 16.—Found guilty by a jury in the Criminal Assize Court of attempting to murder Rev. J. McPherson Scott, Harry Asher, the young Montreal mission worker, was remanded by Chancellor Boyd to jail to be examined as to his sanity.

After hearing the verdict his lordship said he did not think it would be safe to allow Asher out on suspended sentence, as he had heard accused had threatened other people.

Lutheran Bodies To Unite.

TOLEDO, April 16.—Initial steps looking toward a federation of all Lutheran bodies in this country and Canada were announced here yesterday. Representatives of seven of the general bodies of the Lutheran Church, meeting here, adopted a tentative constitution, that will be presented to general bodies at their next conventions. The action of these bodies will be reported to the tentative organization at a meeting to be held in 1917, the place and date to be selected later.

EDUCATOR ENDORSES EXPOSITION TOURS

The Peterboro' Review is Commended for Liberal Offer

SCENIC BEAUTIES BEYOND DISCRIPTION

See the Best World Offers Without Money and Without Price

One of the most prominent educators of Peterborough is much interested in The Review plan of sending a party of four women on a trans-continental tour. He expressed himself interestingly on the subject yesterday.

"A trip to the World's Fair for four women! How delightful and enterprising. The newspaper management that plans such an educational treat for deserving women is indeed doing much, not only for individual recipients, but for all their friends and acquaintances, who will profit by these women coming in contact with glorious scenes and peoples of other parts of the United States.

The Review is indeed to be complimented upon its plan to give opportunity to women living in this part of our big country to see so much of it, and thereby better appreciate its grandeur and glory. Women of this part of Ontario I have always found to be most appreciative of opportunities. Perhaps this is because our splendid educational advantages have made them quick to see an opportunity when it presents itself.

Eager to Listen.

The Canadian woman in general, ah, how eager she is to learn! In this new country, where we have not had the centuries of culture and learning back of us, it is surprising to me to see how greedily the women want to learn.

"The delight of watching those four women guests of The Review who will, perhaps, for the first time of their lives, visit other parts of this great American continent, would be a treat I myself would like to enjoy.

"Think of seeing the Grand Canyon of Arizona and its great variety of Nature's wonders, the rugged Rocky Mountains, the delightful surf beaches of California, and the splendid exposition at San Francisco.

"I know every girl, from the time she is able to think, looks forward to a tour of the United States and Canada. It has all aroused her interest, and she is eager to see with her own eyes. How much greater is the realization than the anticipation in the case of travel!

Prepare for Excursion.

"If I were a Canadian girl planning such a trip I would read, read, read books—the best books description of the splendors of the American continent. Many people laugh at systematized sight-seeing, but it is the best way one can see such large extent of country, when a limited time is allowed. I marvel at the way Americans, always on the alert, can really see as much as they do.

"I am glad for the women which The Review will send on this fine tour, and I am glad for The Review which will lend itself not only to the people who receive the prizes of those trips, but for every lover of the beautiful, who will appreciate the newspaper's enterprise in affording those four women a chance to see so much of America and Canada.

Timely Hints to Candidates.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS

One of the finest screen productions produced by the Famous Players Film Company is The Sign of the Cross now being shown at the Empire Theatre. An additional drawing card is the singing of Miss Lily Lorell, whose solo work at each performance can scarcely be overestimated. The fact remains that Miss Lorell enables a more graphic understanding of the noted play largely because of the important part she played in the original production. She has taken the role of Mercia, the Christian maid, and scored a distinct triumph in the part. She now is in great demand wherever the picture is shown, and her rich, expressive voice is heard to exceptional advantage at each performance. She is already booked to sing in Galt after leaving Peterborough.

William Farnum, the celebrated actor, who excels in heavy roles, takes the leading role in The Sign of the Cross. In the role of Marcus Superbus, Prefect of Rome, he is noble and dignified both in the tender love passages with Mercia, or when turning in fierce wrath upon his enemies and caluminators. The picture for the most part glows with Titianesque luxuriance of coloring as befits a fearless picture of life in the Rome of Nero.

RESOLUTION DEALS WITH SEWER AND DISPOSAL PLANT

The special meeting of the Council held last evening for the purpose of considering the plans and specificatiotns of the sewer extensions and sewage treatment and disposal plant passed the following resolution:—

Moved by Ald. G. W. Green, seconded by Ald. J. J. Duffus, that whereas, the construction of a common sewer and the extension of the sewage system of the City of Peterborough as shown upon the duplicate plans and specifications now before the Council of the said city.

And whereas, it is necessary and expedient in the interests of public health, that the construction of the said common sewer and the extension of the sewage system of the City of Peterborough be continued into the municipality of the Township of Otonabee.

And whereas, the Council of the City of Peterborough is desirous that the construction and extension above mentioned may be reported upon and approved by the Provincial Board of Health and that a sewage treatment and disposal plant of and for the City of Peterborough may be constructed, with the approval of the said Board of Health, and that the common sewer and sewage system may be continued into the Township of Otonabee and the sewage treatment and disposal plant may be situate therein on the lands and premises hereinafter described and that such Provincial Board of Health give notice to the clerk of the Township of Otonabee and hear and consider any objections which the Council of the Township of Otonabee or the residents therein may make to the location of the above mentioned works.

Now therefore, be it resolved that the Corporation of the City of Peterborough, being an Urban Municipality, hereby apples to the Provincial Board of Health of the Province of Ontario and requests that the said Board enquire into and report upon such sewer and system of sewage, as to whether the same is calculated to meet the sanitary requirements of the inhabitants of the City of Peterborough and as to whether such sewer and system of sewage is likely to prove prejudicial to the health of the inhabitants of the said municipality or of any municipality liable to be affected thereby and that the said Provincial Board of Health report upon and approve such sewer and system of sewage and that the said sewer and system of sewage as shown and set forth in the plans and specifications of the Engineer of the City of Peterborough may be continued with the approval of the Provincial Board of Health into the Township of Otonabee, and that the sewage treatment and disposal plant as shown and set forth in the said plans and specifications, may with the approval of the said Board, be situate and located in and upon the lands and premises in the said Township of Otonabee as shown and indicated upon registered plan number twenty-three of the Township of Otonabee, and that the Provincial Board of Health, before approving such work, give notice to the Clerk of the Township of Otonabee and that the said Board hear and consider any objections which the Council of the Township of Otonabee or residents therein may make to the location of the said works including the said sewage treatment and disposal plant and that the said Board give its approval to the Corporation of the City of Peterborough, of the said works including the sewage treatment disposal plant and that it may enter upon, take and use the lands shown and indicated upon said registered plan twenty-three for the Township of Otonabee for the construction and erection of the said works, including the said sewage treatment and disposal plant, and that the said Board report in writing that it is of the opinion that it is necessary in the interest of public health that a sewer and sewage system and an adequate sewage treatment and disposal plant should be established, located, constructed, continued and extended as herein set forth and described, in, to and upon the lands and premises above described. Carried.

In connection with this the following resolution also carried:—

Moved by Ald. G. W. Green, seconded by Ald. J. J. Duffus, that the plans and specifications of the City Engineer of the construction of the sewage disposal and treatment plant and the extensions of a sewer and sewage system of the City of Peterborough in and to the Township of Otonabee as set out in the said plans be deposited and filed with the Provincial Board of Health by the City Engineer.

RUBE MARQUARD PITCHES A NO-HIT NO-RUN GAME

"Lemon" Shows Rare Form, Beats Nap Racker—Other Games

New York, April 16.—Rube Marquard, who jumped to the Brooklyn Federals during the winter and back to New York, celebrated his return to organized baseball by pitching a no-hit game and shutting out the Brooklyn Federals by a score of 2 to 0. Rucker, the veteran left-hander of the Brooklyns, opposed the New Yorker, and it was a great pitchers' battle. Only three men reached base on balls. Marquard also helped win his own game by driving in the second run scored on Rucker. The score:—

New York	0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 x	2 8 1

BAKER COMING BACK.

Philadelphia, April 16.—"Home-run" Frank Baker, third baseman and star batter of the Philadelphia Athletics, who had announced his retirement from baseball a few months ago, is ready to capitulate, and may be seen in action within a few days.

Hans Wagner will very likely play the keystone sack for the Pittsburg Pirates this season.

COMMENT As You Like it

A WRITER on the Hamilton Herald, who formerly scribed in Peterborough, is responsible for this effusion:

Let long-haired rhymsters chant their lays about this well-known spring,
And tell how Mother Nature weaves a charm o'er everything,
How breezes from the southland waft a perfume sweet and rare,
How all the world is joyful and all the world is fair;
Let others sing these songs, I say,
Let others chortle about fragrant May—
To me the gladdest song of all
Is "Batter's up—play ball"

G. NAPOLEON RUCKER, the Brooklyn southpaw, celebrated yesterday the eighth anniversary of his big league debut. Nap's arm went back on him last year, but he is confident that he will be able this season to deliver the goods as of yore. Rucker at his best was one of the stellar left-handed flingers of the pastime. He has been with Brooklyn ever since he broke into the National league, having pitched his first game on April 15, 1907, when he was defeated by Boston by a score of 3-2.

"SKID" JANES would in all probability play with the Millbrook lacrosse club in the O. A. L. A. should the O. H. A. reinstate him. It is to be regretted that Janes' name was coupled with the Tetrault scandal. Those on the inside know that "Skid" had nothing whatever to do with it.

EAST CITY has signed a real first-baseman, according to reports. The individual's name is Stanley Lowe, and he hails from Mount Pleasant. He should have little difficulty in getting the low ones. Outside.

NOME DOG RACE STARTS OVER TRAIL 412 MILES LONG

Five highly trained racing dog teams, driven by the most expert drivers in the far north got away at nine o'clock Wednesday morning in the 412-mile all-Alaska sweepstakes dog race over the snow trail from Nome to Candle and return.

The starters were: A. A. (Scotty) Allen, driving the team of Mamalutes, owned jointly by himself and Mrs. Charles H. Darling, of Berkeley, Cal; Alex. Holmeson, driving Siberian dogs, owned by Dr. Kittelson; Paul K. Jegtad, driving his own bird dogs; Leonard Seppata, driving his own Siberians, and Eskimo John, a native driver who is piloting the team entered by the Council Kennel Club. Fred Ayers' team of fast foxhounds, which were looked upon as likely winners, became sick at the last moment and were withdrawn.

Telephone reports from points along the trail indica[illegible] Heavy snow is falling.

"WILD BILL" BAKER, the former Canadian League hurler, is in France fighting for the cause. According to a letter received in London on Wednesday, "Wild Bill" is going strong.

THE SCHEDULE for the Canadian league, drafted by President Fitzgerald, will be gone over at the meeting of the league on May 2nd. There are a few changes to be made.

A LITTLE MORE "pep" on the part of the lacrosse club officers wouldn't go amiss. What's the matter with the City League proposition?

Paul Stroud and Dick Crutcher will be the assistants to George Stallings' "Big Three" (Rudolph, Tyler, James) this season.

GOOD WORK IS

Mr. R. E. Layfield, resigned from office, and in doing so stated that the officers and men of the Home Guard had nothing to be ashamed of when looking back at what had been accomplished since the organization had been started; some 900 men had enlisted for the space of one year, and thereby made themselves liable for any military duty for home defence that they might be called upon to perform. There have been 68 members of the organization enlisted for overseas service, and about 100 of the members have joined the 57th or other units of the active militia at Peterborough; in addtion to this it is expected that a complete company will be organized by Capt. Lancaster and his committee and enlisted in the 57th Regiment. The greatest individual benefit is the fact that 600 members of the organization have learned how to shoot and handle a rifle; 80,000 rounds of ammunition, or an average of 133 rounds per man, have been used, and some 300 of these men have qualified as marksmen or first-class shots. The organization has been the means of a large body of men, irrespective of position, creed, politics or any other so-called dividing line, getting together and knowing each other. The good that has resulted from this will be far-reaching in its effects in the city, and it is hoped that it will be arranged that at least once a year every member of the organization will get together for a reunion. While at the present it is not expected that the Home Guard will have to participate in active service, if the time should come where such action is necessary they will be there ready to fulfil their duty. Mr. Layfield also drew the attention of the members to the splendid support that the association had been given by the citizens in general, especially the mayor and the council of the city, and also the splendid support that had been given by the press, and the numberless courtesies that have been extended to them by the military units of the city.

The secretary of the association will call a meeting of the original board of the association to make arrangements for further work in connection with the shooting practice.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

REMOVED.

Canada Life Assurance Company have moved into their new spacious office, 157-159 Hunter Street.

Mr. W. R. Widdess, who has been manager of the Midland District for several years, will now have his headquarters here instead of Lindsay, as formerly.

Mr. W. R. Scadding, who has looked after the Peterborough business for the past year, will continue to do so, also being located in the new office, instead of in the Bank of Commerce Building, as heretofore.

MILITARY NEWS

The third death in the ranks of the 39th Battalion from cerebro-spinal-meningitis leaves five men sick in the hospital. Two of these were among the first four stricken and are on the way to recovery. Another has a good chance to pull through.

A medical officer stated this morning that every precaution is taken now to eliminate the disease and it is believed that a short time will see it disappear.

The Flexner serum used at Belleville hospital each day for the sick soldiers costs $25, each dose being worth $5.

The officer also said there seems to be an epidemic of meningitis all over the world this year.

He quoted the instance of a western Ontario city showing that there were six deaths among civilians and none among soldiers. This is proof that it is not a soldier's disease.

He explained that while there were 160 soldiers at Octavia street school fully three-quarters would return to camp in a day or so after having had swabs made of their nasal cavities. None of them may even be carriers, but they are segregated only as a precautionary measure.

The disinfection of clothing is an additional precaution. It is not really necessary as the germs will not live in air over a couple of minutes, but it allays fear.—Belleville Ontario.

TO THE RATEPAYERS NORTH WARD.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

I wish to convey my thanks to those who voted for me yesterday. The result was certainly very encouraging to me, and I trust I shall be of real service to you and all other ratepayers in helping to manage the business of the city.

Yours sincerely,

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Fred Jamieson, Gilmour St., left today for Orino to visit friends.

Messrs. G. L. Hay and R. Davidson were in Lindsay yesterday.

Mrs. Douglas Clarkson of Edmonton, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Crane, 467 Weller street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stevens, Miss Violet Stevens, and Mr. L. E. Stevens returned to their home at Peterborough today, Mr. Stevens having disposed of his confectionery business here. They made many warm friends while in Lindsay, who regret to learn of their departure.—Lindsay Post.

The choristers of St. John's after choir practice last night assembled in the guild room, for on informal social on the occasion of Mrs. Seward's presence on returning from Europe. Canon Davidson, who was able to be present for a short time after his illness, spoke of deep appreciation of the work of both Mr. and Mrs. Seward in the church for so many years, and expressed great pleasure in the prospect of a brilliant career for Miss Gladys Seward, Mr. H. W. Morphet and Mr. Z. Brown the other veteran choristers were heard from and a very pleasant time was spent with music and refreshments until 10.30 p.m. Dainties were provided by the ladies of the choir under the inspection of Mrs. H. W. Morphet and Mr. R. J. Devey, musical numbers were given by Miss K. Moore, Mr. Packman, Mr. Ward, Mrs. Evans and Mr. R. J. Devey. Blest be the Tie that Binds, and the National Anthem concluded a pleasant vening.

Twilight Musicale.

The last of the series of Twilight Musicales, under the auspices of the Women's Art Association, will be given Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The soloists will be Mr. Weller, baritone; Mr. Maurice Park, tenor; Mr. Geo. Lynch, reader.

All lovers of good music are invited. Silver collection.

Supreme Court Justice Newburger declined yesterday to consider the motion of lawyers for Harry K. Thaw that he be granted a jury trial to determine his sanity.

Council of Women

The importance of playgrounds.

We have at last awakened to the fact that the school provides but a small fraction of a child's education and that environment is teaching him every moment of the day. Not in the school-room but on the playground can the instinct for workmanship, initiation and co-operation find their true expression.

They say that our youth are sorely lacking in courtesy, are rude in speech and behaviour. Would not a well-appointed scheme of supervision during playtime do much to eliminate this? Do not children learn much of this rudeness on the street?

By what means can the foreign element in our country become more quickly assimilated and made into loyal citizens and patriotic Canadians than through the properly supervised playground?

Supervised playgrounds eliminate the bully at whose hands so many sensitive ones suffer.

FITTING FUNERAL

morning to Messrs. Tickell & Sons' Company's morgue and prepared for burial.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon Lieut.-Col. Preston and the officers and men of the 39th Battalion marched to Messrs. Tickell & Sons' morgue and escorted the body of their dead comrade to the Grand Trunk depot for shipment on the flyer to Peterborough by way of Port Hope. No service was held at the morgue. The 15th Regiment band was in attendance and played funeral music.

Before the hearse marched a company with arms reversed, while the rest of the regiment followed the remains.

The bearers were Privates Raymond, Worrell, Leach, Lightheart, Sargent and Gummer.

An escort accompanied the remains to Peterborough.

The men of the 57th detachment sent a floral anchor as their trbute to the late Pte. Nicholls.

CITY ENGINEER INSTRUCTED TO START SEWER

Will be Constructed on the Boundary Road From Charlotte to King

In the Board of Works' report to the City Council last night clause four read:—

That notice be given of the intention of the Council to construct a sewer on the Monaghan Road from Charlotte St. to King St. as recommended by the local Board of Health and that the City Engineer be instructed to proceed with the instruction of the sewer forthwith.

Mayor Buller thought the matter should be left over for a few days to give the city solicitor a chance to go more thoroughly into the legal side of the step. To this Ald. Green objected and he briefly outlined the view of the Board of Works.

The City Solicitor pointed out how no sewer construction on boundaries was ever done directly under the Local Improvement Act but rather by special legislation. The trouble would be in the sale of the debentures but he had got in touch with Wood, Gundy & Co. and found that they would accept debentures issued for work of that nature done under the Local Improvement Act.

Ald. Green pointed out how it is high time the city took some step to provide citizens residing on boundaries with sewer facilities. If people spent their money in erecting residences on the boundaries they should be assisted. As for the debentures Ald. Green remarked that if there is any row about them, he would take them himself. Because a man happens to live on the boundary he should not be fined for doing so and to deprive him of the sewer is to fine him. It was Ald. Green's opinion that if it could be done in no other way, it could be included in the city's private bill next year.

The authorities have the outbreak of smallpox at St. Thomas well in hand. The schools have been closed but will be reopened shortly, and the pupils vaccinated.

OBITUARY

MRS. WM. BATTEER.

Mrs. Dorothy Batteer, aged 85 years, wife of the late William Batteer, passed away last night at her home at lot 19, Concession 11 of Cavan, after a short illness from pneumonia. Deceased was born in County Monaghan, Ireland, and on coming to Peterborough a number of years ago she resided in the township of Monoghan, this county. She had a wide circle of friends who will deeply regret her demise.

There are left to mourn her death one daughter, Mrs. M. Campbell, of this city, and two sons, David and William, at home.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. George Craw of Springville will officiate.

MRS. HARVEY THOMPSON.

While Mrs. Harvey Thompson had been ill for some little time, no one was prepared for her death, when it was announced on Saturday that she had died early that morning at the General Hospital in Toronto, following an operation for gall stones made on Friday by Dr. Starr. She left here on Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Routley for Toronto, and her friends little thought they had seen the last of her. The funeral took place on Tuesday to the Verulam Cemetery. Miss Cora Thompson who is with Mrs. Whitney's field hospital in France, was cabled, and it is expected that she will be home in May, having completed the six months' duty for which she engaged.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

SEND PLANS TO BOARD OF HEALTH

The City Engineer was last night instructed to forward the plans and specifications of the proposed extensions to the sewage system and sewage disposal plant to the Provincial Board of Health. When the Board goes over the plans the city's representatives and representatives of the residents of Otonabee will appear before the Board and present this argument as to the site.

NOTICE to PROSPECTIVE WATER CONSUMERS

CHRISTIANS IN DANGER OF MASSACRE

SUDDEN ATTACK ON ITALY BY AUSTRIA

When Latter is Convinced Italy is About to Entervene

NO ALARM FELT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 17. — The belief is becoming general in Rome that Austria will make a sudden attack on Italy when she becomes convinced that Italy has resolved to intervene, but no alarm is felt, owing to the heavy concentration of Italian troops on the Austrian frontier.

Dr. Dillon, the special correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, in Rome, says that while Austria has made certain offers to Italy, these are accompanied by certain reservations.

That a financial strain is being severely felt in Italy and that he maintains the belief he has held from the outset, that she will soon intervene. A special correspondent of the Stampa of Rome, after an extensive tour of Germany, says that country is more taken up with the possibility of Italian intervention than anything else.

It means the realization of England's great political plan, the complete abandonment of Germany by Europe. Should Italy intervene, it means Germany's hatred today directed against England will be turned against Italy with the greatest bitterness of which revenge is capable.

Despatches from Athens say Prince George of Greece is returning to Paris and that overtures for the abandonment of neutrality by Creece are on the way to realization.

DEEP REGRET WAS MUCH IN EVIDENCE

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. B. Pentland was held at three o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family residence, 16 Benson avenue, to Little Lake Cemetery. Large numbers of friends attended the service at the house at two-thirty, conducted by Rev. R. G. Peever, pastor of George Street Methodist Church, who fittingly referred to the faithful and devoted life of the deceased. The floral tokens of sympathy were very numerous and exceedingly beautiful.

The bearers were Messrs. A. Allison, R. J. Kidd, J. Stanger, W. Bothwell, S. Touchbourn and T. W. Robinson.

GRAIN THIEF SENTENCED.

COBOURG, April 17. — Claude Drinkwater, who was convicted here on a charge of theft of grain, etc., from a Haldimand Township farmer, came up before Judge Ward for sentence, and was given one year.

Mr. Bert Tinney and two friends while motoring to Port Hope collided with a farmer's vehicle and all were injured, Mr. Tinney so seriously that he is now in the hospital. The auto was wrecked.

A MARKSMAN.

Sergeant (disgustedly to Private Jones): "Stop! Don't waste your last bullet. Nineteen are quite enough to blaze away without hitting the target once. Go behind that wall there and blow your brains out."

Jonest walked quietly away and a few seconds later a shot rang out.

"Good heavens! has that fool done what I told him?" cried the sergeant, running behind the wall. Great was his relief when he saw Private Jones coming towards him.

"Sorry, sergeant," he said apologetically, "another miss."

PATRIOTIC FUND MEETING.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and of the Peterborough Relief Association will be held in the City Council Chamber Tuesday night, April 20th at eight o'clock.

Rev. Dougald Brown Successful Pastor

Comes to Park Street Church With Splendid Recommendations

Rev. Dougald Brown, who has been called to Park Street Baptist Church, will preach at both services tomorrow. He is spending the weekend here for the purpose of laying plans for the future, and will begin his regular pastorate at Park street early in May.

Mr. Brown was born on a farm in the township of North Dorchester, near the village of Belmont, County of Middlesex. At about the age of 20 he was converted, and joined the Baptist church at Gladstone. Feeling called to the ministry, he left the farm and entered Woodstock College. After a four years' course he entered McMaster University, from which he received the diploma as a graduate in Theology in 1890, Rev. J. R. Webb, of Murray Street Baptist Church, being also a member of the same graduating class. Mr. Brown's first pastorate was at Kenilworth, Ontario, where he remained about two years, when he accepted a call to the Nina street mission of Winnipeg, where his work was greatly blessed, the mission being raised to the status of a church. Returnng to Toronto, he spent a year in special study at his Alma Mater, when he accepted a call to Midland. Here the work prospered wonderfully. The old house of worship was outgrown and a much larger edifice, formerly occupied by the Methodists, was purchased, refitted and enlarged. His next charge was at Osgoode, Ontario, where he remained three years, when, at the urgent request of his former charge, he returned to Mildand. After a second pastorate of four years, he accepted a call to Springford and Otterville field, his last charge before he accepted the invitation to Park street church. His parishioners are parting with him with the deepest regret, one of these, as an inducement for him to decline the Peterborough call, offering to make him the present of an automobile. He is coming to Peterborough at a considerable financial sacrifice. Mr. Brown is a preacher of unusual gifts and is much in demand for public addresses. His evangelistic gifts are well known, and during the past winter especially he has had successful missions not only in his own church but also at Strathroy and Norwich, with large results.

Mrs. Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin, of Midland, her father being a well-known engineer of the Grand Trunk.

HOME ON LEAVE.

A large number of Peterborough soldiers with the 8th C. M. R., at Ottawa, the 39th Battalion at Belleville, and the 26th Battery at Kingston, are home. All report conditions at the various camps to be satisfactory.

TWO CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

Other Members of Family Were Away When House Was Destroyed

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Rapid City, Man., April 17.—During the absence of the rest of the family, the two youngest children of a farmer named Stanley Fuller, were burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed the house.

Miss Marjorie Wilkes, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. A. J. Wilkes, of Brantford, has left for England. She will join Lady Drummond's party at New York.

RAIL LINES CONGESTED

German Troops Being Moved In Several Directions Travellers Say

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

ZURICH, April 17. — Travellers from Germany are reaching Zurich after extraordinary delays resulting from the congestion of German railroad lines with troop trains. Ordinary freight and passenger traffic in Germany has almost stopped. German troops, according to the travellers, are being moved in several directions, part of them toward Austria.

Private despatches received here from Vienna say no fewer than 350,000 Germans are actually fighting with the Austrians against the Russians in the Carpathians.

HE DIED FOR HIS COUNTRY

Comrades of The Late Pte. Nicholls and Citizens Pay Last Respects

With great solemnity the funeral of the late Pte. Harold Nicholls, the Peterborougn volunteer with the 39th Battalion of the Third Overseas Contingent, who passed away in Belleville General Hospital on Thursday morning with spinal meningitis, was held this afternoon from his late home at 2 Anson street, to the Armouries and thence to Little Lake Cemetery. Peterborough has given many of its men for the cause of the Empire, some are taking their turn in the trenches, others are behind the trenches, and many more are training, preparatory to leaving for the front. Up till the death of Private Nicholls, not one of the men enlisting in Peterborough had been called upon to give up his life. The fact that he was the first Peterborough man to die for the cause, coupled with the fact that he was an only boy, and his death had torn the heart of his fond parents, caused thousands of citizens to be present at the funeral this afternoon to pay their last tribute to a fellow citizen who had given his life for Britain's honor and to show their deep sympathy for the afflicted family in the hour of their great trouble. The service at the Armouries was largely attended, and as the cortege slowly proceeded to the cemetery, both sides of the street were a mass of sorrowing citizens, all feeling for the first time one of the said results of the war.

The funeral was under the auspices of the Salvation Army, and the adjutant, J. A. McElhiney, conducted a short service at the house before the body was borne to the armouries. At the armouries the casket was covered by a large Union Jack and the accoutrement of the deceased. The family and relatives of the deceased took positions at the side of the coffin; behind them stood the representatives of Court Stanley, A. O. F., and then the thousands of citizens and the 57th Battalion. Ladies crowded both galleries, while volunteers from various units dotted the gathering. The opening hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," was sung, accompanied by the 57th Regt. Band, and then prayer was offered up by the adjutant. Following this, verses of scripture were read.

Mayor Buller, on behalf of the city, spoke a few words of sympathy to the family of the deceased, remarking what a great honor it was to die for such a cause. His Worship stated that Pte. Nichols was the first death of all the men who had been enlisted from Peterborough, and in their bereavement his family have the deepest sympathy of all the city.

The Temple Male Choir then sang "Heavenly Mansions," which was followed by an address by Adjutant McElhiney. His words were of tender sympathy to the heartbroken parents and sisters of the deceased, and he remarked how their's was indeed a sad bereavement, but they should thank God that they know where their boy will rest. Many in the far-off trenches are falling, and their friends will never know where their bodies lie. In this case, the family have the comfort of having their boy rest close by.

Adjutant McElhiney remarked how Pte. Nichols, although not falling in active service, fell before the greatest enemy of armies — disease. It is true that there will be a face missing in the home, a chair will be vacant, but there will one day come the great family where there is no death, no tears, or no separation from loved one.

Few indeed were they who stood with eyes not dimmed with a tear, as the hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung. During the hymn many walked slowly out with head bowed and smothering a sob. At the conclusion of benediction by Adjutant McElhiney, the cortege was formed and proceeded to the cemetery. A firing squad under Sergt.-Major Dunkerly led with arms reversed. Then followed the 57th Regt. Band with drums muffled, playing the Dead March. After the band came the hearse bearing the body, and then the chief mourners.

Beside the hearse walked six pallbearers, all members of the 39th Battalion. The chief mourners were followed by the men of the 8th C. M. R., the 26th Battery and 39th Battalion who are home on leave. After the volunteers came the 57th Regiment, representatives of the fire department, the police department, and of Court Stanley, A. O. F. Many citizens followed the cortege to the grave. The ceremony at the grave included a scripture reading, committal, prayer and benedction, and the firing of a salute.

ARMENIANS FIGHT KURDS

Engagements Said to be Frequent and Christians Are in Danger

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

TABRIZ, April 17. — Engagements between Armenians and Kurds are frequent in the vicinity of Van, in Turkish Armenia, according to reliable information reaching Tabriz, and a general massacre of Christians is expected in the province of Bashkala.

Armenians of Van are hurriedly trying to raise volunteers in Azerbaijan province, Persia, to help the magainst the Turks and Kurds.

There is said to be a growing hostility between the Turks and to help them against the Turks the inhumanity of the latter.

PETERBORO' OLD BOY REMINISCENT

Presentation of Portrait to Regiment Recalls Connecting Links

The Review has received an interesting letter from Mr. A. D. Browne, an old Peterborough boy, of Chicago, who refers to the presentation of a picture of the late Col. Kennedy, to the 57th Regiment. Mr. Browne publishes a weekly newspaper in Chicago, the "British American," which is a tidy and well-edited journel devoted to the interests of Canadians in the United States. The letter follows:

Chicago, April 16, 1915.

It was with great interest I read in your paper of the presentation by Mr. Alfred H. Cox to the 57th Battalion of a portrait of the late W. N. Kennedy. I have an especial interest in this, as I was a member of St. John's Church choir (as a little boy) when the late Col. Kennedy used to lead the choir with a flute. I was also attached to the 57th Battalion when his father (then an old man) was colonel of the regiment. Another thing that brings back boyhood days to me is the announcement that he lost his life in nursing back to health in Egypt one of his men. The man referred to was an old schoolmate of mine in the south ward, and his name was John Sherlock. He died with his colonel. He was o son of the late Lucius Sherlock who was our book-keeper and cashier at that time in the Review office. I get your paper regularly in Chicago and read every word in it. You know I was with the Review for 15 years. It gives me great pleasure to note the vast improvement that has taken place recently in the general appearance of the paper, and I also notice that the editorial page is dignified and ably conducted.

Very truly yours,

A. D. Browne.

Germans to Make Sunflower Butter

LONDON, April 17.—The production of margarine from sunflowers is the latest device attributed to the German Government to meet the expected scarcity of butter, according to a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Amsterdam. The message says that the Prussian ministry of railroads has ordered all station masters to plant sunflowers in every bit of available ground around the depots.

Sunflowers, it is claimed, yield an oil that can be used in the manufacture of substitutes for butter.

TURK FORT FAILS.

PETROGRAD, April 17.—An attempt by the Turks to take the offensive against the Russians near Artwin on the Trans-Caucasian frontier on Tuesday and Wednesday was repulsed by Russian artillery and infantry, it was officially announced yesterday.

BERLIN HEARS ZEPPELINS CAUSED SERIOUS DAMAGE

Officers and Crew of Patrol Boats Said to Have Been Killed

INDICATES BOMBS FELL NEAR DOCKS

British Censor Prevented Further Additions to Fairy Tale

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

BERLIN, April 17. — Included in a news item given out today by an overseas news agency is the following: Private telegrams received here from England, by way of Holland, say serious damage was done by Zeppelins which recently flew over England. Bombs from airships killed or wounded officers and crews of patrol boats protecting shipyards, a fact that indicates that bombs fell near the docks.

The British censor prevented the transmission of further details.

LOSS OF GERMAN SUPPORT IS ADMITTED.

BERLIN, April 17. — Today's official statement:—French attacks ner Fliery were repulsed.

On the south slope of Lorette Heights, northwest of Arras, a small German point of support sixty yards long and fifty yards deep was lost.

In the Champagne, northwest of Perthes, a group of French fortifications was stormed. The French counter attack failed.

Germans conquered a French position northwest of Urbeis in the Vosges. They captured French chasseurs and then evacuated the position because of its disadvantageous situation. A French airship destroyed a window glass at Strassburg and wounded civilians.

A German aviator shelled Greenwich near London.

On the eastern front the situation is unchanged.

PARIS SAYS THERE IS NOTHING NEW.

PARIS, April 17. — This afternoon's official statement contains nothing that was not set forth in the communication given out last night.

Rev. L. Phelps, pastor at Mark St. Church, has been transferred from the Bay of Quinte Conference to the Toronto Conference, and he has accepted a call to Haileybury.

Boys Saw Squeal Taken From the Pig

An Observation Trip at The Matthews-Blackwell Plant

A small army of boys received an education yesterday in the art of pig killing and dressing which proved unusually interesting and even exciting at times. Through the courtesy of Matthews-Blackwell, Ltd., they were permitted to visit the plant and see what happens to a pig from the time it enters the plant full of fight and squeal, until it comes out in the shape of pork and sausage ready for the process of digestion.

The boys were divided into groups and in charge of Mr. Galley, boys' secretary, they were shown through the plant by officials of the company after being courteously received by Mr. T. F. Matthews. The trip was the first of a series of observation tours which the boys' department will hold in the next few months and if yesterday's trip was a criterion they should be chock full of education and success.

GUARD FOR GOVERNOR GENERAL INCLUDED B SQUADRON MEN

A very high honor was conferred upon the local quota of the 8th C. M. R. at Ottawa when Major S. T. Medd was asked to detail an officer and a guard of ten men for the purpose of forming the advance guard of the Royal escort to H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught at the closing of Parliament. The duty of the escort was to protect the Governor-General by escorting him from Rideau Hall to the Parliament Buildings and return. The officer Major Medd detailed for this duty was Lt. D. T. Sneath, and the guard consisted of Q.S.M. Robert Biggs, Q.M.S. Arthur Kent, Sergt. Hodges, Sergt. Portsmith, Corp. Lavell, Pte. Richard, Pte. F. Campbell, Pte. Wallace, L. Corp. Bell and L. Corp. Eldred.

The squadron was highly complimented upon the excellent manner in which the duty was executed.

AVIATORS KILL SEVEN PERSONS

Others Injured When Bombs Are Dropped

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Amiens, France, April 17.—German aviators who flew over here yesterday and attempted to drop bombs on the cathedral succeeded in killing seven persons, including four women and injuring seven others. The property damage was small.

Chain and Fob for Ted Soulsby

A pleasant ceremony occurred yesterday afternoon at the Fire Hall when Edward Soulsby formerly of the local department who has enlisted with the Guelph Battery was presented with an address and gold watch chain and fob. Mr. Soulsby when here was acting assistant chief but resigned on account of ill-health. He was highly esteemed by the entire department. The address was signed by W. A. Howard, chief of the fire department, Jos. Duffus, chairman Fire, Water and Light Committee and J. A. McElhiney, chaplain of the fire department.

PRODUCE APLENTY AT TODAY'S MARKET

Neither farmers nor buyers were quite as numerous upon today's market as last Saturday. A good supply of produce was brought on, butter and eggs being most in demand. The egg supply was almost unlimited, but little difference in price was noted, 18 and 19 cents a dozen being the prevailing figure. Butter was transferred from counter to basket at 35 cents a pound, mostly, although a few started off with the price at 36 cents.

Meat was a scarce commodity. Potatoes were fairly plentiful, selling at 55 and 60 cents.

Only one vendor of maple syrup was discovered, who retailed the liquid at $1.50 a galon.

IN THE TRENCHES.

It's great to be miles from a porcelain tub
And shave without aid of a glass;
It's great to sit down to some poorly cooked grub—
Yes, and sit where the mud's a soft mass.
It's great to be far from the trolleys and things—
From all of these comforts I roam;
At night I sit here where the rifle ball sings—
And I learn to appreciate Home.

PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, APRIL 17, 1915

THREE CANADIANS DECORATED BY THE KING.

ALL CANADA will rejoice at the recognition by the King of three Canadians for gallantry on the battlefield; Major Hamilton Gault wins the D. S. O. (Distinguished Service Order), and Lieuts. W. Gourlay Colquhoun and T. M. Papineau receive a Military Cross — a decoration that has precedence over all others save the Victoria Cross. If war brings death and suffering, it also brings glory and honour.

A NEW BRITISH EMPIRE.

THERE IS to be no Imperial Conference this year. Mr. Louis Harcourt has explained, with the assent of the various Prime Ministers of the Dominions, that it is not practical to hold one. What is of more importance is the statement of Mr. Harcourt that the Dominions will be consulted when the time arrives to consider possible terms of peace. This is as it should be. With the Overseas Dominions sending large bodies of men to assist in defeating the enemies of the Empire, it is only right to respect the aid they have granted by giving them a voice in the final settlement of the war.

This fact is very important because it gives the Dominions a new status in the Empire and a new importance among the nations. Henceforth, in reckoning with the naval and military strength of Great Britain, the whole Empire will have to be considered. In settling with Germany, Great Britain says she will consult the Overseas Dominions. Canada is no longer a colony, in the old sense, nor is she a Dominion, but is approaching in her new relationship something of a nation within a federation. The British Empire, as a federation of nations, appears to be the new Imperial development arising out of the present war. At the same time, it is not exactly a federation, because leadership is assigned to the United Kingdom. It really means that the British Empire is developing a new form of empire and of Imperialism never before known to politics.

WHY THE SUBMARINE WARFARE IS FUTILE.

OF COURSE, Great Britain has lost a large number of merchant ships, due to the piracy of German submarines. Some neutral countries, like Holland and Norway, have also lost a considerable number of trading ships. But still German submraines have not been able to keep pace with British ship-builders, for, during March ten merchant ships, aggregating over 40,000 tons, were launched by the Clyde ship-builders alone, and the total since the beginning of the year exceeds 100,000 tons. This figure is not quite up to the average building. Besides these, there are all the other large ship-building concerns, so many, in fact, that the submarine warfare at its present rate must of necessity be futile.

THE STORY OF SHRAPNEL.

A LARGE NUMBER of Canadian factories are engaged in the manufacture of shrapnel shells. The Allies do not want to commence a general advance until they are sure of a supply of 200,000 a day, which includes all sizes, and hence the Canadian factories have all they can do to do their share of supplying these messengers of death. The Canadian General Electric has been making these shells, and some details about them are interesting. The Orillia Packet gives the following historical account:

"Shrapnel shells were invented by Lieutenant-General Henry Shrapnel in the early years of the last century. They were first used at Surinam in 1804; had a marked effect at the battle of Copenhagen in 1805, and were introduced into the Peninsular campaign at the battle of Vimiera in 1807. Sir Arthur Wellesley ascribed that victory to the use of Shrapnel, and continued to make use of the 'spherical case shot' throughout his campaigns right down to Waterloo. He declared it was impossible to speak too strongly of the benefit derived from the invention, and expressed the opinion that General Shrapnel should be generously rewarded. Unfortunately this was never done, and the General was out-of-pocket because of the expense connected with perfecting his invention. The French for a long time were puzzled by the results of the use of Shrapnel; and when they finally discovered how it was they appeared to be under rifle fire at such long range, the Emperor Napoleon sent an envoy to offer Gen. Shrapnel a large sum for the secret of his invention. This offer was indignantly refused, and it was not till the Crimean war in 1854 that the French became familiar with its use. Shrapnel is now used by all armies, and is still considered the most effective artillery ammunition against infantry. Major Shrapnel, who lived in Orillia for many years, was the eldest son of the inventor."

ORDERS WERE NOT OBEYED.

THE OFFICIAL account of General French regarding the battle of Neuve Chapelle has been published. The British losses were over twelve thousand men, of which 2,527 were killed. It appears from General French's report that one of the British officers made a very serious mistake that robbed the British of the full fruits of their victories. It seems, also, that many of the British casualties were caused by British artillery. While this is exceptionally regrettable, it emphasizes the difficulty of fighting a modern battle. When it is remembered that only a distance of from 30 to 300 yards separates the opposing trenches, accuracy on the part of the artillery during an offensive movement is most important. In this battle, the artillery first shelled the trenches to be attacked, and when the advance began, they were to shell a stretch of ground far behind the German trenches, to defeat reinforcements. It appears that some of the British forces ran into British shells that were intended to prevent reinforcements. In spite of a serious mistake, however, the British won, and it now remains for General French to make some use of the new strategic position that was taken at such a terrible cost. It is to be hoped that future battles will be devoid of mistakes, especially when they mean the lives of so many men. It should not be forgotten that the victory was in no small measure due to the magnificent dash of infantry, in which the Indian troops took a brilliant part.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

IN ENGLAND they are selling iron crosses as souvenirs. The iron cross will always be a reminder of Prussian brutality and terrorism.

SOME THIEVES get caught and view the world through bars of steel. Others become captains in finance or industry and view it from a limousine.

THE LIBERALS are of the opinion that a smaller patronage list is needed, whether there is less or more work to do does not matter. Fortunately, it is not so much what the Liberals want just now as what the needs of the country require. The Conservatives are attending to those needs.

WRITTEN IN THE TRENCHES.

(By a Rhodes Scholar.)

Courage! my soul, the hour is come
To prove this breast a man's;
Vague is the narrow sky, and dumb
The furrowed field it spans.

Face-downward yonder lie the dead,
Stiffened and stuck in clay—
God give I find on earth no bed
Less honourable than they!

Rather than guess if God endues
Men with the deeds they do,
Courage, my heart, and simply choose
The way of those we knew.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Divorce a Judicial Function.

(Beck's Weekly, Montreal.)

The Private Bills Committee of the House of Commons has twice voted down a divorce bill for the relief of C. J. Alexander, of Saskatoon, which had pasesd the Senate Divorce Committee and the full Senate. Once the Commons Committee defeated it by a majority of one in a very thin sitting, and once by a majority of three when the bill was referred back by the Commons. The question at issue is supposed to be a matter of evidence. The Senate Committee, which heard the witnesses and cross-examined them, decided that there was evidence enough, and the Senate accepted their report. The House Committee, which has simply read the evidence submitted to the Senate and officially knows nothing about the case, decides that there is not evidence enough, and that the Senate Committee and the Senate do not know what they are talking about.

A petitioner for divorce, no matter how fully he or she may satisfy the one body which really "hears the case"—the Senate Divorce Committee—is now liable to have the petition blocked either by the full Senate, the Private Bills Committee of the House of Commons. Possibly the Governor-in-Council might also exercise a right of veto if he liked, though he has not yet begun to do so.

A more unjust, cumbersome and objectionable method of granting divorces can hardly be imagined, and the proposal of Sir Robert Borden, for a joint committee of both Houses, is not much of an improvement, for either House could reject the report of the joint committee.

Will the rulers of Canada never lay aside these purely judicial functions and allow a proper court to exercise them?

Postage Stamp Criticism.

(Dundas Star.)

The new war stamps, which came into force today, are very nice looking stamps, but it would have been better if they had been entirely different in appearance from the ordinary postage stamps. It will be very easy to make a mistake and put a war stamp on a letter instead of the ordinary stamp, and as the regular postage must be paid in postage stamps, the latter will go to the dead letter office. As ordinary postage stamps may be used in payment of the war tax, we doubt very much that very extensive use will be made of the war stamps, as the ordinary postage stamp will be found much more convenient.

Our Russian Citizens.

(Edmonton Journal.)

At an entertainment given by the Russian citizens of Edmonton on Monday evening a little girl gave a recitation in Russian and followed it by one in English. There was no trace of a foreign accent in the latter, and a former subject of the Czar's, who was sitting beside the writer, whispered: "She speaks better English than she does Russian." The incident serves to show how quickly the work of assimilaton is going on among these fellow-Canadians of ours. Even among those who were born and brought up across the sea, an astonishing command of the English tongue is seen, while the second generation can be distinguished in few cases from the boys and girls of families that have lived in British countries for centuries.

A Saying of Sydney's.

Resume Operations Against Forts

LONDON, April 17.—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Co., writing under date of Friday, says:

"Turkish headquarters reports that a cruiser yesterday bombarded the Dardanelles fortifications from the entrance.

"A Russian fleet bombarded Eregli and Sunguldaik (in Asia Minor, on the Black Sea.)"

Telegraphing from Sofia under date of Thursday, The Times' correspondent says:

"A Russian fleet has bombarded Kara Burun, which lies inside the Tchatatja line on the Black Sea, about 25 miles north of Medea.

"Travelers from Dedeaghatch report that a fresh batch of German officers has arrived in Constantinople. They say also that the greater part of the garrison of Adrianople, Demotica and Kirk-Kilisseh have been withdrawn for the defence of the capital."

Examination of the damaged Turkish cruiser Medjidieh has established the fact that anthracite fuel has been supplied to Turkey recently by Bulgaria. Russia will probably prohibit exports into Bulgaria.

The German Bank has just furnished $800,000 to the Bulgarian Government.

In accordance with instructions from Washington, the American ambassador requested an audience with the Czar. He was received at Tsarskoe Selo yesterday.

"We Have Just Left Hell."

NEW YORK, April 17.—The horrors of war proved too much for three attractive young American nurses, who arrived home from Europe yesterday on the Cunard liner Orduna. They are Miss Beatrice Brown, of Mont Clair, N.J., formerly head nurse in the U. S. naval hospital at Norfolk, Va.; Miss Henrietta Koochlein, of Westfields, N.J., and Miss Mabel Walsh, of Cambridge, Mass.

"We have just left hell," said one of the young women tragically.

All three are suffering from shattered nerves.

Greatest Aqueduct Open.

BARI, Italy, April 17. — Water from the Apennines was distributed Wednesday for the first time to the provinces of Bari, Foggia and Lecce through the Apulia aqueduct, the largest in the world, which was begun in 1905. More than 2,000,000 persons now are assured of a supply of fresh water from mountain streams brought through 1,875 miles of pipe.

C. Osborne, the missing night clerk of the Russell House, St. Catharines, has been captured in Belleville. He was arrested on a charge of theft of a gold watch and returned to St. Catharines.

Skulls Litter Battle Field

NEUVE CHAPELLE, France, April 17.—The ground to the west of this now shattered town of Neuve Chapelle, from which the British drove the Germans in the middle of March with such terrible loss of life for both sides, is literally cobbled with German skulls. The dead lie buried in shallow graves everywhere and the vicinity is strewn with wreckage and debris.

The British have made it as tidy as they can, but beneath many of the trenches and dugouts six inches of bayonet will meet the resistance of cloth and human flesh, while in the No Man's Land between the new British line and the German trenches to the east bodies still lie thick.

Neither the Germans nor the British dare attempt to remove the corpses, and unless some situation develops to alter the relative position of the opposing lines, they are likely still to be there when the summer comes. Many of the trenches and the dugouts where the men live unwillingly harbor the bodies of thousands of men which were covered with earth after the British rush. Many have been buried by both the Germans and the British, and little white crosses to-day dot the landscape between the lines.

CANADIAN CASUALTIES.

OTTAWA, April 17.—The casualties announced by the Militia Department this morning are as follows:

Princess Patricias—Wounded, Pte. George W. Wilton, Pte. Peter Bowen.

Fifteenth Battalion — Death, Pte. Harry Howard.

Divisional Signol Co. — Wounded, Pte. Charles W. Randall.

A Much Married Man.

QUEBEC, April 17. — When the case of Mrs. Ledoux against her husband for annulment of their marriage came before Judge Malouin yesterday for hearing, the plaintiff stated the defendant had married seven wives, some of whom are still living.

She gave the following list of Ledoux's alleged wives: In 1878, she says, defendant married Delima Bilodeau at East Broughton; in 1885 he married Angeline Tranquillity at Farnham; at Sherbrooke, she says, he married Miss Champagne and was arrested for bigamy. Later on, she says, he married Mrs. St. Cyr at Rigaud, near Montreal, then Mrs. Amanda Pelletier of Yamachiche, and finally married the plaintiff in 1901.

SPRING BLOOD IS WATERY BLOOD

How to Get New Health and New Strength at This Season

Spring ailments are not imaginary. Even the most robust find the winter months most trying to their health. Confinement indoors, often in overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms — in the home, the office, the shop and the school—taxes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery and is clogged with impurities. Some people have headaches, and a feeling of languor. Others are low-spirited and nervous. Still others are troubled with disfiguring pimples and skin eruptions; while some get up in the morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order and that a medicine is needed. Many people take purgative medicines in the spring. This is a serious mistake. You cannot cure yourself with a medicine that gallops through your system and leaves you weaker still. This is all that a purgative does. What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine that will enrich the blood and soothe the jangled nerves. And the one always reliable tonic and blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weakness, but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to bad blood. In proof of this, Mrs. D. E. Hughes, Hazenmore, Sask., says: "About a year ago I was badly run down, my nerves were all unstrung, and I could not go upstairs without stopping to rest. As I was a long way from a doctor I decided to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in the course of a few weeks I felt like a new person. As an all-round restorative I can heartily recommend this medicine."

If you are ailing this spring you canot afford, in your own interest, to overlook so valuable a medicine as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WHOLE FAMILY USES THEM

"Fruit-a-tives" Keeps Young And Old In Splendid Health

J. W. HAMMOND Esq.

SCOTLAND, ONT., Aug. 25th. 1913

"Fruit-a-tives" are the only pill manufactured, to my way of thinking. They work completely, no griping whatever, and one is plenty for any ordinary person at a dose. My wife was a martyr to Constipation. We tried everything on the calendar without satisfaction, and spent large sums of money until we happened on "Fruit-a-tives". I cannot say too much in their favor.

We have used them in the family for about two years and we would not use anything else as long as we can get "Fruit-a-tives".

Their action is mild, and no distress at all. I have recommended them to many other people, and our whole family uses them".

J. W. HAMMOND.

Those who have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives" are proud and happy to tell a sick or ailing friend about these wonderful tablets made from fruit juices.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Wheat rose at one time today nearly 5c a bushel. The jump was accompanied by assertions that foreigners were buying new crop deliveries and were also purchasing new crop flour on account of belief that the war influence would extend into the 1915 harvest. Unusually heavy profit-taking, tho, led to a reaction, the market closing unsettled 1-8c off to 3 1-8c up compared with last night. Corn gained 1 3-8c to 1 5-8c net and oats 5-8c to 1 3-8c. In provisions the outcome varied from 5c decline to 15c advance.

Higher prices for corn were based largely on bullish crop reports from Argentine, and on the first big lake shipments of the year. Besides, there were cash sales here of 350,000 bushels, including a round lot to exporters.

Oats went up in trade with other cereals. Clearances of more than 1,000,000 bushels at the seaboard helped to sustain the advance.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 16. — Winnipeg wheat futures opened ½c lower to ½c up, oats ⅜c to ½c higher and flax ½c to 1⅛c higher. Some new short sales were put thru yesterday afternoon and the inquiry was fairly active today, altho the new business was reported. The cash demand was good for certain grades. Inspections 207 cars, as against 352 last year and in sight today 150 cars. At the close prices eased off considerably.

Winnipeg wheat futures closed ⅞c to 1⅛c advance. Cash closed 1⅛c to 1⅛c higher for contract grades. Oats closed ⅝c to ¾c up.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 16.—The export trade in grain today was dull, there being little or no demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat. The local market for oats continues strong, and prices have scored a further advance of ½c to 1c per bushel, in sympathy with the higher prices ruling in the Winnipeg option market. The trade in all lines of coarse grains continues quiet. There is a good enquiry from foreign buyers for spring wheat flour, and further sales were made for May-June shipment. The tone of the market is strong at the advance in prices of 20c per barrel. Millfeed is quiet and steady. Demand for butter is fairly good, and the undertone to the market is strong at the recent advance. Cheese is firm, and the demand for eggs continues good.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 16.—Wheat—No. 1 hard $1.61; No. 1 northern $1.56½ to $1.60½; No. 2 do., $1.52 to $1.57½; May, $1.55.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 71c to 71½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 54¾c to 55¼c.

Flour and bran unchanged.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 16.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.60⅝; No. 1 northern, $1.59⅝; No. 2 do., $1.52⅝ to $1.55⅝; May, $1.58⅝.

Shell Factory is Bombarded

PARIS, April 17.—Successful operations were conducted by French aviators yesterday, in which they bombarded a German shell factory, blew up a German powder magazine, hit the central electrical station which supplies Metz city and forts with light and power, and gave chase to three German aviators, who were forced to land. The official report follows:

"Our aviators were very active. Ten bombs were thrown on the workshops of the railway station of Leopoldshohe, which were being used for the manufacture of shells. Ten bombs were dropped on the powder magazine at Rottweil. Six struck the mark, and a huge red flames shot up, surrounded by dark smoke. The aeroplanes were struck by shell splinters, but returned safe and sound.

"Forty bombs, most of which struck their mark, were dropped on the central electric station at Maizieres Les Metz, about ten miles north of Metz. This station supplies the town and fort of Metz with power and light. Much smoke rose from the central building. On their return, our aviators encountered three aviators, to whom they gave chase, forcing them to land. Our squadron suffered no mishaps, although subjected to a violent cannonade from the Metz forts.

On Tuesday night the dam at Jackson's Mills, in the village of Millburn, was blown up by dynamite. This is the third time this has occurred in two years. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 549 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Are You a Candidate in Review's Great International Tour Contest

First List of Candidates is Printed To-day --- If You Are Not in it Hustle and Join the Race --- Plenty of Opportunity to Get in on The Review Tour to the Coast

TRIPLE VOTES FOR TWO WEEKS

The Largest and Best Vote Offer of the Contest Commences To-day — Candidates Will be Given Three Times as Many Votes on All Subscriptions During the Next Two Weeks — Vote Standing Will Appear on Monday

Today the first list of names of candidates is printed, on another page. Some of the districts show few entrants, and afford good opportunity to aspirants to enroll while the contest is still in its early stages.

The opportunity to enter The Review Transcontinental and Panama-Pacific Exposition Tour Contest is NOW, and the hesitating ones should not forget to get their applications in so that a tour representative may call upon them and start them in the race from the scratch. This will give them an opportunity to interest others in their behalf before the field is covered, and their friends have promised their support elsewhere. Do not be discouraged by any stories you may hear as to the great amount of votes So-and-So has already accumulated, for stories intended to discourage are already afloat, and we happen to know that there are scores of subscriptions awaiting a claimant, and a-plenty, to win a tour.

Lest You Forget.

CANDIDATES MAY SECURE SUBSCRIPTIONS IN ANY SECTION OR TERRITORY, AND ARE NOT CONFINED TO THEIR OWN DISTRICT. If, for instance, you have a friend in South Africa or Van Dieman's Land, votes will be allowed upon this subscription should you secure it. But candidates must reside in the district from which they enter.

There are no conditions that do not apply to all alike. It is a fair field, where the ambitious candidates have an equal chance of winning.

"Triple Vote Offer."

Commencing today, candidates will secure triple votes on all subscriptions turned in by them or for them. This great offer will continue for two weeks—closing Saturday, May 1st at 8 p.m. This will positively be the best vote offer of the entire contest. Never at any time will more votes be given so NOW is the time for contestants to do their big work. Three times as many votes will be given during the next week as at the latter part of the contest so do not let a single opportunity to get votes go by. The time is not long and you should secure subscriptions from all who have promised you support, while this splendid offer is in effect.

Report Often.

Candidates are urged to turn in their subscriptions as often as possible. New subscribers will be anxious to secure their paper and there is nothing to gain by holding back the subscriptions.

Easy to Secure Votes.

Candidates who are already working, tell the contest manager that when they explain the object they have in view in securing subscriptions for The Review, their story is received with courteous interest by people to whom they are almost total strangers, and when the project is fully explained, they invariably are rewarded by being given a subscription, generally with a word of cheerful encouragement, to The Review, which has made possible the combination of efforts that will bring so much pleasure and be of such educational benefit to the winners.

Monday will mark the first publication of the votes of candidates. New names will be added to the list as applications may be received any time during the contest.

Votes received up to 8 p.m. today will be published Monday.

The Candidates.

The following is the list of young ladies who have joined the Review's great competition. Subscribers should pick their favorites now and send in their votes.

BRUTALITY OF GERMANS TO PRISONERS

Canadian Brought Dying Austrian out of Germany

HELD AT LEIPZIG

(Kingston Standard.)

Allowed to leave Germany for the purpose of bringing a dying Australian, 19 years of age, out of that country to London, Eng., Elmer B. Luck, who was a British prisoner of war, arrived in the city this morning and told The Standard his story, emphasizing the brutality of the Germans to British war prisoners. He had been confined to Leipzig since last September because of his being a British subject.

In an interview at the Grand Trunk station with a representative of The Standard, Mr. Luck, who left at noon for Belleville, stated that he had been in Germany for three years. He is a graduate of Toronto University, and after leaving there went to Edmonton, Alta., where he was master of modern languages in the Edmonton High School. Three years ago he left for Leipzig, Germany, with his wife and two little girls, who accompanied him back to Canada, and who were with him at the station, one five and the other seven years old. At Leipzig he was taking a course in philosophy at one of the leading German colleges, but shortly after war broke out he was interned as an alien in the common jail. Through the influence of friends and a bribe to one of the officials, he was released for a short time but when the order to arrest all Colonials was published, he was again taken in charge by the military authorities and imprisoned.

Australian Brutally Treated.

The Australian, with whom he left the country, was also imprisoned and thrown into a common jail in the same cell as a German criminal, who was dying with tuberculosis. The former was at that time quite healthy but soon after [illegible] isy. When he applied to the doctors for treatment they refused to pay any attention to him, but in a short time, due to his intermingling with the German, who had consumption, he also contracted the same disease and was dying slowly in his cell. He asked to be released to die in his own country and after some time his wish was granted, and he was released from the prison at the end of January.

Traded for German Officials.

Mr. Luck's influence enabled him to get in touch with the authorities and he was later allowed to accompany the Australian to London, England. The two were exchanged with the German government for two German consular officers and on March 28th left Leipzig for Rotterdam, Holland. From there they sailed to London on the S.S. "Ryndham" of the Holland-American line. The Australion was sent to a London hospital, where he will die without doubt as he is in the last stages of consumption. Mr. Luck returned to New York, where he arrived yesterday morning, coming to the city on the Cape boat today.

5,000 British War Prisoners.

At Ruhleben, Germany, Mr. Luck states that 5,000 British prisoners are being held in a concentration camp and the stories told by them of the treatment they received at the hands of the Germans are almost beyond belief. They are used most brutally, he said, and apart from this they are almost starved by their captors. All are civilians, and have suffered beyond belief.

Doctors and Nurses Inhuman.

Not only the German doctors refuse to give treatment to British prisoners, but the nurses also refuse to care for them, he said.

Mr. Luck's two little girls also received brutal treatment from the teachers and other pupils at the Leipzig school where they were going to and he had to take them out of the school. The teachers, he said, always made it a point to let the other pupils know that the little girls' father was British and as a result they were badly treated by all with whom he came in contact. Shortly before the war broke out, Mr. Luck had the misfortune to lose his wife, through death, and the girls were left solely in his care.

War Bread is Awful.

Speaking of the conditions in Germany, he stated that the people were not getting enough to eat and said that one of the things he appreciated most after leaving the country, was a piece of white bread. In Germany, they have nothing but war bread, which is a disgusting thing to eat. All citizens must procure bread tickets, allowing them four ounces of this bread a day, from the municipality.

A Pitiful Story.

"It is pitiful," said Mr. Luck, "to see the class of recruits which they are taking now. Some are old men while the others are mere boys of fourteen years. At the beginning of the war they marched out of the cities in fine humour, singing and having a good time. Now they have a serious and resigned look on their faces and feel that they are going to certain death."

Germans Always Win.

Speaking of how the war is pro

Responsibility

The most important point in selecting an automobile is to know the reputation of the Company—"Who is Behind It?"

New makes of automobiles come and go year after year.

Do not buy an "orphan" car, for which you may have difficulty in securing repair parts and service, after purchasing.

The question of service should be considered carefully.

Buy from a well-established company.

The McLaughlin Carriage Co., Limited, of Oshawa, is one of the oldest vehicle industries in Canada—built upon Canadian capital—in business for over forty-five years building high-grade carriages, and in the eighth year of automobile manufacturing.

This company has such an extensive organization that an owner can secure dependable service at any of the twelve branches conveniently located throughout Canada.

Every McLaughlin-Buick has the famous VALVE-IN-HEAD MOTOR, that is guaranteed to produce and deliver more power than any other motor of equal size of any make, and on a lower consumption of gasoline.

Six models ranging from $1,150.00 for a Runabout to $2,250.00 for the famous McLaughlin "Six."

A Whole Trainload of McLaughlin Vehicles

On January 30th, 1915, we shipped from our factory a trainload consisting of 45 carloads of vehicles, to Winnipeg and points West.

This is the largest single shipment ever made from a Canadian Vehicle factory.

Stand 60 Years of Experience and Progress

THIRTEEN years before Confederation John Redpath turned out "Ye Olde Sugar Loafe"—the first sugar refined in Canada.

In 1880, thirty-five years ago, the Redpath Refinery brought out Canada's first Granulated Sugar, known ever since as the best.

Again in 1913, the Redpath Refinery introduced the third great improvement in Canada's sugar supply—the Redpath 2 and 5-lb. Cartons.

DURING all these years of leadership, the Redpath aim has been QUALITY—the quality on which the national preference for Redpath Sugar now rests so solidly.

Such quality is the result, not of modern machinery alone, but of experience, modern methods, and a fixed determination to produce nothing unworthy of the name Redpath—to maintain in every pound of our product the reputation of "Canada's Standard Sugar". 120

Turks Receive Decisive Blow

LONDON, April 17.—The British India troops have inflicted another defeat on the Turks in the vicinity of Shaiba, Mesopotamia, although at a considerable loss to themselves, their casualties being about 700. This announcement was made by the India Office in an official report issued last night.

The report says that after clearing the Turks out of their positions north and west of Shaiba last Tuesday, the British on Wednesday continued their offensive in the direction of Zobeir, four miles south of Shaiba fort. The Turks were driven out of the advanced position, and the British attack was then directed against their main line near the Birjisiyeh wood.

"Here," says the report, "the enemy, whose strength is estimated at at least 15,000 men, including six regular battalions, with six guns, had occupied a series of well-concealed trenches, from which they were able to direct a heavy rifle and machine gun fire on our advancing troops.

"Nevertheless, our attack drove the enemy out of his trenches at the point of the bayonet, and the whole line of his position was finally captured, though not without heavy loss to our side."

The casualties are believed to amount to about 700 men of all ranks. On the other hand, the Turks were so severely handled that they retired to Nakhailah, 19 miles northwest of Zobeir.

Hon. Frank Oliver Issues Defence

OTTAWA, April 17. — Hon. Frank Oliver has issued a reply to charges made against him in the House of Commons by Hon. Dr. Roche on Thursday. The charges were that he had retained coal royalties which should have been paid into the treasury, and that Indian lands bought by a man named Falerne were jockeyed into his own possession. Mr. Oliver states that it was not until he ceased to be Minister that he discovered that he did not have the mineral rights or land which he had acquired in 1890. He then got the rights, and Hon. Dr. Roche granted him an extension of time for the settlement of the royalties.

Of the Indian lands bought by Falerne in 1900 and sold to J. J. Anderson, son-in-law of Mr. Oliver, in 1910, and sold by Anderson to Mr. Oliver in 1914, the ex-Minister of the Interior says he bought the land from Anderson three years after he ceased to be a Minister, and he declares that in neither of these transactions did he do anything improper, there was no intention to defraud, and the Government lost nothing.

FOUR STEAMERS SUNK.

Petragrad, April 17.—The following Russian naval success on the Black Sea was reported last night:

"Thursday in the Black Sea our destroyers sank off the Anatolia coast four steamers, two of which were laden with coal, and two sailing vessels, and also exchanged shots with the Sunguldaik (Asia Minor) batteries."

Austro-German Counter Attacks Are Defeated

LONDON, April 17.—The fight in the Uszok Pass is still undecided. Conflicting reports from the eastern arena seem to point to a slowing down of the Russian advance into Hungary. Whether this is due to the bad condition of the roads, hinted at in the Petrograd official report, or to the heavy reinforcements which the railways have enabled the Germans to concentrate on the southern slopes of the Carpathians, is not yet clear. The most important news is the Russian report of the repulse of the Austro-German counter-thrusts east and west of the Uszok Pass. The fighting in the valley of the Stryj was particularly fierce and protracted, ending in the repulse of German picked troops.

Official reports from Paris last night record the renewed activity of the Germans at the position of Les Eparges, wrested from them a week ago by the French army, and desperate attacks to recover the spur of Notre Dame de Lorette, captured on Thursday by French forces operating north of Arras. On the latter position three determined attacks, each preceded by a heavy artillery fire, were made, but the French gunners had the range and stopped these advances at the outset.

Three German batteries were silenced and an ammunition depot was blown up by a well-directed shell in the Montmarie wood.

The attack on Les Eparges, which was launched under cover of darkness, was defeated.

The French official report yesterday afternoon mentions that "some enemy destroyers" took part in artillery fighting near Nieuport and Ostend on Thursday, but were quickly silenced."

Continuing their process of dislodging the Austrians from a 75 to 100-mile section of the Carpathian mountains, it is reported, Russian troops noiselessly approached the barbed wire entanglements of the Austrians between Telepotch and Zuella villages, broke through, and in a brief engagement with the bayonet, captured two heights and a great number of prisoners. The enemy delivered a counter-attack with the 121st Reserve Regiment, and the fighting at this point has not ended.

On other sections of the Carpathian front the Russians stood on the defensive, the spring thaw having put the roads in bad shape. The rivers have swollen and in some places have overflowed their banks.

The Germans and Austrians still persist in making local attempts to create dints in the Russian lines. Towards Rostoki attempts are reported of attacks against the heights occupied by the Russians near the village of Crosspatch. Here the Rusisans held their ground well.

Fighting is desultory on other portions of the Russian front.

A Geneva despatch says The Tribune publishes a report from Ungvar, in northeastern Hungary, stating that a great battle has been fought between the Stryj and the valley of the Ondava. A German army composed of picked men attacked the Russians marching on Bereg. After thirty-two hours of severe fighting the Russians succeeded in repulsing the Germans and capturing a quantity of arms and ammunition.

Another despatch received here from Vienna says sixty-five Austrian officers have been disciplined for negligence which resulted in the annihilation of a division of reserves near Bereg and the Austrian defeat in the Sarao region.

An unofficial despatch from Petrograd states:

Military experts of the Russian press are divided in opinion regarding the true meaning of the present operations. The official military organ, The Russky Invalid, for over a month past has been presenting its readers with the idea that, as the Carpathian operations develop, and when Hungary has been invaded, the Russians will drive forward in irresistible force upon the direct road to Berlin from Warsaw.

The Novoe Vremya expert scouts this idea resolutely and points out that the Grand Duke's strategy has had one consistent aim from the outset of the war; namely, to reach Berlin by way of Vienna. This expert shows that the combined enemy forces now arrayed against Russia from the Baltic to the frontiers of Roumania are under two and a half million men.

Referring to the reinforcement of Austro-Hungarian defences by German troops from the western front, a Russian military expert says Germany is preparing a general attack along the whole strategic front, where men are fewer, and an endeavor is to be made, by means of guns, to supply their place. The whole seven or eight hundred miles, says this expert, will shortly be aflame from end to end.

Sultan of Turkey Would Abdicate

PARIS, April 17. — The Dedeaghatch, Bulgaria, correspondent of The Temps sends the following despatch regarding a Turkish Imperial Council held in Constantinople:

"An Imperial Council, over which the Sultan presided, was held at Constantinople. The possibility of the transfer of the capital was discussed.

"Crown Prince Yussef Izzeddin severely criticized the policy of Enver Pasha and the Young Turks and their actions shortly before the war. The Sultan was greatly dejected. He said he owed to the Young Turks and their revolution his accession to the throne and would rather not have reigned than see the country go to ruin.

"The Sultan declared that he had decided to abdicate in case a transfer of the capital became necessary, in fact preferred now to be relieved of power, and would be happy if Prince Yussef Izzeddin could succeed him immediately.

"Other members of the dynasty expressed the opinion that the present was unfavorable for a change, as the accession of the prince who was hostile to the policy of Enver Pasha could provoke grave interior complications."

NOT FOR SCOTLAND.

LONDON, April 17.—There is a boom in whiskey purchases, people fearing prohibition are laying in stares.

The Evening News claims to have authority for stating that the Government's scheme concerns England and Wales only, and that an expert estimate of the amount which would be expended for the expropriation by the state of the liquor industry places the figure around £300,000,000.

BRUTALITY OF

gressing, as viewed by the citizens there, he said that the only news they receive of the war is through official channels, and the army is ever supposed to be victorious. They receive news of losses on the seas, but there are always lies told of the British losses on the water.

The Germans have an idea that all British shipping is at a standstill, but outside of Dover some distance Mr. Luck said he counted 57 British merchant ships.

The people have the utmost confidence in the Kaiser. They feel yet that they are sure to have certain victory, but have not the slighest idea of how it is going to be attained. He said that while eating in several of the restaurants, he picked up plenty of useful information of the movements of the German army, but did not know where he could send it to benefit the allies, not knowing any of the British diplomats in Leipzig.

Caught Six Germans.

When the Ryndham passed the straits of Dover six British torpedo boats stopped the ship and made a thorough search. They found six Germans on board, whom they took prisoners.

Holland to Join War.

The feeling in Holland is very sympathetic to Britain and it is understood on all sides that they will enter the war about the end of April or thereabout.

Canadians Badly Treated.

Referring again to the manner in which British prisoners are treated, he said that one of the leading citizens of Canmore, Alta., whom he knew very well, had been brutally used by the Germans. He also was in Leipzig and when arrested was thrown into a cell along with three dirty-looking negroes, despite his protests. Mr. Flint was manager of a mine in Canmore, but is still a war prisoner in Leipzig.

Mr. Luck was the first Canadian to be allowed to leave Germany. He left on the noon train for Belleville where he will spend a short time with relatives.

Mimic Warfare Is Enacted Behind Lines In France.

NORTHERN FRANCE, April 17.—(Via London.)—On an elevated plateau of northern France there was enacted yesterday one of the strangest scenes ever witnessed by French people. The actors were Indian cavalry brought hither from their native land, with their horses and equipment for use in the British army at the time when the expected drive makes expedient their entrance into hostilities.

As yet denied an actual battle in the line, the Indian cavalry foregathered for a demonstration of its horsemanship and its prowess with lance, rifle and sword. The first feat was a mimic charge, in which hundreds of dusky horsemen swept across the plain into lines of imaginary Germans, slashing right and left with their sabres or piercing with slender lance straw-stuffed sacks which dotted the ground.

Their control of their horses were superb, and the spirit and agility which they displayed astonished the French onlookers. Formidable and terrifying was the yell of the Indians as they galloped across the field.

MILITARY HONORS PAID TO THE LATE PETER CARRUTHERS

(Ottawa Free Press.)

The funeral of the late Bombardier Peter Carruthers, of the 20th Battery, Canadian Expeditionary Force, who died suddenly at Lethbridge, was held yesterday afternoon. The late soldier was buried with full military honors, and the cortege left his father's residence, 112 Pretoria avenue, and proceeded down Pretoria to Bank street, to McLeod to Wellington to Rideau, and Beechwood cemetery.

A large escort from the 7th artillery brigade, C. E. F., turned out. A gun carriage, brass and bugle bands, and firing squad accompanied the hearse, while the new brass band of the 38th played appropriate funeral music. Rev. W. A. McIlroy conducted the services at the house and at the grave.

The casket was draped with the Union Jack, and was borne on a gun carriage. The chief mourners came next, and then the soldiers. The artillery were in command of Lieut.-Col. Arnoldi, Major Hubbell, Capt. Cameron, Capt. Harty, Lieut. Honeywell and Lieut. Godwin.

The chief mounrers were: Messrs. John Carruthers, father; John P. Carruthers, of Ottawa, Capt. A. G. Carruthers, of the 39th Battalion, C. E. F. (Belleville), William Carruthers, Toronto, George M. Carruthers, of Prince George, B. C., and Hector K. Carruthers, of Ottawa, brothers; Miss Catherine Carruthers, of New York, Miss Margaret Carruthers, of Ottawa, Mrs. P. H. Aikens of Ottawa, Mrs. J. F. Brady of Ottawa, and Mrs. Carl Reynhold of Granum, Alberta, sister of the deceased.

Amelia Palma, who was convicted at Fort William of having murdered Wm. Lethinen, was sentenced to be hanged on June 30th. The murdered man's wife has been arrested and will be tried for complicity.

AN EXCELLENT REMEDY FOR LITTLE ONES

Mrs. Sidney Dalby, Audley, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past twelve months and have found them an excellent medicine for my little girl." Thousands of other mothers say the some thing—once a mother has used the Tablets she would use nothing else. They are pleasant to take; the result is sure, and above all they are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely free from injurious drugs. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FRASER CASE IN IT'S FINAL STAGE

Probate of Will Granted in Favor of Mrs. Fraser

Barrie, April 18. — The famous Michael Fraser will case reached its final stage when, all objections having been withdrawn by the McCormicks, probate was granted in favor of the wife. This litigation, which has been going on for over two years and must have cost in the neighborhood of $15,000, was ended through a settlement reached between the parties. Though the terms have not been made public, it is stated that the McCormicks are conceded between $15,000 and $20,000.

As soon as the Michael Fraser will was probated Mrs. Fraser fell heir to the big estate of Michael Fraser's brother John, who left everything to his brother Michael. This estate was originally placed at $48,000, but with three years' accrued interest and appreciation of values, is now worth well on to $60,000. Michael Fraser and John Irwin were the executors, but the latter, as surviving executor, could not have the estate wound up until such time as the courts decided who should get Michael Fraser's property.

This point having been disposed of by the settlement, John Irwin, executor of the John Fraser estate, appeared before Judge Vance to have his accounts passed. Mrs. Fraser also appeared in person. Mr. Finlayson acted for Irwin, and Mr. Grant for Mrs. Fraser. Argument was heard and judgment reserved on a number of disputed items.

Michael [illegible] was reported at $65,[illegible] made up as follows: Household effects, $500; mortgages, $15,632; cash in bank, $23,342.58; real estate, $30,000.

If $15,000 was eaten up by litigation, and a similar amount conceded to the McCormicks, it would still leave Mrs. Fraser in the neighborhood of $100,000.

AUSTRIA'S LATEST DENIAL.

VIENNA, April 17.—The official Fremdenblatt declares that all reports or an alleged intention on the part of Austria to conclude a separate peace with Russia are devoid of foundation.

LONDON, April 17. — J. Austen Chamberlain, M.P., for West Birmingham, has appealed to the Government to take the people more into its confidence and let them know a little more of what is happening. He says the secrecy of the Government is being carried to an extent that is detrimental to the country's best interests.

Life Insurance in a Crisis

Every time a great Crisis occurs LIFE INSURANCE has an opportunity to show what a giant of strength it is. Tremendous burdens are placed upon its shoulders, but it never shirks, never hesitates or groans.

When the Titanic took its awful plunge, carrying 1,500 human souls into the deep, thousands of widows and orphans were left throughout the world. LIFE INSURANCE accepted the burden without the quiver of a muscle, and spread its protection around the Globe.

When seven years ago the financial world was laboring under an attack of indigestion due to undigested securities, and people could not get even their own money out of the Savings Banks, LIFE INSURANCE furnished spot cash to its policy-holders upon application.

Today, when a gigantic struggle wages across the Seas, and it is difficult to get loans from banks or money lenders, they find the solution again in LIFE INSURANCE.

It is today saving thousands of men all over the world, not only embarrassment, but actual failure.

LIFE INSURANCE protects your wife and family.
" " will meet their needs when you are gone.
" " is always a resource.
" " contributes to your estate.
" " increases your savings.
" " increases the savings habit.

Money invested in LIFE INSURANCE is sure to come back to you or your family.

Your credit is made better by the amount of LIFE INSURANCE you carry.

The need of LIFE INSURANCE to every man with a family is as fixed as the daily need for bread, and that need is well met by a policy in

REPORT ON FIELD CROPS AND STOCK

The Agricultural Department Finds Fruits and Live Stock Wintered Well

The following is given out in the Ontario agricultural department as to the condition of crops and stock:

Fall Wheat.

Reports of correspondents in November described the new fall wheat as never more promising, there being a good growth and a much increased area.

Orchards and Small Fruits.

Fruit trees so far have not suffered much from the winter, especially where care has been given the orchards. A few complaints have been made of injury to peach buds in some localities in southwestern Ontario, but so far the peach orchards of the Niagara Peninsula have been practically unscathed from this cause.

Live Stock.

The wintering of live stock, owing to the light hay crop and the poor summer pastures of last year, depended largely upon ensilage, straw, roots and other roughage, of which, hapily, there was more than an average supply, as many farmers were chary in using grain owing to the high prices prevailing during the winter.

Horses.

As a class, horses came through in generally good shape, although a number of minor cases of distemper have been reported.

Cattle.

Cattle also have come through the winter in fair condition—healthy but somewhat thinner than might be desired, owing to the high price of grains and mill feeds. All ailments have been of local nature, no serious outbreak of disease being reported.

Sheep.

Sheep have wintered better than any other class of live stock. They are doing well, and lambs are coming strong. The dread of the dog, however, is very apparent in reports of correspondents, and it acts as a break on the sheep industry of the province.

Swine.

Hogs have been kept thinner than usual, but it said that they have suffered less from crippling than for several winters past. The high cost of grain has caused many animals to be turned off in a somewhat unfinished state. A few spring pigs have died, but no serious disease is at present affecting swine.

At Berlin Mr. Justice Middleton reserved judgment in the action of Mrs. Anna Linke vs. the Canadian Order of Foresters for the payment of $1000 insurance on her husband who disapeared seven years ago and is claimed to be dead.

"Never Again,"

Said the housewife, "will I waste money on cake soap when, by cutting up a bar of N.P. SOAP, I get more and better soap than by buying other kinds in cakes. One bar of N.P. SOAP at 15¢ contains more by weight than four or five 5¢ cakes of any other kind — It's Made in Canada too."

BRINGING UP FATHER BY GEORGE McMANUS

GIANTS DROP FIRST GAME TO RECRUIT OF DODGERS

Oldring and McInnis do Some Tall Swatting for Athletics

New York, April 17. — Brooklyn turned the tables on the New York Nationals, taking the last game of the series by a score of 5 to 3. Appleton, a recent member of the Brooklyns, pitched his first major league game, and held New York to six hits. Perritt, the former St. Louis pitcher, was on the mound for McGraw's team, and went well until the ninth inning, when, with the score tied, Wheat hit a home run. Two other runs followed on a pass, a double and two singles. Score:

Brooklyn	....002000003—	5	8	2
New York	....000001011—	3	6	2

Batteries — Appleton and McCarty; Perritt and Meyers.

CHICAGO DEFEATED ST. LOUIS.

Chicago, April 17. — Goods' home run following McLarey's single in the fourth inning, gave Chicago a 4 to 2 victory over St. Louis yesterday. The other scores made by the locals were the result of daring base running and bunched hits. The fielding of Dolan was a feature. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	....100100000—	2	8	1
Chicago	.....00220000x—	4	7	1

Batteries—Griner and Glenn; Lavender and Archer.

VANCE'S WILDNESS LOST GAME.

Cincinnati, April 17. — Vance's wildness in the third inning cost Pittsburg the third game of the series, Cincinnati winning by 4 to 2. In that inning Vance gave four bases on balls, hit another man, which, with a single, gave Cincinnati three runs. Douglas, who started for Cincinnati, was also wild, but he managed to hold down the hitting of Pittsburg, and Dale, who relieved him in the eighth, held the visitors safe for the remainder of the game. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	....000100100—	2	3	1
Cincinnati	...00300100x—	4	7	0

Batteries — Vance, Conzelman, Kantlehner and Gibson, Schang; Douglas, Dale and Clark.

At Boston — Boston-Philadelphia game postponed on account of ran.

PLAYERS BANISHED.

Philadelphia, April 17. — The hitting of Oldring and McInnis featured a long-drawn-out game here yesterday between Philadelphia and Boston. Play was stopped owing to darkness at the end of the ninth inning. In addition to tieing the score with a home run in the seventh inning, Oldring made a double and a single, while McInnis made three singles and drove in two runs. The early innings were marked by poor pitching. Umpire Connolly put five of the visitors' team off the field for yelling from the bench. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Boston	......100140000—	6	5	6
Philadelphia	..000140100—	6	8	1

Called—darkness.

Batteries — Ruth, Comstoc, Mays and Carrigan and Thomas; Bressler, Shawkey, and McAvoy and Lapp.

GAVE NINE BASES ON BALLS.

Washington, April 17.—Washington won the final game of the series from New York yesterday, 3 to 2, making the most of Brown's wildness in the box for the visitors. He gave nine bases on balls. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
New York	....020000000—	2	6	1
Washington	..11000100x—	3	7	1

Batteries—Brown and Sweeney; Gallia and Ainsmith.

THE TRIGGER

The weekly practice shoot of the Peterborough Gun Club was held last evening and considerable interest was shown in the scoring, as Mr. Chris. Graham presented three silver spoons for the three highest scores, Messrs. Loucks, Routley and Mills being the lucky ones. The following are the scores at 25 birds:

J. Loucks	23
H. Routley	21
C. Mills	19
C. Wood	18
B. Gillespie	16
C. Graham	15
L. Hall	14
W. Lang	14
C. James	12

The next shoot will be held on Saturday afternoon next, April 24th, at half-past two o'clock, instead of Friday night. This will be an open shoot, and all persons interested in trap-shooting are invited to attend and take part in the shooting.

LAWN BOWLING

The Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held a very enthusiastic annual meeting in the Peterborough Music store last evening. The statement of the secretary-treasurer was accepted and showed good progress. The following officers were elected:

President—John H. Renwick.
Vice-Pres.—T. C. Elliot.
Sec.-Treas.—W. J. Oke.

Mr. Pratt, the retiring secretary-treasurer, has occupied that position very successfully for three years.

Bishop Farthing, of Montreal, at a Canadian Club luncheon to the Church of England Bishops in conference at Port Arthur denounced graft in connection with war contracts.

JAS. J. JEFFRIES IS 40 YEARS OLD

The Man Who Failed at Re o Can't Fight but He Qualifies for Job of U.S. President

Congratulations were due yesterday to that distinguished, if somewhat extinguished, American, James J. Jeffries. The great man of Los Angeles was forty years old yesterday. Although it may never have occurred to Jeff, he has the makings of first rate presidential timber. In launching his candidacy for the exalted job which will be decided at the polls by the sovereign voters of the United States next year, Jeff might announce himself as possessed of the following qualifications:

1—He is a male.
2—He is white.
3—He is of legal age.
4—He is a native-born citizen of the United States.
5—He was born in Ohio, where most presidents come from.
6—He is a clergyman's son.
7—He was born in a log cabin.

That last is the clincher which makes Jeff loom up as a real presidential possibility. Practically all men are males, a majority are white, millions of 'em are past the age required of 35, vast numbers have been born in the United States and no small proportion of them in Ohio; clergymen are notoriously addicted to large families; but mighty few men of today can boast of having been born in a log cabin. And, for a man who wants to be chief executive of the U. S. A., that sort of a house is the very best of all to be born in.

It was a crude and tiny edifice of logs, on a farm mostly timber, in the rubeburbs of Carroll, Ohio, where Jeff first saw the light o' day on April 15, 1875. Alexis O. Jeffries, the great man's papa, was a sturdy son of the soil, descended from a race of brawny, daring pioneers. Farmer Alexis was proficient with the plow and the hoe and the ax, but at about the time of Jeff's birth he laid these aside and went out to preach the gospel to the Ohio heathen. Jeff's father didn't believe in houses of worship, and did his preaching in the open air.

DIXON—ROBINSON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at six-thirty on Wednesday evening, April 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon, Drummond's Station, Otonabee, when their eldest daughter, Maud Eleanor, became the bride of Mr. Whitfield Robinson.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Price, rector of St. Mark's Church, Otonabee.

The bride who was attired in a beautiful gown of pearl grey dutchesse satin, trimmed with shadow lace and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations and hyacinths entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by the bride's sister, Miss Meta Dixon. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Mary McGregor, who was ringbearer and was dressed in pink silk and carried pink sweet peas.

After the ceremony the guests retired to the dining room, where they partook of a sumptuous wedding supper after which the bride and groom left for their new home "The Maples," Otonabee, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with hat to match. The bride received many beautiful presents among them being a beautiful clock from the congregation of St. Mark's Church of which she has been organist for the last seven years.

LONG—CAMPBELL.

At the Mark Street Church parsonage, on Wednesday, April 14th, Miss Margaret Campbell and Mr. Alexander Long, both of this city were united in marriage by Rev. L. Phelps. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Long will reside on Sophia street.

Mr. A. L. Phelps, B. A., son of Rev. L. Phelps, is among the graduates in Arts at Victoria College.

Manley G. Peever returned today from Queen's Medical College, where he has completed his first year.

Local friends of W. J. Mumford, B. A. will be pleased to know that he has been awarded the Standford gold medal for general proficiency in the whole B. D. course at Victoria College, Toronto.

Friends of Mr. Melville Robinson, of the Hamilton Spectator, son of Mr. W. S. Robinson, Wescott street, city, will be pleased to learn that he is now city editor of that paper. "Bobby," as he is known to the sporting world, has been sporting editor of the "Spec." for a number of years. He first broke into newspaper work with the Review, and before going to Hamilton he was connected with the Toronto News.

JOE LALLY COMING.

Writing to President Ed. Dillon, Secretary Doyle says Joe Lally will be in Peterborough next Friday when he hopes to meet the school teachers of the city.

Musicale Held by Daughters of Empire Was Successful

The beautiful home of Mr. W. G. Morrow, 484 Weller Street, was the scene of brilliancy and life last evening when fully two hundred citizens attended an "at home" and musicale held there under the auspices of the I.O.D.E., of which Miss Morrow is vice-regent. It was an unqualified success from every viewpoint, and the officers anticipate a nice balance to be devoted to the work of the organization.

One of the choicest programs of the season was supplied by Peterborough's best vocal and instrumental talent, as well as capable readers and entertainers.

The home was invitingly arranged for the occasion with flowers, and a large elegant bouquet of snap dragon. All officers of the 57th Regiment wore dress uniform, lending the required military touch to the general appearance.

Miss Morrow and Mrs. Duncan Walker were hostesses and did everything possible to contribute to the comfort of their guests, a duty in which they were eminently successful.

An orchestra composed of Miss Dean, Miss L. Logan, Miss E. Palmer, W. Dean, Otto Gliddon and Paul Gliddon, supplied entrancing music during the reception, that materially added to the pleasure of the evening.

The I.O.D.E. feel that the musicale was splendidly patronized and are congratulating themselves upon the success which rewarded their efforts. The program was:

1. Piano—(a) Prelude C Minor—Rackmaninoff. (b) Sous Bois—Victor Staub—Miss Florence Scott.
2. Tenor Solo—Come Into the Garden Maud — Balfe — Mr. Maurice Park.
3. Violin Duette—Symphonic Concertante—Dancla—Misses Logan and Palmer.
4. Vocal—(a) Melisande in the Wood—Goetz; (b) The Lass with the Delicate Air—Arne—Miss Dorothy Allan.
5. Reading—(a) King John and the Abbot of Canterbury — Bishop Percy; (b) The Song of the Market Place—Buckham—Miss Mathers.
6. Clarinette Solo—Carnival of Venice—Otto Gliddon.
7. Soprano Solo — (a) A Little Love a Little Kiss—Loe Sibesu; (b) The Valley of Laughter—Sanderson—Miss Ada Richardson.
8. Bass Solo—Mother McCree — Mr. Ed. Hanrahan.
9. Violin—Adagio—Ries — Miss Palmer.
10. Vocal Duette—In the Garden of My Heart—Ball—Mis Allan, Mr. Park.

Accompanists—Misses Dean and Smith; Mr. Allan and Mr. Fisher.

Judge Tappan of Port Huron decided in favor of the Grand Trunk Railway in the suit brought against the company by William McMann for injuries received in an accident at Ridgeway. McMann had shipped a carload of cattle from Carsonville to Buffalo and was riding in the caboose. The judge ruled that according to the United States law railway companies were not liable when men were riding on free passes.

Big Italian Army is Ready

ON THE ITALIAN FRONTIER, April 17. (Via Paris.)—Italy to-day has 1,200,000 first line soldiers under arms. They are from 20 to 26 years of age. They are perfectly armed and equipped otherwise "to the last button."

Gen. Zupelli, the Italian Minister of War, speaking on the military situation in Italy, said that a miracle had been accomplished in that a country which for about twenty years had maintained a military organization merely for the preservation of peace had created what he termed one of the most perfect war machines. The change was not easy, Gen. Zupelli said, as was proved wherever the same work was attempted. Great Britain, for example, had faced the same problem, and though possessing greater resources, was even less prepared than Italy. The War Minister said that the equipment of the army with weapons was superior proportionately to that of the German army at the beginning of the war.

Would Welcome Italy.

PARIS, April 17. — Russia would welcome Italy's intervention into the war, according to a despatch from Rome which quotes from a letter written by Grand Duke Nicholas to Foreign Minister Sazonoff. To the famous author now in the Italian capital Grand Duke Nicholas said:

"I desire to fight with the gallant Italian army because it is only thus that Italy can completely gain her national aspirations."

"I have several times invited Italy to align herself with the triple entente," wrote M. Sazonoff. "Her national aspirations would thereby be amply fulfilled."

OBITUARY

JAMES W. FOWLER.

East City lost one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents yesterday afternoon when James W. Fowler, aged 79 years, passed away at the residence of his son, Mr. A. A. Fowler, 159 Hunter street east, after an illness of several months. Deceased was born in Cavan, Ireland, but had spent most of his life in Canada. For the past quarter of a century he had been a resident of East City.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. J. Grimison, Quebec, and Miss Effie, at home; also three sons, J. E. Fowler, Havelock, Norman Fowler, Toronto, and A. A. Fowler, city.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2.30 to Little Lake Cemetery, service at the house at 2 o'clock by Rev. R. G. Peever.

THE LATE EDWARD B. WILSON.

Edward B. Wilson, aged 82, one of the pioneers of Peterborough, died last night at his home in the township of Smith, near Jackson Park. He was born in Toronto, but lived most of his life in Peterborough. For many years he operated a small woollen mills on the site of G. Walter Green's foundry, and later conducted a mill on the river near Hunter Street bridge. His father, the late Thomas Wilson, had the honor of building the first locks at Peterborough.

The deceased was a town councillor of Peterborough when the city was younger and was a valued and progressive citizen.

He was a member of Peterborough Lodge No. 155, A. F. and A. M.

Surviving him are three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Harper of Lakefield, Mrs. Jas. Best of Peterborough, Mrs. Stevenson of Woodstock and two brothers, Joseph of Listowel, and Thomas of Covington, Ky.

Two sons T. J. Wilson of this city and George Wilson of Lacombe, Sask., also survive. The funeral is on Monday at 3.30 to Little Lake Cemetery under Masonic auspices.

PUT OUT GARBAGE AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

Sanitary Inspector Spence wishes citizens to take notice that commencing on Monday, all garbage for collection must be outside and ready for the collector by seven o'clock during the summer months. Eight o'clock has been the hour all winter and spring, but people must bestir themselves a little earlier after Monday, or else make sure their garbage is put out the night before.

The incinerator is working full blast now and can look after all that its capacity is capable of consuming.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Cameron wishes to thank all those citizens who in any way assisted her son, Roderick, to win in the Pony Contest Competition. The deep interest taken in the contest by the citizens generally and in the help given was most gratifying and encouraging.

Her thanks too are due those merchants who undertook the contest and gave the prize. The pony and outfit are fully up to representations and they constitute a prize such as has never before been offered to boys in Peterborough.

The value of the prize is enhanced by the consciousness that all who took part in the contest learned the value of hard work and perseverance. They also possibly gained their first insight into business which should be of lasting benefit to them.

Local News in General

Ladies' Literary Society.

The Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S., held their final meeting for this season last evening, when a crowded house listened to a debate by four young ladies on the resolution: "That it is better for a man to marry a good-natured, untidy woman than a neat, cranky woman." The affirmative was taken by Misses May Grady and Kathleen O'Brien, and negative by Misses Ethel Hayes and Kathleen McCarthy. The judges, Messrs. E. Reynolds, B. McAvoy and J. New awarded the decision to the negative, the "neat crank" winning the day.

The chair was very ably occupied by Miss Lillian Hurley, Miss Bernice Giroux played a piano solo and Rev. Father McColl made a few timely remarks after the debate.

Beautiful Building Lots

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald is offering for sale some beautiful building lots on Benson, Geraldine and O'Carroll avenues. This property lies within two minutes' walk of the street railway and ten minutes' walk of the heart of the city. The city water, gas, light and sewer services are installed, the property being already completely surrounded by beautiful homes. The site is an ideal one, with a gentle southeasterly slope, and being considerably elevated above the city and not in the immediate vicinity of any manufacturing industries, the air is always pure, healthy and invigorating. Nearly all the lots are already beautifully wooded with foreign and domestic shade trees. Two handsome residences are already under construction on this property, and several more will be erected this season, and for anyone contemplating the erection of a home there are certainly not lots in the city that offer equal advantages.

Copies of registered plan No. 149, which covers this property, may be seen, and all other information may be had, at the offices of Mr. R. J. Kidd, J. T. O'Connell & Co., C. J. Carroll & Co., also at the office of the owner, Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, Ontario Land Surveyor, 435 George street. 'Phone 885.

REMOVED.

Canada Life Assurance Company have moved into their new spacious office, 157-159 Hunter Street.

Mr. W. R. Widdess, who has been manager of the Midland District for several years, will now have his headquarters here instead of Lindsay, as formerly.

Mr. W. R. Scadding, who has looked after the Peterborough business for the past year, will continue to do so, also being located in the new office, instead of in the Bank of Commerce Building, as heretofore.

FIVE PETERBOROUGH LADS FALL WOUNDED

Sapper Langford, Sergt. Shaw, Pte. Blanchard, Grenadier Saxby and Pte. Nicholls Now in Hospital.

Further evidence that Peterborough soldiers have been doing their share in the recent fighting is evidenced by official notifications from Ottawa this morning, that five more have been wounded.

Sapper Ernest Walter Langford, son of Wm. Langford, Water street, who enlisted with a corps of engineers, has been admitted to No. 13 general hospital, at Boulogne, he having received a gunshot wound in the back. He entered the hospital on April 10th.

Sergt. Harry Percy Shaw, another member of an engineers corps, also has been wounded, and admitted to No. 25 general hospital at Etaples, on April 10. Sergt. Shaw is a son of Wm. Shaw, R.R. No. 8, Peterborough.

Pte. Bruce Rodney Blanchard, son of Dr. Blanchard, is another Peterborough boy among the wounded, he having been injured in the eye. He is at No. 24 hospital at Etaples.

Grenadier W. H. Saxby, son of Wm. Saxby, Smith street, who recently was mentioned in the eye witness report for his services while out with a patrol party, has been wounded in the arm and chest. He is in hospital at Boulogne.

Albert Nicholls is at No. 23 hospital, Boulogne, with a gunshot wound in the face. He is a son of Albert Nicholls, 571 Bethune St.

Mr. Wm. Henry, superintendent of the Children's Shelter, has received word from his son in France, Pte. Harold Henry, acknowledging the receipt on March 23rd of his Christmas gifts, sent by the congregation of St. Paul's church. Although the presents were a long time in coming, Pte. Henry was very gratified to the ladies for their kindness and for the extreme acceptability of the gifts.

Pat Yeomans Killed.

Sergt. "Pat" Yeomans, a popular Belleville boy, has been killed in action. He was the eldest son of Dr. H. A. Yeomans.

Maj. Begy to Remain.

Major Geo. A. Begy of St. Catharines, who is will known here, has been informed that his condition of health will not permit of his going overseas with the 81st Battalion. Major Begy fought in the battle of Ypres, when he lost an eye. He will be retained in his rank of second command in the organization and training of other troops for the front and later when his health improves he will quite likely have complete command of a Canadian overseas unit.

Band at Temple

The 93rd band played before a very large audience at the Temple last night, their selections as well as the numbers of Miss Lottie Hanson being enthusiastically received. Lt. Col. Johnston was chairman. A hearty vote of thanks moved by Fred Gandy and Ernest Hensley was tendered to Lieut.-Col. Johnston and the band. The entertainers were treated to ice cream and cake.

Bowser Was Tagless

Bowser, the canine mascot of the 109th Battalion, Lindsay, was found wandering about the streets without a tag, and Bowser's custodians were requested to contribute $5.45 into the town's coffers.

LATE PASSES—

The commanding officer has been pleased to allow all members of the 93rd Overseas Battalion, C.E.F., late passes for this evening, in order to attend the entertainment held at Knox church, provided they obtain coupons which will be issued at the door.

That the battle of St. Eloi ranks well with St. Julien and Festubert, not only in the effective work of the Canadians, but also in the severe losses sustained by Canadian troops, is indicated clearly in the casualty lists which have been received by the militia department following the recent battle.

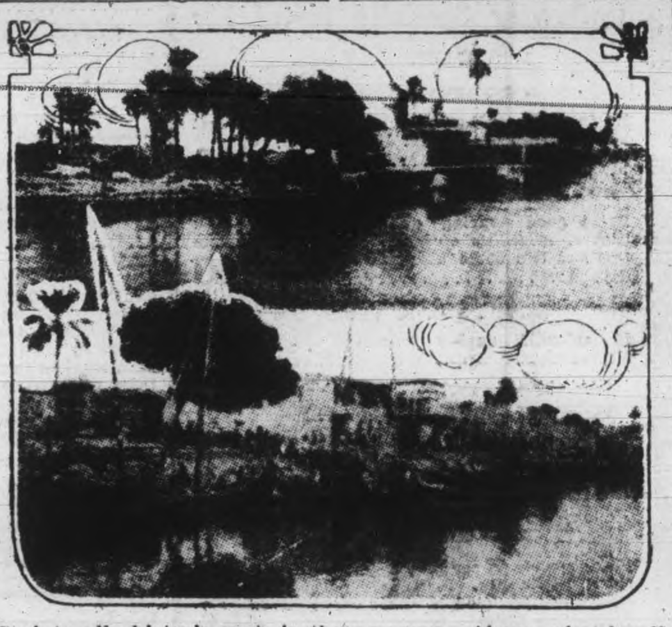
The aggregate up to yesterday was 944. This is made up of 227 killed in action, 63 died of wounds, 600 wounded, 51 seriously ill, and three missing.

How this grim result was brought about the cabled stories and subsequently the official Eye Witness report have already told. Assigned to the defence of a difficult and exposed position, the Canadians acquitted themselves valiantly and repulsed the enemy, but fighting so fierce and the sustained batteries of enemy artillery and infantry, entailed, necessarily, a heavy toll in the line of casualties.

The losses are, in great proportion, among the men. Much fewer officers have fallen comparatively that at St. Julien and Festubert. One officer, Lieut. F. Lawson, of Calgary, died of wounds, while the wounded officers are: Major H. L. Bidwell, Vancouver; Major A. C. Critcheley, Winnipeg; Lt. A. C. Hansen, Vancouver; Capt. A. P. Miller, Glenmiller, Ont.; Lieut. W. Smith, England; Lieut. H. W. Swayne, Kingston, and Lieut. R. H. Turnbull, Toronto. Lieut. Dowdney of Clinton, Ont., is seriously ill.

The regiments which participated particularly in the St. Eloi fight are the 27th of Winnipeg, the 34st of Alberta, the 28th of Regina, and the 29th, also a western corps.

ASQUITH POSTPONES HIS RECRUITING ANNOUNCEMENT



Scripturally historic spots in the war area. Above, what locally is believed to be the Garden of Eden, showing "Eve's Tree," at Kurna, where the Tigris and Euphrates join. Below, Ezra's tomb, a place of Biblical tradition, passed by the British expedition advancing up the Tigris.

Cabinet is Unable to Reach Agreement on Subject,

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, April 18. — Postponement of Premier Asquith's statement on the recruiting question, which he had promised to make in the Commons this afternoon, was taken as an indication that the cabinet ministers were unable to reach an agreement on the subject which has brought about the most serious crisis which the Prime Minister has had to meet in his eight years as head of the government.

The decision came as a complete surprise to those not within the inner circle, but it later transpired that negotiations had been in progress in the course of the night and early this morning with that end in view. Besides a cabinet meeting, there was a conference of the special committee appointed to make a final effort to bring about a solution of the problem, but, like that of the cabinet, it was unable to reach an agreement, and postponement of the Premier's statement became imperative unless a break-up of the coalition government was to be faced.

The special committee consisted of Lloyd George, Lord Kitchener, Sir William Robertson, W. H. Long and Arthur Henderson.

LONDON, April 18.—It is generally understood that Lloyd George, Kitchener and Curzon are the members of the cabinet who are most insistent for a general conscription and the possibility that they will resign if the majority of the cabinet should decide against them, is being discussed widely. Bonar Law finds himself in a most difficult position. He has been a lifelong supporter of universal service, but for the moment considers the continuance of the coalition government of vital importance to the country.

With the exception of Curzon, Unionist members of the cabinet have followed Mr. Law, but should the majority of Unionists in the house vote for the conscription resolution, Mr. Law, as leader of a party, necessarily would resign his portfolio. There is virtually a full attendance of members, party leaders having made especial efforts to bring this about. Even members serving in the army and navy have returned to town as far as possible for the sitting.

BRITISH ON SOUTH BANK FORCED BACK

Give Way in Some Places From Five to Eight Hundred Yards.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 18.—The British lines on the south bank of the Tigris, in Mesopotamia, have been forced back by the Turks for a distance in some places of from 500 to 800 yards, says an official statement given out today by the official press bureau.

EXPLOSION IN TORPEDO WORKS

PLANT WAS RECENTLY INSPECTED BY KAISER.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, April 18.—A Reuter despatch from Copenhagen from Wilhelmhaven, to a local paper, reports a great explosion last Friday in the new torpedo works there, which were recently inspected by the Emperor. A number of persons were killed or wounded.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Capt. Shaughnessy, son of Baron Shaughnessy, who was killed in action in France, was buried near where he fell and after the war a monument will be erected to his memory.

The first jail sentence, one of four months, given for a violation of the Canada Temperance Act in Huron county, was imposed at Clinton on William Bender, of Zurich, who is now, however, in Detroit.

HUN TROOPS FROM FIVE DIFFERENT DIVISIONS IN NEW VERDUN ATTACK

MAY BE OUTSIDE.

It is rumored in Toronto that a very prominent Liberal of that city will be asked by the Liberals of West Peterborough to contest this riding in the Liberal interest, at the next Federal election. It is understood, it is stated, that no local Liberal would have a chance to defeat Mr. Burnham.

GEN. HUGHES MAKES HIS STATEMENT

Large Crowd at House To Hear the Minister.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, April 18. — Major-General Hughes will make his promised statement in the Commons this afternoon in reply to the fuse charges of G. W. Kyte. The appearance of Sir Sam in the House is most eagerly awaited here, and a large crowd, much larger than the temporary parliament building will hold, will be on hand to greet and listen to him. This is evidenced by the demand for passes to the House.

The suggestion that Sir Sam may ask to be temporarily relieved from the actual charge of the department, better to devote himself to the work of the royal commission which will investigate the charges, was still being discussed in the lobbies this morning, despite denials, and it was hinted that an announcement along these lines may be made by the Prime Minister.

VON IGEL ARRESTED

Fifth Man in Plot to Blow up Canal.

(Canadian Press Despatch),

NEW YORK, April 18. — Wolfe Von Igel, secretary to Captain Von Pappen, the fifth man of those indicted yesterday, as concerned in the plot to blow up the Welland Canal, was arrested here today, in the office of Captain Von Pappen, whose secretary he is.

He put up a fist fight with four members of the department of justice, and before submitting to arrest reached the vault door, banged it to and turned the combination.

Non-Combatants Lost Number 3117

TOLL IN MARITIME DISASTERS SINCE OUTBREAK OF THE WAR.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, April 18.—Since the commencement of the war, 3,117 non-combatants have lost their lives in maritime disasters, due to mines or submarines of hostile nations, Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, said in the house of commons today. Of these 1,754 were seamen, 188 fishermen, and 1,175 passengers.

That John Micheluk, the hired man of the Prokop Manchur family, and brother of Mrs. Manchur, wiped out that family and then killed himself was the verdict of a coroner's jury at Wakaw, Sask.

Latest Effort of the Germans One of Great Violence.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

PARIS, April 18. — French Statement.) — "On the left bank of the River Meuse there has been a bombardment of our first line positions between Le Morte Momme and Cumieres.

"On the right bank of the river the night passed in relative quiet. It has been confirmed that the German attack delivered yesterday between the River Meuse and the Douaumont region took on the character of extreme violence. Further information to this effect is that the offensive action was conducted by troops belonging to five different divisions. In the east salient of Chauffeur wood, the enemy penetrated our first line trenches, but from this position he was in part driven out by counter attacks.

"In the Woevre district there has been an artillery duel in the sector of Mountainville.

"To the south of Ban De Sapt a German reconnaissance, in an endeavor to approach trenches in the direction of Hermanpere, to the northeast of St. Die, was repulsed with hand grenades.

"During the night of April 17 aeroplanes of the enemy threw down seven bombs, one of them being incendiary, on Belfort. It has been reported that two persons were killed and six wounded. The material damage was not important."

BERLIN CLAIMS.

BERLIN, April 18. — French positions in Steinbruch, seven hundred yards south of Haudremont farm, in Verdun region, were captured by the Germans in their attack of yesterday, the war office announced today. The Germans took prisoner 1,646 unwounded men.

GRAND JURY ON INVESTIGATION

MADE FIRST VISIT TO OUTLYING DISTRICTS.

The members of the Grand Jury started their tour of investigation of the outlying townships yesterday. They left Peterborough in the morning for Havelock, and then started for effective points to the north.

The almost impassable condition of the roads prevented their covering any large area, but they were able to get sufficient information to warrant a report on the conditions that exist.

They will likely pay a visit to the townships in the far north in the next few days, and will no doubt have a very comprehensive report to present to Chief Justice Falconbridge at the opening of the court next Tuesday afternoon.

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 1916

ALLISON AND THE LIBERAL PARTY.

IN ITS CRUDE partisan fashion the Liberal press is laboring hard to associate Col. J. Wesley Allison with the Borden Cabinet.

The fact of the matter is that Col. J. Wesley Allison is practically unknown to every member of the Cabinet with the exception of General Hughes. Liberal newspapers refer to Col. Allison as the "agent" of the Government. This is a palpable and deliberate untruth. Col. Allison is not the agent of the Borden Government and never has been its agent. He has never been paid one cent by the Borden Government in the capacity of agent or in any other capacity.

But there are other persons in Ottawa who are more familiar with Col. Allison and his past. In days gone by he was the close associate and confidential adviser of certain members of the Laurier Cabinet. Before 1904, John Wesley Allison was the representative in New York of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Minister of Railways and Canals; and above his office door on a famous Gotham street was the following inscription:

> "John Wesley Allison. Agent and Representative of Dominion Government Railways."

In addition, Allison was the business associate of another Laurier cabinet minister, and was well within the secret counsels of the party until its defeat in 1911.

The charges against Col. Allison today need not be discussed here. They are the subject of investigation by a Royal Commission, and British justice decrees that he be heard before being judged. But it is only right that his connection with the Borden Government be made clear.

He is not and never was the agent of the Borden Government.

He was for years the agent of the Laurier Government.

LAURIER NAMES HIS COUNSEL.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER has backed down. He has selected counsel to act for the Opposition in the investigation of the Kyte charges by the Royal Commission appointed by the Government.

When the appointment of the Royal Commission was made by the Prime Minister, the Opposition Leader, disappointed and angry, declared that the action of the Government was not acceptable. Under the terms of Sir Robert Borden's announcement, the Opposition was to be permitted to name one counsel to act before the commission. Sir Wilfrid ignored this privilege and insisted that only by a Parliamentary Committee could there be a thorough investigation.

That left him in a quandary. He had moved for and fought for an inquiry. The Government had announced an investigation, not a general fishing expedition by a committee of politicians, but a judicial investigation by two of the most eminent judges in the land, clothed with the widest powers, and dealing with certain specified charges. By declining to select counsel, Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have convicted himself of insincerity. In his first refusal to accept the Royal Commission, he impliedly refused to select counsel.

He found himself placed in a most embarrassing position. It was necessary for him to swallow himself in either one of two ways. He took a week to think it over. It was hard to do, because the mouthful was a large one. He waited until Sir Robert Borden put it up to him in the House, when he said shortly that he intended to name counsel. He made a wry face over it, but the thing was accomplished without accident except to the dignity of the Opposition Leader. And the aforesaid dignity only suffered one more shock added to the many that had gone before.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUNDS.

IN KINGSTON they are agitating for a playground for children, just as they are here, and The Standard reminds the public that the time for the children to play out in the open has come round once again. To play is as necessary for their development as meat and drink; but what steps has the city taken to give them places to play in? The Standard says:

> In the Fall of last year, as well as in previous years, complaints came to The Standard as to the nuisance of children playing in the streets, and apparently there were good grounds for the complaints. But the chief complaints were that the yelling and the screaming of the children were constant, and were kept up until quite late in the evening. We expect that, unless steps are taken by the proper authorities, similar complaints will reach us this year.
>
> We would point out that the city bylaws contain regulations which very clearly show that the streets are not meant to be turned into playgrounds. They are intended to be for the quiet and peaceable use of the public. For instance, one clause says:
>
> "No person shall run races on foot or play at any game or sport with a ball or otherwise, or fly a kite or play at quoits, or use any bow and arrow or catapult, or play at pitch or toss, or throw any hammer, bar, shot, bullet, stone, snowball, or other missile, in any of the public streets or places of the city."
>
> It is quite evident from this clause alone that the public has it in their own hands to prevent the nuisances complained of, if they choose to have the bylaws enforced; and we understand that the chief of police will not only seek to abate the nuisances, but is quite ready to act promptly when complaints are made to him.
>
> The matter should, however, not be allowed to go so far as this. It rests, first of all, with the parents. It is for them to see that the children are not allowed to become nuisances by their yelling and screaming. The children should be taught consideration for others. There are sick people, there are tired people, to whom this noise is perfect torture. They should be thought of. In the second place, the matter is one which should be taken up energetically by the city council. Playgrounds should be provided. We know that this is a time for economy; we have urged this ourselves; but we regard playgrounds as necessaries, and the providing of them ought not to be very costly.

We sympathize with the children, as well as with those whose rest and peace are disturbed, and we hope that means will be found to meet both difficulties.

RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT VINDICATED.

HERE IS WHAT that hard-shelled Grit organ, The London Advertiser, says of the McGarry Bill:—

> When Mr. McGarry took the position he did with reference to the expenditures of the hydro commission he vindicated responsible government.
>
> Mr. Clancy, the provincial auditor, has performed a valuable public service to this province. The methods of the hydro commission disclosed by him cannot be justified. The Government is acting wisely in making provision to safeguard the expenditures of public funds. It will destroy responsible government if bodies are created independent of the Legislature, the power creating them. The members of the Municipal Union assumed a great deal of authority when they undertook to demand the power to elect a member of the hydro commission. Who created the municipal bodies? What power has any municipal body except that which is derived from the Legislature? The Legislature not only represents but creates the municipalities, and surely we have a sufficient number of governing bodies in this province.
>
> Mr. McGarry hit the nail on the head when he said:—
>
> "I am the custodian of the finances of the 2,500,000 people in this province. No matter who is on the hydro commission, it is the duty of the Government to look after the money of the province."
>
> There is the true conception of duty behind these sentences. Those who lament the attitude of the Government in safeguarding the public funds are going back to the days in this province prior to 1837.

SIR WILFRID HAS QUIT.

THE GLOBE maintains that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his own province, has been active in the work of recruiting, and that he has always been ready to advise his fellow French-Canadians to enlist. It is significant that The Globe quotes from a speech made by the Liberal leader as far back as August of last year. Has Sir Wilfrid been silent for nearly a year?

NOTES AND COMMENT.

THE SLUGGARD who will not plough by reason of the cold has not far to look for an excuse these days.

IF SOMEONE could only manage to put some "cens" in censor, there would be less ground for complaint.

SIR SAM HUGHES' quick return to Canada is the best possible answer to his traducers who made their attack after he had left the country.

IT IS NOT because they love Sir Adam Beck more but the Hearst Government less that induces so many Liberal papers to assail the McGarry Bill.

AT LEAST when Mr. Rowell is unable to think of anything else be can always ask for the appointment of a commission to investigate some question or other.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

TWO FAMOUS MEN OF TODAY

That Kuropatkin should now be restored to favor and entrusted with high and responsible command, says the New York Sun, means either that Russia is desperately in need of military talent or that Kuropatkin was a victim of bureaucratic persecution and injustice after the war with Japan. He is now to be put to the test again, but he will lead an army, not a mob, and his subordinates will be competent and zealous. There was never any doubt of Kuropatkin's theoretical knowledge of war, and in the Turkish campaign he had distinguished himself as Skobeleff's Chief of Staff. In Turkestan and Samarkand he added to his reputation. At 34 he was a Major-General and talked of as the successor of Skobeleff. Kuropatkin was always a soldiers' general and popular with the regimental officers.

Sir Robert Borden

The Prime Minister of Canada has many of the qualities of Abraham Lincoln, says The Toronto News, and it adds, he has no petty vanity. He has no merely selfish ambitions. He has genuine patriotism, infinite patience and solid judgment. If he has a fault it is that he suffers fools too gladly. But who are fools and who are not may appear more clearly when peace comes. By persuasion and argument he appeals to the [illegible] example he commands their confidence and support. It may be that if our system of government had prevailed at Washington Lincoln, during the early days of the war, could not have overcome the dissatisfaction which prevailed in his own party, and all the devious intrigues and activities of his opponents. If he had gone down before such elements as opposed him the Union would have perished, and one of the finest figures in human history would have stood for future generations as an illustration of the ingratitude of democracy. But under the American system he had four years of security and thus he was able to maintain himself against partisan malignants outside and intriguers, extremists and demagogues within the Republican organization.

In the experience of Lincoln there is a lesson for Canada. There is no fear that Sir Robert Borden will suffer defeat in Parliament. There is every reason that he should trust the people, who have come to know and understand his simplicity of character and utter devotion to the public welfare, and who more and more seek his counsel and lean upon his judgment. There is a lesson also for the party which he leads in Parliament and in the constituences. As Americans trusted Lincoln, Canadians can afford to trust Borden. The best service that any man can do for his country at this time is to be loyal to the statesman who is taking it through a difficult time, with sure steps and laborious devotion to its true interests, and with a sympathetic understanding of all the races and elements which comprise its heterogeneous population.

"You mustn't neglect your studies for athletics."

"That's what father says," replied the young man. "But father never gets up and cheers when he hears me quoting Latin the way he does when he sees me playing football."

Overcharged

"Mercy," ejaculated Mrs. Kidder, in the midst of her reading. "Here is an account of a woman who sold her baby for fifty cents!"

"Oh, well," returned her bachelor brother, who had at sundry times cared for the children while his sister went shopping, "all kinds of swindles are being worked nowadays."

Ignorance is Bliss

"Do you think that women ought to govern?"

"Oh, yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "But I don't know whether it would always be wise to call public attention to the fact that they are doing so."

NEW B. C. COMPENSATION BILL IS RADICAL ONE

It Practically Means State Insurance for Workingmen.

Victoria, B.C., April 18.—According to the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation bill introduced in the House by Premier Bowser the fund for the payment of compensation to injured workmen will be raised by assessments on companies beginning next October, and the scheme will itself go into effect at the beginning of next year. To what are considered the best features of the Ontario Act, the British Columbia measure has added a system of medical aid to workmen and a plan of accident prevention which has not been incorporated in the eastern bill.

The addition of these two features constitute two of the most important changes in the Workmen's Compensation bill of last year. Another addition eliminates the element of individual liability now resting on the employer. Workmen need not go to the courts to sue their employers for compensation for injuries. They must apply to a compensation commission and the decision of this board is made final.

The bill grants compensation to workingmen for all working days except the first three after the date of their injury, thereby giving the men privileges which were not extended by the first bill. Under the latter no compensation was payable for the first two weeks. The present form of the measure commits the government to the principle of state insurance in its entirety.

The casualty insurance companies in interviews with the provincial executive and with private members urged that they be given the right to do business under the Act, but the exclusive state insurance features of the draft bill survived the attack. Employes will not have to pay any premium to casualty insurance companies for protection, while their payments to the Crown will be comparatively small. The scheme for accident prevention will, it is believed, eventually supersede factories inspection and similar duties now undertaken by the Government since it will give the commission wide powers to regulate factories.

TWO CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

YOUNGER CHILD WAS CREMATED IN BURNING HOME.

Wetaskiwin, Alta, April 18.— To have two children burned to death and all their household effects destroyed by fire was the sad experience of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Riemas, who live about eight miles north-east of here. After lighting the fire in the stove the parents went to the barn to do the chores, leaving a daughter, aged four, and a son, two years younger, in the house. Shortly afterwards the building became a fiery furnace. Mr. Reimas made an herculean effort to rescue the children, but succeeded only in reaching the son, who was so severely burned that he passed away a couple of hours after the rescue. The little daughter was cremated. An overheated stove is thought to be the cause of the horrible catastrophe.

Some people's idea of home is that it is a place to stay away from.

FEAST OF PASSOVER

Observed by Jews for Period of Eight Days.

Last night at sundown marked the opening of the feast of the Passover among the people of the Jewish religion all over the world.

There are a number of members of the 93rd Battalion who are of Jewish parentage, and as was pointed out in the orders of the day yesterday, they have been granted certain privileges by the Commanding Officer.

The Jewish Feast of Passover is observed for eight days by orthodox Hebrews and seven days by reform congregations. It is the second longest holiday on the Jewish calendar, the Feast of Tabernacles lasting nine days. Among orthodox Hebrews especially, Passover is very strictly observed. Its commemoration is based on the Biblical narrative which tells how the Israelites were enslaved in Egypt, were led to freedom by Moses, and passed across the Red Sea, which engulfed the pursuing Egyptians. It is customary to remove all leaven out of the households, and matzohs, instead of bread, is eaten, because when the Israelites left Egypt they were in such a hurry that they forgot to put yeast in the dough which they had prepared to make loaves. The sun baked the dough, but, in the absence of yeast, the dough did not rise. Matzohs are baked without yeast.

The first two and last two days are the most strictly observed. On those days Jews are not supposed to work. All the utensils in the household are changed for this festival. The first two nights are called Seder nights, when special feasts are held. On the table is placed a roasted bone, reminiscent of the paschal lamb of the first Passover; bitter herbs, calling to mind the hard work of the Israelites when they were slaves; unleavened bread or matzohs, recalling the hasty departure of the Israelites from Egypt; the roasted egg, symbolizing the individual sacrifice in the temple; the mixture of grated apple, nuts and wine, suggesting the clay from which bricks were made by the enslaved people, and the parsley and salt water, symbolic of the growth and freshness of spring.

The name Passover is taken from the fact that the Destroying Angel passed over the houses of the Israelits and destroyed the first-born of the Egyptians.

Love, Honor and Obey Are Omitted

PROMISE TO FAITHFULLY PERFORM DUTIES OF MARRIAGE.

NEW YORK, April 18. — Miss Anna Page, second niece of Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, and Robert Leopold Wolf, son of L. J. Wolf, of Cleveland, were united by the third contract marriage ever held in New York county, on April 8th. The fact came to light on Sunday when the contract was filed in the county clerk's office.

Dr. Grant is said to have told Judge La Fetra that he was not surprised at the action of Miss Page, as she "had a mind of her own." She was a student at Bryn Mawr and is a graduate of Radcliffe College. She is twenty-three years old. The bridegroom is twenty-nine years old, a graduate of Harvard.

The contract marriage papers contain the phrase: "We promise to perform faithfully to the community all the duties of marriage necessary to its welfare."

Reason Enough

Everything in the dear old village seemed the same to Jones after his absence of four years. The old church the village pump, the ducks on the green, the old men smoking while their wives gossip—it was so restful after the rush and bustle of the city. Suddenly he missed something.

"Where's Hodge's windmill?" he asked in surprise. "I can only see one mill and there used to be two."

The native gazed thoughtfully round, as if to verify the statement. Then he said slowly:

"They pulled one down. There weren't enough wind for two of 'em."

Turkey assumes responsibility for the torpedoing of the Russian hospital ship "Portugal," but claims that no Red Cross flag was flying, and that there must have been explosives on the ship.

Sophy of Kravonia
by
ANTHONY HOPE
Author of "The Prisoner of Zenda"

Copyright, 1905, Anthony Hope Hawkins

The prince had been at Praslok for a week when Sophy set out to join him there. At the last moment Zerkovitch decided to remain in Slavna, at least until the court made its promised move to Dobrava. Reassuring as Dr. Natcheff was, it would do no harm to have a friendly pair of eyes and ears in the capital so long as the king remained in residence. Thus the two ladies were accompanied only by Peter Vassip, whom the prince had sent to escort them. They set out in a heavy traveling carriage at 10 in the morning, reckoning to reach the castle before evening fell. Their progress would never be rapid and for the last five miles exceedingly slow. They left the capital in complete tranquility, and when Sophy settled her bill at the sign of the Silver Cock and bade farewell to old Meyerstein, her landlord, he expressed the hope that she would soon be back, though, indeed, his poor house was, he feared, no fit quarters for the Baroness Dobrava.

"I don't know whether I shall come back here, but I can never forget your house. I shall always love it in my memory," said Sophy.

Max von Hollbrandt had obtained leave of absence from his legation and had accompanied the prince to Praslok. The two were friends, having many tastes in common and, not least, the taste for soldiering. Besides having the pleasure of his company the prince looked to obtain valuable aid from Max in the task on which he was engaged. The young German was amused and delighted with his expedition. Praslok is a primitive old place. It stands on an abrupt mound or knob of ground by the roadside. So steep and sudden is the ascent that it was necessary to build a massive causeway of wood—an inclined plane—to lead up from the road to the gate of the square tower which forms the front of the building. The causeway has crossbars at short intervals to give foothold to the horses which in old days were stabled within the walls. Recently, however, modern stables had been built on the other side of the road, and it had become the custom to mount the causeway and enter the castle on foot.

Within, the arrangements were quaint and very simple. Besides the tower already mentioned, which contained the dining room and two bedrooms above it, the whole building, strictly conditioned by the shape of the hill on which it stood, consisted of three rows of small rooms on the ground floor. In one row lived the prince and his male guests, in the second the servants, in the third the guard. The ladies were to be accommodated in the tower above the dining room. The rows of rooms opened on a covered walk, or cloister, which ran round the inner court of the castle. The whole was solidly built of gray stone—a businesslike old hill fortress, strong by reason of its massive masonry and of the position in which it stood. Considered as a modern residence it had to be treated humorously, so Max declared, and found much pleasure in it from that point of view. The prince, always indifferent to physical comfort and ever averse from luxury, probably did not realize how much his ancestral stronghold demanded of his guests' indulgence. Old Vassip, Peter's father, was major domo—always in his sheepskin coat and high boots. His old wife was cook. Half a dozen servants completed the establishment, and of these three were grooms. The horses, in fact, seemed to Max the only creatures whose comfort were at all on a modern footing. But the prince was entirely satisfied and never so happy anywhere as at Praslok. He loved the simple, hardy life. He loved even more, though perhaps less consciously, the sense of being among friends. He would not yield an inch to court popularity in Slavna, but his heart went out to meet the unsought devotion of Volseni, the mountain town, and its surrounding villages. Distant and self restrained in Slavna, here he was open, gay and full of an almost boyish ardor.

"It's worth coming here just to see its effect on you," Max told him as the two rode back together from Volseni on the day of Sophy's arrival. They had been at work, and the recruiting promised well.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turnig gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Grayhaired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyteh's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight, and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite, and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

ANIMALS IN PAWN

TAME OR WILD, THEY ARE GOOD FOR A LOAN IN THIS NEW YORK SHOP.

Among the curious industries or sources of livelihood in New York city is an animal pawnshop. As you take a watch to an ordinary pawnshop to raise money on it, so you may take a watchdog to the animal pawnshop. Recently a man did this, getting $20 on a dog that was easily worth $50, the pawnbroker said. But he was a trick dog which had been taught to open doors. So in due time he opened a door and let himself out while letting the pawnbroker in.

A well known animal trainer owns the shop. He takes camels, lions, elephants—any animals. There are no charges for interest on the loan, the only charge being for the keep of the animals, among which at almost any time are dogs, monkeys, bears, goats, cats, coons, foxes, parrots, canaries. At one time he had forty trick donkeys in pawn. The profits arising from charges for feed and care are enough to make the institution pay.

Once he had a lion in pawn which broke his chain in the stable and went roaring around, scared almost to death, and it was only after heroic efforts that they mustered courage to capture him. As a matter of fact the animal was a decrepit beast that had served his time in sideshows and was anxious to get away.

Delaware's Northern Boundary.

Why the northern boundary of Delaware should have been circular in form is often a source of wonderment. It came about in this way: After William Penn had obtained a grant of Pennsylvania he was desirous of owning the land on the west bank of the Delaware to the sea. He procured from the Duke of York in 1682 a release of all his title and claim to New Castle and twelve miles around it and to the land between this tract and the sea. A line that was the arc of a circle of a twelve mile radius was then run, with New Castle as a center. When the three "lower counties" on the Delaware became a state they retained this boundary.—Chicago Journal.

St. George and St. Peter.

Besides being the patron saint of England St. George is also patron of Moscow, on whose arms there figures the picture of the saint slaying the dragon. A famous Russian military decoration—the Order of St. George—which was founded by Catherine the second—also commemorates the saint in Russia. It may incidentally be pointed out that while St. George was adopted as the "military protector" of England early in the thirteenth century the patron of England had for five centuries previously been St. Peter, which helps to explain why more churches have in England been dedicated to that saint than to any other.—London Mirror.

Not Only In Canada.

That outrageous bugaboo, "the cost of living," is evidently not confining its attentions to Canada alone, if one is to judge from some of the recent reports, which show that it is impossible to escape the monster by fleeing to other lands.

Take it in India, for example. There, in 1909, the wages of a staff of servants employed by a couple, consisting usually of a butler, second boy, coolie, cook, sweeper and possibly a gardener, amounted to a little more than $23 a month. In 1912 the wages of the same staff amount to $32 a month.

From Australia comes a wail that prices in living commodities have advanced about 10 per cent. during the last year. Of all the foodstuffs cited as having advanced in price the once humble onion holds the proudest position, its price having gone up 344.44 per cent. beyond that of a year ago. Beef has advanced from four to seven cents a pound.

Costermongers In Morocco.

In Morocco the costermonger recommends his wares by pledging the credit of a saint. "In the name of Mulai Idriss! Roast chestnuts!" "In the name of our Lord Mohammed A. Hadj! Popcorn! Popcorn!" "In the name of Sidna Ali-bu-Rhaleh! Melons! Nice, sweet melons!" "Allah is gracious! Beans! Fried beans!" "There be no might nor majesty save in Allah! Water! Cool Water!" These and the like are heard at every turn. Even the auctioneer who is calling out the price of a slave or the bids for a Rabat carpet is careful to interlard his professional talk freely with allusions to his Maker and the plethoric roll of Moorish saints.

Air Pressure.

At the level of the sea the pressure of the atmosphere on the piston of an engine is about fifteen pounds to the square inch, but decreases at higher altitudes. As this atmospheric pressure must be overcome by the steam pressure before any work can be done, it is evident that at the diminished air pressure of high altitudes more work can be obtained from a given pressure of steam than at the sea level, or, in other words, an equally effective pressure of steam can be obtained with the expenditure of less fuel. The difference, however, is not great enough to be of any practical importance.

A Familiar Path.

"Well, Jorrocks, I understand you are to lead Mrs. Wintringham-Jones-Smythe to the altar," said Bubbleton.

"Not on your life," returned Jorrocks. "She knows the way. I'm just going along."

A Conservative.

"I don't like to be always moving about," declared the cook.

"Don't eh?" said the new janitor. "I've been in this apartment house a year. There's ninety families in it. I'm good for a year more."

At Cross Purposes.

"Ole Pengborn is working himself to skin and bone trying to keep that boy of his in college."

"And what's the boy doing?"

"Doing his best to be expelled."

PLANTING AND CARE OF ROSES

SOME HINTS SO THAT BEST RESULTS MAY BE OBTAINED.

A few hints on the planting, pruning, culture and care of roses will not come amiss at this particular time. The rules which apply to planting roses are equally applicable to shrubbery.

Select, if possible, the most sheltered and sunny location for planting, not too close to large trees.

When the roses or shrubs are received, soak the roots in thin mud for an hour or so before planting, and when they are set in the ground firm the soil well around them and protect them from the direct rays of the sun for a few days with newspapers or similar material. Water thoroughly after you have planted them. Then do not water again until the ground becomes dry. If you have a dry season, moderate watering from time to time will prove beneficial, but do not keep the ground soaked all the time.

Ordinary good garden soil will grow roses to perfection. Well-rotted sod soil is still better to which can be added about one-quarter well-rotted cow manure or stable manure.

How to Plant

Spade the soil to a depth of about twelve inches, mixing in the manure or fertilizer, and when ready to plant set the roses about 24 inches apart, if you have the room, or even 18 inches apart, putting the roots well below the surface of the soil. Cover them completely with soil, pressing down firmly with the foot.

Water the newly set plants as they seem to need it, preferably in the evening or the early morning. Insects will not bother vigorous roses very much, but if they do, keep the foliage clear. The following insecticides are especially good: Kerosene Emulsion, Tobacco Insecticide Soap.

Pruning Roses

A safe guide for pruning roses is to cut them back about one-half the previous year's growth. Do this in the early spring before they have started to make a growth. As the plants bloom, and they will bloom most profusely during the growing season, get the full benefit and enjoyment of the flowers by cutting them off. The more you cut them, the more flowers you will have. Where plants fail to mature the buds which they bear, remove some of the undeveloped buds and enrich the soil around the roots of the plants with air-slacked lime, well-rotted cow manure or any good fertilizer, to give the plant more root action to deliver its flowers.

One point in particular is that, when you see the leaves of the plant turning yellow and perhaps dropping off, after you have set them out do not take this as a sign that the plant will be hurt, for that is simply Nature's own remedy of conserving the vitality of the plant, and it will throw out new shoots far more vigorously than the old ones that have turned yellow and have dropped off. If the foliage does not drop off, pull it off. It will help the plant.

The steamer Briton, from Duluth, is the first boat to enter Port Arthur this season.

THE ROAD RUT

BY AN AUTOIST.

What is it? Ask the farmer. He will tell you it is caused by heavy loads, narrow tired wagons and the automobile. It is a curse to the road. Can it be avoided? Yes. How? Let all who use the highway decide from now on not to drive in a rut. Ninety per cent. of the teamsters sit on behind and let the horses go where they please and as a rule the wheels keep the rut. Do any of them guide their horses? Yes, about ten per cent., i.e., the good teamsters. If you see a wagon keeping the rut put the driver down to be N.G. What about the automobilist? Ten per cent. are rut drivers and should be put off the highway and have their licenses cancelled. Occasionally the road is so "hog-backed" that you have no choice but the rut; in that case, let us all get after the path master or the commissioners.

The narrow-tired vehicles have been having their death-knell sounded for years, yet we still have them with us.

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast to Wash Out the Poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

RATHER HARD ON PETERBORO

WHEN HAVELOCK VISITORS TARRY O'ER THE BOWL.

$10 FOR TWO ALES.

"Peterborough is getting a bad name from these men from Havelock coming here and getting drunk," said Magistrate Dumble, when he imposed a fine of $2 on George Davidson, of the railway town, at police court this morning. George admitted having been drunk yesterday.

TWO ALES—$10

Another culprit was fined $10 for having been forever drunk, while on the prohibited list. Defendant said he had had but two glasses of ale. "But you're not supposed to have any," said his worship.

THE WRONG MAN

F. H. Foy, a member of the 80th Battalion, was charged with attempted fraud in passing a cheque when he had no bank funds. Defendant's counsel, Jos. Wearing, said the wrong man had been arrested and submitted telegrams, one of which had been sent to the Soo, and the other a reply saying that "Eddie" Foy had been working there on the day it was alleged the offence was committed. Counsel said defendant was known as Eddie.

The case was adjourned till tomorrow, bail bonds being accepted by the court.

Frank Montgomery is the complainant.

ANNOYED GIRLS

Two other occupants of the prisoners' coop, last night were wandering about the roof of a shed and carrying on a disturbance, to the annoyance of several young ladies who were retiring for the night.

"It's too bad to have the girls frightened to death by fellows crawling about the roof," said Chief Thompson.

One of the pair was fined $5, and his pal escaped.

ALLOWED TO GO.

Percy Tompkins, arrested some days ago, wanted to get out of the city and the chief had no evidence against the man.

"You're discharged," was the only remark of his worship.

LETTER WRITER LEAVES HOME

WHEREABOUTS OF ROBERT HAZELTON IS NOT KNOWN.

Todmorden, April 18.—Robt. Hazelton, the author of the famous letter to Senator Choquette, of Quebec, which was used by the latter to base his slanderous attacks on the Toronto soldiers of the Expeditionary Forces, and which resulted in the writer experiencing the resentment of his neighbors Saturday night, has left his home. Early last night he departed with some of his family and nothing is known at present of his whereabouts.

W. M. German, M.P., is suing the city of Ottawa for $10,000 because he fell on an icy sidewalk and broke an arm.

OFFICERS FOR PLAYGROUNDS ASSOCIATION

SUGGESTION THAT REAR OF COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE BE USED.

The Peterborough Playgrounds Association held their organization meeting in the Council Chamber last night. There was a very large attendance of the mothers, fathers and others interested in providing amusement for the children during the summer months.

The following were elected as the officers for the season:

Hon. president, Mayor Duffus; president, Mr. W. G. Morrow; 1st vice-president, Mrs. A. Mowat; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Jas. Kendry; secretary, Mr. Wm. Sangster; treasurer, Mr. W. R. Scadding.

Finance Committee: Dr. Neal (convenor), Mr. V. Eastwood, Mr. S. J. Keyes, Mrs. Harstone, Miss Hatton, Mrs. Medd, Mr. Abbott.

Executive Committee: Mrs. R. M. Waddell, Mrs. R. Harstone, R. B. Rogers, Mrs. (Dr) Neal, Mayor Duffus, G. A. Gillespie, M.L.A., Dr. Mann, Dr. Burnham, G. N. Gordon, John Crane, W. H. Hill, Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, H. B. Cowan, Miss Staples, D. W. Dumble, Dr. Cameron, Dr. Middleton, B. F. Ackerman, Roland Denne, J. W. Worth.

Visiting Committee—Miss Alridge (convenor), Mrs. (Dr.) Cameron, Mrs. (Dr.) Mann, Mrs. A. Stevenson, Mrs. Scadding, Mrs. Meserve, Mrs. G. L. Hay, Mr. F. R. Yokome, Mr. A. McGregor, Col. J. W. Miller, Mrs. Sangster, Mr. F. M. De la Fosse, Mrs. McElhiney, Miss Hatton, Miss Bennet, Mrs. H. G. Park.

Equipment Committee: Mr. Downing, Mrs. (Dr.) Neal, Mrs. Scadding, Mr. J. A. Aylmer, Mr. N. M. Clark, G. H. Roper, J. Smith, Chief Howard, A. Wilson.

Entertainment Committee: All the members of the Equipment Committee, with Adjt. McElhiney added.

Appointment Committee: Mrs. W. R. Morris, Mrs. A. Mowat and Mr. Meserve.

It was suggested that Mothers' Day be held May 14th.

Playgrounds

When the fixing of the playground at the Central School was discussed, Mr. Roland Denne stated that the Board of Education were going to suggest that the Association use the grounds adjoining the Collegiate Institute. This was left in the hands of the Executive Committee.

Finances

The matter of collecting the annuel fee of $1 per year and soliciting members was left with the Finance Committee to arrange.

The meeting adjourned till called by the president.

Resonance of Jade.

The remarkable resonance of jade is a peculiar quality, which gives it great importance in Chinese estimation; to such an extent that "singers' chimes" of twenty-four different pieces and tones were sometimes constructed. Occasional use is also made of the natural form of the jade bowlders, which are found in river beds.

Magnitude of Arcturus.

The star Arcturus, which is known to be a sun for a faraway system of planets, is 11,500,000 times farther removed from us than is our solar luminary. His diameter is 71,000,000 and his circumference about 224,000,000 miles. Our sun is but 866,000 miles in diameter, a fact which proves that Arcturus is at least 551,000 times greater in bulk than is our sun.

Dust In His Eyes.

"To throw dust in the eyes" originated in the early days of Greece, for Epaminondas, wishing to surprise the Lacedaemonians, had 1,600 cavalry advanced in front, causing a great dust, which the wind blew in the face of the enemy, blinding them to the discovery of a flank movement he was executing in order to take the coveted heights in their rear.

The Question.

The woman had decided to run for office and was about to cast her hat into the ring.

But here a delicate question arose.

"Will a very stylish hat make votes or alienate them?"

And that was a question that no mere man could answer.

Inconsistent.

A man who took his infant daughter to be baptized told the clergyman to call her Venus.

"But I refuse to call her Venus," said the clergyman indignantly. "Venus is the name of a pagan goddess."

"Well, how about your own girl, Diana?" said the man.—London Answers.

Charles Raby, aged 52, a convict in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, Montreal, hanged himself in his cell.

Never so Many Striking and Effective Suit Styles

No reason for delay in making purchases. Every reason why you should buy at once. We will not be able to offer you a better selection at any time during the season.

A Special Offering of $30 and $35 Suits For $25

The only reason these garments are offered at this price is solely to create lively hoppenings in the Suit Section to-morrow. There is one model of Gabardine that is rather simple in its outline; yet the manner in which the little touches of leather are applied—the little notched belt—the different swing to the jacket flare — convinces you at once that here is a garment designed by an artist who knows his business. Such garments as these require skill in designing. We merely mention and describe this one model, so that you will have an idea of the character of garments you will find on sale to-morrow at $25.00
Other Suits from $14.00 up.

NEW WAISTS

The best values we have offered in months. These waists are made of lingerie, fine voiles, wash silks and Shantungs. Impossible to describe all the styles, but we will say that the models shown are the newest ideas to be had in fashiondom, and we might add that this maker isn't an ordinary manufacturer, so you must look for something very pretty and above the ordinary. These Blouses range in price from $1.50 to $3.75

MILLINERY

The same styles that will be worn on Fifth Avenue on Easter Sunday are here for your choosing. We want to emphasize that here are shown Hats that are becoming, attractive, and of approved fashion tendencies—that is in a conservative way, and by that we mean that any woman may wear them without feeling as though she were conspicuous. Each hat is shown in a distinctive style of its own, and, too, let us impress on you the necessity of making a choice early, for each day you wait makes choosing harder. Special Showing from .... $4.00 to $6.00

NO CHANGE MADE IN DOHERTY ACT

MANUFACTURE IN DRY PROVINCE IS NOT PROHIBITED.

Ottawa, April 18.—By a vote of 29 for to 44 against, a straight party division with the exception of Messrs. Wright, Muskoka; and Alguire, Stormont, two Conservatives who voted with the Liberals—parliament defeated the motion of Mr. Hugh Guthrie, South Wellington, to defer the third reading of Hon. Mr. Doherty's bill to prevent the importation of intoxicants into a province which had enacted prohibitive legislation, in order to add a clause prohibiting the manufacture of liquors as well. Mr. Guthrie moved that no license be henceforth granted by the Dominion to any distiller, brewer or maltster in any province which had gone dry, thereby prohibiting manufacture.

SENDS THANKS FOR TOBACCO

GUNNER SLOANE WRITES TO OVERSEAS CLUB.

Writing to the local branch of the Overseas Club, Gunner Bruce Sloan says:

Dear Sir, — Just a line thanking you and the rest of the members of the Overseas Club for remembering us fellows out here. The boys are looking fine and the good weather is coming now and we are looking to give Fritz a hot time this summer. We are getting the tobacco and cigarettes right along and the boys think that Tucketts are a great improvement on Martin's cigarettes and I am a good judge of cigarettes myself and I agree with them. All the boys want to be remembered to you and I think they answer the cards now, for a lot of them have received answers. I am sorry I could not write sooner, but I have been busy of late, but will write now every time we get a shipment and let you know. Ambrose Doris (Buck), wishes to be remembered to you. I will close now, but not before thanking you once again for the way you have remembered us since we came out here, I remain, yours truly.—Gunner Bruce Sloane, No. 42222, 4th Battery, 1st Brigade.

The above letter was received by H. A. Cranfield, secretary of the Overseas Club, Peterborough branch.

An important meeting of the Overseas Club and any others interested in this work, will be held Tuesday evening, at the Bank of Montreal Chambers, at 8 p.m.

THE BENEFITS FROM BOOKS

TRAVELLING ALONG ROADS THAT LEAD US INTO OTHER WORLDS.

The benefit of literature can hardly be overestimated. Books enlarge a man's horizon. They raise a mirage of water brooks and date palm to travelers in the desert. They are "the sick man's health, the prisoner's release." Shut within a narrow routine of dull necessity, sad at heart in a world where wrong triumphs, where beauty has no assurance of respect, where humanity toils terribly merely for its daily bread or the satisfaction of trivial appetites, the earthly pilgrim need do no more than pick up a book and, lo, he steps into another world.

Here he is free from sorrow and care, free from the burden of his body, from envy, jealousy, contempt, self-satisfaction, from vain regrets, from wishes that can never wear the livery of hope, from narrowness of soul and hardness of heart.

He may mingle in the society of the good and great; he may listen to the wise man and the prophet; he may see all the conditions of human happiness and misery; he may watch the human spirit in its strife with circumstances nobly conquer or basely succumb; he may go down through the "gate of a hundred sorrows" or accompany Dante and Beatrice through the spheres of paradise.

Tobacco Production.

India, second only to this country in the production of tobacco, consumes most of its own product and imports very little. Russia is third and raises practically all her supply, importing and exporting only a small quantity. Austria-Hungary is the fourth producing country, importing more than a fourth as much as it raises and exports one-eighth of its own crop. Germany is an extensive grower of tobacco, but imports two and a half times as much as it cultivates and does not export any. France raises considerable tobacco under government supervision and imports great quantities of the milder Virginia tobaccos to keep up the quality of the cigarettes and other products made under the state monopoly. Both France and Spain keep buyers in this market.

Hard Water.

The streams of water used in hydraulic mining are said to be so swift that if one tried to hack into them with a sword the weapon would fly to pieces. The water is moving so rapidly that it has no time to yield beneath the stroke and in consequence is like a bar of iron.

A small bag cannot be made to contain what is large. A short rope cannot be used to draw water from a deep well.

What They All Hope.

"I understand your daughter is learning to cook."

"Yes, she's learning, but she says she hopes it will be a trade she'll never have to work at."

Suburban Life.

"We are just like one big family in our suburb."

"Is the scrapping that bad?"—Pittsburgh Post.

Congestion Feared by Some Farmers and They Are Not Putting in as Much.

In some parts of Alberta where there is grain congestion owing to the lack of transportation facilities, some of the farmers are not going to put in as much crop this year. To those who have made up their minds and can point to the grain in the piles, in the granaries and elevators—and say "what's the use" there's not much use in saying anything. But to those who are going about their work as usual, there is everything to offer in the way of encouragement.

Alberta, all Canada, in fact the world, had an exceptionally large grain yield last year. There are not the ships to carry it to the European consumers; there are not the storage facilities at our seaboards; some of the railways have not been able to handle the traffic on their lines; there were not enough elevators; the farmers themselves had not made any special provision for storing it. In fact nobody wanted to store it, as the farmers needed the money and wanted to make the turnover as quickly as possible.

For this season now approaching there is nothing to indicate that it is possible to have anything like the crop of 1915. The land is not prepared. In some parts of this continent the season is not opening up favorably. Reports from the American states are that a very large percentage of the winter wheat has failed and the U.S. Government report is that the winter crop will be 65,000,000 bushels less than it was last year.

These are some of the question that careful farmers are giving attention to and going ahead and putting in all the grain they can. With live stock at present prices, and with the prospects of continued good markets, there will be a lot more grain [illegible] in Alberta next year than there was. The whole situation has been very clearly summed up in the following articles, which has been submitted to the Calgary Herald:

"Because Canada had the largest crop last year in her history, and because wheat did not keep up to the inflated figures that characterized it in the later months of 1914, there are people who think that this year we can pause. This, despite the fact that not long before the great crisis came dollar wheat was only in men's minds, and that it is now quoted at $1.08 and $1.09. The fact is that absolute and enduring congestion, which some people think is near at hand, is an impossibility. If the farmers themselves are unwilling or unable to store any surplus they may have, there are capitalists and speculators who will, knowing that following a settlement of the terrible disturbance there will be inquiries not alone for grain, but for produce of all sorts that will tax the channels of supply to the utmost.

"Nor is that all they will be sufficiently foresighted to see; they will also know that the longer the war lasts the greater will be the need when the end comes. They will further recognize that whatever the lack of tonnage may be now, with all the ships built for commerce once more available for that purpose, there will speedily be plenty of facilities for shipment, even though the first period of rush may be overwhelming. Thus it is apparent that no matter how energetic and earnest our efforts may be, and how satisfactory the results, there can never be too much. Another fact that must ever be borne in mind is that Canada, being an integral part of the Empire and of necessity a partner of the Allies, as well as in closer proximity in a wide shipping area to Europe than any other of the recognized food-producing countries, she will be the earliest looked to.

Fluctuations in price there will always be, but that quotations will ever fall to the level of 25 or 30 years ago is at present beyond the bounds of imagination. Men who figured on dollar and a half wheat when they sowed last year have possibly been disappointed.

Meats, dairy produce, fruits and vegetables [illegible] their quotations and most grains are higher than they were. Of the main causes of this there is, of course, no room to doubt, but there is an underling realization that no matter how the nations in their various spheres endeavor to increase production, no matter how Germany prosecutes her ruthless slaying of innocents and her reckless wastage of life and property at sea, there can be at the most but a temporary disturbance of the streams of trade and never a lasting congestion of marketable commodities.

Courageous Child

Rose, aged four, was gazing intently at the visitor's new bonnet.

"Well, dear, what do you think of it?" asked the lady at last.

"Oh," replied the small observer, "I think it's all right. Aunt Mary told mamma itwas a perfect fright, but it doesn't frighten me any."

The unfairness of the fair sex is proverbial.

HEXATHLON CONTESTS

Boys in the Unlimited Class Well Up

The Hexathlon contest is being held this week in the gymnasium. This athletic event is conducted throughout Canada each spring on the gymnasiums of the different associations and the scores are compared. The winning team holds a splendid cup for the following year. On account of the enlistment of practically all the senior gymnasium members the senior contest cannot be held this year. The junior contest is divided into five classes, 80 95, 110, 125 pounds and unlimited classes. Yesterday the unlimited class contest was held and the boys of this class set a splendid mark for the other classes to follow; 1,553 points out of a possible 1,800 were scored, 86 per cent of the total. The scores:

60 yards—Potato Race—	Pct.
White, 15 3-5 secs.	85
Green, 15 3-5 secs.	85
Crane, 15 3-5 secs.	85
160 yds.—Potato Race—	Pct.
Crane, 45 4-5 secs.	94
White, 45 secsc.	90
Gliddon, 46 2-5 secs.	88
Shot Put—	Pct.
Canniff, 48 ft., 3 in.	125
Green, 42 ft., 6 in.	102
Austin, 34 ft., 6 in.	70
High Jump—	Pct.
Austin, 4 ft., 8 in.	86
Canniff, 4 ft., 6 in.	78
Green, 4 ft., 6 in.	78

Fence Vault—	Pct.
McClelland, 5 ft. 11 in.	88
Crane, 5 ft. 9 in.	80
Green, 5 ft. 7 in.	72

In the shot put, Canniff and Green both scored over 100 points, Canniff putting the shot six feet over the 100 point mark.

H. Carmichael also competed in the event and stands second with one event to complete in the all-round score, but is over age for the Hexathlon competition.

JESS WILLARD HAS HAD LUCK

BUT HE'S NOT AS POPULAR AS SOME OLD-TIME FIGHTERS.

Jess Willard is a lucky man. His friends forced him to become a fighter, and he has made more money out of the game the short while he has been in it than probably any heavyweight that ever held the crown. He does not care to follow the profession any longer, but there is so much fat coin in sight that he cannot let it slip by, and for that reason will work with a circus at $500 per day. He has accomplished everything any other champion has done in the fighting line, and on account of his size and build will last longer than any other heavyweight who ever held the title, yet he is not popular, and no one can explain the reason why except that he has not the personal magnetism of Sullivan, Corbett and the rest of the big fellows of the past.

Are Not So Popular

Speaking of heroes, one cannot but wonder why it is that none of the present-day fighters make friends like the old-timers. Champions come and go nowadays without making any impression on the well-meaning sports they meet in the various cities. A visit by John L. Sullivan back in the eighties was on a par with a celebration in honor of the President of the United States. Jack Dempsey had to shake hands with every man he met when he came to town in years gone by, and after meeting him his admirers would tell about his virtues over and over again, oftimes shedding tears while telling their story.

Napkins.

Napkins became popular in France sooner than in England. At one time it was customary at great French dinners to change the napkins at every course, to perfume them with rosewater and to have them folded a different way for each guest.

Halcyon Days.

A halcyon is a kingfisher, and "halcyon days" are so called because it was supposed that the weather was always peaceful when the kingfisher was breeding.

Hardly.

Mrs. Kawler—Do you consider Alice very good looking? Mrs. Blunderby—Oh, Alice is pretty enough, but I would not call her an Adonis.

Foresight of Osio.

King Victor ... was brought up by Colonel Osio with a Spartan severity. As a boy he was subject to colds, and one pouring wet morning another tutor proposed that the usual ride should be abandoned. "And if there were a war," replied the martinet, "would the prince not mount because he had a cold?"—London Globe.

That Face!

"Look me straight in the face and tell me you really love me," he said warmly to the sweet young thing who stood in front of him with downcast eyes.

"Oh, I couldn't do that," came from the lips of the clever girl.

The Cause.

"What is the cause of social unrest?"

"The desire," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "of the workingman for leisure and of the leisurely man for something to keep him busy."

St. Andrew's Tennis Club Elect Officers

TOURNAMENT TO BE ARRANGED FOR PLAYERS

The annual meeting of the St. Andrew's Tennis Club was held last evening in the Guild Room, when plans for the coming season were talked over, and the following officers were elected:

Hon. President—Rev. T. H. Mitchell.

Hon. Vice Pres.—G. Walter Green.

President—F. E. Kerr.

Vice Pres.—E. Walton.

Secretary—Miss Eva Rae.

Treasurer—Miss Margaret Eaton.

Social Committee—Miss Ada Richardson, convenor; Miss Helen Henry, Miss Muriel Morrison, Mr. Will Armstrong, Mr. A. S. Gilbert, Mr. F. Saunders.

Miss Margaret Rae was elected captain of the ladies' team and E. Walton of the men's team. The president and the two captains were appointed a committee to arrange a tournament.

The tennis courts will be rolled and placed in shape immediately. The president will be glad to hear from any players desiring to join the St. Andrew's Club and take part in the tournament.

Not For Strangers.

"What in the world does that mean?" asked the traveler through a sparsely settled region on the Cape. "There's no such place on my road map."

The man whom he addressed first took a leisurely survey of the traveler and his horse and then turned his eyes toward the weatherbeaten sign, which bore the single word "Tolpom."

"That ain't a name," he said, with dignity; "it's jest an indication. It means 'To Long pond one mile.' It's plain enough to folks from nearby that's hunting for the pond, and we don't reckon on strangers taking much interest."—Youth's Companion.

A Master of One Art.

"Have you ever loved any other girls?" breathed the maiden tremulously.

"Well, I have attempted a few kindergarten, prep school and college courses in affection," responded the man in the case, "but this represents a real purpose to get rid of my bachelor's degree."

Whereupon he took a little firmer hold.

Professional Reticence.

"Did that man quote you correctly in that interview?"

"I can't tell," replied Senator Sorghum.

"Don't you know?"

"Yes, I know, but I can't tell until I ... how my constituents like the article."

AN IDEAL SUMMER OUTING

The Provincial Government of Ontario earned the gratitude of all lovers of out-of-doors when it set apart, in 1893, over two million acres of heavily timbered land starred with beautiful lakes and winding streams, as a preserve for the wild things and a recreation ground for the people. They called it Algonquin Park. Away up in the "Highlands of Ontario," 200 miles north of Toronto and 2000 feet above the level of the sea, this lovely region remains today unspoiled, a perfect refuge for the creatures of the forest and an ideal camping ground for the sportsman and business man. The Grand Trunk have erected hotels and log cabin camps which offer first-class accommodation in this wild and rugged playground. Illustrated descriptive literature may be had for the asking. William Sunday is Chief Money Maker

REV. "BILLY" HEADS LIST AND CHURCH LEADERS DISAGREE WITH HIM.

Frederick W. Norcross, religious editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, writes:

"Billy" Sunday is making too much money. Several other evangelists are making too much money. It is "commercializing" evangelism, and bringing one of the most important branches of the church's work into disrepute. Church authorities recognize this, and are taking steps to abolish the "thank offering" system and put all evangelists on salary.

A dozen leading evangelists have incomes ranging from $15,000 to $100,000 a year. "Billy" Sunday leads, with upwards of $200,000. Sunday received $53,000 for a campaign of 12 weeks in Philadelphia; $40,000 in Trenton, and proportionate sums in Pittsburgh, Walkesbarre, Scranton, Omaha and other cities.

Sunday says he gives one tenth to the Lord, and what he does with the remainder is nobody's business, but church leaders disagree with him. They know that many persons were more impressed by Sunday's thank offering of $53,000 in Philadelphia than by his 45,000 so-called conversions. I say "so-called," because many who "hit the trail" at Sunday's tabernacle meetings cannot be classified as converts. They included bishops, ministers, elders, children and numerous church members who were reconsecrating their lives to the work of the Master.

Moody was worth $500 when he died. Some of the present-day evangelists are getting into the capitalistic class. Many feel that this is not as it should be.

Compared With Willard's Earnings

On the other hand, Sunday's admirers argue that if Jess Willard can reap $47,500 for one evening's work in the prize ring, if grand opera singers receive $1,000 per night, and other specialists take like sums, there is no good reason why a great specialist in religion like "Billy" Sunday should not receive similar compensation. Sunday uses this argument in his sermons when he replies to the accusation that he is a "religious grafter." No one can deny the justice of this.

Nevertheless, many persons, including admirers of the evangelist, believe there is something incongruous in a follower of the meek and lowly Christ laying up a fortune by preaching the Gospel. Enemies of the church and opponents of evangelism in the church make capital of this. "He's in it for what he can get out of it," is a criticism heard everywhere. Those who are most appreciative of ... huge thank-offerings and the gifts piled on the tabernacle platform night after night, ranging from a grandfather's clock to a necktie pin, are detrimental to the great cause.

What are the churches going to do about it? They have no intention of abolishing evangelism. They have no intention of abolishing evangelists. No, but they intend to establish a system of supervision over evangelists. They intend to eliminate the thankofferings and pay popular evangelists big salaries instead

GEORGE McGRATH GOES TO PRISON FOR 15 YEARS

Bad Record Considered in Sentence on Slayer.

Toronto, April 18.— George McGrath, 25 years of age, a painter by trade, was sentenced by Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge in the Assizes yesterday to spend the next fifteen years of his life behind prison bars for killing Joseph McKibbon on the night of January 31 of this year, during a fight between the men at 27 Bulwer street. McGrath will be confined to the Provincial Penitentiary at Kingston.

Before sentence was passed upon the man, who was found guilty by a jury on Thursday of manslaughter after having been tried for murder, Mr. T. C. Robinette, his counsel, produced several letters bespeaking of the prisoner's ability as a workman, and saying all that could be said in his favor. Letters were produced from Rev. John D. Morrow, and Messrs. Joseph R. Bell, Arthur Bell and John J. Brennan, master painters.

Counsel briefly spoke of the circumstances leading to the fight, and of McGrath's love for Mrs. Ethel Davie with whom he had been living until a few days before the murder, which took place at the home of Mrs. Scott, mother of the Davie woman.

"I suppose you realize that you have had a narrow escape?" said Sir Glenholme.

"Yes, sir," replied the prisoner.

After reviewing the man's record which dates back to 1900, when McGrath was only nineteen years of age, His Lordship said: "And now on the last day of January you end up your career by killing a man."

In 1907 McGrath was sentenced to seven years in the Penitentiary for assault and robbery.

Getting Even.

"Oh, George, dear," she whispered when he slipped the engagement ring on her tapering finger, "how sweet of you to remember just the sort of stone I preferred! None of the others was ever so thoughtful."

George was staggered, but for a moment. Then he came back with: "Not at all, dear. You overrate me. This is the one I've always used."—London Stray Stories.

Eccentric.

"Snaggs is a most eccentric chap."

"Yes?"

"Sure! He has named his place Pine Terrace."

"Well, what of it?"

"Well, he has pine trees and a terrace."—Judge's Library.

Patience.

"Patient man, isn't he?"

"Yes, indeed. Even when he is in the greatest hurry to dress he will patiently stop to disentangle his neckties from his wife's hair nets without complaining."

A Literal Fall.

"I hear the newly weds had a falling out yesterday."

"So soon? What was it about?"

"About the turn in the road yonder. Their rear tire blew up."

Ordeal of Rice.

In the east ground rice is used to detect criminals, the idea being that fear makes the roof of the mouth dry and that a criminal overcome by fear consequently finds it almost impossible to swallow any hard substance with ease.

Born Tired.

"He wuz bo'n too tired ter git outen his own way," said the old colored brother. "De only exercise he ever ... an' after he falls he's too tired ter git up!"

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

W. W. CORY, C.M.G.,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

CLEVER WORK BY AGNES LOGAN

CHILD'S PERFORMANCE ON PIANO AT CONSERVATORY DELIGHTFUL.

The audience that gathered to hear Agnes Logan's piano recital at the Conservatory of Music hall, last night, could only disperse with one impression, which was that they had seen and heard a wonderful performance, considering the youth of the performer. As will be seen by the following program numbers: Variations in F. Minor (Haydn), Partita (Bach), Nocturne, Midi (Field), Pompadour Fan (Cadman), Le Papillon (Lavelle), Witches' dance (MacDowell), Sparks, (Moskawski), Moto Perpetuo (MacDowell), the child has a marvellous range of choice morceaux. The whole of the program was played from memory, and given a fair amount of phycisal health and a character that is not spoilt by the flattering remarks of relatives and friends which will undoubtedly be expressed, there is only one place for last night's performer in the ranks of musicians—the leading one. The Children's Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon, contributed "Evening Slumbers" (Mercadante), and "Jerusalem" (Parker), at intervals, the concert concluding with the National Anthem.

The program:—
Variations in F Minor—Haydn.
Evening Slumbers (Mercadanta) Children's Orchestra.
Partita—Bach.
Nocturne (Midi)—Field.
Pompadour Fan—Cadman.
Le Papillon—Lavellee.
Jerusalem—(Henry Parker) Children's Orchestra.
Witches' Dance—MacDowell.
Sparks—Moskawski.
Moto Perpetuo—MacDowell.

Miss Killmaster has had charge of the child's musical training and the success attained last night reflects on the teacher, who is to be congratulated in having such a promising pupil.

The Canadian Kitchener League's total proceeds from their Trench Day canvass now amounts to $676. This ... donation of tobacco by Mr. McCabe, valued at $20, and $3.00 in cash that has since been received. The league also desires to extend thanks to the officials of the Peterborough Radial Railway for giving free transportation on Trench Day, to the collectors. This courtesy was much appreciated. They also are grateful to Capt. J. H. Burnham, M.P., for his very generous donation of $50.

If He Had Wings

Algie's mother was an invalid, so his Aunt Lavinia looked after him and the house.

"Oh, dear," said Algie one day, after auntie had lectured him for ten minutes. "I wish I had wings."

"Why, my pet?" asked mother, pleased at this angelic inspiration.

"Oh, I'd fly up in the air with Aunt Lavinia and I'd fly and fly till I couldn't get any higher."

"Yes, dear," said mother, proudly, as the little chap paused impressively. "What would you do then?"

"I'd drop Aunt Lavinia!" said Algie, savagely.

We move too much in platoons; we march by sections; we do not live in our vital individuality enough; we are slaves of fashion, in mind and in heart, if not to our passions and appetites.

"Mike, ye're drunk."

"Ye lie, Casey! Ye wouldn't dare to spake that way if Oi war sober."

"If ye war sober ye'd have sinse enough to know ye war drunk."

BRITISH TAKE FOE'S TRENCHES

GERMANS TRIED HARD BUT FAILED TO REGAIN THEM

French Press Advance on Left Bank of River Fecht With Success --- Division of Mounted Artillery and Guns Captured

BERLIN SAYS LIEUT. GARROS, FRENCH AVIATOR HAS BEEN MADE PRISONER

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 19. — (Official Statement.) — British troops yesterday captured in Belgium, near Zwartalen, two hundred yards of German trenches. These they have retained despite several counter attacks.

We have been successful on both banks of the River Fecht in Alsace, and our advance is being pressed forward on the north bank, where we have gained the summit of Burgkorpfeld, which directly commands the valley.

On the south bank we have made notable progress, occupying several elevations and capturing a division of mountain infantry, two machine guns and two light field guns.

BERLIN, April 19. (Official Statement.) — To the south of Ypres the British were yesterday ejected from minor German positions still occupied by them in this locality. British attacks along the railroad between Ypres and Comines broke down with very heavy losses to them.

Near Gelmunster, Lieut. Garros, the famous French aviator, has been made a prisoner.

French attacks against our position at Combres and in the Vosges failed.

French and British reports concerning victories on the western front are all inventions, as is sufficiently proved by regular reports from German headquarters.

GERMAN GENERAL CHIEF OF THE TURKS.

CONSTANNTINOPLE, April 19. — Field Marshal Von Der Goltz has been appointed commander-in-chief of the first Turkish army.

AUSTRIANS FAIL TO RE-TAKE LOST GROUND.

PETROGRAD, April 19. — Austrian attacks on the heights of the Mezotaborcz district of Hungary, where the Austrians for six days have been furiously attempting to regain positions recently taken by the Russians, appear to have definitely subsided.

BARON DE REUTER A SUICIDE.

LONDON, April 19. — Baron Herbert De Reuter, managing director of Reuter's Telegram Company, was found dead yesterday at his home near Reigate with a discharged revolver lying nearby. The authorities say there is little doubt but that it is a case of suicide. He was prostrated by the death of his wife on Thursday. His father founded Reuter's Telegram Company.

PLANS FOR GERMAN OFFENSIVE ABANDONED?

PARIS, April 19. — The impression prevails in official quarters in Rome that the German general staff has abandoned plans for a general offensive on the French front and has decided simply to maintain a defensive.

TRANSFER CAVALRY AND ARTILLERY.

GENEVA, April 19. — The Tribune has a despatch from Vienna stating that a council of war has decided that Austrian artillery and Hungarian cavalry now on the west front will be transferred to Poland and Galicia.

ABSTAIN FROM USE OF LIQUOR DURING WAR

Members of the Church of England Also Asked to Refrain From Treating

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Kingston, April 19.—Bishop Bidwell has issued a resolution passed by the House of Bishops of the Church of England in Canada urging all members of the church to abstain from the use of alcoholic liquors during the war and refrain from treating.

The resolution also asks the provincial governments to shorten the hours of sale.

WRIT FOR $2,000.

A writ has been issued by Gordon & Widdifield on behalf of Garnet Innis against the Anglo-American Fire Insurance Company of Toronto for $2,000, alleged damage to Innis' barn, caused by the recent fire. The case will come up at a future sitting of the county court.

THUGS SHOOT CONSTABLE WHO SURPRISED THEM

Tobacco Pouch Deflected Bullet and Saved Officer's Life

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

VANCOUVER, April 19. — Police Constable Newington surprised two burglars robbing a store this morning and they fired first. A bullet deflected by a tobacco pouch just missed Newington's heart. The burglars then clubbed him senseless. One of the thugs was wounded as blood stains were traced some distance.

A DRY RIDING.

Bowmanville, April 19. — At a meeting of the License Commissioners for West Durham, held at Bowmanville, the license of the Newcastle Hotel was refused for 1915-16. This is the last license in West Durham, and this action places that riding under prohibition. The License Commissioners acted on their own initiative and authority in taking this course.

FATALLY HURT IN RUNAWAY

Young Woman Sustained Fracture of Skull

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

St. Thomas, April 19.—Miss Sarah Bears of Malahide township was fatally hurt Sunday afternoon when the horse drawing a buggy containing her and two sisters frightened by automobiles and threw them out. Miss Sarah Bear's skull was fractured and the right arm broken. Her sister Sophia had the lower lip cut entirely off and the third sister escaped injury.

BLAME IT ON WEATHERMAN

Rain Failed to Fall so the Citizens Fed on Dust

Citizens generally felt disgusted on Sunday with the order of things in the City Council which permitted such a disgracefully dusty condition of the streets to rage unchecked. Certainly the pleasure of hundreds who ventured out to church, to enjoy automobiling or strolling for an hour or two was marred completely all because the city engineer or the board of works could not see far enough ahead to insure preventive measures by having the sprinkling carts out. During the entire afternoon automobiles and various other vehicles, aided by a high wind, created a dust storm that would give a Sahara desert sand storm a close run. It was dust everywhere. It got into the ears, eyes, nostrils and clothes. Complaints are numerous around the city today and the board of works was strongly criticized for methods that apparently were so lax as to permit such a disgraceful and intolerable state on the main city thoroughfares on a day when, above all others, it is particularly desirable that dust be kept down as much as possible.

Probabilities for Sunday called for rain, but Jupiter Pluvius apparently forgot to pull the string.

"FLOATERS" ARE FOUND

Applicants for Work Must Have Certificate From City Engineer

Ald. G. W. Green and Street Commissioner Harry Evans, who were delegated at last Council meeting to go into the matter of the unemployed from other cities coming to Peterborough and securing work with the Foley and Gleeson Company on the street paving, have found a number of "floaters" working as ratepayers.

To get over the difficulty the men applying for work must first secure a letter from City Engineer Parsons. The foreman of the Foley and Gleeson Company will hire only those with the letter from the engineer.

NO NAVAL FIGHTS.

London, Monday, April 19.—Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, has issued the following denial of recent rumors:

"There has been no naval action of any kind in the North Sea during the past month, nor any action of any kind in the Dardanelles, other than local bombardments and reconnaissances by single ships. Since March 18 only two or three men have been hit in the Dardanelles and there has been no loss or injury to French or British ships"

SETTLEMENT IS REACHED

M. G. Hamilton Asked to Have Will Construed

TERMS MADE KNOWN

The case of Hamilton vs. Hamilton, the only case to come up at the spring non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court was settled by the parties concerned and when Sir William Mulock, C.J., opened the court at one o'clock this afternoon, he had but to give judgment in accordance with the settlement. Maxwell George Hamilton, the plaintiff, claimed part of the estate of the late Honourable Robert Hamilton, was not disposed of by his will. He claimed intestancy of certain portions and he asked to have the will construed by the court to establish that fact.

D. O'Connell appeared for the defendant and third parties, Annie Seaborn and the Royal Trust Co. Geo. W. Hatton was counsel for the plaintiff and the third parties William F. Hamilton and Richard R. Hall.

The following was the judgment: This action coming for trial on the 19th day of April, A.D., 1915, before this court at the sittings at Peterborough for the trial of actions without a jury in presence of counsel for all parties the said counsel for all parties consenting thereto.

"It is ordered and adjudged that this action except as hereinafter ordered be and the same is hereby dismissed as against the defendant without costs.

"That the claim of the defendant against the third parties William F. Hamilton and Robert Richard Hall for indemnity be and the same is hereby dismissed without costs.

"That the claim of the defendant against the third parties Annie Seaborn Hill and the Royal Trust Company be and the same is hereby dismissed with costs to be paid by the defendant to the said third parties

UNEMPLOYED MAKE A STIR

Two Thousand Men Storm Work Office

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

OTTAWA, April 19. — Over two thousand unemployed workmen stormed the work office at Rideau where deepening work is being done by weekly relays of three hundred men. Allegations were made that some of this week's gang were on last week. Seventy per cent. of the men are foreigners. They were finally dispersed.

SIX CHILDREN FOR THE SHELTER

They Come From Homes on Elm Street

Six children were turned over to the Children's Aid Society this morning because of unfit surroundings in their homes. They were the children of Elm street residents, and the charge under which they were committed was laid under the act governing the care of neglected children. It was charged that the parents were unfit and unable to bring them up under clean and sanitary conditions. There were three children in each of the two families involved, in one of which the mother was dead and the husband had re-married a sixteen-year-old girl.

Mr. Phoenix was present on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.

AWAITING AN ULTIMATUM?

Would Mean Italy's Immediate Entry Into the War

TENSION NEAR TO BREAKING POINT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 19. — Whether negotiations between Rome and Vienna concerning Italy's demands for territorial concessions have been broken off remains for the moment an official secret, but it appears to be universally agreed to that the tension is approaching the breaking point.

It is suggested that the Italian foreign office is awaiting an ultimatum from Vienna on the subject of Italy's military preparations along the frontier as a pretext to sever the remaining ties barring the outbreak of hostilities.

The alertness with which every move, diplomatically or otherwise, made by Italy is now followed in London, indicates the high importance attached here to the efforts to bring Italy to the fighting line. One of the main reasons advanced for this desire to include Italy in the partnership of the Allies, is that in no other way is it possible to close so effectually a door through which supplies are still reaching the Teutonic combatants in considerable amount. A case in point is the confiscation by the Swiss authorities, announced in Geneva, of a carload of machine guns of American manufacture which was on the way to Germany from Genoa. Shipments of iron, copper, antimony and sulphate have been reaching Germany with a fair degree of regularity.

Presentation to Sandford Harris

Prior to his departure from Peterborough for Halifax to join the artillery, Mr. Sandford Harris, cashier of the Peterborough Radial railway company was presented with a handsome engraved gold signet ring this morning by the employes It was accompanied by the following address read by Mr. H. L. Beal, superintendent of the gas department.

Peterborough, April 19, 1915.

Dear Mr. Harris,

The employes of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, having just learned that you are about to sever your connection with the company to join the C.E.F., feel that they cannot allow you to leave for the front without expressing to you their deep appreciation of your wany kindnesses to them during the past three years in your capacity as cashier for the company. Your integrity and kind disposition has endeared you to one and all. We certainly appreciate the fact that one of our members is going forward to fight for the Empire of which we are so proud, and when peace and prosperity return to this own beloved country, we sincerely hope that you will be with us again. We would ask you to accept this ring as a small token of our esteem and friendship.

Signed on behalf of the employes,

J. McCANN,
Superintendent P.R.R.

H. L. BEAL,
Superintendent, Gas Dept.

The ring was presented with the name of the recipient and of the Peterborough Radial Railway. The presentation was made this morning, Mr. Harris leaving shortly afterwards for Halifax. He has been a popular employe of the company for three years.

Mr. Harris replied suitably acknowledging the gift and the thoughtfulness which prompted it.

Commendation for the Government

Courageous and Strong Words of Premier Borden

At George Street Church Sunday morning, Rev. R. G. Peever, the pastor, spoke on the parable of the lost sheep—who is to blame? In the course of his sermon he referred to the revelations in parliament that have recently startled the country. He spoke of responsibility and the difficulty of fixing responsibility. He referred to the helpfulness of constructive criticism and commended the Dominion Government for conducting its investigations. He drew attention to the courageous and strong words of the Premier in denouncing graft, and said that these were things tending towards a higher level of citizenship for the future.

GERMANS PREVENT EFFORTS AT RESCUE

After Sinking British Trawler Foe's Submarine Attacks Vessel Which Attempted to Save Crew

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 19. — The British trawler Vanilla was sunk by a torpedo from a German submarine in the North Sea yesterday, according to a report made today by Captain Hill, skipper of the trawler Fermo. Captain Hill said he was within three hundred yards of the Vanilla when she was struck. He made an attempt to pick up the crew, but he declares that the submarine attacked him in his effort at rescue.

It fired a torpedo at the Fermo, which forced her to seek safety in flight.

PARK STREET BAPTISTS HEAR THEIR NEW PASTOR

REV. DOUGALD BROWN

Morning and Evening Congregations Impressed by the Discourses of Rev. Dougald Brown

Park Street Church was well filled both morning and evening yesterday and appreciative audiences listened to two splendid sermons by the new pastor, Rev. Dougald Brown. Rev. Mr. Brown is a man in middle life and in appearance on the platform reminds one somewhat of William Jennings Bryan. Like Bryan, too, he has a sonorous bass voice which, during the course of a sermon varies frequently from a whisper to a thundering shout. His gestures are simple, and he performs no Billy Sunday athletic stunts, but they are very finished and none the less expressive of what he has to say. He makes a very strong appeal, and his exhortations to conversion and better living are gripping in their intensity and wonderfully effective.

In the morning his sermon was a message to the church to establish again the ark of the new Covenant, Jesus Christ, even as David established again the ark of the old Covenant. He considered the beginning of a new pastorate a critical period in the history of any church, and strongly urged the congregation to unite with him in setting up afresh in the church an altar to the living God and in sanctifying themselves afresh by establishing Christ in their midst as the Saviour and Leader.

In the evening he took his text from Genesis xix. 17, where Lot is warned by the angels to flee from Sodom to the mountains because of the imminent destruction of that city of iniquity. With this as a setting for his sermon, he made a powerful appeal to his hearers to surrender a life of sin which must lead to destruction, and go up to the mountain of safety which God has provided in the person of His son Jesus Christ.

After yesterday's services the general impression was that Mr. Brown will be one of the strongest preachers of the city, and the Park street people look forward to a most successful pastorate. Deacon Harding of Murray Street Baptist Church, assisted Mr. Brown in the evening service, and special music was rendered by the Park street male quartette. Mr. Brown will settle in the city the second Sunday in May.

TREATED WIFE IN SHABBY MANNER

Plumber Pleads Guilty to Charge of Non-support

Summoned before the magistrate, Oliver Frank Avery, a plumber, pleaded guilty today to a charge of non-support. The evidence showed that he had treated his wife in an extremely shabby manner by deserting her last October, his excuse being that he went away looking for work. He did not inform her of his leave-taking, and the number of times he wrote her could easily be numbered.

Chief Thompson declared that he had not written her at all. During his absence, twins were born to his wife, who, without means of support for herself or family, was forced to come to the city for help, much to her mortification.

Avery declared that now he was back he intended to go to work. His wife and he had "made up" and he wanted to be given a chance.

In cases like this, Magistrate Dumble does not hesitate to levy a scathing rebuke of conduct of that character, and Avery got the benefit of his anger, without stint.

Upon Chief Thompson's request, Avery was held on remand for one week.

DIED OF WOUNDS

The only casualty announced from Ottawa this afternoon is:—

Fourteenth Battalion — Died of wounds, Private Edward James Coombes, Pontypridd, South Wales.

CATHEDRAL FOR TARGET.

AMIENS, France, April 19.—Seven persons were killed and eight were wounded by bombs dropped by two German aeroplanes which flew over this city Friday, one in the morning and one in the evening. The cathedral apparently was the target of the missiles, but it was not damaged.

The first aircraft appeared at 6.45 a.m. and dropped five bombs. The explosions of the projectiles were fatal to four women and two men, while seven other persons were wounded, including two soldiers guarding the railroad station. The property damage was trivial.

Edmonton Women Get the Vote.

EDMONTON, April 19.—Prorogation of the Alberta House was reached yesterday when the Lieutenant-Governor gave assent of 39 bills passed during the third session of the third Legislature.

In the legislation passed was an act giving women the privilege to vote in all civic elections in the city of Edmonton.

WOMEN FALL OUT

Magistrate Decides Case is for Division Court

Emily Miller, a [illegible] woman of thirty-five, was complainant this morning in police court, charging Mrs. Catherine English, Hunter St., with unlawfully and without color of right, stealing bedding, carpet, dishes, 2 chairs, a table and clothing. The case arose over the renting of a room by the complainant from defendant, and a misunderstanding of the terms governing the transaction. Complainant understood she was to pay $2.50 a month for the room, while the defendant was just as positive $2.50 per week was the agreement.

Defendant became so talkative and vociferous in her arguments that time and again Magistrate Dumble politely told her to subside.

After hearing evidence His Worship decided the case should never have been brought into police court, holding it was a plain case for a Division Court.

The charge of theft came to be laid because defendant refused to permit complainant to remove the articles in her room owned by her, which are specified in the charge.

HON. FRANK OLIVER INVOLVED.

THE DISCLOSURES that have resulted from the investigation in the Department of the Interior come as another shock to the moral sense of the country, if, indeed, it may be said that the community has, as such, any moral sense left. The Hon. Frank Oliver, who has gained for himself the sobriquet "honest," bids fair to display that name, not as a badge of honour, but as one of sarcastic reproach. It may be said that it is nobody's business, and not at all wrong, for the Grand Trunk Pacific to hold $15,000 worth of stock in Mr. Oliver's newspaper, the Edmonton Bulletin. In many respects that is so, but, look at the circumstances. Hon. Frank Oliver was Minister of the Interior, and the Grand Trunk Pacific was coming to the Government of that day for privileges and concessions. It is not the custom of the Grand Trunk Pacific to buy stock in newspapers. Those are the facts admitted by the ex-minister himself, and what is the natural inference? It is that the Grand Trunk bought $15,000 worth of influence with the then Minister of the Interior, Hon. Frank Oliver. How could any other inference be drawn? Why would the Grand Trunk do something contrary to its recognized custom, go out of its way to spend $15,000, merely for the sake of doing it? Contrast this action with that of Bonar Law, who, on assuming the leadership, not of the Government, but of the Opposition, in Britain, disposed of all stocks he held in corporations.

But that is only the least of the things disclosed. It appears that Hon. Frank Oliver buncoed a man out of a large holding of land, and, notwithstanding the fact that the mineral rights of that land are by law vested in the Crown, Hon. Frank Oliver leased these rights in his own name and received himself the money or royalties from those rights that should have gone to the Government. He did this when he was a Minister of the Crown in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Cabinet.

Hon. Frank Oliver says he collected royalties because he thought he owned the mines! Imagine a man of Mr. Oliver's intelligence seeking shelter behind such a weak excuse! When it was stated in the very deed of the land in question that the mineral and mining rights were reserved, and when every homesteader in the West knows that the Government reserves the mining and mineral rights, does it seem possible that Mr. Oliver could not know this fact? Such a position becomes all the more amazing when it is known that Mr. Oliver's portfolio had to do with Western lands, and, as Minister, he certainly was familiar with this detail—to say that he was not is to say that he was guilty of an ignorance and incompetence that does not pertain to a man of his training and attainments.

The Hon. Frank Oliver has made no adequate defence of his position. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, though urged in the House to speak, remained ominously silent. Other leaders of the Liberal following were dumb. The truth is, there is no defence of Mr. Oliver's transactions. He has not only disgraced himself and added another stain to political life in Canada, but has brought obloquy to the fair name of this country. Leaders in politics should be, above all things, examples of patriotism, integrity and uprightness to the country. The petty graft that arises in the ranks of the parties has been deplored, but how can it ever be removed, when leaders, like the Hon. Frank Oliver, are not averse to taking illegitimate gains, and who has used his high office for his private advantage? While Mr. Oliver has brought shame to his own party, it is not on the Liberals alone that the shame falls. It is on Conservatives as well, for it is both parties that form the political life of Canada. If Canadian politics are ever to be worthy of this great country, the ministers of the Crown must be men strong enough to avoid those very mistakes by which the Hon. Frank Oliver has sullied his own name and that of Canada.

CLEAN UP CANADIAN POLITICS.

THIS is the heading of a leading editorial in the Toronto Globe of April 16th. It is of the tone that is not heard often enough in the Canadian press. There is too great a tendency to minimize the mistakes of one's own party and magnify those of one's opponents. When, therefore, any one takes a stand decidedly independent and for the high principles of truth and honour, that stand should not pass without notice. That is why we quote below the major part of the Globe's editorial of the date referred to. There is another reason, too. Sir Robert Borden set an example by his firm and unequivocal statement in regard to misconduct over the purchase of war equipment. Some Conservatives are involved in these scandals, and we wish to say here that Sir Robert Borden has gained infinitely more by standing for principle than if he endeavoured to shield any of his supporters. It should also be noted that Sir Wilfrid Laurier made no attempt to screen his one-time minister, Hon. Frank Oliver. It is time that Canadian political life should receive a new and higher status in the minds of the whole people. If the leaders blaze the way, the press and people will follow. Like all missionary work, it will be hard at first, and involve obstacles, but it will not go without its proper reward. The Globe says:

"Even the war-graft and wastefulness uncovered during the present session of Parliament may react in something not altogether damning to Canadian life if the straightforward and uncompromising declarations of Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Wednesday night and of Sir Robert Borden yesterday are made the dominant note in Canadian politics.

"The thing about which all high-minded people in Canada are concerned is not the fortunes of this or that party politician, or of this or that political party. The situation is very much more serious: it cannot be met by angry exchanges of 'You're another' compliments. The very life of the nation, its very integrity, all its claims on the services and sacrifices of self-respecting citizens in war or in peace, are all involved. If the disclosures of the past six months were allowed to go unpunished, or if the investigations were now blocked with worse crimes undisclosed, where is the hope of building up in the Dominion a nation worth fighting for at the battlefront, or worth living in when the war is past?

"The leader of the Opposition took the patriotic ground and gave the statesman's lead when the Ferguson report, accusing the Hon. Frank Oliver and other Liberals, was under discussion late on Wednesday night. The leader of the Government stood squarely on the same ground and made similar statesmanlike declarations on Thursday afternoon when Messrs. De Witt Foster and Garland, two of his own supporters in the House, were seen to be damaged beyond repair. All this is hopeful for better days in the politics of Canada, hopeful as a start. It remains to be followed up with a zeal for righteousness, a determination for justice, and an impartiality in punishment that will be a terror to evil-doers in both political parties for a generation."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

HONEST Frank Oliver has been "shown up."

SIR ROBERT BORDEN stands for clean politics, particularly in the Conservative party.

FIFTY-TWO applications were received for the position of town clerk of Barrie. Why should Barrie be so popular? Let us see. That's the place where Thompson Crew publishes the "Northern Advance."

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Condemns Hon. Frank Oliver.
(Toronto Star, Lib.)

We are not called upon to defend or excuse everything that Mr. Oliver may have done. As a Minister of the Crown, he ought not to have allowed the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to acquire any interest in the newspaper which he controlled. It is not alleged that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway influenced the policy of the Edmonton Bulletin in the slightest degree. Even Mr. Ferguson does not make that charge. But whatever is charged ought to be investigated, and nothing that is wrong ought to be excused.

Premier Borden Has Done Well.
(Guelph Herald.)

Canadians jealous of their country's good name will breathe easier after the straightforward utterances of Sir Robert Borden in the House on Thursday, with regard to matters affecting the honour of the Government and Parliament in relation to contracts and other matters. The Premier's effort was a statesmanlike one, and it is not too much to say that it fixes a new standard in Canada's national life and a new chapter in party politics. All Canada was looking to Sir Robert to clarify an atmosphere vitiated by revelations regarding the malfeasance in duty of some who have been connected with furnishing war supplies. And Canada did not look in vain. We can rest easier about the future. . . .

Premier Borden reviewed various transactions in regard to war purchases impartially. It was his painful duty virtually to read out of the party two Conservatives members whose conduct in regard to war supplies was not satisfactory. He spared neither of them, though his habitual sense of justice impelled the Premier to be as fair to them as the circumstances warranted. The only attempt at defending the mistakes which officials may have made in overlooking the purchase of war supplies was when the Premier declared that the complaints made during the investigation all concerned supplies bought within a few weeks of the outbreak of war, when all departments were greatly rushed. It was natural that some things would then be overlooked, but since then greater care has been exercised.

Bouquets From St. Thomas.
(St. Thomas Times.)

Our local contemporary is featuring weekly articles by Mr. H. F. Gadsby, of the Ottawa Press Gallery. This writer is a godsend to certain Liberal publications because of his sneering, mud-slinging proclivities, of which anything Conservative is invariably the target. This writer, too, is the man who, in signed articles, hurled would-be brilliant satire at the British Life Guards, satire which has been splendidly dissipated within the past half year. He referred to the Guards as household troops intended for state occasions and not for battle, that they were more useless than ornamental, that they were packed in wool, that all their valour ran to band music, that they possessed stature without capacity for thought, that they were equal to any emergency from a garden party to a coronation, that they never heard a shot fired in anger, or saw anything mortally wounded but a target, that they were blonde giants dedicated to hair-brushes, shaving-soap and pipe-clay. Yet these are the men who have been offering their lives in defence of the liberties of such armchair critics as Mr. Gadsby, of whom, fortunately, there are very, very few specimens. Even the events that have transpired since the eventful 4th of August, 1914, have not had any apparent effect in silencing this would-be humorous villifier, since it is only a few weeks ago that this same Gadsby person contributed to a Detroit pulication an article ridiculing Canada's military methods and her Minister of Militia, probably not being able to find a market for such an article in a Canadian publication, even a rabid Liberal organ.

PRICE REDUCTION IS EXPLAINED BY GOODYEAR OFFICIAL

Motorists, realizing the part that tire upkeep plays in their running expenses, are naturally, unusually interested in the recent Goodyear announcement of lowered prices. When asked by our Toronto representative how it was possible to reduce prices in the face of the new war tax on rubber, cotton and other raw materials, Mr. C. H. Carlisle, General Manager of the Goodyear Company, replied:

"It was possible because of our largely increased volume and greater efficiency of Goodyear workmen. Few people realize that our present factory capacity is nearly one thousand tires a day and that our plant has been working twenty-four hours a day since January 1st. Besides supplying the requirements for our domestic market, the capacity of our Bowmanville factory has lately been materially increased to take care of the demands of our export trade."

"But the biggest factor in our ability at this time to reduce prices to the user is the increased efficiency of our producers. We believe that whatever will increase the welfare and happiness of our individual workmen will benefit the company as a whole. That is why we pay high wages to our workmen and secure the most skilled Canadian and British labor. We employ none but English speaking people. We have built a large number of houses in Bowmanville for our factory people which protects them against high rents, and our Goodyear Club, in addition to providing unusually comfortable living accommodations for a large number of men, is equipped with bowling alleys, billiard room, reading and smoking rooms for their amusement and recreation. In fact, everything that is humanly possible to do for the health, happiness and comfort of our 600 factory employees, has been done. Naturally, they give us in return the best that is in them, the result is an increased and improved output and lower costs.

"There's an idea among some people," continued Mr. Carlisle smilingly, "that manufacturers always make the consumer stand for all the traffic will bear. But I want to tell you that Canadian manufacturers in their own way are just as patriotic as our boys who have gone to the front. It's true that we will have to pay more for our raw material, but we're accepting that as our share of the burden. Canadian people have quite enough of a load to carry as it is. There is no time like the present for Canadian manufacturers to earn the confidence of the public and Goodyear is going to do its share."

Annie Seaborn Hill and the Royal Trust Company forthwith after taxation thereof.

"That the resignation of the defendant Robert Miles Hamilton as sale trustee of the last will and testament and codicil of the Honourable Robert Hamilton, deceased, in respect-fo the $5000 legacy mentioned ni said codicil be accepted and that the Guardian Trust Company, Limited, be appointed trustee of the said legacy of $5000 for the same purposes and with the same authority and subject to the said trusts as the resigning trustee under said last will and testament of the Honourable Robert Hamilton deceased, upon its filing its consent thereto in writing.

"That no allowance be made to the defendant or compensation for his care, pains and trouble in and about the management of said legacy of $5000.

"That upon payment by the said defendant to the Guardian Trust Co., Limited, if the said sum of $5000 the said resigning trustee Robert Miles Hamilton be released, acquitted and discharged from his duties as said trustee in respect of said legacy of $5000 and of and from all claims and demands whatsoever on the part of and legatee interested in said legacy of $5000."

"That upon payment of the said sum of $5000 to the plaintiff do execute and deliver to the defendant a release in the terms now agreed upon between the parties to this action and filed herewith.

WRIGLEY'S

is the one confection that can be used by everybody with perfect assurance that it is not harmful in any way.

If it did nothing else except to prevent acid mouth and bad breath, it would be a boon to mankind. But it's helpful in many ways.

It keeps thirst away—helps to steady stomach and nerves!

It quickens appetite, aids digestion, brightens and preserves teeth.

There's joy in its full, long-lasting flavors: cooling, soothing Peppermint or the delicious tang of fresh Mint Leaves.

It's fine when you are feeling out-of-sorts, but don't wait for that! Keep in trim! Chew it after every meal!

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Predictions of a big decrease in the United States visible supply total on Monday helped today to bring about an advance in the price of wheat. The market closed nervous at 1c to 2⅛c above last night. Other leading staples all scored net gains, corn 1¼c to 1½c, oats ⅜c to ⅝c, and provisions 2½c to 17½c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 17.—Wheat made a gain on the week of 3⅝c to 3¾c, on oats 2¼c to 2½c, and on flax 3⅝c to 4¼c. Opening prices today were ⅝c lower to ⅛c higher for wheat; oats unchanged for May, and flax ¼c to ⅝c higher. Trading in futures on the Winnipeg market were confined principally to the speculative element, but on the whole the volume of business was light.

The cash demand was good for all grades of wheat, barring No. 1 northern, and offerings were about equal to the demand. Spot and for opening of navigation delivery were both in demand, and oats were also in good demand for the same delivery. An enquiry for cash barley also was in evidence today. In export circles no new business was reported.

Inspections Friday, 175 cars, as against 155 cars last year, and in sight 240 cars.

Wheat futures closed ¼c to 1⅝c up, cash 1⅝c to 1⅞c, oats ¼c to ⅝c up, and flax ⅛c to ⅜c higher.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 17.—There was a fairly good enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat for May-June shipment, but at the prices bid—from 3c to 6c per bushel below cost—no business resulted. The domestic trade in coarse grains continues very quiet, there being little or no demand either from local or outside buyers and the market in consequence is dull, but the feeling is firm in sympathy with other markets and prices are well maintained. The trade in flour was slow for both export and local account. The demand for millfeed is quiet. The tone of the butter market is firm, at prices from 9c to 10c per pound higher than a year ago. Cheese is quiet, but the market is firm. Demand for eggs is good and prices rule steady.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 17.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.62; No. 1 northern, $1.59½ to $1.61½; No. 2 northern, $1.53 to $1.58½; May, $1.55½.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 72½c to 73c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 55c to 55½c.

Flour and bran unchanged.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 17.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.61½; No. 1 northern, $1.60½; May, $1.59½.

CHEESE MARKETS.

LONDON, Ont., April 17.—Eight factories offered 820 boxes colored cheese, April make, at today's board. No sales. Bidding 15⅛c to 16c.

BELLEVILLE, April 17.—Eighty colored cheese and 85 white offered; 65 colored sold at 16 13-16c and 355 white sold at 16 13-16c. Balance refused at same price.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., April 17.—At the opening meeting of the butter and cheese board held today ten factories offered one hundred packages of butter, sold at 35c, and 100 boxes cheese sold at 16½c.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Casserole Cookery.

A casserole is a deep, earthenware pan with a lid to it.

After buying it fill it with cold water and a little soda, put it in the oven and let it remain there till the water is nearly boiling. This will cleanse it thoroughly and make it last much longer.

If you use a gas oven put the casserole in while it is still quite cool. If you suddenly put it into a very fierce oven the casserole may crack.

Be careful where you place the casserole when taking it out of the oven. If it is stood in the cold sink or any other cold place it may crack.

If you remember these few hints your casserole will last you many years and you will find it exceedingly useful.

Massage Cream.

A massage cream may be made as follows: Take three ounces of oil of sweet almonds, an ounce of lanolin, two drams of cucumber juice, two drams of white wax, two drams of spermaceti, thirty drops of tincture of benzoin and ten drops of oil of rose. Combine these and place in a jar for use.

If fashions didn't change, dressmakers and milliners might stand some show of being respectably clad.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

FASHION FOR STRIPES.

Fabrics of This Kind Popular For the Season's Frocks.

STRIPED SILK GOWN.

A handsome afternoon frock of blue and white striped pussy willow taffeta is illustrated here.

The bodice, cut on the bias and folded into plaits, extends into a pointed hip yoke, held in at the waist line by a cording of the material. Suspenders of the taffeta are developed into a gathered, flaring collar with tabs over the shoulders. A tucked and frilled [illegible] of cream daphne silk is worn. The short skirt, straight in front, flares in the back, the bottom being corded to insure firmness.

Dandies.

The coat does not make the dandy. The proper wearing of proper clothes is but part of the whole duty of a dandy man. A complete dandy is dandified in all his modes of life. Have you ever thought what a conspicuous part the dudes and dandies have played in history? Mark Antony was one of them; so were Alcibiades, Claude Duval, Buckingham, Byron, the poet; Disraeli, the statesman, and dandyism is not dead yet, only moribund, palsied shaking and decrepit with old age blown upon by an over practical world a world only too ready to learn how to obtain the means of living without acquiring also a knowledge of how to use those means to good purpose.—From W. T. Shore's Essay "Dandiacal."

She will be drydocked Monday, when examination of her hull below the water line will be made by the same naval board which surveyed the Eitel, and recommend the time limit for her repairs.

Turkish Origin of Military Bands.

Talking of the military element at the Yildiz palace under Abdul Hamid, including the military band, Sidney Whitman in "Turkish Memories" remarks that military bands as such are quite a modern feature in Europe and owe their origin to the janissaries:

"Janitscharenmusik" is still to this day the term used in Germany for an infernal din of tin kettles, pipes and brass. To the Turk, then, is due all the noise which has become such a public nuisance in our time on the continent of Europe—a heavy responsibility before the tribunal of decency and decorum.

THEY'RE OFF — FIRST VOTE STANDING OF CANDIDATES IN INTERNATIONAL TOUR CONTEST IS ANNOUNCED TO-DAY

A Number of Young Ladies Have Entered the Review's Great Tour Contest and Subscribers Have Started to Vote — Save the Coupons Appearing Daily and Vote for Your Favorite — Standing Will Appear Daily

TRIPLE VOTES ALLOWED FOR TWO WEEKS

The Biggest Vote Offer of the Contest is Now in Effect — Candidates Should Get Every Possible Subscription Now — Plenty of Room for New Candidates — Send in Your Name To-day or Nominate a Friend — Do it Now

"Well, they're off." The first voting list candidates in the Review Trans-Continental Exposition Tour Contest is published today. Everybody was anxious to know what the first vote would be. Now its behooves the candidates to make the best of the few short weeks they have to win these delightful tours to California and the Exposition.

All of the districts show about the same entries, and afford good opportunity to aspirants to enroll while the contest is still in its early stages. The hesitating ones should act at once so that a tour representative may call on them and start them in the race right from the beginning of the campaign. This will give them an opportunity to interest others in their behalf before the field 's covered, and their friends have promised their support elsewhere.

The votes are to be gotten and it is the votes that are to decide the winners. If you do not get them others will. It is easy, so easy that you are surprised after you are initiated into the art of vote getting. And isn't it fascinating? It is after you have started, and it becomes more attractive as you see your score shoot skyward.

The balloting is now in order. Votes can be cast for the candidates whose names appear in the published list. A ballot box is in position in the Review office for the reception of the votes.

The next count of the ballots will be made tonight and the standing will be printed every day.

There is plenty of room for more candidates. Send in your name today.

It might be well to mention for the benefit of the readers that because some of the candidates have an exceedingly low vote today there is no reason to believe that they have exhausted their efforts. Some of the candidates with a low vote may surprise you in a few days as they are just getting started. There are also candidates who sent in subscriptions and the votes have been issued to them. Of course such ballots were not counted. Candidates may vote them, however, at any time during the contest.

The Great World's Fair contest is now getting under way and subscribers should send in their votes for their favorites every day. Supplies have been mailed to all candidates in the outside districts, and if any has been overlooked, or same has been wrongly addressed, or from any cause if any candidates have not received the supplies, the contest department will be glad if the candidates will phone the office, No. 189, at the expense of The Review, and everything will be sent at once.

It is expected that all city candidates will call at the office as regularly as possible, and it would be well for all outside candidates to make a trip in and talk over the whole campaign. It will be time and money well spent, and to do this right on the start is very important.

Go in to Win.

A word to candidates. Go in to win. Don't tackle the contest half-heartedly, but sail in after a manner creditable to yourself and your friends. Go into it enthusiastically. It is easy once you make a start. The first few thousand votes are the hardest to get.

Once you have made a start people will watch every day for your standing. Unconsciously, perhaps, they become interested in you. You cease to be a stranger to them. You will find lots of people who are already on your side, whom, when the contest started, you didn't know at all. In many cases there are hundreds of votes already waiting you, which can be had just for the asking.

It Is An Education.

Have you ever stopped to think of the educative value of a contest like this? There is not one young lady who enters this contest, and goes into it with all her heart, but, when she comes out, will be worth a hundred per cent. more to her employers, to her friends and to herself. The educative value of the trip itself is incalculable, but there is an educative value in participating in such a contest, which should not be forgotten.

Easier Than You Think.

Once you get started you will find the race a pleasure. It is easier—ten times easier—than you ever imagined.

Suppose you have secured your first ballots from an intimate personal friend—that friend to whom you would naturally look for your first support. Have her—or him—give you the names of other friends who would likely help you. Have her—or him—speak to those friends in your behalf; ask them to help you, or wait at least till you see them. When you have secured anyone's votes make sure that their influence is with you as well. See that they are ranged enthusiastically on your side, and interested. They will spare no trouble to help you.

We're Here to Help You.

Remember always, that The Review is here to aid you. Enquiries of all kinds will be promptly and courteously answered. Candidates have not only an equal chance, but every chance.

Triple Votes for Two Weeks.

For the next two weeks candidates will secure triple votes on all subscriptions secured. This will be the biggest vote offer of the contest and you should exert all your energies to pile up votes while the voting is good.

The Great Trip.

While The Review's party on their world's fair tour will see the most wonderful fair so far recorded in history, yet the trip through our own Canadian northwest must not be lost sight of. The trip over the Canadian Pacific railway through the ROCKIES is rocegnized by travellers to surpass any other trip in the world.

At Portland the party will board one of the C.P.R. steamers and the 165 mile steamer trip to Victoria and Vancouver is the most charming voyage known. Taking the train at Vancouver and following a stretch of rolling, wheat-bearing prairie land, where new towns are spring up almost daily, the route winds for some distance through the foothills before plunging into the fastness of the mighty Rockies Then for over five hundred miles a continuous panorama of bewildering magnificence is presented, which no pen can adequately describe. Wondrous glacial fields, startling precipices, snow-capped peaks, wide forest areas, clear lakes and peaceful valleys combine in enchanting array.

The Chicago Evening Post says:

"If 500 such miles of magnificence are to be found anywhere else upon this revolving globe of ours they are worth crossing oceans to see. Imagine travelling half a thousand miles amid such a profusion of titanic grandeur that you know not in which direction to concentrate your attention, and in dread every time someone calls you to the other side of the car lest compliance will mean the loss of something else you should have seen.

"That briefly, and literally, is what the passage through the Selkirks and the Rockies of Canada means.

"It is the unbelievable confusion up here in the north, the 500 miles of cloud-piercing, ice-capped, glacier-studded ranges, bottomless canyons and roaring torrents, which makes the glory of the Canadian Rockies."

A hurried trip through the Rockies is an experience never to be forgotten.

Banff the beautiful; Lake Louise, the Pearl of the Rockies; Feld, the majestic; and Glacier, the mighty, are terms used by people who have remained sufficiently long to catch the full inspiration of these matchless resorts. Unique in their attractiveness, and alluring in their beauty, they draw their devotees from all parts of the civilized world.

Banff, the gateway to the Canadian National Park, is the chief objective point for the tourist. The scenery in the vicinity is incomparably grand and diversified. Banff Springs hotel is situated on the south bank of Bow River. Its large, excellent hot sulphur and fresh water bathing pools are the especial delight of the guests. Excellent golf links have been laid out, and there are beautiful river trips, in addition to a wonderful diversity of drives and rides among the mountains.

The Standing.

The first standing of the contestants is shown today. These votes were received on Saturday and shows already the popularity of a number of the candidates. Those who have 5000—the nomination blank — to their credit have not started to cast their votes as yet but that does not mean that they are not working. Watch the votes grow — tomorrow may make a difference in the standing.

Aviators Drop Bombs on the Town of El Sirr.

CAIRO, April 19.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued yesterday:

"On the 15th three aeroplanes made a flight from the canal to El Sirr, some 25 miles south of El Arish, on the Sinai peninsula, dropping bombs, which were effective. From 150 to 200 tents were seen. The distance flown was more than 170 miles.

"No other enemy troops were seen this side of El Sirr, though one or two small posts of about 20 men are known to exist.

"On the same date a French cruiser bombarded a camp near El Arish, a seaplane directing the fire. No large number of troops were seen, though enemy guns opened fire on both the cruiser and the seaplane. Neither was hit, however.

"On the 17th a French cruiser, again assisted by a seaplane, bombarded the enemy's camp well to the south of Ghazzah Town (some 40 miles southwest of Jerusalem). Considerable damage was done."

Premier Hearst Announces Personnel of License Commission

TORONTO, April 19.—Before leaving the city last night Premier Hearst announced the personnel of the new Provincial Board of License Commissioners which is to supersede the 101 License Boards in as many districts in the province. Following are the members of the new board selected by the Premier himself: J. D. Flaville, Lindsay, chairman; W. S. Dingman, Stratford, vice-chairman; Frederick Dane, Toronto, commissioner; George T. Smith, Haileybury, commissioner, and John A. Ayearst, Toronto, commissioner.

This announcement coming within two weeks of the prorogation of the Legislature shows that the Government has lost no time in having the effects of the new legislation made available. A proclamation has been issued bringing the whole act into operation on May 5th next. By that time the existing license boards will have completed the issuing of licenses for the coming license year which starts on May 1st, and the new board will at once take charge of the administration of the law and proceed to reorganize the system as outlined by Premier Hearst and Hon. W. J. Hanna on the debate in the Legislature.

The salaries to be paid to the members of the board will be as follows: Chairman, $6,500; vice-chairman, $6,000; commissioners, $4,000 each.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle, chairman, is a well-known merchant in Lindsay, and brother of Mr. J. W. Flavelle of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and other large financial institutions. He was born at Peterborough in 1850 and has been engaged in business in Lindsay since 1864. He is identified with a number of public undertakings, in 1904 was appointed to the Dominion Grain Survey Board, and is a councillor of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and is widely known as a devotee of amateur sport.

Mr. W. S. Dingman, vice-chairman, is known throughout Canada as an enterprising journalist. At different times he has been connected with The Strathroy Despatch, Port Arthur Daily Sentinel, and latterly, along with his brother, has owned and edited The Stratford Herald. In 1899 he was president of the Canadian Press Association, and all through his life has maintained a sympathetic attitude towards temperance questions. He was born in 1858.

Mr. Frederick Dane was born at Belfast, Ireland, in 1861 and came to Canada in 1880. For many years he was a grocery importer in Toronto and in 1906 was appointed a member of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission and subsequently became Land Commissioner. He resigned to accept the post of Canadian Commercial Agent at Glasgow, Scotland. He is a prominent Orangeman, and at one time was president of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society.

Mr. George T. Smith is mining recorder at Haileybury and knows the conditions in that country intimately. His advice in connection with the administration of the law in the newer districts will be of great usefulness.

Mr. John A. Ayearst has a reputation as an efficient officer in the Liquor License Branch. Through his efforts much of the irregularities that used to exist have been stamped out. His work in Ontario drew recognition from the West where he went for a year, but came back after a while to this province to give more useful service.

What Goodyear Means

An Unusual Story of a Canadian Industrial

Of Special Interest to Motorists, Truck Owners, Motorcyclists and Manufacturers

How it grew from a small room to a large plant. Four-man pay-roll is increased to 800-man pay-roll in five years. An investment of a few hundred dollars grows to one of millions.

THIS is not a story of self praise. Modesty prevents us from claiming all we could. But we do believe men are interested in success stories such as this. We are but one of the innumerable industries that have struggled up from small beginnings. Today we hold an enviable position in the Canadian manufacturing world.

We won this place through five years of business evolution. We submit to you here the story, not of ourselves, but of Goodyear products.

We think you will agree when you read this, that there is scarcely a business story in Canada more interesting and human.

When four Goodyear employes worked together in a little 30 x 60 foot room at 85 Queen Street, East, Toronto, in 1910, little did they realize how quickly that small space would be magnified over 70 times.

They knew business would grow. They had faith in themselves and in their product. They saw the tremendous possibilities in the Canadian rubber demand. They would build here at home an industry to meet that demand.

Today the big factory at Bowmanville, the six-story General Office building in Toronto and the ten Branch Offices throughout Canada have proved their fondest hopes.

The public confidence in Goodyear products has made possible this Goodyear growth from small beginnings. See what this growth has meant. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Canada, Limited, has over two million dollars invested in Canadian property and Canadian factory equipment. For the products that we sell you are made in our own factory at Bowmanville, Ontario, by Canadian workmen. Our pay-roll for these workmen must be one of the largest in the Dominion.

The Bowmanville Plant

In the latter part of 1910, we purchased the plant of the Durham Rubber Company at Bowmanville, Ontario. The total floor space was 40,150 square feet. New buildings were erected. New machinery installed. About 70 men were employed. The capacity was 25 automobile tires per day.

Today the plant is set in a tract of 35 acres, and has a floor space of 116,884 square feet. The pay-roll has reached a maximum of 718 employes. The maximum capacity is 1000 tires per day. The factory is completely equipped with the most modern machinery for the manufacturing of Automobile, Truck, Motorcycle, Bicycle and Carriage Tires, Hose, Belting, Packing, Moulded Goods, etc. Over 500 different kinds of articles can be made.

This Service, Too, Is Yours

But Goodyear obligation does not end when we sell a Goodyear product. It begins there.

There are ten branch offices, located in Montreal, St. Johns, Ottawa, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Toronto, with 137 Goodyear employes to assist our dealers in satisfying your wants. For only in this way are you insured of proper service.

There are hundreds of Goodyear dealers throughout Canada. No matter where you are, you know that not far away is a Goodyear dealer. This means quick deliveries—no delays, no inconvenience.

Third Reduction in Automobile Tire Prices

For the third time in less than two years, the price of Goodyear Tires has been reduced. These have saved the user in all an average of 37%. And now this third reduction during war times!

This price reduction, effective February 15th, in face of the new war tax, showed the company's determination to keep the factory wheels moving. The capacity of the plant has been doubled.

To so enlarge the plant—to reduce the price—to pay the war tax itself—that is the Goodyear Company's expression of faith, not merely in its product, but in the judgment of the people. The response by the public—as already felt—has justified these progressive moves.

Throughout the Dominion the number of satisfied users is rapidly increasing. The sales last year were 29% greater than the year before.

These statements are not offered as boasts, but to justify the reduced prices—to explain why the Company will pay the war tax—to show how the user will benefit by getting greater tire value than ever before. Goodyears stand top-high in quality. This has been the verdict of Canadian users, attested by Goodyear sales records.

Goodyear policy toward employes does not stop at good wages and good factory conditions — but embraces practical outside welfare work.

The Goodyear Company believes that however perfect are factory conditions, it owes its employes even more. That is why the Company itself has erected about 60 modern and attractive brick cottages, electric lighted, with hot and cold water. They are occupied by employes at a fair rental.

The basis for selection of employes is efficiency—not race, religion or politics. The Goodyear Club is the Social Center for all employes. Here also single men may room and board at reasonable rates. There is health, happiness and content—which are so essential in complete efficiency.

Every buyer of Goodyear products benefits by this practical system of welfare work—for it is part of the quality bought, part of the satisfaction resulting.

Goodyear Fortified Tires combat in five exclusive ways the chief troubles that you have with tires. Goodyears hold top place because they give lowest cost per mile.

Fortified Tires

In five costly ways—ways that no other maker has—Goodyears are fortified against all major tire troubles. That's why they average best.

Here are the five reasons why every Canadian motorist should have Goodyear Fortified Tires. These features can be found in Goodyears alone.

1. No-Rim-Cut feature combats rim-cutting in best way known.

2. Countless blowouts are avoided by our "On-Air" cure.

3. Loose treads are combated by forming in each tire hundreds of large rubber rivets.

4. Security against blowing off the rim and tube pinching, gained by vulcanizing six flat bands of 126 braided piano wires into each tire base.

5. The All-Weather tread combats puncture by being tough and thick. It resists skidding as no other tire does by its sharp-edged, bulldog grip.

These are the reasons why Goodyear Fortified Tires excel all other makes. Every tire trouble brings you nearer to Goodyears. They have averaged best in every Province.

Right Inner Tubes

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are built layer on layer. This prevents leaky tubes due to porous rubber. Records show that tubes built in the Goodyear way outlast any tire. Four tubes outlast five casings.

This year Goodyear Inner Tubes are better than ever before. Small sizes have been thickened 12½%. Large sizes 16⅔%. Yet they are built of pure rubber, as always. Tubes that weigh more than Goodyears gain nothing in durability. Size for size, heavier tubes owe their weight to excess mineral matter, causing hardening and cracking.

This means that today's tubes average 14 per cent better—yet the price is one-fifth less.

Economy for Truck Owners

For many years Goodyear engineers have been developing truck tires. Thousands of dollars have been spent in tests and investigations.

In all, twenty-nine distinct types of Truck Tires have been designed. In the evolution of one alone seventy-four separate tire structures were built.

It will take some makers years to do what Goodyear experts have done in truck tire development; 1915 Goodyear truck tires inspire a confidence that others cannot give.

Goodyear Motorcycle Tires Give Extra Mileage

Men thought no better motorcycle tires than Goodyears could be made. They won and held top place. Yet the Goodyear Company have made this year six further improvements without increasing prices. The popularity of Goodyear Motorcycle Tires must be greater this year than ever before. For these new features come in spite of lowered cost to you.

"Blue Streak" Bicycle Tires Built for Rough Going

Goodyear "Blue Streak" Bicycle Tires are made in the same factory, by the same experts who make the Fortified Automobile Tires. They are smaller, of course, but the same high standard of workmanship goes into every bicycle tire we make.

"Blue Streaks" have proved in actual road tests the utmost in bicycle tire construction.

Bicycle tire troubles are minimized if you ride on Goodyear "Blue Streaks."

Goodyear Mechanical Goods

The Goodyear plant at Bowmanville does not make tires alone. We manufacture Mechanical Goods for factories, mills and power houses.

Belts of every kind, transmission and conveyor, are made for each particular Canadian industry—saw mills, brick yards, elevators, paper mills, power plants, mines—all the foremost industries.

We make specific belts for specific machines—it's the only way to buy belting. Then you know you are getting the belt that will deliver the power all the time. Buying belting this way decreases shut-down losses, lost time, lost labor, lost product.

Hose—from the common garden variety to fire hose—is made by the mile.

When you see rubber goods, note the name Goodyear made-in-Canada products are part of every-day life, filling an urgent need here, giving pleasure there, turning the great wheels of commerce, or protecting lives and property.

Hardly a day passes but that every man, woman and child, wherever located, feels Goodyear influence in some way or other.

Try Goodyear

This is our story of Goodyear. It was not written directly to sell you Goodyear products, for they must sell themselves. What we want is just a hearing. We have told you of our small beginning here in Canada. Of our first factory, and its growth at Bowmanville. We have told you somewhat of Goodyear products and their record.

We want you to buy tires and mechanical goods from The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Canada, Limited—not alone because they are made in Canada—not because our efforts alone have been commendable.

We want you to buy Goodyear products because of their inbuilt superiority. Because you get greatest service, dollar for dollar that you spend.

AN ADVANCE IN ALSACE

French Troops Gain Ground Along the Fecht River

PRELIMINARY MOVES

Operations for Control of Carpathians Are Completed

PARIS, April 19.—Local engagements, marked by close and bloody work, but of no particular significance, were the features of the fighting of this week-end, except in one case where the French army has begun a new advance along the French Fecht river in Alsace and gained important preliminary successes.

The British infantry east of Ypres exploded some mines in the German positions in some hills and occupied the craters after a hot combat.

An excavation occupied by the Germans close to the French trenches northwest of Perthes in the Champagne district, was rendered untenable by the explosion of French counter-mines and in an attack delivered almost immediately afterwards the French soldiers captured about 70 yards of a German trench.

Attacks by the Germans were repulsed at Boise de St. Nord in the Aisne valley by artillery fire, followed by a bayonet charge, again in the outskirts of the Parroy wood in Lorraine, especially near four points, Bures, Mouracourt, Embermenil, and St. Martin, and again on the French trenches at Little Reich Ackerkopf, against which the enemy advanced no less than three times, and was as often hurled back.

The French forces in the region of Schnepfen-Reitnkopf made fresh progress against the enemy.

The French advance on both banks of the Fecht river in Alsace made considerable headway Saturday. On the north bank it resulted in the seizure of a spur west of Sillakerwasser and Metzerail, and the column debouched into the valley which runs towards the river. On the southern bank of the stream French chasseurs made a brilliant attack on the German troops holding the Schnepfen-Reithkopf and occupied the summit, which is over 4,150 feet in height, and is the tallest point in the ridge between the two valleys, which meet at Metzerail.

Great Step Accomplished.

PETROGRAD, April 19. — Complete success in the operations that they set out to perform, the capture of the cress of the principal chain of the Carpathians for a distance of about 75 miles, was reported by the Russian War Office last night in a communique which explains the difficult nature of the fighting, and states that the Austrians and Germans opposed to the Russian advance lost 70,000 men in prisoners and an enormous number of killed and wounded. The enemy brought up 300,000 infantry to oppose the Russian advance. These included every available man on the front from as far as Bartfeld to Uszok Pass, including many German troops and numbers of dismounted cavalrymen.

The communique says that at the beginning of March the Russians held only the region of the Dukla Pass in the principal chain of the mountains where the Russian lines formed an exterior angle. Lupkow Pass and all the others farther east were in the hands of the Germans and Austrians.

On this account the Russian armies were assigned to the task of developing their position in the Carpathians, so as to dominate the outlets into the plains of Hungary.

This week-end the actions in the mountains were concentrated in the direction of Rostoki, where the enemy despite the enormous losses he had suffered, delivered no less than 16 attacks in great strength on Friday. These attacks were all made against the heights which the Russians had carried east of Telepotch, and were barren of result. A height to the northeast of Poden Village was stormed and captured by Russian troops on Saturday morning, and many prisoners were captured.

Renewed activity of an animated character is reported by the Russians in the districts of Mariampol and Kalwarya. The fighting is being conducted in this sector by German advanced guards.

The Czar has left Petrograd on a visit to the front.

CANADIANS ARE MEN.

They Were Boyish When They Landed But Are Gro[illegible]

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 19.—(Via London.) — "The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they have been men in the trenches," said a staff officer of the British army, commenting on the report that the Canadians have been lacking in discipline. "They've buckled down like British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach, but deserving the highest praise."

This is the first official statement of a staff officer in the field relative to a much-discussed question.

Lt.-Col. Johnson Dead.

MONTREAL, April 19. — Lt.-Col. Lacey Johnson, who was recently appointed general welfare agent of the C. P. R., died on Saturday night of peritonitis, after three weeks illness. He was born at Abington, Berkshire, Eng., and was in his 69th year.

A TRANSPORT IS ATTACKED

Admiralty Announces Loss of 24 Men in Aegean Sea

BOAT CAPSIZED

Enemy's Torpedo Boat is Chased and Driven Ashore

LONDON, April 19. — An official statement from the British Admiralty issued last night, gives the substance of a further report concerning the loss of life aboard the transport Manitou, which was attacked by a Turkish torpedo boat in the Aegean Sea. The report shows that 24 men were drowned instead of 100, as at first reported, and that 27 others are missing. The transport itself was not damaged.

The loss of life was due to the capsizing of one boat in the water and another while being lowered, owing to the breaking of a davit.

The British Admiralty, in a statement issued Saturday night, announced that a Turkish torpedo boat had been sunk in the Aegean Sea.

The text of the Admiraly statement was as follows.

"The transport Manitou, carrying British troops, was attacked by a Turkish torpedo boat in the Aegean yesterday morning. The Turkish boat fired three torpedoes at the transport, all of which missed their mark. The torpedo boat then made off, but was chased by the British cruiser Minerva and British torpedo boat destroyers and was finally run ashore and destroyed on the coast of Chios in Kalammuti Bay. The members of the crew of the Turkish warship were made prisoners.

"It is reported that about 100 men on board the transport lost their lives through drowning, but full particulars have not yet been received."

The naval department states that the Manitou, which was attacked by a Turkish destroyer, was a vessel of 6,849 tons, of the Royal Merchant Marine, owned by the Atlantic Transport Co. Her ports of call in time of peace were London, Havre, and New York.

FIRST PEACE CONFERENCE

Grey and Pau Confer With Austrian Statesmen

LONDON, April 19.—A letter from a correspondent in Rome says:

"The first great peace conference of the war has just been concluded here. How much was accomplished, if anything, cannot now be stated; such elaborate measures to preserve secrecy have been adopted that it is doubtful even if this letter will get through.

"The great significant fact is that Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, came to Rome to take part in this peace conference, arriving here on April 6; that Gen. Pau, the distinguished French commander who has been making a triumphant tour in Russia and the Balkan countries, arrived here April 8 to attend the meeting on behalf of France, and that while here these two representatives of the allies met three prominent Austro-Hungarian statesmen and an important delegation from Russia.

"It is public knowledge that at this time two very prominent Turks, Carasso Effendi and Midhat Chucry Bey, made it convenient to be here. These Turkish leaders took a prominent part in the preliminary negotiations for peace in the Turco-Italian war, and although they deny publicly that they are now here on such business, the impression is strong that the sudden gathering of world-famous diplomats cannot be explained in any other way than as a preliminary discussion looking to a separate peace for Austria."

Travelers from the interior of Austria bring reports of increasing unrest, resulting from the insufficiency of the bread allowance, which, although it has been increased, still is considered inadequate. Demonstrations against the war are said to be increasing in number and violence, especially in Vienna, and at points in Bohemia, where mobs are reported to have sacked storehouses in which [illegible] provisions for the army.

Another Evaporator Burned.

BELLEVILLE, April 19.—On Friday night at the Village of Frankfort, Sidney Township, an evaporator, owned by George Graham, and operated by R. J. Graham of this city, was, with its contents, destroyed by fire. There is no doubt in Mr. Graham's mind that the fire was incendiary. This is the third evaporator burned in this section this year, and all were operated by the Graham Company. The other buildings destroyed were located at Tweed and Shannonsville.

Not In Murder Plot.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., April 19.—Mrs. Wm. Leithenen was yesterday found not guilty of conspiracy in connection with the death of her husband, who was murdered last fall by Amelia Palma, a young Italian, who has been sentenced to be hanged for the crime.

AIMS AND OBJECTS OF THE BOY SCOUTS ASSOCIATION

There are still many who do not realize the possibilities for good amongst boys through the activities of the Boy Scouts' Association. Time has proven that the activities are ideal for the proper development of the boy largely because it helps him to help himself, assisting him to become resourceful and a boy with initiative.

The great aim of the association is to make every Boy Scout a better citizen. It aims to teach him physically in the campcraft and woodcraft of the outdoor life in order that he may have strength in after days to give the best he has to the city and community in which he lives as well as to the empire of which he is a part. It teaches him chivalry and unselfishness, obedience, duty, charity, thrift and loyalty. It teaches him endurance in order that he may guard his health by being temperate; eating pure foods and keeping himself clean.

There are now 147 centres in Ontario doing this work with over 7,000 boys, and the movement is still growing. To guide this movement in a community it calls for the best men of the district to form a local association for the welfare of the boys of the city or town, this association being the advisory or guiding hand of the movement in the community.

The provincial council, with headquarters in Toronto, through whom glad to act in an advisory capacity to the respective communities. The provincial headquarters, if necesasry, are also prepared to instruct a leader for the work in any centre; the expense of same to be borne by the community in which the work is to be started.

Although good assistance can be given by correspondence, and, where possible, a representative will visit a centre and present the objects of the movement to the citizens.

Under the auspices of the Boy Scouts' Association, in any centre boys' welfare work can be carried on successfully, or the activities will work in well with other boys' organizations.

Full information will be forwarded upon application to the provincial secretary, corner of Bloor and Sherbourne streets, Toronto.

Troops Move Towards Austria.

ZURICH, Switzerland, April 19.—Travelers from Germany are reaching Zurich after extraordinary delays resulting from the congestion of German railroad lines with troop trains. Ordinary freight and passenger traffic in Germany has aimast stopped. German troops, according to the travelers, are being moved in several directions, part of them toward Austria.

Private despatches received here from Vienna say that no fewer than 350,000 Germans are actually fighting with the Austrians against the Russians in the Carpathians.

British Are Better Shots

HALIFAX, April 19—One hundred and four soldiers of the first Canadian contingent, of all ages, eight of whom have been in the trenches and wounded, returned here by the steamer Missanabie. Those who were on the firing line say the Germans have some expert shots, but on the whole, the marksmanship of the British is superior.

Seven of them belonged to the Princess Patricia's Regiment. One is Pte. Laurie, of Toronto, who lost the sight of one eye as the result of a fragment of shell striking him. Pte. W. E. Watts, of Hamilton, who was in the trenches three months, is invalided. Privates King and Henry, of Toronto, Pte. Davis, of Edmonton, and Pte. G. H. Cunningham, of Toronto, who suffered from rheumatism and frostbites, are among those who returned. Pte. G. Morrison, of Niagara Falls, was wounded in the leg two months ago, but is recovering. Some of the other soldiers have returned on account of illness, and some are undesirables.

An official welcome to Commissioner W. J. Richards, the new head of the Salvation Army in Canada, was tendered in St. James Methodist Church, Montreal, yesterday. The Rev. Doctor Herbert Symonds, of Christ Church Cathedral, presided at the meeting.

Greek Vessel is Torpedoed

THE HAGUE, April 19. — The Naval Department announces it has been informed that the Greek steamer Ellispontos, which left Muiden, Holland, Saturday for Montevideo, Uruguay, has been torpedoed in the North Sea. Her crew of 21, with a Dutch pilot, were rescued by the North Hinder Lightship.

The Ellispontos was a steamer of 1,923 tons. She was built in 1906, and was owned by L. and M. Embiricos Bros., of Andros, Greece. The steamer arrived at Amsterdam on March 10 from Rosaria, Argentina.

The crew of the Ellispontos, torpedoed Saturday by a submarine five miles west of the North Hinder Lightship, has arrived at Flushing. The captain, who was badly wounded and was taken to a hospital, said his steamer was torpedoed without warning. The crew got away safely in boats, however, and rowed to the lightship.

It is reported from North Hinder that German aviators Saturday tried to drop bombs on two British trawlers and fired on them, but without result.

True.

"Pretty girls are heartbreakers."

"Yes, and girls that are skillful in cooking and flattery are heart menders."

Life Insurance in a Crisis

Every time a great Crisis occurs LIFE INSURANCE has an opportunity to show what a giant of strength it is. Tremendous burdens are placed upon its shoulders, but it never shirks, never hesitates or groans.

When the Titanic took its awful plunge, carrying 1,500 human souls into the deep, thousands of widows and orphans were left throughout the world. LIFE INSURANCE accepted the burden without the quiver of a muscle, and spread its protection around the Globe.

When seven years ago the financial world was laboring under an attack of indigestion due to undigested securities, and people could not get even their own money out of the Savings Banks, LIFE INSURANCE furnished spot cash to its policyholders upon application.

Today, when a gigantic struggle wages across the Seas, and it is difficult to get loans from banks or money lenders, they find the solution again in LIFE INSURANCE.

It is today saving thousands of men all over the world, not only embarrassment, but actual failure.

LIFE INSURANCE protects your wife and family.

German Guards Lost Heavily

PARIS, April 19.—The capture of Bois Brule in Champagne last month, the official story of which was given out yesterday, resulted in important losses to both sides. More than two-thirds of a German Guard regiment was destroyed, while 300 French were killed, including several officers. The French gain was an advance of a half mile along a front 650 yards wide.

"The Germans had organized an extremely strong defence in the wood," says the official statement. "Our first trench was 100 yards distant. The attack was delivered by one line regiment. By sapping up we suddenly came upon a German trench 300 yards long, occupied by a section of the Guard. We completely surprised the defenders, killing all of them with hand grenades except three, who were made prisoners.

"On the next day we delivered a general attack on the position from two sides. The fight lasted all day, and resulted in our occupation of the wood at nightfall. We counted several hundred German corpses on the field.

"A strong German counter-attack was delivered early the next morning, the enemy wearing Algerian "burnouse" which they had taken from our dead. The ruse failed, however, and we beat back the attack with a withering machine gun fire, which stretched further hundreds of Germans dead before our lines. Our troops fought with magnificent dash, for they were exasperated by learning on the previous day that the Guard had tortured and killed a number of our wounded."

Germany Wants A Free Sea

PORTLAND, Me., April 19. — A letter from Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former Colonial Secretary of the German Empire, was read at a mass meeting here Saturday night, in which the German idea of permanent peace was set forth. Dr. Dernburg wrote, in part:

"I can with full authority disclaim any ambition for my country for world dominion. She is much too modest on the one hand and too experienced on the other not to know that such a state will never be tolerated by the rest. The aim of Germany is to have the seas, as well as the narrows kept permanently open for the free use of all nations in times of war as well as in times of peace.

"Germany does not strive for territorial aggrandizement in Europe; she does not believe in conquering and subjugating unwilling nations. Belgium commands the main outlet of western German trade, is the natural foreland of the empire, and has been conquered with untold sacrifice of blood and treasure. It offers to German trade the only outlet to an open sea, and has been politically established, maintained and defended by England in order to keep these natural advantages from Germany."

BRITISH SUBMARINE LOST.

The E-15 Runs Ashore and Crew Is Rescued and Imprisoned by Turks.

LONDON, April 19.—The British Admiralty, in a statement issued yesterday afternoon, announced that the submarine E-15 ran ashore Saturday on Kephez Point, in the Dardanelles, while attempting a difficult reconnaissance of the Kephez mine field.

The statements said that according to an official communication published at Constantinople, the officers and men were rescued and made prisoners."

The Turkish War Office reports: "The British submarine E-15 has been sunk in the Dardanelles, east of Karanlik. Three officers and 21 men of the crew were rescued by the Turks. Among them was the former British vice-consul at Dardanelles."

Grand Duke Shot?

LONDON, April 19.—A report is published by a Prussian newspaper that Grand Duke Nicholas, Russian commander-in-chief, has been shot in the abdomen by Gen. Baron Sievers, the commander of the Russian army, which was defeated and driven from East Prussia last February. The general is said to have committed suicide. There is no confirmation of this report, official or otherwise, from any other sources.

JOE DWYER IS RE-INSTATED BY ONTARIO HOCKEY ASSOCIATION

First of Suspended Hockey Players to Get Back

Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the O. H. A. notified Joe Dwyer on Saturday to the effect that his suspension by the O.H.A. has been lifted and his amateur standing restored. Dwyer was signed by the Peterborough Hockey Club last winter but only participated in the exhibition game with the Toronto Rowing Club on New Year's night in Toronto. "Skid" Janes performed between the posts for the Petes in all the championship matches but when the O.H.A. threw the team out because of Tetrault being played, Dwyer and Janes were both suspended. Dwyer, being desirous of playing baseball this summer, applied to the O.H.A. for re-instatement on the grounds that he did not participate in a championship game nor was connected in any way with the Tetrault affair. According to Secretary Hewitt's letter to him, Dwyer is again an amateur according to C.A.A.U. rules.

The fact that Dwyer has been re-instated causes the hopes of local fans that the rest of the players will also be re-instated to look a little brighter. What their absence from amateur sports means to this city has already been referred to in these columns. Several of them will figure on teams in the City Baseball League and on the lacrosse team if their suspension is lifted. It is sincerely hoped for the good of amateur sport ni general the O.H.A. will see fit to consider the player's side of the case for the opening of the baseball and lacrosse season. Should the hockey association look into it thoroughly it is certain that the players will be restored to good amateur standing.

Pro. Football Players Are Slow to Join

Only 122 Out of 1800 in English League Have Enlisted

Only 122 professional football players out of some 1800 in the English League teams have enlisted in the Football Battalion which was organized for the express purpose of bringing this class of professional athletes to the colors and on breaking up a sport which is supposed to have a bad effect on the recruiting campaign.

"The laxity of football professionals and their following has amounted to almost a public scandal," states Colonel C. F. Grantham, commanding the battalion. "I am aware and have proof that in many cases directors and managers of clubs have not only given no assistance in getting these men to join, but have done their best by their actions to prevent it. I will no longer be a party to shielding the want of patriotism of these men by allowing the public to think they have joined the Football battalion."

COMMENT As You Like it

SPRING POETRY haunts every newspaper office during this month. It's usual to drop the productions in a drawer and forget about them, but here's one that touches the correct chord:

"Back to the Michigan hemlocks—
Back to the pines of Maine,
Back to Dakota and old Minnesota
They ride on a sorrowing train;
Back to the friends who love them—
Back to the friends they love—
They bounce away from the big league fray
Like spitballs bounce from a glove."

EDWARD FABRE, the Montreal foot runner, is about the best Canadian entered in the Boston Athletic Association's annual Patriots' Day Marathon being staged in Bean Town today. Last year Jimmy Duffy, of Hamilton, showed the best of American long distance men the way home, with Fabre a close second. The record for the race was made by Tom Longboat, when he ran the best race of his career and covered the distance in 2 hours and 24 minutes.

BOBBY HECK, the Syracuse southpaw of the London club, has been sold to the Erie club of the Central League for $500. The Central is only Class B, but the longer season and the better possibilities of coming under the notice of big league scouts will satisfy Heck. He was easily among the foremost hurlers in the Canadian League.

THE THREE branches of the T. A. S. will likely enter teams in an inter-Catholic baseball league and track sports also will be taken up. Should the boys also show an inclination for lacrosse, the national game will likewise be indulged in. More definite plans will be made known in the course of a week or so.

IN PREPARATION for the coming season the Sacred Heart T. A. S. has decided to enter the baseball and track field. The following constitutes a sports committee: William Grady (chairman), Fred J. McGrath (secretary treasurer), A. J. Rose, P. Milloy, H. Guerin.

INDIANAPOLIS has offered Shortstop Jack Mitchell to the Ottawa club. The pepery infielder from Adrian was drafted by Indianapolis last fall, but Red Corridon, late of the Chicago Cubs, has about cinched the shortfield berth with Indianapolis.

THE O. H. A. has reinstated Joe Dwyer. There are several other hockey players under suspension who are just as innocent of wrong doing as the brick-top goal custodian.

JOE LALLY will be in Peterborough on Friday next. The larcosse king will endeavor to get a school league organized.

CHARLIE ISAACS will likely be back with Guelph, the team he originally started with. Hollander has coped the job on the difficult corner with the Leafs.

THE TEAMS in the City Baseball League are working out regularly. Reports state that the four outfits will have speed to burn.

BILL SCHAEFFER, the hard-hitting second baseman, has been turned over to London by Erie.

COMMENT As You Like it

SPRING POETRY haunts every newspaper office during this month. It's usual to drop the productions in a drawer and forget about them, but here's one that touches the correct chord:

"Back to the Michigan hemlocks—
Back to the pines of Maine,
Back to Dakota and old Minnesota
They ride on a sorrowing train;
Back to the friends who love them—
Back to the friends they love—
They bounce away from the big league fray
Like spitballs bounce from a glove."

EDWARD FABRE, the Montreal foot runner, is about the best Canadian entered in the Boston Athletic Association's annual Patriots' Day Marathon being staged in Bean Town today. Last year Jimmy Duffy, of Hamilton, showed the best of American long distance men the way home, with Fabre a close second. The record for [illegible] race was made by Tom [illegible] the best race of his career and covered the distance in 2 hours and 24 minutes.

BOBBY HECK, the Syracuse southpaw of the London club, has been sold to the Erie club of the Central League for $500. The Central is only Class B, but the longer season and the better possibilities of coming under the notice of big league scouts will satisfy Heck. He was easily among the foremost hurlers in the Canadian League.

THE THREE branches of the T. A. S. will likely enter teams in an inter-Catholic baseball league and track sports also will be taken up. Should the boys also show an inclination for lacrosse, the national game will likewise be indulged in. More definite plans will be made known in the course of a week or so.

IN PREPARATION for the coming season the Sacred Heart T. A. S. has decided to enter the baseball and track field. The following constitutes a sports committee: William Grady (chairman), Fred J. McGrath (secretary treasurer), A. J. Rose, P. Milloy, H. Guerin.

INDIANAPOLIS has offered Shortstop Jack Mitchell to the Ottawa club. The pepery infielder from Adrian was drafted by Indianapolis last fall, but Red Corridon, late of the Chicago Cubs, has about cinched the shortfield berth with Indianapolis.

THE O. H. A. has reinstated Joe Dwyer. There are several other hockey players under suspension who are just as innocent of wrong doing as the brick-top goal custodian.

JOE LALLY will be in Peterborough on Friday next. The larcosse king will endeavor to get a school league organized.

CHARLIE ISAACS will likely be back with Guelph, the team he originally started with. Hollander has coped the job on the difficult corner with the Leafs.

THE TEAMS in the City Baseball League are working out regularly. Reports state that the four outfits will have speed to burn.

BILL SCHAEFFER, the hard-hitting second baseman, has been turned over to London by Erie.

Rev. M. J. Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, is in the city today.

Rev. Father McFadden of Wooler was in the city on Saturday.

Professor Norval J. Ireland and wife, of Belleville, spent Sunday at Bridgenorth.

E. M. Kay, a member of the Canadian contingent encamped at Toronto, spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. A. G. Kay, 420 Donegal street.

Mrs. J. Wilson, 372 George street, and Miss Hepburn are in Toronto attending the summer millinery openings.

Mr. Wilbur Bennett, of Guelph College, spent Sunday in the city the guest of his sister, Mrs. R. H. Clarke, Perry street. He left this morning for Ottawa, where he has taken a position for the summer.

The Society of Peterborough Progressive Club received a card from Mrs. Arthur Pepler, convenor of the Belgian Relief Committee, Toronto, acknowledging the receipt of the infants' clothing sent to her by the Progressive Club.

Mrs. E. B. Clegg is leaving tomorrom for England, where she will meet her husband, Col. E. B. Clegg, formerly commander of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough. Mrs. Clegg is not definitely sure of the legnth her stay in England will be. The Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, of which Mrs. Clegg is regent, have remembered her ere her departure with a fine travelling rug and a seal shopping bag. Owing to recent bereavement, the presentation was observed without ceremony of any kind save a suitably worded address accompanying the gifts.

Hon. Lieuts. Miss Plummer and Miss Arnoldi are leaving London to go to France to establish a distributing depot for the Canadian comforts commission.

Two of the three brigadiers of the Canadian contingent, have written from Canadian headquarters strongly approving of this work and urging co-operation for its continuation in France.

These ladies have severed their connection wth the Canadian War Contingent Association. They wish it to be distinctly understood that all field comforts which it is desired that they distribute be henceforth sent either to Mr. Hector McInnes, at the Halifax agency, or direct to the Canadian Field Comforts Commission at Ashford, Kent. Essential parcels, to avoid confusion, should be distinctly addressed to the Red Cross War Contingent Association, Ashford, Kent. Being the Canadian Ordnance centre, it is well suited to the work. It will be retained as the receiving station.

Miss Plummer says: There is an urgent need of socks at the present time. Socks, which are always in demand, will be needed in greater quantities as the summer comes on. Two or three superior officers have told me that tinned milk would be very much in demand.

FINAL MUSICALE MUCH ENJOYED

The "twilight musicales" that have been held monthly all winter came to a close Saturday afternoon and the public who have afforded them such generous patronage greatly regret they are ended.

The entertainment on Saturday maintained the high standard that had been set, and delighted a large audience.

The contributing artists were Mr. George Lynch whose readings were of the same high quality for which he is noted; Mr. Maurice Park, tenor soloist, whose unusually sweet voice is exceptionally popular, and Mr. Gilbert, whose trombone selections provided a delightful varation to the other protion of the program.

The Conservatory orchestra were in their usual good form and under the leadership of Mr. R. Gliddon, supplied a splendid repertoire.

The program was as follows:

Selection—Minuet—Paderewski—Orchestra.
Reading — The Old Stove Pipe Hole—Dr. Drummond—Mr. Lynch.
Song—Mavis—Harold Craxton — Mr. Park.
Duet—Symphonic Concertante — Dancha — Miss Palmer and Miss Logan.
Trombone Solo—Mr. Gilbert.
Song—Asleep in the Deep—H. W. Petrie—Mr. Weller.
Reading — Englishman's Opinion of Life—Mr. Lynch.
Trombone Solo—The Holy City—Mr. Gilbert.
Song—The Rosary—Nevin — Mr. Weller.
Selection—Robin Hood—De Koven—Orchestra.

Memorial Service at Army Temple

Court Stanley Ancient Order of Foresters Took Part

The Salvation Army Temple was packed to the doors last night when a service in memory of the late Pte. Harold Nichols was held, with Adjutant McElhiney presiding. A large number of members from Court Stanley, A. O. F., of which the deceased had been a popular member, attended the service, having marched from their lodge rooms, headed by the Temple Band, playing Handel's Dead March in Saul.

Members of the dead soldier's family and relatives occupied the front row of seats, with the Foresters immediately behind.

The opening song, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," was followed with prayer by the Adjutant, after which the male choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Appropriate passages from the Scriptures were read by the Adjutant, and "The Lord Is My Shepherd" was sung by the songsters. Another funeral march was played by the band, and then came a very impressive address, the text of which was, "To whom shall we go but to Thee? Thou hast the gift of eternal life."

At the conclusion of the service, the Foresters marched to their hall, where the chief ranger referred in appreciative terms to the kindness of the Army in holding the service and in inviting the members of the lodge to take part.

Mrs. Nichols has been called upon to bear an unusual heavy load of sorrow. It is only a few days ago that she stood beside the grave of her brother, the late William Whitnell, who died very suddenly.

Mrs. Welsh, a relative, is dangerously ill in the hospital. Mrs. Welsh's husband, who is a member of the 39th battalion, is home after recovering from illness at the Belleville camp.

JUNIOR CLOSING

Excellent Work by Junior Department at Y.W.C.A.

The junior department of the Y. W. C. A. held its closing on Saturday afternoon. Excellent work has been done by the children in the different classes during the year. Prizes were awarded for sewing and cooking.

237 children have been enrolled with an aggregate attendance of 1388.

The work included gymnasium work, classes in household science, sweeping, dusting, table setting and bed making.

Domestic science—Sewing, darning, buttonholes, needlebooks.

Three dozen scrap books were made by the junior class, to be sent to Dr. Grenfell's work at Labrador.

This splendid work has been carried on by volunteer workers, and members of the Girls' Auxiliary.

ORATORICAL CONTEST IS ARRANGED FOR

An óratorial contest will be held tomorrow evening in the Sunday School hall of St. Paul's Church in which members of the Young Men's Classes of St. Paul's and Knox Churches will take part. The public is invited to attend. The speakers have been allowed to select their own subjects and each will speak for 15 minutes. They will be scored on the points of the material contained in their addresses, on the language used and on their style of delivery. The speakers will include Louis Ingsam, John Herron, and Kingsley Kenyon, of Knox Church, and Harry Taylor of St. Paul's Church. The subjects have not been fully announced, but it is understood that they will include such subjects as "The World Position of Small Nations," "An Irishman's First Impressions of Canada," "Some Falacies of Protection" and "Hard Times, Their Cause and Cure."

The Young Women's Classes of both churches are co-operating. The Deborah Bible Class of St. Paul's Church is providing the refreshments at the close. As an oratorical contest of this kind has a great influence in developing the speaking talents of young men it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

HELPFUL SERVICES AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The services in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church yesterday were of a very helpful character. Rev. Mr. Graeb of Toronto occupied the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Robt. Pogue, who is away on sick leave. At the evening service a very clear and logical exposition of Christian religion was given with an explanation of the essentials of faith, Knowledge, approbation and action were necessary to a proper conception of our religion.

The music was worthy of mention. A fine rendering of "The Publican," Van de Water, was given by the soprano soloist, Miss Dorothy Allan. In the offertory anthem, "The Heavenly Song," the solo parts were taken by Mrs. and Miss Allan.

Good Advice.

"I had a horrid nightmare last night."

"Then don't sleep in the stable any more."

New Members.

Several members of the Salvation Army were enroled at the Temple on Sunday afternoon, and at the evening service Bandsmen Hill and Sugden were welcomed to the ranks of the band.

Cord of Thanks.

Mrs. Albert Thorndyke wishes to thank her friends for their kind sympathy and also those who sent flowers in the recent bereavement of her mother, the late Mrs. Alexander Bean.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Charlotte Street Methodist Church will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon at 3:30 in the lecture room. A large attendance is requested.

New Use for Aluminum.

Aluminum is now used to preserve the fragrance of the natural leaf in packing Salada Tea. The bright clean sheets are closer in texture than the old fashioned lead coverings and ensure perfect protection to the fresh young leaves.

Roads Are Dry But Rough.

The weather yesterday was ideal for "long jaunts." Citizens dotted all the country roads leading to the city, and autoists also hit for the rural sections. The reports are to the effect that the roads are dry, but still quite rough. A few days of traffic such as that of yesterday will leave the roads in excellent condition.

OBITUARY

MISS MARY DOAK.

Miss Mary Doak, for many years a teacher in this city, passed away on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Shannon, 493 King street, at the age of 82 years. Rev. R. G. Peever, pastor of George Street Methodist Church, of which the late Miss Doak had been a member for many years, conducted a brief service at the house last evening, and this morning the body was forwarded to Stirling for interment.

LEWIS SPRY.

Lewis Spry, one of the city's oldest and most widely known residents, expired Sunday at midnight after an illness which developed but a few hours previous.

He was born in England and with his family came to Canada and settled in Port Hope. He was employed for a number of years with the late James Stevenson in the stove business. Later he went into business on his own account.

The deceased was married twice, his first wife being Elizabeth Dixon. He was married the second time to Eliza Johnston in 1855, who survives him.

He was a charter member of Court Peterborough Canadian Order of Foresters.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon, April 21st, from the residence, 210 Stewart Street, to Little Lake Cemetery.

LAST DAY FOR CONSIDERATION OF PROPOSALS

Austrian Ambassador Gives Notice to His Servants

BUELOW'S FAREWELL

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Paris, April 20.—A despatch from Rome to the Figaro says today is the latest date set for the consideration of any proposals Austria might wish to make to Italy; that the Austrian ambassador has given notice to his servants who are now being paid daily and that the recent visit paid by Prince Von Buelow to the Vatican was in the nature of a farewell.

KITCHENER GRATIFIED

At Response of the Nation to Appeals for Recruits

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 20.—"War Secretary Kitchener is very gratified at the response of the nation to recruiting appeals," Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lloyd George told the House of Commons this afternoon. The speaker added that the government did not believe the war could be more successfully prosecuted by means of conscriptions.

The Chancellor declined to answer a question concerning the suggested purchase of breweries and distilleries by the government and said the House must await a general statement of the policy of the government.

British Policy in China.

Preservation of the common interest of all powers in China by insuranc of independence and integrity of the Chinese republic and the principle of equal opportunities for commerce and industry of all nations, in China, was declared by Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, to be the policy of the British Government in China. He was asked a number of questions concerning negotiations now going on between China and Japan but replied that under present conditions while negotiations were still proceeding he was not able to make a detailed statement. Speaking generally however he declared the policy of the British government in China continued to be governed by means of an Anglo-Japanese agreement as defined above. The Foreign Secretary added that the government was in close touch with diplomatic circles in China and Japan and with commercial bodies interested in the far east and the House might rest assured that the government would endeavor to secure to the best of its ability, an open door to British commerce in all parts of China

CADET CAMPS OFF FOR THIS SUMMER

Kingston, Ont., April 20.—It was announced that on May 15 Overseas men in the 38th Battalion, Ottawa, 39th Battalion, Belleville, and the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles in the Third Contingent, would go into camp at Barriefield. It was also announced that there would be no cadet camps this season.

ADVANCE GUARD OF SECOND CONTINGENT

Army Service Corps Made up of Hand-picked Men and Officers Prepare the Way for the Second Force of Canadians

SPECIAL Correspondence to the Review from Lieut. Walter Curran, with the advance guard of the Second Canadian Contingent.

SS. Missinabie, in the submarine zone off Ireland: When this reaches Peterborough the Missinabie will have reached Liverpool and will probably be on her way again to Halifax if—(and that "if" looms disportionately large to many on board tonight)—she escapes those murderous pirates, the German submarines.

The fate of the Falaba, with the butchering of her unoffending passengers, which was announced in bold type in the Marconi Daily, has jolted the feeling of security of many of the more timid passengers. Several ladies retired dressed as for the street that evening. The next day the sinking of another pair of ships was announced, and tonight there are strained faces in evidence, for after all human beings are little better than sheep, and uneasiness, once bred, becomes rapidly epidemic.

The Missinabie rolls through the seas, a black hulk in a black sea. There is not a light to betray her. Smoking is prohibited on deck. A military squad, composed of crack shots, guards the decks. If the pirates clash with us, they will at least be given a fight for their money.

Many of the soldiers have volunteered as stokers, and the ship is putting her best foot forward. A rather interesting incident occurred early in the evening. A grimy stoker came on deck for his usual evening smoke. His first match failed in its mission. A sentry moved over and commanded, "Stop that smoking." "What the devil," the surprised stoker ejaculated; "I will smoke."

Suiting the deed to the word, he struck a match and applied it to his old clay. Biff! Smash went the match, clay, tobacco—the entire smoke. The seaman hauled back and let drive. He missed. The Tommy gave him a beautiful trimming. One eye stuck out like a boiled lobster. There was no more smoking on deck.

A little later one of the ship's crew was arrested while using a flashlight to read the ship's log.

There are quite a few civilians on board as well as the advance guard of the Second Contingent, the Army Service Corps Training Depot, which is going to ———, probably Shorncliffe, where it will work out and perfect the system to be used by the Army Service of the Second Canadian Contingent.

Army Service Corps.

Very few people understand or appreciate the part played by the Army Service Corps in modern warfare. Much has been said about the wonderful care given the men at the front, about the excellent and abundant supplies of all kinds. The Army Service is responsible for this.

They take charge of the main base—say Havre — up to which the navy is responsible — and everything in the way of supplies goes through their hands. In other words, they serve the army. If they failed, the men would starve, the transportation of reinforcements would cease, and the army would be stranded. There is nothing haphazard in the system which is responsible for supplying the men. A perfect chain of responsibility runs from the trench to the war office. The regimental quartermaster is directly responsible to the men through the staff for their supplies of all sorts. Every day he prepares an indent for the following day's needs. This indent goes to the senior supply officer. If anything occurs to prevent the sergeant quartermaster's reporting, the previous day's indent is repeated. The senior supply officer is responsible for the feeding and supplying of a division. Next above him is the inspector general commanding.

Berlin Hears British Lost Heavily in Two Days Fighting

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Berlin, April 20. — The overseas agency declares special mail reports from East Africa state that in two days' fighting between Germans and British troops landed from cruisers and transports, the British lost seven hundred men including four campanies captured, while German losses were only fifty-six.

Two Morning Calls on Fire Department

Burning timbers in the foundation of a disused building situated at the corner of Stewart and Simcoe streets were noticed this morning by neighbors. How the fire originated is a mystery, but it looked threatening to adjoining frame buildings, and an alarm was turned in. A line of hose was quickly laid and the blaze extinguished with comparatively no damage.

Earlier in the morning, about 8:10, the department responded to fight an outbreak in a house situated on Murray street near the creek. Fire had started between the shingles and rafters, presumably from a defective chimney. Very little damage occurred, and two pails of water were sufficient to quell the trouble. The house was occupied by Mr. Wm. Duncan.

MURDERER OF FACTORY GIRL FACES CHAIR

Washington, April 20.—The Supreme Court of the United States today dismissed the appeal of Leo M. Frank of Atlanta, Georgia, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, from the decision of the U. S. District Court of Georgia, denying him a writ of habeas corpus. The high court refused to take Frank out of the jurisdiction of the state courts of Georgia, which now are free to carry out a death sentence imposed upon him for the murder of the factory girl.

It is believed that only the state pardon officials of Georgia can now save Frank from the death penalty for his conviction.

PARIS, April 20. — This afternoon's official statement says: There have been particularly spirited artillery exchanges in the region of Soissons and in sectors of Rheims and the Argonne, otherwise there is no news to give out.

FAILED IN ATTEMPT TO SAVE LIFE OF HIS WIFE

Thos. Strachan Government Engineer is Drowned in Severn River

WAUBAUSHENE, April 20.—Two residents of Port Severn, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Strachan, went to their death together last night in the Severn river after an heroic attempt by Mr. Strachan to rescue his wife, who had fallen in. The struggling couple were swept over the shoot and down the rapids, and were last seen near Hurl's hotel, which abuts the river. The bodies have not been recovered.

Mrs. Strachan had gone to the river edge to dip a pail of water and accidentally fell in. Her cries brought Mr. Strachan, who without a moment's hesitation plunged in to save her, and they were swept down by a strong current together. It is very uncertain whether the bodies will be found, as the current is very swift, especially at this season of the year, and they will probably be carried out a long distance. A large family of small children survive.

Mr. Strachan was the Dominion Government resident engineer at Port Severn and had been stationed there about two years. Mr. and Mrs. Strachan were each about forty years of age.

A drowning accident occurred here Sunday when Michael Sweet, aged 55 years, a traper, lost his life in the river near the locks. The body has not yet been recovered.

PEACE RUMORS

BIG WIN IN GERMAN SOUTHWEST AFRICA

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LIVERY HORSE WAS ILL TREATED

Jesse Airress is Assessed $15.75 in Police Court

Gunner Jesse Airress of the 26th Overseas Battery encamped at Kingston, is home on furlough, and this morning the wearer of the khaki occupied a box seat at the police court. The charge was cruelty to a horse, which Gunner Airress hired from Fountaine's livery on Sunday. He was convicted and assessed $5.00 and costs, amounting to $15.75, to be paid forthwith.

According to the evidence of A. Fountaine, proprietor of the livery from which the horse was secured, Airress took the horse out on Sunday at 8:30 to go to Chemong Indian village, a distance of 14 miles. He returned at 8:30 p.m.; and the animal showed signs of being badly treated. He counted fifty whip marks on one side of the horse. The animal was not heated but showed signs of nervousness. The horse was freer than ordinary livery horses. Up to date the animal has not been used because of its poor condition.

Jack Heffernan, employed at Fountaine's livery, gave corroborative evidence as to the condition of the horse. Airress hired the horse from him in the morning. So far as he knew the horse was not in the habit of becoming unmanageable while on the road.

Questioned by Ozias de Laplante, counsel for the accused, witness stated that Airress was sober when he returned.

Dr. George Fortune, a veterinary surgeon, testified that he saw the horse on Sunday evening after she was brought back to the livery stable. He estimated the number of whip marks to be up in the hundreds. The marks are the results of small blood vessels breaking from the effects of the blows. Such handling of a horse he considered brutal.

Questioned by Mr. Laplante, Dr. Fortune stated emphatically that such a whipping was not necessary. "If he goes to the front and fights the Germans as he did this horse, the war will soon be over," he concluded.

Gunner Airress, the defendant, called to the box, said he took the horse out in the morning and drove to Oak Orchard, a distance of sixteen miles. He did not whip the horse on the way out. At four minutes to six in the evening he left for Peterborough. The horse travelled very slowly. He was accompanied by his cousin, Ellis Armstrong. The horse stopped several times on the road home, and it was under such circumstances that the whip was used. When the animal stopped and was whipped, she didn't jump. She stood still.

Dr. Fortune and A. Fountaine both were re-called and gave evidence that Airress's statements about the horse revealed conditions unknown to them.

Magistrate Dumble, in reviewing the case, pointed out how evidence showing that the horse was badly treated was uncontradicted. Defendant swore he only made six miles per hour, but in view of the other evidence His Worship found the accused guilty.

CHARGE AGAINST SWOBODA DROPS

Couldn't Convict Him of Setting Fire to La Touraine

IS HELD AS SPY

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Paris, April 20.—The French military authorities have decided to drop the charge against Raymond Swoboda, of setting fire to the La Touraine, as there is not sufficient evidence to obtain a conviction. He still faces a charge of spying.

BOARD OF WORKS EMPLOYES WILL FLUSH STREETS

If Kingston Council Decides to Continue the Work

A few days ago The Review in reporting an aldermanic discussion on the question of flushing the paved streets, also published an item from Kingston, which stated that the firemen had been called out in the early morning, for flushing operations. The Chief wrote to the chairman of the fire department committee at Kingston and below is given a copy of the reply he received:—

W. A. Howard,
Chief, Fire Dept.,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,

This morning I received your letter together with clipping from Peterborough daily newspaper of April 15th, relative to the flushing of pavements in Kingston by the firemen.

For your information I might state that at a meeting of our Board of Works Committee held about two weeks ago the question of street cleaning came up for discussion. We were satisfied that the cleaning by hand brooms was costly and not serviceable.

I advocated the flushing of paved streets with hose and asked permission from Board of Works to allow me to make a test with the firemen doing the work. I brought the matter before by Committee on Fire, and Light and on their instructions, Chief Armstrong co-operated with me in having the test made, he taking charge of the same

The test took place on Wednesday morning last at 5 o'clock, and I think is generally conceded to have been a success.

I have a report showing time occupied, number of men working, gallons of water used, etc., to submit to a meeting of Board of Works on Tuesday, April 20th

Should they adopt the scheme of flushing it will not be the intention to use the firemen to do the work. Board of Works would purchase hose and do the flushing with their own men. Our chief and firemen were only wanted to do the work on this occasion to furnish us with a test.

Trusting this information will be clear to you as to our intentions, I am,

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) N. E. O'CONNOR,
Chairman,
Fire and Light Committee.

GERMAN HEADQUARTERS REPORT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

[illegible] headquarters report this morning says that the German sapping attacks in the Champagne country yesterday made progress, while a French attack in the Argonne north of Four-de-Paris failed.

A French attack near Fliery broke down.

We stormed and reoccupied the village of Embermenil, in the Vosges. A French attack on Schillecker heights failed, while a German advance on Hartmanns-Weilerkopf gained about one hundred yards.

The situation on the eastern front is unchanged.

BRITISH DESTROYED SUBMARINE E 15

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 20. — The admiralty announces that submarine E-15, which grounded in the Dardanelles, was torpedoed by picket boats from the Triumph and Majestic and rendered useless. This work was carried out with great gallantry under fire from batteries which sank the Majestic's boat, but only one life was lost.

The announcement does not mention the submarine's crew, who apparently were captured by the Turks, as reported from Constantinople.

MOTOR DIVISION OF THE CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY ASSEMBLED AT MAIDENHEAD, NEAR CLIVEDEN

The Canadian Red Cross Society now has some 40 motor ambulances in England and ten more are ready for shipment as soon as accommodation can be secured on the boats. The fleet shown above, assembled at Maidenhead, is, of course, only a small part of the total number of the Society's motor ambulances in England. Maidenhead is near Cliveden, where the Duchess of Connaught Canadian base hospital is situated.

TRANSPORTS SUNK SAYS LETTER.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., April 20.—Unpbulished information said to have been received from a British naval officer at home at Dundee, Scotland, on leave is contained in a letter written to a woman residing in Russell Avenue, St. Catharines, by her daughter, who states that the officer informed her that the German cruiser which was sunk by Admiral Sir David Beatty's squadron in the North Sea was escorting two transports which had 5,000 German troops aboard. The letter states on the authority of the officer that the two transports were also sunk and all

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, APRIL 20, 1915

ARE YOU ENGLISH?

THE IRISH in Canada, as is well known in places like Peterborough, make it a point to remember the anniversary of the patron saint of Ireland, St. Patrick. This action is quite proper, as it exhibits a pride in the country of their origin that is always praiseworthy, for, if those of other countries are to respect Ireland and the Irish, the Irish must first respect themselves and their own country. The Scotch, too, do not forget St. Andrew, then why should the English allow the anniversary of St. George to pass with such slight notice as has prevailed in recent years, particularly in Canada?

At the present time the manhood of England has responded nobly to the call to the colours—that response has not only astonished the world, but astonished themselves. Of all times, Englishmen, or those of English origin, have no better occasion on which to remember their patron saint than this year. Not only English, but all Canadians, should join in celebrating St. George's Day next Friday, April 23rd.

England owes much to Scotland and Ireland, but, at the same time, the world owes much to England. She has some of the greatest traditions of the world; she has given many great names to history; she has gone through more than one crisis, when she had her back to the wall, fighting enemies on every hand. Today she has staked all her power and wealth and glory in the cause of liberty and honour; she is fighting the battle of the weak against the strong, warring for the integrity of plighted word and the maintenance of international law. Although fighting against a nation that has violated every recognized rule of warfare and of international law, that has committed great crimes in the name of civilization, not once has England or any Britisher violated the dictates of humanity. Surely, Canadians have cause to wear a rose on St. George's Day; and surely every son of England has reason to thank God that he owns such a country as his fatherland.

A LAUDABLE DISTINCTION.

OF TOO FEW governments in the past can it be said, as the Manitoba Free Press (Lib.) says of the Borden administration:

> "The Dominion Government has shown a creditable willingness to investigate irregularities in connection with the giving of military contracts. There has been no gag rule, no appeal to narrow contemptible technicalities in order to prevent the production of evidence."

This is only one of a number of similar utterances by leading Liberal newspapers. It speaks well for them that they are independent and courageous enough to recognize merit at a time when support of clean politics is urgently needed. Premier Sir Robert Borden has taken the position that wrongs should be righted whether the process involves Liberals or Conservatives. The Premier will have the support of every fair-minded man in the country, regardless of party, in his efforts to impress on the whole people that there are certain standards in public life that must be maintained. Politics for the honour of it, not for the profit of it, is the aim to be followed.

THE WARRIORS OF THE CZAR.

ONLY VAGUE OUTLINES of the terrible fighting between the Russians and the Germans and Austrians has reached the public. We know that the tide of battle has swayed backward and forward amid the whirling blasts of Russian snows. We have read of the campaign waged with varying success in the mountain fastnesses of the Carpathians. The odds were, at the beginning of the war, against Russia, yet the weightiest armies and the best strategy of the Germans have been successfully met. Very probably this Russian success has been due to the spirit of the Russian soldiers. An American writer, Stephen Graham, thus writes of the warriors of the Czar:

> "War to the Russian soldier is a great religious experience. [illegible] always ready to die,' says a [illegible] of the Russians. And readiness to die is the religious side of war. The Russian soldier kills his enemy without religious qualm, yet without hate. He does not feel that to shoot at a fellow man, to charge at him with a bayonet, is doing an evil thing to him. The great reality that confronts him is not that he may kill others, but that he himself may suffer terrible pain or may lose the familiar and pleasant thing called life. In order to face this, the Russian has to dive down deep in himself and find a deeper self below his ordinary self; he has to find the common spirit of man below his own ego; he has to live in communion with the fount of Life from which his own little stream of life is flowing. No relic of the war is more precious than the little loaf of holy bread which the soldier saves from his last communion before going to battle or going under fire for the first time.
>
> "The Russian soldiers go to war very much in the same spirit as the Russian pilgrims go toward Jerusalem. Indeed, many a man was just about to start out for Jerusalem when the war broke out and he was summoned to fight against the Germans. In the fields of East Prussia and of Poland he found as veritable a Jerusalem as that he sought in Palestine. It is perhaps a shorter way thither."

A JOB FOR THE CENSOR.

A WRITER in the Guelph Herald complains of the indiscriminate circulation of pamphlets or books dealing with medical subjects, diseases of women, or having such titles as "what a mother ought to know." This complaint is well founded. A great deal of such reading matter is being distributed in such a manner that thousands of children can easily get it, read it, and stir up their morbid imagination. Parents are in many cases ignorant of these things, and their children are done infinite harm by coming in contact with this class of reading matter. It is our opinion that all reading matter for free distribution that is of a medical character should be censored and licensed. Not until there is some control of reading matter of this description will there be any likelihood of improvement.

A PRESENT NEED.

THERE IS many a man who will walk up to a poll and cast his vote for a candidate he knows to be crooked in preference over one he believes to be straight, and then when the inevitable "revelations" come, he will send up a howl like that of Campbell's famous wolf on Unalaska's shore. We need a little more honesty and consistency at the polling booth and in the ballot-box.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

IT IS STATED that Lord Kitchener has 1,200 callers daily. That is at the rate of 200 an hour for a day of six hours. That means 3 1-3 visitors a minute. It means 200 bows an hour, if he receives them. Now, we can understand three a minute, but the fraction— But why pursue the subject further?

THOMAS GOWANS, editor and publisher of the Uxbridge Journal, has been arraigned on two charges of libel. Cheer up, brother, the most they can give you is two hundred dollars' fine AND two years' imprisonment.

IT IS to be hoped the authorities in Peterborough will show a little enterprise before next Sunday and provide against the whirlwinds of dust that were in constant evidence on George street last Sunday.

Kitchener might take our plan to get rid of visitors. We start to read a long editorial to them. Kitch. might start on one of Gladstone's famous marathons on the tariff.

HON. FRANK OLIVER complains that the Government is throwing away money. If he had anything to do with it, he would have coralled it in the Edmonton Bulletin's strong box.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN has declared war on political pirates. They would be well advised to seek cover as soon as possible.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Sovereign Bank's Career.

(The Monetary Times.)

The defunct Sovereing Bank of Canada, although a comparatively small institution with capital of $3,000,000, probably had the most unique, although unfortunate, career of any Canadian banking institution. At its head was a general manager, determined to make things hum and to mince traditions in the Canadian banking world. He initiated quarterly interest payments on savings accounts and was the first to hang a shingle over the bank's doorway. The frock-coated routine of banking was much disturbed. Later, German capital became interested in the institution. The Dresdner Bank of Germany, with Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Company, of New York, made a $2,000,000 investment in the Sovereign Bank, the German institution contributing half the amount. When the Sovereign Bank failed, the Dresdner Bank agreed to allow its investment to remain in this country, having agreed to the plan of the formation of International Assets, Limited, a company incorporated to take over the assets and liabilities of the Sovereign Bank. From present appearances, the Dresdner Bank's money may remain in Canada for some time.

One of the assets of the Sovereign Bank was the Alaska Northern Railway, owned by International Assets. This road has now been sold to the United States Government for $1,150,000. That will help those shareholders of the bank who turned over their interests to the company formed to purchase the bank's assets. The incident also may induce a few shareholders who have not done so, to throw in their lot with the company.

The Sovereign Bank was one of the few gay dogs in our banking circles. And finally it went their way.

Much Ado About Nothing.

(Montreal La Patrie.)

Recruiting has up to the present time been absolutely satisfactory. We can acknowledge on this point the testimony of the Hon. Frank Oliver, who, speaking in the name of the Opposition in the House of Commons, has [illegible] has accomplished. And goodness knows the Opposition is not lavish in its compliments; rather it is inclined to exaggerate criticism as witness the inquiries into the supply of war materials where the Liberals have made much ado about nothing.

Creditable to Both.

(Dr. Michael Clark, Liberal M.P.)

The right hon. leader of the Government shows to this country in his own person in no small degree those qualities of doggedness and pertinacity which are the heritage of our race and which have done much to found the greatness of the Empire, and which will, please God, settle this war as it should be settled. I should like to add, which I do very sincerely, that I am personally glad that my right hon. friend has, if he did nothing else in the public life of this country, secured his niche in the temple of great Canadians.

Back to the Back Yard.

(Toronto Star.)

Some men make money in farming. An Essex farmer got $1360 for his eighteen acres of beans and $1100 for his five acres of tobacco. It is news like this that encourages a city man to go out behind the house and dig a place where he can put in a dozen tomato plants.

SUPERVISED PLAYGROUNDS.

Editor Review,

Dear Sir,—With much interest I have been reading for some time past your contributed articles on supervised playgrounds. Great praise is due to the local Council of Women, from the citizens, for this most laudable enterprise on their part. I do not know how they propose to finance this movement but may I suggest that some of our more wealthy citizens might be proud to help and might like to contribute one or more of the pieces of mechanism which are necessary to run a playground or might even care to contribute towards the salary of one or both of the supervisors of that ground.

In whatever way the local Council of Women may choose to raise funds, may they have the whole-hearted help and sympathy of the whole community and may one playground be merely the stepping-stone leading to many more in our city.

Yours, etc.,

A WELL-WISHER.

THE "HIGHLAND" BRIGADE.

(Glasgow Star.)

Some of the papers are finding fault with the Irish because they are not joining Kitchener's army in large numbers, but they have only to read the list of killed and wounded in English and Scotch regiments to find an answer to their question. Among the various arrivals of wounded in Stobhill Hospital are to be found the following names in Scotch regiments:

Come listen to me you who seek for our aid,
Till I read you some names from the "Highland" Brigade,
Who went to the front all the Germans to kill,
And a batch of those wounded are now in Stobhill.

I find on the list an O'Malley and Boyle,
A Murphy, a Kelly, a 'Riley and Doyle;
A Casey, a Carney, a Rourke and McCann,
All strapping young Highlanders every man.
There are Rooneys and Dohertys there by the score,
And Gallaghers, too, you'll find in galore;
While Muldoon and O'Connors can also be had,
Troth, the ould boy himself couldn't bate such a squad.

And bedad, there you'll find Super Riordan from Cork,
The skirl o' whose piper could be heard in New York,
And Meagher, who plays the first bass in grand style,
Who, I'll swear, never slept in the shire of Argyll.

There is Driscoll, a bandsman, and Pipe Major Foy,
With a Carrey, McLaughlin, Maginn and Malloy;
An O'Leary and Doogan, McBride and McGill.

LATEST NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Three more Dutch trawlers have been seized by German warships and taken to Hamburg, according to news received from Ymuiden yesterday.

Sessions designed to bring about a settlement of the strike of 16,000 union carpenters were begun in Chicago yesterday by the State Board of Arbitration.

Plunging into the Hudson river at Rondout, N.Y., Everett Morris, a "down-and-outer," saved two boys from drowning and earned the price of a meal from an onlooker.

Pte. Edward S. Jennings, of the Princess Patricias, reported killed in action, was a merchant at Bethune, Sask., before enlisting at the opening of the war. He was a prominent Orangeman.

The auxiliary German cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm was placed in drydock yesterday. Official survey of her condition was begun at once. The vessel is guarded by forty soldiers from Fort Monroe.

Peter McL. Forin, aged 47, barrister of Belleville, died yesterday of pneumonia. He was a son of the late John Forin of that city. A brother, Dr. Forin, lives in Edmonton, and another brother is a judge at Nelson, B.C.

COAL MINERS MAY STRIKE

Welsh Colliers Decide to Give Notice of Walk-out

LONDON, April 20.—A critical situation has arisen among the coal miners. Representatives of the Welsh miners have unanimously decided in favor of tendering a fortnight's notice of a proposed strike to the mine-owners in order to enforce their demands for a 20 per cent. increase in wages. The Miners' Federation of Great Britain will meet to-morrow to decide what action they will take to compel the mine-owners to accede to their demand for a similar increase.

That the result of the trouble will be anything like a national strike of the miners is considered improbable, but it may necessitate Government intervention in a very drastic manner.

Want Premiers In London.

LONDON, April 20. — The Manchester Despatch discussing yesterday the participation of the dominions in peace problems says: "It is the very hour when for the first time complete unity in Imperial policy is not only possible but certain if the natural means of securing it are not thrown away. The excuse given that everybody is too busy will not do. It is the Empire's war, but the Colonial Office has not yet realized that fact that the presence of the dominions' Premiers in London now would be of incalculable value.

Cotton Being Barred.

LONDON, April 20.—That cotton is being kept out of Germany and Austria just as effectively as if it were declared absolute contraband, is the tenor of a reply addressed by Attorney-General Simon to a conference of chemists and engineers who raised the question whether the action taken by the Government was sufficient to make it certain that no cotton reaches those countries.

ITALY DECIDED

According to Reported Statement of Neutral Diplomat

ROME, April 20.—The Giornale d'Italia yesterday published an interview with an unnamed neutral diplomat, who is quoted as having said:

"That Italy will participate in the war has been decided on. What now is necessary is clearly to agree on the delimitation and distribution of the eastern coast of the Adriatic between Italy and the Slavs. Italy cannot risk a war to drive out Austria from the Adriatic and have Austria replaced in a military sense by the Russian advance guards. Therefore Italy must have her strategic points completed by obtaining Avlona, Albania, across the Adriatic from Brindisi, with which she could close the sea. Some of the Slavs favor complete disarmament in the Adriatic."

The diplomat added that he thought that Russia and Great Britain would suffer less from the present war than from the antagonism between the two countries which would follow it.

A despatch from Copenhagen says:

"Special messages from Vienna state that great excitement prevails here owing to information received from Trentino.

"It is believed that war with Italy is imminent.

"The Ialian embassy is said to be prepared for departure."

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

"Good Morning" and "Sweetheart"

By SAMUEL E. BRANT.

I had been running a locomotive for ten years, my runs always covering those hours when persons are free to mingle with one another sociably.

I was getting old—that is, what I thought was old in those days. I was thirty-four, and I didn't like the prospect before me. I'm a domestic man, and home is the only place for me when I'm not busy. I used to envy every snug cot I passed on my line, and my heart sank that I couldn't have one of my own. I had the money saved up, but if I got the house I had no woman to put into it, and what's a house without a woman? And, what's more, there's no use in a man's trying to make a home without a wife.

There was one place beside the road that I thought if I got a wife I would like to buy and fix it up to live in. It wasn't far from my starting point, and between runs I could spend my time there in comfort. Ever since I had gone on to the route it had been shut up. It was a two story cottage with a big porch. I thought how nice it would be to sit on the porch in summer and smoke my pipe while my wife was cleaning away things after getting supper.

But one morning when I passed the house I saw that my dream had been spoiled. Some one had taken my prospective home away from me. At any rate, a man was repairing it, another was painting it, and a third was mending the fence. A few days later when I went by I saw an old lady sitting on the porch.

One Sunday I saw a young woman fixing up the grounds. I concluded that she was the old lady's daughter and was at work in a store or an office, leaving Sunday her only day free for working about the house. When July came on she used to work about the place Saturday afternoons, but when September came she stopped this. I didn't see any man about the place and concluded the young woman was a spinster.

One day during the winter she was starting out from the house just as I was drawing near it. I didn't give her time to cross the track, for I wished to see her close by. When I reached her she was waiting for my train to pass, and I looked right down on her from the cab window. It happened that she looked up and saw an expression of admiration on my face. It was only a passing glimpse for either of us, but it was enough.

After that I saw the young woman quite often when I passed. I noticed that on my outward run on Sunday, when I passed her house about 11 o'clock, she was always on the porch with the old lady or working in the garden. But this was when the weather was warm. And I could see that she knew my train, and I fancied she was looking out for me.

When spring came on I noticed her out making a flower garden. When she had got the ground in order she put in some seed. In March the plants began to come up, and it looked to me as if they were going to make letters. And so they did. They were tulips and spelled "Good morning."

Now, there was no reason to suppose these words were intended for me any more than any one else, but somehow I couldn't get it out of my head that they were. At any rate, I just thought I'd risk making some sort of reply. There was an embankment not far from the house and in plain sight from it. One night I went out with some seeds and, making a bed on the side of this embankment, planted them. In a couple of weeks they were up and spelled "Sweetheart."

I took my train out one Sunday morning about the time my letter flowers got big enough to be read from the house. The girl was on the porch and as I passed threw me a kiss and ran into the house.

This was all the flower courting there was, for it was too slow. At any rate, it was too slow for me. I didn't want any more encouragement. The first spare time I had I got myself up in a clean boiled shirt and a decent suit of clothes and went to the house to get welcomed or snubbed, as the case might be, for there are girls who will be up to a lot of skylarking that won't stand to be approached except in the regular way.

The only weapon I took with me to make a fight with was a posy. I knew she was fond of flowers, and I relied on this considerably.

I went to the door and knocked. It was opened by the girl herself, and when she saw me she sort of shrieked and was going to shut it when I held my posy under her nose.

That did the business. She laughed and blushed and invited me in.

The old lady was there, and the girl introduced me to her, calling her mother. I began by saying a lot of nice things to the old lady, telling her what a cozy place she had and how often I had admired it.

Well, there isn't much more to tell. The rest of the courtship was very much like other courtships, I reckon, although ours was, I fancy, a little more delightful than any other. At the end of it I moved my traps to the house, my wife stopped work, and now I have a run that lets me off at 4 p. m., and about 5 I go into the gate for the rest of the day. The click of the latch is the signal for a lot of little tots to come out and climb all over me.

Keep Ponies In Ice Stables.

A Danish explorer who has just returned from a journey across the inland ice of Greenland made use of Icelandic ponies, which he found to be well adapted to arctic travel. When stops were made the horses were sheltered in holes cut in the ice. These ice stalls were quite comfortable and in severe weather were covered with tarpaulins to keep out snow and wind. The small horses gave a good account of themselves and will doubtless be used extensively in future arctic expeditions.—Popular Mechanics.

BUTTERFLIES ON FROCKS.

Combined In Many Designs For Ornamenting Spring Gowns.

SPRING LINGERIE DRESS.

The butterfly motif is used effectively in the decoration of many of the models shown for spring and summer. The pretty frock of white cotton voile here illustrated is embellished with a hand embroidered design in butterflies and scrolls. The skirt has the smart yoke shirred in this case. There is a high frilled collar, with a velvet band to secure it to the neck. The girdle is of black velvet ribbon.

MILITARY HATS.

Everybody Is Wearing Them and Looking Pert and Pretty.

Would you be in fashion? Then adopt a hat which in shape at least resembles one worn by some person in military service in the armies of Europe.

It need not be a general officer. It is the private or the marine who gets the head covering which is jauntiest. These hats must be of the sort which best become a feminine face not too old for small hats, which are only convincing when partly posed a trifle toward one ear.

Among the new millinery there is not a model exactly like Tommy Atkins', but there is a tiny affair which covers no more of the hair than does his of scarlet cloth. Like the majority of the military hats not designed for service at the front, this one is of black velvet. A broad sided rever brim lies so flatly against the crown that its presence would be overlooked but for an edging of narrow silver ribbon. Tiny tassels in silver or gold are new among military trimmings, but they are not a surprise, for they accord perfectly with the tinsel braids and cordings.

Homemade Icebox.

Few people know that a very good icebox for summer use can be made by placing a small box inside a larger one and filling the space between with sawdust. Set on blocks, bore a hole in bottom of both. If kept tightly closed twenty pounds of ice will keep in this box three or four days.

Air and Exercise.

Air is absolutely essential to the well being of every child. The mother should make it a part of her regular duties to see that her child has at least two hours' outdoor exercise every day. If school is over at 3 the child can come in at 5 to prepare his or her lessons for the following day.

THE ART OF SHOPPING

There is more in shopping than entering a department and buying certain articles. There is an art of successfully carrying out this necessary and delightful business that can easily be learned.

The shopper should remember that time is money and that salespeople are like herself, human, and equally deserving of courtesy and consideration.

There are one or two "Do's" that every shopper should lay to heart:

Do remember to have clearly in mind what it is that you require. Bring patterns if matching is to be done.

Do not forget that the saleswoman has to attend to many customers and cannot give an undue share of her time to any one. So do not indulge in long and unnecessary conversation.

Do remember that standing behind a counter all day is fatiguing and make allowances for human nature.

GOING MAD FROM THE TERRIFIC PAIN

Prominent Merchant Thinks His Life Was Saved By "Fruit-a-tives".

DRYSDALE, ONT., JUNE 15th. 1913.

"I am a general storekeeper at the above address, and on account of the great good I have experienced from using "Fruit-a-tives", I recommend them to my customers. They were a great boon to me, I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a terrific pain at the base of my skull. The pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would turn to Inflammation of the Brain, but I took "Fruit-a-tives" steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking "Fruit-a-tives", and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness". J. A. CORRIVEAU.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

To remove grease spots from wall paper sprinkle baking soda over blotting paper, place over the spot and press a moderately warm iron against it for a few minutes. The blotting paper will absorb the grease, and the spot on the wall paper will disappear.

To keep French ivory white wash it with alcohol instead of water. This is particularly useful in caring for the popular toilet sets and similar articles. Piano keys should also be cleaned in this way. Water should not be used on them.

To fill cracks in plaster use plaster of paris mixed with vinegar instead of water. This will give the plaster the consistency of putty, and it will not set for twenty or thirty minutes. If water is used the plaster hardens before you have time to use it if cracks to be filled are large or many.

One of your readers asked what could be done with cane bottomed chairs that have sagged. Sponge both sides of the cane with hot soapsuds in which a handful of salt has been dissolved, then stand the chair in the open air. When dry it will be found that the seats have shrunk to their original size.

If the tiling in a hearth or bathroom floor becomes so stained that water will not clean it try rubbing with a piece of flannel soaked in turpentine, then polish with a dry cloth. The tiling will soon look fresh and new with this treatment.

NEW VOILE GOWN.

Spring Model With Round Neck and Velvet Girdle.

A charming new frock is of white cotton voile embroidered with white porcelain beads interspersed with tiny jet beads.

About the hem of the moderately wide skirt there is a border of black velvet about three inches wide, and this same trimming is used to outline the tablier hanging from the back of the waist halfway down the skirt.

The neck of this model is round in outline and exploits one of the very few effects not finished with a high neck band.

There is a girdle of black velvet ribbon with hanging loops and ends posed a little to one side of the back.

When Preparing Croquettes.

To make the beaten egg in which you dip croquettes go further use hot water, beating all the while.

The proportion is three tablespoonfuls of water to one egg.

Travel and Comfort.

Comfort is only another term for habit. The older we grow the more "sot" we become until any break in the routine of existence spells discomfort. One's slippers must be beside the bed and one's clothing disposed on the same hooks and chairs day after day; the water for shaving must be of the right temperature; breakfast is wanted, and so through the twenty-four hours.

Now, travel disarranges this routine; therefore it is well to travel—more or less; to fish for slippers in the welter of a valise's contents, to shave with cold water, to breakfast at some one else's convenience and in general to move along the line of most resistance. Even good habits need disrupting now and then, for the pursuit of comfort leads to selfishness and inconsiderateness, as the paths of glory lead but to the grave.—Chicago Tribune.

Another One.

Here's a new definition of a pessimist:

"A pessimist is a man who pulls down all the blinds and then kicks about the darkness."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Idea!

"You must leave your cane in the coatroom," said the attendant at the art gallery.

"What's that? Then what am I going to point at the pictures with?"—Meggendorfer Blatter.

For the Children

Skating Is One of Winter's Most Enjoyable Sports.

Winter brings no more glorious sport than that of skating. With the crisp, frosty air exciting one to effort, a good pair of skates and hard, smooth ice the sport is exhilarating in the highest degree. Most boys and girls will experience a thrill of delight when they view the picture of the young woman on skates. It will remind them of many joyous hours spent in this favorite pastime. In health promoting qualities no exercise excels skating. The ease with which one glides over the ice at great speed is the great charm, and by no other method of locomotion can the human being cover so great a distance without the aid of machinery. But in skating there are a few things to remember. Do not skate until in profuse perspiration and then sit down to cool off. That procedure is almost sure to result in a serious cold. When overheated move slowly about until the body is in a normal state of temperature. Of course it is unnecessary to remind young folks that thin ice and air holes must be avoided.

Who Am I?

This game is always a favorite, and, while not new, it may be made to seem so by choosing new characters each time of playing.

The hostess prepares in advance as many slips of paper as there are guests expected, writing upon each the name of some well known character in fiction or history on in contemporary life. Upon the arrival of her friends as she greets them she pins one of the bits of paper on the back of each. The wearers do not see them or know what characters they are supposed to represent, but are expected to guess it from the remarks of the rest, who are careful not to tell the name. For instance, the "Queen of Hearts" may be complimented upon her domestic talents and her delicious pastry and be asked whether her dishonest servant had reformed or been dismissed.

"Little Red Riding Hood" may be condoled with on the death of her grandmother and warned of the danger of making chance acquaintances on the road.

"Henry VIII." might be rallied on his fondess for the ladies and questioned about divorces; "Goliath" advised to "take a man of his size," and not bully a little fellow, and "Columbus" might be asked about his voyages and discoveries.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine for several months without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, years since your watch was cleaned or oiled. Though it cannot even squeak its protest, it is slowly but nevertheless surely, wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders, as well as add years to its usefulness. Bring it in.

TRIP OF A MILLION WONDERS! THE REVIEW OFFERS YOU THE BEST CHANCE OF A LIFETIME

Candidates Are Entering Daily and the Early Entrants Will Have the Best of it --- Subscribers Are Asked to Clip the Coupons From Their Paper and Save Them for the Lady Who Wants Them --- World's Fair Buildings Described as Restful to the Eye --- No Glaring White Plaster --- Join the Contest Party To-day

The first vote announced yesterday created much interest amongst candidates and their friends and since then others who just wanted to see what there was to beat, have started, and promise to be in the running within a few days. We would point out that the actual votes placed to the credit of any candidate are not sufficiently high to prevent those on the lowest rung of the ladder climbing to the top. A few yearly subscriptions will place any one in the running and in some districts, way in the lead, and we would further point out that now is the time to get the subscriptions, for later you will have been anticipated, and the story you will hear from your friends will be something like this: Well, that's really too bad; I promised Miss —— last week to take out a subscription, but if I had known you were in it I certainly would have kept it for you ......and so on. This is the time to get results—now, and promised subscriptions will be good later—but you must get the promise first

We wish our candidates to realize the delightful tour which they have before them, and to keep the goal always in mind and it will be a strong incentive to effort.

Well, we shall say something about the places visited "en route" later, and today will speak a little of the exposition itself, which may be figured as the central attraction.

Probably the buildings at the exposition will exceed in beauty any that have gone before.

French Renaissance Architecture.

The architecture of the palace of horticulture, festival hall, the Press building and the Y.W.C.A. building, which stand in the beautiful south gardens near the main entrance, is based on the general motives of the French renaissance. In the decidedly ornate detail of these structures Guerin used a light green.

The palace of horticulture, with its great central dome, is surrounded with exuberant detail of caryatids and obelisks. The facades of the exhibits palaces fronting on the avenue of palms and the courts of palms and flowers which open into it, are suggestive of the Italian renaissance. The prevailing colors are a soft pastel red, an old copper green, cobalt blue and other soft, oriental shades. Oriental, Grecian, Roman and Spanish Gothic types shade into each other in the palaces and the central courts. The palace of fine arts is uniformly Grecian.

The dull ivory tone of the imitation Travertine marble used in the exterior construction is restful to the eyes; one may view the exposition for hours without the slighest eye strain.

John McLaren, superintendent of Golden Gate park, had charge of the landscape work. Several years ago nurseries, with several hundreds of thousands of plants, were established. Cypress, eucalyptus, pine and palm trees, some of them sixty feet high, were transplanted to the fair site. Two years ago this area was a waste of sand dunes, strewn with shacks. Today it is one of the beauty spots of the world.

500 Searchlights to Be Used.

The night illumination system far outstrips the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The Tower of Jewels, 435 feet high, is decked with 125,000 glass "jewels," cut in Austria, as lapidaries who could do the work could not be found elsehwere. The jewels are of the color of various gems, and, delicately hung and swaying in the wind, they give forth a gorgeous scintillation in the sunlight and a still more gorgeous brilliance under the effect of batteries of huge searchlights at night.

About 500 large searchlights are used in the night display. Forty-eight of these are placed on a sea wall at the north side of the grounds. Giving united brilliance greater than that of all the searchlights of the United States navy, searching the skies, as a background to the palaces. So intense is the illumination that the reflection of the Marin hills in the bay, two miles away, may be seen clearly.

This is the first exposition in which indirect lighting has been used, although there is not an absolute adherence to this plan. With the exception of the concessions area, no outline lighting appears. By the use of color screens on the searchlights the feat of literally painting the exposition in light is accomplished.

China Has Gay Temple.

Among the most striking foreign pavilions China, is represented by a gay temple for the Japanese garden, the trees, plants, earth and stones were brought from Japan.

Canada is installed comfortably and efficiently in an impressive, $300,000 pavilion of "parliamentary" architecture.

The Argentine Republic is spending $1,700,000. Holland shows a building of fantastic beauty, with several acres of gardens. France, in spite of the war, confirmed its appropriation of $400,000. The pavilion is to be a reproduction of the palace of the Legion of Honor.

Australia and New Zealand are reresented. Sweden, Norway and Denmark ran a ship through the mine strewn waters of the North Sea to bring exhibits for their pavilions. Italy has rebuilt a magnificent medieval group of four buildings. Cuba, Turkey, Bolivia, Portugal, Panama and Honduras all are represented.

So much for the magnificent buildings, the architecture of which is a world wonder.

Other features fo the exposition we will touch on in future contest stories; as we feel satisfied our candidates will put a zest and enthusiasm into their campaign undreamt of before, when they realize the delightful experience which awaits them.

To those who have hesitated in entering the contest, we would suggest that you pay a visit to the Contest Manager at the Review office—or phone in and he will come and see. The vote standing will appear daily.

NEGRO HANGED

Protested His Innocence to the Last

SYDNEY, N.S., April 20. — John West, colored, was hanged yesterday morning for the murder of Miss Cassie Dunn, of North Sydney, last December. He was executed at the county jail at 6.15 o'clock. Death was instantaneous. Holmes was executioner.

West walked to the scaffold unassisted. He protested his innocence to the last. He did not sleep during the night, and refused breakfast.

James Murphy, of Montreal, 59 years old, head cooper for the C.P.R. at the West St. John docks, was found dead in his room yesterday of heart trouble. Two nieces are said to live in Montreal.

REV. BILLY SUNDAY SAYS HE IS NOT SENSATIONAL

Famous Evangelist Claims He is Perfectly Natural in Everything He Does — Nothing is More Sensational Than the Truth

Thousands of people, after hearing the famous "Billy" Sunday preach, would like to ask him some questions. These questions are generally those which the friend in this talk asked him, and the great revivalist's own answers to them will help to clear away many a doubt, particularly as to the methods and language employed by this wonderful man. For wonderful he is. You may believe in him or not, as you may choose, but you cannot dismiss him. He is one of the greatest forces today in America: a force that is to be reckoned with seriously, and perhaps even more in the future than he is today.

"'Billy,'" said the friend in this talk, "will you set me and others straight on a point or two about your methods?"

"Sure, I will," said "Billy"; "fire ahead. Number one poine it what? my slang, I supose?"

"Yes. Now, frankly, why?"

"Well," said the preacher, "I'll tell you why: because it comes perfectly natural to me. I talk as the people talk. The average man in the street uses a vocabulary of about five hundred words, at least a third of which is slang or set phrases. So I put the Gospel in his language: the language of today. I do preach the Gospel, don't I? [And this is a comment frequently made by the ministers who go through a Sunday campaign: "With it all, he certainly does preach the same Gospel that the rest of us have always preached. There's nothing new about 'Billy's' message."] I want to preach the Gospel so plainly that men can come from the factories and the streets and not have to bring along a dictionary to understand what I am trying to tell them. Paul said he would rather speak five words that were understood than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue. That hits me. I want people to know what I mean, and that's why I get down to where they live. What do I care if some dainty little preacher kicks at me because I use plain Anglo-Saxon words? I am preaching for the age in which I live. I am just recasting my vocabulary to suit the people of my age instead of Joshua's age.

"Now, look here;" continued the evangelist, "tell me, don't you find lots of things in Shakespeare which are not fit for reading in a mixed audience, and call that literature? Of course. Well, when you hear some truths in my tabernacle you call them vulgar. It makes all the difference in the world whether 'Bill' Shakespeare or 'Bill' Sunday said it, doesn't it? But why should it? I tell you, my dear fellow, many an old skinflint is not fit for the balm of Gilead until you first give him a fly blister and get after him with a currycomb."

"I Am Not Sensational."

"But why be so sensational?" said the friend.

"Sensational?" echoed "Billy." "Who says I'm sensational? The men whom I hit; that's who. Well, my dear fellow, nothing would be more sensational than if some of them were suddenly to become decent; do you know that? And as for me; take it from me, boy, as a preacher, I'd rather be a guidepost than a tombstone."

"You don't believe then, yourself, that you are sensational?" next asked the friend.

"No," said "Billy" firmly. "I am perfectly natural in everything that I do. I don't prearrange things: I don't set the stage: I don't do things to create enthusiasm. Not at all. Not a bit of it. I would be unworthy if I did. Of course, compared with the [illegible] ways of some ministers, I suppose I am sensational. But nothing is more sensational than the truth: remember that. Jesus was sensational. But what I say and what I do is all perfectly natural to me, and I let her go as it comes.

"Take the actor. Isn't he lost in what he has to say? Well, that's me."

Why He Tears Off His Collar.

"Then," said the friend, "when you tear off your collar, or take your coat off in the pulpit, there's no effect about it? Just natural?

"Why, of course, man, what else should I do it for? I only take off my collar when I feel it is choking me. When I am getting choked the blood runs up and fills the veins in my neck, swells out my veins an inch or half an inch. When I spoke in Washington I happened to wear one of those collars that chokes me right in my throat and it was starting to make my head ache, so I took it off and the instant I took it off I felt better. So with my coat: the sleeves get in my way. I want freedom, and when I feel I want room I just take it off: That's all there is to it."

"Then what folks call your 'gymnastics' in the pulpit are natural too?"

"Why, of course they are. I employ them because I want to illustrate what I am saying. I want to appeal to the eye as well as to the mind. That's the Bible, man: parable, parable! Fellows come to me from the newspapers and ask me to pose for their cameras. Why, I haven't any poses. They say I take poses in the pulpit. Well, if I do, it is because what I am saying needs to be acted out and I act it out. But I have no mannerism, or pose, or gesture, or what-not framed up. No siree. I wouldn't do such a thing. I just go up there in that pulpit and go to it, let come what may in speech or gesture."

His Advice to Preachers.

"Would you advise another preacher to do as you do?" asked the friend.

"Not for a minute," replied the evangelist. "It wouldn't be natural to him. That would be a pose for him. His training, experience and contact with the world are not such that he could, and so it would not be natural for him if he did. I do not criticize anny preacher because he doesn't do as I do; on the other hand he ought not to criticize me for doing as I do. 'Live and let live,' say I. Let every preacher be perfectly natural; himself. Why, I know one preacher who attempted to use my methods, and he was asked for his resignation the next session of the church. That's what happened to him, and happens to any one who copies another fellow and does a thing for effect! No, sir; be natural."

His Comment on What People Say of Him.

"Do you know," continued the evangelist, "what these fellows say to me?—'"Billy," you rub the fur the wrong way.' But I don't. Let the cats turn around.

"What do these folks want me to be? continued "Billy." "The kind of minister that says: 'If you don't repent you'll go to a place the name of which you know.' Not on your life! I know where those folks are going; they're going to hell, plain and simple, and I'm not afraid to say it. I am no spiritual masseur; I am a surgeon, and I cut deep and I mean to cut deep. That's my job as I see it.

"Some folks say I get too gay on the platform; that I laugh too much. Bah, I say! God likes a little humor, as He shows in the fact that He made the monkey, the parrot, and some of those people who can't laugh.

"Do you know what's really the matter with those folks?" asked "Billy" of his friend.

"What?" asked the friend.

"They don't pray enough. The carpet in front of their mirrors is worn threadbare, while at the sides of their beds where they should kneel in prayer the rug is as good as the day they put it down."

Why He is Wearing Himself Out.

"But," asked the friend, "don't the doctors say that you are wearing yourself out; that if you go on this way you'll take twenty years off your life? Can't you slow up? Couldn't you spare yourself and do just as much?"

"No," said "Billy." "Don't you see, old man? It wouldn't be me. I've got to work as I do. No. If I would spare myself I wouldn't be natural. I would just lose if I slow up. I would be like a ball player when he begins to slow up; they want someone else. I feel just that way about my preaching. They say: 'Go down there and take it easy.' I wouldn't be myself, and I would be lost. I would just be standing there like a hitching post, like an automation. I couldn't do it."

"You have just got to work in the way you feel it?"

"Sure. I work in my pulpit just like I ever did in anything I ever tried to do in my life—it makes no difference what it is. I must throw myself absolutely into it. I did it in baseball and I did it when I was the janitor of a schoolhouse in Iowa I used to sweep that schoolhouse with all my might. That's the way I work. That's me. That's all.

"No, no," reiterated the evangelist, "I just couldn't stand up like a stick in the pulpit and preach. I think I understand a little bit of what the Psalmist meant when he said: 'The zeal of Thine house hath eaten me up.'"

"You would never do as the pastor of a church, would you, 'Billy'?" asked the friend.

"I would not," said "Billy" with that friendly smile that has won so many thousands to his cause. "Not for a minute, boy. If I ever accepted the pastorate of a church I'd buy a round-trip ticket. But you can bet," he added with an expansion of the smile, "I'd skin 'em while I was there; I would that!"

"I Never Bother My Head About Criticism."

"Then you mean to go right on as you're going, despite the criticism heaped upon you?" asked the friend.

"Criticism?" repeated "Billy." "What do I care for that, so long as I know I am right? It worried me at first, but now? No, sir; I'm immune. It does not affect me any more, because I know I am doing the word of God, and I know I am true to the Lord, and I know I am preaching God's gospel absolutely, and I don't care anything about criticism. Folks who criticize me criticize the truth. Most of the people who stand around and question my method and means of saving souls are people who are going to the devil themselves and do nothing to try to save either themselves or others. That's not me. I never bother my head about it any more. Don't read half of it, for that matter."

British Admiralty Keeps Careful Record of Outrages by Pirates

LONDON, April 20.—The Admiralty has issued the following statement:

"Yesterday a German submarine torpedoed and sank the trawler Vanilla. The trawler Fermo endeavored to rescue the crew, but was fired at and driven off.

"All the crew of the Vanilla were lost. This killing of fisherfolk for no military purpose should not escape attention. It is the second murder of this character committed within a week. A careful record is kept of these events."

A despatch from Northern France gives another example of German war methods. It says:

"The fierce fighting of a week or so ago at Drei Grachten has inflamed Belgo-German hatred to the highest degree. A frightful example of German vengefulness has just been reported. The Belgians who crossed to the right bank of the Yser were surprised at night and one regiment of men were killed, wounded and made prisoners. A tremendous effort was thereupon made by King Albert's army and finally the Germans were driven back to the old lines, leaving six hundred dead on the field. Taught by experience, the Belgians are organizing a system of night patrols to guard against surprises. Four days ago one of these patrols fell upon them all, as indeed it was their duty to do, or otherwise the alarm would have been given to the enemy. The whole affair was a regular and characteristic episode of the noctural warfare that goes on every night along the whole line of trenches from Switzerland to the sea.

"The German commanders determined to make an example that might prevent the sentries from being dealt with in this fashion in the future. Using some incident or other as a pretext, they had a certain number of Belgian prisoners put to death who had been captured in the fighting at Drei Grachten. The number of those "executed" was far greater than that of the sentries who had been surprised by the Belgians, according to all the rules of war."

LOSSES TO GERMANS EQUAL THOSE AT NEUVE CHAPELLE ARE BEATEN NEAR YPRES

Hill No. 60 Captured After Sappers Exploded Mine

LONDON, April 20.—The following official statement was issued last night at the British War Office:

"A successful action, commencing on the evening of the 17th, culminated Sunday night in the capture and complete occupation of an important point known as Hill 60, which lies about two miles south of Zillebeke, to the east of Ypres. This hill dominates the country to the north and northwest.

"The successful explosion of a mine under the hill commenced the operations, and many Germans were killed by this and 15 prisoners were captured, including an officer.

"At daybreak on the 18th the enemy delivered a heavy counter-attack against this hill, but were repulsed with a heavy loss. They advanced in close formation and our machine gun battery got well into them.

"Desperate efforts were made all day Sunday by the Germans to recover the hill, but they were everywhere repulsed with great loss. In front of the captured position, which we are now consolidated in strength, hundreds of dead are lying.

"Sunday two more German aeroplanes were brought down in this area. Since the 15th inst., the total loss to the enemy is five aeroplanes."

A despatch from Northern France says:

"News has just reached here of one of the most important engagements of the war in the neighborhood of Ypres. The first ambulance train conveying our wounded arrived here one hour ago. My information came from a source which places the following facts beyond doubt: Our sappers succeeded in mining the only hill in that vicinity. The blowing up of the hill Sunday morning was the signal for the opening of a battle extending over some miles of front. The havoc wrought among hundreds of German troops occupying the hill had a most terrifying effect on the German lines both right and left, and our concentrated charge, in which our artillery played a most important part, had succeeded up to Sunday night in driving the Germans was terrible losses fully three miles back from their first line of trenches. The explosion of mines in the hill resembled the bursting of a volcano.

"The action is still in progress and our advance has been unchecked. Eight hundred German prisoners have already come in, and everything points to the enemy's losses being greater even than those at Neuve Chapelle.

"At all points we have given the Germans a disagreeable taste of our metal. Their attitude is one of depression. Their aeroplanes are busy with the bombardment of open towns, but they are carefully chased away from the proximity of our fighting lines by the vigilance of our airmen, which accounts for the fact that we are enabled to make our preparations for the attack without news or at best with only scanty news of our movements leaking out."

The advance of French columns continued along both banks of the Fecht river in Alsace, on German soil, yesterday, and forced the Germans hastily to evacuate Eselbrucke above Metzerail, and to abandon a large amount of war material. A big battle is expected to develop in this section of the front in the near future.

The Germans have not acquiesced with good grace in the French occupation of Les Eparges and continue to launch attacks in an attempt to regain lost territory. A fresh attack on this position was completely routed early yesterday morning.

A sort of drawn battle between German and French infantry was fought in the Montmarie wood yesterday.

The French artillery had the best of an artillery duel in the Regnierville region yesterday.

FINE FEATS WITH HAND GRENADES

Three Out of Five Victoria Crosses Won by Bomb-Throwers

LONDON, April 20.—The important part that hand grenades are playing in the western campaign is made evident by the fact that of five awards of the Victoria Cross announced last night, three were for "conspicuous bravery" displayed in the use of these missiles.

Pte. Edward Barber of the First Battalion of the Grenadier Guards, at Neuve Chapelle, "ran in front of his grenade company and threw bombs on the enemy with such effect that a very great number of them at once surrendered."

"When the grenade party reached Barber," the report making the awards says, "they found him quite alone and unsupported and with the enemy surrendering all about him."

Lc.-Corpl. Fuller of the Grenadier Guards won his cross in the same battle.

"Seeing a party of the enemy endeavoring to escape along a communication trench," the report says, "Corpl. Fuller ran quite alone toward them and killed the leading man with a bomb. The remainder of the men, nearly 50, finding no means of evading his bombs, surrendered to him."

Lieut. Cyril Gordon Martin, who already possesses the Distinguished Service Order medal, was in command of a grenade-throwing party of six, and, "although wounded, led his party into the enemy's trenches and held back their reinforcements over two hours."

Pte. May of the Scottish Rifles and Pte. Tollerton of the Cameron Highlanders were awarded Crosses for rescuing wounded men under fire.

"Pte. Tollerton," according to the report, "carried a wounded officer, while under a heavy fire, to a place of greater safety, although wounded himself. He then struggled back into the firing-line and remained there until his battalion retired, when he returned to the wounded officer and lay beside him for three days until both were rescued."

ADVANCE GUARD

The main base in France is established, we will say, at Havre. The navy is responsible up to this point. The Army Serice then takes charge. From this point to the firing line is known as the line of communication. Whenever you read of the line of communication, you will know that it is the Army Service which is referred to, and the cutting of this line of communication means the severance of the army from the sources of supply of ammunition and food.

From railhead to the refilling point where the horse replaces the motor, fifty-two lorries carry the supplies. Railhead is about forty miles behind the firing line. From the refilling point to the front, the horse reigns supreme, and the supplies of ammunition and food are hauled in waggons right up to the front.

The Army Service Corps takes care of the entire transportation and supply of the army. It provides for the mobility of the army and enables it to move in any direction at any time both in regard to efficiency and subsistence. It has requisitioning officers who are empowered to give notes which are recognized by the government as a liability to be met on the presentation of the note. In requisitioning, the rules are that farmers must be left with provisions for man and beast for one week. Town people are left three days' provisions. It is generally considered that an army can live on a population equal to the strength of the army for seven days. An army moving fifteen miles a day can live on the country it is passing through.

All Hand-Picked.

This is really the advance guard of the Second Contingent. The officers and men are hand-picked. They will adapt the English system to Canadian training and will make arrangements for the allocation and disposal of the main army. Lt.-Col. Charles D. Spittal is in command. Colonel Spittal is better known as Charlie Spittal, one of the best amateur sports that Ottawa has produced. He was a member of the famous Silver Seven which won the hockey championship of the world several times. He was also a noted bicycle rider. His rifle shooting has kept him to the fore in recent years, and he just missed winning the King's prize by two points in 1908.

Other officers prominent in the corps are Capt. E. Russell Hale, of 307 Russell Hill Rd., Toronto; Capt. S. J. Hollister, Balsam avenue, Toronto; Lt. Shepherd, assistant engineer with C. H. and P. H. Mitchell, Toronto; Lt. Walter F. Anderson, quartermaster, Chicora avenue, Toronto; Lt. Robt. Mills, 52 Isabella St., Toronto, late of Orillia; Lt. Otter Stewart, 237 McPherson avenue, Toronto; Lt. Jas. D. Lawson, of Wood, Gundy, & Co., Toronto; Lt. John H. McLachlan, Lt. Frank Ahearn, of Ottawa; Lt. Frank Duckworth, Lt. Jas. O'Reilly, and Lt. Chas. Benson, of Winnipeg. Lt. Benson is an old Lindsay boy.

Captain Percy C. McGillivray, of Edmonton, and Captain Frank Craig, of Brockville, are two very popular officers. This A. S. C. unit is made up of men from the east and middle west. The men are mostly fine young Canadians, and there has been a remarkable freedom from rowdyism and drunkenness.

We will land tonight if the Germans don't get us, and the call has just gone forth to pack all baggage, so that it may be taken on deck.

In closing, I might just remark that your correspondent won the three-legged race at the officers' sports meet on Wednesday.

Lieut. Stuart of Lakefield and Toronto expressed himself as being terribly disappointed at the first sight of land.

"Why," he said, "England is so densely populated, I expected to see people popping out all over the place, and there wasn't a dash soul to be seen."

ST. JOHN'S ACTIVITIES VESTRY MEETING REPORTS

Rector Takes the Opportunity to Extend Congratulations to Mr. H. Rush

The annual vestry meeting in connection with St. John's Church was held last night, with a good attendance. Canon Davidson presided, and at the table with him were Wardens J. J. Howden and Rush and Vestry Clerk W. H. Walkey. After opening prayer, the financial statement was taken up and fully discussed. It showed decreased revenue but increased givings for missions, larger than ever before. Attention was directed to the need for a new canvass for the envelope system, and a committee, with A. W. Turner as chairman, was appointed for this purpose. A report on the "Rector's Fellowship Fund" showed the largest transactions of any year in its history, with $250 given out in loans and gifts, nearly $100 received in repayments, and $79 contributed to the fund, which had now a good balance on hand, in addition to the Christmas offertory. This fund is absolutely private in its operations and is administered by the rector.

Warden Rush showed the furnaces of the church to be in bad condition and extensive renovations must be effected at considerable cost for next winter. The organ and motor had been thoroughly repaired at a cost of only $146, and R. J. Devey, organist, reported that it was in quite a satisfactory condition and there was no reason why it should not last for a considerable time.

Pews Donated.

The chancel had been re-shingled and repaired for $278. During the year two freehold pews had been given the church by the late Mrs. Best and the Chamberlain estate. Very few of these old pews now remain in private hands.

The rector reported that his work had been steadily done during the past year.

The number of sick to be visited had been abnormally large. There had been an increase in the number of regular communicants, and over four hundred on Easter day, though he had been unable to do any work in connection with the matter. His chief effort in Lent had been the mission at Port Perry, where he had represented the congregation in giving help to a smaller parish, as should always be the aim of St. John's.

He referred to the services of the church, which were always simple of their kind, allowing all to join heartily in them, an especially important feature. During the year three bishops and seventeen other clergy had officiated in St. John's, giving a healthy variety and change to the congregation.

The Bishop of Kingston had conducted a short mission teaching in the autumn. Bishop Reeve had confirmed a class of forty-four in February, and the Bishop of Toronto had visited the congregation. He referred to the faithful and earnest workers who had labored in the Sunday school and other branches of the work for many years, mentioning particularly Miss M. English and J. G. Browne for their exceptional services. He congratulated the church wardens on their efficient work, and amid applause extended congratulations and greetings to Mr. Rush, it being his birthday. He urged that an enthusiastic effort be made to increase givings for missions and for parochial work in the envelope.

Election of Wardens.

Election of church wardens took place next, the rector announcing the appointment of Lt.-Col. A. Stevenson who, though absent from the city, had consented to act. Messrs. H. Rush, J. A. Aylmer and J. J. Howden were each nominated as people's wardens. The two former withdrew and J. J. Howden was unanimously declared elected.

Reduce Advisory Board.

It was determined to reduce the advisory board to seven, members with the two church wardens. The two church wardens, with Messrs. H. Rush and J. A. Aylmer, were appointed a committee to nominate members of this board. Sidesmen and ushers were then appointed.

Mr. R. J. Devey presented the choir report, showing that while serious losses had been experienced through members departing for the war, the choir was at the present time in excellent shape. Corporals Roberts and Harris and Ptes. Eldred, Common, Edney and Flowers had left the choir in response to the call of the Empire. There were at present forty-eight members, sixteen boys and sixteen men, who were punctual in attendance, even in unfavorable weather.

The annual choir excursion given by the church wardens had been a great success. The loss of Mrs. Best, "choir mother," was greatly deplored, although her duties were ably carried on by Mrs. Howden.

Encouraging reports from the girls' auxiliary and the Sunday school treasurer, W. W. Dean, who is retiring after many years' efficient service. Lay delegates appointed were Messrs. G. A. Smith, H. Rush and A. Kingdon. The meeting was then dismissed with the benediction, the whole spirit having been most harmonious and pleasant.

FIGHT GRAFT IN ENGLAND

Official is Appointed by the Government

London, April 20.—Already more than one case has come to light of large sums of money being made by army supply contractors at the expense of the Government, and it is predicted that numerous scandals will be disclosed after the war is over, for with the countless number and immense size of the contracts now being issued the Government has found it impossible to guard against such a state of things. The Government has appointed Sir George Gibb, a prominent railroad man, as official fighter of graft. Aleardy the fabulous commission earned by a recently appointed agent for lumber purchases has been brought to the notice of the House of Commons, and it is probable many similar cases could be found, but not on such a preposterous scale.

MARKS BROS.

The Ernie Marks Company, with Kitty and Ernie Marks, and a first-class company will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House all this week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

The plays are changed each night, and also for the matinees, so that you will be able to attend each night and see a different play; and also the vaudeville and specialties between acts are of the highest class, and something that will please all and make you feel happy.

The prices are very low and within the reach of all.

Matinees Wednesday and Saturday 10 cents and 20 cents.

Night 10c., 20c. and 30c.

Night seats are reserved, so phone the box office at any time for your seats and save the rush at the box office at night. Plans of the seats of the Grand Opera House can be had for the asking.

Reserve your seats early for tonight. Play for tonight, "The Pride of the Army," a great military play. Tomorrow matinee, "Two Jolly Tramps."

LINDSAY LAD IS DROWNED

Lost His Balance and Fell Into the River

Lindsay, April 20.—A sad drowning accident occurred in the Scugog River last night at 5.30 o'clock, when Harry, the nine-year-old son of Mr. Neil Gray, contractor, went to his death. The little fellow, who was a pupil at Victoria School, East Ward, went to the river with a number of companions to fish from the crib work opposite Perrin's boathouse when he lost his balance and fell into the water. His companions gave the alarm, but when help arrived the boy had disappeared from view. A search party was organized and about 7 o'clock the body was brought to the surface.

Citizens of Kingston, through the Board of Trade, contributed $5,790.85 to the Belgian Relief Fund. This is in addition to large amounts of clothing also sent for their aid.

CABLE FROM LT. CHAS. ACKERMAN

A cable from Lieut. Chas. Ackerman was received by his mother this morning. He is well as are also his brother Arthur, Dr. Greer and other local boys. The message intimated that the forces were enjoying fine weather.

It is possible that the Peterborough quota have been under fire and that Lt. Ackerman took this means of informing his parents that all is well.

RUSSIAN COLUMN TWELVE MILES BELOW ROSTOK

German Officers Are in Control of the Austrian Troops Defending Hungary

RUSSIANS NOW IN TACTICAL POSITION

Can go South Into Hungary or West Towards Cracow

PETROGRAD, April 20. — The foremost Russian column in Hungary was on Saturday a dozen miles below Rostok, towards Cumennoye. It forms the centre of the main Russian southern advance, which is developing slowly and successfully, with fierce infantry fighting. Officers of the Galician army say that they never had such a succession of bloody struggles since the war began.

German officers everywhere control the Austrian tactics. Vast numbers of prisoners, both German and Austrian, are now reaching Kieff. The last consignment included men of the 32nd Prussian Infantry Regiment who began the war in Von Kluck's army, and subsequently fought at Soissons. They were recently brought to Hungary and moved immediately from the train into battle in the southern Carpathians. They are as tired and depressed as the Austrians and declare that they are glad of a rest and grateful for the food and attentions shown them by the Russians.

The weather is now much better throughout the southern battle area, but the roads are still in a deplorable condition. The lower Danube is flooded and the islands in the river are under water. Inside the Roumanian frontier numbers of cattle have been drowned and the villagers are living on the roofs of their houses.

Holding the principal chain of the Carpathians for a distance of 75 miles, the Russians are in a position to launch their troops westward from Peremysl to Cracow, or down the mountains into Hungary, as they see fit. They will probably move towards both objectives in order to keep the German General Staff at sea as to their actual intentions. The Russians have gained the initiative since the fall of Peremysl and in strategic parlance this will enable them to force the enemy to conform to their manoeuvres.

There are signs that Von Hindenburg, who is in East Prussia, not in France, contemplates making an attempt this week at a formidable diversion, with the object of counteracting the effect of the hopeless Austro-German position in the Carpathians. This is likely to take place in Suwalki Province, in the region of Mariampol, where a Russian army, westward of the lower Niemen, has for a fortnight past been gaining a succession of sectional victories.

To Use Oil on Engines.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has announced that contracts have been let and other arrangements made for the installation of crude oil as locomotive fuel on their passenger engines to be operated between Prince Rupert, B.C., and Jasper, Alta., a distance of 718 miles. It is expected that this installation will be complete by next June. The announcement does not cover the use of oil-burners on freight engines; it is understood that these will continue to use coal, at least for the present.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Despite a late setback, caused by reports that negotiations between Italy and Austria had been broken off, the wheat market today finished 1⅞c to 3c above Saturday night. Fulfilment of predictions of a big falling off in the domestic supply had much to do with the strong upward movement of prices the greater part of the session. Corn closed ⅛c to ¾c net higher, oats ¼c to ½c down and provisions up 7½c to 25c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 19.—May wheat was sold this forenoon at $1.61¾, which exceeds all previous records for 1914 crops. July wheat was bid at $1.61¾; which is only ¼c under the previous record of $1.62 for this month on Feb. 3. Later higher figures were touched for May. Trading in futures was light and chiefly in the speculative element. There was little or no cash demand for wheat on the local market, while for oats there was a fair enquiry, and a few cars changed hands. Flax was dull, practically nothing being offered on the cash market. No new business in export was reported.

Wheat futures closed 2⅝c to 3⅜c higher, cash 2¼c to 2⅝c higher for contract grades, oats ⅜c to ½c higher, and flax ⅝c to 1c higher.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 19.—There was some demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat today and sales of a few odd loads were made for nearby shipment, but the prices bid for future shipment continue to be out of line. The tone of the local market for coarse grains is firm, but there is no improvement in the volume of business, the demand being still limited from both local and outside buyers. In flour the feeling is strong with a better business doing for export account, but the local trade is quiet. The trade in millfeed is rather slow.

Butter is fairly active and firm. Cheese is quiet. Demand for eggs good. Dressed hogs have advanced 25c per cwt.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 19.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.54; No. 1 northern, $1.59½ to $1.63½; No. 2 northern, $1.55 to $1.60½; May, $1.57½.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 72¾c to 73¼c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 54½c to 55c.

Flour—Fancy patents, $7.90; first clears, $6.50; second clears, $4.90.

Bran—Unchanged.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, Minn., April 19.—Close—Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.63½; No. 1 northern, $1.62½; May, $1.61½ bid; July, $1.59⅛; Sept., $1.25¼.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 19.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 1910 cattle, 340 hogs, 34 sheep and lambs and 34 calves.

Butchers' Cattle.

Choice heavy export steers, $6.50 to $6.75, and one load at $7.85; choice butchers' steers and heifers, $7.25 to $7.50; good steers and heifers, $6.90 to $7.15; medium steers and heifers, $6.60 to $6.90; common at $6.25 to $6.50; choice cows, $6.25 to $6.50; good cows at $6 to $6.25; medium cows at $5.50 to $5.75; common cows at $5 to $5.50; canners and cutters at $3.75 to $4.75; bulls at $5.50 to $6.75.

Stockers and Feeders.

Feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., sold at $6.25 to $6.85; feeders, 600 to 800 lbs., sold at $6 to $6.50; stockers, 500 to 600 lbs., at $5.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Choice fresh cows and forward springers sold at $50 to $91 each, and medium to good at $50 to $65; common at $40 to $50.

Veal Calves.

The market for veal calves was a little stronger. Choice calves, $9 to $10; good calves, $7 to $8; medium calves, $5 to $6; common calves at $4 to $5; bob calves, $2 to $2.50 each.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, light ewes, $7 to $7.50; heavy sheep, ewes, $5.50 to $6.50; rams, $6 to $7; spring lambs, $5 to $9; yearling lambs, 90 lbs., at $11; heavyweight yearlings, $9 to $10.

Hogs.

Selects, weighed off cars, sold at $9 for the bulk of sales, but $9.25 was also paid in one or two instances.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, April 19.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market, altho receipts were light, they were ample to fill all requirements. Demand from packers for supplies was fair, and sales of full loads of choice steers were made at $7.75, good at $7.25, while choice cows brought $6.25 per 100 pounds, but the demand from butchers for small lots was limited, as most of them now are buying dressed beef, owing to the falling off in the consumption.

The feature of the small-meat trade was the good demand for calves, of which supplies were ample, and sales were made at from $2.50 to $12 each, as to size and quality. The trade in sheep and lambs was very quiet, owing to the limited number available on the market, and prices ruled firm. Hogs were unchanged, but firm, with a good demand from packers, and sales of selected lots were made at $9.50 to $9.60, sows at $7.50 to $7.60, and stags at $4.75 to $4.80 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $7.75 to $8; do., medium, $6.50 to $7.25; do., common, $5 to $6; canners, $3.50 to $4; butchers' cattle, choice cows, $6.25 to $6.50; do., medium, $5.50 to $6; do., bulls, $5.50 to $6.75; milkers, choice, each, $65 to $70; do., common and medium, each, $55 to $60; springers, $45 to $50.

Sheep, ewes, $5.75 to $6; bucks and culls, $5.25 to $5.50.

Lambs, $8.25 to $9.25.

Hogs, off cars, $9.50 to $9.60.

Calves, $2.50 to $12.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Cattle—Receipts 18,000. Market firm. Beeves, $6.25 to $8.65; cows and heifers, $3.10 to $8.30; calves, $5.75 to $8.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 22,000. Market weak. Light, $7.40 to $7.80; mixed, $7.35 to $7.75; heavy, $7 to $7.65; rough, $7 to $7.20; pigs, $5.50 to $7; bulk of sales, $7.50 to $7.65.

Sheep—Receipts 12,000. Market strong. Native, $7.60 to $8.70; lambs, native, $8.40 to $10.85.

Friday, April 23, is St. George's Day.

Mr. John McMillan

THE announcement that Mr. John McMillan had succeeded Mr. James Kent as manager of the C. P. R. Telegraphs afforded much gratification to his many friends in Western Canada. Mr. McMillan was born in Liverpool, November 2, 1866. He spent his boyhood in Scotland, and came west when fifteen years of age. Ever since that time he has been in the employ of the company's telegraphs, having indeed worked in every capacity. He first worked ahead of the railroad on the construction of the telegraph line, but always ahead of the steel—across the prairie and through the Rocky Mountains. When only eighteen he was loaned by the C. P. R. to the government during the Riel Rebellion, and was foreman of construction with as many as fifty men under him. In 1888 he was general foreman of construction for the Canadian Pacific's western lines, and the following year returned to the maintenance staff in Winnipeg. In 1895 he was an operator in Winnipeg, and became in turn wire chief and inspector, and in 1906 was appointed assistant superintendent. The following year he was transferred to Calgary as superintendent of the Alberta Division, and in 1912 came back to Winnipeg as superintendent of the Manitoba Division, to be appointed next year general superintendent of western lines.

Blacker Piracy Now Promised

BERLIN, April 20.—(Via London)—Referring to the appointment of the captain of the British steamer Thordis as a lieutenant of the naval reserve and the award of a medal to him for ramming a German submarine, an official statement issued yeserday says:

"It is therefore shown that the British Government approves of rewards to its commercial vessels which make attacks on armed vessels contrary to international law. Such vessels may now expect less than ever warning or consideration."

TURKS KILL MASTERS.

German Officers Killed By Their Own Men, Says Paris Temps.

PARIS, April 20.—German officers have arrived at Constantinople within the past fortnight to take the places of others who have been killed, says The Temps correspondent at Dedeagatch.

The Germans have induced the Ottoman Government to pass a special law authorizing superior officers to shoot at sight any officer of inferior grade or private disobeying orders, "but," the despatch continues, "the Turks have succeeded in killing a number of their German masters during battle."

BAN PLACED ON FOOTBALL TILL WAR IS ENDED

Hope is Expressed That the Players Will Join the Army

LONDON, April 20. —"There will be no association football cup ties or league matches next season," said F. J. Wall, secretary of the Football Association, yesterday. This decision was not unexpected. A continuous outcry has been going on since the beginning of war, declaring it scandalous that the pick of Britain's athletes should play football instead of joining the army. Amateur football practically stopped when the war commenced, but the professionals, who number nearly 5,000, continued as usual.

Secretary Wall explained this as follows: "It is impossible to stop the game at the beginning of the season, because contracts had been signed with the players, landlords and contractors, amounting to three-quarters of a million pounds, and these had to be fulfilled. No fresh contracts will be made. We hope the players will join the army."

The meeting decided to defer consideration of dates for cup competitions for the season of 1915-16 and playing of international matches to the future action of the council to be guided by development of events of the war. This means that practically no bootfall will be played until the war is over.

LALLY ON MISSIONARY TOUR ORGANIZING TRENT VALLEY TOWNS

Havelock, April 20.—P. J. Lally, of Cornwall, the man who is putting forth such big efforts to bring back lacrosse as Canada's leading sport, visited Hastings, Norwood, Havelock and Marmora yesterday, and in each place addressed enthusiastic meetings of the school children upon the ethics of the grand old game and the moral and physical benefits that accrue when it is played as it should be. High and Public School clubs were organized at Hastings, Norwood and Havelock, and junior and juvenile clubs at Marmora. Mr. Lally was accompanied by T. P. Lancaster, of Havelock, a member of the C.A.L.A. executive, and T. A. Coughlin, of Hastings. On Tuesday Mr. Lally will visit Campbellford, Stirling, Madoc and Tweed, and then proceed to Peterborough, Millbrook and Lindsay on a like mission.

Lally will be in this city on Friday.

ART SCHWIND BREAKS LEG

Was Sliding Into Second Base When Accident Happened

Artie Schwind, who shortstopped for Ottawa in 1912 and was drafted by the Boston Braves the same year, broke his leg sliding into second base at Dallas, Texas, last Wednesday, and will be out for the greater part of the season. Schwind has been a particularly hard luck player since he left the Canadian capital. In the spring of 1913 he collided with an outfielder at San Antonio going after a short fly to left field and broke his cheek bone. It put him out of the game for four weeks. Last year he broke a finger in the middle of the season. Schwind is the kind of ball player who is susceptible to injury as he takes untold chances in the field and on the bases and goes after everything. He was rated the best shortstop in the Texas League.

JOHN GILLESPIE WON SILVER CUP

Made Best Showing in Home Guards Competition

John Gillespie, of Otonabee, who has contributed some fine scores at the Allies' Rifle Parlors, is the winner of the Empress Hotel Cup, emblematic of the best showing in the shooting competition for the Home Guards.

Several hundred members of the Guards took part, and finally three men, Percy Blade, Henry Symes and John Gillespie, were tied. In the shoot-off on Saturday Mr. Gillespie registered 69 out of a possible 70.

The winner will be congratulated on his excellent work with the rifle and on winning the cup, which will be an interesting souvenir of the present war. It is a handsome silver cup, which was donated by the Empress Hotel. The competition gave many men a better knowledge of the rifle and also educated them in many points which go to make a successful marksman.

The parlors wil close at the end of this week, the management having decided to operate the business at Toronto. Considerable success was met with here, due to a large extent to the courtesy of the popular manager, Mr. George Paxman.

The boots valued at $5 were won last night by Ernie Symes, who won out with Gillespie and Miller as final opponents. Alex Miller won the roast of beef.

TO be consistent may be logical, and we hope it is, for it ought to have some redeeming points for being such a nuisance.

MORE ACTIVITY IN THE STRAITS

Thirty-five Thousand Troops Are Landed at Mudros

LONDON, April 20.—It is again unofficially announced that operations are under way in the Dardanelles, where the Turks are reported to be building defences with all speed against landing parties, but the news of the breaking up of the ice at Archangel, the only large seaport on the north coast of Russia, may induce the entente allies to be more deliberate in their attempts to unlock the gate to the Black Sea.

Berlin publishes a report from Athens that unusual activity prevails at the port of Mudros, on Lemnos Island, in the Aegean Sea, off the entrance to the Dardanelles Straits. All the French troops on the island, with the exception of some few battalions, have been sent away on transports. A total of 35,000 British and French soldiers were landed at Mudros during Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Helps Some.

"A good bringing up is of great benefit to a young man."

HER DREAMS OF EMPIRE GONE

Germany's Hopes Blasted by East Indians

LONDON, April 20. — Germany's dream of conquest in the Far East has been completely crushed. In one of the remotest corners of the earth a handful of British Indian troops has won the most important victory for British arms since the war began.

A Turkish force that attempted to drive the British from the Tigris and Euphrates valleys in Mesopotamia has been disastrously routed. The Turks are in full flight and have abandoned their campaign to drive the British from the Persian Gulf region.

In their hasty retreat through the desert they left behind a large part of their munitions of war.

The British apparently are now in undisputed possession of the southern part of the ancient kingdom of Nebuchadnezzar. The Kaiser's plans for a new route to the east over a Bagdad-to-the-Gulf railway, have been shattered.

PRESS IS HOSTILE.

Austria Does Not Like Way U. S. Took German Protest.

VENICE, April 20.—(Via London)—The discussion aroused by the memorandum recently presented by the German Ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to the State Department at Washington respecting American neutrality, is being followed with the keenest interest in Austria-Hungary. The tone of the press generally is hostile to the United States.

The Vienna Fremdenblatt says: "It will be difficult to answer such a justifiable remonstrance as that of Germany, nor does anybody expect an actual reply, but only what the United States has heretofore answered German admonitions with, namely, phrases. The feeling of disappointment which the attitude of the United States has produced in Austria will not disappear for a long time."

The Fremdenblatt is recognized as the organ of the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Office.

Austrian Capitals Fortified.

LONDON, April 20. — "A reliable person, who has just arrived from Austria and Hungary," says The Times' Bucharest correspondent, "declares that Vienna and Budapest are strongly fortified. On the left bank of the Danube Vienna is protected by long lines of trenches, barricades and barbed wire entanglements. Fourteen million dollars have been spent on fortifications."

Blackmailer Pleaded Guilty.

NEW YORK, April 20.—John Merlella, a youth of 19, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of attempted extortion in having written two letters to Vincent Astor demanding $500 upon penalty of death. Meriella pleaded guilty also to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, a revolver, which he attempted to use, having been found in his pocket when he was arrested Friday night. He was held in $2,500 bail on each charge for grand jury action.

REPORTS ON CHURCH WORK

Rector Addresses Adjourned Vestry Meeting at St. Luke's

The adjourned vestry meeting of St. Luke's Church was held last evening, when a large number of the congregation were present to hear reports from the various societies as to the year's work. The Rector, Rev. W. H. White, M.A., was in the chair, and after the opening prayer, the Vestry Clerk, Mr. R. B. Rogers, read the minutes of the Easter vestry, which were adopted. Mr. George Curtis, the retiring People's Warden, then presented a review of the church work during the year just closed, including a statement of the finances.

The auditors, Messrs. G. L. Hay and H. Middleton, reported having found the books correct.

The reports of the various organizations were given as follows: Women's Auxiliary and Ladies' Aid, by Mrs. J. Butcher; Girls' Auxiliary, by Misses Clara Adams and Elsie Dawson; Mission Band, by Miss Ada Norris; Chancel Guild, by Miss L. Stewart; Men's Club, by Mr. A. G. Knott; the Choir, by Mrs. W. A. Greenslade; the Sunday School, by Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., and Mr. Merton Adams; the Rector's Bible Class, by Mr. Harold Adams and Miss Eva Crane, and St. Luke's Parish Magazine, by Mr. P. A. Crane.

Votes of thanks were tendered the officers of the church, the Sunday School and the workers in the several activities of the parish.

The Rector, in his address, referred to the pleasure he felt in assuming the Rectorship of St. Luke's Church. The work that had prospered and grown to such an extent under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Sawers he hoped would continue. He referred gratefully to the splendid reception that had been given Mrs. White and himself, and to the improvements made to the Rectory for their benefit. He urged an earnest, reverent and congregational worship in the services of the church, and an active part by all in the various enterprises of the parish.

The matter of building a kitchen underneath the primary department of the Sunday School was introduced by Mr. Turner, and was followed by a discussion. It is expected that this very desirable addition will be realized in the very near future. Repairs to the organ are needed, and will be looked into at once.

The meeting was concluded with prayer by the Rector.

ALL LICENSES ARE RENEWED

Transfer of License at King George Hotel Also Allowed

A meeting of the Board of License Commissioners was held last evening in the inspector's office at eight o'clock, those present being M. A. Morrison, chairman; Jas. Kendry, R. Sheehy and Inspector Stewart.

It was moved by Mr. Jas. Kendry, seconded by Mr. R. Sheehy, that the application of Mr. D. Corkery for a transfer of his license from the King George hotel to Mr. E. O. McCrohan of Toronto, be granted. Carried.

It was moved by Mr. J. Kendry, seconded by Mr. R. Sheehy, that the application for the transfer of the King George Hotel license from Mr. E. O. McCrohan to Mr. Wm. Hamilton of Guelph be granted, subject to the approval of the inspector. Carried.

The Board then proceeded to issue the licenses for the year 1915-16. It was moved by Mr. Jas. Kendry, seconded by Mr. R. Sheehy, that the following licenses be granted:

Hotels — Fred Blastorah, of the Palace; R. P. Gollop, Snowden House; R. J. Munro, Munro House; A. T. Johnston, Windsor Hotel; F. Montgomery, Montgomery House; P. Hogan, Albion Hotel; R. W. Schmuck; Grand; Mrs. L. Mulhall, American Hotel; E. O. McCrohan, King George Hotel; James Bolger, White House; G. N. Graham, Empress Hotel.

Shops—J. P. Kenny, J. C. Sullivan, C. R. Nixon, and the Peterborough Club.

Regarding George Lipsett's application for a license, it was moved and carried that in view of the change in the License Act, whereby a new board will administer the act for the whole province, this board does not feel disposed to increase the present licensed hotels in Peterborough.

With the Movies

Edith Taliaferro, the noted actress, made no mistake when she decided to abandon the legitimate for the screen. Those who witnessed her splendid acting last evening at the Empire in a decidedly amusing and entertaining five part comedy film "Young Romance," became enamored with her winsome and delightful portrayal of the character of Nellie Nolan of the notions.

Tired of life behind the counter in a department store Nellie decides to "live" for one week, impersonating the name of a "swell" at a fashionable summering place. Tom down in the hardware decides to do likewise, and they finally end up at the same hotel.

Nellie's alias of Ethel Van Dusen results in her being kidnapped, by Count Spagnolia who tries to force her to split her recently acquired fortune with him, and leaves her on a desert island. Tom who has fallen in love with her finally rescues her and proposes but is rejected. Their surprise upon meeting one week later while clerking in the same department store makes a splendid finale. Large crowds saw the performance last evening and were strong in their praise of Miss Taliaferro's initial debut in the "movies."

Dr. Stanley Y. Walsh, son of Mr. Joseph Walsh, Margaret Ave., this year graduate of the medical faculty of the Toronto University, sailed for England on Sunday last from Halifax. He is to be connected with No. 2 casualty clearing station

OBITUARY

MISS MINA HERLIKEY.

A bright young life was brought to a sudden close on Thursday last, April 15th, when Miss Mina Herlikey, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Herlikey, passed away at her home in Emily after a short illness with pneumonia. Deceased who was in her twentieth year, was extremely popular in the vicinity in which she lived, in Lindsay and in Peterborough. Her demise came as a shock to her legion of local friends and their heartiest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family. She was a member of the choir of St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, and in that as well as many other spheres of church work her absence will be plainly noted and regretted.

Besides her numerous acquaintances she leaves to mourn her loss, her parents, two brothers, William and Martin at home and two sisters Misses Olive and Pearl.

The funeral took place from the family residence on Saturday, April 17th, to St. Luke's Church and to St. Luke's Cemetery for interment. Rev. Father P. McGuire officiated. The funeral mass was sung in the presence of a very large congregation, silently bespeaking the popularity of the late Miss Herlikey.

MISS AGNES ELMHURST.

Yesterday morning death came to Miss Agnes Elmhurst of Westwood after an illness of about three weeks duration. She passed away at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. John Hope, of Westwood, where she had made her home since her mother's death. The deceased lady had practically always been a resident of Otonabee. She leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, Mrs. John Hope, Westwood, Mrs. F. D. Armstrong, 295 Margaret Ave., Peterborough; and four brothers, James S., Westwood; Henry, Otonabee, J. R., Peterborough, and Thomas Elmhurst, New York. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. John Hope, Westwood on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m., after a short service at the house, to the Westwood cemetery, Rev. Mr. Goodwill officiating.

Mr. J. B. Pentland and daughters wish to thank their friends for flowers and sympathy in their recent bereavement, and for many kindnesses shown during Mrs. Pentland's illness.

F. C. Robins, member of the Supreme Lodge of the World Loyal Order of Moose, will be in the city Wednesday, April 21, in connection with important business for the local lodge.

The "at home" held last night in St. Alphonsus Lyceum was not largely attended, but those who were present had a very enjoyable evening. Cards, refreshments and dancing formed the order of the evening. The music for the dancing was very ably provided by Miss Marion Gorman, pianist.

Make Preparations for Mothers Day

Mothers' Day comes this year on the second Sunday in May, and as in other years it will be observed by more or less appropriate services. This movement, which began in Philadelphia a few years ago, has gradually spread over the continent, until now the second Sunday in May is very generally known as a day set apart for the purpose of honoring our mothers in some special way. The program for the celebration in Peterborough is not yet complete, but it will be observed in some of the city churches. Rev. R. G. Peever stated today that George Street Church would observe the day this year the same as last.

HELP BUSINESS GIRLS CLUB IN THEIR WORK FOR SOLDIERS

The opportunity to assist the Business Girls' Club in their endeavors to obtain towels and sheets for one of the base hospitals is one in which all philanthropic disposed citizens should be glad to participate. Towels do not perhaps sound just as romantic as bandages, etc., but they are fully as essential and therefore a special plea is made on their behalf.

The Business Girls' Club propose to hold a shower of assorted towels and sheets for one of the base hospitals, in the green parlor of the Y. W. C. A. at eight o'clock next Thursday evening, April 22nd.

The idea is an excellent one and it is confidently hoped the public will be liberal in their patronage. It is an open meeting and contributions from those outside the club, or interested followers of their work will be gratefully received. These base hospitals must have towels. The Business Girls' Club are not particularly "fussy" about the appearance of the towels. It does not insist on monograms or hemstitching or any other of those little touches which distinguish the towel one ordinarily uses for oneself, from those provided for guests. In fact, the base hospital would prefer "just plain towel" and if anyone feels she still has energy to spare, a second towel would be more welcome than a row of holes inserted along either end of the towel she has already made.

The base hospital for which the Business Girls' Club is working urgently requires towels, so turn out to this shower on Thursday.

Already J. M. Greene has volunteered to look after the hemming of the sheets, and has provided a Davis' sewing machine. Hetheringtons will do the laundering, while Reg. Turner has donated an illuminated sign to be displayed in front of the Y.W.C.A. Help along a worthy cause.

A musical program will be presented.

FRENCH ATTACKS PROGRESS BELGIAN AVIATORS ACTIVE

Arsenal at Bruges and an Aviation Ground Are Bombarded

BRITISH AND FRENCH TROOPS LAND NEAR ENOS, EUROPEON TURKEY

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 21. — This afternoon's official statement says: "A Cannonade of some violence took place in the region of Arras yesterday.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne, between the Meuse and the Moselle, and in the wood of Montmarie, close to the Fliery-Essey high road, not only did our attacks make some slight progress, but two German counter attacks on a line of trenches we had succeeded in winning on April 20th were successfully repulsed.

"Belgian aviators have bombarded an arsenal at Bruges and the aviation ground at Lissevegh."

BERLIN, April 21. — A newspaper despatch says that 20,000 British and French troops have been landed near Enos, European Turkey.

A despatch from Athens says that great activity has been noticed among British forces on the Island of Lemnos.

PICK OFF THE ENEMY AS THEY BALE WATER FROM THE TRENCHES

Pte. Jimmie English Made One German Disappear in a Hurry

PTE. KENDRY IN THE HOSPITAL

The following very interesting letter has been received by Mr. S. W. English, 309 Margaret Ave., from his son "Jimmie" with the first overseas contingent.

Somewhere in France,
March 24th, 1915.

Dear old Dad,

How is every little thing? Many happy returns of the day. My birthday was a peach of a day and the weather seems to have broken now. I heartily hope so. I am feeling fine and dandy.

Our last spell in the trenches was rather hard as the weather was very cold. The troops who were here all winter went through a bit of hell, I tell you. The trenches we occupy are fairly dry but the poor Germans are baling day and night. We have a loophole and as the Germans bale, they get careless and as soon as we see one stick his head or body over the parapet we let him have it. We must have killed quite a bunch alright. Just about dusk one night I had a good poke at an Allemand. He was fixing a bag on the parapet and I got a dandy line on his old bean. He disappeared in a hurry so I guess I got him Altogether we had quite a bit of sport.

Put up Union Jack.

We put a Union Jack up on the parapet, just a small one but the Germans gave it a great old peppering and Major —— ordered us to take it down One of the fellows told him it should never come down but he said we would have to call it a "retreat."

It is rather annoying when you are making tea to have a German bullet knock half a yard or so of gravel into your canteen. Rations are brought to trenches every day and we are well fod.

A regiment we were with first, had just taken up some trenches and the Germans were shelling. The rations were coming along the road with the ration party when a shell plumped among them and put them nearly all hors de combat. One chap who escaped got up and anxiously enquired if the rum had been blown up too. There is an issue of rum every morning and it is a great comfort to a man when he is half frozen. It is strong spirit, but I don't think the W.C.T.U. have any call to try and stop it. If some of them were to put in a night in the trenches they might take a different view of the matter.

Unlucky 13.

We have been in with the 9th Mississauga Horse—the "Mahogany Horse" we call them. They used to be B. Co. but A and B are together now. I am in No. 4 platoon (—— is platoon officer). No. 12 section. There may be luck in odd numbers but the 13th section of 13 men don't think so. First one man went to the hospital, and our sergeant lost his three stripes. The sergeant who relieved him has gone to Canada very sick. Kendry is in the hospital with inflammation of his eyes and Nidding was shot in the shoulder. Then the sergeant who was reduced, was up before the major for being asleep on sentry duty in trenches. The major punished him himself but he had a narrow escape of going up for court martial and that would have meant death or two or three years. One must not lean up against the parapet or the first thing you are in dreamland. I went to get a chap the other night. He got up on his hands and knees in the dug out and I left him. As he did not come I had to go back and he was asleep on his hands and knees.

WAR OFFICE WON'T TALK

Refuses Figures on Britain's Land Forces

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 21. — An attempt was made in the Commons this afternoon to satisfy the keen public interest regarding official figures of Great Britain's land forces, and the result of recruiting, but it met with definite refusal from the war office. Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary for war, stated that the government had no intention of disclosing the strength of the British army in the field or in training, as it considered such disclosure would be detrimental to the pulic interest.

GERMANS DON'T SEEM TO RELISH THE FIGHTING

The first letter to be received in the city minus the censor's mark and in which the writer is placed upon his honor not to mention anything save personal or family matters has been received by Chief of Police Thompson from a former member of the force, Sergeant E. Downs. It reads in part as follows:

3rd Coldstream Guards,
British Exp. Force,
April 8th, 1915.

Dear Sir,—

I was ever so pleased to have such a nice letter from you, and to get it on Easter Sunday, made it read so nice. It is awfully good of you to

COULD WIN NOW

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 21.—Colonel Arthur Lee, M.P., has written home from British headquarters in France saying the allies have it in their power to win but this does not mean that victory is close at hand or that the heaviest losses are not yet to come.

AUDIT BOOKS OF PATRIOTIC FUND

Meeting to Hear Report and Committee Statements

The enthusiasm so prevalent when the Patriotic Fund was first launched has evidently become less ardent. Last night the quarterly meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and Peterborough Relief Association was held in the city council chamber and only a handful of members were present. Those on the job were Mayor Buller, chairman; City Clerk Armstrong, secretary; Ald. F. H. Dobbin, Rev. James Rollins, W. Stocker, Chief Howard, J. S. Knapman, W. H. Dunsford, H. Rush and A. J. Aylmer.

In view of the fact that reports of various committees were not to hand and the desire that the quarterly meeting should deal with these reports, it was decided to have the books audited and detail reports prepared by the first of May and when the work is executed to have a meeting.

The matter of appointing an auditor to go over the books received some discussion. Rev. Mr. Rollins strongly urged that a chartered accountant be secured so that his report would offset any possible rumors in the future as to the handling of the funds. Mr. Rollins pointed out how the services of such a man should be secured to protect the officers of the association. In accordance with the views of Mr. Rollins, the meeting decided that Mr. W. H. Dunsford should take the matter up immediately with W. R. Morris, chartered accountant and have the work perfectly before May 1st.

Mr. Aylmer reported that all of the accounts subscribed to the fund, and were due in February, have been collected with the exception of some $400.

On motion of Rev. Mr. Rollins and Mr. Dunsford the meeting expressed its gratification at the manner in which the payments are being made, urged that the April payments be made with the same promptness and expressed the hope that Peterborough's financial reputation might be further enhanced by all the money subscribed to the fund being paid shortly after June 1st.

HEAVY LOSSES FOR AUSTRIANS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Petrograd, April 21. — (Official announcement today)—In Western Galicia, we repulsed an Austrian attack near Gorlitz Tuesday night. The previous day, the enemy had attacked but without success, our positions in the region of Verkhnila, Yablonka and North Oroszepa.

An offensive movement of the enemy against the heights of Polen, previously captured by us was particularly fierce and his losses were very great.

The first batch of prisoners captured at this point to the number of 500 has been brought in.

Other sections of the front remain as a whole, unchanged.

$50,000 FIRE AT SWAN LAKE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Swan Lake, Man., April 21.—Fire late last night destroyed Shirley's bakery, Couche'e restaurant, Halleman's general store, post office, Echo newspaper office and an empty store and gutted the government elevator. The loss is fifty thousand.

STABLES BURNED HORSES SAVED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Winnipeg, Man., April 21.—Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed racing stables and six adjoining small houses with a loss of twenty-five thousand dollars. Five thousand invalided army horses quartered in the stables were rescued.

LILLICO IS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL ON EVIDENCE OF WIFE AND HUSBAND

Frederick Collet's Home in Brownton Was Entered by Man Who Made His Way to Door of Mrs. Collet's Bedroom — She Threatened to Scream and He Made Off

Alexander Lillico, a resident of Brownton was today committed for trial at the general sessions of the peace, before a judge and jury, in June by Magistrate Langley, on the charge of unlawfully breaking into the house of Frederick Collett, also of Brownton on Thursday, April 15. The evidence taken this morning was of three witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Collett for the crown and their child William aged 6 years, for the defence.

Mrs. Collett testified that she was a resident of Brownton and knew the prisoner about six weeks or two months. He boarded with a family living across the street from her residence. The alleged breaking into her house by the prisoner occurred last Thursday morning early. Her husband was working at night in the Canadian General Electric Co. She was in bed with her two children. The oldest child is six years of age. Before retiring she had locked all the doors. Mr. Collett had locked the back door before he went to work. Her bedroom door was also locked. The windows were closed but not fastened.

Used a Key.

The first thing she heard was a step on the verandah. Then someone opened the front door. She heard the key being turned on the outside of the door. He came upstairs, looked in all the bedrooms and rapped on her bedroom door. She conceived the idea that it was not her husband and she called out. She yelled "What's your name?" The visitor responded "It's me." He asked her to open the door as he wanted to speak to her. She told him to get out of her house. She knew by his voice that it was the prisoner. She threatened to scream if he did not leave. He hesitated, she screamed and then he left.

Questioned by Mr. Hatton, who conducted the prosecution, witness stated she was not on intimate terms with accused. He had only been in her house once before and on that occasion Mr. Collett was present.

Questioned by the Magistrate, Mrs. Collett stated that the incident took place shortly before four o'clock in the morning.

Under examinationn by C. R. Widdifield, who acted for Lillico, witness swore that prisoner was only in her house the once and that was a Sunday. The prisoner never received a drink in her house, in fact no one had taken a drink in her house since Christmas.

Knew the Voice.

As to her recognizing the voice of the prisoner on the night of the alleged crime, witness said she knew his voice and also saw him depart. She was looking out of a window When she saw him he was going across the road.

Husband's Evidence.

Frederick Collett, husband of the informant, was the next witness. He stated that he knew the accused through working with him. On the night of Wednesday, April 14th he (witness) went into work and spoke to prisoner who was preparing to leave. When the witness returned to his home in the morning he found his wife and children in a very agitated and nervous condition. All were awake. He accompanied his [illegible] chen window opened.

Witness gave corroborative evidence as to the relation between prisoner and his family. One Saturday evening he returned about $1.30 from work and found prisoner on his verandah. He came home because the supply of metal he was working on became exhausted. When he spoke to Lillico the latter asked him to have a drink. He refused as he never drinks liquor. When he passed into his house he found his wife and children crying and very nervous.

Asked by Mr. Widdifield as to persons coming to his house while he was away, Collett swore he did not know of any. Counsel for the defence sought to find out if Collett ever asked his wife about persons being there. The court explained to the witness how he need not answer questions regarding conversations with his wife.

In answer to counsel for defence, Collett said his wife suggested that the man was Lillico and as she was suspicious he immediately thought as she did. The reason for his suspicion was because of seeing him on his verandah on the Saturday night. He suspected Lillico was there to assault his wife. When he heard from his wife that Lillico was there last Thursday night he was quite angry.

Magistrate Langley asked the witness if he thought it was right for a man to be angry under such circumstances. Witness replied in the affirmative "I quite agree with you," remarked His Worship.

Witness Too Young.

Willie Collett, the six year old son of former witnesses was called by the defence. The court ruled he was too young to give evidence under oath. The statement he made corroborated the evidence of his mother.

RUSSIAN POLAND TOWN IS BOMBED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Petrograd, April 21.—Ten German aeroplanes raided Bialystok in Russian Poland forty-five miles, southwest of Grodno Tuesday morning.

Berlin, April 21. — An official headquarters statement says the raid at Bialystok was in revenge for the Russians' bombardment of the unfortified towns of Gumbinnen and Insterburg.

OUTLOOK NOT VERY PROMISING TO VON BUELOW

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

ROME, April 21. — The Messagero today publishes an interview with Senator Riccardo Carafa which gives a pessimistic forecast of the outcome of the negotiantions between Italy and Austria. The newspaper says the senator, who is a frequent caller at the house of Prince Von Buelow, makes the statement that he heard from the prince a confession which was substantially as follows: "Unfortunately, Italian-Austrian conversations are not proceeding satisfactorily. Their failure will be followed by a rupture between Rome and Vienna. This will be regretted in Germany, I am sorry to affirm that in this sad eventuality Germany will do her duty to the end by the side of Austria." Continuing, Senator Carafa declares he repeated this conversation to Premier Salandra, who did not seem suprised at it. On the contrary, he said to the senator, "impelled by paramount interests of our country, we will proceed with our duty against all our antagonists."

NO RUBBER TIRES.

Amsterdam, April 21.—A Dutch firm which recently ordered two automobiles from Germany was surprised to find them on delivery, equipped with wooden tires, the export of rubber from Germany being forbidden.

MILITARY NEWS

(Belleville Intelligencer.)

A movement is on foot to provide a regimental fund for the 39th battalion of a sum of not less than $10,000, to cover the cost of purchase of field kitchens, musical instruments and other necessary articles of equipment not provided by the government. It has been desided to appeal to the different cities, county, township and other municipal bodies throughout Eastern Ontario as well as to the generosity of private citizens and societies. The battalion is now at full strength, numbering over one thousand men of all ranks, and has representatives from practically every city, village and municipality in its ranks. Send your subscriptions to the officer commanding 39th battalion, Belleville, who will gladly acknowledge amount.

Divine service was held for the troops on Sunday morning at the Armouries, the service being conducted by Capt. the Rev. C. R. Spencer, who preached on the power of prayer.

The improvement in the march discipline of the 39th is very marked, the men exhibiting a thorough soldierly spirit as they march through the streets on their way to the drill ground. The officers claim that within the next few weeks the battalion will be second to none in point of efficiency.

SIR ADAM BECK.

Adam Beck is now on his way to France on an important mission in connection with the operations of the British forces. He will be acting for the Dominion militia department.

BULGARS AGAIN RAID SERBIA

LONDON, April 21. — "It is semi-officially announced," says Reuter's Nish correspondent, "that two fresh inroads into Serbian territory have been made by irregular bands of Bulgarians."

Intercessory Service at St. John's Church for Men at the Front

Arrangements have been completed for the observation of St. George's Day at St. John's Church, Friday evening at eight o'clock, when it is expected that a very large congregation will be present.

The Lord Bishop of Toronto, Dr. Sweeny, will deliver an appropriate discourse, in which he will deal with the conflict now raging in Europe.

It will be an intercessory service for the men who are fighting so valiantly for the Empire. Canada is doing her part and thereby being drawn closer to the Motherland; This is also true of the other dominions and today, England finds true and loyal support in this her hour of need. As an acknowledgment of this assistance, it has been plainly stated in the British House of Commons that the dominions and Canada in particular shall be fully consulted when the peace terms are considered.

The 57th Regiment will attend the service, their presence being voluntary as no orders were read at the weekly drill last night.

Ladies Sell Roses.

During the day, the ladies of St. Georges' Church will sell red roses. They have arranged for a large supply and are looking forward to a ready sale. Every son of England will want to wear a rose on St. George's Day.

OFFICIAL FIGHTER OF GRAFT.

THE NEWS has been given out that the British Government has appointed Sir George Gibb as official fighter of graft in the purchase of war supplies. The British Government, in spite of its highly efficient and numerous civil service, has found itself unable to cope with the situation in view of the countless numbers of orders and the immense size of contracts for supplies. In view of recent disclosures at Ottawa and the holding up of England as an example and contrast by the press, particularly the Liberal press of Canada, this admission is interesting and surprising. England, where graft was supposed to find no place whereon to lay its head, especially in political circles, has shown that the Government is unable to keep it down. There is hope yet for Canada. The admission of the Asquith Government will give support to the contention of the Canadian Government that the situation of a great war for which the country was totally unprepared was something taxing to the utmost the capacity of the Government, particularly the Militia Department, and made it impossible to prevent some irregularities. Premier Borden made a point of this in his recent famous speech when referring to the early stages of the war. It is very probable that when all things are considered, and comparisons made with other governments, that the Canadian Government will be second to none in its efficiency in dealing with the war.

GERMANS LAUGH AT DROWNING VICTIMS.

ONE OF THE SURVIVORS of the Falaba, the liner which was torpedoed by a German submarine, took several pictures of the disaster, and, although he was in the icy water for an hour, saved his camera, and the pictures have now been published. They show the German submarine standing by, and the crew laughing uproariously at the hapless victims as they sank in the sea. They allowed only ten minutes for the passengers, numbering 160, to get into the boats, the result being that several were capsized in launching them. Although no war vessels were near, the Germans made no attempt to rescue the people, but enjoyed the sport. The pictures are excellent evidence of the savagery and brutality that actuates the Germans, officers and men, on the sea and on land in this present war.

IT WANTS PROOF AND THEN MORE PROOF.

WITH ITS USUAL hostility to investigate anything where there is a real need for inquiry, the Examiner takes a very temporizing attitude to the Frank Oliver charges, and damns with faint praise Sir Robert Borden's declaration regarding misconduct in the purchase of war supplies. It refuses to take Sir Robert Borden's word, and demands proof of his sincerity! This attitude furnishes a striking contrast with that of leading Liberal newspapers like the Toronto Globe, Toronto Star and Winnipeg Free Press, which were quite satisfied to take Sir Robert Borden's word, and commended him for his declaration. They also took, for them, a very hostile attitude to the Hon. Frank Oliver, whose own admissions in the House were sufficient to cause censure, save from the rabidly partizan Liberal journals, to which our contemporary evidently belongs. However, it is a satisfaction to know that the better class of newspapers of both political parties have expressed themselves in support and in commendation of the Prime Minister's attitude. It should also be mentioned that Sir Wilfrid Laurier also deserves praise for taking an attitude similar to that of the Premier. He has not tried to screen Hon. Frank Oliver, and has spoken scathingly of misconduct in the purchase of war supplies. The declarations of the two leading men in Canadian politics give promise of cleaner politics in future.

HYDRO RADIALS.

THERE IS no doubt that suburban lines have been very important factors in the development of several Canadian municipalities. The Niagara District, Toronto and Ottawa are cases in point. If hydro radial lines could be built in this locality it would be a big factor in facilitating its development, both from the farmers' standpoint and that of Peterborough and the various towns in the neighbourhood. In this connection the Electrical News says:

"It must be recognized that the assurance of success of an electric railway proposition is an entirely different matter from the success of an undertaking to supply light and power. It cannot be overlooked that this fact is borne out by the almost universal experience of those Canadian municipalities which have undertaken to control both their railway and their electric light and power utilities. It is also significant that, so far as published figures show the result, suburban systems operated by private companies have rarely been able to cover expenses of operation during the first half-dozen years, and this often, too, when they have been operated in immediate conjunction with large city systems.

"The experience of the past in this country, at least, therefore, is all against the probability of the Ontario Commission having an easy row to hoe in the first few years of operation of their radials. On this account it is of prime importance that the financial prospects of the venture should be studied in careful detail and very liberal aid given by our governments to reduce capital and maintenance charges to be carried by the various municipalities. Government aid in this case is as surely justifiable as when, on previous occasions, private corporations have received assistance for a more or less localized railway system, for the reason that the hydro radial scheme is to cover a very wide area, which may, theoretically at least, be extended to cover the whole province. In any event, the possibility of a branch to any particular area which may now be isolated, will only be possible as a result of the previous construction of what must constitute more or less a trunk railway system, and for this reason, we may all be considered as profiting, though possibly not equally, by the inauguration, in the early future, of such part of this work as seems to promise the greatest assurance of commercial and financial success.

"The Government has doubtless taken a wise course, considered from the point of view of the hydro radial proposition, in cancelling a number of railway charters, which recently came up for renewal and which constituted more or less of a menace to the Government scheme, especially when the plans covered the same or immediately contiguous areas. This action, however, placed on the Government the obligation of having the work of the Commission pushed forward with all possible speed and especially to cover these areas which the cancelled charters were originally designed to serve."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

PEOPLE have heard of swords being beaten into ploughshares, but now shells, shrapnel shells are to be used to enlighten the world. Some genius in the Canadian General Electric Company has designed a shrapnel reading lamp, the stock being an eighteen-pounder shell mounted on a neat brass base and fitted with a suitable light and shade. Being an electric lamp, it will no doubt be a shocking souvenir of the great war.

GENERAL Smith-Dorrien says the war will be over in five months. Professor Kylie says it will last longer than expected. If the former is wrong we may infer that his months are longer than ours!

A MILLION DOLLAR sugar beet factory is to be built in Chatham this year by the Dominion Sugar Company of Wallaceburg, on a sixty-three acres site. Very good. That ought to sweeten things a bit around Chatham.

THE TORONTO TELEGRAM says Ontario has failed to encourage the editors of local newspapers. That's the way of the world—little reward in life, monuments when dead.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Sir Robert Borden's Firm Stand.

(Ottawa Citizen.)

Sir Robert Borden, on the closing day of Parliament, has done something almost unprecedented in Dominion public life. As leader of the party in power he has denounced the political conduct of some of the men sitting behind him in the House of Commons, practically reading two offending members out of the Conservative party. All Canadians, regardless of party, will rejoice at this courageous and significant step of the Prime Minister.

Sir Robert's firm stand regarding the public censuring of Mr. W. F. Garland, M. P. for Carleton County, and Mr. A. De Witt Foster, M. P. for King's, N. S., will do much to restore the confidence of this country in the present administration. It should help to clear away a prevailing idea that less scrupulous political leaders were really in command of the Government.

The Prime Minister did not attempt to paliate the political profit-making by Mr. W. F. Garland's clerk on field dressings for the wounded soldiers. At the time of the inquiry the English-speaking member for Ottawa, Mr. A. E. Fripp, brought forward the specious plea that the political profits were to be used to put the drug clerk through college. Such a sophism did not satisfy Sir Robert Borden — fortunately for the country and the party he leads.

German Menace to the United States.

(Stratford Herald.)

That it is Germany's intention at the first opportunity to challenge the Monroe Doctrine, which would be when Great Britain has been pushed from the path of German progress, and that the existence under official supervision of vast German colonies in Brazil is part and parcel of a scheme of imperial expansion, is the declaration made in an exceedingly important and interesting interview granted the correspondent of the New York Tribune by Sir William Haggard, until recently British Minister to Brazil. Sir William says there can be no doubt of Germany's ulterior intentions; Germany only waits for victory in this war, and, had this war not taken place, the government in Berlin would have struck when the United States became engaged in some great conflict which would tie her hands, so far as maintenance of the Monroe Doctrne was concerned.

Laurier's White Elephant.

(Hansard Report.)

Hon. W. T. White.—During the year 1913 and the early part of 1914, during the financial stringency to which I referred a few moments ago, we had the burden of completing the railway policy initiated by the government of my right hon. friend, of repairing the consequences of his mistakes. I say to him now that his railway policy, in its potential consequences, is fraught, and has always been fraught, with the utmost danger to this Dominion of Canada.

Ante-Mortem Wit.

(Boston Transcript.)

Oscar Wilde, in his last hours, made a jest about dying, and so before him did Lord Chesterfield. The latter, when he had only a short while to live, was, on the advice of his physician, taken out for an easy drive. As the equipage was proceeding slowly along it was met by a lady who remarked pleasantly: "Ah, my lord, I am glad to see you able to drive out."

"I am not driving out, madam," answered Chesterfield; "I am simply rehearsing my funeral."

THE RIVERS YSER AND THE ISER

Belgium's River and the One of Which Campbell Wrote

There is Yser, and there is Iser. We have read much lately about the river Yser in Belgium, on both banks of which there has been heavy fighting. Whenever the name of the river has appeared in print it has recalled Campbell's brief but stirring poem which tells of the river Iser, and some readers, forgetting their history and geography, have wondered if in both cases the same river was referred to. Some years back Campbell's "Hohenlinden" was a favorite poem for declamation in the schools, and it adorned many of the school readers. Its first stanza goes like this:

On Linden, when the sun was low,
All bloodless lay the untrodden snow,
And dark as winter was the flow
Of Iser rolling rapidly.

The rhythmic flow of the words makes the poem easy to commit to memory, which explains why it was frequently selected for declamation. The river Iser, of which Campbell wrote, is in Bavaria and is a branch of the upper Rhine. On its banks was fought the battle of Hohenlinden, when the combined French and Bavarian armies defeated the Austrians. Then the French and Bavarians were allies. In the fighting about the river Yser they are enemies.—Hartford Courant.

BORN A FIGHTER.

A French General Who Loved His Soldiers and Proved It.

Many men have been good soldiers and brave commanders who, nevertheless, had no relish for fighting. General Oudinot, famous in the wars of Napoleon, was a warrior of another type. He seemed, at all events, to love war for its own sake. His fiery temper and his ideal of a soldier are well exemplified in the following:

In July, 1805, when Oudinot was thirty-eight years old, the emperor reviewed the grenadiers at their camp at Boulogne. The customary maneuvers were performed, and at the end General Oudinot, in command of the grenadiers, started to march at the head of the line before Napoleon. He put the spurs to his horse, and the steed balked. The struggle was brief, for the exasperated general drew his sword and gave the horse such a stab in the neck that in another moment the horse lay stretched upon the sand.

That night the commander of the grenadiers dined with the emperor, and in the course of the meal Napoleon said:

"Is that the way you treat your horses?"

"Sire," said Oudinot, "when any one knows not how to obey that is my method."

The other story is even more grim. Some one spoke to Oudinot about the deep affection which a general must cherish for his devoted troops.

"Love them!" he exclaimed. "Do I love them? Ah, I think I do. I have had them all killed!"

There spoke the born fighter, who shirked no danger himself, and accounted it the most enviable lot of a sol[illegible]—Washington Star.

How Railroads Have Grown.

To show how rapidly railroads developed in the United States, in 1828 there were only 3 miles, in 1830 42 miles, in 1840 2,800 miles and in 1850 50,000 miles. The present railroad mileage in the United States is upward of 356,000 miles, or equal to several tracks around the globe, while the total mileage of the world is more than 640,000 miles, all built in less than a hundred years.

A Matter of Trade.

An American merchant in Guatemala had a rich customer who wanted two dozen ties exactly like the one he wore. The order was sent to a maker in the United States, who answered that those ties were out of date, and sent two dozen of the latest style. They were not wanted. The merchant then ordered two dozen in Germany, where they were made just as desired.—New York Post.

WONDERS OF THE PANAMA EXPOSITION

Visitor to Great Fair Gives The Review Some of His Impressions

A newspaper man who was assigned to interview a prominent citizen just returned from an extended trip, received a shock this morning from which he has not yet recovered. The gentleman refused to permit his name to appear in connection with the interview, claiming that he was invariably averse to publicity of any description. He prided himself, moreover on the successful record of thirty years, during which perod his name had never appeared in type in any publication. With many misgivings and a sad heart, the reporter promised to respect his wishes, feeling, however, that for once modesty and a retiring disposition could sometimes be a vice instead of a virtue.

The gentleman, however, had a decidedly entertaining and interesting story to relate. The beauties of California and the Panama Exposition, which formed a portion of his itinerary, were narrated with a wealth of descriptiveness that conjured up a mental picture of all the spots he visited. Especially lavish was his eulogy of the Canadian exhibit at the Great Fair.

Canadian Exhibits.

"You can tell your readers that I failed to see even a fair second to the exhibits in the Canadian pavilion," he remarked. "The pavilion itself is a magnificent structure, and the most realistic thing I ever saw were the wheat fields it contained, — so natural indeed was it that it was extremely difficult to tell where the artificial fields and the real met. The exhibit of Canadian water powers was an excellent portrayal in pictures of a real number of power plant models arranged to show that every industrial centre throughout the Dominion has an abundance of cheap power. Pictures portraying a panoramic view of farm scenes, bird and animal life in Canada were also greatly to be admired and praised, as were other views in the same panorama depicting the land of the past and the land of the present.

Beavers Are Admired.

Beavers furnished by the Provincial Government of Quebec, showing them at work building dams, also come in for much admiration. The beavers came from the northern part of the province and travelled fifteen days to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, which shows their hardy nature.

Living Not Expensive.

"Living is not expensive at the Exposition," declared the gentleman of the retiring disposition. His candid opinion was that the grounds and exhibits at San Diego could not be surpassed, but the attendance was not fulfilling expectations. At San Francisco the grounds and exhibits were also grand, but the visitors were not as numerous as anticipated. Time did not permit him to spend much time at the Exposition, but what he did see was a rare treat.

In regard to living in California, he said it was possible to live at the best hotels at the nominal cost of $5 a day. The bottom of the menu cards contained a note saying: "Guests may procure fruit in the garden free of charge."

The climate of California is beautiful. They do not anticipate getting any rain there for several months. The country is watered by irrigation and every one must take their turn in getting their supply. If the water is turned [illegible] three o'clock in the morning, the owner or one of his men must be there to receive it.

In regard to the route to travel, the returned visitor commended the Rio Grande for one wanting to enjoy to the utmost the unsurpassed beauty of the scenery. It carried one through the picturesque canyons and cliffs and past points of historic interest.

In Salt Lake City there is an ancient temple and tabernacle. The rule in regard to the temple is that no one but those who have refrained from liquor and profanity for five years may enter the grounds. Mr. ——— and a friend were unaware of this, and were walking around the grounds before the horrified guard discovered them. Mr. ——— omitted to say whether he was eligile to invade the sacred domain. At an adjoining tabernacle any one could enter, and at mid-day sacred concerts were given therein.

Nothing irritates a young man more than finding that his father is too big a fool to take his son's advice.

WHEN LOVE REAWAKENED

By MARIE SYLVESTER

Katherine Denton was a not unusual product of a workaday great city, yet was she an exception to her sisters. In years she was twenty-two when Dwight Sanborn first knew her, and, added to physical attractiveness, was an indefinable something that reminded you of Dresden china or dainty, delicate silks—something alien to a strident, jostling world of dollars and duns.

Miss Denton was a stenographer in the law office where young Sanborn worked after graduation from the law school and where he subsequently earned a junior partnership. In the first days of apprenticeship to the law he remembered more of Browning than of Blackstone and quoted the philosopher Kant to the neglect of the legal Kent.

It was similarity in taste that first brought the young people closer than stenographer and employer. Sanborn was dictating a petition to be filed in an action for breach of promise, and his levity evidenced his distaste of the task.

Flippantly he quoted from Mrs. Browning's immortal sonnet, which the incautious defendant had incorporated in a letter destined to be an exhibit in the case:

I love thee with a love I seemed to lose
With my lost saints. I love thee with the breath. Smiles—

The rest escaped him.

"Smiles!" he repeated, in an effort to remember, when Miss Denton interrupted:

Smiles, tears of all my life, and if God choose
I shall but love thee better after death.

The repetition was impersonal, of course, and the young woman let escape her the repressed tenseness of the tones which told of sympathy with the heart that gave the sentiment to the world and more than that to a man who could inspire it.

Sanborn laughed, thanked her for completing the quotation and finished outlining the petition. Afterward he remembered, and a day or two later a daintily bound volume of the Portuguese sonnets reached Miss Denton's desk with Sanborn's card. That was the beginning.

Love came quickly to [illegible] and scarcely a year elapsed until Katherine Denton was Katherine Sanborn. Courtship days were dreams of accomplishment and development of higher ideals they believed they wanted to realize.

But, while the woman loved and lived and dreamed, the man deteriorated to the typically masculine. He became brilliant in manipulation of the law's intricacies and was made a regularly retained counsel to a number of immense and important corporations. His days at the office were filled with the law, and the evenings at home felt the dominating influence of ambition's passion.

Instead of the dreams of sweeth days, everything was subordinated to the quest for legal success. And to Katherine came the thought that even in his profession ideals had been dethroned and new gods set up for adoration and devotion, for Sanborn was at his best when piloting a corporation craft through mazes that baffled the intent of the statutes.

"I'm losing the man I married," she cried to herself in the solitude of neglected wifehood. "He's slipping, slipping, and I cannot prevent it, cannot hold him."

With disillusionment came unrest, with unrest rebellion. To the woman it seemed that all that life held worth while was being taken from her. She was envied as the wife of a brilliant man, one destined to acquire great wealth, but these were not desirable to her.

"Sometimes—I'm not quite happy," she told him falteringly one night when he remarked her apparent illness.

"Nonsense, little girl! We're getting along famously," he told her.

"You are," she answered dully.

"Well, it's for us both," was his reply, but it did not satisfy.

For three years she endured it, and because there were only the two of them life grew lonelier and lonelier until in a moment of desperate aberration she fled his house and left a note bidding him not to seek her.

At first she was in doubt where to turn. She had a little money and felt sure she could secure a position as stenographer and that a few weeks would enable her to regain her old time cleverness in the calling. Then she reflected that Sanborn would naturally seek her in the field of her former employment.

She thought of nursing, and it seemed a haven. To forget one's own griefs in comforting others in distress appealed to her. A fortnight after her flight she was a student nurse in a private sanitarium under the direction of a kindly old physician who had known and loved the girl since her earliest days in New York. Wisdom had come to him with years, and he knew that a few months of the seclusion she sought would bring clearer vision.

At the first shock Sanborn was nigh [illegible] discontented he had not believed. Yet in her note he saw what they had missed because of his money madness. Right—she was a million times right, he told himself bitterly, and could he find her again they would begin together at the start and, please God, go this time aright. But search was unavailing.

Then came the breakdown, complete, miserable, and the physician prescribed the sanitarium where his wife was learning the rudiments of nursing. Sanborn was put in a room in a part of the building where only the graduate nurses were usually allowed; consequently it was some days before Katherine knew the roof that sheltered her housed Dwight.

The physician installed her in a room adjoining Sanborn's and explained enough of the situation to the nurse in charge to secure her as ally in what he hoped to accomplish.

"Hang your medicines! I want Katherine. Do you hear? Get her!" she heard one morning in commanding tones. She started, listened again to his voice in delirium, then peeked cautiously through a half opened door.

He was hardly recognizable, this sallow faced patient with sunken cheeks and bulging eyes. With a quick little cry of pity and love she ran to him.

"Dwight, Dwight," she sobbed, "here is Katherine! Here, dear! Don't you know me?"

"Go away! You're not Katherine. She left me. I've lost her, and I want her. I want her!" And tears came to his eyes, as they did to hers.

The wise old doctor permitted her to assist in the nursing, but there were times when she was rigidly excluded. The exclusion hurt her, but the doctor was inexorable, and obedience is the first requirement in a resort of the kind, so she had to obey.

It was the morning of the 1st of June. Katherine was in the room adjoining her husband when she heard him call.

"Oh, Katherine!" And there was a naturalness in the tones that indicated returned reason. She dropped the book she had to rush to him, and in his eyes were remembrance and clear understanding.

"Katherine, it was you, then. I—I thought I dreamed it."

"I'm sorry, Dwight, sorrier than I can tell you. It was all wrong, my going away. I—I want forgiveness," she whispered.

"Forgiveness? You? Rather I should ask it. It has been hard. It seemed cruel, but perhaps it was for our good, sweetheart. The boy you used to love is coming back—coming back—coming back, sweetheart."

For a moment he lay silent, his eyes closed. Then he started.

"The birds, dearest, the birds?" he asked.

"It's the first day of June," she whispered.

"June, Katherine, June for us for always," he murmured sleepily as he lifted the hand that lay in his to his lips and kissed it. And like a tired child he slipped into sleep, sweet sleep, with an awakening to happiness and love.

The Fatal Force of Habit.

How the force of habit may endanger an otherwise perfect disguise is illustrated in a story told by an Italian count who arrived recently in New York. When the war broke out he was motoring in Germany with his wife and chauffeur. At Carlsbad he met a British officer who was an old friend and who asked permission to join his party in order to get out of the country. The chauffeur accordingly became a manservant and the officer took his place. The motorists were arrested nine times before they safely reached France, and only once was the officer suspected. That was when he instinctively returned the military salute of a sentry who stopped the car.—Manchester Guardian.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Bright's Disease.

There are two forms of Bright's disease, acute and chronic, which, according to statistics compiled by the United States government, kills thousands of persons every year. The duration of the acute form is on the average from two to six weeks. The treatment prescribed by the attending physician must be rigidly carried out, for if this is not done death is apt to occur.

Chronic Bright's disease is sometimes secondary to the acute form, but it is very often primary. The treatment of this chronic disease is largely dietetic and hygienic. The patient must live a life of quiet and rest. The diet must be free from meat and all foods which cause indigestion. Sometimes an all milk diet proves to be the most suitable. The activity of the skin must be increased by daily warm baths. The use of alcoholic beverages must be given up absolutely. The intestinal canal must be kept free from undigested, fermenting foods. For this purpose a daily dose of epsom salts should be given—two teaspoonfuls in three-quarters of a glass of cold water half an hour before breakfast every morning. Medical treatment alone is of little value. Unless the entire mode of living is changed and bad habits given up there is small chance of living for even a few years.

ARTISTIC WALL DECORATION

Choice and Placing of Pictures Properly Requires Good Taste

A few well chosen pictures will lend distinction to a room. The use of many small pictures suggests confusion. While a few large, choice paintings or photogravures, handsomely framed, make the simply furnished living room a more distinguished interior than perhaps it really is, walls covered with framed prints, photographs, sketches and passe partouts, turn it into a "den," cozy and intimate, perhaps, but not a room in which to receive visitors or to dispense hospitality.

A constant process of elimination is necessary if the walls of the small apartment are not to be overcrowded. There are so many charming little pictures that tempt the eye, hand colored prints of places endeared by sentiment, photographs of famous paintings and the like. Each may be excellent in itself, but massed, helter skelter, on the walls of living room or bedroom they make a jumble which robs the room of individuality.

Groups of passe partouted photographs may be hung in the hall, and the arrangement of such pictures in such a place must be very regular, with even spaces between the pictures and between the groups.

Large pictures in the living room should not be hung too high, a very common mistake. As a rule the lower edge of a very large picture should be about four feet from the floor, of a medium sized picture about five feet from the floor. Smaller pictures hung between the larger ones may be five and a half feet from the floor, and the spaces at either side of the small picture should be the same. Sometimes a small picture may be hung exactly below a larger one, and in this case the larger one will be lifted a trifle.

In almost every well furnished French room there is a well placed mirror, sometimes two or three. The dweller in a small apartment should not forget the value of mirrors in creating perspective and making a small room appear larger than it really is. A high, narrow mirror flanked by sconces gives an exceedingly distinguished effect.

Decorative novelties are the bas-reliefs of old masters, which may be seen in the art shops. These are really white plaster bas reliefs tinted in artistic colors. They are framed in suitably simple moldings of harmonizing or contrasting colors. Frames of gold, of white enamel, of ebony, black walnut, etc., are variously used. Three characteristic bas reliefs are pictured here.

A Standing Watch.

A small watch that stands upright is seen in the shops. It is especially convenient for the desk or dressing table. It is guaranteed to keep correct time and to be in good running condition when it is bought.

Rhode Island's Capitals.

Rhode Island adopted a constitution in 1842, which named five capitals for the state, designating Newport, South Kingston, Bristol, East Greenwich and Providence as the places for successive honor. In 1854 an amendment restricted the meeting places of the general assembly or legislature to two places—Newport and Providence. In 1900 Providence became the only seat of the legislature.

Life Insurance in a Crisis

Every time a great Crisis occurs LIFE INSURANCE has an opportunity to show what a giant of strength it is. Tremendous burdens are placed upon its shoulders, but it never shirks, never hesitates or groans.

When the Titanic took its awful plunge, carrying 1,500 human souls into the deep, thousands of widows and orphans were left throughout the world. LIFE INSURANCE accepted the burden without the quiver of a muscle, and spread its protection around the Globe.

When seven years ago the financial world was laboring under an attack of indigestion due to undigested securities, and people could not get even their own money out of the Savings Banks, LIFE INSURANCE furnished spot cash to its policyholders upon application.

Today, when a gigantic struggle wages across the Seas, and it is difficult to get loans from banks or money lenders, they find the solution again in LIFE INSURANCE.

It is today saving thousands of men all over the world, not only embarrassment, but actual failure.

LIFE INSURANCE protects your wife and family.
" " will meet their needs when you are gone.
" " is always a resource.
" " contributes to your estate.
" " increases your savings.
" " increases the savings habit.

Money invested in LIFE INSURANCE is sure to come back to you or your family.

Your credit is made better by the amount of LIFE INSURANCE you carry.

The need of LIFE INSURANCE to every man with a family is as fixed as the daily need for bread, and that need is well met by a policy in Interned Prisoners Busy.

There are now 500 interned Austrians and Germans working on the federal experimental farm in the vicinity of Hearst. Their daily task is to clear the surrounding country of brush and undergrowth, and they are paid at the rate of 25 cents per day. Every man is expected to work.

It is expected that 800 men will soon be on the way to the new farms near Fort William and Port Arthur. At a point 80 miles from the latter centre, arrangements are being made to receive a detachment.

In the majority the prisoners are able-bodied young men without family connections, although a few have left wives and children in Ontario centres. These will be looked after by the Federal Government, which assumes complete charge.

WOUNDED BRITISH KILLED BY HUNS

Soldiers Were Beaten to Death on Field Eye-Witness Says.

Letter Written by German Officer Referring to the Bestiality of His Men Confirms Charges of Brutality.

LONDON, April 21.—That German soldiers in a rage beat British wounded to death is the charge made in a narrative by the official Eyewitness with the British troops, dated April 16, and given out by the press bureau yesterday.

"In view of false accusations in enemy newspapers regarding the conduct of the British at Neuve Chapelle," the narrative says, "the following extract from the diary of a German officer, dated Dec. 19, 1914, is interesting:

"'The sight of the trenches and the fury, not to say the bestiality, of our men in beating to death wounded British, affected me so much that for the rest of the day I was fit for nothing.'

"The writer of this," the British official observer continues, "was in the 13th Regiment, 13th Division of the 7th German Corps. His testimony is borne out by the evidence of our men on numerous occasions, notably at Neuve Chapelle, where several of our wounded were temporarily left behind and subsequently were found bayoneted or with their brains blown out."

Reviewing recent operations the Eyewitness says:

"On the 8th our artillery caused further losses among hostile parties in the neighborhood of Richebourg-Festubert. The enemy's trench mortars were active, but were soon shelled into silence. Our anti-aircraft guns damaged one of the enemy's aeroplanes.

"About midnight of the 12th an airship passed over the town and dropped fifteen bombs. Three women and a child were killed and a few horses were injured.

"On the 13th enemy aeroplanes were more active east of Ypres, throwing flares and smoke balls over the trenches, which were then subjected to a heavy bombardment of guns and rifle grenades. On the 14th the German heavy artillery shelled Cuinchy and about midnight the enemy exploded a mine close to our trenches near St. Eloi, causing a few casualties. Early the following morning we fired a mine opposite Cuinchy, blowing up a portion of the hostile trenches.

"Prisoners state that the shortage in regular officers and the promotion of one-year volunteers has led to great deterioration in the quality of junior officers, many of whom the soldiers regard with secret contempt. The wholesale distribution of Iron Crosses has caused the decoration to be despised. The Kaiser and Von Hindenburg are still popular heroes, but the Crown Prince has lost caste.

"The absurd forms in which hatred of the British nation is exhibited are shown by the report of a prisoner that the gas tanks at Diedenhoffen have been painted with "Gott Strafe England' in enormous letters."

TO DECORATE THE CHURCH

Methodists at Hastings Propose to Beautify Their Edifice

MORE ROOM NEEDED AT PUBLIC SCHOOL

Hastings, April 21.—The trustee board of the Methodist Church held a special meeting on Tuesday of the past week, for the purpose of deciding what form of decoration would be most suitable for the interior of the church. Mr. J. Prest, decorator, was present, and presented his plans and estimates, and it is purposed to begin operations in the near future. Mr. Wm. Warner was appointed to supervise the levelling and seeding of the lawn, and other necessary outside improvements.

The Epworth League meeting on Monday night was under the direction of the 2nd vice-president and proved most interesting and instructive.

The very large attendance at the public school has made it necessary to put forth an effort for the building of a new school house. In order to assist in this project it was deemed advisable to try to extend the school boundaries by adding some ratepayers from the township of Percy, and also some from Asphodel. A meeting to bring the matter before the ratepayers was held on Thursday afternoon, when the views of several interested persons were heard. Inspector Lees, of Peterborough, Squire Brackenridge, of Westwood, and Mr. Weatherson, of Percy, were in attendance, but no extension of territory was granted to Hastings, the ratepayers remaining in the same school section as before.

Serious Illness.

We regret to report the serious illness from a severe attack of pneumonia, of Mr. Ed. Lynch, whose condition, according to latest reports, shows very little sign of improvement. His many friends extend sympathy and hope for him a speedy restoration to health.

Mr. Wm. Scriver has opened up a new butcher shop in the Tracey block, Front street, and is prepared to cater to the public wants along this line.

Mr. Wm. Warner was in Cobourg for a few days last week, as juror at the spring assizes.

Miss B. Moore, of Warkworth, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Baker.

Mr. George Temple, of Campbellford, was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. John Carter of Otonabee, spent Tuesday with friends here.

Mr. Wm. McKay, of Havelock, gave us a call on Thursday

Mr. Hull, of Peterborough, was in this vicinity during the past week, in search of horses to purchase.

Mr. Wm. Baker was in Cobourg last week attending the sitting of the court.

Mr. Stuart Wright, of Burford, was a guest during the week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Beavis.

The Baker Bros. have purchased an auto for the road business.

Miss Edna Tate, took a trip to Campbellford last week.

Miss Honey, of Percy, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Carter, and party, of Havelock, motored to Hastings on Saturday and spent the day with friends.

Miss M. Hoar, of Percy, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. Warner.

Mr. Bert Squire, reeve of Norwood, was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Smith and family, took a trip (by auto) to Campbellford, on Saturday.

Miss Beryl Montgomery of Roseneath, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. M. Baker.

The majority of the people have recovered from the effects of la grippe, although some are still in its clutches.

House cleaning is the order of the day, and we betide the man who refuses to lend a helping hand in this important industry.

It affords great satisfaction to report that the fall grain has come through the winter in good condition, and is covering the fields with a carpet of green.

The water in the river, which has been unusually low this spring, is commencing to rise owing, no doubt, to the breaking up of the northern lakes.

Miss A. Dryden of Campbellford, has been visiting friends near Hastings.

Mrs. Merrill of Percy, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Wilson.

The Epworth League will hold a rubber social on Monday evening (26th) when a good time is looked forward to.

Mr. N. Said, of town, has taken to himself a bride, in the person of Miss M. Ases, of Damascus. His friends extend congratulations.

Mr. Wm. Rice has returned to her home in Gananoque, after a pleasant visit at her former home here.

The war tax has come into force and letters must carry one, if expected to reach their destination.

The farmers are right into the busy season of seeding, the weather being ideal. Various articles of farm implements are daily being unloaded from the cars, and taken to the farmers for use.

Airmen Destroy Rhine Stations.

LONDON, April 21.—"Two French aerial squadrons attacked railway positions along the Rhine Monday afternoon," says The Daily Telegraph's Zurich correspondent, "bombarding successfully the Mullheim and Habsheim stations. The immense forage stores at Munnheim were set on fire and the buildings and contents were completely destroyed."

RUSSIANS PROGRESS IN CARPATHIAN VILLAGES

Germans Have Sent Large Reinforcements Through Moravia and Railway Lines Are Tied up by Large Movements of Troops.

LONDON, April 21.—There has recently been a complete cessation of passenger and general traffic on the Prague and Bruen system of Austrian railways. The Germans have sent large reinforcements through Moravia, in north Hungary. These have not entered into action and are the vanguard of an Austro-German attempt to develop a counter-attack against the Russians among the hill villages of the southern Carpathians. About 600,000 Austro-German troops are now engaged there over an irregular line between the Lupkow and Uszok passes. Their base is a plateau stretching beyond Gumennoys and overlooking the flat farming land of Hungary. The fighting in the middle of this position is very desperate, but the Russians are slowly wearing down resistance.

The Austrian railway system near the Roumanian frontier is also closed against ordinary traffic, doubtless because they are evacuating Bukowina and bringing troops round under German orders into Hungary.

Although the Austrians have lost half a million prisoners to the Russians since the war began, besides a terrible total of dead and wounded, the Magyar controllers of Austrian policy know well that Germany will not permit them to make a separate peace. Accordingly the present battle is being fought with terrible ferocity by the German and Magyar combination, with the knowledge that the destiny of the dual monarchy hangs on the result.

The German invasion of Hungary has been accomplished by the same curious proceedings noticed in the German invasion of Poland early in the war. A vast amount of forged Russian paper money is being forced by the Germans on the Russophil rural population. Refugees are bringing quantities of it to Kiev, where the authorities have placarded the town warning the population not to accept 10, 25 and 100 rouble notes from strangers.

Some measure of success was gained by French troops yesterday in the Forest of Montmarie, between the Meuse and the Moselle rivers, and slight progress was made on the Flirey and Essey road.

German counter-attacks against Hartmanns-Wellerkopf, in Alsace, were repulsed by the French troops holding that eminence.

A fairly heavy cannonade and some outpost fighting were reported from the edge of Parroy Wood.

Opening the way for an attack en masse on the French positions in the Forest of La Pretre, the Germans attempted to rush these positions with their infantry, but the French artillery, which was on the watch, immediately stopped the dense columns of the enemy by a well-directed and deadly fire.

Fighting was confined to artillery exchanges in the Champagne and Argonne districts. The infantry did not come out of their trenches.

Out of revenge for their defeats elsewhere, the Germans opened fire on Rheims with incendiary shells, fifty of which were dropped on the town.

Further details were published yesterday of the British capture of Hill 60, near Ypres. Very severe fighting, in which both sides suffered heavy losses, took place at this point. The British success is declared by Field Marshal Sir John French to be an important one, as it gives the British guns command of a considerable area occupied by the Germans, and paves the way for an attack on the passages of the Lys, by means of which the towns of Lille, Roubaix and Turcoing can be approached.

The six latest Prussian casualty lists total 32,542. The total Prussian casualties are 1,196,969.

The German losses to date amount to 2,750,000. The four lists include "unrecognizable bodies."

WOMEN'S VOTE TURNS TIDE IN FAVOR OF PROHIBITION

Less Than 200 Townships in Illionois Are Now Wet

CHICAGO, April 21.—Illinois was in the throes of a prohibition ballot yesterday, with decisive victories for the "dry" party.

No new counties were added to the "entirely dry" column, but the no-license territory was extended until less than 200 townships in the state are now wet.

The most extensive success of the drys was won in Dupage county, a neighbor of Cook county, of which Chicago is a part, where three out of four communities that had the question up went "dry."

The feminine vote was the deciding factor in at least two of the Dupage dry triumphs. In Napierville 476 women voted dry and 295 wet, while of the men 222 voted dry and 286 wet. The dry proposition carried by 117 votes through the strength rolled up by the feminine electors. The outcome was similar in West Chicago. The men voted for the saloons. They cast 277 dry ballots and 366 wet. The women were against the saloons almost two to one. They voted 365 dry and 197 wet, and the dram-shops were put out of commission by a majority of 39.

NEW COMMANDER PRINCESS PATS

Major Gault Says Buller is Very Popular

OTTAWA, April 21.—Major Hamilton Gault, of the Princess Patricias, who is invalided in London from the front, where he was wounded, writes to Gen. Hughes expressing the satisfaction of this crack regiment at the appointment of Lt.-Col. Buller to the command in succession to Col. Farquhar, who was killed recently.

Incidentally he confirms the cause of the death of Col. Farquhar. "He fell by a stray bullet at night while inspecting some new earthworks," says Major [illegible]

"The question of the command of the battalion is now," he adds, "admirably settled in the appointment of Buller. He will make a splendid commanding officer. He has, as of course you know, the absolute confidence of us all and is eminently qualified for the arduous duties which lie before him."

Major Sir Max Aitken, the Canadian official eyewitness in France, has been invalided home, suffering from pneumonia.

Trio of Germans Indicted.

LONDON, April 21. — True bills were returned by the grand jury in the Old Bailey police court yesterday against three alleged German spies, Kuepferle, Hahn and Muller, charged with sending military information to Germany. Anton Kuepferle professes to be an American and it is believed he comes from Brooklyn; Muller claims he is a naturalized Englishman, while Hahn admits he is a German.

Being your brother's keeper is no soft snap when the bill collector is on his trail.

WANT ARBITRATION WHEN WAR IS OVER

BERLIN, April 21.—(Via London)—The Voerwaerts announces that at a conference of German and Austrian Socialists, held in Vienna, it was agreed that the following guarantees must be secured after the war:

International arbitration courts must be developed into obligatory tribunals for settling all differences between nations.

All treaties and agreements of states must be subjected to the democratic Parliamentary control of representative assemblies.

International treaties for limitation of armaments must be agreed upon, with a view to disarmament.

The rights of every nation to determine its own destiny must be recognized.

The fact that Socialists of belligerent states are defending their country in war must not be made a barrier to maintaining the international relationships of all Socialist parties or to activity in their international arrangements.

GOOD FIGHTERS

Turkish Force in Mesopotamia Hard Nut to Crack

LONDON, April 21.—The Marquis of Crewe, Secretary of State for India, announced in the House of Lords yesterday that the Turkish casualties in the recent fighting with the British in Mesopotamia were not less than 2,500. According to a report issued by the India Office last Wednesday the Turkish forces, consisting of some 25,000 Turks, Kurds and Arabs, attacked the British positions at Kurna, Ahwaz and Shibal on March 12, but were driven off. The British casualties were given as 92 men wounded.

The marquis said the Turks proved to be thoroughly trained fighters, and that they concealed their trenches so well that they were invisible at forty yards. The British Government was never under any delusion as to the possibility that the Turks might bring up a force of considerable magnitude to attack the British positions. It was for this reason that British forces were sent to Mesopotamia from Egypt and India.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH KIDNAPPING

KINGSTON, April 21. — Kidnapping her own child was the charge that Eliza Richardson, aged 30, had to answer to in the police court yesterday. Through her counsel she pleaded "not guilty," and the case was remanded a day. It is alleged that the young woman signed papers giving her three-year-old daughter over to Mrs. Helen Bearance, and that Monday she called at Mrs. Bearance's home, and after securing permission to take the child to a corner store for candy, took her to the home of a relative and hid her.

PREMIER ASQUITH APPEALS TO BRITISH WORKMEN

Difficulty in Securing Supplies For War is Result of Lack of Skilled Labor, Depletion of Ranks of Workmen by Recruiting and Amount of Material Required, Declares Prime Minister.

NEWCASTLE, Eng., April 21.—The British Prime Minister, Herbert H. Asquith, in an appeal last night to the workmen of the northeast coast to speed up the output of munitions of war, refrained from all reference to the drink question, and declared that there had been no slackness on the part of either the employes or the employers.

The necessity for greater effort, he said, arose from the fact that an enormous quantity of ammunition was being expended to the success of recruiting among the workers, and the consequent shortage of skilled labor. This was being remedied, and the Premier foreshadowed the enlargement of the present plants and the utilization of factories otherwise engaged to do Government work, with proper compensation.

The appeal was addressed almost as much to the employers as to the men, although the meeting was entirely for the workers, and the manufacturers were told in plain terms that they must not expect to make undue profits from Government contracts.

The Prime Minister was accorded a great ovation, and his speech was repeatedly cheered. He will visit some of the armament works on the Tyne side to-day.

The Premier declared that the demand for men and material was on so vast a scale that it might be said, without exaggeration, that the whole nation was taking part in the war. The armies fighting at the front, like the armies which were being brought into being, were drawn to a degree never before known from all classes and sections of the people. There were very few houses which had not voluntarily and spontaneously contributed their best manhood to the forces of the crown. The men who were producing material were in as true a sense as the sailors and soldiers, fighters and combatants in this national war. No man was worthy the name of British citizen who was not taking his part in it.

In the early days of the war, said the Premier, the Government had appealed for recruits and had obtained the largest and finest body of men who had ever followed the colors.

The Premier also denied that the Government had only lately become alive to the importance of the matter of need for supplies, and declared that in September he had appointed a committee of the Cabinet, headed by Lord Kitchener. The efforts of this committee had largely increased the supplies.

"Nor is it true that there has been any general slackness on the part of any employers or employes," continued the Premier. "Some employers register 67 to 69 hours per week per man. The situation can be otherwise explained. It is due to the unprecedented scale on which ammunition has been expended on each side, to the shortness of skilled labor and to the success in recruiting."

Premier Asquith appealed to the men to rival the patriotism of their fellows who had gone to the front by regular attendance at work and an increase in output. All were called upon to make sacrifices. These sacrifices included a limitation of profits, the temporary suspension of restrictive rules and customs, with provision for reasonable compensation in cases of proven injury or loss.

The manufacturers of war material, he said, were not entitled to undue profit; trade unions would not prejudice their interests by suspending their rules, and firms suffering by the transfer of labor, or by inability to carry out their civil contracts would receive prompt and adequate compensation. All claims would be settled at once by a tribunal set up by the Government.

"I state my own conviction," said the Premier, "when I say that once productive factories are organized and mobilized all will be well. I remember your message: 'The masters and men together will deliver the goods.' That is all we ask you to do."

PREPARING TO LEAVE.

German and Austrian Ambassadors at Rome Ready To Get Out.

ROME, April 21. — The German and Austrian Ambassadors accredited to the Quirinal and the Austrian Ambassador and Bavarian and Prussian Ministers accredited to the Vatican are secretly preparing for departure, evidently convinced that a rupture of diplomatic relations may occur at any moment. The Austrian Ambassador at the Quirinal, Baron Macchio, has already sent his family to Innsbruck and granted leave of absence to the embassy staff. Prince Schonburg Hartenstein, Austrian Ambassador to the holy see, will probably anticipate his summer vacation and leave Rome at once. The question of the custody of the archives of several embassies has been satisfactorily settled.

Reports received here from Austria say that the Dual Monarchy is hurriedly gathering troops on the Italian frontier to face a possible invasion by Italian soldiers.

A large contingent of Austrian troops, the reports say, have been quartered at Monfalcone, Ronchi and Sagrado. The Austrians also are said to have strongly fortified the whole line of the Isonzo river with entrenchments, behind which batteries already are in position.

Feverish military preparations are proceeding along the entire Austro-Italian frontier. Eight Italian corps are massed south of the frontier, ready for the call to action.

These 320,000 soldiers are first line troops and chiefly veterans who have seen service in the Tripolitan campaigns.

A good imagination and a bad memory make the owner do some picturesque work when he starts out to lie.

WHOLE EMPIRE MUST MAKE PEACE

LONDON, April 21.—"I agree it would be a sin to pray for peace until the barbarous, world-enslaving pretentions of Germany have been killed," declared Earl Grey at the Royal Colonial Institute meeting yesterday. "No peace will be acceptable to us which is not also acceptable to the overseas' dominions which rallied so gallantly to the flag. If we are true to ourselves, we shall at the conclusion of the war be more powerful than ever. Let us see that we give the wide world a reason for its confidence."

WORKERS SHOULD SECURE A CAMPAIGN MANAGER

Get a Man to Help — Your Brother or Someone Else's Brother Will do — They Can go Where You Cannot and Will Lead You to Success

Interest and enthusiasm in the great voting contest increases daily. A number of the contestants are meeting with splendid success and subscribers are coming forward with a very satisfactory measure of support. Not a day goes by but someone calls to pay their subscription and vote for one of the young ladies.

The air is laden with talk of the Transcontinental and Panama-Pacific Exposition Tour contest.

The prospects of the different candidates are discussed times without number throughout the districts which are embraced in the contest territory. It is infectious. It is not necessary to hear it heralded from the housetops.

Votes, subscriptions, districts, candidates, ballots, are now the subjects of discussion in restaurants, theatres, lobbies, street cars, and every place where a number of people assemble.

And these are not the only places where the story of vote-getters is being told. Many other places may be mentioned.

The interest and enthusiasm has been keyed to the highest point.

Every store in every town where there is a candidates is working for her.

Traveling men are carrying the news of the contest over their territories.

Right Down to Business.

Then there is the real campaign manager for the candidates. Several of them visited the office of the Trans-continental Tour department, yesterday. They came in and deposited their votes for their candidates. They look no different than other people, but when the votes are counted, the effective work they have done is apparent. The campaign of some candidates in the several districts is being managed by some popular man who is selected to work for the candidates determined to go on the 21-day tour across the continent, and to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He has mapped out a plan of action for his candidates, and has named his different lieutenants. Under his direction every possible prospect for securing votes is canvassed and re-canvassed, much the same as before election. The campaign manager sees that his candidates appear prominently among the vote-getters of her district, that every possible vote is secured, and, as the result of the combined efforts of the candidates and their managers, the battle of votes will soon be on in earnest. All the strong candidates are not enrolled yet by any means. GET A CAMPAIGN MANAGER IF YOU CAN.

The much-sought ballot continues to flit across the miles of space to the Transcontinental and Panama-Pacific Exposition Tour Department and the activity of the vote getters in the outlying districts is becoming each day more evident.

There are votes being secured by those enrolled which would probably be much more gladly given to the hesitating ones.

Wasted opportunities are life's greatest regrets. Enroll now if your name was not on the last list.

Rules Governing the Contest.

On the announcement of the Transcontinental and Panama-Pacific Exposition Tour Contest a number of rules were published which are to govern throughout the contest. Among them is a rule providing that no employe of The Review is eligible to enter the contest.

A prospectus explaining the plan of the contest, district boundaries, rules, etc., can be secured at The Review Contest Department.

Special Announcement.

The Contest Department of The Review will be open evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock for the convenience of the candidates and their friends, until further notice.

"Baiting" Railways

In the past, Canada has learned many lessons of importance from the experience of her nearest neighbor, the United States. While the Canadian people are always disposed to act with independence, they are not short-sighted enough to reject what may be learned with profit from another country very similar in nature to this one.

A few weeks ago, the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States handed out a decision granting to the railway companies in certain sections the right to increase their rates. A few years ago any such decision would have aroused a storm of protest. The recent decision was accepted, generally, in such good part as to suggest that the public is being educated in economic truths.

President Woodrow Wilson, who is one of the leading economists of his day, sometimes hands out hints to the public along with his messages. One of these he handed out when he first mentioned the subject of freight rate increases. He said the prosperity of the country is bound up with the prosperity of the railways. He suggested that the public, in hurting the railways, were hurting themselves. Justice for the railways was justice for the public also.

Big industries, like some big men, are sometimes not in popular favor with the general public. They are expected to give evidence of generosity to all and sundry; otherwise, they are roundly condemned. They lend themselves to the critical uses of cartooning. Such has been the experience of the United States. But the United States is learning what an expensive habit railway-baiting is, and is quick to profit by the lesson. In the last election, the remarkable gains of the Republican party, once shot and apparently killed because it was believed to be a friend of the "big interests," has been interpreted by all disinterested political experts in the United States as sufficient evidence that the nagging of business just because nagging was popular and not because business was guilty of sin, had begun to pall on the American public.

When an application by the Canadian railway companies for permission to increase their freight rates is before the Board of Railway Commissioners, it is timely to point out that the great danger both the railways and the public have to fear is popular prejudice against the railways. Let such prejudice take form, and it will be extremely hard for justice to be done, with the result that the railways will suffer and the country with them.

Skilled Workmen To Be Recalled.

LONDON, April 21.—The Government has made arrangement under which skilled workmen now at the front fighting can be recalled to England to work in the factories producing munitions of war.

Lord Elphinstone made this announcement yesterday at a meeting of the Birmingham manufacturers, which had been called by George Macaulay Booth, chairman of the munitions committee. Lord Elphinstone outlined the Government's plan for organizing the supplies in the Midland counties and said what was known as release committees had been appointed and in special cases, where a particular man, who had enlisted, was wanted back in a factory he could be got back if named and properly identified.

Strange as the title of this picture may seem, it is nevertheless quite true. In the majority of cases the trenches occupied by the British forces at the front have been given names and needless to say the names of London streets figure largely on the direction posts

BOYS IN TRENCHES WANT SOCKS, GUM AND CHOCOLATE

The Calgary News-Telegram publishes a letter from a Canadian soldier on the firing line:

"We have already been in the trenches which form the firing line, and expect to enter them again shortly. Everything is dear here, and there [illegible] that we cannot buy at all. I would greatly appreciate some milk chocolate and some Spearmint Gum. It would surely go fine. I would also like some of those extra heavy socks. We have some enjoyable times once in a while. There is a lot of fun as well as hardship attached to warfare."

Soldiers ask for chewing gum because it quenches thirst, helps to steady the nerves.

Wrigley's, Ltd., London, have shipped hundreds of cases as presents to soldiers at the front from friends at home.

KNEW WHAT HE'D DO.

A British officer inspecting sentries guarding the line in Flanders came across a raw-looking yeoman.

"What are you here for?" he asked.

"To report anything unusual, sir."

"What would you call unusual?"

"I dunno exactly, sir."

"What would you do if you saw five battleships steaming across the field yonder?"

"Sign the pledge, sir."

J. W. Garvin Here in Interest of Security Life

Mr. J. W. Garvin, B. A., managing director of the Security Life Insurance Company of Canada, is in the city in the interest of his company. Mr. Garvin was the chief organizer of the Sterling Life of Toronto, and the latter company purchased a controlling interest in the Security Life last December, and the two companies are being merged into one strong institution under the name and charter of the Security Life. The head office will be moved from Montreal to Toronto in a couple of weeks. Ex-Controller McCarthy of Toronto is president, and he, like Mr. Garvin, has had many successful years in the life insurance business.

Mr. W. C. Legett is the Peterborough representative of the Security Life.

Luxemburg Still Protesting.

PARIS, April 21.—The Luxemburg legation, which still maintains diplomatic relations with the Foreign Office, made public yesterday a statement to the effect that the Government of the Grand Duchy has protested energetically, and continues to protest, against the violation of that state's neutrality by Germany. The Grand Duchy was invaded by German troops immediately after the outbreak of the war.

BEST GRAIN FOR QUEBEC AND ONTARIO.

In Bulletin No. 81 of the Ontario regular series issued by the Director of the Dominion Experimental Farms and entitled "Division of Cereals: Summary of Results, 1914," Dr. Chas. E. Saunders, Dominion Cerealist, recommends the following varieties of grain for Quebec and Ontario:

Spring Wheat. — Red Fife and White Fife, good sorts but late in ripening. Huron, Marquis and Early Red Fife are earlier. Huron is vigorous and productive, but not equal to the others for bread-making. Prelude, of the soil is rich and rainfall sufficient, is recommended for extreme northern districts. In Southern Ontario, Blue Stem gives good results. Goose Wheat is useful in extra dry localities. Kubanka makes excellent bread, but is not in favor with millers.

Oats. — Banner and Ligowo are good, but where extreme earliness is desired, Daubeney and Eighty Day will best fill the bill.

Barley. — Manchurian and Ontario Agricultural College No. 21 are best six-rowed varieties; Duckbill, Canadian Thorpe and Chevalier (best strains), two-rowed varieties. No varieties of beardless or hulless are recommended, but Success is early ripening.

Peas. — Arthur for earliness and Productiveness; Golden Vine, Chancellor and White Marrowfat are good and Prussian Blue, Wisconsin Blue and English Grey are recommended for color.

ONTARIO IS KIND TO FAIR SEX CHARGED WITH MURDER

Acquittal of Carrie Davies in Toronto is One of a Long Series of Cases Where Juries and Judges Have Found Extenuation for Women Who Have Taken Life—Clara Ford Trial a Notable Instance

The special circumstances of the case, and not least the sex and youth of the prisoner, were undoubtedly responsible for Carrie Davies' acquittal, says The Star Weekly discussing the recent murder trial in Toronto. But the case of a woman charged with murder being treated with marked leniency, presumably on account of her sex, either by the verdict of the jury, or subsequently, after conviction, by the authorities, is not altogether rare in the criminal annals of Ontario. The case of Olive Adele Sternaman is a case in point.

In the year 1886 Olive Adele Sevenpiper, a girl of nineteen, living in Rainham, in the County of Haldimand, married Ezra Chipman, a carpenter, and went to live with him in Buffalo. Chipman was a prudent man, and insured his life well. In 1892 George Sternaman, an old friend of the woman's and himself a carpenter, went to board with the Chipmans. In 1895 Ezra Chipman died, and a year later Sternaman married his widow. But within six months Sternaman also died, having previously insisted on being taken back from Buffalo to Rainham, where his mother lived. He died of paralysis —as had Ezra Chipman—and his mother openly stated that it was too much of a coincidence that her daughter-in-law, Olive, should have lost two husbands within two years from the same cause. Sternaman also had insured his life largely. Mrs. Sternaman returned to Buffalo, but was extradited to this country on the capital charge.

The medical evidence all pointed to the finding of arsenic in Sternaman's body. But the contention of the defence was that the embalming fluid was responsible for the analysis, whereas the undertaken swore that he had not embalmed the body. Further medical evidence showed that the symptoms of the first husband's fatal illness were also consistent with arsenical poisoning. In 1897 Olive Sternaman was tried at Cayuga before Chief Justice Armour, found guilty of murder and sentenced to death.

Then her friends rallied to her support, as did also many clergymen, as well as a large number of people opposed to the hanging of women. A new trial was sought, and, two days only before she was to have paid the forfeit of her life, it was granted by the Dominion Government. The second trial occurred in 1898 at Cayuga before Chancellor Boyd, and at this trial the undertaker swore that he had had embalming fluid and a needle with him when he had prepared the body. The jury found a verdict of not guilty.

It is now getting on for 21 years since Toronto was stirred to its depths by the Westwood crime. That was a case of shooting, and a woman stood her trial for the offence just as Carrie Davies did, and with the same result. It was on the evening of Oct. 6, 1894, that hearing a ring at the bell, young Frank Westwood answered the door of his father's house on Jameson avenue in this city. Instantly he was shot through the abdomen by some person or other standing in the dark on the upper step. He lingered for some days, and then died. A mulatto woman named Clara Ford, a big, husky girl, was arrested for the murder, tried, and acquitted. The acquittal took place in the face of the sworn evidence on the part of the police that the woman, when arrested, had confessed the crime. But the jury were said to have been greatly influenced in arriving at their verdict by rumors of "third degree" or "sweat-box" methods having been employed by the police.

A terrible murder took place at Alexandria, Ont., in September, 1913, Mrs. Taylor, the wife of a Montreal business man, who had not been long living in Alexandria, where he had settled with the intention of supplying Montreal markets with eggs, poultry, and other farm produce, on one Sunday morning at daybreak shot her daughter, Mrs. Norton, and the latter's 14-year-old child. She shot them as they slept, killing her daughter and wounding the other. Mrs. Taylor was a woman 58 years old, and had previously threatened to commit suicide. At the trial before Judge Britton an arraignment issue was directed to try the question of her sanity, and she was found insane.

A case in which a woman murderer met with very light treatment was that of Mrs. Annie Robinson, of Warren, near Sudbury. This woman was, in October, 1909, sentenced to death for murdering her daughter's illegitimate children. Her sentenced was subsequently commuted to imprisonment for life. Mrs. Robinson was a woman of nearly fifty years old. In March, 1911, she was allowed free on parole, after serving about two years of a life term.

LIME IN AGRICULTURE

One of the principal functions of the Chemical Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms is to attemps the solution of problems connected with the maintenance and upbuilding of soil-fertility.

Among the many valuable results so far obtained in these investigations is the demonstration of the vital part played by lime in the increase of a soil's productiveness.

The subject is treated in an interesting and practical way in Bulletin No. 80 of the Experimental Farms' regular series, by the Dominion chemist, Dr. Frank T. Shutt, who discusses it under the following heads:

The nature of lime and limestone.

The agricultural functions of lime and its compounds.

Comparative values of lime compounds.

The application of lime compounds.

The use and misuse of lime.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Wheat values became much unsettled today, owing to a sudden break of 7¼c in the price of the May delivery. The break, which was said to have been started by an error in regard to a single order, was quickly followed by a nearly complete recovery, but peace rumors tended further to disturb confidence. The close was nervous, ⅝c to 3c under last night. Corn finished ⅛c off to ⅛c to ¼c up; oats down ⅛c to ½c, and provisions at a decline of 2½c to 20c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 20.—Opening figures wre unchanged to ⅝c lower for wheat; oats, ⅛c to ¼c lower, and flax, ½c lower to ½c higher. Following opening, the market was unsettled, and further declines took place. Before noon the range in May was from $1.55 to $1.61¼; in July, from $1.58⅞ to $1.61, and, in October, $1.23½ to $1.24¼.

There was a good cash demand for Nos. 3 and 4 grades of wheat, and offerings were heavy.

Total inspections on Monday were 393 cars, of which 251 were wheat and 112 oats and in sight today were 240 cars.

Wheat futures closed 1⅝c to 2⅝c lower; cash, 2¾c lower on No. 1 northern. Others not quoted. Oats closed ⅝c to ½c lower, and flax ⅝c to ½c higher.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 20.—There was no improvement in the volume of business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable today, but there was a good demand from foreign buyers for American new crop winter wheat and a fair business was done by local exporters for August-September shipment. There was some demand here today from Ontario millers for Manitoba spring wheat. The trade in coarse grain is quiet. Flour is strong, and prices for spring wheat grades have advanced 20c per barrel. Demand for millfeed is increasing.

Demand for butter continues fairly good at firm prices. Eggs stronger, 1c per dozen higher.

A TONGUE TWISTER

[This is said to be a certain cure for the hiccups if repeated in one breath.]

When a twister a-twisting, will twist him a twist,
For the twisting of his twist he three times doth untwist,
But if one of the twines of the twist do untwist,
The twine that untwisteth untwisteth the twist.
Untwirling the twine that untwisteth between,
He twirls, with the twister, the two in a twine;
Then twice having twisted the twines of the twine,
He twisteth the twine he had twined in twain.
The twain that, in twining, before in the twine,
As twines were untwisted, he now doth untwine;
'Twixt the twain intertwisting a twine more between,
He, twirling his twister, makes a twist of the twine.

THE enemy's embittered hatred of the British lion and her whelps is manifested by a brooch with the words "Gott strafe England" (God punish England) across the centre, one of which the Canadian Pacific Railway secured as a reminder of the relentless nature of the foe with which we are now in conflict. The brooch is in colors, the two top sections showing the Austro-Hungarian flag colors, and the two bottom the Turkish and German. Millions of these brooches are now being worn in the Central European and Turkish Empires, and even the postal letters in these countries are stamped with a similar inscription.

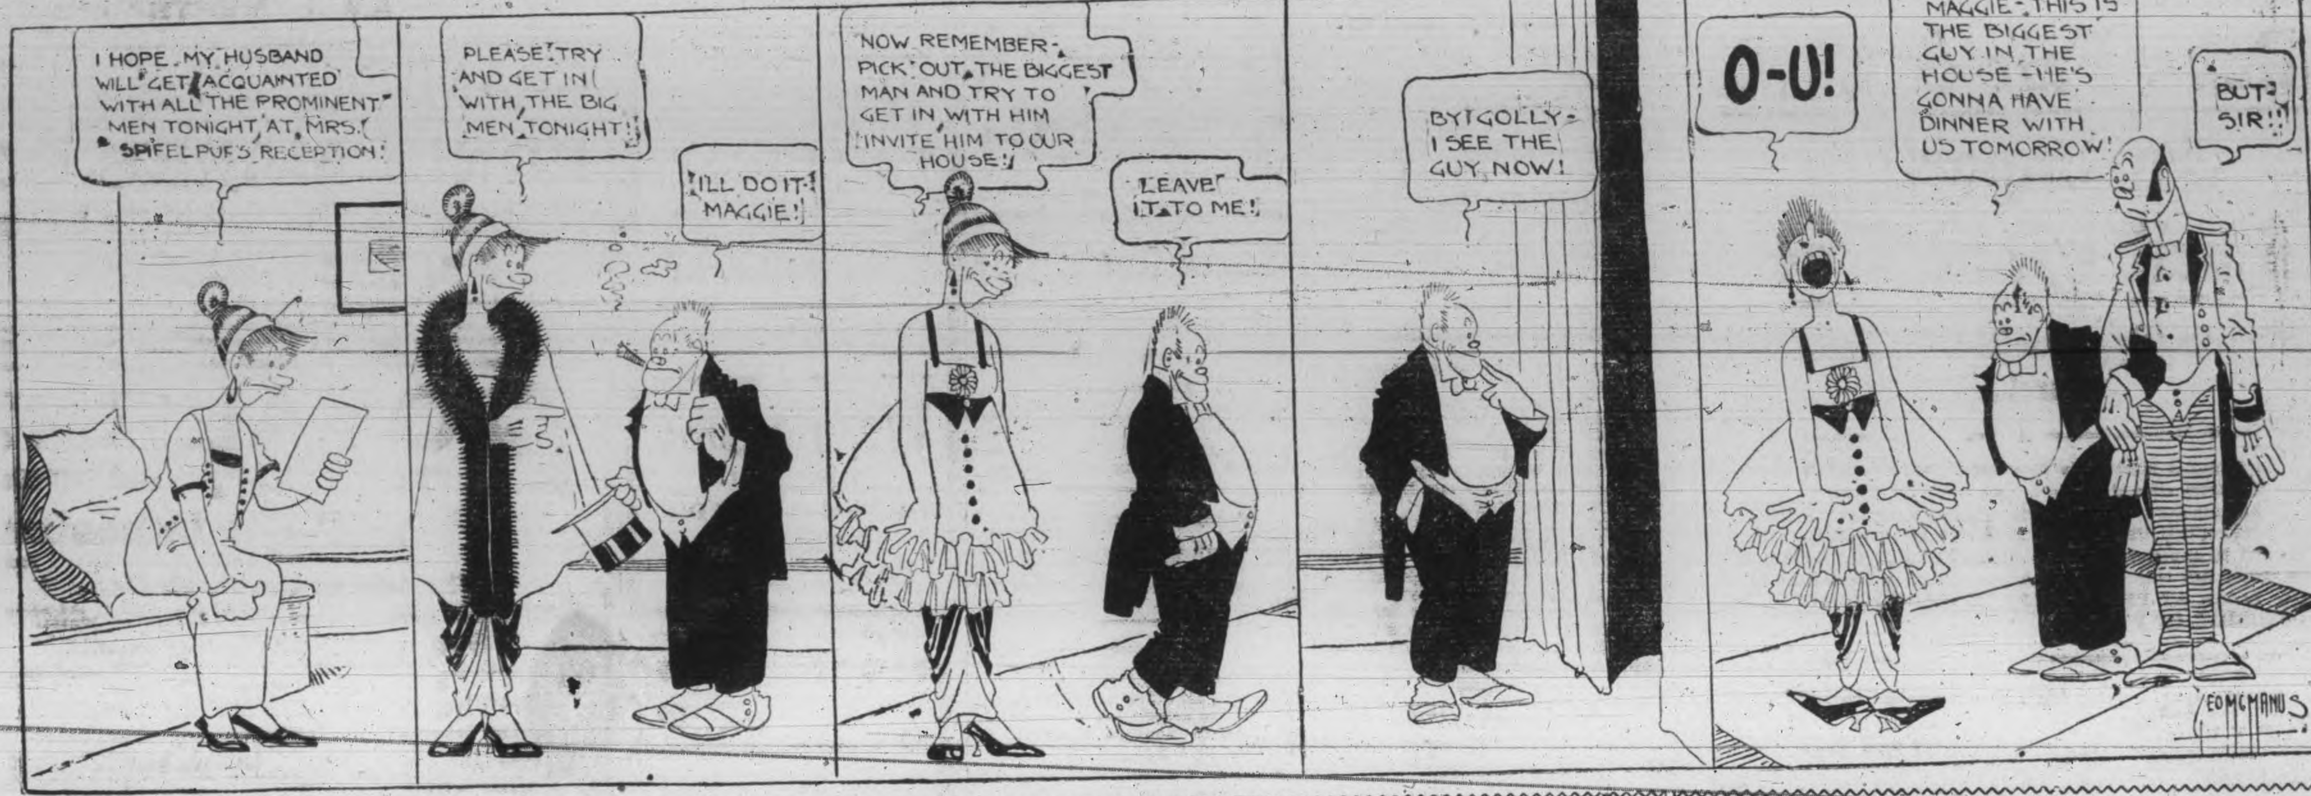
BRINGING UP FATHER BY GEORGE McMANUS



SPORTING NEWS

WILLARD MUST FIGHT NOW TO PLEASE PUBLIC

He Can Safely Meet Any of White Hopes Says Popular Dope

According to popular dope, Jess Willard will have to make good by fighting in order to retain popularity. The strong point about Willard's present position is that he can safely meet any of the white ones without fear of losing the title. The crop of likely heavyweights consists of:—

FRANK MORAN, a 198-pound Pittsburg Swiss effect, who is 28 years old. Johnson let him stick around for 20 rounds, at Paris.

TOM McMAHON, 185 pounds, aged 25, Kayoed last by Sam Langford, who outpointed Jess Willard in 12 rounds.

CARL MORRIS, the well known Sapulpa mastadon, weight 230, age 28, whose fromage record has several blowholes in it, including one knockout by Lute McCarthy.

JIM COFFEY, a 200-pound Irish champion, 24 years old, 6 feet 3 inches tall, who prodded Carl Morris almost to the twilight point last Wednesday, and who is otherwise distinguished by the championship initials "J. J."

SAM LANGFORD, the well-known tar baby, age 29, who has torpedoed and sunk all the fighting machines he has met, in recent years, and who is conceded to be the best fighting unit extant today, outside the European war zone.

SAM McVEY, a 215-pound, 30-year-old colored Hercules with a punch like a powder puff and a hug like a wrestler, inferior to Langford.

JOE JEANETTE, another dusky prospect, rather a retrospect, since he is 34 years of age and about all done. He's one of the toughest in the game, having beaten McVey in 49 rounds, after being himself knocked down over 20 times.

FIFTY YEARS SINCE BARE KNUCKLE FIGHT.

Fifty-five years ago last Saturday Tom Sayers and John C. Heenan, the Benecia Boy, had their memorable bare knuckle fight under London prize ring rules for the championship of the world. This fight took place in England, and was one of the fiercest struggles ever seen in the ring.

The police interfered in the 42nd round, after two hours and twenty minutes of fighting, and the match was declared a draw. Both men were in bad shape when the police stepped in. The match was for $1,000 a side.

Sayers retired from the ring after this battle.

RAY WILKINSON WITH ST. THOMAS

St. Thomas, April 21.—Roy Wilkinson, the elongated twirler the Saints got from the Cleveland Americans at the latter part of the 1913 season, has finally come to terms with Manager Stewart, and sent in his contract, signed, sealed and witnessed. Wilkinson is only 19 years of age, and looks like a promising boxman with another year's experience.

HOW ABOUT A TOWEL MR. BALL FAN?

With the exception of the presentations of J. Pluv. the official moisture dispenser during the baseball season the sporting element gets in on very few "showers." Peterborough ball fans will not have the opportunity of seeking rain checks at Riverside Park this summer but they are all extended a hearty invitation to the "towel shower" of the Business Girls' Club to be held in the green room of the Y.W.C.A. at eight o'clock Thursday evening, April 22. Every person who claims to be a sport knows a good towel when he sees it. Drop into a store, select half a dozen, send them to the "Y." or best of all be present at the shower tomorrow evening. It's only a little but every little bit helps.

MEETING OF CITY LEAGUE

Executive Convenes in Review Office To-night

An executive meeting of the City Baseball League will be held in The Review office tonight at seven-thirty. Each team is permitted to have one representative at this meeting. The constitution will be gone over and a report of President C. G. Graham re securing grounds, received. It is very important that all the teams be represented.

The time for paying the $25 entrance fee expires on Friday.

SAM CRAWFORD'S RECORD.

Sam Crawford, the Detroit outfielder, celebrated his 35th birthday Sunday. He has been with the Detroit Tigers since 1903 and has never failed to hit in the 300 circle. Hughie Jennings expects Crawford to have his best season.

INDOOR BASEBALL

All 8 to 9 games changed.

Wednesday, April 21st — 9 to 10. "A" vs. "D."

Thursday, April 22nd — 9 to 10. "E" vs. "G."

Friday, April 23rd — 9 to 10, "H" vs. Bugle Band.

Monday, April 26th — 9 to 10, "B" vs. Brass Band.

BASKETBALL

Tonight at 8:15 will see one of the best basketball games that has been witnessed in these parts for some time, when the Veterans meet the Excelsiors.

In looking over the two quintets, and in comparing their records for the year, it is hard to pick a winner [illegible] won a league. The Veterans are heavier and have had more experience, but what the Excelsiors lack along these lines they make up for in speed and shooting ability. There is one thing sure and that is that both teams will be out to win from start to finish, and the game is sure to be in doubt till the last whistle.

Oxygen Cakes.

Solid oxygen in cakes like soap, easily turned into oxygen of the gas form, is a new substitute for the tanks of compressed oxygen used in breathing apparatus for coal mine rescues, in the machines for supplying oxygen in cases of extreme sickness and in a great many manufacturing processes. The cakes of oxygen rapidly turn into the gas when placed in contact with water, in much the same way that carbide is turned into acetylene gas. A pound cake of solid oxygen will make more than two cubic feet of the gas.—Saturday Evening Post.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Many a man is wary of the wine cup lest occasionally one get by him unemptied.

The reason that most of us are optimists is because there are so many people whom we don't know.

Most men would say that they would rather be useful than handsome, but you never see them disfiguring their bodies by hard labor.

People who go about uttering fine sentiments feel quite hurt if you should expect them to put the sentiments into operation. They wonder where you think your part comes in.

Some Come Back.

"Providence intended me for a leader of fashion."

"Providence intended you for a fool."

"Well, whether Providence did or not you got me."—Houston Post.

Success.

We always envy, more or less,
The thing that people call success.
And that is why, it may be stated,
It always gets investigated.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

HEALTHFUL JOINT.

If overeating is the cause
Of most our human woes
The danger isn't very great
For me, you may suppose,
For at the modest boarding house,
To which each meal I turn,
If there is anything in that
We should have health to burn.

If men get gout and rheumatiz
Because they live too high,
Appendicitis and such things,
From which they almost die,
I do not think I stand a chance
To pay a doctor's bill
Because the feed, while there is some,
Is almost next to nil.

It used to be quite high enough
Before the era when
In any little grocer shop
To turn round cost you ten,
But since they've ceased to give you change,
No matter what you buy,
The groaning board has ceased to groan
Its weight is far too shy.

And so since there is hardly food
Enough to shovel in
We revel in the choicest health,
And that is how we win.
No chance to corner a disease;
No danger on that score.
I wonder, though the price is high,
They do not charge us more.

Knew It Did Not Look Well.

"But, I simply can't take this shoe."

"Why, madam, I thought you said that it feels entirely comfortable on your foot."

"It does."

"Then what is your objection to it?"

"That is the very reason why I know that it looks positively ugly."

Point of View.

"Have you an auto?"

"I?"

"Yes."

"Mercy, no!"

"Why?"

"Why? Because it is so vulgar and common to rush about the country in one of those ugly things."

Some Difference.

"She seemed to be much smitten on him."

"Yes; she used to say he was a corker."

"But she has thrown him over."

"She found he was an uncorker."

Foolish.

"That man is a walking university."

"That man?"

"Fact."

"If he knows as much as all that why doesn't he hire a man to walk for him?"

Educated All Right.

"So you never graduated?"

"Only from the school of experience."

"And your diploma"—

"Oh, that's in the form of mining stock."

Mystery to Him.

"[illegible] did you happen to get married?"

"That is what I have been trying to figure out ever since."

Tired out men and run-down women certainly do "pick up" on

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

The matter published in this column will be supplied by the local Council of Women and in the interest of their work.

An executive committee meeting of the Local Council of Women was held on April 16th. About twenty-five women representing the various affiliated societies were present. After the routine work was over, various schemes for raising the necessary money for the establishment of playgrounds were discussed. It was decided to have a tag day and sell carnations on the Saturday before Mothers' Day.

For the past few years it has been the beautiful custom to wear in memory of our mothers a white carnation on the second Sunday in May, the day set apart as Mothers' Day. This year those who live in Peterorough will have the double privilege of paying a tribute to the mother who is gone and of helping the living mothers by doing this small thing to help the children spend a happy, healthful summer. Buy a carnation, then, on Saturday, May 8th All ye who were children and all ye who have children, buy a carnation!

Estimated cost for setting up and supervising playgrounds:

Lumber for swings, teeter-posts, teeters, football posts, sand boxes, volley ball posts, etc.	$ 70.00
Rope and fixings for swings	20.00
Slide	60.00
Baseballs, volley balls, dodge balls, bats, footballs, baskets, balls, etc.	50.00
Labor for setting up equipment	20.00
Sand for sand boxes	8.00
Printing	10.00
Salary of supervisor and assistants	260.00
	$498.00

COMING MUSICAL EVENT.

Annual choir concert, St. Andrews Church, Friday, April the 23rd, at 8.15 p.m. The choir will be assisted by Mr. Albert Downing of Toronto who recently appeared before a local audience as tenor soloist in Judas Maccabaeus. Admission 25 cents.

Social and Personal

MINICOLA—CALLAGHAN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Sacred Heart this morning, when Rev. J. V. McAuley united Mr. Joseph Minicola, 519 Elm Street, and Miss Mary Callaghan, 20 Park Street, in the holy bonds of matrimony. The attendants were Miss Agnes Dwyer and Mr. Domenico Memmo.

After the nuptial knot had been tied, the happy couple and immediate friends adjourned to the home of the bride where a delightful wedding breakfast was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Minicola left this morning on a wedding trip to Toronto and Hamilton and on their return will reside in the city.

THORBORN—COOKE.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized last night at the parsonage of Mark Street Methodist Church by the Rev. L. Phelps, when Georgina Lillian Cooke, youngest daughter of William B. Cooke, Kingston, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Thomas Henry Thorborn, also of Kingston. Only immediate friends witnessed the ceremony.

After a short wedding trip to eastern points, Mr. and Mrs. Thorborn will reside in Kingston.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Arthur S. Cooper, 247 Engleburn avenue, with whom she has been visiting for the last few days.

Miss Ella Dunlop, 599 King street, has returned from Georgian Bay, where she attended the funeral of a relative.

The Daughters of the Empire will meet at 3:30 in the recreation room of the Armouries tomorrow afternoon and a large attendance is requested.

The Morning Musical Society will hold a business meeting for the election of officers, etc., tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the Greene studio. All members are urged to be present.

GERMANS DON'T

take so much trouble over me and I thank you with all my heart for your kind wishes. I guess you have already heard of the terrific battle which took place here 3 weeks or so ago. Well that was just the finest example of determination and pluck ever known. We lost heavily, but our losses were only small as compared with those of the enemy. Poor Col. Farquhar was killed during the attack. He was the gentleman who accompanied the Duke of Connaught to Peterborough and was in command of Princess Patricia's regiment. At the beginning of February we had a very exciting time. My company was in a trench holding a position which we had taken from the Germans the previous day. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon they commenced to bombard us. For exactly one hour and 10 minutes their guns were hissing and bursting the whole time and it seemed impossible that any of us would get away alive, yet we knew we must stay there at all cost. God seemed to be with us for we lost only a few. Our captain was hit, but is doing well in England now. Well to continue it happened that in the early hours of the morning the Germans thinking they could regain their trench, made an attack on us. The shock they must have had. We met them with a very heavy rapid fire. Those who could just scrambled away for their lives, but as they were only 30 yards from us you can bet there were heaps of them popped off Our casualties were nil.

Their fighting now seems to be a half hearted sort of fight. They do not seem to relish it at all. The Canadian regiments out here have responded magnificently to the great welcome they received and have made quite a name for themselves.

SERGEANT E. DOWNS.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The members of the boys' department will visit the Auburn Woolen Mills on Thursday afternoon at 4:15 sharp. Every member is requested to meet at the building not later than 4:15 or at the mills at 4:30.

Members who intend to write on the Bible study examinations are requested to meet at the building Friday evening at 7:30 sharp to receive final instructions for the examinations.

Saturday morning the boys will meet at Central Park for games and athletic sports.

All members of the boys' department who wish to learn to swim will be given an opportunity to learn from May 3rd to 8th. A special swimming campaign is to be conducted for a week on the above date. Members must leave their names at the office and make application in person to any member of the staff.

LITTLE GIRL INJURED.

While one of the small girls from the South Central School was leaving for home yesterday afternoon a passing auto struck her and she received a bad shaking up. She was not seriously injured, however, and was able to walk to her home.

Don't ask for "tea," specify Salada," and avoid the risk of getting old, dusty tea, sold for the sake of extra profit. Generous sample to prove our superiority to anyone not at present using Salada. Address postal to Salada, Toronto, and say whether you use Black, Mixed or Green Tea and at what price.

Murray Street Choir.

Every member of the chor of Murray Street Baptist Church is requested to be present in the ladies' parlor on Thursday evening promptly at eight o'clock. At half-past eight the rehearsal of the choir of thirty men will be held. The men's choir will be used on Sunday evening when the various lodges of Oddfellows will attend the service in a body.

A Novel Attraction

A most unusual attraction has been secured for the next three days. It is known as Cowan's Setters, with Professor Cowan and his trained dogs. These are all thoroughbred setters and are excellently trained. This act is very pretty and entertaining, and parents should give their children a chance to see these superb animals perform. It will delight them. The admission for children every afternoon is only five cents.

OBITUARY

MR. SAMUEL JOHNSTON.

Samuel Johnston, for fifty-three years a resident of Peterborough, passed away last evening, at the residence of his son, G. W. Johnston, 528 Weller Street.

Deceased who was eighty-four years old, had been a carpenter by trade and was well known throughout the city.

He is survived by a widow and two sons, his second son Thos. W. Johnston, residing in Rochester.

The funeral will be held from 528 Weller Street to Little Lake Cemetery, tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'-

JOE LALLY HERE FOR SHORT VISIT

Joe Lally, of Cornwall, the well-known lacrosse missionary, is now in Peterborough in the interests of the national game. Mr. Lally spent the morning in Millbrook and in speaking with the Review this afternoon he stated that the enthusiasm down there is very high. He is hopeful of meeting the various organizations in Peterborough which might take up the old game, and assist in placing it among the foremost sports in Canada, a position it held a few years ago.

Asked if he intended putting forth efforts to organize a city league, the famous lacrosse king remarked that he is behind the organizing of inter-school leagues. He claims that Peterborough can have such a league, and he intends laying the foundation while in the city. It is the intention to have every public and separate school in the city included in this organization. A senior city league does not look practical at present, but the city could easily support a team in the O. A. L. A. intermediate series and the school league.

BUSINESS GIRLS TOWEL SHOWER

There are no invitations being issued for the shower of assorted towels to be held by the Business Girls' Club in the green parlor at the Y.W.C.A. at eight o'clock next Thursday evening, April 22nd. The only invitation to the public is being made through the press and it is general enough. Every citizen is asked to be present and help in the good cause. The fact that plain towels are preferred has been noted. Any reasonable curiosity as to the size and style of towels required may be satisfied in the following descriptions:—

Patients' towels, 36 by 18 inches, made of linen huck.

Surgical towels, 36 by 24 inches, of plain glass toweling.

Doctors' towels, coarse, cotton huck, 14 by 18 inches.

Dish towels, ordinary size and material.

Make toward the "Y" on Thursday evening with your arm around half a dozen towels. A good musical program will be presented.

MEDICAL MUSEUMS RAIDED BY POLICE

Fortunes Said to Have Been Made by Alleged Frauds

DRINKING WATER SOLD FOR $300

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

NEW YORK, April 22. — A sweeping raid was made yesterday on "medical museums," and confessions are promised today from fifty-four managers of these places and their assistants. One man is alleged to have made a fortune of a million dollars by operating these museums, and an official investigator estimates fraudulent physicians have collected have a million dollars a year from "patients" in this city.

Healthy detectives who applied for treatment were told they were in the last stages of tuberculosis, and five hundred thousand dollars was demanded from them to keep them alive.

A two-ounce bottle of drinking water was sold to a woman for three hundred dollars under the pretense that it was "radium water," and a box of pills, a specific for consumption, brought five hundred dollars.

HOGS FOUND TO BE DISEASED

OUT OF WORK, DESPONDENT IRA McMULLEN ENDS LIFE

Tragic Circumstances Attend Death of Well Known Hostler

In a fit of despondency, induced by inability to find employment, Ira McMullen, a well-known local man, ended it all by swallowing strychnine shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his home, 309 Louis street.

Mr. McMullen was in his fifty-ninth year, and off and on was employed as hostler and porter at local hotels. The last place he worked was the Grand Hotel. He was a friendly, likeable man, and his death under such tragic circumstances is deeply to be regretted.

A reporter who visited the home this morning was informed that no one had witnessed him take the fatal dose, and that he had died shortly after the arrival of the physician who was hurriedly called in. One of his daughters, Mrs. Wells, stated that she had gone into the house about 2:30, and her father had talked to her in the kitchen. He complained of feeling unwell, and went into another room, staggering. Becoming frightened, she rushed out and phoned for Dr. Amys. The latter came a few minutes later, but was too late to save his life.

Mr. McMullen had not been working for several months, and it is thought by his relatives that it affected him to the extent that he decided to take his life.

He leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Wells of Peterborough and Mrs. Fred Watkins of Keene.

The funeral will be held on Friday from the residence to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. J. R. Webb of Murray Street Baptist Church conducting the services.

LOSS OF LIFE ON TRANSPORT SHIP

Admiralty Statement on Loss of Fifty Lives

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 22.—Thomas J. McNamara, Parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty replying to a question put by the Admiralty in the Commons today of the recent loss of more than fifty lives from the British Transport Manitou off the coast of Chios in the Mediterranean, said the transport Manitou was bearing troops when she was stopped by a Turkish torpedo boat which gave the troops eight minutes to leave the ship and then fired two torpedoes which missed the vessel.

British torpedo boat destroyers pursued the Turkish war ship and she was beached. In the meantime life boats of the Manitou had upset which resulted in the casualties mentioned.

DEADLOCK BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND ITALY HAS BEEN BROKEN

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

ABERDEEN, April 22. — The trawler Fuschia arrived here today with the crew of the trawler Envoy and reported that the Envoy had been shelled by a German submarine last night off the east coast. Men on the Envoy left their ship in a small boat, which they say also was shelled by the submarine. No one was injured. The Envoy's crew drifted about in a small boat for two hours before being picked up.

It has not been established whether the Envoy was sunk.

RETALIATE FOR LOSS OF BRITISH SHIP.

LONDON, April 22. — Great Britain has not yet decided to act on the suggestion to confiscate Austrian ships in retaliation for the British merchant ship sunk by a German submarine. Premier Asquith, answering the question in the Commons this afternoon on this subject put by Lord Charles Beresford, added to the foregoing that this incident did not preclude the reconsideration of the matter, should the Commons demand it.

BERLIN OFFICIAL STATEMENT

BERLIN, April 22. — A brief official report today says that French attacks in the wood of Le Pretre and near Hartmanns-Weilerkopf have been repulsed, and to the south of La Bassee Canal and northwest of Arras, German mining operations were successful.

The German admiralty says that British submarines have been observed frequently of late in a German bay off the North Sea, and one of them was sunk on April 17th, and the destruction of others is considered probable. The admiralty statement specifies that Heligoland Bay is a station of British submarines.

ALLIES BOMBARD TURKISH ENCAMPMENTS.

PARIS, April 22. — A Havas agency despatch from Athens says the Turks have entrenched themselves strongly along the Gulf of Saros, "where the English were reported to have landed twenty thousand men."

The allied fleet yesterday bombarded Turkish encampments opposite Bulair.

SOME CONCESSIONS MADE, THE LATEST.

ROME, April 22. — The deadlock between Austria and Italy has been broken, and hopes of a settlement without a resort to arms has been revived. It is assumed that either Austria or Italy has made some concessions.

GENERALS REPLACED BY YOUNGER MEN.

PARIS, April 22. — An official journal contains the names of eleven more generals of divisions and eighteen brigade generals who have been retired to make way for younger and more active men.

REPORTED DEATHS DENIED.

OTTAWA, April 22.—The reported death at the front of Nurse Richardson, sister-in-law of General Macdonald, of the headquarters staff here is denied in a private cable today. The nurse who was reported to have succumbed to over-fatigue is convalescing.

The report that Col. F. Meighen of Montreal had been killed has also been officially denied. He and his regiment are safe.

WILL ADD COSTS

In Future Cases of Bicycle Riding on Sidewalks

Bicycle riders who persist in taking the sidewalk must stop or else run the risk of being summoned before Magistrate Dumble. Four convictions were rgistered yesterday and six more this morning. Today's victims were Frank Patterson, Rock Mart, James Anderson, Hilmer O'Neil and Horace Hill. All had to dig up a two-spot.

The magistrate states that in future, costs will be added to the fines he will impose for such offences.

Harold McMaster was drunk in a public place and fined $2.

Chas. L. Ross, a Toronto chauffeur, was up for motor speeding on Water street and was fined $5.

William Lowry, drunk and disorderly, was fined $2 and costs of $4.85, or $6.85.

MEDICAL ASS'N PLAN TO HELP

Dr. Cameron is in Ottawa today in connection with the application the Peterborough Medical Society has made to the Government to furnish a base hospital unit. The local physicians have been working on the proposed idea, but nothing definite will be done until it is known whether or not the application will be accepted.

The plan is to furnish an entire hospital unit of two hundred beds, the necessary nurses, orderlies and officers, all to be from Peterborough.

The towels to be received tonight at the shower of the Business Girls' Club in the Y. W. C. A. at 8 o'clock will be used for the Peterborough hospital.

DEATH OF J.A. CULVERWELL

Was Widely Known Engineer and Promoter of Power Enterprises

The death, announced this morning, of J. Alex. Culverwell, at Toronto, removes a familiar figure from among the men who were in and about Peterborough during the last fifteen years. He was well and widely known by a large circle of friends and the public, especially those identified with the several projects and enterprises in connection with power developments in this district.

An engineer by profession, he combined the qualities of a most genial conversationalist and unbounded energy. As an exponent of the spirit of optimism Mr. Culverwell stood almost alone. Ever bright and cheerful, he carried on his several ventures with a confidence that was unbounded, and lived to see what he had suggested and worked for carried out.

Years ago he secured from local men the holding of the power site at Burleigh Falls. This he went on with and pushed to a finality, finally selling it for the company he had formed to one of the power interests in this district for a very large sum of money. No one grudged him his success and profit. He had worked for it when the days were darkest, and carried it through.

The last few years he lived retired at Port Hope, where he identified himself with local affairs in a most helpful way. He was generous to a fault, and many a man has been helped and assisted, both by means and by encouragement, by J. Alex. Culverwell.

USE WATER ON SUNDAYS

All the Paved Streets and Some Others Will be Sprinkled

Board of Works to Continue Paving Operations on Hunter Street West

Concrete Recommended for Murray and McDonnel Streets

Whether the streets should be sprinkled on Sundays is a small question in itself, although it looms large when regarded from the standpoint of contributing to the comfort of the public. But the Board of Works found it a choice morsel for half an hour's lively mastication last evening finally winding up with a motion that the paved sections of the city be watered once on Sundays and also streets leading into the main thoroughfares until oil sprinkling is started. To Alderman Stratton and Dobbin belongs credit for the motion, the former intimating that he was advocating the idea for the benefit of church goers.

Henceforth the finance chairman should be a strong favorite with the church going public. Feeling was general that the dust nuisance which created such annoyance last Sunday should be blocked this week.

Paving Operations.

Discussion of an extended character also featured the matter of what paving operations should be undertaken. This subject was introduced when the chairman read out a petition signed by prominent Hunter Street residents, protesting against the proposed paving of that street out to Belmont owing to unsuitable sewer arrangements. It was decided to go on with it however, the following motion passing, "That the Board of Works notify the council that it is their intention to go on with the paving of Hunter Street from Aylmer to Belmont, and around St. Peter's Cathedral and Hall Streets, and Belmont Street from Homewood Avenue to Weller Street. A second motion to the effect that Park Street be paved from Charlotte Street to Brock with the same kind of pavement as will be laid on Hunter, provided the City Engineer can recommend it, also carried, and a third motion that a concrete pavement be laid on Murray Street and McDonnel from Aylmer to Water.

Want the Sewer.

A deputation of two Westcott St. residents, Messrs. Hunt and McDonald, were present to vigorously petition for sewer accommodation on their street. They felt it should be given them after being promised so many years and because it was depreciating the value of their property. Mayor Buller said he sympathized with them because they certainly had waited and suffered long but the council was averse to putting in a sewer to serve them until the Park Street trunk line was built down that far. City Engineer Parsons and the chairman showed them the fruitlessness of putting in a sewer other than that, because of the difficulties experienced on Romaine Street caused by quicksand, and the fact that sewers there were prone to "back fire." The deputation's complaint was promised the early attention and consideration of the Board who were shortly to go over that territory. If anything could be done for them it would be done gladly.

G.T.R. FIREMAN MEETS DEATH

Was Killed in an Accident at Brooklyn

W. E. Jones, a G.T.R. fireman on the Whitby mixed train running out of Lindsay, was accidentally killed yesterday afternoon at Brooklyn. He leaves a widow and three children at Lindsay.

A SUBMARINE STORY.

The following story is vouched for (you believe it or not, as you please) by a well-known Scottish M. P. somewhere off the east coast. A trawler was on naval patrol duty. The skipper thought he would like some fish for breakfast, so he commenced operations. Soon up popped a German submarine close by. The trawler's skipper, an Aberdonian, was about to ram it and earn the prize money, when the submarine commander, not suspecting his evil intention, offered to buy some fish. So the canny Scot went alongside, sold his fish, and then rammed the submarine.

DID ECONOMIC REASONS PROMPT THE WAR?

SPEAKING in Montreal the other day on the war, Mr. C. W. Barron, editor of the Wall Street Journal, and one of the leading financial men in the United States, stated that economic reasons prompted the present war. He gave much evidence to support his contention He instanced the commercial treaty between Germany and Russia, forced on the latter during the Russo-Japanese war, and under which Russia was obliged to accept German goods to their disadvantage. This treaty was to endure until 1917, and when Russia, a short time ago, approached Germany for alterations in it, she was emphatically told by Germany that the treaty was satisfactory. Russia felt that she must strike, and prepared for it, which may account for her singular capacity to put large armies in the field early in this war.

Economic pressure undoubtedly was present, as it usually is in a great war, but it was not a foundational cause of the war. What economic pressure there was, was due very largely to the political system, and possibly Mr. Barron did not consider how close is the relationship between government and national economy. In Germany everything was subservient to the needs of an out-and-out military policy of a most stupendous character. The country was organized to death. The people were oppressed by the financial support they were called upon to give. They were hewers of wood and drawers of water for big armies. Immense bodies of men, enormous sums of public money, were devoted year after year to military needs, so that other phases of national life were stunted. To make this annual tribute on the German people possible, and, to a certain extent popular, an expanding trade was necessary: hence the very high protective tariff, the low wage scale, and the increasing importance of markets beyond her own borders. Here Germany found the way barred, and Britain stood in her path. Had there not been a military government in Germany there would not have been the huge drain on national wealth and industry for unproductive things, and not by long odds the same need for foreign markets. So, while Mr. Barron says economic reasons prompted the war, they did so principally because they resulted from a form of government antagonistic to the demands of modern democracy.

Among the benefits of the war, Mr. Barron pointed out the rejuvenation of France and the settlement of several important problems, any one of which was as great as the slavery question of the American Civil War. As to the settlement of national problems by war, it is very doubtful if war ever settled anything permanently. It is more likely that war merely postpones settlements or causes new points of view to arise by which solutions of problems are facilitated. However, there is something in Mr. Barron's contention, and it is to be hoped that what is predicted in the following paragraph will eventually come to pass.

> "The first great problem is, whether governments shall serve or rule. The sacredness of treaties and the right of small nations to exist as such, are some of the other great problems which shall be settled by this conflict. It may take ten empires and kingdoms battling to settle the question because Germany has ideas that can only be shot away, but the problems will be settled. It is in the last analysis a conflict between the Anglo-Saxon ideal of government and that of German "Kultur." The one is service, the extending of peace and prosperity and the general good of mankind; the other is the spread of material power and the belief that the road to happiness is found in making your neighbour serve you and not in you serving your neighbour."

COUNTERFEIT FINGER PRINTS.

EVIDENCE that is circumstantial is usually very convincing because of the difficulty of denying or of disproving it. The coincidence of facts that seem to admit of no question will very often decide the case against the accused, yet there have been instances where justice has miscarried under what appeared to be most convincing evidence, and for that reason there has always been a feeling to give some discount to circumstantial evidence. This feeling may become more pronounced when it is known that the latest product of scientific crooks is to counterfeit finger prints. When a victim is to be made, he is handed a card of celluloid or highly glossed paper, asked some simple question, and the card returned. By shaking mercury powder over the card and covering the card with collodium, the finger prints of the victim are drawn out as on a photographic film. Placing the film on a safe that is to be blown, heat is applied to the surface, melts the film-like substance, and leaves a perfect finger-print impression. The same thing can be done with a revolver stock. This fact will in time bear heavily on the use of finger-print evidence. It seems that as soon as the authorities have discovered a scientific and convincing method of convicting and pigeon-holing criminals, these crooks think out the answer to the detectives' latest invention.

THE AMERICAN VIEW.

THE BEST DEFENCE of the British policy in blockading Germany is not a defence at all; it is a frank appeal for the sympathy and understanding of civilized men, says an American exchange. Viscount Haldane, the British Lord High Chancellor, so often accused by his fellow countrymen of thinking too well of Germany and the Germans, utters this plea, and, though a lawyer, says that Americans do not view the case from a lawyer's standpoint. Says Lord Haldane:

> "We ask you in America, whether for or against us, to realize that when we say we are fighting for life we use no figure of speech. We are fighting for life, and we ask the forbearance of America while we prosecute the struggle. If we appear, in a wholly new situation, to go beyond some of the rules of the books, we shall not violate the dictates of humanity, and shall not turn back the clock of civilization."

It is perfectly true that Germany's murders by submarine and the piracy of her raiding cruisers constitute her a deadlier menace to neutral nations than England, in spite of her interested constructions of international law, is or ever can be. The American Government is wisely neutral; wisely, too, it must protest against any departure from the usages where American interests are concerned. But American opinion cannot ignore the fact that British "navalism" has not thus far fouled the British flag with a crime like the sinking of the Falaba, nor affronted America by sinking a clipper ship Frye.

U. S. EMIGRATION EXCEEDS IMMIGRATION.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in the history of the United States, emigration is exceeding immigration, says the London Financier. Up to the end of October each month's movement had shown a net gain on the operation. In November 5,400 more departed than arrived. In December, 15,000 more went out than entered, and in January 10,000 more left than were admitted. That tendency seems to have continued in February. The heaviest emigration has been to Southern Italy. This is presumably due to the calling up of Italian reservists to the colours.

And then, alas! how wastefully
Thou leavest lie

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Accepting a Call.

(Stratford Herald.)

The editor of this paper has accepted the offer of the vice-chairmanship of the new Provincial License Commission, regarding it as a call to high public duty from the Premier of the Province. The call has been accepted also in full knowledge of the disposition of the Government on the temperance question, a disposition which calls for no compromise of principles on the part of the men constituting the new board. The work of the board will be difficult and onerous. A new principle in administration was introduced in the Act constituting the commission, and it is advisable that it should have a fair trial, and it will certainly be the desire of the new commission to satisfy provincial sentiment.

The attempt to remove the license administration out of party politics is worth making. Hon. W. J. Hanna has succeeded in doing so practically with respect to the asylums and charitable institutions of the Province, and the aim is to do the same with the license administration. With this aim in view, extensive and indeed drastic powers have been conferred upon the commission, and upon their exercise of those powers they will be judged, but they should be allowed fair play.

An Open Mind.

(Westminster Gazette.)

Fortunately we do not feel it a necessity to be always boasting, as the Germans do, of our irresistible power or our inherent superiority in the material, moral and mental characteristics which go to make up human efficiency. We prefer, as a rule, to dwell on our own shortcomings; and we accept with humility and submissiveness the demonstrations of our national and personal unfitness which appear at short intervals in the German press and are faithfully reproduced for the wellfare of their readers by the British newspapers. This, on the whole, is good for our characters, and in any case it produces an appearance of humility which may be dangerously misleading to the enemy. Still, we may now and again permit ourselves a little relief from these penitential exercises.

England.

(Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1856.)

"I see her, not dispirited, not weak, but well remembering that she has seen dark days before; indeed, with a kind of instinct that she sees a little [illegible] day, and that in storm of battle and calamity she has a secret vigor and a pulse like cannon. I see her in her old age, not decrepit, but young, and still daring to believe in her power of endurance and expansion. Seeing this, I say, All hail! Mother of nations, Mother of heroes, with strength still equal to the time; still wise to entertain and swift to execute the policy which the mind and heart of mankind require at the present hour, and thus only hospitable to the foreigner, and truly a home to the thoughtful and generous, who are born in the soil. So be it! So let it be!"

A Logical Way.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

For the past year Stockholm has been experimenting with a system whereby both sellers and consumers of liquor are under license. It is said to work well; and though at first sight the idea seems humorous, it is probably the most logical way of dealing with the liquor traffic short of absolute prohibition.

Council Meeting.

The regular meeting of the town council was held in the town hall on Monday, April 12.

The members present were Reeve H. G. Fitzgerald in the chair, and Councillors Charlton, Griffin, Kennedy and Madill. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and adopted. Communications from the Hydro-Electric Railway Association were read.

Moved by Councillor Griffin, seconded by Councillor Charlton, that this municipality heartily endorse the Hydro-Electric railway program as outlined in the memorial presented to the Honorable Mr. Hearst, and the Provincial Government on Friday, March 26, 1915, by a deputation representing the majority of the municipalities of Ontario. And as the construction of the said electric railways will not only give transportation facilities that at the present are entirely inadequate to the needs of the province, but will also furnish an easy and inexpensive means of supplying parts of the prvince with Hydro-Electric light and power that would otherwise be largely denied these advantages, we respectfully urge that your honorable government favorably consider the request contained in said memorial and grant to such roads a subsidy of $35,000 per mile.

And that as the memorial sets forth that any subsidy granted will not be needed for some time and will only be required as roads are constructed, we respectfully urge that your honorable government make a nronouncement on this question as speedily as possible in order that the work may be proceeded with at once, believing that this will do much towards restoring public confidence and relieving considerable of the present unemployment.

And that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Hon. Mr. Hearst, M.P.P., Premier of Ontario, the member of the Legislative Assembly for this riding and to the secretary of the Hydro-Electric Association of Ontario. Carried.

Mr. Samuel White was present and requested that repairs be done on Concessions St., also Mr. Robt. Carter asked for work to be done on Queen St., in front of the Commercial House, and Mr. A. G. Lawless asked for a short culvert on Queen St. All these requests were referred to the road and sidewalk committee.

The Thompson Braden on behalf of the Agricultural Society asked for the usual grant.

Moved by Councillor Kennedy, seconded by Councillor Madill, that the council grant the Agricultural Society the usual grant of $50. Carried.

Mr. A. G. Lawless also addressed the council regarding the cigarette license and the request was referred to the committee of the whole council.

The Finance Committee presented the following report and recommended the payment of same.

Electric lighter, March ac.	$59.37
J. H. Davis, repairs	4.25
Bell Telephone, rent and tolls	5.48
W. J. Madill, snow ploughing	5.50
Jno. Johnson, 1200 ft. hemlock	24.00
Dr. M. R. Graham, salary M. H. O.	20.00
O. A. Langley, preparing by-law	4.00
Jas. Long, work	3.60
Robert White, work	3.30
G. Dinobih, work	4.05
S. Murduff	3.00

The report was received and adopted. The council then adjourned.

On Tuesday evening, April 20th, the members of the Anglican Young People's Association were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald. About forty members were present and amused themselves by playing clumps, charades, haymakers, etc., after which refreshments were served. This is the third year that Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald have entertained the A.Y.P.A.

Mr. Hungerford of Lindsay spent Friday in the village on business.

Mrs. Curtis of Peterborough spent Thursday in the village.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR THE YOUNG.

Editor, Review.

Sir,—"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it," is one of the sayings of the wise Solomon. But HOW to train a child is a very difficult problem. On one point, however, those who have studied child welfare are unanimous, viz., that if he is well developed and physically healthy, the chances are he will be better morally, mentally and spiritually. This fact is illustrated in those whose forefathers from one generation to another have been confined to the unsanitary dwellings and dusty streets of large cities and have not had the air, the sunlight or the food necessary to develop energy and stamina.

Our worst immigrants come from the slums of Europe; our best from the Highlands of Scotland and the seafaring countries of Sweden and Denmark and England.

The ancient Greeks were the most physically perfect people the world has ever known, and their education was practically a playground education. At seven years of age the Athenians had entered the Palaestra, or what was essentially a playground. The better half of the day was spent in gymnastics, dancing, games and play. In the afternoon there was singing, some writing (in sand in a box or strewn on the ground), some reading (all in the open air), and a long period of play again.

Such was the schooling of the Greek lad up to the age of ten or eleven, and it did not differ essentially up to the age of sixteen, except in the severity of exercises. Physically and intellectually this produced the highest type of man.

"In physical beauty, in courage, in patriotism, in philosophy, literature, architecture and art, the Greeks have been the unsurpassed models of the ages." We are just awakening to the educational value of playgrounds. In Chicago ten million dollars have been spent on them, and Mr. Roosevelt says: "They are the greatest civic achievement the world has ever seen."

Peterborough is behind in this respect. We have not a single supervised playground. But the local Council of Women are endeavoring to start one this summer. Five hundred dollars are needed for this purpose.

As our people have given so generously to the patriotic and other funds, a method has been taken to secure this amount that will fall lightly on everyone.

On Saturday, May 8th, the Council will have young ladies on the streets selling carnations for Mothers' Day. We hope the public will patronize them well, and honour mother and forward the playground by buying and wearing the flowers.

Yours, etc.,
J. B.

PATHANS DISPERSED.

Mohmand Tribe Defeated By Anglo-Indian Column.

LONDON, April 22.—The ancient and war-like Pathan people known as Mohmands, inhabiting eastern Afghanistan and the northwest frontier province of India, have been giving serions trouble to the British troops stationed in that remote corner of Asia. An official announcement issued by the press bureau last night on behalf of the India Office says:

"A Mohmand tribal gathering of 4,000 men, under a fanatical Mullah, theratened the British frontier opposite Fort Shab Kadr, on the northern border of the Peshawar valley in Peshawar. A movable column under Maj.-Gen. Young moved out of Peshawar to protect the menaced frontier on the 18th and engaged the Mohmands in the direction of Hafiz Kor.

"The fighting was severe and lasted several hours. The enemy suffered heavily. The Mohmands have now retired to the hills and are reported dispersed. Our losses were 70 killed and wounded. Further details later."

The most significant factor in the fighting has been the success of the Afghan officials in restraining the Afghan Mohammedans from partici- [illegible]

A Story of The Great Blizzard

By GEORGE V. EDSON.

It was the night that the great blizzard of 1888 came whirling down from the clouds. I, a medical man, was out on the road driving home in my buggy (that was before the day of automobiles) about 1 o'clock in the morning. The snow grew deeper and deeper, and I began to get uneasy. My horse now and again would stop and look about him, apparently as uneasy as I. Dumb animals, though they are more easily frightened than men, sometimes manifest a strong sense of danger under what may appear ordinary circumstances.

There was a large, square brick house beside the road a few hundred feet ahead of me. I could distinguish its dark bulk, there being no lights within.

Meanwhile I was becoming benumbed and drowsy. I remember reaching a point directly before the house, getting out of the buggy and floundering to the door. I hoped to secure assistance to get my horse under cover. This is the last I have ever been able to recall of being out in that terrible blizzard.

The next thing before me was the door opening and a man, very pale and excited, saying: "Come in, doctor. We were fearful that you would not get here."

The house was lighted and servants were moving about hurriedly, just as I had often seen them doing in houses where some one was very ill. The man who admitted me led me upstairs and into a room where a girl apparently about eighteen years old lay on a bed. My conductor turned down the bedclothing, spotted with blood, and revealed towels that were used to stop hemorrhage. I cautiously removed them, but, seeing the red fluid pour out, I quickly replaced them.

While thinking what to do I glanced about the apartment. The furniture was such as was used during the early part of the nineteenth century, the bed on which the girl was lying having a canopy supported by four high posts. There were heavy curtains to the windows. Near a fireplace stood two per- [illegible] who were looking at me appealingly, and I knew they were begging me to save the girl's life. I noticed that their dress was old fashioned. They resembled each other, and I guessed they were mother and son. The mother's arms were about her boy.

Casting a glance at the man standing beside me, I saw that he was about the age of the woman with her son and judged that he was the husband and father. On a lounge lay a sword, and there was blood on the blade. I formed a conclusion, largely from the young man's agonized appearance, that he had stabbed the girl.

I had no instruments with me, but I needed none, for I saw that the girl was dying. To stanch that flow of blood was beyond my skill. I replaced the bedclothing and stood over the invalid, avoiding the appealing gaze of the others until it was plain that all was over, then turned away. After leaving the room it seems to me now that I walked into oblivion, for I was not conscious of anything till I felt something hot passing down my throat. I opened my eyes and saw a man holding me, while another man was holding a flask.

I don't suppose that my vision, dream or whatever it was could have lasted over two or three minutes. The men saw me drive by the house they were in, a few hundred yards below, and, realizing that I was in danger, started after me. I had left my buggy and, bewildered by one of the whirlwinds that came without intermission, had fallen in the snow.

They put me back into my buggy and managed to get the team and me to their house, where a cheerful fire was blazing, and after another hot dose I was put to bed, where I slept soundly till morning. All that day the snow came down, whirling as it fell, and the next day also. It was seventy hours before the road became passable and I got away.

Before leaving I expressed a desire to go into the house before which I had been rescued. The persons with whom I had been lodged told me that it was vacant and the key in possession of a man and his wife living a short distance up the road. I begged them to borrow it for me, which they did, and I went to the house and entered it.

Now comes the singular part of my story. I had certainly not been in that house before, and yet I saw it just as I had seen it when admitted by the man who had led me to the bed of the stricken girl. The passageway was the same, the room was the same, and there stood the great four poster bedstead. But the bed was made up, and there was no one except myself present.

I inquired if any murder had been committed there, but no one remembered any such occurrence. At the same time I was told that the house was very old—more than a hundred years—and much might have taken place there that would not be known to succeeding generations.

What is my theory? Well, I am a medical man and in my old age am beginning to realize that there are many things in the universe beyond our ken. I have no theory, but I do not believe my vision was a mere dream.

POINTS FOR MOTHERS

Children's Clubs.

At about the age of nine or ten the rapidly developing social instinct of the child lights on the "club" idea. This is the beginning of secret societies. If taken in hand and properly treated this demand for social life can be made most educative.

Little girls' clubs are so easy to conduct that it must indeed be a hard hearted mother who, having once had the plan suggested to her, could refuse to give one afternoon a week to her young daughter.

The size of the club may vary as found desirable. Five are enough to have a pleasant time together. Twelve are really all one person can handle.

The club must have a name. The children are full of ideas on this subject. Sunshine Band, Happy Hour club, Busy Bees, Flower society and Helping Hands are a few of the names usually suggested. It may or may not be wise to have a president or club dues. Each individual leader will have to decide this for herself. A club badge, even if it be only a bow of the favorite color ribbon, is a source of great pleasure to little ones.

The object of the club will necessarily vary with the tastes of the children and the possibilities of the locality.

Game circles and dancing classes are always pleasant. Glee clubs are, where the leader is a capable musician, the greatest success of all. The concert which the small members give is an event of which the parents never cease to talk.

When Little Folks Are Ill.

A hot fomentation is the very best of all remedies for a really bad "tummy" ache and is so safe that whatever the cause of the upset it can do no harm.

Put the small patient to bed and give a dose of castor oil.

Take two yards of flannel, a large square of oil silk and some wadding.

Cut the flannel in half and tear one of the pieces into two strips, joining up the ends to make a long, wide bandage.

Place a towel across a large basin and put the whole yard of flannel, folded in three, into the towel and pour on boiling water.

Get some one to take one end of the towel, wring as dry as possible, lift out the flannel, hold to the air for a moment to cool down slightly, then slowly drop it on to the little sufferer's abdomen; not too quickly, as it may be too hot to bear; put a layer of cotton wool on top, cover with the oil silk and quickly bandage round and round with the long strip of flannel.

This will probably very quickly relieve the pain. It can remain on till the morning (unless the pain continues, when another one should be applied), but great care must be taken not to let the little one get a chill.

If the pain is not very severe you may apply a hot water bottle.

Toys and the Imagination.

When you have put into a child's hands an extremely elaborate toy it cannot and does not satisfy his imagination. He will play for a whole day with a train made of chairs, because imagination enters the game, the armchair is an engine, the sofa is a sleeping car, another armchair is the baggage car.

If you give him a perfect thing his imagination is not exercised; there is no part for it to take in the game, there is nothing to be done with the mechanical model except to break it open and see how it works. Indeed, more summary methods are sometimes attractive. A little boy of four years old, to whom an elaborate working model of a motor car had been presented, after watching it work for a few minutes, took it up in his hand and hurled it to the ground with a smile of satisfaction. It was the only thing he could think of doing with it.

That is why the hoop or the train of chairs or the rough and grotesque toy train will always give more real pleasure than the most elaborate machinery that can be conceived, that is why the rag doll or the woolly lamb will always lie nearer the heart's affections than the most wonderfully equipped and elaborately clothed French doll.

Love and Brains Lost.

Girl friends love one another. One day two of them met.

"Fred didn't blow his brains out because you jilted him the other night," said friend No. 1. "He came over and proposed to me."

"Did he?" replied friend No. 2. "Then he must have got rid of them in some other way."—Chicago News.

Try the Hard Tasks.

To seek to do only the easy things of life is a foolish and suicidal choice, for anybody, even a nonentity, can do these things. Let us care, rather, to do hard things, the overcoming of which will bring to us moral strength, a tested fortitude and a wider experience of the deeper meanings of human life.—Christian Register.

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises all Women to Take "Fruit-a-Tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., AUG. 26th. 1913.

"I can highly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago, I commenced taking "Fruit-a-tives" for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollar's worth, but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking "Fruit-a-tives" after reading my letter, and if they do, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case".

MRS. W. N. KELLY

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A Happy Little Girl Whose Dog Won a Prize.

FEED THE BIRDS IN WINTER.

Children May Save the Lives of Many of the Feathered Tribe by a Little Trouble and Forethought—Some Puzzles and Games.

Not long ago there was held a show of toy dogs at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York city, and a little girl won a prize with her pet. The girl was Miss Olive Van Heusen, and her Japanese spaniel Omiji won the award of being the very best dog in the whole show. That was a great victory because Omiji had a great number of dogs to compete against. However, he won, and his mistress was very proud, as she had very good reason to be. Japanese spaniels are small and delicate little creatures and make very interesting pets.

Snowshoeing, Norwegian Style.

"Next to tobogganing as a winter sport," says a Canadian, "comes snowshoeing, and the most exciting and lively is the Norwegian style. The Norwegian shoe is a thin strip of ash about four inches wide and seven feet long, turned up at the front end and having a groove in the bottom to prevent slipping sidewise. It is sometimes called the Swedish snow skate. A block in the middle of the upper side gives support and fastening for the feet. The Scandinavian snowshoer slides or skates over the surface of the snow and makes twelve miles an hour on level roads. Going downhill he just whizzes, guiding himself with a steel shod staff trailing behind him and acting as a rudder. A snow skater sliding down a mountain side is a mere streak in a cloud, and if he comes to a ravine anything less than 100 feet wide he just shoots over it like a bird. At the club meets in Norway and Sweden wide gullies are made across the slides, and leaping contests are engaged in. It is on record that a snow skater going downhill at full speed cleared eighty-three feet at a leap or a shoot."

Broomstick Gripping.

Provide a broomstick and let two contestants hold it horizontally between them above their heads; then have them lower it between them. The one causing it to turn in the other's hands is winner. The surprising feature of this game is that many persons of great strength have a weak grip, and vice versa. The scoring may be managed by allowing each side to choose a champion and counting five for the winner; then the contest between second choices counts three, and so on.—Country Gentleman.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

VALUABLE GLASSWARE.

It Should Be Washed Carefully In Order to Keep It Intact.

Glass is a very poor conductor of heat, and more valuable glass articles have been broken by hot water, perhaps, than in any other way. To prevent this various precautions may be used. The most delicate glassware can be washed in hot water if slipped in edgewise, outside or concave side first, and quickly and completely immersed. Once make this a rule and it soon becomes a matter of habit.

Or a still safer way is to immerse the glassware in lukewarm water, increasing the temperature by adding hot water gradually.

Cut glass should be washed one piece at a time in warm suds made of castile or other fine white soap, and it should be rinsed in warm water containing a few drops of aqua ammonia. Save old silk handkerchiefs or any other piece of old white silk to dry cut glass, or use a soft linen towel. Dry without draining. Polish with a soft hair brush, such as is used by jewelers. This will penetrate every part of the pattern. A still more brilliant polish can be given by dusting the article while still wet with jeweler's sawdust. This can be brushed off when dry and used repeatedly. It can be obtained at any jeweler's.

A precaution to take when washing any sort of glassware, and more especially cut glass, is to place on the bottom of the basin in which the ware is to be washed several soft dish towels. This lessens the possibility of scratching and breakage from rough contact with the bowl.

FOR THE NEEDLEWOMAN.

When scissors get blunt sharpen them by opening and moving backward and forward on a piece of glass.

Sew the ball sections of snap fasteners on first and then cover the tops with chalk. A slight pressure will mark the exact place where the socket should be placed.

A warm quilt is made of a pair of bordered cotton blankets with cotton put in as for any other quilt. Tie with wool the same color as the border.

To clean white wool yarn sift warm cornstarch through it and roll in a towel. In two days shake the starch out of it, and it will be perfectly white.

Many a broken machine needle could be avoided if the precaution of leaving the needle down in the work instead of suspended above it was taken when turning a hem or arranging the work in any way. As every worker knows, it takes very little to drag the needle and cause it to snap on the plate.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine for several months without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, years since your watch was cleaned or oiled. Though it cannot even squeak its protest, it is slowly but nevertheless surely, wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders, as well as add years to its usefulness. Bring it in.

TWO WOMEN TESTIFY

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Their Health—Their own Statements Follow.

Haliburton, P.E.I.:—"I had a doctor examine me and he said I had falling of the womb, so I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. All the bearing-down pains have vanished. I have gained ten pounds in weight, the discharge is all gone, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I think any woman is foolish to suffer as I did for the sake of a few dollars.

"You can use my letter as a testimonial. It may encourage other poor women who suffer as I did to use your Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. GEO. COLLICUTT, Haliburton, Lot 7, P.E.I.

New Moorefield, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in thanking you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had bearing down pains, was dizzy and weak, had pains in lower back and could not be upon my feet long enough to get a meal. As long as I laid on my back I would feel better, but when I would get up those bearing down pains would come back, and the doctor said I had female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only medicine that helped me and I have been growing stronger ever since I commenced to take it. I hope it will help other suffering women as it has me. SMITH COUNCIL'S REGULAR SESSION

Agreement With City Council is Approved

Members of the Municipal Council of the township of Smith met in the County Council chamber when all the members were present with Reeve McKee in the chair. The minutes of the last two meetings were read and confirmed.

A communication was received from the Colonization Road Department, stating that on account of the money stringency, the township would not receive a grant this year. Moved by Councillor Nichols, seconded by Deputy Reeve Jobe, that Councillor Moore and the clerk wait on the Hon. the Minister of Public Works, and also the local members, to try and secure at least part of the grant. Carried.

Mr. J. C. McConkey addressed the council and requested a grant for certain portions of his road division. The matter was left over until the annual spring inspection of roads.

Mr. N. G. Bell of Bridgenorth, asked the council to bear part of the expense of repairing his wagon, which was broken on the East Communication Road, on account of the bad condition of the road. No action taken.

Moved by Councillor Moore, seconded by Councillor Nichols, that the agreement re boundary roads with the City Board of Works, be approved by the Council, namely, that the chairman of the Board of Works, the City Engineer, together with the Reeve and a member of the Council be a committee to go over the roads each year and estimate the amount to be expended. The township undertakes to do the work and the city agrees to pay one half the cost. In case of any damages arising from negligence, each corporation is equally liable. Carried.

The following resolutions were passed. On account of the large expenditures in keeping the roads open during the winter, and in order not to increase the township rate the clerk was instructed to have printed notices attached to each road list stating that the Council would not be accountable for any expenditure unless authorized by a member of the council.

That a special grant of ten dollars be given Mrs. Trew, a widow of Bridgenorth, with a large family of small children, and that the trustees of the Foley Estate be requested to grant a similar amount.

That by-law No. 735 appointing road masters, fence viewers and sheep valuators be passed.

That the following accounts be paid:—

A VICTORY IN KAMERUN

British and French Drive Enemy From Highlands

PARIS, April 22. — The French War Department yesterday announced that the allied forces had gained a victory in the operations against the Germans in Kamerun, a German colony of Western Equatorial Africa. The text of the statement follows:

"After heavy fighting of the last few months, the German troops in Kamerun have been forced to retreat from the high plateaus situated in the centre of the colony. The seat of government has been transferred to Jaunde. The movement of the allied forces in this direction continues.

"French native troops from Central Africa have attained in the east the line Lomie-Dume. Towards the west, the troops commanded by Col. Mayer, following the railway line, have succeeded in forcing a passage across the Kele river.

"British troops marching in a northerly direction, and following the Edea-Jaunde road, have taken possession of the Ngwas bridge. Two brilliant engagements caused the allies insignificant losses."

CAPTAIN WARREN AMONG KILLED

Toronto Officer Loses His Life in Action

TORONTO, April 22. — Capt. Trumbull Warren of the 48th Highlanders, one of the most popular of the younger officers of the city, has been killed in action in France. Word to this effect was received last night by his mother, Mrs. H. D. Warren, of "Red Gables," Wellesley street, president of the Women's Patriotic League, and quickly became known throughout the city, causing widespread regret among the young man's legion of friends.

Capt. Warren was president of the Gutta Percha & Rubber Co., which was organized and conducted for many years by his late father. Capt. Warren was assistant adjutant in the 48th Highlanders' quota in the first contingent, and on the wounding of his chum, Capt. Darling, succeeded the latter as adjutant. He was twenty-nine years of age, and received his early education at Upper Canada College, graduating later from the Royal Military College at Kingston.

Canadian Officers Wounded.

OTTAWA, April 22.—Three Canadian officers, Lieut. H. G. Anderson, 7th Battalion, who comes from Vancouver, Lieut. A. T. Thompson of Port Credit, Ont., attached to the Winnipeg battalion, and Lieut. F. M. Gibson, 15th Battalion, son of Sir John Gibson of Toronto, figure in the casualty list as having been wounded on April 19.

For stealing a horse from George Moore, a Windsor liveryman, Paul Cedar, 22 years old, of Tilbury, was sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary by Magistrate Leggatt.

ATTACK ON FLANK FAILS

Peril to Russian Left Wing of Carpathian Advance is Definitely Frustrated by Capture of Hill Overlooking Munkacz-Stryj Road--Discord Between Teuton Allies.

PETROGRAD, April 22. — The counter-attacks of Gen. Sitzinger's Bavarian army against the Russian left wing in the Carpathian's position have now been definitely stopped. The Russians have reoccupied the hill at the Village of Cavtchik, four miles westward of Kozlomoka, and overlooking the Munkacz-Stryj road. This attempted German advance northward has been the only serious threat that the Russians had met since they crossed the main ridge. Generally the situation in the southern campaign is now very favorable to the Russians.

There are signs of discord between Gen. Sitzinger and Archduke Friedrich, who is nominal commander of the entire Austro-German combination. The Germans are ready to sacrifice Hungary, at least economically, by fighting a series of rear guard actions and by drawing the Russians down towards the middle Danube. This would relieve the Silesian flank, where great German forces are now being deployed from Cracow, chiefly along the Dunajetz river.

Von Hindenburg retains in nearly full strength his extreme northern army, which attempted to reach the Nieman in February along the borders of East Prussia, but he has sent great numbers of men from their winter position on the Narew, Bzura and Rawka rivers southward to join the Austrians of the Pilica and the Nida, making a continuous and strongly held line from Pietorkow to Cracow and southward. This region is also threatened by the Russians, and may be the scene of a great battle before it is possible to move further south from the lower slopes of the Carpathians.

Cannot Retake Hill 60.

LONDON, April 22.—An official report from the French War Office, received here at 11.45 last night, says that the latest German attack on the positions won by the British troops on Hill 60, near Zwartlene, was repulsed, and that the losses of the enemy at this point since April 17 are 3,000 to 4,000 men.

The British War Office early last night gave out an official statement dealing with the military operations in the vicinity of Ypres, Belgium, where British troops recently captured Hill 60 from the Germans. The statement said:

"Violent and continued counter attacks still are being made on Hill 60. Tuesday afternoon the enemy's activity was renewed, and between six and nine o'clock two heavy attacks, made by infantry, were repulsed with great loss to the enemy. The hill was heavily shelled all night and several further attacks were repulsed."

Details of the operations that resulted in the capture of Hill 60, near Ypres, reveal that the British troops achieved an important success at one stroke. The position is of great strategic value, and the Germans defended it with desperate gallantry for many weeks. Some of the prisoners of war taken by the British troops did not regret their coming captivity. They said that they had been in the trenches all winter.

A French gain of about half a mile on a continuous front between the Meuse and Moselle rivers in the past few days is reported by the French War Office last night. The operations yesterday first consisted in the repulse of German attacks of varying importance on this front. Some were merely reconnaissances. One was attempted in the Ailly wood, another in Le Pretre wood and five in the Montmarie wood. The French soldiers attacked north of Flirey and captured another German trench. Here they established themselves and joined this trench to the others that they have captured.

Four Teaspoonfuls of

Grape-Nuts

as the cereal part of the meal, helps keep one in fine fettle.

There's a reason — in fact, a number of reasons

Grape-Nuts is a concentrated food, hence a small portion goes a long way.

It is made of wheat and barley and contains all the nutriment of these grains, including those invaluable mineral salts so often lacking in ordinary food, but which are indispensable for normal growth and maintenance of body and brain. One great aim in originating Grape-Nuts was to supply this lack of mineral elements, and it fulfils its purpose admirably.

Grape-Nuts is a delicious food, and digests quickly, generally in about one hour. Compare this with the 2½ to 3 hours required by bread.

BRITAIN HAS THIRTY-SIX DIVISIONS AT THE FRONT

Lloyd George in British House Says Battle of Neuve Chapelle Alone Used up More Munitions Than Were Used in the Entire Boer War—Britain's Output Has Been Multiplied by Nineteen Already.

LONDON, April 22. — The British Expeditionary Force in France, which, at the beginning of the war, consisted of six divisions, has been increased to more than 36 divisions, or, roughly speaking, 750,000 men, according to a statement made by David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

The Chancellor added that the place of every man who had fallen in battle had been filled, and that the army was adequately equipped. But he reiterated the need for a greater supply of ammunition, declaring that during the battle of Neuve Chapelle more ammunition was used than in the whole of the South African war, which lasted nearly three years.

The interesting information also was given that the output of the munition factories had been increased more than nineteen-fold since the outbreak of the war, but the call was still for more, and, as Mr. Lloyd-George continues to hold the opinion that consumption of liquor is interfering with the work, he promised legislation to deal with this matter.

The figures made public by the Chancellor as to the size of the British army in France and the expenditure of ammunition has caused great surprise in England, where the opinion has been general that about half that number of men had reached the front, especially as there has been no signs of any decrease in the number of khaki-clad men training in this country.

It is likely that many of the new men have already been under fire, as the Germans are making repeated attempts to capture Hill 60 near Ypres, which the British took on Sunday, and have, according to Field Marshal French's report, been repulsed with great loss.

It was one of the most magnificent pieces of organization ever performed and nothing like it, he said, had ever been done before by any country.

Mr. Lloyd George said that Great Britain was also supplying her allies with munitions, and that, in spite of this, there still was a large reserve. He adhered to his statement that a small minority of workmen could, through drink, throw the whole work out of gear. He promised that when the Government measure was introduced dealing with this matter, it would be found that it had not been approached from the point of view of persons who wanted to advance any particular idea or notion, but from the point of view of persons who had one object in mind—an increase in munitions.

It was no use saying there was no more drinking than normally, the speaker said. These were abnormal times and they had to take abnormal measures with an evil which had become abnormal.

A division of the British army contains 15,000 men on a peace footing but on a war basis nearly 50 per cent. more. This would give a total of from 750,000 to 800,000 men.

READY TO LAND

Allied Transports Are Now off Anatolian Coust

LONDON, April 22.—Off the Anatolian coast, between Tenedos and Mitylene, a great fleet of the allied transports is manoeuvring, awaiting an opportunity to land troops, and the British and French warships have renewed operations on the Dardanelles. Six torpedo boats attacked the entrance of the Dardanelles under cover of fire from the warships. Constantinople claims that they were driven back.

After bombarding the forts for about five hours yesterday a heavy fog forced the warships to cease their operations. Two torpedo boats were hit by the return fire of the Turkish forts and the Turks say that one was sunk, but the Admiralty scouts this story.

A report from Berlin states that The Tages Zeitung publishes a despatch, the origin of which is not given, stating that 20,000 British and French troops have landed near Enos, in European Turkey, on the ... side of the Gulf of Saros. ... cannonading took place between the Turkish batteries and the British warships around Enos.

Great activity has been noted among the British forces on the Island of Lemnos, which lies to the west of the entrance to the Dardanelles, says a despatch received in Berlin. Troop transports are arriving daily at Lemnos from Alexandria, Egypt.

A despatch from Petrograd says that a naval raid against the Turkish coast positions in the Caucasus region was announced in the Russian Admiralty yesterday in the following statement: "The first flotilla of our torpedo boat destroyers in the Black Sea bombarded the Turkish positions at Archave, and near the Village of Soumivitze."

GERMANY IS ALMOST AT END OF HER RESOURCES

Preparations For a Retreat From Belgium Are Said to be Already Under Way and High Prussian Officials Are in Open Despair—Underground Methods Used by Socialists For Easy Terms.

LONDON, April 22.—A despatch from Havre says:

"A leading member of a famous banking firm, particularly well acquainted with the financial situation in Europe, states, it is declared, that Germany will be at the end of her financial resources by the middle of June next.

"The Germans have taken extremely severe measures in Belgium to prevent knowledge of the movements of their troops becoming known. Preparations have been made everywhere with a view of eventual retreat. High Prussian officials in Belgium do no disguise their despair, and admit that the German cause is lost."

The Socialists of Germany are making an effort to seek for a basis on which the cessation of the war can be brought about. Dr. Breitscheidt, a prominent member of the German Socialist party, is now in Holland consulting with the Dutch Socialist leaders with a view to getting into communication with the British and, through them, with the French Socialists, in an endeavor to bring pressure to bear on the various Governments.

It is declared that the German Socialists are virtually unanimous in favor of peace and against any annexation of territory.

The general view of the Socialists is that Alsace and Lorraine should belong to neither France nor Germany, but should be autonomous.

The great East Prussian land owners are trying to treat for peace with Russia, owing to fears that their property will suffer, but the Socialists favor an arrangement of terms by Germany with France and Britain and by evacuating Belgium.

The Times to-day publishes translations of two letters which were tied around stones and thrown into the trenches of the Second British Corps on the night of April 12 and 13 by Germans. One letter reads:

"Dear Honored Comrades—As this war has now being going on for about nine months and whole villages with their inhabitants have been devastated, it is now high time to put a stop to it.

"We are all tired of this savage life, and you must be, too. Our dear wives and children await and long for our return, and yours must do the same.

"Hoping tnat we may do some good by this, we remain, with friendly greetings,

"The German Sapping Party."

British and French Airmen Are Busy

LONDON, April 22.—From every side comes news of the activity of the air fleets, which have been busy bombarding towns and military stations behind the lines of the armies. The British claim to have damaged the German airship harbor at Ghent.

The official report says: "A bold and successful attack was made on the enemy's airship harbor and shed at Ghent. The extent of the damage must have been considerable."

The French official report is: "Our aeroplanes have bombarded in the Woevre, the headquarters of Gen. von Strantz, and a number of convoys in the Grand Duchy of Baden, as well as an electric power plant at Borrach."

The self satisfied man may be happy, but he often tempts his friend into a murderous frame of mind.

TRIED IT ONCE

Germans Tried to Land in England Says Expert

LONDON, April 22.—F. T. Jane, a well-known naval expert, addressing a meeting at Liverpool last night, said that it was not generally known that the Germans tried to land an expeditionary force in England, and that it was the British navy that made them go back to the harbor again. The navy saved the country, and there was never a word of it in the newspapers.

Two men by the names of John Brooks and Mervin Taylor were arrested at Parry Sound on suspicion of robbing the Emsdale post-office of $15 on the night of April 19th. Taylor's father lives at 1555 Dundas Street, Toronto.

New Candidates Are Nominated in the Big World's Fair Contest

All of the Districts Becoming Organized but There is Still Room for More --- The "Triple Vote" Offer is Now in Effect --- Candidates Should do Their Best Now --- $50,000,000 Fair is in Full Swing---Some of the Big Features

It will be noticed today that there are some changes in the candidates in the outside districts. Some who were nominated found that they could not remain, and some new nominations are coming in. It is expected that the organization in each district will be complete this week, and that the contest will get under way next week.

If any candidate who has not received the supplies and instructions, whether in the city or outside, will be good enough to let the contest department know, the same will go forward at once.

There is plenty for all the candidates to do. In these circumstances their friends should relieve them as much as possible, both by turning in their votes at once, and by not waiting for a second request. They should also lend their active assistance by securing for them the votes of others. The Review contest department has no favorites among the candidates, but is merely the impartial recorder of the votes received.

Every day votes are given in The Review office for one or another of the candidates, which they know nothing about. A few subscribers pay subscriptions who do not know the candidates, or have no interest in the contest. Invariably these are asked if they would like to vote, and if they express the desire to do so the list is handed to them without a suggestion, and they make their own selection.

One lady asked that the list should be read over, and she would vote for the candidates whom she considered had the prettiest name, and this she did. We would not like, where there are so many pretty names, to say whether or not she chose wisely, nor shall we make public an invidious distinction of this kind by saying for whom she voted. Another subscriber said he would vote for a certain candidate because she lived nearest to him, and so on.

Of course, these cases are exceptional. In nearly all the cases where the subscribers call at The Review office to pay their subscriptions they have their minds made up beforehand, and, in fact, take a lively interest in the contest and the success of some particular candidate. In all cases the ballots are either handed to subscribers or mailed to the candidate.

NEW STATION FOR OMEMEE

Rumor Says G.T.R. Have Matter in Hand

(Special Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, April 22. — The most conspicuous events transpiring in this burg are undoubtedly the great number of housecleaning enterprises being undertaken. Everywhere one goes he sees some poor man beating carpets or at some other slavish task.

Mr. J. Weir took a trip to Toronto a few days ago and purchased a couple of horses and outfits of harness and buggies. One of the horses was for his own use, and one was for Mr. Sam. Mills, King street.

The tennis court on the premises of Mrs. McCrea has been rolled and fresh tape put down. It is in splendid shape this year, owing to the warm, dry weather which has been prevalent here this spring.

Mr. A. Stinson has purchased a Ford car, which is quite an addition to the attractions of the town. He has succeeded exceptionally well in mastering the difficulties of driving the said 'bus, and will soon be tearing up our roads in the manner of a Barney Oldfield.

Elgin Thompson is with us once more. He returned a short time ago to continue his studies at the high school.

Some of the boys of the high schol assembled at the school grounds on Saturday, and with the assistance of Mr. J. Williams they tore up the old tennis court and sodded the court afresh after levelling it and improving it generally.

Mr. Buchanan, our public school principal, is taking an active interest in athletics in the town. He is at present engaged in organizing basketball as a form of recreation for his pupils. He should receive the most enthusiastic assistance from everyone in this matter.

The work at the new park, corner of King and Sturgeon streets, goes on apace. In a short time we expect to have a very fine public grounds on that corner.

The Women's Patriotic League are giving a concert in Coronation Hall on Wednesday, April 28ht. The proceeds are to be used in the splendid work which the ladies have been carrying on in furnishing necessaries for the soldiers. The singers are of extra quality. Besides the choruses, there will be tableaux, vivants, recitations, readings, drills, etc. Every person should co-operate with the ladies in making this concert a grand success in order that the Red Cross work may be carried on to a greater advantage with the finances which will be acquired.

Miss Florence Down has returned after spending a couple of weeks visiting friends in Trenton.

Mr. D. Stinson has been putting repairs on his house, shop and property.

It is rumored that the Grand Trunk are to build a new station and ticket office at the Sturgeon street crossing.

The Y. P. A. of the Anglican Church will entertain the Epworth League of the Methodist Church in the basement of Christ Church on Friday evening.

Albert Medal for Brakesman.

MONTREAL, April 22.—The Duke of Connaught yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Lady Strathcona, Dorchester street west, where the royal party is stopping for a week, presented the Albert medal of the second class to J. J. Carter, brakesman on the C. P. R. for rescuing a little girl from death on the railway track at Tweed, Ont., last May.

OSHKIGMONG

(Special Correspondence.)

OSHKIGMONG, April 22. — Mrs. Peter McCue, who had been an invalid with rheumatism for seven years, and for the past two years was entirely helpless, passed away on Sunday morning, April 11th, from all earthly things, at the age of 49. Besides her bereaved husband, she leaves two sons and two daughters, Wesley, Lawrence, and Mrs. Hiram Taylor, of Chemong; Austin, of Detroit, Mich., and two brothers and one sister, Wesley and Jonathan Blaker and Mrs. Spruce, Lansing, Mich. The funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon, the 1th, conducted by Mr. S. A. Northey.

Mr. James Blaker, of Alderville, a nephew of the late Mrs. P. McCue, attended the funeral of his aunt here.

Mrs. George Coppway of this place has been very ill, but she is now recovering.

Miss Maggie Whetung is still on the sick list. She has been ailing for several weeks with rheumatism.

The ladies' aid society of Chemong have elected the following officers: Mrs. H. C. Buffam, president; Mrs. Ben. Taylor, [illegible] vid Jacobs, treasurer; Miss B. [illegible] Whetung, secretary.

A 27-mill tax rate, exclusive of the Provincial War Tax, was decided upon by Stratford City Council.

ECONOMICAL MACHINES.

Has it impressed itself on your mind as a practical man, selling farm crops in the form of milk through the medium of cows' manufacturing apparatus, that possibly some of this animated machinery needs overhauling and closely examining? A new machine, running more economically, may save a manufacturer its cost several times over in a very short while. So if your cows were regarded in this light, some might be found to be very economical producers, and possibly the less said about the capacity of others the better.

Some cow-testing figures given to the Dairy Division, Ottawa, by dairy farmers prove that some herds of cows produce milk at a feed cost of $1.45 per 100 pounds, while close by are other herds whose average feed cost of production is only eighty cents per hundred pounds of milk. Again, between two cows in the same herd the cost of feed per pound of butterfat is frequently found to vary as much as from twenty-three to forty-nine cents.

What is of importance to the average dairyman is this fact, that cow testing helps to put each cow in the herd on a good paying basis very quickly. A simple plan of weighing and testing each individual cow's milk soon discovers if any unit machine in the milk-testing factory are [illegible] der. Then plans are laid for keeping the type of cow that makes twenty or thirty dollars or more clear profit above the cost of feed. Does each one of your cows do that? It will pay you to find out.—C. F. W.

WHAT BILINGUALISM MEANS

Below is a reproduction of a local advertisement of the town of Sturgeon Falls, Ontario. It is a notice to water consumers to pay their bills. As it is printed in both English and French double space is required for the advertisement and consequently it costs twice as much as it would in a locality where everybody had a working knowledge of English. Bilingualism means thus double printing and advertising for all municipal forms and advertisements. This useless increase in municipal expenditure would be large and would be the result of establishing French in Ontario on the lines advocated by Senator Belcourt.

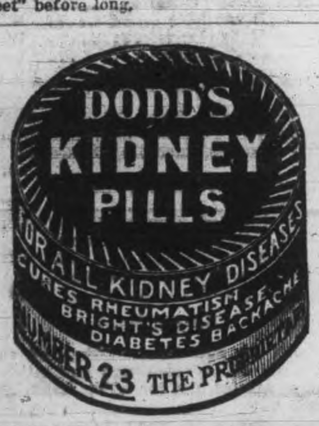
When a Child Should Walk.

Sometimes young mothers are worried because their babies of a year old or more do not seem inclined to walk. There is really nothing to be worried about.

A child will walk directly its legs are strong enough, and when that time comes, short of tying him up, you won't be able to keep him off his legs if he wants to use them.

No young child should be upon its feet before it shows a decided desire to go upon them. To put it on its legs before this time will not strengthen them at all and may result in deformed legs.

If a child a year old makes no effort to walk it is simply because its legs are not yet fit for walking. Let it alone. Give it plenty of fresh air, plenty of good milk, an egg every day or so, a slightly warm bath once a day, using soap sparingly; plenty of sleep and plenty of opportunity for "kicking exercise" on a rug and it will "find its feet" before long.



Don't Nurse Worry

When you feel down in the mouth and long to go away and hide yourself forever; when you imagine that no one in the world is treating you right; when you are satisfied that your employer is tardy in recognizing your genius; when you can't divorce yourself from the idea that you are doing the work and the other fellow is getting the credit; when the time you spend at your work seems interminable and the time away from it seems woefully short; when all the sky seems to possess a leaden hue; when everything irritates you like salt on an open wound; when the laugh of a child grates on your nerves; when the food you eat disagrees with you—

Straighten up and take an inventory of yourself. Maybe it is with you that the fault lies. Perhaps the rest of the world is but a mirror. Don't imagine you are carrying the world on your shoulders. The browbeaten man is too often a creature of his own making. He insists on carrying the Old Man of the Sea on his back when the world is willing to relieve him of the burden. It is surprising how many worries we can banish by making up our mind resolutely that we will not give them room in our thoughts.—Indianapolis News.

Hungary Refuses Money.

LONDON, April 22.—A Paris despatch to The Central News says that the opening session of the Hungarian chamber was a gloomy sitting. The chamber refused to vote the new military credits demanded by the general staff. The attempts of Count Tisza, the Premier, to break down the opposition was futile.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Bullish effects of foreigners buying options in an unusual extent on the delivery of wheat here in September were sharply offset at times today by news that a land attack was being directed against the Turks west of the Dardanelles and that Italy had begun withholding steamships for use in transporting troops. The market closed unsettled at 1-4 to 1 1-8 c net advance. Corn finished with 1-8 to 3-8c gain, oats 1-2c off to 1-16c up and provisions varying from 7 1-2c decline to a rise of a shade.

Ontario flour—$5.80 to $5.90 nominal, seaboard.

Peas—No. 2, $1.75.

Rye—No. 2, $1.45.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 21.—The local market opened steady. Later there was a general advance in wheat, and at noon May was $1.59⅝, July $1.58⅞, and October $1.24.

Cash was very quiet, demand being poor. Spot wheat in poor demand. Oats quiet. Flax firmer, but barley quiet.

Wheat futures closed ½c up, to ⅝c down; cash ½c lower, oats ⅝c lower, and flax ⅞c to ¼c higher.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 21.—Business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable today was quiet, owing to the fact that prices bid for both were 9d per quarter lower; but in spite of this, there was a fair demand from local exporters for Manitoba wheat, and sales of 25,000 bushels of No. 2 northern were made at $1.60, and 85,000 bushels No. 3 at $1.58¾ per bushel c.i.f., bay ports. There was an improved demand from local buyers for oats, and sales of 25,000 bushels Manitoba No. 1 feed were made at 67½c per bushel, c.i.f., here, for shipment from Fort William. Manitoba barley was firm. Flour was unchanged. Millfeed firm. Butter fairly active and firm. Cheese easy on increased receipts. Eggs in good demand.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 21.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 720 cattle, 2076 hogs, 63 sheep and lambs and 69 calves.

Butchers' Cattle.

Choice butchers' steers and heifers sold at $7.25 to $7.70; good steers and heifers at $6.90 to $7.15; medium steers and heifers at $6.60 to $6.90; common at $6.25 to $6.50; choice cows, $6.25 to $6.50; good cows at $6 to $6.25; medium cows at $5.50 to $5.75; common cows at $5 to $5.50; canners and cutters at $3.75 to $4.75; bulls at $5.50 to $6.75.

Stockers and Feeders.

Feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., sold at $6.25 to $7; feeders, 600 to 800 lbs., sold at $6.25 to $6.60; stockers, 500 to 600 lbs., at $5.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Choice fresh cows and forward springers sold at $50 to $85 each, and medium to good at $50 to $65; common at $40 to $50.

Sheep, ewes, sold at $7 to $8; heavy sheep and rams, $4.50 to $6; yearling lambs, $7.50 to $10; spring lambs at $5 to $10 each.

Hogs.

Selects fed and watered sold at $9 to $9.10, the bulk selling at the former price.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, April 21.—At the C. P. R. live stock market, in sympathy with the stronger feeling in the Toronto market yesterday, the tone was firmer, but prices were unchanged. The supply was small, with demand fair, and sales of choice steers were made at $7.75 to $8; good at $7.25 to $7.50, and the lower grades from $5 to $6.50, while butchers' cows brought from $4.50 to $6.50, and bulls from $5 to $7 per cwt.

The feature of the small-meat trade was the activity in calves, there being a good demand for all the offerings at prices ranging from $2 to $9 each, as to size and quality. There was no change in the sheep and lamb market. A few small lots of yearling lambs sold at $8.25 to $9.25, and ewes at $5.50 to $6 per cwt. Spring lambs brought from $2.50 to $8 each.

Hogs firm under a fair demand and small offerings, and sales of selected lots were made at $9.50 to $9.60 per cwt., weighed off cars, and in one or two instances as high as $9.75 was paid for a small lot.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 17,000; market easy; native, $7.60 to $8.65; lambs, native, $8.40 to $10.85.

A HAPPY LOSS

Lose your grouch; you'll never miss it,
Though at first it may seem queer
To be just a trifle decent
To the people who are near.
But with very little practice,
Sawing wood from day to day,
You can make yourself attractive
With a grin nailed on to stay.

There is little satisfaction,
Nor is life the more complete,
If you bite the heads from people
Whom in daily rounds you meet,
And the mussup isn't pleasant
When that little trick you try.
They can never sue for damage
If you smile and pass them by.

You may think it lends distinction
If you jog along the way
With a grouch on exhibition
Every moment of the day,
But when friends who see you coming
Make excuse to turn away
You will find the load is hardly
Worth the freight you have to pay.

Be the little ray of sunshine
To the people that you meet;
Let them feel when you are coming
That it brightens up the street.
It's the only way to travel;
Every smile will be a boost,
And you'll find it worth the trouble
When the chicks come home to roost.

Never Gives Up.

"I just had to marry him. He told me he never gave up anything he loved."

"Well, it's good to have a husband who loves one."

"Y-e-s, but I have learned that he loves money also."—Houston Post.

His Periodical.

"Do you take any periodicals?" asked the new clergyman on his first round of parish visits.

"Well, I don't," replied the woman, "but my husband takes 'em frequent. I do wish you'd try to get him to sign the pledge!"—London Mail.

INTER-SCHOOL LACROSSE LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED

Joe Lally Imparts Some of His Enthusiasm to Help the Game Here

Greater interest and enthusiasm in the Peterborough lacrosse team of the O. A. L. A. intermediate series and the organization of a Peterborough inter-school league, which would embrace every separate and public school in the city, will likely be the result of the first visit of Joe Lally, of Cornwall, to Peterborough. The game of a few years ago has been very poorly encouraged in Peterborough of late years, and in fact died a natural death. Last year an effort was made to make a "come-back," but the effort was by no means crowned with success. This year the effort was again started and prospects couldn't be called bright. There was but one remedy; that was to get Mr. Lally to visit Peterborough. The man who put Cornwall on the map has been tramping from Halifax to Vancouver, and has but one mission—that is to resuscitate lacrosse. Last year he made a trip through the prairie provinces and daily came reports of his wonderful success in getting school leagues organized. He had witnessed the game he knew from experience to be one of the greatest under the category of sports, die because of the lack of interest. He saw Canada's national game sinking into oblivion; he saw a game that was most beneficial to young men being discarded, and he made a study of how the big proposition of bringing lacrosse once again to the fore could be accomplished. Such a problem required careful attention, and in the hands of Joe Lally it did receive the necessary careful attention. The result was, he decided that if anything could be done for lacrosse the school boys must be made to take interest in it. The game must be taught to the boy in the public and separate schools — that was the only salvation.

Having once formed a definite idea as to what should be done, Mr. Lally set out. As noted above, his endeavors to organize school leagues have been stamped with success.

Mr. Lally arrived in Peterborough yesterday noon and lost no time in getting down to business. We can thoroughly appreciate the amount of good he is doing amateur sport after seeing the vim he puts into his efforts. He made arrangements to meet the lacrosse fans at the Y. M. C. A., and although the notice was very short, a fairly large sized meeting greeted him. The game was given considerable discussion, and all agreed that Mr. Lally's intentions of forming an inter-school league was a move in the right direction. In event of a city league being organized the Y. M. C. A. [illegible] enter, but it does not [illegible] that such an organization can be formed. Mr. G. A. Carson, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., is an ardent follower of the game, and he and Dr. Sutton will assist Mr. Lally today in getting the school boys started.

On leaving the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Lally proceeded to the meeting of the Sacred Heart T. A. S., which was called for athletic purposes. The idea the T. A. S. men are working on is to do something for the boys. They desire to place every healthy sport at their disposal, and by the number of young men present at the meeting last evening it appears as though they are willing to co-operate.

Rev. J. J. O'Brien introduced the famous lacrosse player and assured him that the T. A. S. felt honored at having such a distinguished visitor at their athletic meeting. The society is striving to do something for the boys, and Father O'Brien remarked that any advice given them by Mr. Lally would be well-received, as he knew Mr. Lally's views would be those of an experienced man.

Mr. Lally fitted into the occasion to a nicety, and his discourse on sports and their relation to the school boy was just along the proper strain. He pointed out how physical development went hand in hand with education. When a boy takes part in the various games, particularly hockey and lacrosse, he is taught to practise self-control and never to lose his temper. Commencing with the boy, it is possible to teach him to play honestly and squarely. "Remember," remarked the speaker, "the boy who plays his little game of marble or hockey or lacrosse and plays it squarely, will in after years play the game of life squarely." He explained how his mission is to the school boys and he hoped that the T. A. S. would lend him any possible assistance. He made it clear that when he spoke to school boys he did not place sports before studies, but rather urged that the boys take up sports so as to assist them in their studies.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lallys' remarks, several members spoke a few words, assuring him that they were in sympathy with his endeavor, and Fred McGrath promised that if necessary he would get out with a stick himself. Father O'Brien thanked Mr. Lally for his words of encouragement, and before the meeting adjourned a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the lacrosse king for favoring the meeting by his presence and for his excellent words to the younger element.

CITY LEAGUE OPENS MAY 8

Time for Paying Entrance Fee Expires Tomorrow

All the teams were not represented at the City Baseball League meeting last evening, and for that reason the constitution was not taken up. President C. G. Graham reported that he had made satisfactory arrangements for the use of Riverside Park, and the secretary was instructed to draft a schedule, get certificates printed, and then a meeting will be called, and all matters relative to the opetning of the season will be cleared up. The league will in all probability open on Saturday, May 8th. The time for paying the entrance fee of $25 expires tomorrow night.

EXCELSIORS ARE CHAMPS

Won From Veterans in Final for City Championship

In last night's basketball game for the championship of the city, the Excelsiors won from the Veterans by four points. The game was close and in doubt from start to finish. For fully three-quarters of the first period neither team led by more than one point at any time, and it was simply a zig-zag back and forth. At the end of the first half the Veterans were leading by 12-10. In the second half there was very little scoring, the final tally being 19-15 in favor of the Excelsiors. The game was the hotest contested and most exciting of the year. The gallery was packed with fans, and each team had a large number of supporters. On account of its being a championship game, the play was not as open as usual; both teams checked close and hard, neither team allowing the other to get its combination started. The Excelsiors made a couple of attempts but they were generally broken up. It would be hard to pick any stars. All the men on both teams played well and worked to their utmost for the success of their team. The teams are evenly matched and the Excelsiors have got to be congratulated on their winning from such worthy opponents.

Fred Cressman handled a hard game in a most satisfactory manner.

Excelsiors—Knapman, Long, Hamilton, Darling, Stuart.

Veterans—Dobbin, Best, McCarrell, Robertson, Richardson.

Referee, Fred Cressman. Scorer, Flowers. Timer, E. Brown.

BILLY WHITTY AROUSES INTEREST IN LACROSSE

According to Joe Lally, lacrosse is rapidly booming in the Trent Valley district. For this the lacrosse missionary thanks Bill Whitty at Stirling. He says that Whitty is on the job twenty-four hours a day, and everybody for miles around the village is talking lacrosse and anxiously awaiting the opening of the season. The Trent Valley district will be composed of Marmora, Stirling, Tweed and Madoc.

BILL ANDREWS MAY LAND JOB AS UMPIRE

Peterborough will not be represented in the Canadian League this [illegible] the city will be represented on President Fitzgerald's list of arbitrators. William Andrews of the Wm. English Canoe Co., who handled nearly all the games in the Mercantile League last year has received an offer from President Fitzgerald to perform umpirical duties in the Canadian League. Andrews stated today that he is considering the matter and may possibly decide to accept Fitzgerald's offer.

CHASE THE TURKS

British Force Occupies Town of Hakhailah

LONDON, April 22.—In Mesopotamia, the British are chasing the defeated Turks, and have occupied Hakhailah, from which place the Turks fled last week. The Turks are also being attacked from the Black Sea, the Russian fleet having again been out and destroyed ten Turkish supply vessels and bombarded Arkhava.

Turkish prisoners to the number of 515, including six officers, were taken by the British troops in the fighting in Mesopotamia last week, according to an official report issued by the India Office last night.

The report adds that the British pursuing party found the Turks everywhere in disorganized retreat, both by road and by river in Arab craft. Twelve of the Turk boats were overtaken and captured or sunk.

"Our advance cavalry," the report says in conclusion, "occupied Hakhailah, 19 miles northwest of Zobeir, on the 17th, and there are now no enemy nearer than Rattabi, 50 miles from Basera."

AN AGREEMENT WITH HOLLAND

British Government Makes Settlement Regarding Contraband

WASHINGTON, April 22. — Arrangement have been made between the British and Dutch Governments whereby, through embargoes or other measures, the possibility of supplies reaching Holland by water, being transhipped to Germany, is eliminated. Official notice was given yesterday that not only conditional contraband, such as food supplies, but even goods on the contraband list of the British Government, may be given safe passage to Holland through the blockade lines. The British embassy issued this statement:

"1. Shipments of wheat, wheat flour, and meal, destined for consumption in Holland, should be consigned to the Netherlands Government.

"2. Shipments of all other articles on the British contraband list, destined for consumption in Holland, should be consigned to the Netherland Overseas Trust.

"3. The Netherlands-American, the Royal Holland Lloyd, and the Royal Steamship Co. have instructed their agents that shipments of cocoa, coffee and tobacco must also be consigned to the Netherlands Overseas Trust."

The Krist Porcupine Mining Company has now taken over the Smith Thompson property and will in the future be known as the Krist-Thompson Mining Company. Baron von Polenz is now on the property and intends to start diamond drilling very shortly.

Visiting Members of Auxiliaries Were Entertained

Mark St. W.M.S. held a very successful open meeting yesterday afternoon in the church, with the president, Mrs. Payne, in the chair. The auxiliary was pleased with the response to their invitation to the other auxiliaries of the city. After the opening exercises which consisted of singing, a prayer by the pastor, Rev. L. Phelps, and responsive reading, Mr. Phelps welcomed the visitors in a few well chosen words. Mrs. T. F. Matthews of Murray St. Church gave an excellent paper which brought before the meeting the problems, missionaries have to face in foreign lands.

Solos were sung by Mrs. J. Lock and Mrs. E. Wand, and a duet by two of the mission band girls, Miss Myrtle Succee and Miss Elva McIntyre. All the numbers on the program were enjoyed. The annual thankoffering amounted to $80.

Rev. Arthur Phelps closed the meeting with prayer.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday at Charlotte Street Methodist Church parsonage when Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., united William Gillespie of Lindsay to Lottie, daughter of Mr. James McWilliams of this city, in the holy bonds of matrimony.

After a short wedding trip they will reside in Lindsay.

MATTHEWS—VINCENT.

A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the Charlotte Street Church parsonage when Miss Martha Vincent of this city was united in marriage to Mr. William Matthews of Smith. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. P. Wilson, the bride and groom being unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews will reside in Smith.

GHENT—McGANN.

A wedding took place this morning at St. Mary's R. C. Church, when Miss Annie McGann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGann, St. Patrick street, was united in wedlock's holy bonds to Mr. R. Ghent, a popular railway man in Lindsay, and son of Mr. Abraham Ghent, of Port Hope. The marriage was solemnized by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Casey, a large number of guests and friends assembling at the church to witness the ceremony.

The happy young couple were assisted by Miss Ada Shea as bridesmaid and Mr. R. J. Leahey as groomsman, the bride being attired in a becoming tailored suit of Belgium blue, with hat to match.

The brides maid also wore a neat tailored suit of Belgium blue, and hat to match.

The wedding party afterward proceeded to the residence of the bride's parents on St. Patrick street, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was enjoyed. The table decorations were dainty and sweet, while the house decorations were well arranged in chrysanthemums, carnations, ferns, etc.—Lindsay Warder.

Invitations have been issued for a "shirt waist dance" to be held by the maids of Havelock in the town hall, Havelock, Wednesday, April 28th, 1915. R. D. Green, pianist, will provide the music. The committee in charge consists of Miss Bertha Bryans, secretary; Misses Eva Lynch, Lillian McNicholl, Katherine McNicholl, Essie Foley, Laura Bohan and Olive Rose.

A dance was held last evening in the Conservatory of Music Hall by the Social Evening Club, who held such enjoyable dances all last winter. While the attendance was not large, there were just enough present to enable everyone to be sociable. Splendid music was supplied by Miss Gladman. The dance broke up early.

HEAVY DAMAGE TO POWER PLANT

Causes Shut Down of Gold Mine at Cordova

The gold mine at Cordova has been closed because of an accident to the air compressor plant at Deer Lake.

The big drive wheel at the power house, which is about twenty-five feet in diameter and eight feet broad, flew into a thousand pieces, twisting the shaft and wrecking the bed plates. Fortunately no one was hurt and no serious damage done to the building. The damage to the plant is estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000 and it is not known yet what steps the company will take to remedy the effects of the smash. At all events the plant has been closed down for two months pending devel-

AUTHORIZED TO PURCHASE OIL

Authority was given last night to Chairman Green of the Board of Works and City Engineer Parsons to purchase the required amount of road oil for sprinkling the streets of the city after certain samples on hand have been analyzed.

Two little cans of samples reposed on the table, submitted by the British American Oil Company. The other tenderer for supplying oil was the Imperial Oil Company who are represented in Peterborough by J. J. Clancy, whose quotation for oil was 5¼ cents a gallon; an imported grade of British American was the same, while a refined grade made in Canada by this company was quoted at 6½ cents a gallon.

John A. Hendry the Composer of Stirring Patriotic Song

One of the most popular and stirring and patriotic songs that have appeared in the last year is that written by Mr. J. A. Hendry, and which is now placed on sale in the principal centres of Canada. The song is written in a fine martial spirit and swings in a rousing melody that is not only attractive but stirring.

MR. JOHN A. HENDRY.

Mr. Hendry comes of good Scotch parentage, having been born at Rutherglen, Scotland, though he has spent many years of his life on this side of the Atlantic. He is the author of many songs, all of which have been well received and which have been esteemed for the sentiment expressed in the verse and the airs to which the words have been set. Mr. Hendry's latest one is a contribution to the number of Canadian songs that is well timed and well in place.

The sentiment of the song does some justice to the several parts of the empire and eulogizes each of the semi-independent parts, as Australia, Canada, South Africa and New Zealand. The song will no doubt become at once a general favorite. It is on sale in the bookstores the beginning of the week, and should be heartily welcomed and reviewed.

Mr. Hendry is a brother of Messrs. Thos., Robert and James Hendry, all of this city.

"I SHOULD WORRY" WRITES SERGT. VICTOR

Mrs. Mary A. Victor, Park street, has received a letter from her son, Sergt. Peter Victor, who some weeks ago was wounded. He writes as follows:

"I guess you have been worrying quite a bit, but I really could not write as my wound has been so serious. I have had a bad time with my leg, and even now they don't know quite what to make of it. The bullet went through the leg four inches above the knee and splintered the bone. There was a lot of pus to be drained out, so I went under an operation and had the leg opened in five places. Then they put a rubber tube in the bullet wound to help drain the pus. They are very good in the hospital, but strict. They take a lot of trouble with me. They don't get any bad cases here. We are getting some nice days now.

A nurse has just washed me. Another nurse tucked me up in bed, and yet another nurse came and gave me two oranges, so "I should worry."

His address is: 7581, Sergt. P. Victor, 2nd Battalion, Hampstead Military Hospital, London N. W., England.

BRITAIN PREPARED IN NORTH SEA FOR TRIAL OF STRENGTH

Titanic Engagement With Germany May be Question of Hours---Fleet is at Its Highest Point of Efficiency

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

NEW YORK, April 23. — A cable from London to the Herald says that a great naval battle in the North Sea, the most titanic engagement in the history of naval warfare, may be a question of hours.

All preparations are complete for a trial of strength between the British fleet and the German grand fleets supported by the Heligoland fortress.

The admiralty has been working for days at full pressure.

Every naval base has been under extra guard and emlpoyees have been urged to greater effort.

The fleet is known to be at the highest point of efficiency.

LEAVE FROM GERMANY IS FORBIDDEN.

LONDON, April 23. — The Daily Mail correspondent writes that the German Government has forbidden anyone to leave Germany until further notice. This drastic order is in connection with a great transfer of troops to Belgium.

ROME, April 23. — A prominent Italian statesman said today that the participation of Italy in the war, at least in the immediate future, seemed less likely now than had been the case for some time.

ARMY SERVICE CORPS WILL TAKE OVER ALL BASE DETAILS AT SHORNCLIFFE

Is Tribute to Efficiency of Lt. Col. Spittal — Walter Curran's Letter Deals With Several Phrases of the War — King's Example Seems to Have Had Marked Effect on Public Mind

(Special Correspondence from Lt. Walter Curran.)

FOLKESTONE, April 5, 1915.—I have felt the pulse of England at Liverpool and heard the heart throb of the Empire at London. The impression gained is that England at war, though somewhat inconvenienced, is sound and steady.

Liverpool is externally normal. Closer inspection reveals some inconsiderable differences. Careful study shows that some fundamental changes have taken place. Women are doing many things which only men did before the necessity caused by war became acute.

Perhaps the most noticeable change was to see young girls from 13 to 16 acting as telegraph messengers. They had their badges the same as the boys, and seemed quite as capable.

The Canadian Army Service Corps Training Depot were given an enthusiastic reception all the way across England from Liverpool to Folkestone. Everyone who saw them gave them welcome. The air seemed charged with a thrill of welcome. People in the windows, in the streets, in their back yards, from balconies, wherever they happened to be, turned from the attraction at hand and greeted the soldiers with abandon as the train flew by.

One old gentleman rushed up a step ladder, which happened to be standing by, and nearly came to grief in his excitement.

At Rugby, some very charming young ladies were most kind to the officers. Some of the single men (only) were wished God-speed and given quite a tender little farewell salute.

England may be taking the war philosophically, but if she is, then Canada is not taking it at all. The war has touched the heart of England and the presence of sons from beyond the seas makes that heart quiver. It was an inspiring experience, and one which tended to increase respect for the character of the English people.

One Phase of the War.

There is one phase of the war that we have not heard much about, and which it would appear merits some consideration. Men who left Canada strong, healthy, rugged men, have absolutely broken down under the unprecedentedly horrible conditions which existed at Salisbury. They are sent to the hospital. After a time they are subject to another examination which they, of course, cannot pass. They are then turned out as medically unfit, ordered to turn in their uniforms, paid the pound or two which is coming to them, and told to go home. They must buy their own civilian clothes, and by the time many of them do that they are perilously near broke. When a man has given up his health for his country he should surely be given more consideration than to be kicked out broken and broke into the street. A fund for soldiers who have sacrificed their civilian position and broken down in training appears to be badly needed.

The last Canadians have left Salisbury Plain and from present indications will train hereafter in Kent. All the Canadian engineers available have gone to France, the last detachment leaving here this morning. Before many days all the men who came with the first contingent will be in France. They have been in Shorncliffe for several weeks and are in good condition.

The King's Example.

The King's example in eliminating all alcoholic beverages seems to have had a marked effect on the public

ANOTHER TRAWLER IS TORPEDOED

Two Members of Crew Were Killed

GERMANS FIRED ON RESCUE VESSEL

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Grimsby, Eng., April 23. — The Grimsby trawler St. Lawrence was torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea yesterday by a German submarine. Two members of the crew were killed. Seven survivors were brought here today by the trawler Queenstown whose skipper reports the submarine fired on his vessel while engaged in rescuing the crew of the St. Lawrence.

POLICE ROUND UP FOUR VAGRANTS

Veterans of the Road Get Terms at Reformatory Farm

An aggregation of vagrants were lined up in the Police Court dock today and little mercy was given them by Magistrate Dumble.

John Donoghue, an old friend, just came out from the prison walls on Wednesday. He declared that his hands were his only means of livelihood, and he intended to walk to Lindsay this morning to get a job, if his Worship would give him a chance. John didn't want to go back to jail.

"Six months on the Reformatory farm," was the decree.

"It's no use sending me there," was John's only remark.

Another veteran to face the same charge was Benjamin Hobson.

"I'm not a vagrant," he said, with unexpected energy. "I've got a good job to go to on May 1st."

"I think Donoghue will be lonesome without you. I'll send you along with him as a running partner."

John Irwin also professed innocence on the same charge. Irwin was sent up with the rest of the gang for a similar term.

Joseph Clark declared that he was certainly not a vagrant. Clark wnet over to East City and applied to St. Joseph's Hospital for aid, telling the hospital authorities Chief Thompson had sent him to them. He was also begging last night. As Clark appeared mentally weak, his case was adjourned for one week to see if he really meant as he said to get out of town.

DROP BOMBS ON PLOCK

Russian Aviators Also Hit Station and Trains

DAMAGE TRENCHES

Aerodrome of the Enemy Another Victim

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PETROGRAD, April 23. — Russian aviators were active yesterday. Fifteen bombs were dropped on Plock.

Several boats on the Vistula were struck, also railroad stations and trains.

Considerable damage was done to German trenches and a railway station at Mlawa and the German aerodrome at Sanniky also suffered.

FIREMEN HURT

Accident on Rails Due to Heavy Fog

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, Ont., April 23.—Engineer Hayes and fireman Munroe were injured and two cars were consumed by fire just west of Hyde Park station this morning at 6.10 when a Sarnia way freight ran into the rear of a St. Thomas way freight.

A heavy fog is blamed for the accident.

AFTERMATH OF WINE PARTY IS FINE OF $20

The police interrupted a little jamboree last night at the shoemaking shop of William Anthony. Whiskey was flowing when the detectives got wise, and they made a seizure, and caught Anthony and a pal named Taylor under the influence. Anthony was assessed the regulation $25 fine with the alternative of thirty days on the hill.

STORIES OF ATROCITIES VERIFIED

Extracts From Letters and Soldiers' Records Investigated

CRIMES OF THE HUN

While the country is convulsed with anger and horror over the atrocities perpetrated by the Germans, it will not be amiss to mention a few of their diobolical actions as reported in a publication quoting Joseph Redier, professor of a college in France, which proves beyond question that the German armies cannot escape from the reproach of violating the law of nations. He proves his case by obtaining his information from absolutely trustworthy sources. Such documents as he uses were most rigorously examined and their text examined as though in times of peace, he were questioning the authority of genuineness of some old chart. Some of his statements are extracts from letters and records of soldiers. One of them said.

"The inhabitants fled through the village. It was horrible. Blood was plastered on all the houses and as for the faces of the dead they were

At the regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough ranch of the Red Cross Society, it was decided to guarantee $50 a month in supplies and cash to the proposed base hospital to be given by the Peterborough Medical Association to the Government.

This branch of the Red Cross has sent an average of $100 per month, as well as a large bale of supplies to headquarters in Toronto since last September. Mrs. F. L. Roy is treasurer, and the branch hopes the public will give all possible help to them Tag Day, Saturday, May 22.

RUSSIAN TORPEDO BOAT SQUADRON SHELLS COAST OCCUPIED BY THE TURKS

Many Turkish Coastwise Vessels With Ammunition and Supplies Were Sunk — Aircraft Service is Active

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Petrograd, April 23. — The Russian Black Sea torpedo boat squadron bombarded the Turkish coast between Archava and Arteschin, April nineteenth. This fifteen mile strip of coast in which was located the quarters of the Turkish army, operating in this region, was swept with shell and the barracks and provision stores were ignited and destroyed. A large number of Turkish coastwise vessels laden with ammunition and supplies were sunk.

The greatest activity appears among the aircraft service. A Russian aeroplane driven by four separate motors and capable of carrying a weight of sixteen men has raided the Polish towns of Mlawa near the East Prussian frontier and Plock on the Vistula.

German aeroplanes likewise daily circle about Ossowetz fortress.

RATION WAGON AS PULPIT MAJOR BEATTIE PREACHES

Easter Sermon With Organ Music at Service for the Soldiers

BOYS ARE PROUD OF SECOND BATTALION

In another letter to his parents, Pte. Jas. English tells of a service held by Major Beattie. He writes that the Major preached on the text taken from John 20 ch. 27 verse. He used a ration wagon for a pulpit and had a piece of sack, raised to form an altar. We also enjoyed music from a small organ. One hymn was Christ the Lord is Risen Today. Altogether it was a very enjoyable service.

Good Friday was a beautiful day. The weather for the past week has been splendid and it is pretty near time. We were down to a nearby village for a bath on Good Friday and had clean underwear, socks and bath towels supplied. Many "greybacks" met a watery grave.

We are having a little rest at present, in preparation for our big work which is near at hand. Before you get this, we will all be figuring in the headlines. However you don't want to believe all the news you see. The British official [illegible] news that you can believe.

When we are out of the trenches, we are billeted in barns and they are certainly more comfortable than the tents in the mud. We received our first draft of men this week from the Ninth Battalion. From now on they will be coming and going. I was just thinking, the other morning, when our battalion was lined up, what changes the next few weeks would bring. The good old Second Battalion is at its best now, up to strength and in good shape for a fight. It is second in name only.

The first time the Canadians were in the trenches, we were the first in and No. 4 platoon was the first of the Second Battalion and we are sure our battalion will always be first.

They only pay us once a month and then only twenty-five francs, $5. It is hardly enough as we only get one loaf of bread among seven men. Of course there is no lack of hard tack and we are well fed. Bread is not a necessity when there is plenty of hard tack but it is a great treat to be able to buy the "staff of life."

This is all this time. Don't worry.

A PROTEST TO BERLIN

Gifts of Food, Money and Clothes Did Not Reach Civilians of Luxemberg

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Luxemburg, April 23.—The Grand Duchess Marie of Luxemburg has sent an official protest to Berlin against the methods of the distribution of food supplies which is said to have resulted in bringing nearly half of her subjects to the verge of starvation.

She states that gifts of food, money and clothes have been sent to Luxemburg from all parts of the world but only a small part of these gifts reached the civilian population.

She also says the German army is requisitioning provision in exchange for scrip.

AN INCREASE FOR SEAMEN

Demands Are Met and Strike is Ended

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Glasgow, April 23.—The strike of seamen at this port was ended today. The demands of the strikers numbering 500 for an increase in their wages of $5 a month was granted.

LIVES LOST BY FLOODS

Between Fifteen and Twenty Persons Met Death

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Austin, Tex., April 23. — Floods that swept down the Waller and Shoal creeks here last night, took a toll of 15 or 20 lnivesCMFWYPk toll of 15 or 20 lives according to estimates today.

Houses were jammed in masses against bridges and the high water flooded many business houses.

BRITISH TROOPS REAL MASTERS

Hold Entire Crest of Hill No. 60 Official Report Says

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 23. — The official semi-weekly report on conditions at the front, given out today, says the British hold the entire crest of Hill Number Sixty, and there never has been any truth in the German official report that the enemy had recaptured this position.

The report adds that during operations around Hill Number Sixty the Germans fired shells seventeen inches in diameter into the town of Ypres.

EMPEROR NICHOLAS AT LEMBERG CONFERS WITH THE GRAND DUKE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 23. — Emperor Nicholas arrived today at Lemberg. A Reuter's despatch from Petrograd says the Emperor was met at the railroad station by Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, with whom he held a conference concerning military operations along the Carpathian front.

A crowd gathered in front of the palace of the governor General, where Emperor Nicholas is staying, and cheered continuously until the ruler appeared on the balcony.

Addressing the crowd, he said: "I thank you for this hearty welcome. Long live indivisible Russia. Hurrah!"

BELGIANS INFLICT LOSSES ON GERMANS NEAR DIXMUDE

Asphyxiating Bombs Force French to Retire Along Yser Canal

TAKE 700 METRES OF TRENCHES

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 23. — The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement: "Yesterday evening there were fairly lively engagements in Belgium.

"In the bend of the Yser, to the north of Dixmude, Belgian troops inflicted heavy loss on the enemy.

"North of Ypres, Germans, by employing large quantities of asphyxiating bombs, the effect of which was felt for a distance of two kilometres behind our lines, forced us to retire in the direction of the Yser canal.

"Towards the west, and in the direction of Ypres, towards the south, the enemy's attack was checked. Vigorous counter-attacks enabled us to regain ground and make many prisoners.

"In the wooded valley near St. Mihiel, by an attack to the east and west of positions previously captured, we took seven metres of trenches and made about one hundred prisoners, including three officers."

SELL WOOL AT BETTER PRICE

Government is Taking Step in Interest of the Farmers

The Dominion Department of Agriculture is putting forth an effort by which the farmers engaged in sheep-raising will be able to sell the wool at a better price and the profits of the middleman will be eliminated. Mr. J. D. Thompson, a representative of the Government, was in the city in regard to this matter this morning, and explained that during the wool season, the months of May, June and July, a government man will be stationed at Peterborough. He will assist the farmers by classifying the wool and sending it direct to the factories. All the manufactuurers using wool are listed and the amount they require will be sent directly to them by the Government men who will be stationed at various centres. Peterborough will be the centre for this dstrict. Lindsay and Campbellford will also be centres.

EVIDENCE IN LIBEL ACTION

Chief of Police Thompson Gives Evidence

Evidence in the libel action, instituted by Police Chief Thompson against the Review was heard at the police court this morning, G. W. Hatton acting for the plaintiff, and R. Ruddy, K.C., for the defendant.

Chief Thompson was the only witness heard and at one o'clock adjournment was made to 3 p.m.

CANOEISTS SAVED FROM THE WATER

CAMPBELLFORD, April 23. — The season for boating has commenced, and already the perils incident to this kind of pleasure have been exemplified. Misses Lottie and May Scott ventured out in a canoe opposite the fair grounds. The canoe overturned, throwing the girls into the water. Miss May Scott was able to get hold of the upturned canoe, but Miss Lottie's foot caught in the canoe and she was powerless to help herself. Fortunately, three young men, Messrs. Frank Milne, Roy Simpson and Walter Scott, saw the accident and assisted the young ladies, rescuing them from their perilous condition, otherwise there was no chance of their being saved.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL PETERBOROUGH

REMEMBERING ST. GEORGE'S DAY.

SOME of the things England has given to the world should be recalled to the public mind in the celebration of St. George's Day. She has given the world a great Empire, that, in spite of rooted German opinion, has convinced even its enemies that it is by no means in a decadent state. That empire has been unique in developing the principle of autonomy, and in substituting that for military power as the controlling principle in the government of great domains. She has made this new system work smoothly, and made it a financial success. She has reclaimed vast tracts of vacant or barbaric lands, and raised nations of great potential strength far beyond the seas. She has given the world a language and literature that are known around the globe. She has developed a great system of law and a respect for law and honour that has won the admriation of many nations of a different race and tongue. She was one of the first to abolish slavery, and has steadily upheld democracy and liberty. There is a long list of very great names that could be mentioned in this connection. It is true that Ireland and Scotland share in the glory when names are recorded, but at this time it is fitting to remember those who have made England great.

In literature there are Shakespeare, Milton and Wordsworth; in sovereigns there are Edward I., Henry VIII. and Cromwell; in war there are Henry V., Marlborough, Nelson, Rodney and Wolfe; in oratory and politics there are Woolsey, Chatham, Pitt, Peel and Gladstone; in discovery there are Drake and Cooke; in history there are Macaulay, Froude and Green. To consider other departments of activity would recall names that have a great distinction, as Wesley and Newman in religion, but we are not concerned with a catalogue here. It is for those who are of the land of the blushing rose to remember on St. George's Day those who have dignified England's past with great achievements. They are indeed great, and, a point that should not be forgotten is that at the present time the best traditions of the past are being fully upheld in the deadly strife in Europe for honour and liberty.

CANADA CAN THANK SIR WILFRID.

THE FOLLOWING is one of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's peculiar and elusive sentences, taken from the Hansard Reports of the last session of Parliament:

> "I am as much a party man as any man in this House, but I should despise myself if I were to attempt to make political capital when the country is in such danger as it is at the present time."

Sir Wilfrid is very anxious now for the safety of Canada and for the elimination of partyism at this time, but if he had been half so anxious in 1912, and not such an extreme partizan, Canada would now have three super-dreadnoughts on the seas protecting the Empire's commerce and the transports conveying Canadian troops across the Atlantic. It is Sir Wilfrid Laurier that Canada can thank for her present position of being second to Australia in the defence of the Empire.

WHY DOES A GIRL WORK FOR THREE DOLLARS A WEEK?

DON'T LAUGH — it is a serious question, even if she receives four dollars a week. It is the cause of much crime and immorality. A young woman requires to be properly dressed, it is her right to be so, and, when she cannot maintain herself honestly, it is done otherwise. But this is only a result of a condition. Why is it that the labour of girls is at so low a scale? Employers cannot be blamed for paying girls a wage for which they are willing to work, and often, low as it is, when they can get girls for lower wages than they are paying.

Parents often allow their girls to work for a mere pittance because it is bringing "something" into the home. The girl pays no board; she is maintained by her parents, but this action sets the standard for girls who have to maintain themselves, and hence the evil arises.

Thus, the condition really arises from the fact that too many girls have no vocation. They are not trained for a definite place as boys are. They are parasites in society. When they are so trained they are more and more receiving better returns for their labour, but the lack of a vocation throws a surplus of girls into those callings that require little or no training, and so, the wages are depressed to an exceptionally low level.

This condition shows the crying need for technical education. There should be some means whereby a girl can fit herself for some occupation by which she can support herself decently, if that is necessary. Women have the mental capacity to learn and the physical capacity for labour suitable to them. What they lack is the opportunity. Parents cannot in many cases supply this oportunity, neither do the public schools. The present industrial system has failed miserably in providing a field for the labour of women. Every day the need for greater technical training for women is more and more insistent, and not until it is provided more generally will there be much prospect of improvement. Even then it is possible that, so far as wages are concerned, standards would be too low, but the result would be that women would not be confined to so limited a field as at present, and, having more opportunities, there would be more scope for those deserving. The reason so many girls are working for three dollars a week is that they cannot help it. In some cases, opportunities have been neglected, but the principal cause of this helplessness is the inability to engage in occupations for which they have not had the training. It is the lack of a vocation.

A TERRIBLE LESSON.

THE BLOW given to selfishness, self-seeking and devious ways by Sir Robert Borden in his memorable speech reading two members of the party out of Parliament, is terrible enough to terrify the boldest of those who think that a "member" is only an instrument for the benefit of those who "want things," and can drive or threaten him accordingly to that end. A member is elected by the public to act in the public interest, and rings and cliques that seek to draw him from his allegiance to the people must ultimately bring ruin to him and to the public. The instance referred to is the most deplorable, if not the most noted, in the history of Canada. Those who cannot do business in the ordinary way, but seek the by-way and the dark alley, are the very worst people in the whole world, since they pretend to be decent and straightforward, while all the time pirates in disguise. The Prime Minister has also said that next session he will make it impossible for a shareholder having control of a company, to be a member of Parliament and do business with Parliament for that company. Parliament was getting to look too much like a meeting of commercial agents attending Parliament at the public expense, but chiefly for their companies' interests. The party leaders have given the people a chance to back them up. Will they do it?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A NUMBER of Liberal newspapers have been rather hasty in their condemnation of the recently formed Provincial License Commission. This is a new departure in politics, and it would be well to await its operation before hammering it. The personnel of the Commission is excellent. It has the power to do as it thinks the public interest demands. Why not give it a chance to carry out its work?

THE NEWS that several streets are to be watered on Sunday will be as welcome to the citizens as the gentle showers from heaven—if they do it.

IT IS expected that Greece will not declare war before the ice-cream season is over.

EVERYBODY is waiting for the spring shove in Northern France.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

Sir Robert's Speech.

(Beck's Weekly, Montreal.)

Sir Robert Borden's speech last week on the militia purchases was one of those rare utterances which elevate the entire tone of public life. No Canadian, of whatever party, unless blinded by partizan rancor, can read it without feeling a new pride and a new confidence in his own country. It can hardly fail to have a tremendous effect upon the public opinion of Canada in the forthcoming elections; but the chief reason why it achieves that effect is that it was delivered without the slightest thought for anything else than the honour of Parliament. To Sir Robert Borden himself that speech was neither a bid for personal popularity nor an effort to make capital for his party; it was simply a painful duty imposed upon him by a high sense of his responsibility as leader of the House, and in particular of the Conservative party. Among the crowd of Canadian political leaders who have no such sense of responsibility or no such courage to face its consequences, Sir Robert stands out like a giant among pygmies. It is not often that he shows us the full measure of his stature, for it takes a good deal to provoke him to such an exercise of authority as last week's; but one result is that he does not cheapen himself. He has never been accused of being a showy personage.

The Liberal leaders did not shine, by comparison, in their treatment of the Oliver scandal which cropped up about the same time. Their haste to clear their own personal skirts was pathetic and scarcely dignified, and left them no time to bother about the honour of their party. It is true that they could scarcely rebuke Mr. Oliver as the Prime Minister rebuked Messrs. Foster and Garland, because they must have had a very fair idea of what Mr. Oliver was doing for several years past. Mr. Oliver will, I presume, be known no more. Mr. Garland could also disappear without any serious loss to his party or the Dominion of Canada. For Mr. Foster I am inclined to feel some sympathy; he is very young, and he comes from the Maritime Provinces, where politics are very peculiar. There is hope that he may mend his ways, and take his political ideal from Sir Robert Borden (also a Maritime man) rather than from the horse dealers of King's County.

The Oliver Scandals.

(Toronto Weekly Sun.)

Of the charges preferred against Mr. Oliver in the closing hours of the session of Parliament, that of having received from the Grand Trunk Pacific fifteen thousand dollars for shares of the capital stock of his newspaper company is undisputed. For that, at least, Mr. Oliver cannot escape censure. He was a member of the Government which was treating with the railway in the matter of the construction of a transcontinental railway involving the public in enormous concessions and responsibilities. His duty was, according to a universal demand of public morals, to keep himself free of any colour of obligation to the railway company. Were he to prove to the electorate that the public interest had been faithfully guarded, he would still be condemned for disregard of a principle of such importance that no breach of it is to be permitted. Nor would he be excused by proving that the railways have widely invested in newspapers or kept members of Parliament in their service.

Let the Daylight in.

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review.)

"Governments are unmade," says the Mail and Empire, "not by the scandals they reveal, but by the scandals they try to hide." And there is a good deal of truth in it. A scandal revealed, repented of and atoned for may mark the beginning of a better life; the scandal concealed is likely to become the fruitful source of other scandals.

GERMANS CONVICTED OF COLD-BLOODED CRUELTY TOWARDS THE HELPLESS

Lady Passenger on the Ill-fated Falaba, Sunk by German Submarine Tells of What Actually Took Place

The following letter from a lady who was a passenger on the steamer Falaba, which was sunk by a German submarine will be interesting as it is an authentic account of what took place. The letter was written from Bristol and appeared in the St. Catharines Standard.

My dear Brother — Easter Day! and I am at home, and not on my way back to Africa, as I had hoped to be; nor, thank God, at the bottom of the sea, as, but for His merciful care, I should have been.

I left home on Thursday, March 25th, with Miss Hobson, of Lagos, who had been spending a little while with me. We went to Hoylake, and stayed there with my brother until Saturday, the 27th, when they both came and saw me on to the tender at Liverpool. Only passengers were allowed on board. Dr. Fox and Rev. A. Field, as I expect you know, were also sailing by the Falaba.

I made myself known to Mr. Field soon after the Falaba started; and that same evening became acquainted with the other lady passengers, of whom there were four. Next morning only one, my cabin companion, Mrs. Hyde, was ill. The rest of us were on deck, and, fortunately, wrapped up in our warmest clothes.

Just after 12 o'clock I began walking around. Mr. Field soon joined me, and in a few minutes we saw a ship in the distance. We watched her for a while, and then, it being very cold, we walked round once more. As we came to the same spot again, we found there were two ships and they had apparently cut right across our bows. One was overhauling us rapidly. We hadn't the slightest chance to escape, although the captain tried this best to do so. We could only do thirteen knots, while the enemy could do, and was doing, eighteen knots.

We did not yet realize that it was a submarine; and we were joking about it. In a few minutes I said: "Is it a submarine?" I was told "Yes." "Is it German?" "Yes," was the answer.

The captain of the submarine megaphoned us: "We are going to sink you. We give you ten minutes to get into boats!"

A soldier on the lower deck called out to another: "Number one lifeboat is ours. Go to it at once." Another replied: "All right; don't get excited."

At this all, both soldiers and ordinary passengers, turned and went to their respective cabins. I did not see Mr. Field after this.

A nurse, Miss Winchester, asked me if I had any money. I said: "No." She said, "Well, we shall want it," and I replied that we had better go and get it. We went to our cabins (she was opposite to me). I got my purse, and got down Mrs. Hyde's and my life-belts. The stewardess helped me put mine on. She did not realize the danger. Neither did we. I thought that people would probably laugh at me for having it on. However, I called Mrs. Hyde to come, and went up on deck.

Here I found that two boats were already lowered. The first had not gone down evenly (I did not know this until afterwards) but one end touched the water first, and all its occupants were thrown out, and many were lost.

The second was very full of men. (No ladies were on deck when these two were lowered). I looked at it, and thought it was overcrowded. Eventually it capsized, and nearly all were drowned.

I then went round to the other side. They were just getting the third boat ready, and called out, "Ladies first." I and then a Mrs. Bishop were the first to get in. Then the men quickly followed. Mrs. Hyde came as the boat was being lowered, and a soldier picked her up and threw her in, and a Miss Palmer (a Yornba) after her; thus saving both their lives.

There was no plug in a plug hole in our boat, so Mr. Bishop sat down and pushed his hand in. Even so, the water came in, and we had to keep baling until we were taken on board the drifter. We picked up one

University Course In Prison Camp.

SOLDAU, Prussia, April 23.—(Via London.)—A regular university is in operation in the prison camp here, which contains several thousand prisoners of war. Lectures are being given in departments of arts, law and theology, and in the commercial school. There also is a preparatory department.

The university owes its origin to the fact that the Belgian prisoners include many professors, and the students of four Belgian universities. The students desired an opportunity to continue their studies. The classes were opened also to other prisoners. The attendance in the preparatory department is particularly large.

Heavy Loss of Oats.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 23.—Fire in C. H. Peters & Sons' warehouse on Ward street last night damaged a large quantity of oats and gutted the building. The loss is estimated at $20,000; covered by insurance.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUNDS.

Editor, Review:

Sir,—It is with much satisfaction that one sees the matter of supervised playgrounds receiving attention in Peterborough.

The Local Council of Women, in pushing this matter, is doing much for our national manhood, which is being so sadly depleted at the present time.

This movement embodies the kernel of patriotism. It is equally criminal to neglect the rising generation as it is to neglect our sick and wounded. The public for years has been calling upon the City Council to provide proper bathing facilities for both boys and girls. But the cry still goes up.

Let us endeavour to support the Local Council in this project, that it may be possible for it to have at least one ground in working order by July 1st.

Five hundred dollars is not much for Peterborough to spend upon the public welfare of her children, and the scheme which the Local Council has devised for raising that amount is such that it will not overtax any person.

Mrs. (Dr.) A. M. Irwin and children are visiting friends at Little Britain, Ont.

The Women's Missionary Society held their election of officers on Wednesday afternoon of last week, and elected the following officers:

President—Mrs. W. T. Buck.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. A. Howson.
2nd Vice-President — Mrs. (Dr.) Ford.
Rec. Secretary—Mrs. E. C. Squire.
Cor. Secretary—Mrs. G. E. Mills.
Organist—Mrs. B. W. Squire.

Mrs. (Rev.) Irwin was chosen as a delegate to attend the branch meeting at Port Hope, in June.

Mr. Elle Squire of Tweed attended the funeral of his grandmother, the late Mrs. J. L. Squire, held on Wednesday.

Miss Ada Miller of Longford is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller.

Miss Vera Finlay who has just completed her second year at Queen's University, Kingston, is visiting at her home here.

On Monday afternoon citizens of Norwood and community learned with deepest regret of the death of one of our most esteemed resident, in the person of Emily Pace, wife of J. J. L. Squire.

Death was due to accute indigestion, Mrs. Squire having been seized with an attack only a few hours before, and from which she never rallied, notwithstanding the utmost endeavors of the family physician and three other medical advisers to save her life.

Her demise came sorrowfully and suddenly to her family, and especially to her beloved partner to whom the sympathy of the entire community goes out.

Mrs Squire was born at Laney Green, Staffordshire, England, being a daughter of the late Joshua Pace. Her marriage took place forty-five years ago, eighteen years after she came with her husband to Norwood, where she has resided ever since.

The late Mrs. Squire was loved by all who knew her, was a valued member of the Methodist Church and a most faithful attendant at its services. She brought with her from the old land an undying love for flowers, and for years she gave from her green house the choicest of her blooms to adorn the altar at her church. This delightful outward show of her disposition will ever be remembered by not only her near friends, but by many other acquaintances who otherwise did not know her so intimately in every day life.

There are left to mourn her loss her husband, five daughters, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, Mrs. H. Harper, Mrs. C. Elliott, Miss Rose of Norwood, and Miss Gertrude, nurse with the expeditionary forces in France, four sons, Reeve B. W., Edwin, Fred, and Herbert of Norwood; [illegible] sisters, Mrs. Snell and Mrs. H. T. Squire, of England, and one brother, Joshua, of Norwood. The funeral which was held on Wednesday afternoon, was conducted by Rev. A. M. Irwin, B.A., B.D., assisted by Rev. W. H. Adams of Downsview. The Revs. H. N. Noble (Anglican) and E. J. Wollard (Presbyterian) were also present and took part in the service.

Before and After.

When Phyllis wasn't sure that I
Loved her and her alone,
She called me up a dozen times
Each day by telephone.

But now if she should call me up,
Oh, my, 'twould make a stir.
She calls me down instead, because,
You see, I married her.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson IV.—Second Quarter, For April 25, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Sam. xvii, 38-51. Memory Verse, 45—Golden Text, Rom. viii, 31—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The armies of the living God defied and the people of God reproached describes the state of affairs at the opening of this lesson (verses 10, 26, 36). I have just read in the papers of a deficit in each of two mission boards of over $250,000 and of one denomination that has lost 300,000 members in six years. Does there seem to be any parallel, and if so where is the David for the occasion? We have reason to thank God for a man like Rev. William Sunday, who is rescuing more souls from the hands of the enemy and slaying more giants than any other man in America today (May, 1914), as far as we are able to judge, because he has learned how to sling stones with deadly aim in the name of the living God. We cannot but thank God also for such a witness as Daniel Crawford, from the heart of Africa, who has been standing for the living God before the preachers and students and hundreds of thousands of the people of our land. Oh, for more such Davids and Daniels! Who is willing to be another such? How pitiful to see the men of Israel sore afraid and fleeing from one defiant Philistine! (Verse 24.) The words of Joshua are applicable, "O Lord, what shall I say when Israel turneth their backs before their enemies?" (Josh. vii, 8.)

David, the shepherd boy, of no account in the eyes of his brethren, found this condition of things when he came to the camp, sent by his father to see how his brethren fared and to bring them some good things from home (verses 15-18), he having returned from being Saul's armor bearer to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem. Eliab, his eldest brother, misjudged him and spoke unkindly to him, but he meekly replied, Is there not a cause? (Verses 28, 29). David's inquiry as to why this man should be allowed to defy God and reproach Israel was told to Saul, and he sent for David, and he said to Saul: "Let no man's heart fail because of him. Thy servant will go and fight with this Philistine. The Lord that delivered me out of the paw of the lion and out of the paw of the bear, He will deliver me out of his hand" (verses 32-37).

Saul armed David with his armor—his helmet, his coat of mail and his sword (what a snapshot that would have made?)—but he could not go thus, for he had not proved it. So he put it all off him, and with his sling and five smooth stones, which he knew how to use, and with his staff in his hand he went forth to meet the giant, the great mass of blaspheming flesh and blood (verses 38-40). The giant disdained him and cursed him, which is about the way that flesh always acts toward the spirit, or mocks, as Ishmael did Isaac (verses 41-44; Gen. xxi, 6; Gal. v, 17). How grand are the words of David, "I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied" (verse 45). The invisible God was much more real to David than this visible giant, who made Israel to tremble. He reminds us of Caleb and Joshua, to whom giants and walled cities were nothing, because they saw and believed God. Moses also endured as seeing Him who is invisible. Most people, however, see the difficulties and see themselves as grasshoppers (Num. xiii, 33).

Then notice David's one desire, that all Israel and all the earth might know the God whom he knew, the living God, the God who could deliver from an actual lion and bear. He had no thought of himself nor desire for any glory for himself, but he honored the Lord, and the Lord did honor him, according to I Sam. ii, 30. It is great to see no man any more save Jesus only and to say from the heart: "The Lord is my light and my salvation. Whom shall I fear?" (Mark ix, 8; Ps. xxvii, 1.) Nothing can be compared to such a confidence in God as David had. Now see him running toward the giant, placing a stone in his sling, and with a prayer to his God sending it in the name of the Lord of hosts and for the honor of His name. Do you wonder that it went straight and struck hard, sank into the giant's forehead and felled him to the earth? The eyes of all the thousands of Israel and of the Philistines were upon David as he ran to meet his enemy, but he gave that no thought, for his eyes were upon the living God, and God's eyes were upon him, according to II Chron. xvi, 9.

David had no weapon, so he ran and stood upon the giant (can't you see him?) and, taking the giant's sword, cut off his head and carried it away in triumph, first to Saul and then to Jerusalem. He took the giant's armor also (verses 48-58). This was all written for your benefit and mine that we might learn to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. I do not understand how neither Saul nor the captain of his host knew who David was, although David had been Saul's armor bearer, but I rejoice to meet Jonathan again and to see him loving David as his own soul and stripping himself of garments and armor to put them upon David (chapter xviii, 1-4). Then I think of Him who loved me and gave Himself for me.

MAKING A BED.

Efficiency Methods That Economize Time and Effort.

Even in making a bed you can economize time and effort. First pull the bed out from the wall when you are making it up and see how many steps may be saved by your being able to go around the head as well as the foot.

It is not necessary to run from one side to the other with each blanket or sheet you spread. You can spread the lower sheet, tuck in the top by raising the head of the mattress, then run the hands under the mattress, thus turning the under sheet down the near side and so across the foot and up the far side. You have then walked once around the bed.

Now spread the upper sheet and blankets, turn down the top of the upper sheet over the blankets and tuck around the bed once again. The bedspread can be adjusted on the third and last round. Be sure to keep patting the bed flat and smooth and fold in and square off the corners as you tuck them in. Everything should be done with the utmost precision and exactness. Each blanket and sheet should lie smooth and square. Never cover up a wrinkle if you want a good looking bed.

Miss Ada Miller of Longford is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller.

Miss Vera Finlay who has just completed her second year at Queen's University, Kingston, is visiting at her home here.

On Monday afternoon citizens of Norwood and community learned with deepest regret of the death of one of our most esteemed resident, in the person of Emily Pace, wife of J. J. L. Squire.

Death was due to accute indigestion, Mrs. Squire having been seized with an attack only a few hours before, and from which she never rallied, notwithstanding the utmost endeavors of the family physician and three other medical advisers to save her life.

Her demise came sorrowfully and suddenly to her family, and especially to her beloved partner to whom the sympathy of the entire community goes out.

Mrs Squire was born at Laney Green, Staffordshire, England, being a daughter of the late Joshua Pace. Her marriage took place forty-five years ago, eighteen years after she came with her husband to Norwood, where she has resided ever since.

The late Mrs. Squire was loved by all who knew her, was a valued member of the Methodist Church and a most faithful attendant at its services. She brought with her from the old land an undying love for flowers, and for years she gave from her green house the choicest of her blooms to adorn the altar at her church. This delightful outward show of her disposition will ever be remembered by not only her near friends, but by many other acquaintances who otherwise did not know her so intimately in every day life.

There are left to mourn her loss her husband, five daughters, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, Mrs. H. Harper, Mrs. C. Elliott, Miss Rose of Norwood, and Miss Gertrude, nurse with the expeditionary forces in France, four sons, Reeve B. W., Edwin, Fred, and Herbert of Norwood. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Snell and Mrs. H. [illegible] and one brother, Joshua, of Norwood. The funeral which was held on Wednesday afternoon, was conducted by Rev. A. M. Irwin, B.A., B.D., assisted by Rev. W. H. Adams of Downsview. The Revs. H. N. Noble (Anglican) and E. J. Wollard (Presbyterian) were also present and took part in the service.

Before and After.

When Phyllis wasn't sure that I
Loved her and her alone,
She called me up a dozen times
Each day by telephone.

But now if she should call me up,
Oh, my, 'twould make a stir.
She calls me down instead, because,
You see, I married her.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson IV.—Second Quarter, For April 25, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Sam. xvii, 38-51. Memory Verse, 45—Golden Text, Rom. viii, 31—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The armies of the living God defied and the people of God reproached describes the state of affairs at the opening of this lesson (verses 10, 26, 36). I have just read in the papers of a deficit in each of two mission boards of over $250,000 and of one denomination that has lost 300,000 members in six years. Does there seem to be any parallel, and if so where is the David for the occasion? We have reason to thank God for a man like Rev. William Sunday, who is rescuing more souls from the hands of the enemy and slaying more giants than any other man in America today (May, 1914), as far as we are able to judge, because he has learned how to sling stones with deadly aim in the name of the living God. We cannot but thank God also for such a witness as Daniel Crawford, from the heart of Africa, who has been standing for the living God before the preachers and students and hundreds of thousands of the people of our land. Oh, for more such Davids and Daniels! Who is willing to be another such? How pitiful to see the men of Israel sore afraid and fleeing from one defiant Philistine! (Verse 24.) The words of Joshua are applicable, "O Lord, what shall I say when Israel turneth their backs before their enemies?" (Josh. vii, 8.)

David, the shepherd boy, of no account in the eyes of his brethren, found this condition of things when he came to the camp, sent by his father to see how his brethren fared and to bring them some good things from home (verses 15-18), he having returned from being Saul's armor bearer to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem. Eliab, his eldest brother, misjudged him and spoke unkindly to him, but he meekly replied, Is there not a cause? (Verses 28, 29). David's inquiry as to why this man should be allowed to defy God and reproach Israel was told to Saul, and he sent for David, and he said to Saul: "Let no man's heart fail because of him. Thy servant will go and fight with this Philistine. The Lord that delivered me out of the paw of the lion and out of the paw of the bear, He will deliver me out of his hand" (verses 32-37).

Saul armed David with his armor—his helmet, his coat of mail and his sword (what a snapshot that would have made?)—but he could not go thus, for he had not proved it. So he put it all off him, and with his sling and five smooth stones, which he knew how to use, and with his staff in his hand he went forth to meet the giant, the great mass of blaspheming flesh and blood (verses 38-40). The giant disdained him and cursed him, which is about the way that flesh always acts toward the spirit, or mocks, as Ishmael did Isaac (verses 41-44; Gen. xxi, 6; Gal. v, 17). How grand are the words of David, "I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied" (verse 45). The invisible God was much more real to David than this visible giant, who made Israel to tremble. He reminds us of Caleb and Joshua, to whom giants and walled cities were nothing, because they saw and believed God. Moses also endured as seeing Him who is invisible. Most people, however, see the difficulties and see themselves as grasshoppers (Num. xiii, 33).

Then notice David's one desire, that all Israel and all the earth might know the God whom he knew, the living God, the God who could deliver from an actual lion and bear. He had no thought of himself nor desire for any glory for himself, but he honored the Lord, and the Lord did honor him, according to I Sam. ii, 30. It is great to see no man any more save Jesus only and to say from the heart: "The Lord is my light and my salvation. Whom shall I fear?" (Mark ix, 8; Ps. xxvii, 1.) Nothing can be compared to such a confidence in God as David had. Now see him running toward the giant, placing a stone in his sling, and with a prayer to his God sending it in the name of the Lord of hosts and for the honor of His name. Do you wonder that it went straight and struck hard, sank into the giant's forehead and fell[illegible] the eyes of all the thousands of Israel and of the Philistines were upon David as he ran to meet his enemy, but he gave that no thought, for his eyes were upon the living God, and God's eyes were upon him, according to II Chron. xvi, 9.

Ceremonial Citron.

A valuable and somewhat curious variety of citron is cultivated along the shores of Albania, western European Turkey. It is known as the "casenia" or "esrog" (Hebrew). It is a small citron, weighing not more than twenty-five drams, just large enough to be held in the hand, and is thus used in the religious ritual by the Jews all over the world during the celebration of their feast of tabernacles. Such citrons, if sufficiently small, without blemish and possessing somewhat extended nozzles, are valued at from $4 to $10 each. These citrons are mostly exported from Parga, Turkey, and not from Corfu, as is generally supposed. A few are said to grow near Diakovto, Greece.

Thorndike, Alto, Mich.; Wm. R. Delaney, Ottawa, from Nellie Delaney, Toronto, and Edith M. Boydell from Arthur T. Boydell, Sherbrooke.

NO WAR TAX ON NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENCE.

On account of numerous inquiries regarding the war tax on letters, the post office department gives the following information: "On all first-class letters, sealed or unsealed, an extra-one-cent stamp is required. Post cards also require an extra stamp, but on newspaper correspondence, unsealed and with contents marked on the envelope, there is no tax."

OBSERVATION TOUR WAS A GREAT TREAT

Over one hundred boys received a practical education yesterday afternoon in the woollen manufacturing business, through the courtesy of the Auburn Woollen Mills, who permitted the Y.M.C.A. members of the boys' department to go through the establishment from basement to garret. The boys went through in groups under the charge of Mr. Galley. The many interesting processes through which the wool passes from the raw material to the finished product were interestingly demonstrated by officials of the mill. The trip was one of the most successful yet and needless to say the boys enjoyed it. The next observation tour will be on April 29th to the Brinton Carpet Company.

CAREFUL DOCTOR.

Prescribed Change of Food Instead of Drugs.

It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines.

Many truly scientific physicians re[illegible] are and should be treated." Here's an instance:

"Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation.

"I heard of a doctor who had a summer cottage near me—a specialist—and, as a last hope, sent for him.

"After he examined me carefully he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronger to eat more.

"I kept at it and gradually began to have color in my face, memory became clear, where before everything seemed a blank. My limbs got stronger and I could walk. So I steadily recovered.

"Now after a year on Grape-Nuts I weigh 153 lbs. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

There will be a reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. Lee and family at the close of the induction service.

NOT SPARED TO ENJOY FORTUNE

Mrs. John King One of City' Oldest Residents is Dead

HERE FOR 70 YEARS

By a queer twist of Fate, as unexplainable as it is unusual, death last evening intervened to deprive an aged woman from enjoying the varied comforts which a $10,000 legacy is capable of bringing one in the declining years of their sojourn on this mortal coil. Such a mysterious working of the unseen hand resulted last night in the death of Mrs. John King, at her home, 610 Bethune street, after a lingering illness. But five weeks longer of life was required to make the deceased woman the possessor of a fortune in cash of $10,000, but the race twixt life and death resulted in the grim spectre winning out, and Mrs. King's spirit took flight last night at fifteen minutes to nine.

One can picture the dreams which the aged lady must have had as she dwelt upon the usefulness to which the fortune could have been converted. Although far from mercenary, the money was nevertheless particularly welcome, and it was only a couple of months ago when the news was conveyed to her of the legacy, that she expressed her heartfelt thankfulness. An aged and wealthy sister, who died in New York, left, among many other large bequests, one to her sister, now the deceased, to the amount of $10,000. Mrs. King then deplored the circumstances under which she became a beneficiary, but with a true Christian feeling she attributed it all to the wisdom and guidance of a higher hand.

Lived Here 70 Years.

The late Mrs. King was in her 79th year, and had lived in Peterborough for seventy years. She had seen the city grow from a collection of houses and stores to its present magnificent size. She delighted to relate to visitors her experiences, and never neglected to impress the hearer that she had been an ardent follower of King William from the days of her childhood. Her memory was keen right up to the end, and she enjoyed full use of all her faculties. Her maiden name was Jane Spencely.

Mrs. King leaves one brother Mark of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Chatten, also living in Peterborough. Seven daughters and one son also survive.

The funeral will be held on Monday at two-thirty to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. R. G. Peever, of whose church she was a member, officiating.

NO CERTAINTY AS TO HOSPITAL UNIT

Cannot be Accepted at the Present Time

A great deal of uncertainty hangs over the offer made to establish a base hospital by the Peterborough Medical Association to the Militia department, concerning whether or not it will be accepted. A complete statement will be supplied within a day or two by the former, setting forth in detail the particulars of the proposition and just what position the matter is in.

It is definitely known that the offer was laid before the Militia Department, but word has been received from the headquarters that no hospital units can be accepted just at the present time.

Several local medical men and nurses however are ready to take charge of the hospital whenever they receive word that their services are required.

It is understood that Dr. Frederick who has already qualified for service with the Army Medical Corps has been notified that he has received an appointment.

KICK FROM HORSE FRACTURES LEG

Bridgenorth Man Brought to Hospital for Treatment

Melville McWilliams of Bridgenorth was the victim of a very painful accident while working with his team, harrowing a field on Wednesday afternoon. He was fixing the traces on one of the horses when the animal kicked him on the leg. The blow was of sufficient force to fracture the bone. Dr. Mann of this city was called and the injured man was removed to Nicholls Hospital where the fracture was reduced. Reports today state he is resting comfortably.

CLAIM FOR $490 TO BE HEARD IN SURROGATE

At a sitting of the Surrogate Court to be held next Wednesday, the action of Mary Head vs. Wm. H. Walkey, executor of the last well and testament of the late William J. Bennett, of Otonabee, will be heard. The plaintiff is suing for $490, which she claims is due her for attending the late William Bennett from September, 1911, till August, 1912, at a salary of ten dollars per week.

GREAT EFFORT NOW AT HAND

Churchill and French Minister of Marine in Conference

LONDON, April 23.—The London Daily Mail's Sofia correspondent, in a despatch dated Tuesday, says:

"Fugitives from Enos say that following a bombardment by the allies, the British landed a force at Enos, and the Turkish commandant ordered an evacuation of the port."

Enos is Turkey's most southwesterly port on the Aegean Sea. It lies just to the east of the new boundary line between Turkey and Bulgaria, and is 12 miles southeast of Dedeagatch, Bulgaria.

The story of the landing is in part confirmed by Berlin reports and by a report from Saloniki.

A despatch from Paris says: The best means for hastening the passage of the Dardanelles by the allies' warships was one of the principal subjects of a conference yesterday between Minister of Marine Augagneur and Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty. The conference was held in the north of France.

On his return to Paris M. Augagneur told a representative of the Havas Agency that the public would be wrong in thinking that the operations in the Dardanelles had been suspended.

"The French navy," M. Augagneur added, "never has thought that the straits could be forced without long preparation, but it has always believed, and is more than ever convinced, that the undertaking is perfectly feasible, and before long the object so ardently desired will be attained."

M. Augagneur said the general naval situation of Great Britain and France was in every way very favorable.

The frankness of the British Cabinet Ministers in making known the number of men at the front and the reports that reach London from various sources have convinced the people that at last the big effort against Germany and Turkey is about to commence. Both in the Aegean and North Seas there are signs of increasing activity. From to day all steamboat communication with Holland is stopped by order of the British Government.

The text of the Admiralty report follows:

"All shipping between Holland and the United Kingdom is stopped for the time being. No ships will leave the United Kingdom for Holland after to-day. Ships from Holland will not be admitted to the United Kingdom after to-day.

"It is hoped shortly to resume limited cargo and passenger traffic. Special arrangements have been made for the transfer of mails."

Taken in connection with the news from Berlin that British submarines have been in the Bight of Heligoland, where the German Admiralty lays claim to having sunk one and perhaps more, this is believed to foreshadow some movement in the North Sea; while there is no longer any endeavor to hide the fact that a big Anglo-French force is prepared to go, as Gen. d'Amade, the French commander, has said, "to any point where it is required."

STORIES OF

hideous. They were all buried at once to the number of sixty. Among them many old men and women and one woman about to be delivered. It was a ghastly sight. There were three children who had huddled close to one another and had died together. The altar and ceiling of the church had fallen in. They had been telephoning to the enemy. And this morning, September 2nd, all the survivors were driven out and I saw four little boys carrying on two poles a cradle in which was a child of five or six months. All this was horrible to see. A blow for a blow. Thunder for thunder. Everything was pillaged. And I also saw a mother with her two little sons and one had a large wound in the head and had lost an eye."

Another atrocity report reads thus:

"The pretty village of Gue d'Hossus in the Ardennes has been burnt, although innocent of any crime, it seemed to me. I was told that a cyclist had fallen off his machine and that in doing so his gun had gone off, so they fired in his direction. Thereupon the male inhabitants were simply consigned to the flames. It is to be hoped that such atrocities will not be repeated."

Another atrocity reads:

"In the evening at 10 o'clock the first battalion of the 178th Regiment went down to the village that had been burnt to the ground. A sad and beautiful sight and one that made you shudder. At the entrance of the village lay about fifty dead bodies strewn on the road. They had been shot for having fired on our troops from ambush. In the course of the night many others had been shot in the same way, so that we could count more than two hundred. The women and children, lamp in hand, were obliged to watch the terrible scene. We then ate our rice in the midst of the corpses for we had not tasted food since morning.

Another soldier writes:

"In this way we destroyed eight houses with their inmates. In one of them two men with their wives and a girl of eighteen were bayonetted. The little one almost unnerved me so innocent was her expression. But it was impossible to check the crowd so excited were they for, in such moments you are no longer men but wild beasts."

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

The regular monthly meeting of the 57th Regiment Chapter I.O.D.E. was held in the recreation room, Armouries, on Thursday afternoon.

In the absence of both the Regent and first vice-regents (Mrs. Clegg and Mrs. Joseph Mills) from the city, the 2nd vice-regent, Mrs. Duncan Walker, presided. After opening the meeting Mrs. Walker said how much we would all miss our regent, who has gone to join her husband, Lt.-Col. Clegg, in England. The best wishes of all members go with her. She also told the members of Mrs. Clegg's regret at not being able to personally thank the members of the chapter, for their kind thought of her, in sending her a handsome traveling rug and shopping bag on the eve of her departure. This and the address sent with them were much appreciated.

The following committees reported: Hospital Committee — Flowers sent to 5 sick members, including Major Davidson and acknowledgments were read from them.

Visiting Committee reported 14 visits paid and several new members secured for the chapter.

Knitting Committee reported 144 pairs of socks on hand, and 100 pairs to be sent at once to our men of 2nd Contingent in Kingston, the rest kept as reserve supply.

An interesting letter was read read Miss Arnoldi, acknowledging a cheque sent from the chapter for comforts for our men under Major Bennett. Also a letter from Captain Gray, acknowledging $50 sent towards a field kitchen for the 2nd contingent.

It was decided by vote that owing to existing circumstances, it would be unwise for the chapter to send a delegate to the annual meeting in Halifax this year.

Empire Day will be observed this year in the usual way. Committees having been appointed to place flags on the graves by all soldiers in our cemeteries.

The Red Cross branch brought a message from a special meeting held by them yesterday, regarding the part the women would be willing to take in helping with a base hospital, to be offered to the government by the Peterborough Medical Association. A guarantee of $300 per month in cash and supplies is asked for. The Peterborough Branch Red Cross have guaranteed $50 a month towards this object, and the I.O.D.E. will guarantee $10 pr month and will undertake any work towards making up supplies. These guarantees to hold as long as there is need for the hospital.

Mrs. Neal read several patriotic poems and after tea and a social half hour the meeting was adjourned.

The following is a copy of a letter received by the treasurer I.O.D.E.

Canadian Field Comfort Commission,
Ashford, Kent, England.

Your cheque for twenty dollars from the 57th Regt. Chapter I.O.D.E. has been received and we would thank the members very much for the same. It shall be expended as you desire and forwarded to Major Bennett. So many things are asked for every day now. Little luxuries like candles, cocoa, soup tablets, note paper and various other trifles seemingly, but which means a great deal to our brave fellows. The officers write that the appearance of a bale is hailed with delight and the men so much appreciate the fact that the things come from the women at home. Every one has so much praise for the Canadians, it makes one prouder than ever of our splendid 2nd contingent.

We are so anxious to be able to keep up the supply fairly regularly, and we can only do this if the money and supplies come from home to us. Socks are continually called for, also underwear.

We will let Major Bennett know the donors of the gift.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) JOAN L. ARNOLDI, C.F.C.C.

DAMAGES CLAIMED FOR CHILD

Explosion of Dynamite Caps Caused Severe Injuries to Wesley White

At a special session of the county court, to be held on Tuesday next, the case of William White and Wesley White, of Campbellford, vs. Thomas Sampson, Luman Jordan and William Jordan, also of Campbellford, will be tried. The plaintiff, Wesley White, is a child six years old, and son of William White. The claim is for $1500 damages for injuries to Wesley White, alleged to have been caused through negligence of the defendants. Gordon & Widdifield are acting for the plaintiff and I. A. Humpheries of Campbellford for the defendants.

On May 17th, 1914, Thomas Sampson was employed by Luman and William Jordan to do work, the executing of which required blasting on property owned by William Jordan. It is alleged that on the day mentioned the defendant allowed dynamite caps to be carelessly left within reach of children who played in that vicinity. Among the children was Wesley White. He picked up a dynamite cap and played with it. The cap ignited, destroying two fingers and thumb on the right hand of the child and also causing injuries to his face and body. The lad was brought to Peterborough the next morning, and for several weeks was confined to Nicholls Hospital.

His Honor Judge Huycke will be the presiding judge.

Council of Women

Should we wait until the war is over before establishing playgrounds?

[illegible] months of July and August will [illegible] here, and the well-to-do of Peterborough will hie them to the lakes, taking their families with them, and the boys and girls will have glorious times bathing, fishing and boating.

But what of the children of less fortunate parents? Those who cannot afford summer outings? Is it not right that they, too, should have in their holidays at least what little change can be made possible and be given a place wherein they can work off some of their superfluous energy in properly directed play and be kept, by finding a vent, from destroying the lawns and flower beds of our citizens?

The Local Council of Women desires to help the Horticultural Society in this way, by establishing this year one supervised playground. We have waited long for this. Should we longer delay? when it is a matter of the health and happiness of the youth of our city. And because of the unhappiness of those children in other lands who are suffering from the war, let us try to make the children at our door more healthy and more happy and better able and willing to help others. The Local Council of Women are asking little for one ground this year—only $500—which will not be a great drag on anyone. This $500 pays for everything—supervisors (a man and a woman) and the necessary apparatus.

Ten cents or so spent for carnations in memory of our mothers, whether here or gone to their rest, by men, women and children of Peterborough will easily give the Local Council of Women the required funds.

Don't forget the date to buy carnations—May 8th.

The writer has it on the authority of a prominent officer whose duty has taken him to all parts of England and who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, that there are approximately two million soldiers in England now.

There are various opinions expressed as to the results of Neuve Chapelle. One Canadian officer appeared to think that something had gone wrong there, that as a matter of fact Neuve Chapelle was to have started the Germans on the run. Others contended that it was a fairly expensive victory which will prove very useful for the development of the campaign.

The Canadian Army Service Corps at the front have been getting some rather rough handling lately. The Germans place a man with several days' rations in a position where he can observe the movements of the motor transports three or four miles behind the lines. When he has ascertained the time and route of these transports for a few days, he signals back, and the next night at the proper time the German long range artillery sweep the road. If the unfortunate convoy is on the same schedule, as happened more than once, they pretty well wipe it out.

It is only a bit over twenty miles from here to France. It is said that one can sometimes hear the big guns across the channel, though I doubt it. It is nearly fifty miles, however, to the battlefield in Flanders, so that it would have to be some report to be heard at that distance.

Germans Convicted

man out of the water a short distance from the Falaba.

I shall never forget the sight of the Falaba being torpedoed. There was a terrific explosion, a great burst of black smoke right up through the center of her. She instantly heeled over on her side, and for about five minutes gradually sank. She then turned right up on end and slowly went out of sight.

A Bare Ten Minutes.

The Germans gave only a bare ten minutes. They saw a boat load of people being lowered, but would not wait for them to get to the water. Consequently the whole lot were precipitated into the water, and nearly all lost, including Miss Winchester, who stayed a minute or two too long in her cabin, and the stewardess.

The submarine waited until the Falaba had completely disappeared. After that, I did not look at her any more. I did not hear any of the jeering. I was not near enough. I should say, however, that as they were capable of standing by and seeing dozens (that is no exaggeration) of people drowning, without putting out a finger to save them, they are quite capable of jeering at them.

The scene was beyond description. We saw one poor fellow on the bottom of an upturned boat, clinging on for dear life. We dared not go near him, as the boat was a steel one and might have rent us asunder.

A drifter came almost up to us (it had been chasing the submarine, and trying to ram her), but we told her to go to the Falaba, as there were many in the water, and come back to us afterwards. We shouted to the man on the boat that the drifter was coming; but despair seized him, a terrific wave came, and we saw him no more.

One man while helping to cast off our boat, had four fingers very badly injured. He just wrapped them up in some of our handkerchiefs, then fixed the rudder, steered the boat for a considerable time and afterwards helped row until we reached the drifter. He was a Briton!

After rowing about for nearly two hours we were taken on board the drifter. A man fell into the water as he was scrambling on board, but we managed to drag him into the boat again.

The first thing we saw on the drifter was a man stretched out on the deck. We were told that it was captain Davis of the Falaba. He died immediately they got him on board.

Words fail me to describe the work of the captain and crew of the drifter, the "Eileen Emma." They saved ninety-five people, and at least one-third of these were picked up one by one out of the water.

One of the lifeboats had sustained serious damage, the bottom having been torn right out. The occupants of this, all men, had to sit on the gunwale. All were suffering more or less from exposure, and several of them slipped from the rail and disappeared through the hole in the bottom of the boat. When only a few remained, one of their number struck up the refrain of "Tipperary," and this was taken up by the others, serving as an incentive to perseverance and patience, until, at length they were rescued from their perilous position.

Four other trawlers came on the scene, and saved about forty more; but one hundred and ten of the passengers and crew were lost.

At last we started for Milford Haven. We were about eighty miles from Land's End, near the mouth of the English Channel at this time.

Captain Davis had managed to send out a wireless message; and in response a torpedo destroyer was sent to us. It met us when we had been steaming for three hours in the drifter. They took us all on board the destroyer and rushed us back to Milford Haven.

On the destroyer the wet people were made dry (none of the surviving ladies had been in the water), the cold people were made warm, and all were made as comfortable as possible. The captain was one of the most jovial and courteous men I have ever met. His officers and crew were equally kind.

At Milford Haven, which we reached about 10.30 p.m., all the Red Cross people were on duty, a hospital room was ready, and refreshments.

As there were so few ladies, we were taken to private houses. Mrs. Hyde and I went together to a very nice house, and glad we were to get into a nice warm bed; but I need hardly say, we neither of us slept much that night.

Next morning the Consul came and saw us. He took our [illegible] and we all went [illegible] to our respective homes.

We had wired as soon as we landed the night before; so our home people knew that we were safe before any news was published in the papers.

I got home about five p.m. on Monday, March 29th, to the great joy and thankfulness of all my family.

Of course, every passenger lost everything but what he or she was wearing, but I am sure no one thought of that at the time. We were all very grateful that our lives were spared.

Dr. Fox, another C.M.S. missionary, was saved; but Mr. Field has been called to a higher service.

I can truly say that I did not feel afraid at all, because I was borne up by Genesis xxviii: 15, which had come to me with peculiar force on the Thursday night I left home. It had been in my mind each day, and I was convinced that I should be brought safely back again to this land.

Thanks be to God for His great kindness and mercy.

Yours faithfully,

Now is the Time to Enter the Great International Trip Contest — Send in Your Name To-day and Get Started — "System" Should be the Watchword, Candidates Need Every Vote

To be a winner in any meritorious project that you go into you have to be systematic. Have a system arranged for your guidance, and the results will be multiplied. The rule applies to you candidacy in The Review Tour Campaign very aptly. First get a notebook and keep account of every subscription that has been promised you, and the date it has been promised.

Next write down the prospects you have of people who may be induced to help you, and don't forget your tradespeople.

Possibly your retail dealer may not know there is anything out there in the west and beyond the Rockies. Nevertheless, if you approach him properly you are bound to receive his subscription.

If your list of dealers is an extensive one, it might be well to mail or have delivered to each of them one of the letters which the Tour Department supplied you with. This will prove a time-saver, as after they have read them, all it will be necessary for you to do is to call and secure the subscription, the letter having acquainted them with the details of the plan.

Impress on them your prospects and how close the competition is liable to be in your district, how heartbreaking it would be if you were to lose the trip by one subscription. Ask him how he would feel if at the end of the contest he were to see that the subscription he refused to give you was the cause of your being deprived of the tour after all your efforts.

Isn't it a fact that if anyone from your district is going to win he would rather it would be a woman from his own town than some town a few miles away, which is determined on sending its candidate? If he has any local pride in his home town, now is his opportunity to show it.

Always keep in mind that there is a possibility of your losing the election to membership by just a few hundred votes.

Keep eternally at it, talking strong, earnest talks to each and every prospect you have listed, and success is yours.

The vigilant candidate does not overlook opportunities to secure the votes on every hand. It is not only the people within the radius of The Review's greatest circulation that will gladly help the candidates by giving them subscriptions for the asking. The Review goes everywhere and the votes count just as much as if the subscriptions be local.

Contest Bulletins.

The "Booster" schedule is now in effect. Three times as many votes now as at the close of the contest.

Let your motto be "Hustle, hustle, keep on hustling. Then hustle some more."

TEACHING OF THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MANUAL

The following has been handed in with the request for publication in the Review:

For the guidance of members of Christian Science, their Manual teaches that—

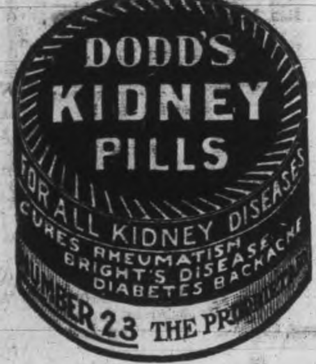
"They should daily watch and pray to be delivered from all evil, from prophesying, judging, condemning, counselling, influencing or being influenced erroneously."

Unreasonable criticism and complaint darken one's dawning sense of spirituality and stunt one's own growth in Christian advancement. The children of Israel were brought through the water on dry ground, but up to that time, although Moses proved to the people that God was leading them, they were afraid to take the next step because they could not see how God could lead them over that expanse of water. And when Moses would have cried unto the Lord because of all the doubt and fear, God said, "Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward." To stand still with a sense of lack and limitation does not give one a sense of progress, but rather just the opposite sense, and the complaint will be voiced that he is not making a demonstration over the false claims arising from lack of understanding.

Miriam and Aaron criticized Moses, who had risen to a higher plane of thought than they themselves had done, and they were punished for their sin and foolishness, but the whole congregation were at a stand still until this thought was healed, and no progress was made until the error was eliminated from the camp. This should teach us to avoid the mistake of criticizing and condemning others, who may possibly have risen to a higher plane of thought than that which we ourselves have attained. It is the complaining and limiting thought which leads one to criticize and thus bring himself and others into darkness.

There is no error that can withstand "the universal solvent of Love" (Science and Health, p. 242), and there can be no truly Christian Science service which has not this Love as the dominant theme.

We read in Science and Health (p. 455) that "God selects for the highest service one who has grown into such a fitness for it as renders any abuse of the mission an impossibility. The All wise does not bestow His highest trusts upon the unworthy. When he commissions a messenger, it is one who is spiritually near Himself."—Communicated.



THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Larger export business than has been done for some time helped today to bolster the price of wheat. After much wavering the market closed nervous at 1-2c off to 1-4c up compared with last night. Corn finished a shade to 1-4c lower, oats 1-4c down to a sixteenth advance and provisions varying from 5c to 7½c decline to a rise of 2½c to 5c.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

TORONTO, April 22.—Following prices were quoted on the market to-day:

Canadian western oats—No. 2, 71c; No. 3, 69c, bay ports.

Manitoba flour quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $8.20 in cotton and $8.11 in jute; strong bakers, $7.80 in cotton, $7.60 in jute.

Ontario oats—No. 2 white, 60c to 61c, outside; 64c to 65c, Toronto.

Buckwheat—70c to 72c.

Bran—Manitoba, $25 to $27, in bags, Toronto, and shorts, $29 to $30, Toronto; middlings, $31 to $33.

Rolled oats—$3.40 to $3.50 per bag.

Barley—Ontario No. 3, 73c to 75c, outside.

Manitoba wheat—Bay ports, No. 1 northern, $1.65; No. 2, $1.64; No. 3, $1.62, track, Goderich; winter storage, Goderich, ⅛c per bushel extra.

Corn—New, No. 3 yellow, 85¾c, Toronto freight, all rail; for opening of navigation, No. 2, 82¼c, c.i.f.; No. 3, 81¾c.

Ontario flour—$6.15 to $6.20, nominal, seaboard.

Peas—No. 2, $1.80.

Rye—No. 2, $1.12 to $1.14.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 22.—Wheat futures opened ⅝c lower to ⅜c higher, oats ⅛c higher and flax ⅛c to ½c lower. The final closing figures showed comparatively little change.

The demand for cash wheat was quiet, few buyers being on the market. Inspections Wednesday 177 cars, as against 196 cars last year, and in sight today were 229 cars.

Wheat futures closed ⅛c to ⅝c lower, oats ½c down and flax ⅝c to 1¾c lower.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 22.—There was a better demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat and sales of a few loads of No. 2 and No. 4 were made for nearby shipment, and some new crop American wheat for August-September. In sympathy with the lower prices ruling in the Winnipeg option market for oats, prices here for Canadian western grades declined 1c per bushel, but local oats were steady. The trade today was quiet, the demand being only for carlots to fill actual wants. A feature of the flour trade today was the stronger feeling in winter wheat grades, and prices were advanced 10c per barrel. Spring wheat flour is firm and the demand is steady for small lots. In millfeed a fair amount of business was done.

An easier feeling has developed in the butter market owing to the more liberal supplies coming forward, and lower prices are looked for in the near future. Eggs active and firm.

PLOT TO FREE CONVICTS

MONTREAL, April 23.—A plot to release 400 convicts at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary was unearthed in the course of the enquiry in the escape from his cell Sunday of Lucien Leclair, who attacked and injured two warders. Leclair, Ishmael Bourret, serving a life term in connection with the murder of a policeman, and two other long-term men, will appear in the police court to-day, charged with aiding in the revolt at the penitentiary.

Millbrook Lawn Bowlers Ready

The annual meeting of the Millbrook club was held in the council chamber Tuesday evening with Mr. John Dawson in the chair. Mr. Dawson said he had been highly honored by being elected president for two years, and now wished to retire from that position and give others a chance to step up. He had made good and the members would have re-elected him, but owing to his objections they decided not to. The folowing officers were then elected:

President—J. C. Kells.
Vice-President—R. Deyell.
Sec.-Treas.—G. W. Sayles.
Match Committee—S. E. Eakins, J. Steele and H. B. Allen.
Managing Committee — T. Miller, R. Deyell, T. Bradley; S. E. Eakins, J. Steele and W. S. Given.
Membership Committee — R. J. Doak and W. S. Given.

COMMENT As You Like it

JOE LALLY left for Cannington last evening after a short but very successful visit to Peterborough. He admits that baseball is rooted deep in the minds of the school boys of Peterborough, but he is hopeful of the youngsters chasing a lacrosse ball this summer also. The matter of getting the public schools to take the matter up was left with Dr. Sutton and Mr. G. A Carson. They will place it before a meeting of the executive of the Public School Baseball League. If a league is formed, the separate schools can be depended upon to be represented. In Rev. Father Phelan, rector of St. Peter's, the game has a very staunch supporter.

CADETS AND SHOOTING.

Three medals are to be given yearly by the Strathcona Trust for shooting competitions among school cadets in each county of Ontario. The competitions are as follows:—(a) The best score by public and separate school cadets; (b) the best score made by a cadet in high or continuation school; (c) the best score by a cadet who has left school, but who is not 18 years of age. Arrangements are to be made by the senior military officer of each county in co-operation with public school inspectors.

ARABS TURNING ON THE TURKS

Natives Are Harrassing Retreat of Turkish Forces

LONDON, April 23. — The following official communication was issued last eevning:

"The latest telegrams from the Persian Gulf show that the defeat of the Turks at Shaiba was even more complete than had been hoped. Not only have they abandored their motor cars and gun and ammunition wagons, but independent reports that show their retirement has been a rout molested by turncoat Arab tribesmen. There are persistent rumors of the suicide of Suliman Askeri, the Turkish commander-in-chief.

"It is estimated that the enemy's casualties from April 12 to 15 reached 6,000. The Turks in this direction are now all north of Khamieh, which is more than 90 miles from Basra."

France Will Care For Orphans.

PARIS, April 23.—It was decided yesterday by the Cabinet that children made orphans by the death in the war of their fathers should be cared for by the state. The Cabinet considered this matter at length yesterday and determined in principle that these orphans should be made public wards, to be maintained and educated according to a plan to be decided upon later.

Roumania's Price Refused.

COPENHAGEN, April 23. — (Via London.)—An Italian correspondent of The National Tidende sends to his newspaper an interview had at San Remo with a former Roumanian Minister. The Minister is quoted as having said that Roumania demanded certain cessions of territory from Austria in return for remaining neutral in the war, but that Austria refused to acquiesce.

MORALE SUPERIOR

Neuve Chapelle Had Lightening Effect on British Troops

LONDON, April 23. — The latest contribution to the account of events at the front by Eyewitness makes the claim that the morale of the British troops is now much superior to that of the enemy, which has noticeably weakened since the Neuve Chapelle fighting. The success in this fight, accepted as the commencement of the spring and summer's work, has resulted in a noticeable dropping off in the number of sick.

The troops are now supplied with many things to take the mind of the men off the serious side of the war. Chief of these is a general bathing system, which keeps down the vermin. Big rest depots are established at which band concerts, bagpipe competitions, moving pictures, vaudeville and boxing divert the men.

In addition, thousands of mouth-organs and penny whistles have been distributed and the soldiers are encouraged to stage football matches in their rest periods. The beneficial result is very marked, the Eyewitness' narrative says.

Making Liquid Explosive.

Gangs of men are at work night and day rushing to completion construction on the new building in which a Canadian company will manufacture Tulol, a liquid explosive, for which large contracts have been arranged with the Canadian Government. The agreement calls for the delivery of a minimum of six hundred gallons a day, which necessitates the installation of a plant of large capac- It is hoped the plant will be out the product by the middle nth. BRITAIN TO LIMIT HOURS

Prohibition Measure is not Likely

LONDON, April 23. — That the British Government does not intend to have recourse to prohibition in dealing with the drink question was inferred from Premier Asquith's statement in the House of Commons last evening, when he said that on Wednesday or Thursday next the Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd George, would bring forward proposals for "dealing with the limiting of facilities for drinking."

The Prime Minister's remark was generally interpreted as meaning that the hours during which drink would be obtainable in the public houses would be considerably curtailed throughout the country, and not merely in the areas where munitions of war are manufactured.

POLES STARVING

Seven Millions in Terrible Straits of Poverty

LONDON, April 23.—Seven million Poles, of whom two million are Jews, are in dire need of food. This statement was made yesterday by Hermann Landau, a prominent Jewish philanthropist associated with various Jewish charities in London.

"Of these sufferers 5,500,000 are east of the Vistula river and 1,500,000 west of the river," Mr. Landau said. "The Jews are even poorer than the Gentiles, because of the boycott against them.

"In parts of Poland evacuated by the Germans many Jews are living on potato peels and garbage left by the army. The Catholic population has been able to flee beyond Warsaw in much larger number than the Jews.

"Where relief is provided for the Poles the daily allowance to each person is only an amount equivalent to four cents, which is barely enough to keep the people alive in a country where prices are high. It is difficult to obtain food at any price."

GIROUARD PROMOTED.

Sir Percy Is Now a Temporary Major-General.

LONDON, April 23. — Sir Percy Girouard who was Wednesday gazetted temporary major-general, has resigned his directorship of the Armstrong-Whitworth armament firm.

Maj.-Gen. Sir Edouard Percy Cranwell Girouard, R.E., K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., was formerly governor and commander-in-chief of Northern Nigeria and was Kitchener's right-hand man in the Nile expedition which culminated at Khartoum. He was born at Montreal, Jan. 26, 1867. He was educated at the Royal Military College, Kingston, entered the British army in 1888, was promoted major in 1899, and served in the Dongola expeditionary force, for which he was awarded a D.S.O., the British medal, and the Khedive's medal, two clasps. He also served in the Nile expedition in 1897 and was mentioned in the despatches. In the South African War he became famous as a transport director.

Veteran Editor Dead.

CLINTON, April 23.—George Jerrald Potts, M.D., M.R.C.S., late of Belleville and Toronto, passed away here yesterday in his 80th year, at the residence of his son, Rev. Jerrald Potts. He was at one time editor of The Leader, the organ of the Conservative party in Sandfield Macdonald's time.

He saw considerable active service during the Anglo-French operations against China, and held the rank of surgeon-major in the American Civil War.

RIOTS IN TRIESTE

Women Smash Windows and Shout for Germany

ROME, April 23.—The Trieste (in Austria) riots are assuming a revolutionary character. Efforts to suppress the revolt have proved useless since the half-starved citizens, especially women whose children are condemned to a lingering death owing to lack of food, have been driven to despair and are practically fighting for their existence. Crowds of women, accompanied by their children, stoned the police, smashed the windows of Government buildings, clubs and hotels, wrecked and looted shops and openly shouted, "Long live Italy!"

One Ship Last Week.

LONDON, April 23.—The Official Press Bureau of the Admiralty last night announced that only one British merchantman had been sunk by German submarines during the week ending April 21.

There were 1,519 arrivals and sailings from British ports during the week, one fishing vessel being sunk.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Freight Shed, etc., at Belleville, Ont.," will be awarded at this office until 4.00 P.M., on Thursday, May 20, 1915, for the construction of a Freight Shed, Baggage and Waiting Rooms at the City of Belleville, Hastings County, Ont.

Plans and forms of contract can be seen and specifications and forms of tender obtained at this Department, and at the offices of the District Engineer at Confederation Life Building, Toronto, Ont., and on application to the Postmaster at Belleville, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the name of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

NOTE.—Blue prints can be obtained at the Department of Public Works by depositing an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $10.00, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, which will be returned if the intending bidder submit a regular bid.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

PLENTEOUS SHOWERS OF SHEETS AND TOWELS

Friends of Business Girls Rallied to Their Aid Cash Receipts of $20.37

Although the rain threatened to damper enthusiasm in the sheet and towel shower held last evening in the Y.W.C.A., the affair was eminently successful. The people turned out in numbers almost sufficient to fill the gymnasium and what was more important they brought their contributions of sheets and towels. Some eighty-seven towels were donated and sixty-three sheets and six wash cloths. The cash proceeds of the shower amounted to $20.37 so that taking everything into consideration there was little reason to feel that the shower was unsuccessful. A distinctly high class program was furnished by local talent.

The Business Girls' Club arranged everything themselves and the success and enterprise which attended their first big effort since their organization amply justifies the formation of the club.

Dr. Gallivan made a very suitable chairman for the affair while addresses of brief character by Dr. Frederick and Dr. Moir were along lines appropriate to the occasion.

Miss Loro Logan and Miss E. Palmer contributed violin selections and Mr. George Lynch gave some readings in his inimitable manner. Selections on the Victrola were also supplied during the evenings. The gymnasium was prettily hung with flags and pennants supplied free by Mr. J. J. Turner. Flowers and ferns were donated by the Peterborough Floral Company.

The club is indebted also to Mr. J. M. Greene, who has volunteered to see that the sheets and towels are hemmed wherever necessary, while Hetherington's will attend to all the laundering.

They are also grateful to Reid's Express for kindly conveying the articles to and from the building, and to Mr. Greene for use of Victrola.

The sheets and towels are to be put to excellent use and will be sent to one of the base hosuitals, which one they art definitely sure yet. The Business Girls' Club have patronized local merchants as far as possible in this undertaking but they regretted to see that the merchants or business men failed to put in an appearance last evening.

The Club desire to thank the Y.W.C.A. for use of gymnasium, also Miss Bates and Miss Peacock for their assistance.

Two of the members very ably filled the offices of Red Cross nurses.

The program complete was:

Piano solo — Miss Florence Graham.
Recitation—Mr. Lynch.
Vocal solo—Miss Florence Emmerson.
Recitation—Miss Georgie Mowat.
Violin duet—Misses Lora Logan and Edwina Palmer.
Speech—Dr. Moir.
Solo—Mr. Douglas Carlisle.
Speech—Dr. Frederick.
Piano solo—Miss Ruby Carr.

Have you tried the new song, Forward the Union Jack, on your piano?

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR LADIES' AID

The annual meeting of the ladies' aid of the Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. William Mullen, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Miss May Needham.
Vice-President—Mrs. J. L. Byam.
Secretary—Mrs. Fred Smith.
Asst. Sec'y—Mrs. A. L. Larmer.
Treasurer—Miss Mae Duncan.
Organist—Miss L. Pendry.

Eleven new members were added to the society during the year, which was one of the most successful since it was organized. There were 28 members at the annual meeting, which was exceptionally good.

Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Mullen proved herself an excellent hostess and all had a real pleasant and profitable time.

With the Movies

Two feature pictures were shown at the Empire last night, the management aiming to give patrons something good for their admission fee. Edward Abeles the comedian, was as funny as ever in the role of a rich young New Yorker who sought to end his life to benefit his ward that she might inherit his insurance money to replace her fortune which he was under the belief had been lost in a speculative investment. There is bushels of fun and comedy in this picture and it drew a large house last night despite unfavorable weather.

Laura Sawyer, in the role of detective was seen in a three reel story full of thrills. The plot which she unravels is a unique one and her masterful vindication of the innocent prisoner who was held on a charge of murder was ably portrayed.

Patrons of the Tiz-It theatre who were disappointed at not seeing the big feature film special "Trey of Hearts" last week will be pleased to learn that they can do so today and tomorrow. The trouble was that this film was in the fire which occurred at the Toronto offices of the Universal Film Company a week ago Sunday. To testify to this Mr. Clayton has at the box office the scorched tag which was upon the film ready for shipment. However arrangements were made whereby they secured another film of the picture which is being shown today.

OBITUARY

DR. GEO. J. POTTS.

The death occurred yesterday at Clinton, Ont., of Dr. George Jerrald Potts, M. D., M.R.C.S., in his 80th year. Dr. Potts was for some time editor of the Toronto Daily Leader, the organ of the Conservative party in the days of the Sandfield MacDonald ministry. At one time he was coroner of Victoria, Northumberland and Durham counties, and later of Peterborough county. He was an extensive traveller and was a Freemason of high degree. The funeral will be held in Toronto on Monday.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

STOREY—JOBIN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Sacred Heart Church, King street east, Toronto, on Thursday, April 22nd, when Miss Elizabeth Marie Jobin, eldest daughter of Mrs. Jobin and the late Felix Jobin, became the charming bride of Mr. Joseph M. Storey, third son of Mr. John and Mrs. Annie Storey, Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father L. Marche.

The groom is a former Peterborough boy, and has a host of friends who will wish him every happiness.

Miss Ada Richardson took part in a choir concert at Barrie and the newspaper report had the following: Miss Ada Richardson's numbers were the aria "Si Lo Senti" from Faust by Spohr; "With Verdure Clad" (Hayden), and a suite, "A Sheaf of Memories," and "Birthday," in all of which she displayed the rapid advances she has made since she left Barrie. Miss Richardson has already received great praise on her appearance in Toronto, and she is a great favorite in Peterborough.

Miss Ida Black and Miss Muriel Smith, who went to Nicholls Hospital with several other Y. W. C. A. boarders a few weeks ago with typhoid fever, have sufficiently convalesced to leave the hospital. Miss Black is recuperating at Bridgenorth. According to information received from the hospital, all the other young ladies are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Craig, 116 E. Hunter St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hazel Viola Craig, to Dr. J. Neelands Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Smith of Toronto.

Corp. G. Harris, 195 Park street, of the 8th C. M. R., who has been home on leave, returned to Ottawa on Thursday.

Horses.

Gray horses are the longest lived and cream colored ones the most affected by temperature changes.

Pour a teaspoonful of any kind of perfume in your ink. It will give your letters a fine odor.

Socks for Soldiers.

A large box was sent yesterday by the Canadian Kitchener League to the boys overseas, containing 152 pairs of home-knitted socks and a quantity of handkerchiefs, stationery, re[illegible] matter, pepermint and salve. Since this league has been organized it has sent 1,417 pairs of socks to our boys, and the league is very grateful for any help which has been rendered.

CANADIANS RECAPTURE GUNS AND TAKE PRISONERS

War Office Statement Says Their Gallantry and Determination Undoubtedly Saved the Situation --- Conduct Has Been Magnificent Throughout

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 24. — The War Office has given out the following: "The fight for the ground into which the Germans penetrated between Steenstraate and Langemarck, still continues. Loss of this part of the line laid bare the left of the Canadian division, which was forced to fall back in order to keep in touch with the right of neighboring troops.

In the rear of the latter there had been four Canadian 4-7 inch guns, which thus passed into the enemy's hands, but some hours later the Canadians made a most brilliant and successful advance, recapturing these guns and taking a considerable number of German prisoners, including a colonel.

The Canadians had many casualties, but their gallantry and determination undoubtedly saved the situation.

Their conduct has been magnificent throughout.

CANNOT GIVE NAMES OF REGIMENTS.

OTTAWA, April 24. — Militia headquarters authorities state they have no means of telling what Canadian regiments were involved in the fighting of Thursday and Friday in France. Information as to the disposition of troops has not been officially communicated to Canada.

PARIS, April 24. — Asphyxiating bombs, used by the Germans in their attack near Ypres on Thursday, were thrown at numerous points along a front of three miles, according to information brought to Paris. The contents of these missiles was largely chloride mixed with other chemicals. Germans threw these bombs when the wind was blowing from them in the direction of the French trenches. The fumes caused uncomfortable breathing and a smarting of the eyes at a distance of nearly two miles behind the trenches, and they were so powerful that the Germans had to wait a considerable time before they could occupy the evacuated trenches.

During this delay, French troops, recovered from the effects of fumes, delivered a counter attack and regained most of the ground lost.

The Germans' supply of chloride bombs apparently had been used up in their first advance. They had no more to throw, and they gave way before a resolute bayonet charge of the French.

The bombs are thrown by means of a hand-sling such as boys use for throwing stones.

STOLEN WIRE IS RECOVERED

Was Taken From the C.P.R. Freight Sheds

Eight hundred pounds of wire which was stolen from the C. P. R. freight sheds some time ago in a most mysterious manner, has been located in Kingston by detectives. Railroad detectives, when apprised of the theft here, set out on a search throughout the province, with the result that it was discovered at a junk firm's premises named Susman and Cohen in Kingston. It was bought by them in the regular way from a Peterborough firm, which has been discovered to be Abraham Low & Co., who bought it in good faith from a C. P. R. lineman who worked here and who is alleged to have been implicated in the disappearance of the wire from the local C. P. R. sheds.

The metal is being returned here, and the case will come up in Police Court, it is understood, very shortly.

WAS AFRAID OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Antonia Mascard Complains in Police Court

Mrs. Antonio Mascaro was complainant in Police Court this morning against her husband because she was afraid of her life to live with him any longer. Mascaro was not an inviting looking character and his actions in court left no doubt that the assertion that he was insane was absolutely correct. He has been out on parole from the asylum, but his actions have not been such as to show that he is by any means sane. Mrs. Mascaro declared that he had threatened to kill her with a knife and that he abused her. He often woke her up in the middle of the night and started talking wildly when she wanted to sleep. The boarders in the house were subjected to great annoyance by his conduct. As Mrs. Mascaro could not talk English very well, the defendant was remanded till Monday, when an interpreter will be on hand.

CREW RESCUED

When Freighter Was Sunk by Germans

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, April 24.—The freighter Ruth was sunk by a German submarine on Wednesday when about 100 miles east of May Island in the North Sea.

The crew was rescued and landed at Leith, Scotland.

SEVERE INJURY

Thos. Brooks Hurt [illegible] St. Railway Operations

Thos. Brooks, an employee on the street railway work on Charlotte St., met with a painful injury yesterday when he was struck on the side of the face wth a crowbar. Men were moving a rail when the crowbar held by Brooks sprung against his face.

It is not known yet how serious the injury is. Dr. Mann is attending the victim, who resides at 285 Rubidge street.

BRITISH PRISONERS AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 24. — Six officers and nineteen men of a British submarine were brought here yesterday being the first British prisoners to arrive here.

CAIRO, April 24. — The young Egyptian merchant, Khalil, who attempted to assassinate the Sultan of Egypt on April 8th, was hanged today.

IS HONORED BY BOARD OF TRADE

Toronto, April 24.—At the meeting of the Hamilton Board of Trade, special honor was conferred upon Mr. William McIlroy, the newly appointed city passenger agent for C. P. R. at Toronto, who tendered his resignation as a member of the executive and chairman of the entertainment committee.

As a result of his good work, Mr. McIlroy will have the distinction of being the only honorary member connected with the organization.

H. L. Frost in moving a resolution, eulogized the valuable services rendered to the Board by Mr. McIlroy and while they were sorry to lose him as city passenger agent, at Hamilton, of so great an organization as the Canadian Pacific they wish him every success in his new field of labor.

ARRESTED IN WEST

Local Police Will Bring Young Man Here

Harold Williamson, a young man who lived in the township of Smith, has been arrested in the West and taken to Moosejaw jail, there to await an officer who will be sent from Peterborough to bring him back. Williamson is wanted for an alleged criminal offence against a young girl.

A telegram has been received by the local police to the effect that Williamson was arrested and taken to the Moosejaw jail by the mounted police, and asking the chief to wire when sending for him.

WATER IS RISING IN THE OTONABEE

But it is Not Due to the Dam at Hastings

The water is rising in the river espesially between the locks. It has been supposed that this rise was due to the dam at Hastings but as a matter fact the dam at Hastings is kept at eight feet approximately all the time.

The rise at this season is often four or five feet higher than it is at Rice Lake which is due to the fact that the river is not big enough to discharge the big rise without flooding.

Hear Libel Charge in a Higher Court

Chief Thompson's libel action [illegible] will be tried in a high court, as a result of the decision of Police Magistrate Dumble, in Police Court yesterday afternoon.

Chief Thompson was the chief witness. He admitted that complaints of immoral conduct at the roller rink had been made to him by citizens.

Conviction had followed in some cases of disorderly conduct.

He said he had never been able to secure evidence of immoral conduct in the rink. Special officers had been detailed to watch the place and he himself had visited the rink.

He had not consulted with others as to whether or not action should be taken.

CONTRACT COMPLETED.

Contractor Jas. Bogue this week completed his contract of building the new post office at Lakefield. The interior fittings and clock will be placed in position in a short time.

STIMULATE TRADE TOWARD THIS CITY.

In an effort to stimulate trade in the direction of Peterborough, the merchants of the city are arranging for a special week from May 17 to 22, when they will return to out of town buyers, the amount of their return fare, according to the purchases made. Special prices on all lines of goods will be offered.

Further announcement by the merchants will appear in The Review.

PART OF GROUND LOST BY FRENCH NOW REGAINED

Situation Consolidated and Fighting Continues Under Good Conditions

ATTACK REPULSED

Germans Are Stopped and Enemy Suffers Heavy Losses

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 24. — This afternoon's official statement:—"Supplementary reports furnish fuller particulars of the way the Germans succeeded in forcing our lines back during Thursday evening to the north of Ypres between the Yser canal and Boelipelle road. Thick, yellow smoke emitted from German trenches and driven by northerly winds produced the effect of complete asphyxiation among our troops, which was felt even in our second line positions.

Counter attacks made yesterday already have enabled us to regain part of the lost ground. Our situation has been completely consolidated and our action is being carried out under good conditions with the support of British and Belgian troops.

"The enemy made an attack at Les Eparges and another at Lowes Head in the forest of Apremont, both of which were repulsed.

"A German attack to the south of the forest of Parroy and further attacks on Rechacterkopf were stopped by our fire.

"The enemy suffered heavy losses."

SAILORS MUST KEEP MUM

Say Nothing of There Whereabouts With Italian Fleet

SWOBODA ADMITS HE IS GERMAN SUBJECT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Paris, April 24.—Swiss newspapers say sailors in Italian fleet at Taranto are forbidden to mention in letters either where they are or where they are going.

The Matin says [illegible] Swoboda, alias Raymond Schwind, now admits he is a German subject and that he served a prison term of two years on a sentence by the German Consular court at Shanghai.

Former foreign minister Gabriel Hanotaux had a conference yesterday at Rome with the Italian foreign minister. Hanotaux has been at Rome for some time.

German families in Italy are crossing the frontier into Switzerland in increasing numbers.

Finnish Vessel is Torpedoed

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Stockholm, April 24.—The Finnish steamer Frack has been torpedoed and sunk in the Baltic by a German submarine. It is believed the members of the crew were saved. The Frack carried a cargo of iron ore and was on the way to Abo, Finland.

REV. JOHN D. McEWEN.

DO NOT WANT AN ELECTION

Toronto Meeting Wants Truce During the Course of the War

Toronto, April 24. — "Resolved, that in the opinion of this meeting there should be no election in Canada before the close of the year 1915 unless the war is previously ended, in order that in the meantime the government may have the support of the entire nation and may give its undivided attention to helping to bring the struggle to a successful conclusion.

"And be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the prime minister and the leader of the opposition.

"And this meeting further is of the opinion that this involves on the part of the opposition an attitude of friendly co-operation in the present crisis."

In the above terms, an assemblage of two hundred people convened in Burwash Hall last night with Prof. G. M. Wrong as chairman, expressed its sentiments. The resolution as originally put, however, mentioned only the prime minister as the one on whom the pressure should be brought.

The insertion of the name of the leader of the opposition and the addition of the last paragraph admonishing the Liberals to show a spirit of "friendly co-operation" were heard, said some people seemed to think that the crisis in the war had been passed, but its bitterest days were yet before us. And at this time, when the great crisis was near, he made after a speech by Rev. E. C. Cayley, who pointed out that it was not the duty of the government alone, but of both parties "to play the game, and see the war through with success.

Want No Party Strife.

The hall was about half filled by an audience which applauded freely whenever a good point was made against election suggestions. Among those who spoke were Chancellor Bowles, Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, A. E. Ames, Rev. C. E. Cayley, Rhys D. Fairbairn and Prof. Wrong. A second resolution calling upon people in other places to "voice the instinctive feeling of revulsion against the untimely stirring up of party strife" was moved by Mr. Fairbairn and carried.

Strong sentiments deploring the possibility of an early electoral contest constituted the burden of all the addresses made.

AUTO TRUCKS IN ARMOURY

Supposed to be Ready for Shipment to Russia

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

BUFFALO, April 24. — The fact that the basement of the Sixty-fifth Regiment Armory here is being used to store armored automobile trucks bearing marks indicating that they are to be shipped to Russia, was brought to the attention of Brigadier General Welch last night. He declined to say whether or not he would take official cognizance of the situation.

Col. Babcock, commander of the regiment, said that a local firm applied ten days ago for storage space for automobile trucks. The application was granted under a provision of the state military law.

Col. Babcock said he did not know the trucks were armored machines nor that they were destined for one of the warring nations. The fact that they are so marked, he said, would not cause him to cancel the permit.

FOE HOPES TO TAKE YPRES

Picked Troops Transported to Flanders for This Movement

CRITICAL MOMEMT HAS ARRIVED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 24. — The Daily Mail says the critical moment has arrived. The immediate object of the Germans is the capture of Ypres, which they regard as the key to Calais. For this movement picked troops have been transported to the Flanders front.

The German capture of four heavy guns shows they must have advanced two or three miles, as such guns are never placed near the front.

Germans are still bringing up large reinforcements and have probably half a million men available, without drawing upon the eastern front.

SERIES OF ENGAGEMENTS IN PROGRESS

LONDON, April 24. — Over an arc-like front in Belgian Flanders, which is roughly ten miles long from the region of Bixschoote in the north to St. Eloi, in the south, French, British and Belgian troops are locked with the Germans today in a series of engagements which recall the fighting of last October.

Driven from Hill Number Sixty to the south of Ypres, and failing to retake it by a counter attack, the Germans launched a sudden advance northeast of the town, and after stupifying and killing men in the first trenches with deadly gases, according to British official reports, they drove a wedge of infantry forward, forcing the French and Belgians back toward, and at some points apparently across, the canal, a manoeuvre which at the same time compelled the British line north of Ypres to fall back to conform with the French.

Although the advance of the Germans was considerable, extending, according to Berlin despatches, over a front of five miles, the Allies immediately initiated a counter attack, the result of which was to compel the Germans to give up some of the ground they had taken, and force them in a northeasterly direction toward Langemarck, from which place the attack started.

By this time the British are presumably strengthened and have consolidated their positon of Hill Number Sixty.

The hardest fighting consequently is expected north of Ypres.

LONDON, April 24. — The Admiralty is sending letters of thanks, written on vellum, to officers and men who distinguished themselves in naval engagements, and six officers concerned in the sinking of German submarines have received such letters.

This announcement incidentally reveals the fact that sumarine U-12 was sunk off Forth.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK ON BRAZIL

Rev. J. D. McEwen Spent Fourteen Years There

Rev. John D. McEwen, the noted missionary of Brazil, is in the city today and tomorrow morning will occupy the pulpit of Wnox Church and in the evening, that of St. Paul's. He speaks on Brazil and as he spent fourteen yearst in that country he speaks authoritatively on the country of which we know so little. In the state of Bahia, Rev. Mr. McEwen established a school and through it, reached many natives. It was directed by Mrs. McEwen who was called to her reward in 1912. A few months later their eldest daughter was also called away. This year the death occurred of Mr. J. H. Butler, from Campbell Morgan's Church, Westminster. He had splendidly co-operated with Rev. Mr. McEwen for eight years.

The wife and daughter of the missionary were victims to illness contracted from the natives while Mr. Butler's death was caused by lung trouble.

Rev. Mr. McEwen returned about a year and a half ago and has since been travelling this country telling of Brazil. He has also written a book known as "Glimpses of South America and Experiences There." This book is to be found in all bookstores and has had a large sale. In regards to it Hon. Sir G. E. Foster has said, "I wish all Canada would read it, for we know little about about a country, the knowledge of which would be of mutual benefit to us both."

TO ASSIST SUPERVISED PLAYGROUNDS

Committee of Men is Formed to Help Along the Movement

On Friday afternoon, April 23rd, a number of the men of the city met the sub-executive of the Local Council of Women to discuss the matter of supervised playgrounds.

Mrs. Neal, President of the Local Council, spoke for a few minutes, then called upon Mr. Carson, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., to explain the activities of a supervised playground, the equipment required, and the necessary supervision. Much interest was shown by the men present, in the plans outlined by the members of the Local Council of Women, and the movement to establish a supervised playground, is assured of hearty sympathy from the men of the city.

A small committee, to assist the Supervised Playgrounds Committee in any way possible, was at once formed. Its members are Mayor Butler, ex-Alderman Johnson, Mr. Crane, Mr. [illegible], Mr. Downie, Dr. Cameron. This committee assured the playgrounds committee of their hearty desire to be of use in any capacity. The co-operation of the men of the city, in making Mothers' Day a success, for the sake of the mothers and children, is earnestly requested.

BERLIN OFFICIAL STATEMENT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

BERLIN, April 24. — Today's official statement.) — An attack made by the enemy to reconquer lost territory to the north and northeast of Ypres failed.

French and British attacks broke down under German fire.

The number of prisoners, French, British and Belgian, rose to 2,470.

Pieces of cannon captured up to the present total thirty-five.

In addition, a large number of machine guns and rifles and much ammunition and other war material were taken by the Germans.

WASHINGTON, April 24. — The German embassy announced today that it had information "from a reliable source" that a British battleship was severely damaged in the last Zeppelin attack over the Tyne.

PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1915

IS IT THE EXAMPLE?

A YOUNG MAN, twenty years old, has just been sentenced to one year in the Ontario Reformatory for stealing $1,010.00 from the Union Bank. In the course of the trial it was stated there was no proper check on his cash and it was a great temptation for a boy earning from $11 to $13 a week to have thousands of dollars in his charge. He had taken $5 or $10 at first, and this led to further peculations, so that he became hopelessly involved.

The reports of the case are very meagre in details. It is not stated what led him to appropriate other people's money. It may have been one or more of a number of causes. It may have been the fault of the checking system of the bank in question; it may have been a lack of proper home training. But, whatever caused him to act wrongly, his punishment is in the usual contrast with those higher up who are guilty of much the same thing. Those who took money from the Government to which they were not entitled are still at large and still moving in select society. Hon. Frank Oliver, Messrs. Garland and Foster, have no such punishment meted out to them. But it is not punishment that is the important point here. It is the example. When men holding places of honour, and who are singled out to be leaders of the people, are not averse to stooping to such acts, as recent disclosures have maintained, it is not surprising that in humbler paths honesty is found wanting or waylaid.

TIME WILL TELL.

IT IS STATED that Henry Ford has made another increase in the wages of his employees. When he has gone on raising wages and reducing the price of his automobiles continuously for twenty years, he will have earned a real title to fame. Early in the last century, Robert Owen made a name for himself as a social reformer and as a successful manager of the Lanark Mills. Prosperity and public benefits went hand in hand for a considerable time, but eventually Owen's plans failed. He did accomplish certain beneficial things of a permanent character, but these were the indirect results of his policy. What he immediately aimed at was not a success. Henry Ford is making a very interesting experiment. That is all it is now. The passage of time will show what is permanent in his policy.

GERMANY'S UNHAPPY ALLIES.

ONE OF Punch's cartoons depicts a battered and bedraggled Turk limping toward a German sentry, says the New York Herald. "Who goes there?" challenges the sentry. The answer, evidently from the bottom of the battered one's heart is: "A friend—curse you!" The sentiment is one that will become prevalent through Turkey when it becomes generally known that David Bey's visit to Berlin, where Bey went in search of financial and military aid, has been unsuccessful. There are indications that in Austria-Hungary also the German challenges soon may be met by the same "A friend—curse you!" response. Austria-Hungary is beginning to understand that if sacrifices are to be made, Germany expects its allies to make them.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IMPROVING.

WITH the outbreak of war last August, business went to the bad, so to speak. Canada was due for what is called a tight spell, but the war aggravated conditions to a considerable degree. Then, as the people settled down to a state of war that they found was not much different from a state of peace, confidence has been slowly returning. While we have been gathering an army and following the battles as well as we could, Canadians have been going about their work and meeting their difficulties as well as they were able. The contracts for large supplies of munitions of war have greatly stimulated trade. The prospects for a big harvest this year have given the future a hopeful appearance, so that conditions of business have greatly improved, and are likely to continue so long as the British navy is as dominant as it is. In this respect, the Montreal News says:

"In what manner this interest was aroused is a secondary consideration. It is enough that unmistakable indications of awakened public participation in stock trading is proof of restored confidence. The effect of recent market developments on general business is bound to be far-reaching. Merchants in all lines of business and also their customers, will find in the upward movement of prices in the stock market reason and justification for a more hopeful view of the outlook. The stock market is recognized as a usually trustworthy barometer of general business conditions. And the market discounts a revival of activity and return of prosperity in advance just as it usually gives the first indication of coming depression.

"Even more noteworthy than the upward movement in prices has been the really wonderful increase in stock market activity. In New York there have been no less than six 'million share' days in less than two weeks. Yesterday no less than 1,480,000 shares of stock changed hands. The significance of these figures can be realized more fully when it is known that in 1912, 1913 and 1914, inclusive, there were only seven days on which as many as a million shares were traded in.

"From a merely nominal trade a few weeks ago, almost entirely professional in character, the volume of business transacted suddenly expanded until during the past two weeks market history has been made. As it happened, the re-opening of the local Stock Exchange for floor trading came just a few days before the first 'million share' day in New York. As a result, everything has been in favour of an active market and an advance in prices here.

"Those who follow the trend of the market day by day know how remarkable the movement of prices here has been. Many stocks which three weeks ago could not be sold at the established minimum price are today selling five, ten and even twenty points above that level. There is no need here for investigation of the merits of the various stocks which have been the centre of interest. Whether in all cases the rapid advances are justified by conditions affecting the individual companies is important to those who are buying or selling stocks, but to the public at large the most important fact is that the revival of confidence has been so marked that sufficient buying power has developed to raise prices to such an extent.

"The public is 'in the market.' The conclusion that optimism is spreading through the land is inevitable."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SIR IAN HAMILTON, commander of the Fourth British Army, gained his first military experience in 1872, says an exchange. He was shortly afterwards given a commission in the Gordon Highlanders. He fought through the Afghan Campaign in 1878-80 and in the first Boer war of 1881, where he was severely wounded. He also took part in the Soudan Campaign, the Burmah Expedition, where he was promoted, and the Tirah Expedition, where he commanded the Third Brigade. Sir Ian won further honours and promotion in the South African war, being knighted and made chief-of-staff to Earl Kitchener. At the outbreak of the present war he was appointed to the command of the Home Army.

"HE KNOWS not fear." This is the tribute of Sir John French to the Canadian soldier, according to a letter received from an officer with one of the base hospitals. The letter says that General French has taken Canadians close to his heart because of the spirit they have shown. He believes they show remarkable intuition as to the plans of their officers and a certain individuality that makes them better soldiers than the average.

DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT, the distinguished ex-president of Harvard, defends English against German efficiency. The unequalled achievements of English efficiency, which include adventure, trading, the charting of the seas, colonization, and, perhaps greatest of all, the spread of free institutions, are the product of individual liberty. It is not improbable that the war will discredit German efficiency in the English-speaking countries.

Opinions From Other Newspapers

A Contrast.

(Le Temps, Ottawa.)

The whole country will admire the noble conduct of Sir R. L. Borden, who, on the eve of the close of the session, acted in a manner hitherto unknown in our political annals. From his seat the Prime Minister, when the eyes of the nation were fixed on him, banished from the Conservative party two members whose conduct he could not sanction. At the same time he gave notice to all the prevaricators that they would be taken before the courts to render an account of their acts. In spite of all political protests, the Premier also declared that the fullest light would be turned on everything where there was matter for suspicion. Doesn't this recall the noble gesture of Sir Lomer Gouin in refusing the continuation of the Mousseau enquete under the pretext of protecting the dignity of members? Sir Robert Borden thinks the country has no need of members who need such means to protect their liberty.

Unparalleled in History.

(Vancouver World.)

After eight months of war, the oceans are absolutely clear for the shipping of the Allies, while that of our opponents has been swept from the Seven Seas. Never in all the history of warfare has such a result been accomplished by Great Britain or any other power, when engaged with a first-class opponent. For ten years following the battle of Trafalgar, British ships were captured by French raiders all over the world. Today much less than ten months after the declaration of war, the German flag, except when carried by piratical submarines, has disappeared from the face of the waters, and the white ensign floats unchallenged over the waves. Not by Germany, and not for many a long year will another attempt be made to snatch the trident from Britannia's hands.

Doing Their Duty.

(St. John Globe.)

Sixty-three of last year's graduates in science at McGill University and 111 of this year's students in the same faculty, have enlisted for foreign service. Other departments at McGill show a similar proportion, about one-third of the enrollment enlisting, a ratio that is probably fairly representative of Canadian colleges, large and small. Many of these students are in the ranks and will prove among the best of the Empire's soldiers.

Shall Not Recur.

(Pall Mall Gazette.)

Germany has convinced those who were most averse to strong views that she is an inveterate enemy of all that makes the world tolerable to mankind. It is not only that she denies the right of political liberty to other races, but she repudiates all the ideals that point humanity upwards from the base and bestial. No consideration for a world's peace and no compunction for the suffering entailed by an avoidable war is allowed to restrain her own ruthless ambition. This is the fourth time in living memory that the Prussian clique who dominate Germany have deliberately created war for their own profit. Even if the effort should leave us in gasping exhaustion, we are resolved to make it impossible that they should ever do the like again.

German Steamer Sunk.

LIMA, Peru, April 24. — A despatch to La Prenza last night states that the British steamer Orcoma has sunk a German merchant steamship near Bayovar. It is also stated that the British cruisers Kent and Orama have received coal from the British steamer Eggesford at the port of Bayovar.

The last report received from the Orcoma was to the effect that she had arrived in Liverpool Feb. 16 from Valparaiso. It is possible that since then she has been armed and sent back to South American waters.

Would Improve French River.

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 24.—At a meeting of the various Boards of Trade of Timiskaming and Northern Ontario, held Thursday evening, a resolution was forwarded to Hon. Frank Cochrane to have engineers investigate the feasibility and possibility of successfully improving the French river at a reasonable cost and to have the balance of the $500,000 to be expended used in the interest of this undertaking as soon as possible.

SICKLY CHILDREN PROMPTLY CURED

Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine for little ones. They regulate the bowels and stomach and promptly cure constipation, indigestion, cold and simple fevers, expel worms, cure colic and give baby health and happiness. Roumania Makes Formal Demand.

NEW YORK, April 24. — From Rome, April 23.—The correspondent of The New York Sun has learned that Roumania has made formal demands upon Austria for territorial concessions within a reasonably short time.

The time limit, however, is said not to be fixed. Roumania's action is of the greatest significance, as it is obviously inspired by Italy following out the terms of the Italo-Roumanian defensive alliance contemplating simultaneous intervention for the realization of the aspirations of both countries.

Life Insurance in a Crisis

Every time a great Crisis occurs LIFE INSURANCE has an opportunity to show what a giant of strength it is. Tremendous burdens are placed upon its shoulders, but it never shirks, never hesitates or groans.

When the Titanic took its awful plunge, carrying 1,500 human souls into the deep, thousands of widows and orphans were left throughout the world. LIFE INSURANCE accepted the burden without the quiver of a muscle, and spread its protection around the Globe.

When seven years ago the financial world was laboring under an attack of indigestion due to undigested securities, and people could not [illegible] Banks, LIFE INSURANCE furnished spot cash to its policyholders upon application.

Today, when a gigantic struggle wages across the Seas, and it is difficult to get loans from banks or money lenders, they find the solution again in LIFE INSURANCE.

It is today saving thousands of men all over the world, not only embarrassment, but actual failure.

LIFE INSURANCE protects your wife and family.
" " will meet their needs when you are gone.
" " is always a resource.
" " contributes to your estate.
" " increases your savings.
" " increases the savings habit.

Money invested in LIFE INSURANCE is sure to come back to you or your family.

Your credit is made better by the amount of LIFE INSURANCE you carry.

The need of LIFE INSURANCE to every man with a family is as fixed as the daily need for bread, and that need is well met by a policy in

FORTY-FIVE SCHOOLS TO PLANT POTATOES

Local representatives McRae and McDowell, of the Department of Agriculture, have a large program before them for the summer months in connection with the rural school course in agriculture. The work is to be taken up in 45 schools in Peterborough county, and about one thousand pupils will be engaged. The potato war plot idea is meeting with much favor, and about 400 children will grow plots of potatoes this summer. The rural school course in agriculture has rapidly spread over the province, and it is gratifying to note that our county is not behind in this movement. Three years ago the course was started in Peterborough county with only eight schools, and now forty-five schools are enrolled.—Norwood Register.

WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY

"Fruit-a-tives" Have Proved Their Value In Thousands of Cases

WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE

Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood.

Many people do not realize that the Skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body. As a matter of fact, the Skin rids the system of more Urea (or waste matter) than the Kidneys. When there is Kidney Trouble, Pain In The Back and Acrid Urine, it may not be the fault of the kidneys at all, but be due to faulty Skin Action, or Constipation of the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore, aching Kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

PLENTY OF EGGS AND BUTTER

Falling off in Offering on Outside Market

Just now is the season when the market begins to attract fewer farmers. It is a kind of between-season, when last season's produce is nearly sold out and when this season's is not ready. This is not the case with butter or eggs or fowl, but with nearly all other commodities. It was illustrated upon today's market, especially on the outside, which was pretty slim. Most of the business was transacted in the market hall, eggs and butter being bought up quickly. A drop of two and three cents was noted in butter since last Saturday. Eggs remained at the same figure as last week.

Meat was a scarce article, nothing but a little pork and some beef being offered. Potatoes were fairly plentiful. The price list was as follows:

Potatoes, per bag	$ .50	$ .60
Apples, per peck	.20	.30
Onions, per peck	.30	.35
Parsnips, per bag		.75

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 23.—The wheat market was strong from the start this morning. Oats were also higher, while flax was lower. Wheat futures opened ½c to 1⅜c advance, oats ⅛c to ½c higher, and flax [illegible] down. The cash situation was improved for wheat, while oats, barley and flax were practically at a standstill.

Wheat futures closed 2⅛c to 2½c higher, cash 2⅝c to 2⅞c higher, oats ¼c to ½c up, and flax ¾c lower on all months. At the high point, May was but ⅛c under the high prices of the season.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 23.—The demand from foreign buyers for wheat today was good, especially so for new crop American winter wheat, and as cables for such were stronger at an advance of 3d to 4 1-2d per quarter a fair amount of business was worked for August-September shipment from this port, and in consequence of which engagements of thirty loads of ocean grain room were made, for which as high as 8s 9d was paid in London for the above shipment. There was also a fair enquiry for Manitoba wheat, but the bids were all from 2c to 4c per bushel out of line. The local trade in coarse grains was quiet with no further change in prices to note. The tone of the flour market is strong with a moderate amount of business passing for local account, but the export trade is quiet. Demand for millfeed is fair.

On more liberal receipts of butter a weaker feeling has developed in the market and prices have declined 1-2c per pound with only a limited demand. Cheese is also weaker in sympathy with the lower prices ruling in the country, and prices have declined 1c per pound.

Demand for eggs is fair.

CHEESE MARKETS.

NAPANEE, Ont., April 23.—Cheese boarded, 40 white and 170 colored; all sold at 16c and 16⅛c.

PICTON, Ont., April 23.—At the first meeting of the local cheese board today, 20 white and 150 colored were boarded; 130 sold at 16 7-16c, and 40 at 16½c.

BROCKVILLE, April 23.—At a special meeting of the cheese board, 426 white and 480 boxes of colored were boarded. The highest bid of 16c was refused, and no sales resulted. Board adjourned until May 6.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine for several months without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, years since your watch was cleaned or oiled. Though it cannot even squeak its protest, it is slowly but nevertheless surely, wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders, as well as add years to its usefulness. Bring it in.

You Must Break The "Family Group" When It Comes To Music

EACH one's taste is individual—his own—and different. No one, not even a genius—could suit you all. And yet every one in the family loves music and regrets the silent piano none can master. The

New Scale Williams Player Piano

With the "Meister-Touch—most human of all."

spans the "Great Divide" between you and music. It enables you to play as though yours were the most perfectly trained fingers in the world. The intricacies of MacDowell's harmonics—the crashing chords of Liszt's stupendous Rhapsodies—the brilliant two steps or the dream-like waltzes of Strauss; all roll from under your fingers without effort or fault. You play what you love most—in the way that suits you best. And so does everyone else in the family. The New Scale Williams Player Piano combines the technical ability of the world's greatest musicians with the opportunity for your own individual interpretation. Write for our Player Piano Book and the personally autographed letters of the renowned artists who use the New Scale Williams Piano. Both gladly sent on request. 4D

Strong Russian Column Enters Germany Near Memel

PETROGRAD, April 24.—A strong column of Russian cavalry has again entered East Prussia near Memel and continues to threaten the German left flank.

Our position in the south is entirely satisfactory, and it is possible the Russians will continue to repulse the enemy's counter-attacks south of the Carpathians, and that the main movement will develop elsewhere.

Early spring fighting in Poland and Galicia has narrowed down to local engagements, according to the Russian War Office, which say that nothing of great consequence has happened during the day and the position remains unchanged." In the Carpathians, however, the Russian forces have made a successful advance in the direction of Lutovisk, in the Carpathians, capturing a portion of the trenches held by the Germans and Austrians on Hill No. 1001, to the northeast of Lubnia, and taking prisoner seven officers and over 200 men. Two machine guns were also taken.

A general offensive movement, attempted by the enemy on the Lubnia-Bucovetz-Sianki front, was a failure at all points. The Russians drove back his troops with enormous losses.

LIKE A VOLCANO

Hill 60 is Held Against Fearful Bombardment

NORTHERN FRANCE, April 24.—All throughout Thursday a tumult unspeakable raged around Hill No. 60. For many hours the British held on grimly against the most terrific bombardment ever experienced. The Germans brought the whole of their heavy artillery to bear upon the hill Thursday morning, and the hill was nothing more nor less than a spot of flame and fury. Shattered, smashed, spurting flame and blinding dust, it was like a volcanic crater in full eruption. The battering was deafening; the view of everything near and far was obscured by the blinding dust and whirling smoke.

A major in charge of one of the battery sections had to shout his orders to the gunner standing at his side through a megaphone, and even then it is doubtful if the gunner heard. The British infantry fought lying prone on their faces. They lay for hours in the open, firing until their rifles got too hot to hold, but they would not give in.

Shrapnel burst over them continually. Hundreds were wounded in the back, but still they fought, and whenever there was a chance to charge or for a slight rush forward they took it with magnificent nerve.

The aeroplane warfare continued. The enemy, flying high over the hill, flung hundreds of incendiary bombs upon our temporary entrenchments.

By nightfall Hill No. 60 was a spectacle indescribable from the thousands upon thousands of shells which had been rained upon it.

Sir John French reports that the hill is still held by his troops.

"There is not, and there never has been, any truth in the German official communication that the enemy had recaptured this position. During the course of the operations around Hill No. 60 the enemy fired shells seventeen inches in diameter into the town of Ypres."

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is all You Need

Not exactly sick — but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches, and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in spring is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine makes new blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mrs. S. E. Stephens, Ponoka, Alta., says: "I suffered severely from headaches, and was badly run down in health. I had tried several remedies with no benefit, until I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these have fully restored my health, and I can recommend them with confidence to all weak women."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fred Williams has been sent to jail for six months by the Hamilton police magistrate for representing himself falsely to be a Mason and obtaining money on the strength of his statement.

NO NEWS FROM THE NORTH SEA

Movements of Opposing Fleets Cause Comment

LONDON, April 24.—The predictions of a naval battle in the North Sea, which are based on reports from Scandinavia of activity by the warships, the prohibition of shipping between England and Holland by the British Admiralty and the announcement from the German Admiralty that the German high seas fleet has several times lately been out in the North Sea without encountering British ships, are incidents of the war that are calling forth much discussion.

The only news from the Aegean [illegible] Athens and the Greek Islands. It is to the effect that firing is heard at times in the vicinity of the Dardanelles and Smyrna, and also in the Gulf of Saros, where, it is declared, the allies have made a landing in the vicinity of the Turkish port of Enos.

Several new warships, including the Warspite, which is equipped with 16-inch guns, are reported to have joined the allied fleets operating in the Dardanelles.

From Petrograd comes a report that the Russian Black Sea torpedo boat squadron bombarded the Turkish coast between Archavo and Artaschin on April 19, destroying barracks and stores of provisions. A large number of Turkish vessels laden with ammunition and supplies were sunk. The Turkish land forces were thrown into a panic and their supporting guns silenced.

The trawler St. Lawrence was torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine, and two of the crew drowned.

Seven survivors were landed at Grimsby yesterday by the trawler Queenstown, whose skipper reports that the submarine fired on his vessel while engaged in rescuing the crew of the St. Lawrence.

NO USE TO RUSSIA

Separate Peace With Austria Would Upset Whole Campaign

LONDON, April 24. — The Daily Mail's Warsaw correspondent sends to his newspaper a long statement from "a high authoritative source in which the possibility is discussed of an early conclusion of a seprate peace with Austria.

"Although the air is full of such stories, and the indications shows that Austria is desirous of an instant and lasting peace," the statement says: "It must be understood that if Austria ceased to be a belligerent her position as a neutral would mean that she would be able to offer as great if not a greater obstacle to the success of Russian arms than if she remained a belligerent.

"The Russian plan of campaign now is definitely based on Grant's despised American Civil War theory of a continuous extension of battle line."

THAW WINS STEP

Will Bring Question of His Sanity Before Jury

NEW YORK, April 24.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, after many efforts, has finally succeeded in bringing the question of his sanity before a jury. The application for a jury trial made by his attorneys in a writ of habeas corpus was granted yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Hendrick, who upon consultation with counsel set the trial for May 17.

In announcing his decision Justice Hendrick made it clear that the jury was called in "to aid the court by their advice," and that the finding of the jury would not be binding if the court was satisfied that it was not in accord with the evidence and with justice. The court, he said, could disregard the jury's verdict and render his own decision.

Thaw was radiant when he heard the verdict. Many of his friends were in the crowded court-room, and they and his counsel were quick to congratulate him on this successful step in the fight for liberty.

Fair Parisian Honors Gen. Pau.

PARIS, April 24.—An incident in Paris yesterday illustrates the popularity of Gen. Pau, who has been spending [illegible] since returning from his political mission to Petrograd and the Balkan capitals. Persons who saw the general enter the Red Cross branch in Place Madeleine waited in the street to see him come out. A crowd soon collected. A young girl borrowed a hat and quickly collected enough money in the crowd to buy for the general a huge bouquet of red, white and blue flowers.

Gen. Pau appeared to be deeply moved on receiving the flowers, and kissed the girl. The crowd cheered him, and as he drove off in his motor car he responded by shouting "Vive le France!"

Cautious Cruising!

BERLIN, April 24.—The German Admiralty yesterday gave out a statement reading as follows:

"The German high sea fleet has recently cruised repeatedly in the North Sea, advancing into British waters without meeting the sea forces of Great Britain."

Thos. Riley, of Hamilton, serving a term in Kingston Penitentiary for manslaughter, has been released.

Redpath SUGAR

Stand 60 Years of Experience and Progress

THIRTEEN years before Confederation John Redpath turned out "Ye Olde Sugar Loafe"—the first sugar refined in Canada.

In 1880, thirty-five years ago, the Redpath Refinery brought out Canada's first Granulated Sugar, known ever since as the best.

Again in 1913, the Redpath Refinery introduced the third great improvement in Canada's sugar supply—the Redpath 2 and 5-lb. Cartons.

DURING all these years of leadership, the Redpath aim has been QUALITY—the quality on which the national preference for Redpath Sugar now rests so solidly.

Such quality is the result, not of modern machinery alone, but of experience, modern methods, and a fixed determination to produce nothing unworthy of the name Redpath—to maintain in every pound of our product the reputation of "Canada's Standard Sugar". 120

ST. GEORGE'S DAY IS FITTINGLY OBSERVED

A War Sermon by Dr. Sweeny

To Congregation Attending St. George's Day Service

"This is a war of principle, this is a war for liberty, this is a war in defence of international rights, in defence of international treaties, in defence of international laws." With these words His Lordship Bishop Sweeny of Toronto referred to the present European conflict, in an eloquent sermon preached last evening in St. John's Anglican Church, where fitting ceremonies, in honor of St. George, patron Saint of England, were held. The message, the distinguished Anglican Bishop brought to Peterborough, was one which might be expected from a Bishop to the people of his diocese under such circumstances as are found at present. War with all its horrors, sordidness and results is uppermost in the minds of all. As St. George, in the days of old, vanquished the dragon, we are repelling a modern dragon in the form of German militarism. Little wonder then, that Bishop Sweeny should choose the following for his text:—

"And He shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." Isaiah 2.4.

A Scene in Notre Dame.

His Lordship's opening remarks led back to the death of King Louis of France. "Through the streets were to be found multitudes, all solemn. In Notre Dame, was packed a congregation, all solemn, here and there through the crowds were a few colors, the uniforms of soldiers. These were the only colors. The scene was solemn and sorrowful. The strains of the organ echoed through the vast interior. The greatest of French preachers arose from his throne and entered the pulpit to preach the funeral sermon. Standing still he gazed over the throne, his eye rested upon the new king, the new members of the royal family. Then fixing his eye upon the remains of the great king and amid tremendous silence he said, "There is nothing great but God."

Generations after generations has passed since that time, time has wrought changes on France and the world. We meet here in this parish church in Peterborough and hear the echo of that tremendous fact, "Nothing is great but God." Because of this fact we take the words of the text and turn them to an invocation. We call on God to fulfill his prophecy that he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nations shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. We ask God that industry and agriculture shall once more prevail. On this great intercessional day of the Empire, we ask Him to speedily fulfill that promise.

Reasons of War.

There are three letters which are placed together mean horror, anguish and sorrow. They are W-A-R. Looking back through the pages of history we find the soil of Egypt, Greece and Rome soaked with blood of the slain. Before our mental vision we see the splendor of conflicts in the past and see with it, garments rolled in blood. All these wars have been for one of three reasons. First, of principle wherein the battle is waged for liberty against despotism. Second, for personal ambition such as the wars of Alexander the Great and the Great Napoleon. Third, for greed of extension of territory and expansion of commerce. This is a war of principle—this is a war for liberty—this is a war in defence of international rights—in defence of international treaties—in defence of international laws. Some one has said England cannot be Christian since she has gone into this war. We make bold to say because she is Christian she has entered into this war.

No matter what glorious pictures one sees in wildest imagination, sees magnificent regiments, hears the magic music and all seems gold and glitter, though one sees forests of steel marching onward, onward in the sunlight, don't let us forget that in its awful way, is death and destruction, destitution and famine. Place along side the pomp and splendor of the great army with all the potentialities of conquest—ruin, sickness, wrecked homes, countless priceless treasures lost, starvation, anguish and sorrow.

Fact and Figures.

The Reverend speaker stated that the opening words were but a preface to his remarks. He wished his listeners to consider with him, fact and figures. So far are we remote from the scene of strife and conflict, yet so deeply interested, that we must consider certain facts if we want to intellectually, want to sympathetically, want to devotionally appreciate what is transpiring there. He made reference to a recent publication by the New York Times, the indictment of Germany by the High Court of Civilization of the Twentieth Century. Reviewing history for the past forty-five years it was pointed out how Germany had been unwilling to co-operate in every international movement to lessen the burden of the people by less building of war requirements. While England, Russia and France were reaching out their hands in friendship, Germany was deciding to advance the Bismark prophecy. When in 1904 France and England joined hands and formed the entente cordiale, England the old foe was made a friend of France. In 1907 when Russia and England joined hands and formed another entente cordiale differences with Russia were happily settled. France, Russia and England decided for a period to do less production of war equipment and in that period Germany produced six cruisers of war. All during the forty-five years they dreamed of The Day and bottled up their hatred and enmity. They sought strife when they felt that Russia and France would not interfere and that Great Britain was divided and there was unrest in India. The speaker made known many figures and facts concerning the magnitude of this war and the terrible waste.

There are many things to take place before peace can be declared. His Lordship spoke of hearing Dancey, Chesterton and others who have returned. They all tell of the sordidness of the conflict and all agree that before peace can be declared there will have to be the destruction an annihilation of militarism which has been a menace to the peace and prosperity of the continent and kept nations seething in anxiety. After militarism is crushed and peace restored what is to be looked for? The preacher claimed there would be an emigration from the devastated sections of Europe to this section of the continent, such as never has been witnessed. In view of this he urgently admonished all Canadians to be prepared to set before the new arrivals a high standard of truth, righteousness and political purity. His Lordship further prophesied that at the close of this struggle the nations would arrange to have all international disputes settled by arbitration."

Commends the Society.

In conclusion Bishop Sweeny spoke a few words of the good that is being accomplished by St. George's Society and hoped that its members would hold up the ideals of St. George. This Saint coupled with St. Michael stands for humanic and angelic power of integrity and righteousness. His Lordship also made reference to the absence of Rev. Canon Davidson, Rector of St. John's Church, and Rev. James Price, rector of St. George's Church, who were absent from the service through illness.

The service was in charge of Rev. W. H. White, rector of St. Luke's.

MANY EAGER TO WIN PACIFIC COAST TRIP

New Candidates Are Entering The Review's International Trip Contest — Boost Period Now in Effect — Subscribers Are Urged to Vote for Their Favorites — Still Room for More Candidates — Now is the Time to Enter

Interest and satisfaction go side by side in the Pacific Coast and Panama Exposition trip contest being run by The Review, and which has just started on its auspicious career. New candidates still continue to enter the arena from districts which were not previously represented, and from industrial and commercial concerns, all of which will fully make up for being a few days late in entering the contest.

Such interest has never before been shown in any similar contest. This is fully illustrated in the list appearing in this issue. For the winners there is a tour ahead, the like of which has never occurred to them in their wildest dreams. This is the unanimous opinion of those candidates who have called at the office and seen pictures of the country which will be covered by the tour.

For one full month these winners will be the guests of The Review, journeying by boat and travelling by special train across the continent. The entire arrangements will be of the highest class, and the outing a memorable one in the lives of all those who take part. Arriving at San Francisco, our party will journey down the picturesque Pacific Coast by the new Grand Trunk steamship "Prince Rupert" to Vancouver, "doing" thoroughly the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

This return trip will be fully as Lake City, Colorado Springs, Denthrilling, taking in many of the most interesting points through Canada. There will be visits to Salt ver, and other points. After visiting Detroit, the party that has been having such a jolly time together will break up and will return home.

The educational advantage of this trip cannot be enumerated, they are so many and so varied. It is worth many months in college, and every member of the party will return tremendously benefited as well as handsomely entertained. Competent chaperons will accompany the party and all the business arrangements will be taken care of by experienced guides, so that the members of the party will not have a single detail to attend to, and not a care beyond having a tremendously good time and thoroughly enjoying the various advantages and possibilities of the trip.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

Notes by Official Scribe

It happened to be on a very fine night that the usual meeting of labor men was scheduled this week, but in spite of that fact there was a good attendance of delegates. There only lacked representatives of the machinists, tailors, carpenters and bar tenders.

The Fair Wage Clause.

There was a communication from the Minister of Labor's office, asking that the different rates of wages of the organized trades be sent the department, so that in future the recognized rate could be inserted in all contracts. This matter will be left to the various organizations of the city to answer personally.

The London Trades Council sent along its amendment to the Colonization Act. A committee was appointed to look into the rather lengthy, though well thought out, proposition.

The Hydro-Electric Association of Ontario are actively on the look out for popular support of radial lines. Its communication was also referred to a committee.

Co-Operators Speak.

Permission to address the council was granted to Mr. Stazicker, Secretary of the local co-operative stores. Mr. Stazicker had chiefly a request to make which was that permission to use the hall be granted the convention of co-operators which was being held in Peterborough on May 24th. Mr. George Keene, editor of the Canadian Co-operator, is to be one of the chief speakers, and the public will be admitted to hear the business, though naturally only members will be allowed the vote.

Mr. Johnston's Dilemna.

A committee had been appointed to see Mr. Johnston of the Little Windsor and ask why he patronized a non-union barber shop. Brother Johnston informed the delegation (with a smile as broad as another of the same name once possessed) that he was landlord of the specified non-union shop, but as the place was to be vacated by the present tenant at an early date he would see that the union card was held by the next tonsorial artist.

Municipal Committee Busy.

The Municipal Committee have troubles of their own. They find that the city officials residing in the adjoining townships come under different spheres of influence as it were. The police officers are controlled by the Police Commissioners, the school teachers by the Board of Education, and the only one "higher up" for whom the same treatment [illegible] laborer [illegible] within the city entitles to a city job seems to be the sanitary inspector, whose salary will not permit a residence on Broadway or Fifth Avenue.

Mention was also made of dodgers from the income tax. High salaried men had no hesitation in declaring their incomes to be of modest dimensions, thereby evading the law. The secretary was instructed to write the city clerk, asking for a list of those who paid income tax.

"When are the public works in Peterborough likely to be started?" ask the builders and their allies. Toronto has started, there are many local men idle, why the delay? A committee will wait on Mr. Burnham to this effect.

President Hammacott adjourned the meeting shortly before ten. Next meeting May 5th.

Mrs. Myrtle Cudney of Galt was sentenced to nine months in the Mercer Reformatory for theft of clothing.

D. Garfield, who escaped from the Mimico Industrial School and stole an automobile at Hamilton, has been returned to the school for eighteen months.

The Trip of a Lifetime

For Four Young Ladies

Twenty-one Days, all expenses paid by The Review

TWENTY-ONE days of unending pleasure and joyous surprise, and luxurious surroundings of the most complete equipment of modern times. Over the scenic route of Canada and North America. Enterprising cities of the great Canadian West, monuments to the enterprise and ability of Canada's nation builders. The vast fertile stretches of the "Granary of the Empire," the awe-inspiring scenery of the Canadian Rockies, the sunlit plains of British Columbia, the wonderful Pacific Ocean trip, California with its climate of unending sunshine, the great attractions of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco; Western States with their ancient scenes and customs, and other places and points of interest too numerous to mention.

All will be only part of the treat enjoyed by four fortunate ladies of Peterborough, who, by their enterprise, will go as guests of the Review in June.

The Review is proud of its record, and means to maintain its reputation for doing things right. The Review could have saved hundreds of dollars and still made the trip very attractive, but believes that the fair representatives of THE FASTEST GROWING PAPER IN THE BEST DISTRICT OF CANADA are entitled to the best that money could buy, and made all arrangements accordingly. As a result of this policy the four ladies will be given the trip of a lifetime, and we believe that they will never have occasion to regret a few weeks of pleasant effort necessary to win this grand trip.

"See Canada First"

During Your Summer Holidays

NOT A CHEAP NOR A SHORT TRIP

The Peterborough Review trip is not a cheap trip, but a "Trip de Luxe." It will be the best trip that possibly could be arranged to cover the most interesting sections of the continent within the specified time. In making the arrangements for this trip, instructions were given to go to the railroads, steamships, etc., and purchase the best accommodations and service that they could provide, without seeking for any reductions in prices or rebates of any kind, so that when the Review and the other papers in this undertaking announced their plan it would be the best trip possible to arrange. Thus it was made positive that no one else could give a better trip. These instructions were followed out, and the results are that a trip of unprecedented interest and value has been arranged for, and will be given the fortunate young ladies.

It will not be a short trip, like many of the special trips arranged for the Pacific Coast tour. The trip will cover twenty-one days from start to finish. In fact, justice could not be done to such a journey in any less time. There is too much important and historic ground to be covered. Think of a vacation trip of three weeks, with all expenses paid, and many things that are interesting arranged for each day of the outing.

Just to mention some of the high-lights, so to speak, that is, some of the points of supreme importance to be visited: Toronto, Windsor, Detroit, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, the Canadian Rockies, Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, Chicago, etc. Then the multitude of drives, side trips, receptions, etc., that will take place.

And not last or least by any means will be the magnificent Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, where admissions and the best attractions on the Zone will be provided to the party free.

Splendidly Chaperoned

The Review party will travel under the most careful chaperonage, and parents will not be uneasy about allowing their daughters to take this trip. Every possible safeguard has been arranged for, and the members of this party travelling on a private car will be protected in many ways that a smaller party cannot hope to equal. At the Exposition uniformed guides will be engaged to have charge of the party each day, and a programme of sight-seeing will be laid out which will prove delightful for every member of the party.

"Triple Votes"

The Greatest Vote Offer of the Contest is Now On. Three times as many votes will be given during the next week as will be given at the last of the contest. Now is the time to do your best work.

Boost! Boost! Boost!

All Expenses Paid

The Review trip is an all-cost trip. The total expenses of the members of the party, from the time they leave Peterborough until they return home, will be paid by the Review. That means railway fares, Pullman berths and seats, meals on diners and at hotels, rooms, street car fares, automobile rides, admissions to expositions, and, in fact, all expense that need to be incurred. All a member of the party need carry with her will be change for postage, souvenir cards, etc. The best taste in travelling is a simple and inexpensive outfit.

BRINGING UP FATHER

BY GEORGE McMANUS

THE DAY OF THE COLORED PUGILIST IS GONE FOREVER

Jess Willard's triumph over Jack Johnson several days ago has proved the salvation of the pugilistic game. The sport was in a mendicant state until Willard came along and revolutionized the entire pastime with a pile-driving right to Johnson's chin.

Had the burly negro tumbled the giant Kansan to defeat as easily as he had Willard's predecessors, the deteriorating game would surely have land-slided into the dumps. We would have thought that the trade of "white hoping" was at an end; and this brigade helped sustain interest in the boxing game.
